GENERAL LAWS OF TEXAS.

TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE, 1891.

APPROPRIATION FOR MILEAGE AND PER DIEM PAY OF OFFICERS, MEMBERS AND EMPLOYES.

Sec.

1. $90,000 appropriation for pay of members and employes of Twenty-second Legislature.

Sec.

2. How claims are audited.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 1.—[H. B. No. 60.] An Act making an appropriation for the mileage and per diem pay of the members, and the per diem pay of the officers and employes of the Twenty-second Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of ninety thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the payment of mileage and per diem pay of members and per diem pay of officers and employes of the Twenty-second Legislature.

Sec. 2. The certificate of the Secretary of the Senate approved by the President thereof, or of the Chief Clerk of the House approved by the Speaker thereof, shall be sufficient evidence to the Comptroller upon which he shall audit the claims and issue his warrants upon the Treasurer for the respective amounts.

Sec. 3. And whereas, the Twenty-second Legislature is now in session and public policy requires their payment; therefore an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a two-thirds vote, yeas 104; and passed the Senate by a two-thirds vote, yeas 26.]
Approved January 20, 1891.

APPROPRIATION TO DEFRAY CONTINGENT EXPENSES.

Sec.

1. $30,000 appropriated for contingent expenses of Twenty-second Legislature; auditing of claims.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 2.—[H. B. No. 61.] An Act making an appropriation to defray the contingent expenses of the Twenty-second Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of thirty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the contingent expenses of the Twenty-second Legislature; that (except in cases of accounts for printing done and stationery furnished) the certificate of the chairman of the committee on contingent expenses that an account has been examined and approved by said committee, and countersigned by the President of the Senate or Speaker of the House, as the case may be, shall be sufficient authority to authorize and require the Comptroller of public accounts to draw his warrant on the State Treasurer for the payment of any claim against said fund. The accounts for printing and stationery shall take the course prescribed by the Revised Statutes.

Sec. 2. The fact that it is important that the contingent expenses of the Legislature be promptly paid, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from its passage; it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a two-thirds vote, ayes 104; and passed the Senate by a two-third vote, yeas 26.]

Approved January 20, A. D. 1891.

5. The Governor to appoint judge of Forty-eighth district; term of office.
6. Place of voting when election pre-

Sec.

- dict or city ward is situated partly in both judicial districts.
7. Clerk of district court to make up civil and criminal dockets; manner of docketing cases; garnishment and injunction cases; receivers; transfer of causes.
8. Process legalized.
9. Petition, how addressed.
10. Vacancy in office of clerk, how filled.
11. Repealing clause.
12. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 3.—[S. B. No. 70.] An Act to amend Section 1 of an act entitled: "An act to amend an act to amend an act entitled 'an act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and fix the times for holding court therein and to provide for the election of Judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November 1884, approved April 9, 1883; approved March 24, 1885; to create the Forty-third Judicial District of the State of Texas, fix the times for holding court therein and to provide for the appointment of a district Judge for said district approved March 30, 1887; to create the Forty-eighth Judicial District of the State of Texas, fix the times for holding court therein, and to fix the times for holding court in the Seventeenth Judicial District of the State of Texas and to provide for the appointment of a district judge of the said Forty-eighth Judicial District.'"

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 1, of the above recited act approved March 30, 1887, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 1. All that part of Tarrant County lying south and west of the following line, viz: Beginning at the center of Trinity river at the point where said river leaves Tarrant county on its east boundary and enters Dallas County on its west boundary; Thence in a westerly direction with the middle line of said river to the point where said river is crossed by the eastern boundary of the M. A. Jackson survey, the same being the western boundary of the James Sanderson survey; thence south with the east line of said Jackson and west line of said Sanderson surveys to the center of the track of the Texas and Pacific Railway; thence westward with the center of said Railway track to the point where it intersects the center of Main Street in the city of Fort Worth; thence north-erly with the center of Main Street to the center of the court house; thence north 30 degrees west to the intersection of the north boundary line of the A. Gouhe-naut survey; thence west with the north line of said Gouhenaut survey to its northwest corner; thence south to the center of Trinity river; thence westward with the center of said river to Silver creek; thence westward with the center of Silver creek to the west boundary of Tarrant County, shall constitute the Seven-teenth Judicial District, and the district court shall be begun and held therein as follows: On the second Mondays in January and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. All that part of said Tarrant County lying north and east of the line as defined in the foregoing section of this act shall constitute the Forty-eighth Judicial District and the district court shall be begun and held therein as follows: On the second Monday in February and October, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 3. The said district courts of the Seventeenth and Forty-eighth Judicial districts shall have concurrent jurisdiction throughout the limits of said Tarrant County, of all matters civil and criminal of which jurisdiction is given to the District Court by the Constitution and laws of the State; and grand and petit juries for said courts respectively shall be selected and drawn from the body of the county.

Sec. 4. That the Judge of the Seventeenth Judicial District as heretofore con-stituted shall continue as the Judge of the Seventeenth Judicial District as herein constituted, and until the expiration of the term of his office and until his suc-cessor shall be elected and qualified.

Sec. 5. Immediately after this act shall take effect, the Governor shall appoint a suitable person as Judge of the Forty-eighth Judicial District who shall hold said office until the next general election held for state and county officers, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

Sec. 6. If any election precinct as now or may be hereafter constituted in Tar-rant County or any ward as now or as may be hereafter constituted in any incor-porated city or town, now existing or hereafter to be formed in said county, shall be situated partly in each of said districts, then each voter thereof shall vote for the District Judge only of the district in which such voter resides.

Sec. 7. When this act shall take effect, the clerk of the district court of Tarrant county shall at the earliest practicable time, make up a civil docket and a criminal docket for each of said courts, by placing thereon alternately the cases civil and criminal, now pending in the district court of Tarrant county; that is, said clerk shall place the first civil case on the civil docket and the first criminal case on the criminal docket of the Seventeenth judi-cial district and the next civil case on the civil docket, and the next crim-inal case on the criminal docket of the Forty-eighth judicial district, and so on to the end of the dockets heretofore used, so that the business now pend-ing in the district court of Tarrant county, as heretofore constituted, shall be as equally divided between said courts as can by this method of division be ac-complished; and all cases, prosecutions and proceedings filed with said clerk after this act shall take effect, shall by him be entered upon the dockets of said courts alternately in the manner above indicated, so that the business may be equally distributed between said courts; provided that the reference above to a civil docket in the singular number shall be taken to embrace the various civil dockets required by law to be used and kept by the clerk of the district court of Tarrant county when this act shall take effect, so as to make it incumbent upon said clerk, in dividing the civil business between said courts, as hereinbefore required to open for each court the number and kind of dockets heretofore kept by him and to enter upon each the cases belonging to the same.

Provided: That all garnishment cases shall follow the cases in which they are sued out and that such garnishment cases shall not be estimated by the clerk in dividing either existing or future business; and provided further: That in all injunctions granted by either of said judges, the suits wherein granted shall be docketed in the court of the judge who granted such injunctions, and in all cases wherein receivers may be appointed by either of said judges, the suit wherein such receivers shall be appointed shall be docketed in the court of the judge who appointed such receivers. Provided further, that either of said judges may in his discretion transfer any case or cases, civil or criminal pending in his court to the district court in said county other than that of which he is judge, by order or orders entered upon the minutes of the court; and it shall be the duty of each of said judges to transfer to the court other than that of which he is judge all cases which he is disqualified to try, unless the judge of such other district is also disqualified to try such cases, in which event such cases shall remain where docketed by the clerk, and a special judge to try the same shall be chosen by the attorneys or appointed by the Governor under the laws of the State governing the matter; and where such transfers are made the clerk of the district court of Tarrant county shall enter such case or cases upon the appropriate docket of the court to which such transfer shall be made.

Sec. 8. All process heretofore issued or served returnable to the district court of Tarrant county shall be considered returnable to the terms of the courts herein provided for in the same manner as if this act were in force when the same was issued, and all such process and service of process is hereby legalized and validated and given the same efficacy as though this act were in force when said process was issued or served.

Sec. 9. In causes filed in said county cognizable by the district court it shall be sufficient for the petition to state the court in which suit is filed as "The district court of Tarrant county," and it shall be sufficient to address the petition to "The district court of Tarrant county."

Sec. 10. In case of a vacancy by death, resignation or the removal of the clerk of the District court of Tarrant county his successor shall be appointed by the judge of the district in which said clerk, by the laws of the State was entitled to vote.

Sec. 11. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 12. The crowded condition of the business of the district court of Tarrant county, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, be suspended, and that this bill be placed upon its passage without being so read, and that this act take effect and be in force from its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 23 yeas, 1 nay; and passed the House by a vote of yeas 73, nays 8.]

Approved February 6, 1891.

RAILWAY COMPANIES—RELIEF OF.

Sec. 1. Time for construction and equipment extended; forfeited franchises restored.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 4.—[S. B. No. 29.] An Act for the relief of railway companies having charters made or amended since January 1st, 1887, which have failed or are about to fail to comply with article 4278 Revised Statutes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the time in which any railroad company chartered under the laws of this State since January 1st, 1887, or the charter to which has been amended since said date, is required to begin the construction of its road and construct, equip and put the same in good running order as to part of such road as provided for in article 4278 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, and amended April 8, 1889, is and the same shall be extended until the 1st day of January A. D. 1893. And any railway company having been chartered since January 1st, 1887, or the charter to which has been amended since said date, which shall have forfeited its corporate existence, rights and powers, or is about to do so, by reason of failure to comply with said article 4278, or any part of said article, shall have restored and preserved to it its corporate existence, and it shall have and enjoy all of the corporate franchises property and rights and powers held or acquired by it previous to any cause of forfeiture on account of such failure as aforesaid.

Sec. 2. The fact that no good can result to the State from the forfeiture provided against in this act, and that the public convenience will be promoted by work, beginning at once on some of said railways, and that citizens in many parts of the State having invested in railway enterprises, saved from great loss unless the relief herein provided for be granted, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule, requiring bills to be read on three several days, and demanding that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of yeas 25, nays 1; and passed the House by a vote of yeas 88, nays none.]
Approved February 11, 1891.

CLERK DISTRICT COURT.

Sec.

1. Where there is more than one district court in a county, vacancy to be filled by appointment by the judges, when; bond; term of office.

Sec.

2. Special election to fill vacancy.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 5.—[S. B. No. 241.] An Act to provide for the filling of vacancies in the office of clerk of the District Court in counties where there is more than one District Court.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whenever a vacancy exists, from any cause, in the office of clerk of the district court in any county in this State, where there is more than one district court the same shall be filled by appointment by the judges of such district courts of such county; and the clerk so appointed shall give bond and qualify in the same manner as if he had been elected; and shall hold his office until his successor is duly elected and qualified.

Sec. 2. The governor, upon the certificate of such district judges that such vacancy exists, shall order a special election to fill said vacancy.

Sec. 3. Whereas, a vacancy in the office of District clerk of Bexar county now exists and there is no law providing for the filling of such vacancy.

And whereas, the district courts of said county of Bexar are now in session and unable to transact business for want of a clerk, therefore, an emergency and imperative public necessity exists for the suspension of the constitutional rules requiring bills to be read on three several days and that this act shall take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of yeas 24; nays none; and passed the House by a vote of yeas 92, nays none.]

Approved February 12, 1891.

NACOGDOCHES COUNTY—JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURT RESTORED.

Sec.

1. Defines the original and concurrent jurisdiction of the county court.
2. Appellate jurisdiction of county court in civil cases.
3. Power to grant certain writs.
4. Forfeiture of bonds and recognizances.
5. Gives exclusive original jurisdiction of misdemeanors; exceptions; ap-

Sec.

- pellate jurisdiction in criminal cases.
6. Jurisdiction of District Court; district clerk to make transcripts of dockets; duty of county clerks.
7. Terms of county court held as provided by law; process.
8. Repealing clause.
9. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 6.—[H. B. No. 135.] An Act to restore to, and confer upon the County Court of Nacogdoches county the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore belonging to it under the Constitution and general laws of the State, and to conform the jurisdiction of the District Court of said county to such change.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Nacogdoches county shall hereafter have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars and shall not exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the District Court of said county when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred and not exceed one thousand dollars exclusive of interest.

Sec. 2. Said county court shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases over which the justices courts of said county have original jurisdiction, when the judgment of the court appealed from or the amount in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, exclusive of costs; and have power to hear and determine cases brought up from the justices courts by certiorari, under the provisions of the law relating thereto.

Sec. 3. Said county court, or the judge thereof, shall have power and authority, either in term time or in vacation, to grant writs of mandamus, injunction, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari and supersedeas, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said court, and shall also have power to issue the writ of Habeas Corpus in all cases in which the constitution has not conferred the power on the District court or judge thereof.

Sec. 4. Said county court shall have jurisdiction in the forfeiture and judgment of all bonds and recognizances taken in criminal cases, of which criminal cases said court has original or appellate jurisdiction.

Sec. 5. Said county court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors, except the misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and except cases in which the highest penalty of fine that may be imposed under the law, may not exceed two hundred dollars; and said court shall also have appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases of which justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said county have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The District Court of said county of Nacogdoches shall no longer have jurisdiction of cases of which the county court of said county, by the provisions of this act, have exclusive, original or appellate jurisdiction; and it shall be the duty of the District Clerk of said county, within thirty days after this act shall take effect, to make a full and complete transcript of all orders on the criminal and civil dockets in cases then pending before the District Court of said county, of which [cases by the provisions of this act, exclusive, original and appellate jurisdiction is given to the said county court, and to deliver said transcripts,] together with the original papers and a certified bill of costs in each case, to the county clerk of said county, and said county clerk shall take charge of said transcripts and papers, file the same, and enter said cases on their respective dockets for trial by said county court.

Sec. 7. The said county court of Nacogdoches county shall hereafter hold its regular terms for civil and criminal business as provided in the constitution and general laws of the State; and all process heretofore issued from the District Court of said county in cases to be transferred under this act to the said county court, that have not been returned to the District Court when this act shall go into effect, shall be returnable to the first term of said county court held thereafter, and all civil cases so transferred shall be entered as appearance cases upon the docket of said court.

Sec. 8. All laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. The crowded condition of the dockets of the District Court of the said county of Nacogdoches, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity, that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two-thirds vote—ayes 87, nays 0; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote—ayes 27, nays 1.]

Approved February 16, 1891.

INSPECTION OF REFINED OILS.

- Sec. 1. Repeals act of April 5, 1889, for inspection of refined oils.
 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 7.—[H. B. No. 14.] An Act to repeal an act entitled An Act to provide for the inspection of refined Oils in which are the product of Petroleum, and which may be used for illuminating purposes within this State. And to regulate the sale and use thereof. And to provide penalties for violation of the same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act entitled an act to provide for the inspection of refined Oils, which are the product of petroleum and which may be used for illuminating purposes within this State, and to regulate the sale and use thereof, and to provide penalties for violation of the same" approved April 5th 1889, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The fact that the people in many Sections of this State are often at great inconvenience in obtaining Oil for illuminating purposes, because of the operation of the law now in force, and the fact that an additional burden is imposed on the people of this State by the operation of said act, without any benefit accruing therefrom, creates an emergency, and imperative public necessity which requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two-thirds vote, ayes 80, nays 7; and passed the Senate by two thirds vote, ayes 22, nays 0.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the fourth day of February, A. D. 1891, and was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

CHAP. 8.—[S. B. No. 16.] An Act to prescribe the times for holding the terms of the District court in the Forty sixth Judicial district and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the terms of the District court in the several counties comprising the Forty-sixth Judicial district of Texas, shall be held as follows:

In the county of Wilbarger on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session five weeks.

In the county of Hardeman on the fifth Monday after the first Monday in February and August and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Greer, on the eighth Monday after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Childress, on the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Collingsworth on the thirteenth Monday after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Hall on the fifteenth Monday after the first Mondays in February and August and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Donley on the seventeenth Monday after the first Mondays in February and August and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Armstrong on the nineteenth Monday after the first Mondays in February and August and may continue in session two weeks.

Sec. 2. The unorganized county of Cottle is hereby attached to Childress county for judicial purposes. The unorganized county of Briscoe is hereby attached to Donley county for judicial purposes.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. The time for holding courts in the Forty-sixth district as now arranged being insufficient, an imperative public necessity exists requiring and justifying the suspension of the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days, and the same is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by the following vote yeas 25, nays none; and passed the House of Representatives February 14, 1891.]

Approved February 17, 1891.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—THIRTY-SEVENTH AND FORTY-FIFTH (BEXAR COUNTY.)

Sec.

1. Terms of court in Thirty-seventh district.
2. Terms of court in Forty-fifth district.

Sec.

3. Writs returnable to terms herein prescribed.
4. Repealing clause.
5. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 9.—[S. B. No. 129.] An Act to prescribe the time of holding the District court in the Thirty seventh and Forty fifth Judicial Districts, embracing the county of Bexar.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the District court in the Thirty seventh Judicial district shall be holden as follows:

On the first Monday in October and may continue in session ten weeks; on the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in October and may continue in session ten weeks; on the twenty second Monday after the first Monday in October and may continue in session seven weeks; and on the thirtieth Monday after the first Monday in October and may continue in session seven weeks.

Sec. 2. That the district court in the Forty fifth Judicial district shall be holden as follows:

On the first Monday in October and may continue in session seven weeks; on the eighth Monday after the first Monday in October, and may continue in session seven weeks; on the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in October, and may continue in session ten weeks; and on the twenty-seventh Monday after the first Monday in October and may continue in session ten weeks.

Sec. 3. That all writs and process issued and made returnable to the terms of said courts under the law in force at the issuance thereof, shall be returnable to the terms of said courts as herein prescribed and shall be as valid as if no change had been made in the return day thereof.

Sec. 4. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act shall be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 5. The present inconvenience caused by the appearance day in the Thirty-seventh and Forty fifth districts occurring on the same day creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the constitutional rule for bills to be read on three several days to be suspended and said rule is hereby suspended and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by the following vote yeas 21, nays none; and passed the House of Representatives February 14, 1891.]

Approved February 17, 1891.

IRION, ROBERTS, OCHILTREE, HANSFORD, EDWARDS, BREWSTER, LIPSCOMB AND CARSON COUNTIES.—JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURTS DIMINISHED.

Sec.

1. Defines jurisdiction of county courts of above named counties.
2. Defines jurisdiction of district courts of above named counties.
3. County clerks to make transcripts of dockets for district clerk; transfer and docketing of causes.

Sec.

4. Does not affect previous judgments; executions and orders of sale.
5. Repealing clause.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 11.—[H. B. No. 139.] An Act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county courts of Irion, Roberts, Ochiltree, Hansford, Edwards, Brewster, Lipscomb and Carson counties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the County Courts of Irion, Roberts, Ochiltree, Hansford, Edwards, Brewster, Lipscomb and Carson counties, shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of probate courts; shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators and guardians, transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards including the settlement, partition and distribution and settlement of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors as provided by law, and issue writs necessary to the enforcement of said jurisdiction, to punish contempt under such provisions as are, or may be provided by general law governing county courts throughout the state, but the said county courts of Irion, Roberts, Ochiltree, Hansford, Edwards, Brewster, Lipscomb and Carson counties, shall have no other civil or criminal jurisdiction whatever.

Sec. 2. The District courts of Irion, Roberts, Ochiltree, Hansford, Edwards, Brewster, Lipscomb and Carson counties, shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil and criminal matters, and causes over which by the laws of this State, the county courts of said counties would have jurisdiction, except as provided in Section one of this act; and all causes other than probate matters, and such as are provided by section one of this act, be and the same are hereby transferred to the District courts of Irion, Roberts, Ochiltree, Hansford, Edwards, Brewster, Lipscomb and Carson counties, and all writs and process relating to any civil or criminal matters not included in the subject matter of jurisdiction prescribed in section one of this act, issued by or out of said courts of Irion, Roberts, Ochiltree, Hansford, Edwards, Brewster, Lipscomb and Carson counties, be and the same are hereby made returnable to the next term of the District courts of said counties.

Sec. 3. The county clerks of the counties of Irion, Roberts, Ochiltree, Hansford, Edwards, Brewster, Lipscomb and Carson counties, be and they are hereby required within thirty days after the passage of this act, to make a fair and complete transcript of all entries upon their civil and criminal docket heretofore made in cases whereby section two are required to be transferred to the District courts of said counties, and deliver the same to the district clerks of said counties, together with all the papers to such causes pertaining, and all such causes shall be immediately docketed by said district clerks, and such civil causes so transferred shall stand on the docket of said courts as appearance cases for the next succeeding term, and all criminal cases shall be docketed and disposed of in the same manner as if the same had originally been triable in said district courts.

Sec. 4. This act shall not be construed to in any manner affect judgments heretofore rendered by said county courts of Irion, Roberts, Ochiltree, Hansford, Edwards, Brewster, Lipscomb and Carson counties, pertaining to matters and causes by which section 2 of this act, are transferred to the district courts of said counties, but the county clerks of said counties shall issue all executions and orders of sale as the judgment in such cases require, and such executions and orders of sale and proceedings thereunder, shall be as valid and binding to all intents and purposes as though the change had not been made as provided in section 2 of this act.

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach to the sitting of the district court in Irion county, and the short time required to make the transfer of the cases provided herein, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be so suspended and it is so suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two thirds vote, ayes 81 nays 0; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote ayes 24, nays 0.]

ELECTIONS—SPECIAL.

Sec. 1. Amends article 1685 Revised Statutes as to notice to be given in special elections.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 12.—[S. B. No. 206.] An Act to amend article 1685, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, concerning notice of special elections.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 1685 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1685. Where any election is ordered, at least twenty days notice of the same shall be given by notice posted up at the place or places designated for holding the election in each election precinct, specifying the time at which such election will be held and the officer or officers to be chosen or the question to be voted upon, or both, as the case may be; and it is hereby made the duty of the county-judge of each county, or in case of vacancy in that office or inability or failure to act, then any two of the county commissioners, to have said notices of election posted as required by this article. Provided that in case a vacancy shall occur in the Senate or House of Representatives during a session of the Legislature, then ten days notice of a special election to fill such vacancy shall be sufficient notice of said election.

Sec. 2. Whereas an imperative public necessity exists requiring an election for Senator, therefore it is enacted that the constitutional rule requiring a bill to be read on three several days in each house be suspended; and whereas an emergency exists for holding a special election for Senator at once, it is enacted that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 21 yeas, nays none; and passed the House of Representatives by the following vote—yeas 95, nays none.]

ASYLUM SUPPLIES.

- Sec. 1. Amends article 145 Revised Statutes—opening bids and letting of contracts.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 13.—[H. B. No. 510.] An Act to amend article 145 of chapter 3 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 145 of chapter 3 of the Revised Statutes of Texas, be and the same is so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 145. On the day for opening said bids, the Comptroller shall open the same in the presence of the board of trustees, or such of them as may be present, and shall award to the lowest responsible bidder, the contract or contracts for which he may have bid, provided, that he may reject any or all bids if in his judgment the interests of the State demands it.

Whereas it is of great importance and interest to the State that this bill should become a law at the earliest possible time, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity which requires suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, the rule is therefore suspended, that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

THE TEXAS CONFEDERATE HOME.

Preamble:
Sec.

1. Establishes "The Texas Confederate Home;" John B. Hood Camp Confederate Veterans to transfer property within 20 days from time this act takes effect.
2. Deeds conveying property for purposes herein to be in name of the State, etc.
3. Board of managers; terms of office, their duties.

Sec.

4. Superintendent: his qualification, term of office, duties.
5. Salary of superintendent.
6. What application for admission must show.
7. Applications referred to and passed on by Board of Managers.
8. Appropriations for buildings and grounds, etc., and support of the Home—Sources of Revenue.
9. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 14.—[H. B. No. 242.] An Act to authorize the transfer of the Confederate Home at Austin from private to State management, and to establish said Home as a State institution, and provide for its support.

Whereas the home for the support of maimed, disabled and indigent ex-Confederate soldiers and sailors, established at Austin by the contributions of the humane and benevolent of all sections of the Union which has been managed for some years with marked economy by the John B.

Hood Camp of Confederate Veterans, a private corporation duly incorporated under the laws of the State of Texas, cannot, without rapid exhaustion of its resources, provide for the increasing number of veterans, who, by reason of age and infirmity are unable to obtain, by their own exertions the necessary means of subsistence, and Whereas, it is not deemed to be within the constitutional power of the Legislature to contribute to the maintenance of said home, as a private institution; and, Whereas it is now proposed by the said John B. Hood Camp Confederate Veterans, to transfer to the State of Texas the present Confederate Home, situated on West 6th street, city of Austin, Travis county, Texas, on condition that the state shall assume the control and maintenance of said Confederate Home, and it is most fitting that the state should make some adequate provision for this large and increasing class of helpless and indigent citizens; Now therefore

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That there shall be established and maintained at the city of Austin, a home, to be known as "The Texas Confederate Home," for the maintenance of indigent and disabled ex-confederate soldiers and sailors within this state, the same to be located on the grounds now known as the Confederate Home, and now under the control and management of the John B. Hood Camp Confederate Veterans; provided that the said John B. Hood Camp Confederate Veterans, shall within twenty days from the time this act shall go into effect, make and execute to the State of Texas; in the manner hereinafter provided, a deed of transfer of the said real estate and all the personal property of every description now in and on said grounds and shall also release and relinquish to the State all its interest in the building known as the Temporary Capitol which they acquired by virtue of a certain lease executed in the name of the State of Texas in pursuance of an act passed at the regular session of the Twenty-first Legislature entitled "an act to lease the Temporary Capitol building in the City of Austin to the Board of Directors of the John B. Hood Camp of Confederate Veterans."

Sec. 2. That deeds and other instruments conveying property for the purposes herein mentioned shall be in the name of the State of Texas, for the use of the Confederate Home.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall appoint a board of five ex-confederate soldiers for the management of said Home, said managers to remain in office two years, or until their successors are appointed; and they shall be governed in their regulation of the affairs of said Home by the laws now in existence relative to the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institutions of this State so far as the same may be applicable, and shall make and prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the internal government, discipline and management of the Home; and that said board of managers shall also have charge of all the property received from the John B. Hood Camp Confederate Veterans, or from any other source for the maintenance of said Home; said Board of Managers shall make annual reports to the Governor on the first day of each December, embracing a full statement of all expenditures and transactions of the institution for the fiscal year next preceeding. They shall visit the Home at least once each month.

Sec. 4. The said Board of managers shall appoint a Superintendent, who shall be an ex-confederate soldier, whose duties of office shall be the supervision of the affairs of said Home, keeping the accounts of the same, and its general management, under the direction of the Board of Managers. He shall be under the control of and subject to removal (for cause, duly spread upon the records of said Home) by said Board, and unless sooner removed by said Board, for cause, shall hold his office for the term of two years, or until his successor shall be appointed.

In addition to his other duties he shall keep in a book prepared for that purpose the name and age of each inmate, date of admission to the Home, the Company and Regiment or other command or capacity, in which the military service was performed, and the state from which he entered the service, and such other data concerning the history of the inmates as the Board of Managers may prescribe.

Sec. 5. The superintendent of said Home shall receive a salary of fifteen hundred dollars per annum.

Sec. 6. All applications for admission to said Home must show on the oath of applicant.

1st. Name of applicant.

2d. His age.

3d. His residence (county and post office address.)

4th. The company, regiment, brigade and army in which he served.

5th. That he is disabled and indigent, and is now a bona fide citizen of Texas, and was a resident of this State on the first day of January, 1891. Proof of the honorable service of applicant as stated by himself must be made by affidavit of two reputable persons, or by his written discharge, duly authenticated, with sufficient proof of identity. The application must also be accompanied by a certificate of a regular practicing physician that the applicant is unable to provide a support for himself, giving the character of the disability, and that the applicant is not a lunatic, and is not afflicted with any contagious or infectious disease.

Sec. 7. All applications for admission to said Home shall be referred to and passed upon by the Board of Managers.

Sec. 8. For the purpose of carrying into effect this law, so much of the proceeds arising from the rentals from all vacant lots or parts of lots and blocks in the city of Austin belonging to the state, not now occupied by the state and used by it, or occupied by church edifices, which shall be leased by the superintendent of public buildings and grounds for a long term, the proceeds of the sale of about six and a half acres of land on the south side of Colorado river in Travis county, known as the Fish Pond, which land the Superintendent of Public buildings and grounds is hereby authorized to sell, all fees of the Commissioner of Insurance, History and Statistics in excess of the expenses of his office, all money now in the State Treasury to the credit of escheated estates, and all money arising hereafter from the sale of escheated estates, all lands hereafter purchased by the state under execution, the proceeds from the sales of all personal property belonging to the state, not used by other state institutions to which it may belong, all money derived from the lease of the temporary capitol, and the fees received by the Secretary of State in excess of the expenses of his office, as shall not exceed the sum of sixty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby set aside and appropriated for additional buildings and grounds and improvements of the grounds and the support and maintenance of the said Confederate Home, for the two years ending March 1, 1893, and the money arising from all the above mentioned sources shall be placed as received in the State Treasury to the credit of the Confederate Home, subject to withdrawal, as needed, upon requisition by the Board of Managers, by warrant issued by the Comptroller.

Sec. 9. Whereas there is now a large number of worthy applicants for admission to the home who are without homes and the necessary means of support, but who can not be admitted on account of the want of room; and, whereas, it is important to said applicants that this bill should become a law at an early day; therefore, an emergency and imperative public necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force immediately from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

3. The new county to pay pro rata part of debt of the counties from which it is taken.

Sec.

4. Attached to forty-sixth judicial, fifth congressional, nineteenth senatorial and forty-sixth representative districts.
5. Repealing clause.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 15.—[S. B. No. 217.] An Act to create the county of Foard out of parts of Hardeman, King, Cottle and Knox counties, and to provide for its organization.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a new county to be called Foard county, is hereby created out of parts of the territory of Hardeman, King, Cottle and Knox counties, to-wit: Beginning at the point on the east boundary line of Hardeman county and the west boundary line of Wilbarger county where said line crosses Pease river, thence up said river with its meanders to the mouth of Canal Creek, thence north 60, west in a direct line to the point where the east boundary line of Cottle county crosses Pease river, thence up said river with its meanders three miles, thence south to the north line of King county, thence east three miles to the northwest corner of Knox county, continuing east with the north line of Knox county to the point where Wichita river crosses the north line of Knox county, thence down the center of the channel of said Wichita river with its meanders to the west line of Baylor county thence north with the west line of Baylor county and the east boundary line of Hardeman and the west boundary line of Wilbarger county to the place of beginning.

Sec. 2. That J. A. Wright, J. C. Sanders and J. H. Self are hereby appointed a committee for the purpose of organizing said county of Foard and they shall after the expiration of thirty days from the time this act takes effect, lay off said county into four commissioners precincts, and convenient justice precincts not to exceed eight in number; also convenient voting precincts for the election of county officers, and the selection of a county seat and designate places in each of said precincts where elections shall be held. Said committee shall within ten days thereafter order an election to be held for county officers and for the selection of a county seat for said county, and they shall appoint presiding officers of election for each voting precinct as prescribed by law in other cases.

The election returns shall be made to said committee, who shall count the votes and issue the certificates of election to the persons elected, and shall approve the bonds of said officers and administer to them the oath of office. Said committee shall keep a correct record of all the proceedings and file the same in the office of the county clerk when elected, who shall record the same in his office.

That any two of said committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and any one of said committee shall have the power to administer the oath of office to the officers elect. And any two of said committee may declare the result of the election selecting the place for the county seat.

Sec. 3. That the new county shall pay a pro rata part of the existing legal debts of the counties from which it is taken, and there shall be set apart so much of the county taxes [taxes] levied and collected on the property within said new county as shall be sufficient to speedily liquidate said existing debts, if any, said pro rata to be based upon the value of the property for each year of the existence of said debt to be determined from the tax rolls of said county, as made by the board of equalization.

Sec. 4. That the county of Foard is hereby attached to the Forty sixth Judicial district for judicial purposes, to the Fifth Congressional, the Nineteenth Senatorial and the Forty-sixth Representative districts for the purpose of representation.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. Whereas the county commissioners courts of Hardeman and Knox counties are about to levy taxes for the present year, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity requires the rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be suspended and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 16.—[H. B. No. 307.] An Act to create the county of Sterling out of Tom Green county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a new county, to be called the county of Sterling, is hereby created out of the present county of Tom Green, in this state, the boundaries of which shall be and are hereby declared to be as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the North East corner of Glasscock County, which shall be the north west corner of Sterling county; thence south along the East boundary line of Glasscock county to the South East corner thereof; thence continuing said line south to the North boundary line of Section 29 T. C. R. R. Co. survey, thence east to the South East corner of Section 35 of block 5, H. & T. C. R. R. Co. survey; thence North along section lines to the South East corner of Section 33 block 11; S. P. R. R. Co. survey; thence East to the South West corner of Coke County; thence North along the West line of Coke County to the North west corner of Coke County; thence West along the Southern boundary line of Howard County to the place of beginning.

Sec. 2. The county of Sterling is hereby attached to the county of Tom Green for judicial, surveying and recording purposes.

Sec. 3. That the county hereby created in the first section of this act shall pay a pro rata share of all the existing legal debts and liabilities of Tom Green county, and there shall be set apart annually so much of the county taxes levied and collected on the property within said new county as shall be sufficient to speedily pay off and discharge said pro rata share of such legal debts and liabilities, according to the requirements of the contracts and obligations thereof, said pro rata share shall be based upon the value of the property of said county hereby created for each year of the existence of any of said debts or liabilities to be determined from the tax rolls of said county as made by the board of equalization, and paid as now required by law in other like cases.

Sec. 4. The county hereby created shall be and the same is hereby attached to the Thirty-fifth Judicial District for judicial purposes, to the Eleventh Congressional District, the Twenty-eighth Senatorial and Eightieth Representative Districts for representative purposes.

Sec. 5. If there shall be a desire to organize the county hereby created before the next general election the citizens thereof may petition the county judge in the manner required by the law then in force in reference to unorganized counties desiring to organize, and at the same time they may petition for the location of a county seat, and if the election to organize shall be ordered, the county seat shall be voted for and the result declared as provided by law.

Sec. 6. The fact that it is necessary to include this county in the reorganization of the Judicial District to be done before this session of the Legislature is adjourned and to provide for holding courts in said county, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity which requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act shall take effect from and after its passage, the rule is therefore suspended and this act shall so take effect.

- Sec. 1. Contract limiting time in which to sue illegal, when.
 2. Stipulation as to notice; must be reasonable.

CHAP. 17.—[S. B. No. 10.] An act invalidating the provision in any stipulation, contract or agreement limiting the time in which suit may be brought thereon to not less than two years, and to provide what shall be a sufficient notice of a claim before suit brought and how the same shall be given.

Section 1. Be it enacted By the Legislature of the State of Texas: That it shall hereafter be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, association or combination of whatsoever kind to enter into any stipulation, contract or agreement by reason whereof, the time in which to sue thereon is limited to a shorter period than two years. And no stipulation, contract or agreement for any such shorter limitation in which to sue, shall ever be valid in this State.

Sec. 2. No stipulation in any contract requiring notice to be given of any claim for damages as a condition precedent to the right to sue thereon shall ever be valid unless such stipulation is reasonable and any such stipulation fixing the time within which such notice shall be given at a less period than ninety days shall be void, and when any such notice is required, the same may be given to the nearest or any other convenient local agent of the company requiring the same. That in any suit brought under this act it shall be presumed that notice has been given unless the want of notice is specially pleaded under oath.

 2. Fines to become part of Road and Bridge fund.
 3. Does not repeal or impair article 54 Revised Civil Statutes.

CHAP. 18.—[H. B. No. 44.] An Act to be entitled an act to define and punish usury.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That, if any person shall for himself or as the agent of another, either directly or indirectly, loan any money, and directly or indirectly charge or receive a greater rate of interest thereon, than twelve per cent per annum, he shall be deemed guilty of usury, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than one-third nor more than the whole amount of the money so loaned.

Sec. 2. All fines collected under this act, shall be paid into the county treasury where such offense is committed, and become a part of the Public Road and Bridge fund of such county.

Sec. 3. This act is hereby declared not to repeal or impair title 54, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, on the subject of interest.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor for his approval on the 27th day of February, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the House in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. 3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 21.—[H. B. No. 162.] An Act to be entitled "An act to amend an act to reorganize the Thirty first, Thirty second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fifth and Thirty-ninth Judicial Districts, and to create the Forty-second Judicial District of the State of Texas, and to fix the times of holding courts therein; and to provide for the appointment and election of Judges and District Attorneys in the Thirty-second and Forty-second Judicial Districts and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith," approved March 31, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 9 of the above recited act be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 9. The forty-second judicial district of the State of Texas shall be composed of the counties of Comanche, Eastland, Stephens, Shackelford, Callahan and Taylor, and terms of the District court shall be held annually therein as follows:

In the county of Comanche, on the first Monday in February and on the third Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Taylor, on the fourth Monday after the first Monday in February, and the sixth Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session five weeks.

In the county of Callahan, on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in February, and on the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Shackelford, on the twelfth Monday after the first Monday in February, and on the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Stephens, on the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in February and on the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Eastland, on the seventeenth Monday after the first Monday in February, and on the nineteenth Monday after the first Monday in August and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. All writs, process, and bonds civil and criminal, which may be issued or executed up to the time this act takes effect by or from the District Courts of the several counties above named, or under order of said courts and made returnable to the terms of said courts as they are now fixed by law, shall be returnable to the next ensuing terms of said courts in each county as they are prescribed by this act; and all such writs, process and bonds above mentioned are hereby legalized and validated to all intents and purposes, as if the same had been returnable to the terms of said courts as the terms hereof are herein prescribed.

Sec. 3. The fact that the time of holding the courts in the aforesaid district as hereby changed will create a confusion in holding the courts under this act, after it takes effect, if it should not take effect from and after its passage, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days in each House should be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two-thirds vote, ayes 78, noes none; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote, yeas 21, nays 0.]

Approved March 10, 1891.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW—UNIVERSITY GRADUATES.

Sec.

1. Adds article 222a to title 10, chapter 2, Revised Statutes.

Sec.

- (Art. 222a.) Law graduates of University of Texas, now licensed.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 22.—[H. B. No. 121.] An act to be entitled an act to amend title Ten chapter 2 of the Revised Civil Statutes by adding thereto article 222a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas.

Article 222a. Any person holding a diploma from the law department of the "University of Texas," and who desires to practice as an attorney and counsellor at law in the courts of this State, may present such diploma to the District or Supreme Court in term time, together with a certificate of the commissioners court of the county in which he resides, that he is a man of good moral character and honorable deportment, and such court shall thereupon order the clerk to issue a license to such applicant, which license shall be signed by the presiding Judge of such court and tested by the seal of the court, which, if granted by the District Court, shall authorize such applicant to practice in the District and Inferior courts of the State, and if by the Supreme court, then in all the courts of the State.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature requires a suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read in each house on three several days, and such rule is therefore so suspended, and that this act take effect and go into force from and after its passage, and it is therefore so enacted.

[Note. The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two-thirds vote, ayes 75 noes 3; and passed the Senate by the following vote, yeas 24 noes 1.]

COUNTY COURT—NACOGDOCHES COUNTY.

Sec.

1. Amends sections 5 and 6 of act of February, 1891.
- (5.) Restores civil and criminal jurisdiction of Nacogdoches county.
- (6.) Jurisdiction of district court.

Sec.

2. Adds section 10.
- (10.) Actions against officers for failure to pay over moneys; penalty.
3. Repealing clause.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 23.—[H. B. No. 554.] An Act amendatory of and supplemental to an act entitled an act to restore to and confer upon the county court of Nacogdoches County the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore belonging to it under the constitution and general laws of the State, and to conform the jurisdiction of the district court of said county to such change, approved February, 1891.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 5 and 6 of an act entitled an act to restore to and confer upon the county court of Nacogdoches county the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore belonging to it under the constitution and general laws of the State, and to conform the jurisdiction of the District court of said county to such change, approved February, 1891, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 5. Said county court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over all misdemeanors except the misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and except cases in which the highest penalty of fine that may be imposed under the law, may not exceed two hundred dollars, and shall have original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors except the misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and concurrent jurisdiction with that of justices of the peace in criminal cases; and said court shall have appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases of which justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said county have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The District court of said county of Nacogdoches shall no longer have jurisdiction of misdemeanors, except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and shall no longer have jurisdiction of cases of which the county court of said county by the provisions of this act, have original or appellate jurisdiction; and it shall be the duty of the district clerk of said county within thirty days after this act shall take effect, to make full and complete transcripts of all orders on the criminal and civil dockets in cases then pending before the District court of said county, of which cases by the provisions of this act original and appellate jurisdiction is given to the said county court, and to deliver said transcripts together with the original papers and a certified bill of costs in each case, to the county clerk of said county, and said county clerk shall take charge of said transcripts and papers, file the same, and enter said cases on their respective dockets for trial by said court.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted that section 10 be added to said act and be as follows:

Sec. 10. Said County Court shall also have power to hear and determine all motions against sheriffs and other officers of the court for failure to pay over moneys collected under the process of said court, or other defalcation of duty in connection with such process, and shall have power to punish by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and by imprisonment not exceeding three days, any person guilty of contempt of said court, and all other powers and jurisdiction conferred on county courts by the constitution and general laws of this State.

Sec. 3. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. That the above recited act, having taken effect from and after its passage, creates such an emergency and imperative public necessity as requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, that this supplemental act, in order to be consistent and in harmony therewith, should also take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted that said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act do take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two-thirds vote ayes 79, noes 0; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote ayes 22, nays 0.]

Approved March 10, 1891.

FELLOW SERVANTS.

Sec.

1. Vice principals defined.
2. Fellow servants defined.

Sec.

3. No contract on contingency of injury or death of employe valid.

CHAP. 24.—[H. B. No. 386.] An Act to define who are fellow servants and who are not fellow servants.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all persons engaged in the service of any railway corporations, foreign or domestic, doing business in this State, who are entrusted by such corporation with the authority of superintendence, control or command of other persons in the employ or service of such corporation, or with the authority to direct any other employe in the performance of any duty of such employe, are vice principals of such corporation, and are not fellow servants with such employe.

Sec. 2. That all persons who are engaged in the common service of such railway corporations and who, while so engaged are working together at the same time and place to a common purpose, of same grade, neither of such persons being entrusted by such corporations, with any superintendence or control over their fellow employes, are fellow servants with each other; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to make employes of such corporation, in the service of such corporation, fellow servants with other employes of such corporation, engaged in any other department or service of such corporation. Employees who do not come within the provisions of this section shall not be considered fellow servants.

Sec. 3. No contract made between the employer and employee, based upon the contingency of the injury or death of the employee, limiting the liability of the employer under this act, or fixing damages to be recovered, shall be valid and binding.

Approved March 10, 1891.

CITIES AND TOWNS—INCORPORATION OF.

Sec.

1. Adds article 340c to chapter 1, title 17, Revised Statutes, as to incorporation of cities and towns of one thousand inhabitants or more.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 25.—[S. S. B. Nos. 85 and 93.] An Act to amend chapter 1, title 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, by the addition thereto of article 340c.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That chapter 1, title 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby amended by adding article 340c, which shall read as follows:

Article 340c. That all towns and cities of one thousand inhabitants or more which have heretofore attempted to accept the provisions of this title and to become incorporated cities of one thousand inhabitants or more, under the general laws of Texas, and have failed to comply with all the requirements of said general law, or which are not included within the literal meaning of those cities which are authorized to accept the provisions of said general law, and all towns and villages incorporated under chapter 11, of title 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes or by special charter or otherwise, but which now have one thousand inhabitants or more and which have heretofore attempted to accept the provisions of this title in lieu of their said town or village charter and become incorporated cities of one thousand inhabitants or more; but which said cities have from and after the dates of their several attempted incorporations and their several efforts to accept the provisions of this title exercised the functions of cities of the class named, and were by the State of Texas recognized as such cities, be and the same are hereby declared to be cities of one thousand inhabitants or more, and the several acts whereby they attempted to accept the provisions of said law are hereby in all things validated. And that all subsequent acts of said cities and towns done and performed as a city of one thousand inhabitants or more, after they had attempted to accept the provisions of said law as aforesaid, be and the same are hereby validated and declared to be as binding as if said cities had been duly and legally incorporated, provided, that nothing herein shall be construed as validating any act of said cities or the councils thereof, unless same were authorized by the general laws of the State under which they were attempting to act, at the several dates when said acts were done, and provided further, that the provisions of this act shall not validate the act of any town or city in unlawfully adding additional territory to such town or city, without the consent of such inhabitants so added to said town or city.

Sec. 2. Whereas there are many cities in Texas of one thousand inhabitants or more which have heretofore attempted to accept the provisions of the general law as stated in the preceding section of this article, and have attempted to incorporate themselves, but have failed to comply with the provisions thereof, but have nevertheless been recognized as cities, and have borrowed money, incurred debts, purchased property and levied taxes, built school houses and engaged in many different enterprises for the public good; and whereas the corporate existence of many of these cities is threatened by legal proceedings by which the creditors of said city would be without remedy, and the public interest greatly injured, therefore an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the same is hereby suspended and this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by yeas 21, nays 1; and passed the House by yeas 81, nays none.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor for his approval on the second day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—THIRTY-FIFTH AND FIFTY-FIRST.

Sec.

1. Counties composing the Thirty-fifth district; terms of court.
2. Creates Fifty-first district; counties composing same; terms of court.
3. Judges of Thirty-fifth to be assigned to Fifty-first; district attorney of Thirty-first to continue in same office.

Sec.

4. Judge of Thirty-fifth district and district attorney of Fifty-first district to be appointed.
5. Return of process; selection of juries.
6. Emergency clause; act takes effect June 30, 1891.

CHAP. 26.—[H. B. No. 246.] An Act to reorganize the (35th) Thirty-fifth Judicial district and to create the (51st) Fifty first Judicial district of the State.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the (35th) Thirty-fifth judicial district of this State shall be composed of the counties of Coleman, Runnels, Concho, McCulloch and Brown, and the District courts shall be held therein each year as follows towit:

In the county of Coleman on the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Runnels on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Concho on the eighth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of McCulloch on the eleventh Mondays after the first Mondays of February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Brown on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays of February and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. The Fifty-first judicial district is hereby created and shall be composed of the counties of Irion, Sutton, Coke, Schleicher, (when organized,) Sterling, (or the new county created by the 22d Legislature out of Tom Green,) and Tom Green, and a district court shall be held therein each year as follows, towit:

In the county of Irion on the first Mondays of September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Sutton on the third Mondays of September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Coke on the fifth Monday after the first Mondays in September and February and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Schleicher, when organized, on the eighth Mondays after the first Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Sterling on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays of September and February and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Tom Green on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays of September and February and may continue in session until the business of the court is disposed of.

Sec. 3. The District Judge of the thirty fifth judicial district as already constituted shall be assigned after this act goes into effect, to the fifty first Judicial District, as constituted and created in this act, and the district attorney of the Thirty fifth judicial district as it already exists, shall continue the duties of his office in said thirty fifth district until the next general election.

Sec. 4. As soon as this act goes into force and effect the Governor is hereby authorized and directed to appoint some suitable person to fill, and to perform the duties of the office of District Judge, of the Thirty fifth judicial district as reorganized by this act, and he shall in like manner appoint some suitable person to be district attorney of the Fifty first judicial district, and all the persons hereby directed to be appointed shall hold their offices until the next general election.

Sec. 5. That all processes issued or served before this act goes into force and effect, returnable to the district court of any of the counties of the Thirty fifth judicial district as it already exists, shall be considered as returnable to said courts of any such counties in accordance with the times, as provided in this act, and all such processes are hereby legalized, and all grand and petit jurors drawn and selected under existing laws, in any of the counties of said judicial district shall be considered as lawfully drawn and selected for the next term of the district courts of their respective counties held after this act shall be in force and effect.

Sec. 6. Whereas, the rapid settlement of the counties mentioned in this act and the inability of the judges under former laws to transact all the business in the courts of the several counties creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, therefore, said constitutional rule is suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force and effect from and after the 30th day of June, A. D. 1891, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two-thirds vote ayes 74 noes 0; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote ayes 21 nays 0.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the third day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

RAILROAD DEPOTS.

Sec.

1. Amends article 4238, Revised Statutes, as amended by act April 8, 1889.

Sec.

- Depots to be lighted and warmed; penalty.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 27.—[H. B. No. 430.] An Act to amend article 4238 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas as amended by an act approved April 8, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: [That article 4238 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby so amended, that the same shall thereafter read as follows:

Article 4238. Every railroad company doing business in this State shall keep its depots or passenger houses in this State, lighted and warmed, and open to the ingress and egress of all passengers who are entitled to go therein, for a time not less than one hour before the arrival and after the departure of all trains carrying passengers on such railroad; and every such railroad company for each failure or refusal to comply with the provisions of this act, shall forfeit and pay to the State of Texas, the sum of fifty dollars, which may be sued for and recovered in the name of of the State in any court of competent jurisdiction and shall be liable to the party injured, for all damages by reason of such failure.

Sec. 2. The fact that the law as it now is, works a useless hardship on many citizens and railroads in this State and that injustice is daily done by reason thereof creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and said rule is hereby suspended, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by two-thirds vote ayes 83, noes 0; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote ayes 24, noes 0.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 6th day of March A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

ATTACHMENT.

- Sec. 1. Amend article 182, Revised Statutes; disposition of property or proceeds when attachment is quashed; emergency.

CHAP. 28.—[S. H. B. for S. B. No. 12.] An Act to amend article 182 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 182, title 9, chapter 1 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the state of Texas, be so amended that it will hereafter read as follows:

Article 182. Should the attachment be quashed or otherwise vacated by interlocutory judgment or order of the court, the court shall make the proper order making disposition of the property, or the proceeds of the sale thereof, if the same has been sold under order of the court directing that it be turned over to the defendant.

But the property or the proceeds of the sale thereof, if the same has not been replevied, shall remain in the hands of the officers pending the final disposition of the main case and until it shall be finally disposed of, or until the time for perfecting an appeal has elapsed and no appeal has been perfected, when said order disposing of the property shall be carried into effect; Provided, that pending the final disposition of the main case the defendant shall have the right at any time to replevy the property in the same manner as is provided for in article 170 of this chapter or if the property has been sold he may replevy the proceeds of such sale by giving a bond in double the amount of the money arising from such sale, with like conditions as are contained in article No. 170. And any replevy bond given in such case, whether before or after the quashing or vacating such attachment, shall be as valid and binding as if such attachment had never been quashed or vacated.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Whereas there is no law authorizing the courts of last resort to revise the rulings of trial of courts in quashing or vacating attachments creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this law be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same February 12, 1891; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote ayes 24 noes 0.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval, on the tenth day of March A. D. 1891, and was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

COUNTY SEATS.

Preamble.

Sec.

● Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

1. Validating location of certain county seats in newly organized counties.

CHAP. 29.—[H. S. S. B. No. 15.] An Act to validate the location of County seats in certain counties where the same were organized and their county seats located under a misapprehension of the meaning of the law in regard to the election of county seats in newly organized counties.

Whereas many counties have been organized and their county seats located under the belief that the law authorized the location of their county seats, more than five miles from the center of the county by a majority of the votes at such election; and, whereas, many of such county seats were located more than five miles from the geographical center of the county at elections where only a majority of the votes favored such locations; and, whereas, in many of said counties valuable court houses and jails have been erected in such county seats and the bonds of such counties issued in the payment of the same; and whereas, the supreme court has recently decided that such county seats were illegally located and established; and whereas, it will create much confusion and dissatisfaction in such counties to hold new elections for the location of their county seats; therefore

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all county seats located in newly organized counties, more than five miles from the geographical center of the county by a majority of the votes cast at such elections held for the location of county seats be and the same are hereby declared to be the county seats of said counties until such time as the same may be removed by election.

And said elections at which said county seats were chosen and located shall be as valid and binding as if such county seats had received two-thirds of all the votes cast at such elections for county seats, and all counties organized between the taking effect of this act and any other act passed by this legislature affecting county seat elections where a vote is had for the location of a county seat, the place receiving a majority of the votes cast for county seats shall be the county seat of said county until the same is removed by a vote of the people in accordance with the law; provided that this act shall not apply to nor in any manner affect any county where a subsequent election has been held for the location of the county seat and the same has been removed from such place as was declared the county seat at the election held for the organization of said county.

Sec. 2. There being many counties in this State whose county seats are affected by this act, causing great confusion among the people, calculated to engender much bitterness among the inhabitants thereof, an imperative public necessity and an emergency exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each House, said rule is so suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by two-thirds vote, ayes 87, noes 1; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote, ayes 24, nays 24(?).]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the tenth day of March, A. D., 1891, and was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

BUTCHERS.

- Sec. 1. Amends section 9 of act April 6, 1889; counties exempt from this act.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 30.—[H. B. No. 52.] An Act to amend section 9 of an act entitled "An Act to require butchers and slaughterers of cattle to give a bond, and to prescribe penalties for the violation of the conditions of the same, and to prevent unlawful slaughtering and selling cattle," passed at the regular session of the Twenty-first Legislature, and approved April 6, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 9 of an act entitled "An Act to require butchers and slaughterers of cattle to give a bond, and to prescribe penalties for the violation of the same, and to prevent unlawful slaughtering and selling of cattle," passed at the regular session of the Twenty-first Legislature and approved April 6, 1889, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 9. Provided the provisions of this act shall in nowise apply to any of the following counties: Anderson, Bell, Gonzales, Coryell, Hamilton, Mills, Brown, Comanche, Lavaca, Llano, San Saba, Concho, Runnels, Coleman, Travis, Grayson, Cooke, Montague, Colorado, Bexar, Jasper, Newton, Orange, Jefferson, Polk, San Jacinto, Tyler, Chambers, Hardin, Liberty, Harrison, Smith, Upshur, Gregg, Wood, Rains, Bowie, Cass, Morris, Titus, Lee, Bastrop, Fayette, Hill, Johnson, Ellis, McLennan, Falls, Robertson, Milam, Brazos, Galveston, Brazoria, Matagorda, San Patricio, Guadalupe, Caldwell, Hays, Blanco, Comal, Tarrant, Wise, Parker, Jack, Dallas, Nacogdoches, San Augustine, Sabine, Shelby, Panola, Rusk, Hunt, Hopkins, Delta, Franklin, Camp, Angelina, Houston, Leon, Grimes, Madison, Kaufman, Rockwall, Fannin, Lamar, Red River, Van Zandt, Henderson, Cherokee, Bosque, Hood, Erath, Somerville, Collin, Denton, Trinity, Walker, Montgomery, Harris, Austin, Washington, Wharton, Fort Bend, Waller, Burleson, Limestone, Freestone, Navarro, Young, Karnes, Mason, Medina, Kimble, Kerr, Kendall, Bandera, Sutton, Gillespie, Williamson, Lampasas, Burnet, El Paso, Presidio, Brewster, Midland, Reeves, Marion.

Sec. 2. That justice may be speedily done to the citizens to be so exempted from the operations of said act creates an imperative public necessity and emergency that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two-thirds vote ayes 79, noes 0; and passed the Senate by the following vote yeas 22, noes 1.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the tenth day of March, A. D. 1891, and was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—FIFTH.

Sec.

1. Amends section 5 of act of April 2, 1887; counties composing Fifth district; terms of court.

Sec.

2. Repealing clause.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 31.—[H. B. No. 413.] An Act to amend section 5 of an act approved April 2nd, 1887, entitled "An act to amend Section 5 of an act approved February 6, 1884, entitled "an act to amend Sections 5, 7, 26 and 39 of an act entitled an act to redistrict the State into Judicial districts, and to fix the times for holding courts therein and to provide for the election of Judges and District attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, approved April 9, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 5 of an act approved April 2nd, 1887, entitled "An Act to amend Section 5 of an act approved Feby 6, 1884, entitled an act to amend Section 5, 7, 26 and 39 of an act entitled an act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and to fix the times for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts, at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November 1884, approved April 9, 1883," be so amended that the same shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 5. The Fifth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Bowie, Cass, Marion, Morris, Titus, Franklin, and Camp and the district courts therein shall be held as follows:

In the county of Cass on the first Monday in February, and the fourth Monday in August and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Bowie on the fourth Monday after the first Monday in February, and the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session five weeks.

In the county of Morris on the ninth Mondays after the first Monday in February and the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Titus on the eleventh Mondays after the first Monday in February, and the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Franklin on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Monday in February and the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Camp on the fifteenth Mondays after the first Monday in February and the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Marion on the eighteenth Mondays after the first Monday in February and fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks.

Sec. 2. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be, and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The great amount of business accumulating on the docket of the district court of Bowie county creates an imperative public necessity and emergency for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

RECORDS—VALIDATION OF IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

Preamble.

Sec.

1. Records and muniments of title for lands in Archer, Wichita, Wilbarger, Baylor, Hardeman and Knox counties validated.

Sec.

2. Transcripts of records recorded in Clay county validated.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 32.—[H. B. No. 234.] An Act validating the records of deeds, judgments and other muniments of title conveying or affecting lands in Archer, Wichita, Wilbarger, Baylor, Hardeman and Knox counties between February 10th, 1874 and April 23rd, 1879.

Whereas the counties mentioned in the caption of this bill, were generally supposed and recognized to have been attached to Clay County for judicial purposes from February 10th, 1874 to April 23d, 1879; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the records of all deeds, judgments and all other muniments of title affecting lands lying in the counties of Archer, Baylor, Wilbarger, Wichita, Hardeman and Knox, or either of them, recorded in Clay county between February 10th, 1874, and April 23d, 1879, be and the same are hereby validated, and that said original deeds or certified copies thereof so recorded in Clay County between said dates, shall be admissible in evidence in any suit or suits as if the originals had been recorded in the proper counties.

Sec. 2. That the transcript or transcripts so recorded in Clay County heretofore made, or to be hereafter made to the respective counties are hereby validated, and said transcribed records as well as certified copies of same shall be deemed good and sufficient as if made from the original record in Clay County.

Sec. 3. The fact that there are a large number of landowners whose titles are dependent upon the record of their chain of title in Clay County between the dates above mentioned, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency for the immediate passage of this act; therefore the constitutional rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house and passed the same by a vote of 78 yeas and no nays; and passed the senate—vote not given.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 10th day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

EVIDENCE—SEDUCTION.

- Sec. 1. Amends exception 3, article 730, Code Criminal Procedure, as to persons competent to testify.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 33.—[S. B. No. 61.] An Act to repeal exception 3, to Article 730, Chapter 7, title 8 of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas in relation to persons competent to testify in criminal actions and to permit to testify in prosecutions for seduction, the female alleged to have been seduced.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That exception 3 to Article 730, Chapter 7, title 8, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby repealed, and that hereafter, in prosecutions for seduction, under the provisions of the Penal Code, the female alleged to have been seduced shall be permitted to testify; but no conviction shall be had upon the testimony of the said female, unless the same is corroborated by other evidence tending to connect the defendant with the offense charged.

Sec. 2. Whereas, as the law now exists, the Defendant who seduced the female witness can testify and the seduced female cannot; therefore an emergency and imperative public necessity exists requiring the constitutional rule for bills to be read on three several days to be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 11th day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS.—THIRTY-SECOND, THIRTY-NINTH AND FIFTIETH

Sec.

1. Counties composing Thirty-second district; terms of court.
2. Counties composing Thirty-ninth district; terms of court.
3. Counties composing Fiftieth district; terms of court.
4. District judges and district attorneys of Thirty-second and Thirty-ninth districts now acting to continue in office.

Sec.

5. Governor to appoint district judge and district attorney for Fiftieth district.
6. Process; grand and petit jurors.
7. Repeal of laws conflicting with this act.
8. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 34.—[H. B. No. 448.] An Act to reorganize the Thirty-second and Thirty-ninth Judicial Districts, and to create the Fiftieth Judicial District of the State of Texas, to fix the times for holding courts therein, to provide for the appointment and election of a Judge and a District Attorney in the Fiftieth Judicial District, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Thirty-second Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Nolan, Mitchell, Howard, Martin, Midland, Borden, and Ector, and the unorganized counties of Andrews, Gaines, Dawson, Terry, Yoakum, Glasscock, Crane, and Upton, and the terms of the District Court therein shall be held each year as follows:

In the county of Midland, on the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Martin, on the third Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Howard, on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Nolan on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Mitchell, on the eleventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session six weeks.

In the county of Ector on the seventeenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Borden, on the nineteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

That the unorganized counties of Gaines, Terry, Yoakum and Andrews are hereby attached to the county of Martin for judicial purposes.

That the unorganized counties of Borden, Dawson, and Glasscock are hereby attached to the county of Howard for judicial purposes.

¹ The unorganized counties of Crane and Upton are hereby attached to Midland county for judicial purposes.

Sec. 2. The Thirty-ninth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Jones, Fisher, Scurry, Stonewall, Haskell, and Throckmorton, and the unorganized counties of Kent and Garza, and the terms of the District Court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Jones, on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session five weeks.

In the county of Throckmorton on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Haskell, on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Fisher, on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Scurry, on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Stonewall, on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

That the unorganized counties of Kent and Garza are hereby attached to Scurry County for judicial purposes.

Sec. 3. The Fiftieth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Baylor, Knox, Crosby, Floyd, Motley, Hale, Dickens, and Lubbock, and the unorganized counties of King, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran, Lynn, and Hockley, and the terms of the District Court shall be held therein as follows:

In the county of Crosby, on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Hale, on the second Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Floyd, on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Motley, on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Knox, on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Baylor, on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session six weeks.

In the county of Dickens, on the eighteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Lubbock, on the twentieth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

That the unorganized county of King is hereby attached to Knox County for judicial purposes.

That the unorganized counties of Lamb and Bailey are hereby attached to Hale County for judicial purposes.

That the organized counties of Cochran, Lynn, and Hockley are hereby attached to the county of Lubbock for judicial purposes.

The unorganized county of Cottle, when organized, shall become a part of the Fiftieth Judicial District, and the terms of the District Court therein shall be fixed by the judge of said district as provided by law.

Sec. 4. The district judges and district attorneys heretofore elected and now acting for the Thirty-second and Thirty-ninth Judicial Districts herein mentioned shall continue the exercise of their said offices respectively.

Sec. 5. That immediately after the taking effect of this act, the Governor shall appoint a suitable person as district judge and a suitable person as district attorney for the Fiftieth Judicial District herein mentioned, who shall hold their offices until the next general election, at which time a judge and district attorney shall be elected in said district, and at each subsequent election according to existing laws.

Sec. 6. That all process issued or served before this act goes into effect returnable to the District Courts in said judicial districts shall be considered returnable to said courts in accordance with the terms as prescribed by this act, and all such process is hereby legalized; and all grand and petit juries drawn and selected under existing laws in any of the counties of said judicial districts shall be considered lawfully drawn and selected for the next terms of the District Courts of their respective counties held after this act takes effect, and all such process is hereby legalized and validated.

Sec. 7. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 8. Whereas, the rapid settlement of the counties mentioned in this act and the inability of the judges under former laws to transact all the business in the courts of the said several counties creates an imperative public necessity, and emergency exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rules requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, therefore said constitutional rule is suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after the fifteenth day of March, A. D. 1891, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two-thirds vote, ayes 75, noes 1; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote, ayes 21, noes none.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 13th day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

CHATTEL MORTGAGES.

Sec.

1. Amends sections 2, 3 and 5 of act April 22, 1879.
- (2.) Mortgage to be kept on file subject to public inspection; filing of copy.
- (3.) Certified copy admitted in evidence, when.

Sec.

- (5.) When debt is paid satisfaction is to be entered of record, and original instrument delivered to the maker.
- Emergency clause.

CHAP. 35.—[H. B. No. 96.] An Act to amend sections 2, 3 and 5 of chapter 127, of an act approved April 22, A. D. 1879; an act in relation to chattel mortgages and other instruments intended to operate as mortgages or liens upon personal property, and the record thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That sections 2, 3 and 5 of an act in relation to chattel mortgages and other instruments intended to operate as mortgages of or liens upon personal property and the record thereof, and approved April 22, 1879, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 2. Upon receipt of such instruments the clerk shall endorse thereon, the day and hour when the same was deposited in his office for record, and shall keep the same on file in his office for the inspection of all parties interested until satisfaction thereof shall be entered, as provided in section 5, of this act, provided, that if a copy be presented to the clerk for filing, instead of the original instrument, he shall carefully compare such copy with the original and the same shall not be filed unless it is a true copy thereof, and a copy can be filed only when the original has been witnessed by two subscribing witnesses or acknowledged or proven for record and certified as required in case of other instruments for the purpose of being recorded.

Sec. 3. A certified copy of any such instrument so filed as aforesaid, certified to under the hand and seal of the clerk of the county court in whose office the same shall have been filed, shall be admitted in evidence in like manner as the original might be, unless the execution of the original has been denied under oath by the party sought to be charged thereby; provided, that the party desiring to use such instrument shall file the same in the papers of the cause before announcing ready for trial and not afterwards; and such certified copy shall in all cases be received as evidence of filing and entry thereof in chattel mortgage record according to the endorsement of the clerk thereon.

Sec. 5. When the debt secured by any such instrument shall have been paid or satisfied, it shall be the duty of the mortgagee, his assignee, attorney or legal representative to enter or cause to be entered and attested by the clerk, as aforesaid, satisfaction thereof, in the record book in which the instrument is entered, which may be done under the head of "remarks," and any instrument acknowledging payment or satisfaction need not be recorded at length, but the entry as above provided showing the same has been paid shall be sufficient, and the original instrument or copy thereof on file shall then be delivered to the mortgagor or maker upon demand, or mail the same to him.

The fact that chattel mortgages which have been satisfied are accumulating and required to be kept and preserved in the county clerk's office under existing laws, and a simple method of filing and proving chattel mortgages is necessary, makes it an imperative public necessity, and an emergency that the constitutional rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days, be suspended and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same; (vote not given) and passed the Senate by a vote of 21 yeas, no nays.]

Approved March 23, 1891.

SCHOOL FUND—INTEREST ON COUNTY BONDS.

Sec.

1. County bonds held by school fund apportioned between the parent county and newly created county, when.
2. Commissioners court of new county

Sec.

- to levy tax for pro rata share of said debt; tax in unorganized counties for pro rata of said debt.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 36.—[S. B. No. 148.] An act to provide the manner of collecting the interest and sinking fund on certain bonds held by the school fund of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: When any new county has been created wholly and entirely out of any existing county, if any bonds were legally issued by the parent county prior to the severance of a part of its territory that such of said bonds and the coupons due thereon, as are held by the school fund of the State of Texas, shall be apportioned between the parent county and the county or counties created out of the parent county by the Comptroller of Public Accounts on the basis now provided by law.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the Commissioners Court of the parent county or any county created out of the parent county, which has now or may hereafter be organized, to levy and have collected on all property in such county, a tax to pay said county's pro rata share of the debt. It shall be the duty of the Commissioners Court of any county to which any unorganized county may be attached for judicial purposes, to levy and have collected on all property in said unorganized county owned by resident citizens thereof, a tax for the purpose of paying said county's part of the debt; and it shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts to assess and collect on all property in such unorganized counties owned by non residents, a tax to pay said counties' pro rata part of said debt; Provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize the levy and collection of any tax in excess of that now allowed by the constitution of this State.

Sec. 3. Whereas, the interest due the school fund on a large number of the bonds mentioned in this act is now past due and unpaid, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity, which requires that the constitutional rule requiring a bill to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and such rule is hereby suspended.

Approved March 23, 1891.

TAXATION—ASSESSMENT.

Sec.

1. Pretended transfer of coin, notes or bonds deemed prima facie a fraud, when.
2. Parties to such fraudulent sale guilty of a misdemeanor; penalty.

Sec.

3. Oath required.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 37.—[S. S. B. No. 159.] An Act to define, prevent and punish fraud and evasion in the assessment and collection of the public revenue, arising upon money in coin, notes or bonds subject to taxation, and to provide a punishment therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any evasion by any means of artifice or temporary or fictitious sale exchange or pretended transfer upon any bank books of gold and silver coin, bank notes or other notes or bonds, subject to taxation under the laws of this State, for United States non-taxable treasury notes or any notes or bonds not so subject to taxation, and any such pretended sale, exchange or transfer not made in good faith, and by actual exchange and delivery of the funds so sold, exchanged or transferred and made only by entry on bank books, or by any express or implied understanding not to immediately make a bona fide and permanent sale, shall be deemed prima facie to be a fraud upon the public revenue of this state.

Sec. 2. The president, cashier or secretary of any banking or other corporation, or any person that may be a party or privy to such fraudulent sale, exchange or transfer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, and in addition thereto shall be confined in the county jail not less than ten days nor more than thirty days.

Sec. 3. All Assessors of taxes in this state shall require all tax payers when assessed by them, to make oath as to any such sale, exchange or transfer made by them on the first day of January or within sixty days before said first day of January of any year for which any such assessment is made, as to the good faith and bona fide business transaction of any such sale, exchange or transfer, as above set forth, if any such should have been made by them, and if it should be disclosed that any such pretended sale, exchange or transfer have been made for the purpose of evading taxation, then and in that event the assessor shall list and render against such person the coin, bank notes or other notes or bonds subject to taxation under the laws of this state, provided that if any person shall make a false affidavit as to any of the foregoing facts, he shall be deemed guilty of perjury and be punished as is now provided by law.

Sec. 4. The great importance of the subject treated of in this act and the near approach of the time for making assessment for taxes in this state creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is so suspended.

Approved March 23, 1891.

INSPECTION OF HIDES AND ANIMALS.

Sec.

duties, counties exempt from inspection of hides; repealing clause.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP 38.—[H. B. No. 211.] An act to amend section 1 of an act entitled "an act to amend section 46, chapter 25, of the acts of 1885, entitled an act to amend chapter 79, of the acts of 1883, entitled an act to amend chapter 48 of the acts of 1887, an act to amend section 46 of an act to encourage stockraising and to protect stockraisers, approved April 22nd 1879, and amended April 4th, 1881, and April 12th, 1880, and March 27th, 1887, and March 29th, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 46 of the above entitled act shall hereafter read as follows:—The counties of Anderson, Austin, Angelina, Bell, Bowie, Brazos, Bastrop, Bosque, Burleson, Brazoria, Caldwell, Camp, Calhoun, Cass, Chambers, Cherokee, Collin, Colorado, Cooke, Dallas, Delta, Denton, Ellis, Erath, Fannin, Franklin, Falls, Freestone, Gonzales, Eastland, Stephens, Fayette, Fort Bend, Galveston, Goliad, Grayson, Gregg, Grimes, Hardin, Harrison, Hays, Henderson, Hill, Hood, Hunt, Hopkins, Houston, Jackson, De Witt, Jasper, Jefferson, Johnson, Kaufman, Lamar, Lee, Leon, Lampasas, McLennan, Madison, Marion, Montgomery, Montague, Morris, Nacogdoches, Newton, Orange, Panola, Parker, Polk, Palo Pinto, Raines, Red River, Robertson, Rockwall, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shackelford, Shelby, Smith, Tarrant, Titus, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Van Zandt, Walker, Washington, Wharton, Wise, Wood, Jack, Harris, Chambers, Clay, Young, Wheeler, Lavaca, Nueces, Bee, Refugio, Limestone, San Patricio, Somervell, Matagorda, Waller, Karnes, Victoria, Milam, Live Oak, Williamson, Miller, Liberty, Wichita, Wilbarger, Archer, Hardeman, Childress, Hall, Collingsworth, Donley, Gray, Armstrong, Briscoe, Floyd, Randall, Kendall, Comal, Travis, Navarro, Brown, Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas and Mills, are hereby exempt from the operation of this act; and that the provisions of the same shall in nowise relate or apply to the aforesaid counties; provided, that in those counties, bordering on the line of the State, except those bordering on Red River, and the Rio Grande where there is a depot or place for the shipment of cattle, no inspector of hides and animals shall be elected, but one for each of such counties shall be appointed by the Governor, who shall hold office for two years, and until his successor shall be appointed, and said inspector, so appointed, to take the constitutional oath of office and give the bond now required of inspectors of hides and animals, and such inspector shall receive the same fees now allowed to inspectors of hides and animals and perform the same duties; provided, that such cattle shall not be subject to inspection on board of any railroad unless the same have been placed on board of such train for the purpose of evading the provisions of this act; and provided further that the counties of Limestone, Fayette, Lavaca, Gonzales, Colorado, Bell, Calhoun, Hays, Guadalupe, Caldwell, Blanco, Llano, Kendall, Comal, Houston, Austin, Johnson, Hill, Ellis, Jackson, Victoria, De Witt, Freestone, Hamilton, Williamson, Milam, Live Oak, Harris, Bosque, Erath, Hood, Somervell, Liberty, Coryell, Lampasas, Mills, Wichita, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Childress, Hall, Collingsworth, Donley, Gray, Armstrong, Briscoe, Floyd, Randall, Kendall, Comal, Fannin, Camp, Delta, Franklin, Hopkins, Hunt and Navarro shall be exempt from all laws regulating inspection of hides; that all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The great necessity for this law, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency requiring that the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and the same is therefore suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 39.—[H. B. No. 325.] An act to amend an act approved March 25th, 1889, being an act to amend an act to re-enact section 28, of an act to redistrict the State into Judicial Districts, and fix the time for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of Judges and District Attorneys in said District, at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9th, 1883; and to amend said section 28 of said act approved February 26th, 1885, and to create the 49th Judicial District, to provide for the appointment and election of a District Judge and District Attorney therein, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 28 of the above recited act, approved April 9th, 1883, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 28. The 28th Judicial District of the State of Texas shall be composed of the counties of Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr and Nueces, and the District Courts shall be therein held as follows:

In the County of Cameron, on the first Monday in February and September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the County of Hidalgo, on the fourth Monday after the first Monday in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the County of Starr, on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the County of Nueces, on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in February and September and may continue in session six weeks.

Sec. 2. The forty-ninth Judicial District is hereby created, and shall be composed of the Counties of Duval, Encinal, Webb and Zapata, and the District Courts shall be therein held as follows:

In the County of Webb, on the first Monday in January, May and September, and may continue in session six weeks.

In the County of Duval, on the fifth Monday before the first Monday in May, and on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the County of Zapata, on the second Monday before the first Monday in May, and on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in September, and may continue in session two weeks.

Sec. 3. The unorganized County of Encinal is hereby attached to the County of Webb for judicial purposes.

Sec. 4. The District Judge and the District Attorney, heretofore elected and now acting for the 28th Judicial District, shall continue the exercise of their said offices respectively within said District as herein defined.

Sec. 5. That immediately after the taking effect of this act, the Governor shall appoint a suitable person as District Judge, and a suitable person as District Attorney in the 49th Judicial District created by this act, who shall hold their office until the next general election, at which time and at subsequent elections a District Attorney and a District Judge shall be elected in said Districts according to existing laws.

Sec. 6. That all process issued or served before this act goes into effect, returnable to the District Court of any of the Counties mentioned in this act, shall be considered as returnable to the said Court, at the next ensuing term to be held in said county, under the provisions of this act, and such process is hereby validated; and all grand and petit juries drawn and selected under the law as it now exists, shall be considered as legally drawn and selected for the terms of Court as provided in this act.

Sec. 7. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with any of the provisions of this act be, and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 8. Whereas the increase in the population of the Counties named in this act, and the inability of the District Judge of the 28th Judicial District, as now constituted, to transact all the business in the District Court of said Counties, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency exists wherefore the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 82 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 21 yeas and 2 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 13th day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. Sec.

1. Apportions between said schools moneys received from the United States.

Sec.

2. L. S. Ross, President, etc., to receive money and give receipts.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 40.—[S. B. No. 235.] An act to apportion between the Agricultural and Mechanical College and Prairie View State Normal School, the fund due Texas under an act of the 51st Congress of the United States, for the more complete endowment and maintenance of colleges established under an act of Congress approved July 2, 1862, and to designate a person to whom payments of said money shall be made.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all moneys apportioned to the State of Texas under an act of the fifty first Congress of the United States, entitled "An act to apply a portion of the proceeds of the public lands to the more complete endowment and support of the colleges for the benefit of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts, established under the provisions of an act of Congress approved July 2, 1862," shall be apportioned between the Agricultural and Mechanical College and the Prairie View State Normal School on the following basis, to-wit: three fourths to the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and one fourth to the Prairie View State Normal School.

Sec. 2. L. S. Ross, President of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, or his successors in office are hereby authorized to receive and receipt for all moneys due and to become due to the Agricultural and Mechanical College and the Prairie View State Normal School, under the act of Congress aforesaid.

Sec. 3. The fact that the treasurer of the United States refuses to pay any moneys now due the State under the said act of Congress until the legislature has apportioned said funds between the aforesaid institutions, creates an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate and passed the same by a vote of 25 yeas, and no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 80 yeas and no nays.]

CHAP. 41.—[S. B. No. 97.] An act to require railroad companies in this State to provide separate coaches for white and negro passengers, and to prohibit passengers from riding in coaches other than those set apart for their race, and to confer certain powers upon conductors and to provide penalties for the violation of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That every railroad company, lessee, manager or receiver thereof, doing business in this state as common carriers of passengers for hire shall provide separate coaches for the accommodation of white and negro passengers, which separate coaches shall be equal in all points of comfort and convenience.

Sec. 2. That the term negro as used herein includes every person of African descent as defined by the statutes of this state.

Sec. 3. Each compartment of a coach divided by a good and substantial wooden partition with a door therein shall be deemed a separate coach within the meaning of this act, and each separate coach shall bear in some conspicuous place appropriate words in plain letters indicating the race for which it is set apart.

Sec. 4. Any railroad company, lessee, manager or receiver thereof which shall fail to provide its trains, carrying passengers, with separate coaches as above provided for, shall be liable for each and every such failure to a penalty not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars to be recovered by suit in the name of the State in any court of competent jurisdiction. And each trip run with any such train without such separate coaches shall be deemed a separate offense.

Sec. 5. If any passenger upon a train provided with separate coaches shall ride in any coach not designated for his race, after having been forbidden to do so by the conductor in charge of the train, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than five nor more than twenty-five dollars.

Sec. 6. The provisions of this act shall not be so construed as to prohibit nurses from traveling in the same coach with employers or employes upon the train in discharge of their duties; nor shall it be construed to apply to such freight trains as may carry passengers in cabooses, neither shall it apply to street railway cars; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent railroad companies in this state from hauling sleeping cars or chair cars attached to their trains to be used exclusively by either white or negro passengers separately but not jointly.

Sec. 7. Every railroad company carrying passengers in this state shall keep this law posted in a conspicuous place in each passenger depot, and in each passenger coach provided for in this act.

Sec. 8. The provisions of this act shall not apply to any excursion train run strictly as such for the benefit of either race.

Sec. 9. Conductors of passenger trains provided with separate coaches shall have the authority to refuse any passenger admittance to any coach in which he is not entitled to ride under the provisions of this act, and the conductor in charge of the train shall have the authority, and it shall be his duty to remove from a coach any passenger not entitled to ride therein under the provisions of this act. And upon his failure or refusal to do so, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than five, and not more than twenty-five dollars.

Sec. 10. All fines collected under the provisions of this act shall go to the available common school fund of the county in which conviction is had. Prosecutions under the provisions of this act may be instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction in any county through or into which said railroad may be run or have an office.

Sec. 11. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Sec. 12. There being no adequate law on this subject creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days and the same is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the nineteenth day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objection thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—THIRTIETH.

- Sec. 1. Counties composing Thirtieth district; terms of court.
2. Act takes effect from passage; repealing clause.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 42.—[S. B. No. 269.] An Act to reorganize the thirtieth Judicial District and to fix the times for holding Courts therein.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the thirtieth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Young, Archer, Clay and Wichita, and terms of the District Court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Young on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Archer, on the eighth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Clay, on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July and may continue in session six weeks.

In the county of Wichita, on the sixteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. That this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage and all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The fact that the near approach of the end of this session renders it improbable that this bill can be considered on three several days, and the fact that it is desired and proper that this bill should go into effect at once, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days and that this act take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 43.—[H. B. No. 572.] An Act to amend section 5 of an act to create the county of Coke out of Tom Green County and to provide for its organization, approved March 13, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 5 of an act to create the county of Coke out of Tom Green County and to provide for its organization approved March 13th, 1889, be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows, to wit:

Sec. 5. That the county of Coke is hereby attached to the fifty first judicial district for judicial purposes, to the eleventh congressional, twenty eighth senatorial, and to the eightieth representative districts for purposes of representation.

Sec. 2. The fact that the District Court will meet in less than ninety days after the adjournment of the Legislature and the lateness of the session, creates an imperative necessity and emergency that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, it is so suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CITIES AND TOWNS—VOTING REGULATED.

Sec. 1. Proceedings where right to vote is challenged.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 44.—[S. B. No. 335.] An Act to regulate voting in cities and towns of ten thousand inhabitants or more.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That in any election, state, county or municipal, being held in any city or town of ten thousand inhabitants or more according to the last preceeding United States census, when the right to vote, of any elector offering to vote is challenged the following proceedings shall be had:

The judges of election shall refuse to accept such vote of such elector unless in addition to his own oath, he proves by the oath of one well known resident of the ward, that he is a qualified voter at such election and in such ward.

When such vote is accepted the judges shall cause the clerk of election to make a minute of the name of the elector and the party testifying under oath as to his qualifications, and such memoranda shall be kept by the clerk of the county court for six months after such election is held, subject to order of the district judge.

Whenever the right of an elector to vote is challenged the word "challenged" shall be entered on the ballot if accepted by the judges. Any elector voting at any election who does not possess the legal qualifications shall be punished as now provided by law for illegal voting, and any person swearing falsely as to his own qualifications or those of a challenged elector shall be punished as now provided by law for false swearing.

Section 2. The fact that all municipal elections will be held on the first Tuesday in April, and the near approach of the close of the session creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

EXPRESS COMPANIES.

Sec.

1. Express companies declared common carriers; articles to be delivered at nearest office by carrier; dangerous articles; compensation.

Sec.

2. Rates to be fixed by the railroad commission.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 45.—[H. B. No. 275.] An act to regulate rates or charges to be made by express companies for the transportation of all such articles of freight, money, papers and packages of any kind; to require such express companies to receive and promptly deliver same at the express office nearest destination and to make all such express companies subject to the control and regulation of the railroad commission of Texas, and to prescribe the penalties for the violation of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That every person, firm or corporation, which shall do the business of an express company, upon railroads or otherwise, in this state, by the carrying of any kind of property, money, papers, packages or other things, are hereby declared to be common carriers, and shall receive, safely carry and promptly deliver at the express office nearest destination every such article as may be tendered to them, and in the carriage of which they are engaged; provided, that no such company shall be compelled to carry any gun powder, dynamite, kerosene, naptha, gasoline, matches or other dangerous or inflammable oils, acids or materials, except under such regulations as may be prescribed by the railroad commission. It shall be unlawful for any such person, firm or corporation so engaged to demand or receive for such service other than reasonable compensation.

Sec. 2. The railroad commission of the State of Texas shall have power, and it shall be its duty to fix and establish reasonable and just rates of charges for each class or kind of property, money, papers, packages and other things to be charged for, and received by each express company on all such property, money, papers, packages and things which by the contract of carriage are to be transported by such express company, between points wholly within this state, which rates or charges may be made to apply to all such companies, and may be changed or modified by said Commission from time to time in such manner as may become necessary. Said Commission shall have the same power to make and prescribe such rules and regulations for the government and control of such express companies as is or may be conferred upon said Commission for the regulation of railroads.

Sec. 3. Every express company doing business in this state which shall demand or receive a greater compensation than that which may be prescribed and fixed by the said Railroad Commission for the transportation of any class or kind of property, money, papers, packages or things, shall be deemed guilty of extortion, and shall forfeit and pay to the State of Texas a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars for each offense; provided, that if it shall appear that such violation was not wilful, said company shall have ten days to refund such over charges or damages, in which case the penalty shall not be incurred. And the said Commission shall have authority and it shall be its duty to sue for and recover the same in the same manner as may be prescribed by law for like suits against railroad companies.

Sec. 4. The said Commission shall have authority and it shall be its duty to call upon such express companies for reports, and investigate their books in the same manner as may be prescribed by law for the regulation of railroad companies, and the said Commission shall have power and authority to institute suits, sue out such writs and process as may be applicable and authorized for the regulation of railroad companies. All laws, rules and regulations made and prescribed for the government and control of railroads in so far as they are applicable, shall be of equal force and effect against all express companies.

Sec. 5. The fact that there is no law for the regulation of express companies in the transportation of freights, and the near approach of the close of the present session creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency necessitating the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 46.—[S. B. No. 193.] An Act to prescribe the times for holding the terms of the District Court in the 47th judicial district of Texas, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the terms of the District Court in the several counties comprising the 47th Judicial District of Texas shall be held as follows:

In the county of Potter on the first Mondays in March and September and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Swisher on the second Mondays in April and October and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Randall on the fourth Mondays in April and October and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Deaf Smith on the second Mondays in May and November and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Oldham on the fourth Mondays in May and November and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Hartley on the second Mondays in June and December and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Sherman on the fourth Mondays in June and December and may continue in session two weeks.

Sec. 2. The unorganized county of Dallam is hereby attached to Hartley county for judicial purposes.

The unorganized county of Moore is hereby attached to Potter county for judicial purposes.

The unorganized county of Palmer is hereby attached to Deaf Smith county for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Bailey and Lamb are hereby attached to Hale county for judicial purposes.

The unorganized county of Castro is hereby attached to Oldham county for judicial purposes.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. The fact that several new counties have been organized recently in the 47th Judicial District requires the immediate passage of this act, and creates an emergency and a public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act go into immediate effect, and it is so enacted.

W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—SECOND.

Sec.

1. Terms of court in second district.
2. Return of process.

Sec.

3. Repealing clause.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 47.—[S. H. B. No. 553.] An Act to change the times for holding the District courts in the second judicial district of the State of Texas, to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act, and to provide for the return of all writs and process returnable to the district courts of said counties affected by this act that have been heretofore issued by said courts and that may hereafter be issued before this act shall take effect, and made returnable to the terms of said courts as now fixed by law and make the same as valid and binding as if no change had been made.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the second judicial district of the State shall be composed of the counties of Sabine, San Augustine, Nacogdoches, Shelby and Cherokee, and the district courts shall be held therein as follows:

In the county of Sabine on the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of San Augustine, on the second Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Nacogdoches, on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Shelby, on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Cherokee, on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. That all writs and process returnable to the district courts as heretofore fixed in the counties affected by this act, and all such writs and process that may hereafter be issued before this act shall take effect, and made returnable to the terms of said district courts as now fixed by law, shall be as valid and binding as if no change had been made.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. The near approach of the close of the session, and the near approach of the time for holding the regular term of the district court in Shelby county, and the great necessity that exists for an extension of the time for holding district court in the said county of Shelby create an emergency and imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is enacted that said rule be and the same is hereby suspended and it is so enacted that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

ROADS—COUNTY TAX.

Sec.

1. Commissioners court to levy tax, when; no notice required of petition for election.
2. Notice of election, how given; expenses of election; time of holding election.
3. Qualified voters only can vote; tickets, how prepared.

Sec.

4. Levy of tax, how made; petition for repeal, when granted; petition for another election; proof to support petition for repeal.
5. No bonds shall be issued under this act.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 48.—[H. B. No. 349.] An Act to carry into effect the constitutional amendment empowering counties to determine by vote whether 15 cents road tax shall be levied by County Commissioners Court.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Commissioners court of any county shall, upon presentation to it, at any regular session, of a petition signed by 200 qualified voters, they being property tax payers of the county, to determine whether there shall be levied upon the property within said county, by said Commissioners court, a road and bridge tax, not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars worth of property under the provisions of the amendment of 1889, to the constitution of the State of Texas, adopted in 1890. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of such petition before the court can act on the same, but the court may act thereon without notice, and may make an order for such election, fixing the amount to be levied not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars, the election to take place at any time thereafter, not less than twenty nor more than ninety days from the date of making the order therefor.

Sec. 2. It shall not be necessary to give any formal notice of such election, except the County Judge shall issue his election proclamation, and the fact that such election is to be held shall be published in the newspapers of the county as fully as practicable, and tickets for the election shall be printed by the county and sent to each voting precinct by the County Judge before the election opens, and as long before such time as practicable. The expenses of the election shall be paid for by the county. If an election be ordered within ninety days of a general election, it shall be held on the day of the general election, and as elections on other questions are held, but otherwise the commissioners court shall order a special election to determine whether said tax shall be levied, which shall be conducted as other elections, and the officers to conduct the same shall be appointed as in other cases.

Sec. 3. Only qualified voters who pay a property tax in the county shall be permitted to vote at such election. The tickets printed and to be voted shall have written or printed on them the words: "For the tax," and "Against the tax," and those who favor the tax shall vote the ticket "For the tax," and those who oppose the tax shall vote the ticket, "Against the tax."

Sec. 4. If at any such election the majority of the qualified voters voting thereat shall vote for such tax, it shall not be necessary to make further proclamation of that fact than to count the votes as in other cases, and officially announce the result, and the said Commissioners Court shall thereby be authorized and required to levy a road and bridge tax in the same manner that other taxes are levied, in the amount specified in said order for such election, never to exceed 15 cents on the $100.00 worth of property. Such levy shall be made at the same time other county taxes are levied, if such election is held in time thereof, but otherwise, it may be made at any time before the rolls are made out and settlement effected. If, at the election, the proposition for said tax shall carry, no petition for its repeal shall be granted in less than two years. But if it fails to carry, another petition may be granted in one year, but not sooner, and the order granting the second or any subsequent petition may fix a greater or less rate of levy not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars worth of property, and if no greater rate is levied for any one year the Commissioners Court may lower the rate for the next year without a petition therefor. An election to repeal the levy may be ordered and held as in other cases, but there must be satisfactory proof presented to said Commissioners Court that there is great dissatisfaction with such tax and that it is probable that a majority of the citizens of the county who are authorized to vote for said tax would vote for a repeal of the law, and unless such proof be made the petition to repeal shall not be granted.

Sec. 5. Provided that no bonds shall ever be issued under the provisions of the act.

Sec. 6. Whereas, there is no law in force in this state putting in operation the amendment to the constitution and to provide for elections to determine whether such tax shall be levied, and whereas, many counties in this state desire to hold such elections and levy said tax at the time of making the general tax levy for the county, therefore an emergency and public necessity exists that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house and passed the same—vote not given. And passed the senate—vote not given.]

LAWS—REVISION OF.

Sec.

1. Governor to appoint three commissioners to revise the laws.
2. To adopt such of revised statutes as are not repealed or amended; numbering of articles.
3. Statutes passed since adoption of revised statutes, including Sixteenth legislature, to be incorporated in such statutes; general statutes to be collated and arranged with notes, headlines, etc.; Civil Statutes, Criminal Code, Code

- Criminal Procedure, to be separately indexed.
4. Commissioners to embody civil statutes and criminal statutes in two separate bills; to be reported to the Governor; five hundred printed copies to be delivered to the Secretary of State.
5. Commissioners to supervise the printing; salaries, and how paid.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 49.—[S. B. No. 3.] An Act to provide for Revising, Digesting and Publishing the Laws, Civil and Criminal, of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Governor shall, by and with the advice and consent of the senate if in session, appoint three commissioners who shall be learned in the law, whose duty it shall be to revise and digest the laws civil and criminal of the State of Texas, in accordance with the requirements of this act.

Sec. 2. Said Commissioners shall adopt such of the revised statutes, civil and criminal, as have not been repealed or amended, together with their present arrangement of titles, chapters, articles, marginal references and chapter headlines, and shall not change the words or punctuation thereof except in cases of evident clerical or typographical errors; provided the present numbering of the articles is not required to be preserved.

Sec. 3. All statutes passed since the adoption of the revised statutes, including those passed at the regular and special sessions of the sixteenth Legislature and those that may have been passed at the time said Commissioners shall submit their report herein provided for, which statutes by their terms are amendatory of the Revised Statutes or are germane thereto, shall be incorporated in their proper places in such statutes; and all other of said statutes passed as aforesaid which are general and permanent in their nature shall be collated and arranged into their appropriate titles, chapters and articles, and with marginal references and chapter headlines similar to those used in the present Revised Statutes; provided, that in revising the statutes referred to in this section, said Commissioners shall, without making radical changes therein, so revise them as to render them concise, plain and intelligible; provided further, that the Civil Statutes, the Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure shall each be separately indexed and the index placed at the end of each of such subdivisions.

Sec. 4. Said Commissioners shall embody the result of their labors in two bills, one containing the entire body of the Civil Statutes and the other the entire body of the statutes relating to criminal law, both properly indexed, which bills said Commissioners shall report to the Governor on or before the meeting of the twenty third Legislature; and it shall be the duty of the Governor upon receipt of said bills and report, to cause five hundred copies of the same to be printed at the expense of the State, in the same manner and under the same rules and regulations as are prescribed by law for other public printing, which said copies shall be delivered to the Secretary of State for the use of said Legislature.

Sec. 5. Said Commissioners shall supervise the printing of said bills and report; and they shall receive as compensation the same salary as a District Judge for the time they are necessarily engaged, not to exceed one year, in the performance of their work, and the certificate of the Governor shall authorize the Comptroller, at stated times to draw his warrant on the Treasurer for its payment.

Sec. 6. The difficulty of knowing what the law is, and where to find it in the great mass of accumulated session acts, and the constitutional authorization of a decennial revision, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity, requiring the suspension of the constitutional rules requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rules are hereby suspended and that this act take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 50.—[S. H. B. No. 24-167.] An act to prohibit prize fighting and pugilism.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That if any person who shall voluntarily engage in a pugilistic encounter between man and man, or fight between man and bull or between man and other animal, for money or other thing of value, or upon the result of which any money or anything of value is bet or wagered, or to see which any admission fee is charged either directly or indirectly, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1000, and by punishment in the county jail not less than sixty days nor more than one year.

Sec. 2. By the term pugilistic encounter, as used in this act, is meant any voluntary fight or personal encounter by blows by means of the fists, whether with or without gloves, between two or more men for money, prize of any character or other thing of value, or upon the result of which any money or other thing of value is bet or wagered.

Sec. 3. Any person who shall act as second, stakeholder, counsellor or adviser, or who shall render aid of any such character for or to the principals or either of them in any such encounter, shall be deemed a principal in the offense, and shall be punished as prescribed in section one of this act.

Sec. 4. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed, provided that no conviction or acquittal under the provisions of this act shall be so construed as to prohibit a prosecution or conviction of such person, for the violation of any other provision of the penal code.

Whereas, there is now no law prohibiting prize fighting in this state, and this offense is becoming of common practice, therefore, there exists a public and imperative necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, be and the same is hereby suspended.

CHAP. 51.—[H. S. S. H. B's. Nos. 1, 3, and 58.] An Act to establish a Railroad Commission for the State of Texas, whereby discrimination and extortion in railroad charges may be prevented, and reasonable freight and passenger tariffs may be established; to prescribe and authorize the making of rules and regulations to govern the Commission and the railroads, and afford railroad companies and other parties adequate remedies; to prescribe penalties for the violation of this act and to provide means and rules for its enforcement.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a Railroad Commission is hereby created, to be composed of three persons to be appointed by the Governor, as follows: If the Legislature be then in session the Governor shall, upon the taking effect of this act, or as soon thereafter as practicable, by and with the advice of the Senate, if the Legislature then be in session appoint said Commissioners; but if the Legislature be not in session, the Governor shall make such appointments, and each Commissioner so appointed shall hold his office until the second Monday after the inauguration of the next succeeding Governor and until his successor is appointed and qualified. Each succeeding Governor shall on the second Monday after his inauguration, or as soon thereafter as practicable, appoint said Commissioners, who shall each hold his office until the second Monday after the inauguration of the next succeeding Governor and until his successor is appointed and qualified.

(a.) The persons so appointed shall be resident citizens of this State, and qualified voters under the Constitution and laws, and not less than twenty-five years of age. No person shall be appointed as such Commissioner who is directly or indirectly interested in any railroad in this State or out of it, or in any stock, bond, mortgage, security, or in the earnings of any such road; and if such Commissioner shall voluntarily become so interested his office shall become vacant; and if any Railroad Commissioner shall become so interested otherwise than voluntarily he shall within a reasonable time divest himself of such interest; failing to do this, his office shall become vacant.

(b.) No Commissioner hereunder shall hold any other office under the government of the United States or of this State or of any other State government; and shall not while such Commissioner engage in any occupation or business inconsistent with his duties as such Commissioner.

(c.) The Governor shall fill all vacancies in the office of Commissioner by appointment, and the person so appointed shall fill out the unexpired term of his predecessor.

(d.) Before entering upon the duties of his office, each of said Commissioners shall take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed in the Constitution, and shall, in addition thereto, swear that he is not directly or indirectly interested in any railroad, nor in the bonds, stock, mortgages, securities, contracts, or earnings of any railroad, and that he will, to the best of his ability, faithfully and justly execute and enforce the provisions of this act and all laws of this State concerning railroads, which oath shall be filed with the Secretary of State.

(e.) Each of said Commissioners shall receive an annual salary of $4000, payable in the same manner that salaries of other State officers are paid.

Sec. 2. The Commissioners appointed shall meet at Austin and organize and elect one of their number chairman of said Commission. A majority of said Commissioners shall constitute a quorum to transact business. Said Commission may appoint a secretary at a salary of not more than $2000 per annum and may appoint not more than two clerks at a salary of not more than $1500 per annum each, and such other persons as experts as may be necessary to perform any duty that may be required of them by this act. The secretary shall keep full and correct minutes of all the transactions and proceedings of said Commission, and perform such duties as may be required by the Commission. The Commission shall have power to make all needful rules for their government and for their proceedings. They shall be known collectively as "Railroad Commission of Texas," and shall have a seal, a star of five points, with the words, "Railroad Commission of Texas" engraved thereon. They shall be furnished with an office in the Capitol at Austin, and with necessary furniture, stationery, supplies, and all necessary expenses, to be paid for on the order of the Governor.

The Commissioners, secretary and clerks shall be entitled to receive from the State their actual necessary traveling expenses, which shall include the cost only of transportation while traveling on the business of the Commission, to be paid out on the order of the Governor upon an itemized statement thereof, sworn to by the party who incurred the expense and approved by the Commission.

(a.) Said Commissioners may hold sessions at any place in this State when deemed necessary to facilitate the discharge of their duties.

Sec. 3. The power and authority is hereby vested in the Railroad Commission of Texas, and it is hereby made its duty, to adopt all necessary rates, charges, and regulations to govern and regulate railroad freight and passenger tariffs, the power to correct abuses and prevent unjust discrimination and extortion in the rates of freight and passenger tariffs on the different railroads in this State, and to enforce the same by having the penalties inflicted as by this act prescribed through proper courts having jurisdiction.

(a.) The said Commission shall have power, and it shall be its duty, to fairly and justly classify and subdivide all freight and property of whatsoever character that may be transported over the railroads of this State into such general and special classes or subdivisions as may be found necessary and expedient.

(b.) The Commission shall have power, and it shall be its duty, to fix to each class or subdivision of freight a reasonable rate for each railroad subject to this act for the transportation of each of said classes and subdivisions.

(c.) The classifications herein provided for shall apply to and be the same for all railroads subject to the provisions of this act.

(d.) That said Commission may fix different rates for different railroads and for different lines under the same management, or for different parts of the same lines if found necessary to do justice, and may make rates for express companies different from the rates fixed for railroads.

(e.) The said Commission shall have power, and it shall be its duty, to fix and establish for all or any connecting lines of railroad in this State reasonable joint rates of freight charges for the various classes of freight and cars that may pass over two or more lines of such railroads.

(f.) If any two or more connecting railroads shall fail to agree upon a fair and just division of the charges arising from the transportation of freights, passengers or cars over their lines, the Commission shall fix the pro rata part of such charges to be received by each of said connecting lines.

(g.) Until the Commission shall make the classifications and schedules of rates as herein provided for, and afterwards if they deem it advisable, they may make partial or special classifications for all or any of the railroads subject hereto, and fix the rates to be charged by such roads therefor; and such classifications and rates shall be put into effect in the manner provided for general classifications and schedules of rates.

(h.) The Commission shall have power, and it shall be its duty from time to time, to alter, change, amend, or abolish any classification or rate established by it when deemed necessary; and such amended, altered, or new classifications or rates shall be put into effect in the same manner as the originals.

(i.) The Commission may adopt and enforce such rules, regulations, and modes of procedure as it may deem proper to hear and determine complaints that may be made against the classifications or the rates, the rules, regulations, and determinations of the Commission.

(j.) The Commission shall make reasonable and just rates of charges for each railroad subject hereto for the use or transportation of loaded or empty cars on its road; and may establish for each railroad or for all railroads alike reasonable rates for the storing and handling of freight and for the use of cars not unloaded after forty-eight hours' notice to the consignee, not to include Sundays.

(k.) The Commission shall make and establish reasonable rates for the transportation of passengers over each or all of the railroads subject hereto, which rates shall not exceed the rates fixed by law. The commission shall have power to prescribe reasonable rates, tolls, or charges for all other services performed by any railroad subject hereto.

(l.) It shall be the duty of each and every railway subject to this act to provide and maintain adequate, comfortable, and clean depots and depot buildings at its several stations for the accommodation of passengers, and said depot buildings shall be kept well lighted and warmed for the comfort and accommodation of the traveling public; and all such roads shall keep and maintain adequate and suitable freight depots and buildings for the receiving, handling, storing, and delivering of all freights handled by such roads: Provided, that this shall not be construed as repealing any existing laws on the subject.

Sec. 4. Before any rates shall be established under this act, the Commission shall give the railroad company to be affected thereby ten days notice of the time and place when and where the rates shall be fixed; and said railroad company shall be entitled to be heard at such time and place, to the end that justice may be done; and it shall have process to enforce the attendance of its witnesses. All process herein provided for shall be served as in civil cases.

(a.) The Commission shall have power to adopt rules to govern its proceedings, and to regulate the mode and manner of all investigations and hearings of railroad companies and other parties before it, in the establishment of rates, orders, charges, and other acts required of it under this law: Provided, no person desiring to be present at any such investigation by said Commission shall be denied admission.

(b) The chairman and each of the Commissioners, for the purposes mentioned in this act, shall have power to administer all oaths, certify to all official acts, and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, way bills, books, accounts, documents, and testimony, and to punish for contempt as fully as is provided by law for the district or county court.

Sec. 5. In all actions between private parties and railway companies brought under this law, the rates, charges, order, rules, regulations, and classifications prescribed by said Commission before the institution of such action shall be held conclusive and deemed and accepted to be reasonable, fair, and just, and in such respects shall not be controverted therein until finally found otherwise in a direct action brought for that purpose in the manner prescribed by section 6 and 7 hereof.

Sec. 6. If any railroad company or other party at interest be dissatisfied with the decision of any rate, classification, rule, charge, order, act, or regulation adopted by the Commission, such dissatisfied company or party may file a petition setting forth the particular cause or causes of objection to such decision, act, rate, rule, charge, classification, or order, or to either or all of them, in a court of competent jurisdiction in Travis County, Texas, against said Commission as defendant. Said action shall have precedence over all other causes on the docket of a different nature, and shall be tried and determined as other civil causes in said court. Either party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause, and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said appellate court, at either of its terms, and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court of all causes of a different character therein pending: Provided, that if the court be in session at the time such right of action accrues, the suit may be filed during such term and stand ready for trial after ten days notice.

Sec. 7. In all trials under the foregoing section the burden of proof shall rest upon the plaintiff, who must show by clear and satisfactory evidence that the rates, regulations, orders, classifications, acts, or charges complained of are unreasonable and unjust to it or them.

Sec. 8. The said Commission shall, so soon as the classification and schedules of rates herein provided for are prepared by them, furnish each railroad subject to the provisions of this act with a complete schedule in suitable form, showing the classification of freight made by them and the rates fixed by said Commission to be charged by such road for the transportation of each class of freight, and shall cause a certified copy of such classification and schedule of rates to be delivered to each of said railroads at its principal office in this State, if it has such office in this State, and if not, then to any agent of said company in this State, which said schedule, rules, and regulations shall take effect at the date which may be fixed by said Commission, not less than twenty days. Each of said railroad companies shall cause said schedules to be printed in type of a size not less than pica, and shall have the same posted up in a conspicuous place at each of its depots, so as to be inspected by the public. Said Commission may at any time abolish, alter, or in any manner amend the said schedules, or abolish or amend any such regulations, and in that event certified copies of the schedules, rules, or regulations, showing the changes therein, shall be delivered to each road as herein specified. In all cases where the rates shall not have been fixed by the Commission, no changes shall be made except after ten days notice to and consent of the Commission.

Sec. 9. Any person, firm, corporation, or association, or any mercantile, agricultural, or manufacturing association, or any body politic, or municipal organization, complaining of anything done or omitted to be done by any railroad, subject hereto, in violation of any law of this State or the provisions of this act for which penalty is provided, may apply to said Commission in such manner and under such rules as the Commission may prescribe; whereupon, if there shall appear to the Commission to be any reasonable grounds for investigating such complaint, it shall give at least five days notice to such railroad of such charge and complaint, and call upon said road to answer the same at a time and place to be specified by the Commission. The Commission shall investigate and determine such complaint under such rules and modes of procedure as it may adopt. If the Commission find that there has been a violation, it shall determine if the same was willful; if it finds that such violation was not willful it may call upon said road to satisfy the damage done to the complainant thereby, stating the amount of such damage, and to pay the cost of such investigation; and if the said railroad shall do so within the time specified by the Commission there shall be no prosecution by the State; but if said railroad shall not pay said damage and cost within the time specified by said Commission, or if the Commission find such violation to be wilful, it shall institute proceedings to recover the penalty for such violation and the cost of such investigation. All such complaints shall be made in the name of the State of Texas upon the relation of such complainant. All evidence taken before said Commission in the investigation of any such complaint, when reduced to writing and signed and sworn to by the witness, may be used by either party—the State, complainant, or the railroad company—in any proceeding against such railroad involving the same subject matter: Provided further, that the Commissioners may require the testimony so taken before them to be reduced to writing when they may deem it necessary, or when requested to do so by either party to such proceedings, and a certified copy, under the hand and seal of said Commission, shall be admissible in evidence upon the trial of any cause or proceeding growing out of the same transaction against such railroad, involving the same subject matter and between the same parties. The provisions of this section shall not abridge nor effect the right of any person to sue for any penalty that may be due him under the provisions of this act or any other law of this State.

Sec. 10. The Commissioners, or either of them, or such persons as they employ therefor, shall have the right, at such times as they may deem necessary, to inspect the books and papers of any railroad company, and to examine under oath any officer, agent, or employe of such railroad in relation to the business and affairs of the same. If any railroad shall refuse to permit the Commissioners, or either of them, or any person authorized thereto, to examine its books and papers, such railroad company shall, for each offense, pay to the State of Texas not less than $125 nor more than $500 for each day it shall so fail or refuse: Provided, that any person other than one of said Commissioners who shall make any such demands shall produce his authority, under the hand and seal of said Commission, to make such inspection.

(a) Any officer, agent, or employe of any railroad company who shall, upon proper demand, fail or refuse to exhibit to the Commissioners, or either of them, or any person authorized to investigate the same, any book or paper of such railroad company which is in the possession or under the control of such officer, agent, or employe, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any court having jurisdiction thereof shall be fined for each offense a sum not less than $125 and not [to] exceed $500.

Sec. 11. The Commission shall ascertain as early as practicable the amount of money expended in construction and equipment per mile of every railway in Texas; the amount of money expended to procure the right of way, and the amount of money it would require to reconstruct the road bed, track, depots and transportation, and to replace all the physical properties belonging to the railroad. It shall also ascertain the outstanding bonds, debentures and indebtedness and the amount respectively thereof, when issued and rate of interest, when due, for what purposes issued, how used, to whom issued, to whom sold, and the price in cash, property or labor, if any received therefor, what became of the proceeds, by whom the indebtedness is held, the amount purporting to be due thereon, the floating indebtedness of the company, to whom due and his address, the credits due on it, the property on hand belonging to the railroad company, and the judicial or other sales of said road, its property or franchises, and the amounts purporting to have been paid, and in what manner paid therefor. The Commission shall also ascertain the amounts paid for salaries to the officers of the railroad, and the wages paid its employees. For the purpose in this section named, the Commission may employ sworn experts to inspect and assist them when needed, and from time to time, as the information required by this section is obtained, it shall communicate the same to the Attorney-General by report, and file a duplicate thereof with the Comptroller for public use, and said information shall be printed from time to time in the annual report of the Commission.

Sec. 12. The said Commission shall cause to be prepared suitable blanks with questions calculated to elicit all information concerning railroads, and as often as it may be necessary furnish said blanks to each railroad company. Any railroad company receiving from the Commission any such blanks shall cause said blanks to be properly filled out so as to answer fully and correctly each question therein propounded, and in case they are unable to answer any question, they shall give a satisfactory reason for their failure; and the said answers, duly sworn to by the proper officer of said company, shall be returned to said Commission at its office in the city of Austin within thirty days from the receipt thereof.

(a.) If any officer or employee of a railroad company shall fail or refuse to fill out and return any blanks as above required, or fail or refuse to answer any questions therein propounded, or give a false answer to any such question, where the fact enquired of is within his knowledge, or shall evade the answer to any such questions, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall on conviction thereof be fined for each day he shall fail to perform such duty after the expiration of the time aforesaid a penalty of $500, and the Commission shall cause a prosecution therefor in the proper court; and a penalty of a like amount shall be recovered from the company when it appears that such person acted in obedience to its direction, permission, or request in his failure, evasion or refusal. Said Commission shall have the power to prescribe a system of bookkeeping to be observed by all the railroads subject hereto, under the penalties prescribed in this section.

(b.) The said Commission shall make and submit to the Governor annual reports containing a full and complete account of the transactions of their office, together with the information gathered by such Commission as herein required, and such other facts, suggestions, and recommendations as may be by them deemed necessary, which report shall be published as the reports of the heads of departments.

(c.) The said Commission shall have power, and it is hereby made its duty, to investigate all through freight rates on railroads in Texas; and when the same are, in the opinion of the Commission, excessive or levied or laid in violation of the interstate commerce law, or the rules and regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the officials of the railroads are to be notified of the facts and requested to reduce them or make the proper corrections, as the case may be. When the rates are not changed, or the proper corrections are not made according to the request of the Commission, the latter is instructed to notify the Interstate Commerce Commission and to apply to it for relief.

Sec. 13. The said Commission, in making any examination or investigations provided in this act, shall have power to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses by such rules as they may prescribe. Each witness who shall appear before the Commission by order of the Commission, at a place outside of the county of his residence, shall receive for his attendance one dollar per day and three cents per mile, traveled by the nearest practicable route, in going to and returning from the place of meeting of said Commission, which shall be ordered paid by the Comptroller of Public Accounts upon the presentation of proper vouchers, sworn to by such witness, and approved by the chairman of the Commission: Provided, that no witness shall be entitled to any witness fees or mileage who is directly or indirectly interested in any railroad in this State or out of it, or who is in any wise interested in any stock, bond, mortgage, security or earnings of any such road, or who shall be the agent or employe of such road, or an officer thereof, when summoned at the instance of such railroad; and no witness furnished with free transportation shall receive pay for the distance he may have traveled on such free transportation. In case any witness shall fail or refuse to obey such subpoena, said Commission may issue an attachment for said witness, directed to any sheriff or any constable of the State of Texas, and compel him to attend before the Commission and give his testimony upon such matters as shall be lawfully required by them. If a witness, after being duly summoned, shall fail or refuse to attend or to answer any question propounded to him, and which he would be required to answer if in court, the Commission shall have the power to fine and imprison such witness for contempt, in the same manner that a judge of the district court might do under similar circumstances. The claim that any such testimony may tend to criminate the person giving it shall not excuse such witness from testifying, but such evidence or testimony shall not be used against such person on the trial of any criminal proceeding: Provided, the Commission shall in all cases have the right in its discretion to issue proper process and take depositions instead of compelling personal attendance of witnesses. The sheriff or constable executing any process issued under the provisions of this section or under any other provisions of this bill shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the Commission, not to exceed fees as now prescribed by law for similar services.

Sec. 14. If any railroad company subject to this act, or its agent or officer, shall hereafter charge, collect, demand or receive from any person, company, firm or corporation a greater rate, charge, or compensation than that fixed and established by the Railroad Commission for the transportation of freight, passengers, or cars, or for the use of any car on the line of its railroad, or any line operated by it, or for receiving, forwarding, handling, or storing any such freight or cars, or for any other service performed or to be performed by it, such railroad company and its said agent and officer shall be deemed guilty of extortion, and shall forfeit and pay to the State of Texas a sum not less than $100 nor more than $5000.

Sec. 15. If any railroad subject hereto, directly or indirectly, or by any special rate, rebate, drawback, or other device, shall charge, demand, collect, or receive from any person, firm, or corporation a greater or less compensation for any service rendered or to be rendered by it than it charges, demands, collects, or receives from any other person, firm or corporation for doing a like and contemporaneous service, such railroad shall be deemed guilty of unjust discrimination, which is hereby prohibited.

(a.) It shall also be an unjust discrimination for any such railroad to make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any particular person, company, firm, corporation, or locality, or to subject any particular description of traffic to any undue or unreasonable prejudice, delay, or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever.

(b.) Every railroad company which shall fail or refuse, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Commission, to receive and transport without delay or discrimination the passengers, tonnage, and cars, loaded or empty, of any connecting line of railroad, and every railroad which shall, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Commission, fail and refuse to transport and deliver without delay or discrimination any passengers, tonnage, or cars, loaded or empty, destined to any point on or over the line of any connecting line of railroad, shall be deemed guilty of unjust discrimination: Provided, perishable freights of all kinds and live stock shall have precedent of shipment.

(c.) It shall also be an unjust discrimination for any railroad subject hereto to charge or receive any greater compensation in the aggregate for the transportation of like kind of property or passengers for a shorter than for a longer distance over the same line: Provided, that upon application to the Commission any railroad may in special cases, to prevent manifest injury, be authorized by the Commission to charge less for longer than for shorter distances for transporting persons and property, and the Commission shall from time to time prescribe the extent to which such designated railroad may be relieved from the operations of this provision: Provided, that no manifest injustice shall be imposed upon any citizen at intermediate points. Provided, further, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to prevent the Commission from making what are known as "group rates" on any line or lines of railroad in this State.

(d.) Any railroad company violating any provision of this section shall be deemed guilty of unjust discrimination, and shall for each offense pay to the State of Texas a penalty of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars.

(h.) Nothing herein shall prevent the carriage, storage, or handling of freight free or at reduced rates for the State, or for any city, county, or town government, or for charitable purposes, or to and from fairs and expositions for exhibition thereof, or the free carriage of destitute and indigent persons, or the issuance of mileage or excursion passenger tickets; nor to prevent railroads from giving free transportation to ministers of religion, or free transportation to the inmates of hospitals, eleemosynary and charitable institutions, and to the employes of the agricultural and geological departments of this State, or to peace officers of this State; and nothing herein shall be construed to prevent railroads from giving free transportation to any railroad officers, agents, employes, attorneys, stockholders, or directors, or to the Railroad Commissioners, their secretary, clerks, and employes herein provided for, or to any person not prohibited by law: Provided, they, or either of them, shall not receive from the State mileage when such pass is used.

Sec. 16. Any officer or agent of any railroad subject to this act who, by means of false billing, false classification, false weight, or by any other device, shall suffer or permit any person or persons to obtain transportation for property at less than the regular rates then in force on such railroad, or who by means of false billing, false classification, false weighing, or by any device whatever shall charge any person, firm or corporation more for the transportation of property than the regular rates, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof fined in a sum of not less than $100 nor more than $1000.

Sec. 17. In case any railroad subject to this act shall do, cause to be done, or permit to be done any matter, act, or thing in this act prohibited or declared to be unlawful, or shall omit to do any act, matter, or thing herein required to be done by it, such railroad shall be liable to the person or persons, firm, or corporation injured thereby for the damages sustained in consequence of such violation; and in case said railroad company shall be guilty of extortion or discrimination as by this act defined, then, in addition to such damages, such railroad shall pay to the person, firm, or corporation injured thereby a penalty of not less than $125 nor more than $500, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction in any county into or through which such railroad may run: Provided, that such road may plead and prove as a defense to the action for said penalty that such overcharge was unintentionally and innocently made through a mistake of fact: Provided, that any such recovery as herein provided shall in no manner affect a recovery by the State of a penalty provided for such violation.

Sec. 18. If any railroad, as aforesaid, shall willfully violate any other provisions of this act, or shall do any other act herein prohibited, or shall fail or refuse to perform any other duty enjoined upon it for which a penalty has not herein been provided, for every such act of violation it shall pay the State of Texas a penalty of not more than five thousand dollars.

Sec. 19. All of the penalties herein provided, except as provided in Section 17, shall be recovered and suits thereon shall be brought in the name of the State of Texas in the proper court having jurisdiction thereof in Travis County, or in any county to or through which such railroad may run, by the Attorney-General or under his direction; and the attorney bringing such suit shall receive a fee of fifty dollars for each penalty recovered and collected by him, and ten per cent of the amount collected, to be paid by the State. In all suits arising under this act the rules of evidence shall be the same as in ordinary civil actions, except as otherwise herein provided. All fines and penalties recovered by the State under this act shall be paid into the treasury of the State.

Sec. 20. Upon application of any person the Commission shall furnish certified copies of any classification, rates, rules, regulations, or orders, and such certified copies, or printed copies published by authority of the Commission, shall be admissible in evidence in any suit and sufficient to establish the fact that any charge, rate, rule, order, or classification therein contained and which may be in issue in the trial is the official act of the Commission. A substantial compliance with the requirements of this act shall be sufficient to give effect to all the classifications, rates, charges, rules, regulations, requirements, and orders made and established by the Commission, and none of them shall be declared inoperative for any omission of a technical matter in the performance of such act.

Sec. 21. It is hereby made the duty of such Railroad Commission to see that the provisions of this act and all laws of this State concerning railroads are enforced and obeyed, and that violations thereof are promptly prosecuted, and penalties due the State therefor recovered and collected. And said Commission shall report all such violations, with the facts in their possession, to the Attorney-General or other officer charged with the enforcement of the laws, and request him to institute the proper proceedings; and all suits between the State and any railroad shall have precedence in all courts over all other suits pending therein.

(a) It shall be the duty of the Commission to investigate all complaints against railroad companies subject hereto, and to enforce all laws of this State in reference to railroads. But any two connecting railroads may enter into a contract whereby any part or all of the passengers, freight, or cars, empty or loaded, hauled or transported by one and destined to points on or beyond the line of the other shall be delivered to, received and transported by the other; which contract, however, shall be submitted to the Railroad Commission for examination and approval, and when so approved shall be binding; but if the said contract be not approved by the Commission the same shall be void: Provided, that any connecting line delivering freight to the owner or consignee of such freight may be sued by the owner thereof in the county where the freight is delivered for any damage that may be done to such freight in its transportation.

Sec. 22. The terms "road," "railroad," "railroad companies," and "railroad corporations," as used herein, shall be taken to mean and embrace all corporations, companies, individuals, and associations of individuals, their lessees or receivers (appointed by any court whatsoever), that may now or hereafter own, operate, manage, or control any railroad or part of a railroad in this State, and all such corporations, companies, and associations of individuals, their lessees or receivers, as shall do the business of common carriers on any railroad in this State.

(a.) The provisions of this act shall be construed to apply to and affect only the transportation of passengers, freight, and cars between points within this State; and this act shall not apply to street railways nor suburban or belt lines of railways in or near cities and towns.

(b.) It shall be the duty of the Commission to see that upon every railroad and branch of same carrying passengers for hire in this State shall run at least one train a day (Sundays excepted), upon which passengers shall be hauled, and the Commission shall have no power to relax this provision.

Sec. 23. This act shall not have the effect to release or waive any right of action by the State or any person for any right, penalty, or forfeiture which may have arisen or may hereafter arise under any law of this State; and all penalties accruing under this act shall be cumulative of each other, and a suit for or recovery of one shall not be a bar to the recovery of any other penalty; and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 24. The fact that there is no adequate and sufficient law for the regulation of railroads in the transportation of freight and passenger traffic, and the near approach of the close of the present session, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency, necessitating the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two-thirds vote yeas 92, nays 5; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote yeas 26, nays 0.]

Approved April 3, 1891.

CHAP. 52.—[S. B. No. 371.] An Act to create a more efficient road system for the county of Collin, in the State of Texas, and making county commissioners ex-officio road commissioners and prescribing their duties as such, and providing for their compensation as Road Commissioners, and defining the powers and duties of the Commissioners Court of said county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That each member of the commissioners court of Collin county shall be ex-officio road commissioner of their respective districts and under the direction of the commissioners court, shall have charge of all the teams, tools and machinery belonging to the county, and placed in their hands by said court: and it shall be their duty, under such rules and regulations as the commissioners court may prescribe, to superintend the laying out of new roads, the making or changing of roads, and the building of bridges. Each of said Commissioners shall, before entering upon the duties of their office, execute a bond of one thousand dollars with two or more good and sufficient sureties, payable to the County Judge of said county for the use and benefit of the road and bridge fund, conditioned that they will perform all the duties required of them by law or by the commissioners court, and that they will account for all money or property belonging to the county that may come into their possession.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of said county shall have full power and authority, and it shall be their duty to adopt such system for working, laying out, draining and repairing the public roads in said county as they may deem best, and from time to time said court may change its plans or system of working. Said commissioners court shall have power to purchase such teams, tools and machinery as may be necessary for the working of its roads. Said court shall have the power to construct, grade, gravel, or otherwise improve any road or bridge by contract; in such case, said court or the County Judge may advertise in such manner as said court may determine for bids to do such work, and the contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall enter into bond, payable to the County Judge of said county, for the use of the road and bridge fund, with good and sufficient sureties to be approved by said court, and in such sum as said court may determine, for the faithful compliance with the terms of said contract; but said court shall have the right to reject any and all bids. At the time of making any such contract, the court shall direct the county Treasurer to pass the amount to a particular fund for that purpose, and the Treasurer shall keep a separate account of such fund and the same shall not be used for any other purpose, and can only be paid out on the order of said court, and the said court shall have authority to employ any hands or teams to work on the roads under such regulations and for such price as they may deem best.

Sec. 3. The commissioners court of said county shall require all county convicts not otherwise employed to labor upon the public roads under such regulations as it may prescribe, and each convict so worked shall receive a credit of fifty cents on his fine first, and then on the cost, for each day he may labor. The commissioners court may at a regular term allow to the officers and witnesses such amount of their cost for the arrest and conviction of said convicts as it may deem best; provided that it shall not allow to any officer an amount greater than the following: County Judge, $3.00; County Attorney, $5.00, including commissions; County Clerks and Justices of the Peace, $1.70; Sheriffs or Constables, $2.00; which amount shall be paid to the officers out of the road and bridge fund, on the warrant of the County Judge, when said fine and costs shall have been worked out as provided in this section; provided, that this shall not be so construed as to relieve any convict from the payment of all costs for which he would be liable under the general laws of this state. The commissioners court may grant a reasonable commutation of time for which a convict is committed as a reward for faithful services and good behavior. Provided, that such commutation shall in no case exceed one-tenth of the whole time. The commissioners court may provide the necessary houses, prisons, clothing, bedding, food, medicine, medical attention and guards for the safe and humane keeping of the convicts.

Sec. 4. Each county commissioner shall have control of all road overseers in his district and shall deliver to each of them all teams, tools and machinery necessary in working the roads in the district of said overseer, so far as he has been supplied therewith by the commissioners court, taking the receipt of said road overseer therefor, specifying each item and giving its value, which receipt shall be a full answer of the liability of the Commissioner and shall fix the liability of the overseer, and any commissioner or overseer who shall have been entrusted with any teams, tools or machinery, belonging to said county, shall be liable for any damages that may occur to the same while in his possession. It shall be the duty of the road overseer when he has finished the work on his road to return to said Commissioner all teams, tools and machinery received from him and to take up the receipt given therefor.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the county Commissioner when acting as road Commissioner to inform himself of the condition of the public roads in his district, and shall determine what character of work shall be done upon said roads, and shall direct the manner of grading, draining or otherwise improving the same, which directions shall be observed and obeyed by all road overseers of his district.

Sec. 6. The commissioner may require each road overseer in his district to call out the hands in such numbers as may be sufficient to perform the work, but no road hand shall be required to work exceeding five days in any one year, unless the term of service as prescribed by the general laws shall be extended beyond that time, and provided that all the road hands in a particular district shall, as far as practicable, be worked a uniform time. Each road overseer shall have full control of all road hands within his road district, and he shall see that each hand, when called out, shall perform a good days work, and if any hand when so called out shall fail or refuse to perform a good days work or to work in the manner the overseer may direct, he shall be liable to the same penalty as if he had failed to appear in obedience to the summons. The commissioners court may allow to any overseer who shall be engaged in the discharge of the duties of his office for more than five days during any one year, a compensation not to exceed one dollar and one-half per day for the time so served.

Sec. 7. Any citizen of Collin county liable for road duty who shall on or before the first day of January of any year pay to the county treasurer the sum of $3.00 shall be exempt from road duty for such year, beginning on the first day of January. The treasurer shall receive and receipt for all money so paid him and place the same to the credit of the road and bridge fund, and he shall keep a separate account for each road district, of all money so received by him, and the same shall be expended in the district from which it was received. The treasurer shall, on the third day of January, or as soon thereafter as practicable, furnish to each county commissioner, a list of all persons in their respective districts that have paid said sum as provided in this section.

Sec. 8. Whenever it shall be necessary to occupy any lands for the purpose of opening, widening, straightening or draining any road or part thereof, if the owner of such land and the county commissioners court can not agree upon the damage to be paid, the county may proceed to condemn the same in the same manner that a railroad company can condemn land for right of way and the same proceedings may be had and the same rights shall exist to each party as would exist if the proceedings were by a railroad company, except that the county shall in no case be required to give bond.

Sec. 9. Each county commissioner when acting as road commissioner and performing the duties imposed upon him by law or by the commissioners court shall be entitled to two dollars per day for the services actually performed; provided that he shall not receive more than forty-five dollars ($45.00) per quarter when the road and bridge tax has not been levied as provided by law under the amendment of 1889, as adopted in 1890 to the Constitution of the State of Texas. And when said tax shall have been levied, he may receive an amount not to exceed ninety ($90.00) dollars per quarter, which amount shall be paid out of the road and bridge fund when the account shall have been approved by the commissioners court, and the court shall not approve said accounts unless the commissioner presenting it shall first sign an oath that the account is just, due and unpaid, and specifying the number of days work actually performed by him, and that it was necessary to be done, and no commissioner shall be entitled to pay as road commissioner while he is performing the duties of county commissioner.

Sec. 10. This act shall be taken notice of by all courts in the same manner as the general law of the State, and it shall be construed to be cumulative of all general laws of the State on the subject of roads and bridges where not in conflict therewith, but in case of a conflict this act shall control as to the said county of Collin.

Sec. 11. The fact that there is now no sufficient road law in force in this State, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity, that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 4, 1891.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.

Sec. 1. Pleas of guilty in misdemeanors; special session authorized. when; minutes.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 53.—[S. H. B. No. 77.] An Act to facilitate the disposition of certain criminal cases in county courts.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That when any person, charged with a misdemeanor in the county court, shall desire to make speedy disposition of his case upon a plea of guilty, without the intervention of a jury, the county Judge shall be authorized and permitted to hold a special session of the court to dispose of such cause; and in such case, the court being in session, the county Judge may hear and determine such plea of guilty, and assess the punishment in like manner as if the defendant had been convicted at a regular term, and the same shall be duly entered of record in the minutes of the court, and the same proceedings shall be had to enforce the judgment as in other cases in the county court.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature and the fact that there are many prisoners now confined in the jails awaiting an opportunity to plead guilty, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, be suspended and that this act take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

10. Manner of condemning land.
11. This act to be cumulative of general laws; term "road," "work and working" defined.
12. Commissioners court may exercise all authority herein granted, or may employ road commissioner.
13. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 54.—[H. B. No. 526.] An Act to be entitled an act to create a more efficient road system for the counties of Grayson, Dallas, Galveston, Brown, Comanche, Mills, Fannin, Travis, Hunt, Hill, Kaufman and Fayette in the State of Texas, authorizing the employment of a road commissioner, defining his duties, prescribing penalties for his failure to perform his duties, and further defining the powers and duties of the Commissioners courts of the said counties under this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioners courts of Grayson, Dallas, Galveston, Brown, Comanche, Mills, Fannin, Travis, Hunt, Hill, Kaufman and Fayette counties, if they deem it advisable so to do, may each employ one road commissioner for the county, who shall be a resident citizen of said county, and shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by said commissioners court, not to exceed one hundred dollars per month, to be paid out of the road and bridge fund of said county. Said road commissioner shall be subject to removal at any time by the said commissioners court. He shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, enter into a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, in the sum of $2000, payable to the County Judge of the county and his successor in office, conditioned that such road Commissioner will faithfully discharge the duties of his employment as such commissioner, which bond shall be approved by the County Judge and acknowledged by the said Commissioner and the sureties as required for the acknowledgment of deeds, and recorded as required for the bonds of county officers.

Sec. 2. Subject to the orders and control of the Commissioners court, the road Commissioner shall have charge and control of all such teams, wagons, tools and machinery as the Commissioners court shall place in his custody for use on the public roads of said county and shall execute and deliver to the County Clerk of said county his receipt therefor, specifying each item and its value, which shall be filed by the Clerk of the County court in his office, and a certified copy thereof shall be admissible as evidence in any suit against said Commissioner and his sureties or either of them, on his bond for the said property or the value thereof, the same as the original would be. Said road Commissioner and his sureties shall be responsible on his bond for all such property thus turned over to him until he shall account therefor.

Sec. 3. The road Commissioner shall have control of all road overseers in the county and shall deliver to each all teams, tools, wagons and machinery necessary in working the roads in the district of such overseers, so far as he has been supplied therewith by the commissioners court, taking the receipt of said road overseer therefor, specifying each item and giving its value, which receipt shall be a full answer to the liability of the road commissioner for all such teams, wagons, tools and machinery. It shall be the duty of the road overseer, when he has finished the work on his road, to return to said road Commissioner all teams, wagons, tools and machinery received from him and to take up the receipt given for the same.

Sec. 4. Each road Commissioner and overseer, shall, as to all teams, wagons, tools and machinery delivered to him by the Commissioners court or the road Commissioner, be deemed and held to be the bailee of the county, and shall be responsible to the county for the value thereof until accounted for by him. It shall be sufficient to exempt the road Commissioner or any road overseer from liability for any property received by him as herein provided to show that he has delivered the same to any person authorized by law or by the orders of the Commissioners court of the county to receive the same, or that the same has died, been lost or destroyed without negligence or fault on his part.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the road Commissioner of the county, so far as practicable and as soon as possible, to inform himself of the condition of the public roads of his county, and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Commissioners court of said county, said road Commissioner shall determine what character of work shall be done upon the different roads of his county, and when and wherever needed, he shall establish the grade of such roads and direct the manner of draining the same, which directions shall be obeyed and observed by all road overseers unless changed by order of the Commissioners court.

Sec. 6. The road Commissioner may require each road overseer to call out the hands under his direction in such numbers as may be sufficient to use the teams, wagons, tools and machinery allotted to such road district and at such times as may be necessary, but no road hand shall be required to serve in any one year exceeding five days, unless the term of service as prescribed by the general law shall be extended beyond that term. Each road overseer shall have control of all hands within his road district and subject to road duty, and shall see that each such road hand shall perform his duty in working said roads, and that each hand when called out shall perform a fair day's work, and if any hand so called out shall refuse to work in a proper manner, or to do his part of any service assigned to him, such road overseer shall treat him as if he had failed to appear in obedience to the summons, and such hand shall be liable to the same penalties as if he had failed to appear in obedience to the summons. The Commissioners court may allow to any road overseer who shall be engaged in the discharge of the duties of his office for more than five days during any one year, a compensation not to exceed $1.50 per day for the time so served over and above five days, and in addition thereto said court may enter an order exempting such road overseer from road duty in said county for the next succeeding year, if his service in the opinion of the court has been of a kind to merit such exemption.

Sec. 7. The Commissioners court of said county shall have full power and authority to adopt such system for working, laying out and repairing the public roads in said county as to said court may seem best, and from time to time said court may change its plans or system of work in such manner as it may deem advisable. The said Commissioners court shall have the power to purchase such teams, wagons, tools and machinery as may be necessary for the working of its public roads and also all material that may be needed therefor, all of which shall be paid for out of the road and bridge fund of said county. The Commissioners court of the county may, in its discretion, work the county convicts of said county upon the public roads, but it shall not pay any costs that may be adjudged against said convicts. As a reward for faithful services and good behavior while engaged at any work upon the public roads, the said Commissioners court shall have the authority to grant a reasonable commutation of time for which any convict would be compelled to work in order to pay his fine and costs, and such court shall make proper rules and regulations to govern and control in the granting of such commutation. The said commissioners court shall have authority to employ such labor as may be necessary to work the public roads of the county, to be paid for out of the road and bridge fund; such labor shall be under the control of the road Commissioner, if one shall be employed, or under such other person or persons as said court may direct and employ for that purpose.

Sec. 8. Every owner of a farm or other lands upon which a hedge of any description grows on or near the line of a public road shall be required to keep the same trimmed so that the height of the same shall not exceed five feet above the level of the ground, and any such owner who shall fail or neglect to so trim such hedge shall be notified in writing by the road overseer of that district to trim such hedge as herein required.

and in case such owner shall, after receiving such notice, fail or refuse to so trim said hedge within a reasonable time, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not to exceed $20 per week from and after the time that he received such notice, such fine to be paid into the county treasury and to be placed to the credit of the road and bridge fund of said county. If any owner of any farm shall fail or refuse after being notified as herein required to trim his hedge as required by this act, then the road overseer shall cause the same to be trimmed in accordance with the provisions of this act, to be paid for out of the road and bridge fund of the county.

Sec. 9. The Commissioners court of said county may make contracts for all supplies and materials to be used in feeding the hands and teams employed on the public roads and in the work of the same, and may make rules and regulations by which the same and all contracts shall be paid by the county, and all persons employed by said court shall be governed by such rules and regulations. The said court, may from time to time, make all necessary rules and regulations for the government of the road Commissioner and all persons employed by said county on the public roads, which rules and regulations shall be entered upon the minutes of the court and a certified copy delivered to each person to be governed thereby. Said court may require of the road Commissioner to make reports at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed by the said court, and any road Commissioner refusing to make such reports shall be removed and shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not to exceed $100.00.

Sec. 10. Whenever it shall be necessary to occupy any lands, for the purpose of opening, widening, straightening or draining any road, or any part thereof, if the owner of such land and the county cannot agree upon the damages to be paid, the county may proceed to condemn the same in the same manner that a railroad company can condemn lands for right of way, and the same proceedings shall be had and the same rights shall exist as to each party as would exist if the proceedings were by a railroad company, except that the county shall not be required in any case to give bond.

Sec. 11. This act shall be taken notice of by all courts in the same manner as a general law of the state, and it shall be construed to be cumulative of all general laws of the state on the subject of roads and bridges where not in conflict therewith: but in case of such conflict this act shall control as to the said counties of Grayson, Dallas, Galveston, Brown, Comanche, Mills, Fannin, Travis, Hunt, Hill, Kaufman and Fayette. The term "roads," includes the roadbed, ditches and drains, the bridges and culverts, and every part of such road. The term, "work and working" as used herein, shall include the opening and laying out of new roads, widening roads, constructing and building, repairing and draining of such roads, and everything that may be done in and about the maintenance of such road.

Sec. 12. The Commissioners court of each of the counties named in this act shall have the right to exercise all the authority and powers herein given, and neither of said counties shall be compelled to employ a road Commissioner, unless the Commissioners court of such county shall deem it advisable so to do; provided, that the Commissioners court of either of the aforesaid counties shall appoint a road Commissioner as herein provided for, then the county Commissioners of the county, making said appointment shall not be required to perform the duties required of them by article 4390a, of the revised civil statutes of the state.

Sec. 13. The fact that public travel is greatly impeded by reason of the bad condition of the roads in said counties, and that the Commissioners courts thereof have not the power to enforce the needful system of road work and supervision herein provided for, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 55.—[H. B. No. 561.] An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the County courts of Menard, Hemphill and Coke counties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the County Courts of Menard, Hemphill and Coke counties shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of a Probate court; shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators and guardians, transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors; idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, including the settlement and partition and distribution and settlement of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors as provided by law, and issue writs necessary to the enforcement of said jurisdiction, to punish contempt under such provisions as are or may be provided by general law governing County courts throughout the state, but the said county courts of Menard, Hemphill and Coke counties shall have no other civil or criminal jurisdiction whatever.

Sec. 2. The District courts of Menard, Hemphill and Coke counties shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil and criminal matters and causes over which, by the laws of this state, the County courts of said counties would have jurisdiction, except as provided in section one of this act; and all causes other than probate matters and such as are provided by section one of this act, be and the same are hereby transferred to the District Courts of Menard, Hemphill and Coke counties; and all writs and processes relating to any civil or criminal matters not included in the subject matters of jurisdiction prescribed in section one of this act, issued by or out of said courts of Menard, Hemphill and Coke counties be and the same are hereby made returnable to the next term of the District court of said counties.

Sec. 3. The County Clerks of Menard, Hemphill and Coke counties, be and they are hereby required within thirty days after the passage of this act, to make a fair and complete transcript of all entries upon their civil and criminal dockets, heretofore made in causes where by section two are required to be transferred to the District court of said counties, and delivered the same to the District Clerk of said counties, together with all the papers to such cause pertaining, and all such causes shall be immediately docketed by said District Clerk, and such civil causes so transferred shall stand on the docket of said courts as appearance cases for the next succeeding term, and all criminal cases shall be docketed and disposed of in the same manner as if the same had originally been triable in said District courts.

Sec. 4. This act shall not be construed to in any manner affect judgments heretofore rendered by said County courts of Menard, Hemphill and Coke counties, pertaining to matters and causes by which section two of this act are transferred to the District courts of said counties, but the County Clerks of said counties shall issue all executions and orders of sale as the judgments in such cases require, and such executions and orders of sale and proceedings thereunder shall be as valid and binding to all intents and purposes as though the change had not been made as by section two therein contemplated.

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach to the sitting of the District Courts in Menard, Hemphill and Coke counties and the short time required to make the transfer of the cases provided for in this act, creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency requiring the constitutional rule, requiring bills to be read on three several days, necessitates the suspension of that rule, therefore said rule is suspended and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAP. 56.—[H. B. No. 569.] An act to restore and confer upon the County Courts of Travis county, Carson county and Bandera county the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore belonging to said courts under the constitution and general laws of the state, and to conform the jurisdiction of the District courts of said counties to such change and to repeal all laws in conflict with this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the County courts of Travis county, Carson county and Bandera county shall hereafter have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil cases where the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars and shall not exceed five hundred dollars exclusive of interest, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the District court of said counties when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars and not exceed one thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. Said County courts shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases over which Justices' courts have original jurisdiction when the judgment of the court appealed from or the amount in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, and said County courts shall have power to hear and determine cases brought up from the Justices court by certiorari under the provisions of the title of the revised statutes relating thereto.

Sec. 3. The County Judge in said counties shall have authority, either in term time or in vacation, to grant writs of mandamus, injunction, sequestration, garnishment, attachment, certiorari, supersedeas and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said courts, and shall also have power to issue writs of habeas corpus in all cases in which the constitution has not exclusively conferred the power on the District courts or Judges thereof.

Sec. 4. Said County courts shall have jurisdiction in the forfeiture and judgment of all bonds and recognizances taken in criminal cases, of which criminal cases said courts have original or appellate jurisdiction.

Sec. 5. Said County courts shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and except cases in which the highest penalty of fine that may be imposed under the law may not exceed two hundred dollars, and shall have original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors except those involving official misconduct, and concurrent jurisdiction with that of Justices of the Peace in criminal cases, and appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases, of which Justices of the Peace and other inferior tribunals of said counties have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The District courts of said counties of Travis, Carson and Bandera shall no longer have jurisdiction of misdemeanors except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and shall no longer have jurisdiction of cases of which the County courts of said counties by the provisions of this act, have original or appellate jurisdiction; and it shall be the duty of the District Clerks of said counties, within thirty days after this act shall take effect, to make full and complete transcripts of all orders on the criminal and civil dockets in cases then pending before the District courts of said counties, of which cases by the provisions of this act original and appellate jurisdiction is given to the said County courts, and to deliver said transcripts together with the original papers and a certified bill of costs in each case, to the County Clerks of said counties, and said County Clerks shall take charge of said transcripts and papers, file the same, and enter said cases on their respective dockets for trial by said courts.

Sec. 7. The said County courts shall also have the power to hear and determine all motions against Sheriffs and other officers of the court for failure to pay over moneys collected under the process of said court, or other defalcation of duty in connection with such process, and shall have power to punish by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and by imprisonment not exceeding three days, any person guilty of contempt of said court, and all other powers and jurisdiction conferred on County courts by the constitution and general laws of this state.

Sec. 8. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. The near approach of the close of the session and the importance of transferring without delay the jurisdiction of the County courts, creates an emergency and imperative necessity that the law requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 57.—[S. H. B. No. 39.] An act to amend Chapter 1, title 62, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, relating to limitation of actions for land, by adding thereto articles 3195a and 3195b.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That chapter 1, title 62, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto articles 3195a and 3195b, which shall read as follows:

Article 3195a. A tract of land owned by one person, entirely surrounded by a tract or tracts owned, claimed or fenced by another, shall not be considered enclosed by a fence enclosing the circumscribing tract or tracts, or any part thereof; nor shall the possession by the owner or claimant of such circumscribing land, of such interior tract be the peaceable and adverse possession contemplated by article 3194, unless the same be segregated and separated from the circumscribing land by a fence, or unless at least one tenth thereof be cultivated and used for agricultural purposes, or used for manufacturing purposes.

Article 3195b. Possession of land belonging to another by a person owning or claiming five thousand acres or more of lands enclosed by a fence in connection therewith, or adjoining thereto, shall not be the peaceable and adverse possession contemplated by article 3194, unless said land so belonging to another shall be segregated and separated by a substantial fence from said lands connected therewith or thereto adjoining, or unless at least one tenth thereof shall be cultivated and used for agricultural purposes, or used for manufacturing purposes, or unless there be actual possession thereon.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of this session creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists requiring that the constitutional rule which requires bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 58.—[H. B. No. 522.] An Act to place certain counties, now under the community school system, under the district school system.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the following named counties are hereby transferred from the community school system to the district school system, and are hereby authorized and empowered to organize and conduct all of their public free schools under the district system as provided by the laws now in force, to-wit: The counties of Hays, Reeves, Henderson, Bowie, Falls, Fannin and Lampasas.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of this session of the Legislature, and the fact that a new scholastic year is approaching, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted, and this act shall take effect from its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 73 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 24 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval the 27th day of March, A.  - (1.) Creates Commission of Appeals; appointment, qualification and salaries of Judges; vacancies, how filled; sessions of commission.
 - (5.) Reference of cases to Commission of Appeals; notice to counsel.
 - (6.) Opinion of Commissioners of

Sec.

- Appeals to be submitted to supreme court.
- (7.) Opinions to be published when adopted by the supreme court.
- (9.) Shall hold sessions at same time and place as supreme court; duties of clerk.
- (14.) This act becomes inoperative, when.
- (15.) Emergency clause.

CHAP. 59.—[S. B. No. 183.] An Act to amend sections 1, 5 and 15 of chapter 55 of the acts of 1889, in reference to the Commission of Appeals, and sections 6, 9, 13 and 14 of chapter 95, entitled an act to create a Commission of Arbitration and Award, and define the powers and duties thereof, and to make an appropriation to pay the salaries of the Judges thereof.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That sections 1, 5 and 15, of chapter 55, of the acts of 1889, entitled, "An act to amend sections 1, 5 and 15, of an act entitled an act to create a Commission of Arbitration and Award, and define the power and duties thereof, and to make an appropriation to pay the salaries of the Judges thereof," approved March 26, 1889; and sections 6, 9, 13 and 14, of chapter 95, entitled, "An act to create a Commission of Arbitration and Award and define the powers and duties thereof, and to make an appropriation to pay the salaries of the Judges thereof," approved March 30, 1887, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 1. That a Commission of Arbitration and Award be, and the same is hereby created, to be styled, "The Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas." Said Commission shall be composed of six persons who shall be learned in the law and possess the same qualifications and receive the same salaries as Judges of the Supreme Court, who shall be appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate, if in session, and who shall hold their offices for two years, except as herein otherwise provided. The first appointment made under this act shall be made to take effect on the first day of April, 1891, and the Judges so appointed shall hold their offices for two years, and thereafter appointments made under this act shall be made biennially. In case of a vacancy on said Commission by death, resignation or otherwise of any member thereof during the vacation of the Legislature it shall be the duty of Governor to fill the same by appointment; and the person so appointed shall continue in office until the next regular session of the Legislature after the appointment. And said Commission of Appeals shall sit in two sections of three Judges each during the term and at the place where the Supreme Court may be sitting.

Sec. 5. The Supreme Court is hereby authorized and empowered to refer to said Commission of Appeals any case or cases now or hereafter pending before said Court, for examination and report thereon. And it shall be the duty of said Supreme Court, in order to relieve the docket of said Court of the great number of cases encumbering the same, from time to time, to refer to said Commission of Appeals, so many of said cases now or hereafter pending in said Court as may be reasonably considered and acted upon by the same at the several sessions thereof. Provided, That when any case is referred by the Supreme Court to said Commission of Appeals, the counsel for both parties, or the parties themselves shall be entitled to notice, and shall have the right to be heard upon the same, although said cause may have been argued before the Supreme Court; which notice shall be given by registered letter sent by mail addressed to the parties or their attorneys of record; and six days after the mailing thereof said cause shall be ready for submission, and no other costs shall be incurred for serving said notice on said parties save the postage thereon. And said Commission of Appeals shall make rules regulating the hearing of causes submitted or referred to the same.

Sec. 6. When said Commission of Appeals have considered and determined upon the proper disposition of any case referred to the same according to section 5 of this act, their opinion, which shall contain a brief synopsis of the case, shall be submitted to the Supreme Court and the record shall be returned therewith.

Sec. 7. The opinions of said Commissioners of Appeals in cases referred to it by the Supreme Court, when adopted by said Court shall be published as the opinions thereof as in other cases.

Sec. 9. Said Commission shall hold its sessions at the same times and places as the Supreme Court, and the duties of Clerk of said Commission shall be performed by the Clerks of the Supreme Court at the different branches thereof, unless said commission shall appoint its own Clerk, and no extra fees will be allowed said Clerks, except for such additional service as may be required of them by said Commission.

Sec. 14. This act shall become inoperative and the term of said Commission appointed hereunder shall cease, whenever by the adoption of an amendment to the judiciary article of the constitution, or by legislation under such newly adopted amendment the number of Judges of the Supreme Court may be increased.

Sec. 15. Whereas, the docket of the Supreme Court is still in a crowded condition, and the Supreme Court is unable to transact the business before it, which is increasing, and it is impossible to hope for a speedy determination of cases in the ordinary course of justice, it creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 23 yeas and no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 78 yeas and 9 nays.]

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 60.—[S. H. B. No. 112.] An Act to amend article 541a of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, and to validate incorporations of Towns and Villages heretofore made under certain conditions.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 541a of chapter 11, title 17, of the revised civil statutes of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 541a. Towns and villages authorized to incorporate under this chapter, or having 200 inhabitants or over, not desiring to incorporate for municipal purposes, may incorporate for free school purposes only; provided, that the territory incorporated shall not exceed four miles square, and when so desiring an election may be held under the provisions of this title and chapter, and if at said election a majority of the votes cast be in favor of the corporation, it shall be the duty of the County Judge to make return thereof and cause a record of the result of such election to be made, the same as is provided by article 512 and 513 of this chapter, upon which entry being made such town or village shall be regarded as duly incorporated for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a free school therein, and shall upon notice to the State board of education by the board of trustees hereinafter provided for, receive such pro rata share of the available school fund as its scholastic population may entitle it to; and it is further enacted that all towns and villages heretofore incorporated under the provisions of said article as it heretofore existed, but which incorporation is invalid by reason of having incorporated more territory than a radius of two miles from the center of said town or village.

Sec. 2. There being many towns and villages in the State that desire to incorporate for free school purposes, and it being important that such incorporation should be duly organized and ready for taking charge of the schools before next scholastic year, and whereas, great confusion, difficulty and loss may occur from any delay in the final passage of this act, thereby creating an emergency and imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, therefore said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 96 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate—vote not given.]

Article 1007. Counties returnable on appeal and error to Galveston; cases to be transferred.

Sec.

- Article 1008. Counties so returnable to Austin.
2. Repealing clause.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 61.—[S. H. B. No. 216.] An Act to amend article 1007 of an act passed by the nineteenth Legislature and approved March 26, 1885, entitled "An Act to amend articles 1006, 1007 and 1008 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, approved February 21, 1879, passed by the eighteenth Legislature and approved April 9, 1883," and to amend article 1008 of an act passed by the twenty-first Legislature and approved February 21, 1889, entitled "An Act to amend articles 1006 and 1008 of an act passed by the twentieth Legislature, approved March 25, 1887, entitled an act to amend articles 1006 and 1008 of an act passed by the nineteenth Legislature, approved March 26, 1885, entitled an act to amend articles 1006, 1007 and 1008 of an act entitled an act to amend articles 1006, 1007 and 1008 of Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, approved February 21, 1879, passed by the eighteenth Legislature and approved April 9, 1883."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That articles 1007 and 1008 of the above recited acts sought hereby to be amended be and the same are hereby amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 1007. Appeals and writs of error from the counties of Aransas, Angelina, Austin, Bee, Brazoria, Brown, Burleson, Brazos, Calhoun, Cameron, Chambers, Colorado, DeWitt, Dallas, Duval, Encinal, Fayette, Fort Bend, Val Verde, Freestone, Galveston, Goliad, Gonzales, Grimes, Harris, Hardin, Hidalgo, Houston, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Lavaca, Leon, Liberty, Madison, Matagorda, Montgomery, Newton, Nueces, Orange, Polk, Refugio, San Jacinto, San Patricio, Starr, Trinity, Tyler, Tarrant, Johnson, Victoria, Walker, Waller, Washington, Webb, Wharton and Zapata, shall be returnable to the term of said courts at Galveston, provided that all cases from the county of Dallas, pending in the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals at Austin and undetermined at the adjournment of the term of said courts commencing on the first Monday in April, 1891, shall be transferred to Galveston, and shall be entered upon the dockets of said courts at Galveston and shall be tried and determined in the same manner as if said cases had been made originally returnable to the term of said courts held at Galveston.

Article 1008. Appeals and writs of error from the counties of Andrews, Archer, Armstrong, Atascosa, Bailey, Bandera, Bastrop, Baylor, Bell, Bexar, Blanco, Borden, Bosque, Briscoe, Burnett, Caldwell, Callahan, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Comal, Comanche, Concho, Cooke, Coryell, Cottle, Crockett, Cochran, Clay, Coleman, Collins, Crosby, Dallam, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Denton, Dickens, Dimmitt, Donley, Eastland, Edwards, El Paso, Erath, Falls, Fannin, Fisher, Floyd, Frio, Gaines, Garza, Gillespie, Gray, Grayson, Greer, Guadalupe, Hale, Hall, Hamilton, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Haskell, Hays, Hemphill, Hill, Hockley, Hood, Howard, Hutchinson, Jack, Jones, Karnes, Kendall, Kent, Kerr, Kimble, King, Kinney, Knox, Lamar, Lamb, Lampasas, La Salle, Lee, Limestone, Lipscomb, Live Oak, Llano, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Mason, Maverick, McCulloch, McLennan, McMullin, Medina, Menard, Midland, Milam, Mitchell, Montague, Moore, Motley, Nolan, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Palo Pinto, Parker, Pecos, Potter, Presidio, Randall, Reeves, Roberts, Robertson, Runnels, San Saba, Scurry, Shackelford, Sherman, Somervell, Stephens, Stonewall, Swisher, Taylor, Terry, Throckmorton, Tom Green, Travis, Uvalde, Wheeler, Wichita, Wilbarger, Williamson, Wilson, Wise, Yoakum, Young and Zavalla, shall be returnable to the term of said courts held at Austin.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the session and the great press of business rendering it improbable that this bill will be reached in both houses in its regular order, and the importance of a more equal distribution of the work of the Supreme Court and of the Court of Appeals at the several places where their terms are held, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and such rule is hereby suspended.

Approved April 13, 1891.

ALIENS.

Sec.

Article 9. Reciprocal rights.

Article 10. Alien ownership of lands prohibited.

Article 10a. Does not apply to aliens who become citizens in six years after declaration of intention.

Article 10b. Aliens may hold lands by devise or descent six years; alien minors and persons of unsound mind.

Sec.

Article 10c. Aliens may purchase lands under deed of trust, when.

Article 10d. Lands held contrary to the provisions of this act shall escheat to the State.

Article 10e. Duties of Attorney General and district attorneys.

Article 10f. Escheat proceedings governed by provisions of title 36, R. S.; exception.

Article 10g. Repealing clause.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 62.—[S. H. B's. Nos. 42 and 137.] An Act to amend title three, articles 9 and 10 and to add articles 10a, 10b, 10c, 10d, 10e, 10f, 10g and 10h, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That title III and articles 9 and 10 be amended and by the addition of articles 10a, 10b, 10c, 10d, 10e, 10f, 10g and 10h, so as to hereafter read as follows.

Article 9. An alien shall have and enjoy in the State of Texas, such rights pertaining to personal property as are or shall be accorded to citizens of the United States by the laws of the nation to which such alien shall belong, or by the treaties of such nation with the United States.

Art. 10. No alien or a person who is not a citizen of the United States of America, shall acquire title to or own any interest in the lands within the State of Texas, and any deed or other conveyance purporting to convey such title or interest to any alien or unnaturalized foreigner or to any firm, company or corporation composed of such in whole or in part shall be void.

Art. 10a. This chapter shall not apply to any alien who shall, at the time of acquiring title to lands in Texas, have declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States of America, and who shall in obedience to such laws, become a citizen within six years from the time such intention was declared.

Art. 10b. All aliens who shall hereafter take lands by devise or descent, may hold the same for the space of six years and no longer. Provided, that any alien minor or person of unsound mind inheriting lands in Texas, may have six years after such minor reaches twenty-one years of age, or person of unsound mind shall have had a legal guardian.

Art. 10c. Any alien may, for a valuable consideration, take, hold, assign, foreclose, sell or buy under any mortgage or deed of trust, any lands within the State of Texas, in which he has an interest by virtue of having heretofore made a loan of money, subject to the provisions of this chapter in reference to alienating said lands within six years, as herein required.

Art. 10d. If any alien shall undertake to hold lands for a longer time, or in any way contrary to the provisions of this chapter, such lands shall escheat to and vest in the State of Texas in like manner as is provided for the escheat of estates of persons dying without any devise thereof and having no heirs.

Art. 10e. It shall be the duty of the Attorney General and District or County Attorney, when they shall be informed or have reason to believe that any lands in this state are being held contrary to the provisions of this chapter, to institute suit in behalf of the State of Texas in the District court of the county where such lands are situated, praying for a writ of possession for the same in behalf of the State.

Art. 10f. The escheat proceedings provided for in the next preceding article shall, in the matter scire facias, appearance and default, judgment, execution and sale be governed by the provisions of title 36 of the Revised Statutes of Texas, in so far as the same is applicable, except that the only question on the trial shall be whether or not the provisions of this act have been violated.

Art. 10g. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this title are hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session and the importance of a law prohibiting the alien ownership of lands in Texas, creates an emergency and imperative necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and it is so enacted.

Approved April 13, 1891.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—TWENTY-THIRD.

1. Amends Sec. 23 of act of April 9, 1883.

(23.) Counties composing Twenty-third district; terms of court.

Sec.

2. Repealing clause.

3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 63.—[H. B. No. 591.] An act to amend section 23 of "an act entitled an act to redistrict the state into judicial districts and fix the times for holding court therein and to provide for the election of Judges and District Attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Mondays in November, 1884," approved April 9, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 23 of the above entitled act be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 23. The twenty-third Judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Brazoria, Jackson, Fort Bend, Matagorda, Waller and Wharton and the District court shall be held therein as follows:

In the county of Waller, on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Fort Bend, on the third Monday after the first Monday in March and September and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Wharton, on the seventh Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Jackson, on the tenth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Matagorda, on the thirteenth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Brazoria, on the fifteenth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. That whereas the fact that another regular session of the Legislature will not be held for two years and the further fact that the present session is drawing to a close, and the fact that the farmers of Waller county are unnecessarily detained and hindered in their farm work by the law as it now stands, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 13, 1891.

ANIMALS—SALE OF.

- Sec. 1. False pedigree and false certificate of sale of animals prohibited; penalty.

CHAP. 65.—[H. B. No. 381.] An Act to amend Section 31, of an act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the State of Texas and to repeal so much of chapter 3, of title 78, of the Revised Civil Statutes as refer to public free schools outside of cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public schools, and all laws and parts of laws, in conflict with this act passed by the special session of the 18th Legislature which was presented to the Governor for his signature on the 6th day of February, 1884, and became a law without his approval.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 31 of an act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the State of Texas, and to repeal so much of chapter 3 of title 78 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as refer to public free schools outside of cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public free schools, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act passed by the special session of the 18th Legislature, which was presented to the Governor for his signature on the 6th day of February, 1884, and became a law without his approval be so amended as to read as follows:

Section 31. That whenever twenty or more qualified property holding tax paying voters of any district, or a majority of such voters in any district, wish for the purpose of taxing themselves, for the building of school houses, or supplementing the state school fund apportioned to said district, shall make application to the County Commissioners court duly signed by them, said Court shall enter up an order for an election to be held in said district, to determine whether such tax shall be levied or not; said application shall designate the amount of tax, asked to be levied, and the order of said court shall state:

1st. When said election shall be held.

2nd. At what point or points the polls shall be opened.

3rd. The amount of tax to be voted on; provided, that no election shall be held to determine the levy of a tax exceeding twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property.

The Commissioners court shall order the Sheriff to give notice of such election by posting three notices in the district for three weeks before the election, and the Sheriff shall obey such order. Not more than one such election shall be held in the same scholastic year.

Sec. 2. There being no law permitting elections to be held in many districts for levying a special school tax, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days should be suspended and it is so suspended and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

PLEADING.

Sec. 1. Amends article 1574, title 32, R. S.—Certain pleadings to be in writing under oath.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 66.—[H. B. No. 118.] An Act to amend article 1574, title 32, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 1574, title 32, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1574. An answer or other pleading setting up any of the following matters shall be in writing and signed by the party or his attorney and verified by affidavit:

1. That the suit is not commenced in the proper county or precinct.
2. That the Plaintiff has not legal capacity to sue.
3. That the Plaintiff is not entitled to recover in the capacity in which he sues.
4. That there is another suit pending in this state between the same parties for the same cause of action or counter claim.
5. That there is a defect of parties, plaintiff or defendant.
6. That the plaintiffs or defendants suing or sued as partners or receiver, are not the partners or receiver as alleged.
7. That the plaintiff or defendant suing or sued as a corporation is not a corporation as alleged.
8. That a written instrument purporting to be signed by him and relied on by the other party was not executed by him or by his authority.
9. That the endorsement or assignment of a written instrument pleaded by the adverse party was not executed by the party by whom it purports to have been executed, or by his authority.
10. That a written instrument pleaded by the adverse party is without consideration, or that the consideration of the same has failed, in whole or in part.

11. That an account pleaded by the adverse party, and duly verified by affidavit, as provided in Article 2266, is not just, and in such case the answer shall set forth the items and particulars which are unjust.

12. That the contract sued upon is usurious.

Sec. 2. The fact that the law in relation to pleadings of receivers is uncertain creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

3. Suit may be instituted in name of the State for benefit of all parties in interest.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 67.—[H. B. No. 563.] An act authorizing principals and sureties on different official bonds to be joined as defendants in one and the same suits on official bonds to be instituted in the name of the State alone.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That in any suit brought by the State of Texas or any county therein against any officer who has held such office for more than one term or who has given more than one official bond, the sureties on each and all such officer's official bonds may be joined as defendants in one and the same suit whenever it is alleged in the petition that it is difficult to determine when the default sued for occurred and which of the official bond therefor.

Sec. 2. That [in] any suit by the State of Texas upon the official bond of any state officer, any subordinate officer who has given bond payable either to the state or to such superior officer to cover the default sued for or any part thereof, together with the sureties on his official band, may be joined as defendants in one and the same suit with such superior officers and his bondsmen, whenever it is alleged in the petition that both of such officers are liable for the money sued for, to the end that all equities may be adjusted between them in one suit.

Sec. 3. Whenever any official bond is made payable to the State of Texas, or any officer thereof and a recovery thereon is authorized by or would inure to the benefit of parties other than the State, suit may be instituted on such bond in the name of the state alone for the benefit of all parties entitled to recover thereon.

Sec. 4. The fact that there is no law authorizing the suits herein provided for, and the fact that the enactment of such a law is of great importance, creates an imperative public necessity, that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

Sec.

3. Salary of revenue agent; traveling expenses; penalty for making false report.

4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 69.—[S. B. No. 304.] An Act to authorize the Governor to appoint a State Revenue Agent and to prescribe his powers and duties, and affixing penalties for violations of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Governor be and he is hereby authorized to appoint a suitable person as Revenue Agent for the State, for the purpose of securing a better enforcement of the revenue laws of the state. The Agent provided for herein shall be known as the State Revenue Agent. Said Revenue Agent shall be subject to the directions of the Governor, who may, whenever in his judgment the public service demands it, direct the said Revenue Agent to investigate books and accounts of the assessing and collecting officers of this state, and all officers and persons disbursing, receiving or having in their possession public funds, and to make such other investigations and perform such other duties in the interest of the public revenues as the Governor may direct. Whenever any such investigation is ordered by the Governor, the Revenue Agent shall report to him in writing the results of such investigations, and to point out the particulars, if any, wherein the revenue laws have been violated, their enforcement neglected, together with the names of the parties delinquent therein. Whereupon the Governor shall institute civil and criminal proceedings through the Attorney General in the name of the state against such delinquent parties who are reported by such agent to be delinquent. And it is further provided that said Revenue Agent shall have power at any time to examine and check up all and any disbursements or expenditures of money appropriated for any of the state institutions or for any other purpose or for improvements made by the state on state property or money received and disbursed by any board authorized by law to receive and disburse any state money.

Sec. 2. When said Revenue Agent acting under the direction of the Governor, calls on any person connected with the public service to inspect his accounts, records or books, said officers or official so called upon shall submit to said agent all books, records and accounts so called for without delay. And failure or refusal on the part of any officer or official to comply with the provisions of this section, shall be an offense, for which, on conviction thereof he shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, and may be imprisoned in the county jail not more than one year.

Sec. 3. Said Revenue Agent shall receive as compensation for his services not exceeding two thousand dollars per annum, together with his actual traveling expenses, which shall be paid on the approval of the same by the Governor; provided said Revenue Agent shall not be allowed travelling expenses for any service connected with the examination and investigation of the accounts of any institution in Travis county. If the Revenue Agent herein provided for shall wilfully make a false or fraudulent report of the financial condition of the books of any officer or official department or institution, handling, receiving or disbursing any state funds appropriated or unappropriated, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars and imprisoned in the county jail for any period not to exceed twelve months.

Sec. 4. The interest of the public to be protected by this act are of such importance as creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and this act take effect from its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 70.—[H. B. No. 634.] An Act to amend an act entitled an act to amend section 26, chapter 20 of the extra session of the Eighteenth Legislature approved February 6th, 1884, being an act to redistrict the State of Texas into judicial districts and to fix the times of holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts approved March 5, 1889, and to create the fifty-third judicial district, and to fix the time of holding courts therein and to provide for the appointment of a district judge for said fifty-third district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section one of said act, approved March 5, 1889, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 26. The twenty-sixth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Williamson and Travis, and the terms of the district court shall be held therein hereafter as follows:

In the county of Williamson on the first Mondays in January and July, in each year, and may continue in session six weeks.

In the county of Travis on the first Monday in March of each year and may continue in session until the last Saturday before the first Monday in May.

On the first Monday in May of each year, and may continue in session until the last Saturday in June.

On the first Monday in October in each year and may continue in session until the last Saturday before the 25th day of December; provided that a grand jury for Travis county shall not be drawn except for the May and October terms of said court, unless the district judge should deem it necessary to call a grand jury at other terms and should so order.

Sec. 2. The county of Travis shall constitute the fifty-third judicial district, and the district court shall be held therein as follows: On the first Mondays in January, April, September and November in each year and may continue in session until the business is disposed of; provided the April term shall not continue longer than the last Saturday in June, and the November term longer than the last Saturday before the 25th day of December.

Sec. 3. That the two said district courts aforesaid in Travis county shall have concurrent jurisdiction with each other throughout the limits of Travis county of all matters civil and criminal of which jurisdiction is given to the district court by the constitution and the laws of the State of Texas; provided that the district judge of the fifty-third judicial district shall not order drawn or selected a grand jury unless in his judgment he thinks it necessary.

Sec. 4. Immediately after this act takes effect the Governor shall appoint some suitable person as judge of the 53d judicial district, who shall hold said office until the next general election for state and county officers, and until the election and qualification of his successor in office.

Sec. 5. The clerk of the district court of Travis county as heretofore constituted, and his successors in office shall be the clerk of both of said district courts in Travis county, and shall perform all the duties pertaining to both of said courts, and the district attorney of the 26th judicial district shall also represent the state in all criminal cases in the 53d judicial district.

Sec. 6. That either of the judges of said district courts in Travis county, may in their discretion transfer any cause or causes civil or criminal, that may at any time be pending in his court, to the other district court in Travis county, by order or orders entered upon the minutes of his court, and where such transfer or transfers are made the clerk of the district court of Travis county shall enter such cause or causes upon the docket of the court to which such transfer or transfers are made, and when so entered upon the docket, the judge of said court shall try and dispose of said causes in the same manner as if such causes were originally instituted in said court.

Sec. 7. That no petit juries shall be drawn for the March, April, and November terms of said courts respectively in Travis county, unless the respective judges of said courts shall deem the same necessary.

Sec. 8. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed, provided that if this act goes into effect as soon as signed by the Governor, then the first term of the district court of the fifty-third district may begin on the first Monday in May, A. D. 1891, but thereafter the terms of said court shall begin and be held as hereinbefore stated.

Sec. 9. The crowded condition of the docket of the district court of Travis county and the necessity for two district courts in said county, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency that requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 71.—[H. B. No. 574.] An Act for the protection of certain birds and their eggs, and prescribing penalties for violation of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That if any person shall wilfully kill any seagull, tern, shearwater, egret, heron or pelican, or shall wilfully take from their nests or in any manner destroy any egg or eggs of any seagull, tern, shearwater, egret, heron or pelican, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five nor more than twenty-five dollars; provided, that the killing of any of the birds above enumerated or taking of their eggs with the intent to preserve the same for scientific purposes shall not be construed to be a violation of this act.

Sec. 2. The fact that many persons are engaged in killing the birds enumerated in section 1 for their plumage, and the near approach of the breeding season of said birds creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 72.—[S. B. No. 367.] An Act to amend chapter 2, title 11, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, relating to county attorneys, by adding thereto article 245a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That chapter 2, title 11, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto article 245a, as follows:

Article 245a. County attorneys shall have power, by consent of the commissioners court, to appoint in writing, one or more assistants, not to exceed three, for their respective counties, to continue in office during the pleasure of their principals, and who shall have the power and authority to perform all the acts and duties of their principals, and who shall have the qualifications prescribed by law for county attorneys; and every person so appointed shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office take and subscribe the oath of office prescribed by the constitution which shall be endorsed upon his appointment together with the certificate of the officer administering the same, and such appointments and oath shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk, and deposited in said office.

Sec. 2. Whereas, there is now no law in force in this State authorizing county attorneys to appoint assistants, and by reason thereof the State is frequently not represented in prosecutions of importance before the courts and grand juries. Therefore an imperative public necessity and emergency exists requiring that the constitutional rule which requires bills to be read on three several days be, and the same is hereby suspended, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the County court of McCulloch county shall hereafter have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars and shall not exceed five hundred dollars exclusive of interest, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the District Court of said county, when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars and not less than one thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. Said County court shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases over which the Justices Courts have original jurisdiction when the judgment of the court appealed from or the amount in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars; and said County court shall have power to hear and determine cases brought up from the Justices courts by certiorari under the provisions of the title of the Revised Civil Statutes relating thereto.

Sec. 3. The County Judge of said county shall have authority either in term time or vacation to grant writs of mandamus, injunction, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, certiorari and supersedeas, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said courts, and shall also have power to issue writs of habeas corpus in all cases in which the constitution has not conferred the power on the District court or Judge thereof.

Sec. 4. Said County court shall have jurisdiction in the forfeiture and judgment of all bonds and recognizances taken in criminal cases, of which criminal cases said courts have jurisdiction.

Sec. 5. Said County court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors, except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and except cases in which the highest penalty of fine that may be imposed under the law may not exceed two hundred dollars; and said Courts shall also have appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases of which Justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said county have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The District court of said county of McCulloch shall no longer have jurisdiction of cases of which the County court of said county by the provisions of this act has exclusive original or appellate jurisdiction; and it shall be the duty of the District Clerk of said county within thirty days after the passage of this act to make a full and complete transcript of all orders on his docket in cases now pending before said District Court, of which cases, by the terms of this act, exclusive jurisdiction is given the County court, and to deliver said transcript together with the original papers and a certified bill of costs in each case to the Clerk of the said County court herein named, and said County Clerk shall enter said cases on his docket for trial by said County court.

Sec. 7. The County court of said county shall hereafter hold its regular terms for civil and criminal business as provided in the constitution and general laws of the state; and all process heretofore issued from the District court of said county in cases to be transferred under this act to the County court shall be returnable to the first term of the County court, and all civil cases so transferred shall be entered as appearance cases upon the docket of said County court.

Sec. 8. All laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. The crowded condition of the docket of the District court creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Article 541. When any corporation is abolished as provided in the preceding article, or if any de facto corporation shall be declared void by any court of competent jurisdiction or if the same shall cease to operate and exercise the functions of such de facto corporation, all the property belonging thereto shall be turned over to the County Treasurer of the county, and the Commissioners court of the county shall provide for the sale and disposition of the same and for the settlement of the debts due by the corporation, and for this purpose shall have power to levy and collect a tax from the inhabitants of said town or village, in the same manner as the said corporation would be entitled to under the provisions of this chapter. Provided, that when any town or city shall reincorporate under chapters 1 or 11 of title 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes, upon a majority of the legal voters tax paying property holders of said town or city, all property, real and personal, of the old or de facto corporation shall be vested in the new one; and provided further, that the new corporation shall assume all the legal indebtedness, contracts and obligations of the old corporation; provided, where cities and towns have reincorporated under chapters 1 or 11 of title 17 of the Revised Civil Statutes, prior to the adoption of this act, upon a majority vote of the tax paying property owners of said city or town, all property, real or personal, of the old or de facto corporation shall be vested in the new one; and provided further that the new corporation shall assume all the legal indebtedness, contracts and obligations of the old corporation.

Sec. 2. In all cases where the Commissioners court shall be vested with authority conferred on them by this act, it shall be the duty of such court to appoint a suitable person to perform the duty of Tax Collector, whose duty it shall be to collect the taxes within the territory comprised in the dissolved corporation, until such legal indebtedness of such corporation has been paid off or until such city or town has been reincorporated, and shall fix his bond in sufficient penalties to protect any fund collected. Provided, that such appointee may be removed at any time for carelessness or insufficiency or other good cause.

Sec. 3. There being no provisions by which new corporations can be vested with the property and assume the indebtedness of the old corporation, an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity demands the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

He shall confer with and counsel teachers and trustees, visit and examine schools, deliver lectures on topics calculated to excite an interest in public education, or secure some one to do so. He shall organize and hold teachers institutes, and shall approve all vouchers against the school fund of his county. He shall examine all contracts between teachers and trustees in both district and community counties, and if in his judgment, such contracts are proper, he shall approve the same. He shall discharge such other duties as may be prescribed by the State Superintendent. He shall distribute all school blanks and books to the officers and teachers of the public schools. He shall make such annual reports to the State Superintendent as may be required by that officer; provided that in considering whether he will approve a contract between a teacher and trustees, he shall be authorized to consider the amount of salary promised the teacher.

Section 44. The fact that the near approach of the end of the session, renders it improbable that this bill can be considered in three several days And the fact that it is desired and proper that this bill should go into effect at once, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

- (45.) Compensation of county judge as ex officio superintendent, how and when payable.

Sec.

- (46.) Superintendent to apportion fund to the several school districts; accounts.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 81.—[S. B. No. 160.] An Act to amend section 45 and 46, chapter 132, of the acts of the regular session of the twentieth Legislature entitled an act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the State of Texas, and to repeal so much of chapter 3 of title 78 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as refer to public free schools outside of incorporated cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public free schools, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 45, chapter 132 of the acts of the regular session of the twentieth Legislature entitled an act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the State of Texas, and to repeal so much of chapter 3 of title 78 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas as refers to public free schools outside of incorporated cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public free schools, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 45. The County Judge who serves as ex-officio county Superintendent of public instruction, shall be entitled to the following compensation: For five hundred dollars or less of the school fund actually disbursed by the county Treasurer annually, twenty-five dollars shall be allowed such judge; for five-hundred dollars and not exceeding one thousand dollars so disbursed annually, fifty dollars shall be allowed, and for each additional thousand or fractional part thereof so disbursed annually, ten dollars shall be allowed such Judge, and ten per cent on the salary thus allowed shall be added for postage, stationary and printing expenses connected with the administration of the school law. Such compensation shall be paid to the County Judge by the County Treasurer out of the public school fund of the county upon the approval of his voucher by the Commissioners court on the second Monday in November of each year, provided such Judge or County Superintendent shall have made to the State Superintendent of public instruction all reports required of him by law, in respect to any matters appertaining to public free schools of his county. And the Commissioners court shall not approve nor shall the County Treasurer pay the voucher of any County Judge or County Superintendent for his compensation herein mentioned until such Judge or County Superintendent shall exhibit to said court and Treasurer an acknowledgement of the receipt by such State Superintendent of such reports which receipt shall show the amount of compensation due the County Judge or County Superintendent as herein provided, and it shall be unlawful for the Commissioners court to approve any voucher, or the County Treasurer to pay any voucher in excess of the amount certified by the said State Superintendent of public instruction as due said County Judge or County Superintendent.

Section 46. The County Superintendent or County Judge upon the receipt of the certificate issued by the board of education for the State fund belonging to his county shall apportion the same to the several school districts and communities (not including the independent school districts of the county) making a pro rata distribution as per the scholastic census, and shall at the same time apportion the income arising from the county school fund to all the school districts and communities including the independent school districts of the county, making a pro rata distribution as per scholastic census. It shall be the duty of the County Superintendent or County Judge upon receiving notice from the County Treasurer of the amount of school fund set apart for that month, to immediately apportion the same to all of the districts and communities of the county according to the scholastic census of each. It shall also be his duty to keep an account with each district, and he shall in no case approve any voucher drawn against the school fund of a district unless there be sufficient funds in the hands of the Treasurer to the credit of said district to pay the same.

Sec. 2. Whereas there are so many bills before the present Legislature, that the subject of legislation contemplated by this bill may not be enacted at this session of the Legislature, therefore an emergency exists requiring the constitutional rule for bills to be read on three several days be suspended and said rule is hereby suspended.

CHAP. 82.—[S. B. No. 194.] An Act to amend sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 51, 61, 62, 64, 65, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 82, 83, 84, of an act entitled "an act to provide for the organization of the State penitentiaries, and for the more efficient management of the same," approved March 17, 1881, also to repeal an act entitled, "an act to provide for the more efficient management of the Texas State Penitentiaries and to make an appropriation therefor," approved April 18, 1883, also to repeal an act entitled "an act to amend sections 1, 2 and 4 of an act entitled "an act to provide for the more efficient management of the Texas State Penitentiaries and to make an appropriation therefor," approved April 18, 1883, approved March 31, 1885.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 51, 61, 62, 64, 65, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 82, 83, 84 of an act entitled, "an act to provide for the organization of the State Penitentiaries and for the more efficient management of the same," approved March 17, 1881, be so amended to hereafter read as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Governor shall appoint by and with the advice and consent of the senate, a penitentiary board to consist of three Commissioners, citizens of this State, and good, practical business men, who shall hold their office for two years until the appointment and qualification of their successors, and in case of vacancy in the same to be filled by executive appointment for the unexpired term. Two members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and its proceedings shall be subject to the approval of the Governor, and shall be entered of record and kept in a well bound book. It may appoint a secretary to keep a record of its proceedings to receive such remuneration as the board may determine, provided the Legislature does not otherwise provide. The members of said board shall each receive six dollars per day and actual traveling expenses while in performance of official duties.

Section 2. The said board shall have the general management and control of the State penitentiaries and of all convicts sentenced to said penitentiaries whether within or without the walls thereof. It shall make or approve all contracts for the building of any new penitentiary, and for any additions, repairs and improvements necessary to be made in connection with the penitentiary or convict system of this state, on the terms prescribed by law, or in the absence thereof, on such terms as it may consider for the best interests of the state. It shall have power to purchase or cause to be purchased, with such funds as may be at its disposal, not otherwise appropriated, any lands, buildings, machinery and tools necessary for the use, preservation and operation of the penitentiaries to the end that the largest number of convicts that can be comfortably accommodated and made self supporting may be confined therein; and until adequate provisions be made by the Legislature for the confinement and employment of all convicts who may be profitably utilized within the walls; and said board may erect and operate for the state in each of the penitentiaries a factory for the manufacture of cotton goods, cotton and jute bagging. Provided that in the judgment of the penitentiary board it shall be deemed practicable and can be done without loss to the State; the said board may employ the excess of convicts at labor outside the walls, either under the contract system or state account system under such regulations, conditions and restrictions as it may deem best for the welfare of the state and the convicts; and said board shall, when it has means at its disposal which can be so used, from time to time purchase or lease and equip a farm or farms upon which convicts, suitable for farm labor who can not be made self supporting inside the walls, shall be worked on state account. The said board shall have power to contract with railroad corporations or other common carriers for transportation facilities for said Texas institutions and to exchange for such facilities labor of state convicts or the product of the manufactories of said institutions upon such terms, prices and rates as it may deem for the best interests of the state, and the Financial Agent of the penitentiaries shall honor and pay any draft or drafts drawn on him by said penitentiary board drawn for this purpose, when he has any surplus funds in his hands or at his disposal belonging to said penitentiaries. But no such farm or farms shall ever be purchased by said board except it be upon the advice, consent and direction of the Governor. And said board shall, as soon as practicable, place all state convicts either inside the walls of the penitentiaries or on farms and work the same on state account.

Section 3. The system of labor in the state penitentiaries shall be the state account system or contract system or partly one and partly the other, as shall in the discretion of the penitentiary board and the Governor be deemed for the best interests of the State; but no contract shall be let for any of such convict labor if equally remunerative employment can be furnished by the State and worked on state account. The said board shall not make nor approve any contract for the lease of the penitentiaries or either of them, nor shall any contract ever be made by which the control of the convicts except as to a reasonable amount of labor, shall pass from the state or its officers and the State shall never be deprived of the right to direct how, at any and all times and under all circumstances, its convicts shall be lodged, fed, clothed, quartered, worked and treated, and the management and discipline of convicts shall in all cases remain under control of the state, and officers employed and paid by the state.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of said penitentiary board to make suitable provision and regulations for the safe and speedy transportation of convicts from the counties where sentenced to the penitentiaries, or to the State reformatory, or state convict farm or farms as the case may be, either by contract with private parties for the transportation of such convicts or by transporting said convicts on state account by the state. And should said board contract to have said convicts transported by private parties, it shall cause said contractors to give a good and sufficient bond in such an amount as said board may deem proper, payable to the State of Texas and to be approved by said board and the Governor, conditioned upon the faithful performance of their duty under said contract, and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by said board or may now or hereafter be prescribed by law.

Section 5. The board shall have the power to condemn useless or worn out property of any description in or about the penitentiaries or belonging thereto, and cause the same to be destroyed or sold, and it also shall have the power to sell or exchange any land or other property belonging to the state for the use of the penitentiaries, or either of them when the State's interest will be benefited thereby; and any conveyance it shall make shall be binding and valid when approved by the Governor and Attorney General. The title to land purchased by said board shall be made to the Governor and his successors in office for the use of the penitentiaries, and the same shall be passed upon and approved by the Attorney General.

Section 6. The board shall cause to be made biennially, a full and complete inventory and valuation of all lands, buildings, machinery, tools, live stock and property of every description belonging to the penitentiaries and penitentiary system, which inventory and appraisement shall be made just previous to the date of the biennial report and a full synopsis thereof shall be contained in the biennial report of the Financial Agent.

Section 51. The convicts shall all be treated with humanity, but a distinction may be made in their treatment so as to extend to all such as are orderly, industrious and obedient, comforts and privileges according to their deserts. The rewards to be bestowed on convicts for good conduct shall consist of a relaxation of strict prison rules, and extension of social privileges as may not be inconsistent with proper discipline. Commutation of time for good conduct shall be granted by the Superintendent of the penitentiaries, and the following deductions shall be made from the term or terms of sentence when no charges of misconduct have been sustained against a convict, viz: Two days per month off the first year of sentence. Three days per month off the second year of sentence. Four days per month off the third year of sentence. Five days per month off the fourth year of sentence. Six days per month off the fifth year of sentence. Seven days per month off the sixth year of sentence. Eight days per month off the seventh year of sentence. Nine days per month off the eighth year of sentence. Ten days per month off the ninth year of sentence. Fifteen days per month off the tenth year and all succeeding years of sentence. A convict under two or more cumulative sentences shall be allowed commutation as if they were all one sentence. For each sustained charge of misconduct in any year of the term the commutation allowed for one month of such year may be forfeited, and for any sustained charge of escape or attempt to escape, mutinous conduct or other serious misconduct all the commutation which shall have accrued in favor of the convict up to that date shall be forfeited, unless in case of escape the convict voluntarily returns to prison without expense to the state, such forfeiture may be set aside. For extra meritorious conduct on the part of any convict he shall be recommended to the favorable consideration of the Governor for increased commutation or pardon. Life, or long term convicts, who, having actually served fifteen years without any sustained charge of misconduct, and who shall be favorably recommended to the Governor by the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent of penitentiaries, and the penitentiary board, may receive at the hands of the Governor a reasonable commutation of sentence, and if a life sentence is commuted to a term of years, then such convict shall have the benefit of the ordinary commutation as if originally sentenced for a term of years, except the Governor should otherwise direct.

Section 61. Salaries of Penitentiary Officers: The Superintendent of penitentiaries shall receive an annual salary of twenty-five hundred dollars ($2500) and actual traveling expenses when on official duty.

Section 62. The Assistant Superintendent shall receive an annual salary of seventeen hundred dollars and actual traveling expenses when on official business.

Section 64. The Physicians of the penitentiaries shall receive an annual salary of one thousand dollars.

Section 65. The Chaplain shall receive an annual salary of six hundred dollars.

Section 68. The Governor shall appoint, with the advice and consent of the senate, a Financial Agent of the penitentiaries, who shall hold his office for two years and until the appointment and qualification of his successor, and in case of a vacancy in said office the same shall be filled by executive appointment for the unexpired term.

Section 69. Before entering upon the discharge of his official duties, the Financial Agent shall give bond in the sum of seventy five thousand dollars with two or more good and sufficient sureties, payable to the Governor and his successors in office, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties of his office, the same to be approved by the penitentiary board and the Governor, and filed in the office of the Secretary of State. The said Financial Agent shall receive for his services the sum of three thousand dollars per annum and actual necessary traveling expenses in the discharge of his official duties. He shall keep his office at such place as may be directed by the penitentiary board.

Section 70. The Financial Agent shall be the purchasing, selling and disbursing agent of the penitentiaries. He shall receive all moneys, the proceeds of convict labor from sales of manufactured goods, crops or other property belonging to the penitentiaries. And in such capacity shall, with the approval of the penitentiary board, have the power and authority to buy and sell for account of the penitentiaries for cash or upon a credit, as his judgment may approve and as may be to the best interests of said penitentiaries. He shall from time to time receive all moneys appropriated for the use of penitentiaries or either of them, and on his requisition, approved by the penitentiary board, the Comptroller of Public Accounts is authorized to draw his warrant in favor of the said Financial Agent on the State Treasurer for the same. Provided the said Financial Agent shall at no time retain in his possession nor on deposit outside of the State Treasury any sum of money greater than one half of his official bond.

Section 71. He shall furnish monthly, an itemized statement of all the receipts from whatever source, and of all disbursements on account of the penitentiary management, accompanied by abstracts, cash statements, invoices, receipted vouchers, and such other data as may be required and necessary to make a full clear and correct showing of penitentiary finances at the end of each month for which made, which said statement, after being examined and approved by the Superintendent of penitentiaries, and then by the penitentiary board, shall be filed together with the abstracts, invoices and receipted vouchers, with the Comptroller of Public Accounts, for his examination, approval and entry.

Section 72. He shall keep correct and accurate accounts with all parties hiring convict labor either inside or outside of the walls of the penitentiary, and shall collect and receipt for all sums of money due on account of sales of goods manufactured, hire of convict labor or for work performed by convicts either inside or outside of the walls of the penitentiaries.

Section 73. He shall purchase and pay for all such material as may be necessary for building or manufacturing purposes, and all supplies of provisions, clothing, bedding, shoes, medicines, and all other articles required by the rules and regulations of the penitentiaries, for the use of the prison officials, employes, sergeants, guards, and convicts, and when not otherwise provided by law, he shall pay the monthly salaries of all the penitentiary officers, employes, sergeants, and guards and shall pay all accounts for services rendered and purchases made for the use of said penitentiaries or either of them.

Section 74. He shall keep an account of each and every article sold, with price for which same was sold: also an account specifying the amounts of money received by him and from whom, and on what account together with an account of his disbursements of the same; all of which shall be by him entered in well bound books, which he shall keep subject to the inspection of the penitentiary board or the Superintendent of penitentiaries or either of them, or any citizen of this state.

Section 75. He shall take such measures as are necessary to keep a debit and credit account with each separate industry carried on at each penitentiary, debiting each industry with salary of foreman, with labor and material used, and crediting it with the work turned out. An account shall also be kept for every department of the prisons, whether productive or non-productive, showing the cost of labor and supplies; also an account showing labor and material used for all improvements and repairs about the penitentiaries or to the penitentiary property.

And in order to keep these accounts a valuation shall be fixed upon the labor of the convicts employed in every capacity. and such accounts shall be made up from weekly statements to be furnished by the Assistant Superintendents and foremen. A strict account shall also be kept with each separate convict force on the outside, showing receipts and debiting each force with cost of supplies of each description, cost of guarding, feeding, clothing, medical attention, transportation to and from, etc.

Section 76. He shall have charge and custody of all property, supplies, provisions, medicines, clothing, bedding, shoes, etc., purchased or manufactured for use of the penitentiaries, and shall issue the same to the prisons proper on requisitions approved by the Assistant Superintendent, and to the outside camps on the requisitions of the sergeants in charge, approved by the Superintendent of penitentiaries.

Section 77. He shall in the purchase of all provisions and other supplies for the prison proper or the outside camps. consult with the Superintendent of penitentiaries, and endeavor to bring all the competition possible to bear so as to make his purchases at the very lowest cash prices.

Section 78. He shall, in conjunction with the Superintendent of penitentiaries, under such regulations as the penitentiary board may prescribe, make all contracts for the hire of convict labor either outside or inside the walls of the penitentiaries, or on share farms, should convicts be worked under the contract system. (But all convicts shall be placed within the walls of the penitentiaries, or on state farms and worked on state account as soon and speedily as possible.) Also for work to be done with convict labor. He shall be allowed such clerical help as the penitentiary board, shall from time to time deem necessary to enable him to properly discharge the duties incumbent upon him.

Section 79. He shall biennially, on the first day of November, furnish the penitentiary board with an abstract of his receipts, disbursements, sales, and purchases for the preceding two years, together with such other information relating to the financial transactions of the penitentiaries as the penitentiary board shall require at his hands, which shall be made a part of the biennial penitentiary report.

Section 80. Suits for the recovery of moneys due on account of sales or otherwise, belonging to the Texas State penitentiaries or either of them, or for property of any description belonging to said penitentiaries or either of them, shall be brought in the name of the Financial Agent of the Texas State Penitentiaries for the use of the Texas State penitentiaries or either of them, as the case may be.

Section 82. The Superintendent of penitentiaries shall give bond in the sum of twenty five thousand dollars with two or more good and sufficient sureties, payable to the Governor and his successors in office, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office, the same to be approved by the penitentiary board and the Governor and filed in the office of the Secretary of State. The penitentiary board shall require the Assistant Superintendents and sergeants to give bond payable to the Superintendent of penitentiaries, conditioned upon the faithful performance of their duty, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, in such amount and with such conditions as it may deem proper. Said bond to be approved by said board and filed with the Superintendent of penitentiaries.

Section 83. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same is hereby repealed.

Section 84. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature and the great public importance of this bill becoming a law, and the great advantage to be gained by the State in the management of the State penitentiaries under this act, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same March 4, 1891, and passed the House April 13, 1891—vote not given in either house.]

CHAP. 86.—[S. B. No. 300.] An act to provide for the incorporation of Railway Companies for the purpose of acquiring, owning, maintaining and operating any line or lines of railway within this State, authorized by law to be sold and to empower such companies when so organized to purchase and extend.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whenever any line or lines of railway or railway properties within this State are by special law authorized to be sold and conveyed, the persons contemplating or engaging for the purchase thereof, may be formed into a corporation for the purpose of acquiring, owning, maintaining and operating such line or lines of railway by complying, as far as is applicable with the requirements of chapter one (1) of title eighty four (84) of the Revised Statutes of this State. In the formation of such corporation, the requirements of Art. 4100 and so much of Art. 4103 of the Revised Statutes as relates to the affidavit therein provided for may be dispensed with, and words applicable to the case of a purchase may be used and substituted when necessary or proper in the articles of incorporation or elsewhere for or in lieu of words applicable to the building or construction of a railway. And when such corporation has been formed, it shall have the power to purchase, acquire, own, maintain and operate such line or lines of railway, and properties pertaining thereto and all other rights, powers, and privileges given by the laws of this State to Railway Companies, including the right to complete and extend such line or lines of railway and to construct branch lines thereto, and any proposed extension or branch lines may be provided for and included in the original articles of incorporation, or the same may, by amendment thereto at any time thereafter, be projected and provided for by such Company.

Sec. 2. Every railroad company organized under the preceding section of this act, shall take the property so purchased subject to all incumbrances, judgments, claims, suits, claims for damages and for right of way against the old company and subject to all debts and claims for damages, accruing against any receiver which may have been appointed for the old company, to the same extent that such property would have been liable in the hands of the railroad company from which it was purchased, and such new company may be made a party to every suit pending against the company from which it purchased, or which may be pending against any receiver of such company, to enforce any right against such new company, and the new company may be sued to enforce any such rights, without joining the old company or the receiver, and in case any judgment has been rendered against the company from which the purchase is made or against a receiver for such last named company and for which the property is liable, execution may be issued on such judgment against such property in the possession of the new company without any suit therefor. When any corporation shall be formed under the provisions of the first section of this act, service of process may be had upon any agent of such corporation in the county where suit may be pending. Such service shall bind each and every railroad operated or owned under such charter in the same manner as if it were one railroad.

Sec. 3. Whereas, there is doubt whether under existing laws a railway corporation may be formed for the purposes specified in and as provided for by this act, and there is a present public need for such provision of law creating an imperative public necessity and emergency, justifying a suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is therefore so suspended, and that this act take effect and go into force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

LAND BOARD—VALIDATING ACTS OF.

Preamble.

- Sec. 1. Failure of land board to comply with act of April 12, 1883, does not render invalid the right of the purchaser under contract with the land board; does not apply to any right, etc., acquired prior to this act.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 87.—[H. B. No. 236.] An act to make valid and confirm contracts of sale made by the Land Board of the State of Texas, with divers persons for the sale of the free school, university and asylum lands of the State of Texas sold under the act of the legislature of the State of Texas, approved April 12th, 1883.

Whereas, the land board of the State of Texas, duly appointed for that purpose did make contracts under the act of April 12th, 1883, for the sale to divers persons of the free school, university and asylum lands of this State; and,

Whereas, many of such persons acting in good faith believing that the said contracts were valid and binding and secured to them the right to acquire valid titles to said lands by a compliance with said act, have paid to the State a part of the purchase price of the said lands and the interest on the amount of said contract price for several years; and,

Whereas, it has been found that said contracts have been made by said land board, in many instances, without a strict compliance with the requirements of the said law whereby the said contracts are rendered invalid and said purchasers have failed to acquire any right under the purchases and contracts so made; and,

Whereas, it is inequitable and unjust that the said parties so acting in good faith, and who have complied with the requirements of said act should be deprived of their equities, so intended to be acquired, and which the State in good faith intended to confer upon them by reason of the failure of said land board to comply with said law, and thus lose the benefit of what they have paid on said contracts, and be deprived of said lands: therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the failure of the land board to comply with the requirements of the act of April 12th, 1883, in placing the free school, university and asylum lands of the State upon the market or in selling the same shall not have the effect to render invalid the right, title or claim of any purchaser of such lands under any contract made with said land board, and in any case in which such purchaser bought but one section of land or who bought not exceeding three sections where the rules and regulations of the land board permitted the purchase of three sections and actually settled upon the same in good faith for the purpose of becoming a bona fide settler thereon and has complied with the requirements of the said act of April 12th, 1883, the rules and regulations of the land board and the terms of the contract made with such land board, or where such purchaser has complied with the law in such particulars as the rules and regulations of the land board conflicted with said act. But this act shall not affect the right, title or claim of any person, who has by subsequent purchase from the State, or by contract with any officer authorized to make the same, acquired any right in said land prior to the passage of this act.

Sec. 2. The unsettled condition of titles to lands aforesaid, and the injustice to many citizens that has or may occur from the failure of said land board to comply with the requirements of said law in making said sales, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency which authorizes the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the said rule is hereby suspended, and that this take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 78 yeas and 6 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 27 yeas and 4 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the second day of April A. D. 1891, and was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

BRIDGES.

Sec. 1. Amends chapter 1, article 13, Penal Code, as to fast riding and driving on bridges.

CHAP. 88.—[H. B. No. 473.] An act to amend chapter 1, article 13 of the Penal Code, by adding thereto Article 405a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That chapter 1, article 13, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto article 405a to read as follows:

Article 405a. If any shall person ride or drive over any bridge belonging to any county, or to any municipal or private corporation, faster than a walk, he shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the third day of April, A. D. 1891, and was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

McCULLOCH COUNTY—JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURT RESTORED.

Sec.

1. Original and concurrent jurisdiction of county court in civil cases.
2. Appellate jurisdiction of county court; certiorari.
3. County judge may issue writs of mandamus, injunction, etc.
4. Forfeiture of bonds and recognizances.
5. Jurisdiction of county court in criminal cases.

Sec.

6. Jurisdiction of district court; transcripts of dockets.
7. Terms of county court; process; cases transferred to be appearance cases.
8. Probate jurisdiction of county court.
9. Repealing clause.
10. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 89.—[H. B. No. 387.] An Act to restore and confer upon the county court of McCulloch county the civil jurisdiction heretofore belonging to said county under the constitution and general statutes of the State, and to conform the jurisdiction of the District Courts of said County to such change.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of McCulloch county shall hereafter have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil cases where the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars and shall not exceed five hundred dollars exclusive of interest; and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court of said county when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars and not exceed one thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. Said county court shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases over which justices courts have original jurisdiction when the judgment of the court appealed from or the amount in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, and said county court shall have power to hear and determine cases brought up from the justices courts by certiorari under the provisions of the title of the Revised Civil Statutes relating thereto.

Sec. 3. The county judge of said county shall have authority, either in term time or in vacation to grant writs of mandamus, injunction, sequestration, garnishment, attachment, certiorari, supersedeas and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said court, and shall also have power to issue writs of habeas corpus in all cases in which the constitution has not exclusively conferred the power on the District court or Judge thereof.

Sec. 4. Said county court shall have jurisdiction in the forfeiture and judgment of all bonds and recognizances taken in criminal cases of which criminal cases said court has jurisdiction.

Sec. 5. Said county court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and except cases in which the highest penalty of fine that may be imposed under the law may not exceed two hundred dollars, and said court shall have also appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases of which justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said county have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The District Court of McCulloch county shall no longer have jurisdiction in cases in which the county court of said county by the provisions of this act have exclusive original or appellate jurisdiction, and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the District Court of said county, within thirty days from the passage of this act, to make a full and complete transcript of all orders on his docket in cases now pending before said District Court, of which cases by the terms of this act exclusive jurisdiction is given to the county court, and to deliver said transcript, together with the original papers and certified bill of costs, to the clerk of said county court, and said county clerk shall enter said case or cases on his docket for trial by said county court.

Sec. 7. The county court of said county shall hereafter hold its regular terms for civil or criminal business as provided in the constitution and general laws of the State, and process heretofore issued from the District Court of said county in cases to be transferred under this act to the county court shall be returnable to the first term of the county court, and all civil cases transferred shall be entered as appearance cases upon the docket of said county court.

Sec. 8. The county court of said McCulloch county shall have, as now, the general jurisdiction of probate courts for the probate of wills, appointment of guardians of minors, idiots and lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, and for the issuance of letters testamentary and administration, settlement of accounts of administrators and guardians, and the settlement and distribution of decedents estates, and the apprenticeship of minors, and all other necessary powers conferred by law on courts of probate.

Sec. 9. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Sec. 10. The great necessity for this law creates an imperative public necessity and emergency requires the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and the same is therefore suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 79 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 24 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the third day of April, A. D. 1891, and was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after the adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

PUBLIC EDUCATION.

Sec.

1. Trustees of towns incorporated for school purposes only, may levy a tax for buildings and sites; coupon bonds; election.
2. Election, when and how ordered.

Sec.

3. Notice of election, how given.
4. Qualification of electors; form of ballots; returns.
5. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 90.—[S. B. No. 92.] An Act to authorize towns and villages incorporated for free school purposes only to levy taxes and issue bonds for free school purposes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That trustees of towns and villages that have been or may hereafter be incorporated for school purposes only, under act of the seventeenth Legislature, approved April 6, A. D. 1881, shall have power to levy and collect an annual ad valorem tax of twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property, for the purpose of constructing or purchasing public free school buildings and sites therefor, within the limits of such incorporated district, and said trustees shall have power to issue coupon bonds of the town or village therefor to be made payable at a date not exceeding twenty years from date in such sums as they shall deem expedient; to bear interest not to exceed six per cent per annum. Provided, that the aggregate amount of bonds issued for the above named purposes, shall never reach an amount when the tax of one-fourth of one per cent per annum will not pay current interest and provide a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal at maturity; and provided further, that no such tax shall be levied and no such bonds shall be issued until an election shall have been held for the purpose of determining said question, whereat two-thirds of the tax payers voting at said election shall have voted in favor of the levying of said tax or the issuance of said bonds, or both, as the case may be.

Sec. 2. The election provided for in the preceding section may be ordered by the trustees on the written petition of at least twenty tax paying voters of said towns or villages at any time not less than thirty days from the date of the order, which order shall state the date and place when said election shall be held, the amount of tax to be levied, or the amount of bonds to be issued as the case may be, and the trustees shall also name and appoint therein the manager or managers of said election, which shall be held as nearly as may be possible in conformity with the general election law of the State. Provided, that when a proposition to levy such a tax shall be defeated, no election for that purpose shall be ordered until after the expiration of one year.

Sec. 3. Public notice of said election shall be given by the said trustees by placing notices of the same in three different portions of such incorporated district at least twenty days before said election, which notice shall state the time and place of the election, and the amount of the tax to be levied or the amount of bonds to be issued or both, as the case may be.

Sec. 4. No person shall vote at said election unless he be a qualified voter under the constitution and laws of this State, and a tax payer in such incorporated district, and those in favor of the levying of such tax or the issuance of such bonds, shall write or print upon their ballots: "For the tax," and those against the levying of such tax or the issuance of such bonds, shall write or print on their ballots: "Against the tax;" and due returns thereof shall be made to said trustees within ten days, and the result thereof to be recorded by the said trustees in a well bound book to be kept for that purpose.

Sec. 5. The fact that towns and villages incorporated for school purposes only, have no power under the law to issue bonds for the building of school houses, and the fact that there are many towns and villages in the state that wish to issue bonds for the purpose of erecting school houses, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 91.—[S. B. No. 316.] An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to amend article 425c, chapter 55 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as passed by the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Texas by an act approved March 23, 1887, to authorize cities and towns to levy and collect taxes for the construction of public buildings, water works, sewers, improvements of roads and bridges, streets and other permanent improvements, to issue bonds therefor and repeal all laws in conflict therewith and declaring an emergency.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 425c, chapter 55 of the Revised Civil Statutes be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 425c. The city or town council of any city or town in this State incorporated under the general laws, shall have the power by ordinance to levy and collect an annual ad valorem tax sufficient to meet the interest and sinking fund on all indebtedness legally incurred prior to the adoption of the constitutional amendment in 1883, regarding the power of cities and towns to levy and collect taxes, etc., and may levy and collect twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of all property in such city or town for current expenses and may levy and collect an additional twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, for the purpose of construction or the purchase of public buildings, water works, sewers, street improvements and other permanent improvements within the limits of such city or town, and all cities and towns providing for such improvements shall have the power to issue coupon bonds of the city therefor in such sum or sums as they may deem expedient, to bear interest not exceeding six per cent per annum; provided, that the aggregate amount of bonds issued for the above named purposes shall never reach an amount where the tax of one fourth of one per cent will not pay current interest and provide a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal at maturity, and the amount of bonds legally issued under acts passed prior to the adoption of the present constitution shall not be computed and estimated in the amount of bonds which may be issued for the above named city improvements. Within the meaning of this act shall be included building sites and buildings for the public free schools and institutions of learning, within those which have assumed or may assume hereafter the exclusive control and management of the public free schools and institutions of learning within their limits, and shall also have power to levy by ordinance a tax not exceeding fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars for the improvement of the roads, bridges and streets of such town or city within its limits as provided by the amendment of 1883, to the constitution of this State.

Sec. 2. Whereas, there is no law in this state putting in operation the provisions of the amendment of 1883, of the constitution of this state, permitting towns and cities incorporated under the general laws of this state to levy and collect fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars for road, streets and bridge purposes, and

Whereas, the cities and towns have levied and are trying to collect such tax, and the same is necessary for the betterment of such roads, streets and bridges, therefore an emergency and public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days should be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAP. 92.—[S. H. B. No. 136.] An act making abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books to lands in this State compiled from the records of any county in this State (prior to the year 1877) which said records were partially or wholly destroyed or lost from any cause (during the month of March 1876) competent (prima facie) evidence of the truth of the data or memoranda shown by such abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books, subject to certain conditions.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all abstracts of land titles or land abstract books to lands in this State compiled from the records of any county in this State, prior to the year 1877, which said records were partially or wholly destroyed or lost from any cause (during the month of March 1876) shall hereafter be competent (prima facie) evidence of the truth of the data or memoranda therein contained and compiled prior to the year 1877, and shall be admissible in evidence in the courts of this State, provided that the compiler of such abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books shall have made heretofore, or before offered in evidence, affidavit before some officer authorized at the time of making such affidavit to take acknowledgments to deeds in this State, and to the effect that said abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books were compiled by him from the records of the county prior to their destruction or loss and that they contain a true and correct statement of the matters and things to which they relate, and provided also that it shall be admissible to offer in evidence any testimony tending to discredit or substantiate the reliability of such abstract of land titles or land title abstract books or tending to show the compiler thereof to have been incompetent or unreliable, or competent and reliable; and provided further, that a copy of such abstract shall be filed in the papers of the cause in which it is sought to be used and notice given to the opposite party, at least five days before the trial and the same defenses may be made as if copies of the original record had been filed; provided further, that the party offering such abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books in evidence, shall himself or by his agent or attorney have made affidavit that the original instrument to which the said data or memorandum relates is not then on record, that he has made diligent search and inquiry for the same in places and from persons where and in whose possession it would most probably be found and has been unable to find the same; that to his best knowledge and belief the same is lost or destroyed; and provided further that the owner of said abstracts of land titles or of land title abstract books shall have filed with the county Commissioners court, his application in writing (which may be granted or refused in the discretion of said court, and if refused, this act shall not become of force as to said application so refused) for an order of said court admitting to record in said court the contract of the said owner in writing wherein said owner shall bind himself, his heirs and assigns as follows: That said owner, his heirs or assigns, will, whenever requested in writing, setting forth the data required by any party to any suit interested in introducing said abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books, produce the same without charge on the day demanded for introducing in evidence, and upon the trial of any cause in this State; provided, that if said owner, his heirs or assigns, are required to produce said abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books in the courts of any other county than that to the lands of which said abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books pertain, they shall be by the party at whose instance such production is required, reasonably compensated in advance for the time and expenses of the said owner, his heirs or assigns. And the said owner in said contract, shall bind himself, his heirs and assigns, to answer in full, damages to any party damaged by the failure or default of the said owner, his heirs or assigns, without good cause, to produce said abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books, data or memoranda, when demanded as herein provided. And said contract shall further stipulate that no charge shall ever be made by said owner, his heirs or assigns, in excess of one dollar for each instrument or remove in any title in the compilation of a complete abstract or title to the lands in the county to which said abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books pertain, and that said owner, his heirs and assigns will upon request and payment of the fees therefor by any person, either make, compile and certify or cause to be made, compiled or certified, within a reasonable time, a complete abstract of title to any lands to which said abstracts of land titles or land title abstract books pertain. Provided that nothing herein contained shall ever be construed to any way effect or apply to any suit or suits now pending in any of the courts of this State. Provided further, that the provisions of this act shall not apply if it can be shown by competent evidence that any such deeds were improperly recorded.

Sec. 2. The great importance of this law to the people and the near approach of the close of the session creates an emergency and a public necessity exists requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

2. Repealing clause.
Emergency clause.

CHAP. 93.—[S. S. B. No. 147.] An act to amend article 1054, chapter 2, title 15, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, as amended by an act of the twenty-first Legislature, approved April 4th, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 1054, chapter 2, title 15, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1054. To the Sheriff or Constable shall be allowed the following fees in all cases when the charge is a felony, and all fees accruing under this article shall be due and payable at the close of each term of the district court after approval as herein provided, except as provided for in subdivisions 8 and 9, which shall be paid when approved by the Judge under whose order the writ was issued. Provided, that in all cases when the defendant shall be finally convicted of a misdemeanor the Sheriff shall be required to pay back to the Treasurer of the State a sum of money equal to the amount he may have received from the State in such case, and said Sheriff and his bondsmen shall be responsible to the State for such sum:

(1.) For executing each warrant of arrest or capias, or for making arrest without warrant when authorized by law, the sum of one dollar, and 5 cents for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in going to place of arrest, and for conveying the prisoner or prisoners to jail, mileage as provided for in subdivision 5, shall be allowed.

(2.) For summoning or attaching each witness, fifty cents.

(3.) For summoning jury in each case where jury is actually sworn in, two dollars.

(4.) *For executing death warrants, fifty dollars.

(5.) For removing a prisoner, for each mile going and coming, including guards and all other expenses when traveling by railroad, fifteen cents; when traveling otherwise than by railroad, twenty-five cents; provided that when more than one prisoner is moved at the same time in addition to the foregoing, he shall only be allowed ten cents a mile for each additional prisoner; provided further, that when an officer goes beyond the limits of the State after a fugitive on requisition of the Governor, he shall receive such compensation as the Governor shall allow for such service.

(6.) For each mile the officer may be compelled to travel in executing criminal process, summoning or attaching witnesses, five cents; provided that in no case shall he be allowed to duplicate his mileage when two or more witnesses are named in the same or different writs in any case, and he shall serve process on them in the same vicinity or neighborhood, or during the same trip, he shall not charge mileage for serving each witness to and from the county seat, but shall only charge one mileage, and for such additional miles only as are actually and necessarily traveled in summoning or attaching each additional witness. When process is sent by mail to any officer away from the county seat or returned by mail by such officer, he shall only be allowed to charge mileage for the miles actually traveled by him in executing such process, and the return of the officer shall show the character of the service and miles actually traveled in accordance with this subdivision, and his accounts shall show the facts

(7.) To officers for service of criminal process not otherwise provided for, the sum of five cents a mile going and returning shall be allowed. Provided, if two or more persons are mentioned in the same or different writs, the rule prescribed in subdivision six shall apply.

(8.) For conveying a witness attached by him to any court or grand jury, or in a habeas corpus proceedings, out of his county, or when directed by the Judge from any other county to the court where the case is pending, two dollars and fifty cents per day for each day actually and necessarily consumed in going to and returning from such court, and his actual necessary expenses by the nearest practicable route or nearest practicable public conveyance, the amount to be stated by him in an account which shall show the place at which the witness was attached, the distance to nearest railroad station, and miles actually traveled to reach the court; if horses or vehicles were used, from whom hired and price paid and length of time consumed, and amount paid out for feeding horses and to whom; if meals and lodgings were provided, from whom and when and price paid. Provided, that officers shall not be entitled to receive exceeding 50 cents per meal and 35 cents per night for lodging for any witness. Said account shall also show, before said officer shall be entitled to compensation for expenses of attached witnesses, that the witness was called upon by him to give bond, and was offered by him an opportunity to give bond to appear before the proper court and was unable or refused to do so. And the officer shall also present to the court the affidavit of the witness to the same effect, or shall show that the witness refused to make the affidavit; and should it appear to the court that the witness was able and willing to give bond, the Sheriff shall not be entitled to any compensation for conveying such witness, and said accounts shall be sworn to by the officer, before an officer authorized to administer oaths, and shall state that said account is true, just and correct in every particular, and present same to the Judge, who shall during such term of court carefully examine such account, and if found to be correct, in whole or in part, shall so certify, and allow the same for such an amount as he may find to be correct; and if by him allowed in whole or in part, he shall so certify; and such account, with the affidavit of the Sheriff and certificate of the Judge, shall be recorded by the clerk of the district court, in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, which shall constitute a part of the minutes or proceedings of the court; and the clerk shall certify to the original account, and shall show that the same has been so recorded; and said account shall then become due and the same shall constitute a voucher, on which the Comptroller is authorized to issue a warrant; and such minutes of the court, or a certified copy thereof, may be used in evidence against the officer making the affidavit, for perjury, in case said affidavit shall be willfully false. When the officer receiving a writ for the attachment of such witness shall take a bond for the appearance of any such witness, he shall be entitled to receive from the State $1.00 for each bond so taken; but he shall be responsible to the court issuing said writ that said bond is in proper form and has been executed by the witness with one or more good or solvent securities, and said bond shall in no case be less than $100. Provided, Comptroller may require from such officer a certified copy of all such process before auditing any account.

(9.) For attending a prisoner on habeas corpus, for each day $2, together with mileage, as hereinbefore provided in subdivision 5, when removing such prisoner out of the county under an order issued by a district or appellate Judge.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this article are hereby repealed.

(HAP. 94.—[H. B. No. 461.] An act for the protection of the wool growing interests of the State of Texas, and to repeal chapter 54 of the acts of the eighteenth Legislature, approved April 4th, 1883, and chapter 14 of the acts of the nineteenth Legislature, approved February 20th, 1885.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whenever it appears from the Assessor's rolls of any county that there are as many as five hundred sheep owned and assessed for taxes in any county of this State, it shall be the duty of the Commissioners court of said county, upon the application of one or more resident owners of sheep of said county, to appoint an inspector of sheep, who shall be a resident citizen of such county, and well versed in the scab and diseases which usually affect sheep, and said inspector shall hold his office for two years or until his successor is appointed and qualified. Said inspector may appoint one or more deputies, who shall likewise be well versed in scab and other diseases of sheep, who shall take the oath of office prescribed by the constitution, and may lawfully perform the same acts as the inspector of sheep, and the inspector may require of his deputies so appointed bonds payable to himself for the faithful performance of their duty as such deputies.

Sec. 2. Said inspector of sheep shall, within twenty days after receiving notice of his appointment and before entering upon the duties of his office, execute a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, in a sum to be fixed by the Commissioners court, not less than one thousand nor more than five thousand dollars, payable to the County Judge and his successors in office, conditioned that he will faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all the duties incumbent upon him as inspector of sheep. Said bond shall be approved by the Commissioners court and be recorded in the office of the County Clerk of the county as other official bonds.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the inspector of sheep or his deputy, to carefully and minutely examine and inspect at any time, sheep in his county or which may be driven into or through his county, and which he has reason to believe, or is informed in writing by any one or more sheep owners of his county, or of any adjacent and contiguous county, is affected with scab or any other infectious or contagious disease; and when one or more sheep affected with scab are found in any flock so inspected, the entire flock shall be condemned by said inspector or deputy and considered as affected with said disease.

Sec. 4. The inspector shall be entitled to receive the sum of two cents per head, unless otherwise provided in this act, for all sheep inspected and condemned under the provisions of this act; provided, the inspector shall be entitled to receive only one cent per head of any number he may inspect for any one person, in excess of two thousand head. In no one case shall his fee exceed fifty dollars; such fee to be paid by the owner or person in charge of the sheep so inspected and condemned; provided that when an inspector shall inspect any sheep and find no scab to exist in the flock of sheep so inspected, then the fees for such service shall be paid by the person at whose instance such inspection was made; and provided further, that the inspector shall have a lien upon all sheep so inspected and condemned by him for his fees as provided in this section. Provided further, that if any owner or person in charge of sheep affected with scab or other contagious disease shall report the same in writing to said inspector or his deputy, and that he proposes to take means forthwith to cure such disease, it shall not be lawful for the inspector to inspect such flock within twenty days after such report; provided, that if, after the expiration of the twenty days aforesaid, the said sheep have not been thoroughly cured, then the said sheep shall be subject to inspection as hereinbefore provided.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the inspector of sheep or his deputy to arrest and take in charge any flock or flocks of sheep, the property of owners who do not reside in his county, or have no certain or fixed ranch therein, found traveling through his county, and found after inspection to be affected with scab, and to hold and dip said sheep at the cost of the owner or person in charge of such flock or flocks, until the same shall be cured; and said inspector shall be entitled to recover from the owner or person in charge of such flock or flocks of sheep so held by him, the sum of two dollars per day as compensation for holding such sheep, in excess of inspection fees provided for in section 4 of this act; and said inspector shall have a lien upon all sheep so held by him until all fees and expenses for holding and dipping incurred by him are paid, provided that said inspector shall not in any case hold said flock or flocks of sheep exceeding twenty days.

Sec. 6. Whenever any flock of sheep in any county in this State has been inspected as provided for in this act, and found to be affected with scab, it shall be the duty of the owner or person in charge of such flock, to thoroughly cure the same within twenty days from said inspection.

Sec. 7. Any inspector of sheep or his deputy who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or who shall willfully, or with intent to harrass, vex or put to expense any owner or person in charge of sheep, notify such owner or person in charge that his flock is diseased, or who shall unlawfully demand or receive any fee or compensation where none is allowed by law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars, and thereupon the office shall be deemed vacant, and the Commissioners court may appoint another inspector for such county.

Sec. 8. Any owner or person in charge of sheep who shall willfully and knowingly violate any of the provisions of this act, when the penalty is not otherwise provided by this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 9. Whenever in any county in this State there shall not be sufficient scab or other contagious and infectious diseases among the sheep to pay the sheep inspector a fair remuneration, under the fees provided by this act, it shall be lawful for any association of wool growers in such county to pay such inspector such additional sums of money as to them may seem right and proper in order to keep such inspector in the performance of the duties of his office.

Sec. 10. The counties of Grayson, Freestone, Gonzales, Morris, Titus, Cass, Marion, Bowie, Red River, Trinity, San Jacinto, Polk, Anderson, Van Zandt, Cameron, Collin, Colorado, Grimes, Houston, Webb, Encinal, Hunt, Hopkins, Ellis, Dallas, Rockwall, Denton, Fannin, Henderson, Brazos, Smith, Panola, Gregg, Lamar, Wood, Raines, Limestone, Cook, Brown, Comanche, Cherokee, Mills, Montgomery, Shelby, Lee, Burleson, Rusk, Lavaca, Milam, Wise, Upshur, Robertson, Camp, Parker, Franklin, Navarro, Karnes, Wilson, Atascosa, Harrison, San Augustine, Sabine, Fayette, Austin, Leon, Madison, Hill, Bosque, Waller, Fort Bend, Washington, Guadalupe, Caldwell, Hayes, Tarrant, Johnson, Clay, Montague, Erath, Hood, Somerville, Bastrop, Harris, Harrison, Camp, Orange, Jefferson, Hardin, Liberty, Chambers, Newton, Tyler, Jasper, Kaufman, Nacogdoches, DeWitt, Victoria, Jackson, Calhoun, Refugia, Goliad, and Aransas counties are exempted from the provisions of this act.

Sec. 11. That chapter 54 of the acts of the eighteenth Legislature, entitled "an act for the protection of the wool growing interests of the State of Texas," approved April 4th, 1883, and chapter 14 of the acts of the nineteenth Legislature, entitled "an act to amend sections 4 and 16 of an act entitled 'an act for the protection of the wool growing interests of the State of Texas; approved April 4th, 1883,' approved February 20, 1885," be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 12. The fact that there is now no adequate protection to wool-growers against contagious diseases, and the near approach of the close of this session creates an emergency and public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended and it is so suspended.

CHAP. 95.—[S. B. No. 2.] An act to empower the State Board of Education to procure for use in the public free schools of the State of Texas a series of text books, defining the duties of certain officers therein named with reference thereto, making appropriations therefor, defining certain misdemeanors, providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, and declaring an emergency.

Section 1. The State board of education, together with the State Superintendent of public instruction, shall constitute a board for the purpose of adopting a uniform system of text books for the use of the public free schools of this State, and for the further purpose of executing the provisions of this act. Said board is hereby authorized to select and adopt a uniform series of text books for the purpose above indicated. Said series to include the following branches of study, to wit: Spelling, reading, English grammar, geography, arithmetic, the elements of physiology and hygiene, and history of the United States and a graded series of writing books; provided nothing of a sectional, partisan or sectarian character shall be contained in said books. Provided, that the books adopted shall be at least equal in size and quality as to subject matter, material, style of binding and mechanical execution, to books now in use in the public free schools of this State.

Sec. 2. That said board shall immediately upon taking effect of this act, advertise for such time and in such manner as they deem best to obtain the desired information, that at a time and place to be fixed by said notice, and not later than two months after the first publication thereof, said Board will receive sealed proposals as follows: From the publishers of school text books for furnishing books to the schools of the State through agencies established by said publishers in the several counties of the State as may be provided for in such regulations as the said Board may adopt. No bid from any publisher shall be entertained by said Board made for a less period of time than five years. Said bid or bids shall state specifically at what price each book will be furnished, and shall be accompanied with specimen copies of each and all books proposed to be furnished; provided it shall be required of the bidders to deposit with the Treasurer of the State such sum of money as the Board may require not less than $500, and no more than $2500, according to the number of books each bidder may propose to supply. Such deposit shall be forfeited to the State absolutely if such bidder so depositing any sum shall fail to make and execute such contract and bond as is herein required, within such time as the Board may require, which time shall be stated in the notice advertised. All bids shall be deposited sealed with the Comptroller of the State; to be by him delivered to the Board when they are in session for the purpose of considering the same when they shall be opened in the presence of the Board. Whenever any person has been awarded a contract, and filed his bond and contract with the board, the said Board shall make an order on the Treasurer of the State, reciting such fact, whereupon the Treasurer shall return the deposit of such successful bidder; but if any such successful bidder shall fail to make and execute the contract and bond as hereinbefore required, the Treasurer shall place such special deposit in the State Treasury to the credit of the available school fund, and the Board shall readvertise, if they conclude to do so, for other bidders to supply such books, which the successful bidder may have failed to supply. All unsuccessful bidders shall have their special deposits returned to them as soon as the board has decided not to accept their bids. All books selected and adopted by the board shall be printed or written in English. The Board may stipulate in the contract for supplying books as herein provided that the contractor or contractors shall exchange the contract books for all books actually in use, and for which purpose the value of the books in use shall be deducted from the contract price of the new books provided. The successful bidder to supply any books, who may have awarded to him or them any contract, shall, within the time fixed by the Board, enter into contract, and shall make and execute a good and sufficient bond, payable to the State of Texas, and in the sum of not less than $10,000, signed by not less than three solvent sureties, who shall be residents of the State of Texas, to be approved by the Governor, which said bond may be put in suit at any time upon suggestion of the Board. Such bond shall be conditioned that the contractor or contractors shall faithfully and honestly perform the conditions of the contract. Said contract and bond shall be prepared by the Attorney General and be made to conform to the requirements of this act.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of said Board to meet at the time and place mentioned in such notice and open and examine all sealed proposals received pursuant to the notice provided for in section 2, of this act; and it shall be the further duty of said Board to make a full, complete and thorough investigation of all such bids, and to ascertain under which of said bids the school books could be furnished to the people of this State for common school use at the lowest price, taking into consideration the size and quality as to matter, material, style of binding and mechanical execution of such books. And in case of failure to comply with said contract, the Board may cancel the contract so broken. Provided that the Board and the contractor agreeing to furnish the books may by agreement make such changes of the books to be furnished as the Board may deem proper, and to the interests of the State. And it is further provided that the contract price of each book shall be plainly printed on the back of each book by the publisher or the party furnishing the same.

Sec. 4. It shall be part of the terms and conditions of every contract made in pursuance of this act that the State of Texas shall not be liable to any contractor hereunder for any sum whatever, but all such contractors shall receive their pay and compensation solely and exclusively from the proceeds of the sale of books as provided for in this act. And it is hereby provided that the State shall have the right to terminate said contract whenever the law is repealed, or so amended, altered or qualified as to make necessary or expedient that such contract should be revoked, and the contract shall contain a stipulation to that effect.

Sec. 5. As soon as such board shall have entered into any contract for the furnishing of books for use in the public free schools of this State, pursuant to the provisions of this act, it shall be the duty of the Governor to issue his proclamation announcing such fact to the people of the State. And it is further provided that the Board shall carefully label and file away all sample copies of the books so furnished as heretofore provided and for which a contract shall have been entered into as herein specified, which shall be securely kept as the standard of quality and excellence to be maintained in such books, during the continuance of said contract.

Sec. 6. The party with whom such contract has been made shall establish and maintain in some city in this State, to be designated by the board a depository where a stock of their books sufficient to supply all immediate demands shall be kept. It shall also establish and maintain one or more agencies in every county in the State, one of which shall be at the county seat. At such agencies, books shall be sold at the retail contract price together with the following notice: "The price fixed hereon is fixed by the State contract. Any deviation should be reported to the State Superintendent of public instruction at Austin." And it is provided that upon the failure of the party contracting to furnish the books for the schools of this State as provided for under this act, the County Judge may in the name of the State of Texas, sue in the district court of his county and recover on the bond given by the contractor under this act for the full value of the books so failed to be furnished for the use and benefit of the schools of his county, and the amount so recovered shall be placed to the credit of the available school fund in the county so recovering it. And it is further provided, that unorganized counties shall be furnished books through the same agency of the county to which said unorganized county may be attached for judicial purposes in the same manner that such organized county obtained the books used therein.

Sec. 7. As soon as may be practicable after the adoption provided for in this act, the State Superintendent of public instruction shall address a circular letter to the county Superintendents, and the Presidents of School Boards in independent school districts, which letter shall contain a list of the books adopted, the prices, method of distribution and such other information as he may deem necessary.

Sec. 8. The Board may from time to time make necessary regulations, not contrary to the provisions of this act, to secure the prompt distribution of the books herein provided for.

Sec. 9. After September 1, 1891, or as soon thereafter as the board may deem practicable, the books adopted by the board as a uniform series of text books for this State shall be introduced and used as text books to the exclusion of all others in the public free schools. Provided nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the use of supplementary books.

Sec. 10. Any teacher or trustee who shall violate the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars for each offense, and every day of such violation shall be considered a separate offense.

Sec. 11. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent or prohibit the patrons of the public schools throughout the State from procuring books in the usual way in case no contract should be made, or the contractor fails or refuses to furnish the books provided for in this act at the time required for their use in the respective schools.

Sec. 12. The Superintendent of public instruction is hereby authorized to employ one additional clerk at a salary of not more than $1200 per annum for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, said clerk to be paid in such manner as other employes in his office.

Sec. 13. The sum of two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any funds in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of paying the cost and expense incident to the giving notices herein provided for and otherwise carrying out the provisions of this act.

Sec. 14. Any city or town which has assumed control of its schools, and which has already adopted a uniform system of text books, shall not be required to comply with the provisions of this act, prior to the first of September, 1892.

Sec. 15. The State Board shall prepare and submit to the Governor before the twenty-third Legislature shall convene, a report wherein they shall discuss the feasibility of State publication of common school text books, and submit estimates as to the probable cost to the State of such publication.

Sec. 16. The fact that many publishers of school books have entered into combinations and conspiracies against competition, rendering it impossible to procure school books at fair and reasonable prices, and the further fact that it is important that cheap books should be had for the scholastic year of 1891 and 1892, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 22 yeas and 6 nays, and passed the House by a vote of 59 yeas and 31 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the eighth day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto: nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. COUNTY SCHOOL FUNDS.

Sec. 1. Amends section 47, chapter 25, laws of eighteenth legislature.

(47) County treasurers to be treasurers of available and permanent school funds; commissions; bonds; payment by collector to treasurer; receipts, etc.; apportionment of funds; unappropriated balances, etc.; white and colored schools to be maintained same length of time; repealing clause.

Emergency clause.

CHAP. 96.—[S. B. No. 161.] An Act to amend section 47 of chapter 25 called session of the eighteenth Legislature, being an act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the State of Texas, and to repeal so much of chapter 3, of title 78, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as refer to public free schools outside of incorporated cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public free schools.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 47 of chapter 25 special session of the eighteenth Legislature being an act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the State of Texas and to repeal so much of chapter 3, title 78, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas refer to public free schools outside of incorporated cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public schools be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 47. The treasurers of the several counties shall be treasurers of the available public free school fund and also of the permanent county school fund for their respective counties. The treasurers of the several counties shall be allowed for receiving and disbursing the school funds one-half of one per cent for receiving, and one-half of one per cent for disbursing. Said commissions to be paid out of the available school fund of the county; provided, no commissions shall be paid for receiving the balance transmitted to him by his predecessor, or for turning over the balance in his hands to his successor; and provided further that he shall receive no commissions on money transferred. Within twenty days after the receipt of a certificate of his election, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to execute a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties for the faithful performance of his duties under this chapter, said bond shall be in double the probable amount of available school fund and of the permanent county fund which may come into his hands to be estimated by the county superintendent, and shall be made payable and conditioned as prescribed in article 909, Revised Statutes of Texas. Upon the receipt of the certificate from the State board of education, duly countersigned by the comptroller, showing the pro rata of the available school fund to which his county is entitled under the apportionment, the county treasurer shall present the same to the Collector of taxes for his county, who shall pay to the county treasurer on the first day of each month all school taxes that have come into his hands during the preceding month until the Comptroller's coupon draft on the Collector is paid up. The treasurer shall endorse the amounts so paid by the Collector on the proper coupon, and shall also execute and deliver to the Collector duplicate receipts for such payments, and when the whole amount of such coupon shall have been paid the county treasurer shall deliver the same to the Collector in whose hands it shall be a voucher for so much money paid in his settlement with the Comptroller of Public Accounts. In case the State school tax shall not suffice to pay off the apportionment to the county, the county treasurer shall on receipt of notice from the State Superintendent of the amount which can be paid by the State Treasurer on the apportionment to his county, enter upon proper coupon the amount so signified and present the same for collection to the Comptroller of Public Accounts. When the entire amount of the apportionment to the county shall have been paid, the county treasurer shall deliver the certificate of apportionment receipted in full to the State Treasurer. The County Treasurer upon receiving notice from the State Superintendent of the amount apportioned to his county shall report the same to the County Superintendent, who shall immediately apportion the same to the several districts and school communities according to the scholastic census, and the County Superintendent shall immediately notify the County Treasurer of the amount apportioned to each district and school community. It shall also be the duty of the County Treasurer to keep a separate account with each district and school community showing the amount apportioned according to the certificate of apportionment, the amount set apart monthly to the credit of each district and school community by the County Superintendent, and the amount paid out to each school and district and school communities; provided, in no case shall the County Treasurer pay out any part of the school fund without the approval of the County Superintendent. All balances of the general fund not appropriated for the current year shall be carried over by the treasurer as part of the general fund for the county for the succeeding year, and balances unexpended or appropriated for a school community or a district shall be carried over for the benefit of such school community or district if the community be reorganized for the following year, and if it be not reorganized shall be added to the general fund for distribution for the general benefit of the county at large. All schools both white and colored in the same district and school communities shall be maintained the same length of time as near as may be. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Whereas the present bill intends to prevent county treasurers from collecting double the fees allowed them by law on school funds and the further fact that the present session of the Legislature is rapidly drawing to a close create an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the constitutional rule for bills to be read on three several days to be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas and no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 84 yeas and 1 nay.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the ninth day of April, A. D. 1891, and was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioners court of any county in this State may appoint one road superintendent for such county, or one superintendent in each commissioners precinct, and such courts are authorized by an order made at any regular term thereof to determine whether there shall be one road superintendent for the county or one for each of the commissioners precincts therein. Such order shall be entered on the minutes of such court and shall not be void for want of form, but a substantial compliance with the provisions of this act shall be sufficient. Provided no county shall be under the operation of this act whose commissioners court does not appoint a road superintendent or superintendents as herein provided.

Sec. 2. In case such commissioners court shall determine that there shall be one "road superintendent," as provided in the preceding section, such court shall appoint a competent "road superintendent" for such county, and in case it is determined that there shall be four superintendents, then such court shall appoint a competent person as "road superintendent" for each commissioners precinct in such county.

Sec. 3. Each "road superintendent" whether county or precinct, shall, within twenty days after his appointment, take and subscribe the oath required by the constitution, and enter into bond payable to the County Judge and his successors in office, with good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the County Judge, in such sum as may be fixed by the commissioners court, conditioned that he will faithfully do and perform all the duties required of him by law or the commissioners court, and that he will pay out and disburse the funds subject to his control as the law provides, or the commissioners court may direct, which bond shall be filed and recorded as other official bonds and shall not be void for the first recovery, but may be sued on from time to time until the full amount is exhausted.

Sec. 4. Every road superintendent shall be a qualified voter in the county or precinct, as the case may be, for which he is appointed, and shall hold his office for two years or until his successor is appointed and qualified, but in all cases where the condition of the roads do not demand the continued services of the superintendent, his salary may, in the discretion of the commissioners court, be suspended. The commissioners court may for good cause remove any road superintendent, and in case of vacancy from any cause may appoint a successor who shall hold his office for the unexpired term.

Sec. 5. Each road superintendent shall receive such salary as may be fixed by the commissioners court to be paid on the order of said court at stated intervals, but the salary of the county superintendent, in counties of less than fifteen thousand inhabitants, shall never exceed one thousand dollars per annum, and in counties of more than fifteen thousand inhabitants, it shall not exceed twelve hundred dollars per annum. That the salary of precinct superintendents in counties of less than fifteen thousand inhabitants shall not exceed three hundred dollars per annum, and in counties of over fifteen thousand inhabitants it shall never exceed four hundred dollars per annum.

Sec. 6. The road superintendent, subject to the orders and directions of the commissioners court, shall have the general supervision over all the public roads and highways of his county or precinct, as the case may be, and shall superintend the laying out of new roads, the making and changing of roads therein, the building of bridges therein, (except where otherwise contracted) the working of the roads therein and all repairs to be made on the same, and over all county convicts worked on such roads, but this shall not prevent the commissioners court from employing a person to watch and manage such convicts and direct the work to be done by them. Said road superintendent shall take charge of all tools, machinery, implements and teams placed under his control by the commissioners court and execute his receipt therefor which shall be filed with the county clerk, and he shall be responsible for the safe keeping of all such machinery, tools, implements and teams, and the proper expenditure and paying out of all money belonging to the road fund that may come into his hands, and shall be liable for the loss, injury or destruction of any such tools, teams, implements or machinery unless such loss occurred without his fault, and for the wrongful or improper expenditure of any such money, and upon the expiration of his term of office, or in case of his resignation or removal, he shall deliver all such money and property to his successor or such other person as the commissioners court may direct.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of each road superintendent to see that all of the roads and bridges in his county or precinct, as the case may be, are kept in good repair, and he shall under the direction of the commissioners court, inaugurate and carry out a system of working, grading and draining the public roads in his county or precinct, and shall see that every person subject to road duty in his county or precinct performs the work to which he is liable under the law. He shall act as supervisor of the roads in his county or precinct, as the case may be, and perform all the duties as supervisor that now devolves on the county commissioners under the existing laws in counties not adopting this act, and he shall do and perform such other service as may be required of him by the commissioners court.

Sec. 8. Each road superintendent in counties where the commissioners court so directs, as soon as practicable, shall divide his county or precinct, as the case may be, into road districts of convenient size to be approved by the commissioners court, and define the boundaries thereof and designate the same by number, which boundaries shall be recorded in the road minutes of the commissioners court. And he shall ascertain the names of all persons subject to road duty in each road district, and keep a record thereof and report the same to the commissioners court.

Sec. 9. Each road superintendent shall have power, and it shall be his duty to call out all persons liable to work on the public roads at any time and in such numbers as he may deem necessary to work the roads in their respective districts, and he shall utilize all such labor to the best advantage in connection with other labor on the roads. The call shall be summons served in the manner and for the length of time prescribed by the law regulating the calling out of hands by overseers, but no person shall be compelled to work outside of his road district. The road superintendent may appoint any person subject to road duty in any district to summon the hands to work the roads therein, and such person shall be exempt from road service as many days as he was actually engaged in summoning the hands, and in case of emergency he may appoint a deputy to supervise any particular work. He may also contract with any person subject to road duty, for the use of teams, and permit such person to discharge his road duty by the use of such double team; but he shall never allow more than two dollars per day for any team, nor more than three dollars for any hand and double team.

Sec. 10. Each road superintendent shall make a report, under oath, to the commissioners court, at each regular term thereof, showing an itemized account of all money belonging to the road fund he has received, from whom received, and what disposition he has made of the same, the condition of all roads and bridges in his county or precinct, as the case may be, and such other matters as the court may desire information upon; and shall make such other report at such times as such court may require.

Sec. 11. The commissioners court of any such county is authorized to purchase or hire all necessary road machinery, tools, implements, teams and labor required to grade, drain or repair the roads of such county, and said court is authorized and empowered to make all reasonable and necessary rules, orders and regulations not in conflict with law, for laying out, working and otherwise improving the public roads, and to utilize the labor and money expended thereon and to enforce the same. But no change in any road shall be made that lengthens the same without it is to the benefit of the traveling public or for the protection of private property, and then only upon the unanimous consent of the commissioners court.

Sec. 12. Each road superintendent shall employ sufficient force to enable him to do the necessary work in his county or precinct, as the case may be, having due regard for the condition of the county road and bridge fund and the quality and durability of the work to be done, and shall buy or hire such tools, teams, implements and machinery as the commissioners court may direct, and he shall work such roads in such manner as the commissioner may direct, and such work shall at all times be subject to the general supervision of the commissioners court.

Sec. 13. Each road superintendent shall make the best contract possible for all labor, tools, implements or machinery that he is authorized to hire or purchase, and in payment therefor he shall issue to the person entitled thereto his certificate showing the amount due and the purpose for which it was given, and upon approval by the commissioners court a warrant shall issue therefor to the holder thereof on the county treasurer, to be paid by him out of the proper fund as other warrants. All such certificates shall be dated, numbered and signed by the road superintendent, and he and the sureties on his official bond shall be liable for all loss or damages caused by the wrongful issue of any such certificate or any extravagance in the amount thereof.

Sec. 14. The commissioners court of any such county may, when deemed best, construct, grade, gravel or otherwise improve any road or bridge by contract. In such case said court or the county Judge may advertise, in such manner as said court may determine, for bids to do such work and the contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall enter into bond with good and sufficient sureties for the faithful compliance with such contract, but said court shall have the right to reject any and all bids. At the time of making any such contract the said court shall direct the county treasurer to pass the amount of money stipulated in such contract to a particular fund for that purpose, and the treasurer shall keep a separate account of such fund and the same shall not be used for any other purpose and can only be paid out on the order of said court.

Sec. 15. The commissioners court may require all county convicts not otherwise employed to labor upon the public roads under such regulations as may be most expedient. Each county convict worked on the roads in satisfaction of any fine and costs shall receive a credit thereon of fifty cents for each day he may labor. And the commissioners court may order that the county pay to the officers of court as much as one-half of the costs due them and adjudged against such convict, and upon such order such payment shall be made. But no such costs or any part thereof shall ever be paid until such convict has worked out the entire amount of such fine and costs as provided by law, and then only upon a certificate from such county or precinct superintendent to the effect that such costs have been so worked out. The commissioners court may grant a reasonable commutation of time for which a convict would be compelled to work to pay his fine and costs, or for which he is committed, as a reward for faithful services and good behavior, and such court shall make proper rules and regulations under which such commutations may be granted.

Sec. 16. The commissioners court may accept donations of money, lands, teams, tools, or labor, or any other kind of property or material to aid in building or keeping up roads in the county, and said court or any road superintendent, by and with the concurrence of the commissioners, may authorize any person to make a drain along any public road, the same to be done under the direction of the road superintendent, or such other person as such court may direct.

Sec. 17. The commissioners court of any county may retain the system of working hands under road overseers as provided by general laws, and place such overseers under the control of a county or precinct superintendent under such lawful regulations as said court may prescribe or may work with overseers without any superintendent, as may be deemed best.

Sec. 18. The commissioners court of any county in any county in which a special tax for the maintenance of the public roads is levied and collected, as provided for in section 9, article 8, of the constitution, shall not be compelled to require persons subject to road duty to work on the roads, as prescribed in existing general laws, but in such counties the roads shall be worked wholly by taxation, or by taxation in connection with road service as such court may deem best. In any such county such court may reduce the number of days that persons liable to road duty may be required to work on the roads, but can never increase the same above five days in any year.

Sec. 19. Each road superintendent shall keep an accurate account of all moneys received by him on account of the road or bridge fund, and pay the same over to the county treasurer within ten days after its collection, taking his receipt for the same.

Sec. 20. If any person liable under this act to work upon the public roads after being legally summoned, shall willfully fail or refuse to attend either in person or by able and competent substitute at the time and place designated by the person summoning him, or pay to the superintendent or other person authorized by the commissioners court to receive the same, the sum of one dollar per day for each day he may have been notified to work on the road, or having attended, shall fail to perform good service or any other duty required of him by law, or the person under whom he may work, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof fined in any sum of not less than five nor more than twenty five dollars.

Sec. 21. Any road superintendent who shall willfully fail or refuse to comply with any provision of this act or order of the commissioners court shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, punished by fine of not less than twenty five nor more than two hundred dollars for each offense.

Sec. 22. Any person who shall knowingly or willfully destroy, injure or misplace any bridge, culvert, drain, sewer, ditch, signboard, mile post or tile, or anything of like character, placed upon any road for the benefit of the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, punished by fine of not more than five hundred dollars, and shall be liable to the county and any person injured for all damages caused thereby.

Sec. 23. The county superintendent or the precinct superintendent, as the case may be, shall obtain from the tax collector of their counties as soon after the first day of January of each year as practicable, and before the first day of May thereafter, a full list of the delinquent poll tax payers of such county for the previous year, and the persons so appearing on said list and who are such delinquent poll tax payers shall be subject to road duty for the period of three days during such year, and they shall be summoned, as in other cases, to work the roads in the road district or precinct in which such person may reside, and the performance of the road service provided for in this section shall not exonerate the persons from any other road duty to which the persons performing the same may be subject, but this shall be taken as cumulative. The persons required to do road duty under the provisions of this section shall be subject to prosecution as provided in this act, or other law of this State, and subject to the same liabilities and punishments provided for in other cases for failing to appear or do good work, when summoned so to do, as provided for by this act or other law of this State, and all such laws shall apply to parties required to work under the provisions of this section. And when they are convicted for so failing to work the roads, shall satisfy the fine and costs as in other misdemeanor convictions. But any person summoned to work on the road under the provisions of this section may satisfy such summons and be relieved from such duty by paying to the county road or precinct superintendent, as the case may be, three dollars; one third of which sum shall go to the free school fund, and the balance to the road and bridge fund.

Sec. 24. The term "road" as used in this act includes road bed, ditches, drains, bridges, culverts, and every part of such road, and the terms "work" and "working" includes the opening and laying out of new roads, widening, constructing, draining, repairing, and everything else that may be done in and about any road.

Sec. 25. This act shall be cumulative of all other general laws on the subject of roads and bridges not in conflict herewith and where not otherwise provided herein such general laws shall apply; but in case of conflict with other general laws the provisions of this act shall govern.

Sec. 26. The counties of Grayson, Travis, Houston, Dallas, Limestone, Fayette, Galveston, Cherokee, Gonzales, Wood, Raines, Harrison, Shelby, San Augustine, Sabine, Newton, Jasper, Tyler, Morris, Marion, Victoria, Goliad, Refugio, Aransas, Calhoun, Jackson, DeWitt, Hopkins, Comal, Upshur, Blanco, Camp, Gillespie, Lavaca, Parker, Panola, Milam, Lamar, Hill, Smith, Gregg, McLennan, Harris, Washington, Titus, Cass, Franklin, Delta, Angelina, Nacogdoches, Bowie, Montgomery, Walker, Trinity, Red River, Henderson, Van Zandt, Tarrant and Jack counties are exempted from the provisions of this act. Provided that the county commissioners courts of Dallas and Collin counties may accept and adopt the provisions of this act, in lieu of the special acts for Dallas, Collin, Grayson and other counties, if in their judgment its provisions are better suited to Dallas and Collin counties than the said special laws.

Sec. 27. The fact that there is now no sufficient road law in force in this State, and many parts of the State are suffering by reason thereof, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and said rule is hereby suspended, and it is enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the tenth day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature within the time prescribed by the constitution. - location; beds mentioned in sections 3 and 4 are private.
6. Planting prohibited between first of May and September; penalty.
7. Penalty for theft of oysters.
8. Unlawful to rake, dredge, etc., with machinery, public oyster beds; penalty.
9. Injury or destruction of corners and boundaries of beds prohibited; penalty.
10. Control of more than 640 acres of water not permitted; none but domestic corporations may own or control land covered by water.
11. Repealing clause.
12. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 98.—[S. H. B. Nos. 498 and 520.] An act for the preservation of oysters and oyster beds, and for protecting the rights of persons to the same, and affixing penalties, and providing locations for planting oysters.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That oyster beds shall be public and private; all those not designated as private, shall be public; all natural oyster beds and oyster reefs shall be deemed public. No person shall take or catch oysters from any public beds for market or sale or planting from the first day of May to the first day of September in any year. Any person offending against the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined for each offense not less than $10.00 nor more than fifty dollars.

Sec. 2. When oysters are culled or selected from public beds, those not wanted for market or sale or for family use, shall be planted while alive, by the person or persons taking them, on the beds from which they were taken, or some other bed, public or private, and any person violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined for each offense not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars.

Sec. 3. Where any creek, bayou, lake or cove not made a navigable stream by the laws of this State or of the United States, runs through the lands of any person, such person or other lawful occupant shall have the exclusive right to use said creek, bayou, lake or cove for gathering, planting or sowing oysters within the metes and bounds of the original grant or patent of said land; but if said creek, bayou, lake or cove is not included in the survey of said lands, then the exclusive rights of the riparian owner shall extend to the middle of said creek, bayou, lake or cove.

Sec. 4. Any person, who is an actual bona fide citizen of the State of Texas, shall have the right of obtaining a location for planting oysters and making private oyster beds within any public navigable waters of this State, other than those mentioned in section 3 of this act, by designating a square space not exceeding five hundred and thirty-eight yards square intended by him for such purpose, by not less than four buoys anchored, or four stakes firmly and permanently planted, one at each corner of such location and by establishing posted notices of the same on one or more of said corner stakes or buoys, said stakes shall project at least four feet above ordinary tides and shall be not less than six inches in diameter if of wood or three inches in diameter if of iron, and any person so locating as aforesaid shall be protected in his possession thereof against trespass thereon, in like manner as freeholders are protected in their rights for a term of fifteen years after filing with the county clerk his notice of location; provided that no person shall have the right to locate any of the public oyster beds or oyster reefs within the public navigable waters of this State under this act or under any pre-existing law. All oyster locations made under this act shall expire at the end of fifteen years from the date of filing the notice of location with the county clerk, and said location shall then revert to the State, as if the same had never been located; and provided further that no person shall locate any private oyster bed in the public navigable waters of this State within one hundred yards of low water mark of any shore without the consent of the riparian owner, said owner only having that right, nor shall any one be permitted in any wise to interfere with navigation by enclosure of said oyster beds.

Sec. 5. At any time not exceeding sixty days after placing in position any one or more of said corner posts or buoys upon one of which shall be placed the notice hereinbefore required, the locator shall file with the county clerk of the county in which his location lies, a notice of his location. The same shall be a notice to whom it concerns that the locator has on a certain date, naming it, located a private oyster bed on a certain space, describing it by such description as will suffice to locate it on the ground or water, and that he has placed posts or buoys as required by law. If such notice be filed before the four corners are designated by posts or buoys, the notice shall so state and be followed in sixty days by a supplementary notice after the four corners are all designated by posts or buoys. Notices of location shall in all cases state that the location described does not conflict with any other private bed, and that it is not on any public bed or oyster reef. The notices filed with the clerk as aforesaid shall further state that the locator is a bona fide citizen of the State of Texas. It shall be signed and sworn to by the locator or his agent; the county clerk shall record such notices in a well bound book to be kept for that purpose, and the original with a certificate of registration returned to the locator. The county clerk shall receive for his services in recording such notices the same fee as is charged for recording deeds. The originals or certified copies from the records shall be admissible in evidence under the same rules governing the admission of deeds or certified copies thereof. When the location lies in more than one county the notices shall be filed in all counties in which the location is situated or otherwise the location will be effective only as to those portions lying in the county or counties in which the notice or notices are filed. Upon complying with the provisions of this act, the right of the locator shall date from the placing of the first post or buoy. All oyster beds planted, created or established in accordance with sections three and four of this act shall be private oyster beds, and the owners of the same shall be entitled to all the privileges and protection of this act, after having caused his claim to be duly posted and recorded in the county clerk's office as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That it shall not be lawful for any person to plant or purchase oysters for planting, bedding or depositing or for marketing or for any other purpose whatever, from the first day of May to the first day of September in any year, and if any person shall violate the provisions of this section, or either of them, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction he shall be fined for each offense not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars.

Sec. 7. If any person shall willfully take oysters from a private bed or shall take oysters deposited by one making up a cargo for market or for family use without the consent or permission of the owner thereof, he shall be deemed guilty of theft, and upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars, and by confinement in the county jail for a term of not less than twenty days nor more than twelve months.

Sec. 8. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to rake, dredge or excavate with machinery any public oyster bed or oyster reefs in the waters of this State. Any person or persons who shall violate the provisions of this section shall on conviction be fined in any sum not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars. Each days violation of any of the provisions of this section will constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 9. Any person who shall willfully deface, injure or destroy or remove any post or buoy, or any part thereof used to designate the corners or boundaries of any private oyster beds without the consent of the owner of said private oyster bed, shall be deemed guilty of malicious mischief and punished accordingly.

Sec. 10. No person, firm or corporation shall ever own, lease or otherwise control more than six hundred and forty acres of land covered with water, the same being oyster locations in this State, and any corporation that now holds six hundred and forty acres or more of such oyster locations shall not be permitted hereafter to acquire, own, lease or otherwise control more. Provided that no corporation shall own, or lease, or otherwise control any such land covered by water unless such corporation shall be duly incorporated under the laws of this State.

Sec. 11. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 12. The fact that there is no adequate and sufficient law for the protection and preservation of public oyster beds and public oyster reefs, and the near approach of the close of the present session, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency necessitating the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring all bills to be read on three several days, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 72 yeas and 9 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 21 yeas and 7 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the eleventh day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the House in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. CITIES AND TOWNS—COMPROMISE OF INDEBTEDNESS.

Sec. 1. Amends section 9, act of March 26, 1887.

(9.) Board of liquidation, how appointed; term of office; no compensation; collection and deposit of moneys; penalty for failure; application of funds; reports of board.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 99.—[S. B. No. 323.] An Act to be entitled an act to amend section 9, of an act to authorize any city or town in this State to compromise existing indebtedness and to issue new bonds to be sold or exchanged for this purpose, and to provide for the efficient collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest of such new bonds, and to provide for the appointment of receivers for said municipal corporations during the pendency of negotiations for such compromise, approved March 26, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 9 of an act entitled "an act to authorize any city or town in this State to compromise existing indebtedness, and to issue new bonds to be sold or exchanged for this purpose, and to provide for the efficient collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest of such new bonds, and to provide for the appointment of receivers for said municipal corporations during the pendency of negotiations for such compromise" be and the same is hereby amended so as to read hereafter as follows:

Section 9. That whenever a compromise of the debt of any city or town shall be effected, as hereinbefore provided, and the bonds are delivered to the creditors, a board of liquidation, consisting of five reputable citizens of such city or town, shall be appointed forthwith in the manner following: The mayor of the city or town shall appoint one, the Governor of the State shall appoint one, and the district judge of the district in which such city or town shall be situated shall appoint one, the city council of the city or town shall appoint one, and the holders of said indebtedness, or a majority of them, shall appoint one; and each shall fill vacancies in the office of their respective appointees in said board; and in case of failure, neglect or refusal of any one or all of said officers to appoint a member of said board, or to fill vacancies therein then the holders of said bonds, or any one or more of them shall have the right to apply to the district court of the district in which such city or town shall be situated, or to the Judge thereof in vacation, for the appointment of a member or members of said board necessary to complete the same, and it shall be the duty of said court or judge to make said appointment. The members of said board shall serve without compensation and shall hold their offices for the term of four years and until their successors are appointed and qualified. Each member of said board shall take an oath to faithfully perform the duties of his office. A majority of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Said board, or a majority thereof, shall select some solvent depository for all moneys coming under their control, as hereinafter provided, and for whose acts they shall be responsible, and shall, in writing signed by them, notify the Collector of taxes of said city or town of said selection. It shall thereupon become the duty of such Collector to deposit at the close of business each day one half of all moneys collected by him for the twenty-four hours next preceding, on account of all the taxes of whatever nature levied by said city or town, with the said depository, whose receipt therefor shall be an acquittance to said collector; and said collectors shall be liable on their official bonds for any failure to promptly make such deposits and for ten per cent per month of such amounts, and in addition thereto as penalty; which sums may be recovered by said board of liquidation in a suit therefor; and it shall be their duty to promptly institute such suits. But whenever the total of said deposits shall equal the annual interest on said bonds it shall be lawful for such collector to discontinue said deposits until he shall be notified in writing by said board that said deposits are reduced below that sum. Said funds of cities or towns shall be subject to the order of said boards of liquidation, and shall be applied by them to the payment, first, of the interest on said bonds as the same matures; and, secondly, to the payment of the principal thereof; and thirdly, to the payment of interest on any valid bonds issued by such city and not embraced in any issue of bonds issued under the provisions of this act, and fourthly, to the payment of the principal of bonds of the character last referred to on the maturity of same. The members of said board shall be liable for the prompt payment of said interest out of said funds, and in case of failure or refusal they shall, in addition, be liable to ten per cent of the amount of such interest as damages to be recovered by any person aggrieved thereby, in any court of competent jurisdiction. Whenever there shall be in the hands of such depositories a sufficient sum to pay two per cent of the principal of said bonds in addition to one year's interest it shall be the duty of said board of liquidation to use the same in the purchase of outstanding bonds, provided in section 6 of this act, which bonds when so purchased shall be canceled and shall together with all coupons which have been paid be returned to the council of the city or town. Expenses incurred by said board in advertising for purchase of bonds shall be paid out of said funds. Said boards shall make semi-annual reports to the said councils of their acts and of all receipts and disbursements of moneys coming under their control.

Sec. 2. That in order to save much unnecessary expense and inconvenience of cities and towns which have compromised their debt under the provisions of this act, an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days to be suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 24 yeas and 3 nays; and passed the House by a vote of 73 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the eleventh day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

PROTECTION OF STOCKRAISERS, FARMERS, ETC.—BOUNTY FOR DESTRUCTION OF WOLVES, ETC.

Sec.

1. Prescribes amounts to be paid for the killing of certain wild animals.
2. Payment of claims; how made; proof.
3. Commissioners court may reject claims on insufficient proof; destruction of scalps.
4. Commissioners court to make item-

5. Appropriation to carry out this act.
6. Repeals chapter 119, act approved April 2, 1887.
7. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 100.—[H. B. No. 129.] An act to protect stockraisers, farmers, and Horticulturists, providing for the destruction of wolves and other wild animals; to make an appropriation therefor. and to repeal chapter 119 relating to same subject, approved April 2, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter when any person shall kill any wolf, either Cayote, or Lobo, Panther, Mexican Lion, Tiger, Leopard, Wild Cat, Catamount or Jack Rabbit, he shall be paid in the county in which he kills such animal or animals the sum of two dollars for each cayote, and the sum of one dollar for each wild cat or catamount, and the sum of five dollars for each panther, lobo, mexican lion, tiger or leopard, and the sum of one dollar per dozen for jack rabbits and fifty cents per dozen for prairie dogs so killed.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of each county in this State shall order to be paid to the person or persons having killed any of said animals in their respective counties as fixed in section one of this act, upon their exhibiting the scalp or scalps of the animal or animals so killed by him or them, to the commissioners court of said county, accompanied by the written affidavit of such person or persons, stating when and where such animal or animals were killed, the kind of each, and that affiant or affiants, and no other, killed said animal or animals; provided, that no money shall be paid for any scalp which was taken from an animal that was killed prior to the taking effect of this act.

Sec. 3. The scalps named in section 2, of this act shall consist of a sufficient portion of the hide of the animal killed, including the ears thereof, to enable the court to determine the kind of animal killed, and said court shall in all cases, where it is not satisfied of the truth of the matters set forth in said affidavit, reject any and all claims: The said court shall slit each ear of the scalps as received and destroy the same as soon as warrant shall have issued for the payment of said scalps, but shall cause the affidavit mentioned herein to be filed by the clerk of said county for inspection of the public for two years from date of filing.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the commissioners court of the several counties of this State, at each regular session of each year, to make an itemized statement showing the several amounts paid, to whom and when paid, by order of said court under this provision of this act: said statement shall be entered upon the minutes of said court, and a certified copy of such statement shall be transmitted by the clerk of said court to the Comptroller of the State. Upon receipt of said certified copy by the Comptroller, it shall be his duty to draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer for one half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of the aggregate amount paid out by such county, under the provisions of this act, as shown by said certified copy of statement, payable to the Treasurer of said county, which said amount, when received by the County Treasurer, shall be by him credited one-half to the fund of the first class, and one-half of the fund of the third class of said county.

Sec. 5. The sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, upon which the Comptroller shall draw his warrant as required in section four of this act; provided that the exhaustion of the appropriation herein made shall terminate the liability of the State, and absolve it from any future claims of any and all persons who may have claims, real or pretended, under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 6. Chapter 119, entitled, "an act to protect stock raisers, providing for the destruction of wolves and other wild animals, approved April 2, 1887," be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 7. Whereas, there is now no adequate law for the protection of stock-raisers, farmers and horticulturists against the destruction of wild animals; and whereas, a great number of cattle, sheep, swine, colts and other stock, as well as poultry are being daily destroyed and other damages incurred throughout the stock raising and agricultural portions of the State, and the public good requires immediate relief therefore, an emergency and public necessity exists that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same—vote not given; and passed the Senate—vote not given.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the eleventh day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the House in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the Constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

PRIVATE CORPORATIONS.

- Sec. 1. Amends article 566, chapter 2, title 20, R. S., as amended by act of April 30, 1888.—Purposes for which private corporations may be formed.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 101.—[S. S. B. No. 100.] An act to amend an act entitled "an act to amend article 566, chapter 2, title 20, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by the twentieth Legislature, approved March 23, 1887, and as amended at the special session of the twentieth Legislature, approved April 30, 1888.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 566 of chapter 2, title 20, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by the twentieth Legislature, approved March 23rd, 1887, and as amended at the special session of the twentieth Legislature, approved April 30, 1888, be so amended to hereafter read as follows:

Article 566. The purposes for which private corporations may be formed are:

1. The support of public worship.
2. The support of any benevolent, charitable, educational or missionary undertaking.
3. The support of any literary undertaking, the maintenance of a library or the promotion of painting, music and other fine arts.
4. The encouragement of agriculture and horticulture by associations for the maintenance of public fairs and exhibitions of stock and farm products.

5. The maintenance of a public or private cemetery.
6. The construction and maintenance of any species of road and bridges in connection therewith.
7. The construction and maintenance of a bridge which may be used for any or all modes of travel and transportation.
8. The construction and maintenance of a telegraph and telephone line.
9. The establishment and maintenance of a ferry.
10. The establishment and maintenance of a line of stages.
11. The building and navigation of steamboats and vessels, and the carriage of persons and property thereon.
12. The supply of water to the public.
13. The manufacture and supply of gas, and the supply of light, heat and electric motor power or either of them, to the public by any means.
14. The transaction of any manufacturing or mining business.
15. The transaction of a printing or publishing business and in connection therewith, the sale of goods, wares and merchandise of a stationery and blank book manufacturing business.
16. The establishment and maintenance of a hotel.
17. The erection of buildings and accumulation and loan of funds for the purchase and sale of real property in cities, towns and villages and their suburbs.
18. The transportation of goods, wares and merchandise or of any valuable thing.
19. The promotion of immigration.
20. The construction and maintenance of sewers.
21. For the constructing, acquiring, maintaining and operating street railways and suburban or belt lines of railway within and near cities and towns, which may also construct, own and operate union depots. But no street railway company shall ever be exempt from the payment of assessments that may be legally levied or charged against it for street improvements.
22. The erection and maintenance of market houses and market places.
23. The construction and maintenance of canals for the purpose of irrigation, navigation and manufacturing.
24. The purchase and sale of goods, wares and merchandise, and agricultural and farm products. The number of persons incorporating for such purposes shall in no instance be less than ten, nor shall any person hold or own more than $500 of such stock; and any person holding or owning more than $500 of such stock shall be liable for all the debts of such corporation.
25. For the purpose of buying and selling goods, wares and merchandise of any description by wholesale; but the limitations upon stock and stockholders in corporations created under subdivision 24 of this article shall not apply to corporations created under this subdivision.
26. The construction of harbors and canals on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico.
27. The growing, selling and purchasing of seeds, plants, trees, etc., for agricultural, horticultural and ornamental purposes.
28. The construction and maintenance of mills, gins, cotton compresses, grain elevators and wharfs.

29. The accumulation and loan of money; but this subdivision shall not permit incorporations with banking or discounting privileges.

30. The construction and maintenance of stockyards and pens.

31. The construction and maintenance of establishments for slaughtering, refrigerating, canning, curing and packing meat.

32. The construction and maintenance of establishments for the preserving and canning of fruits, vegetables and fish.

33. The establishment and maintenance of clearing houses.

34. To construct and maintain water power.

35. For the purpose of constructing railroads and bridges for railroad companies.

36. To support and maintain bicycle clubs and other innocent sports.

37. To act as trustee or assignee or receiver, when designated by any person, corporation or court so to do, and to do a general fiduciary and depository business. To act as surety and guarantor of the fidelity of employees. To act as executor and testamentary guardian when designated as such by a decedent. Provided, that each corporation organized under this section shall publish in some newspaper of general circulation in the county where such company is organized, on the first day of February of each year, a statement of its condition on the previous thirty first day of December, showing under oath its assets and liabilities, and that a copy of this statement be filed with the Commissioner of insurance, statistics and history, and a fee of $25 is paid to that officer for filing the same, and that an examination of its affairs be made at any time by the Commissioner of insurance, statistics and history; such examination to be at the expense of the company.

38. For establishing transportation companies with power to buy, construct, lease, own, operate, maintain and convey all kinds of steamships, vessels and other water crafts, and may navigate the same between all ports of the globe and upon rivers; and construct, buy, lease, own, maintain, operate and convey warehouses, docks and wharves, and to buy, lease, receive, own, hold and enjoy real and personal property necessary in the transaction of its business; to receive, purchase, hold, use and convey such rights, privileges, franchises and property, and to exercise, beyond the jurisdiction of this State, such powers as may be granted to or conferred upon it by any foreign government, state or municipality; to have officers and agents and to maintain offices at all points at which the company may do business; to act as principal or agent in buying and selling merchandise in all foreign countries; to carry passengers, freight, express and mail.

39. The establishment of land companies to buy, own, sell and convey real estate in any state or foreign country; but such company shall only own such real estate in this State as may be necessary for its office.

Sec. 2. The large number of bills now pending before the Legislature, and the advanced state of the session, and the large number of enterprises in Texas now doing business in Texas, but desiring to incorporate under the laws of Texas, create an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring all bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same March 5, 1891—vote not given: and passed the House April 3, 1891—vote not given.]

RAILROADS—RELIEF OF.

Sec.

1. Certain railroads relieved from operation of articles 605 and 4278, R. S.; confirmation of incorporation, etc.; does not revive claim on subscriptions.
2. Time for construction extended; cor-

Sec.

- porate existence, rights, etc., restored; applies only where fifty miles have been constructed; does not revive any claim against the State for land or other privileges.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 102.—[S. S. B.'s. for H. B.'s. Nos. 16 and 109.] An act to relieve railroad companies chartered under the Revised Statutes of Texas, which have in good faith constructed any part of their roads prior to the first day of January, 1889, from the operation of articles 605 and 4278 of the Revised Statutes as to the roads so constructed, and to relieve railway companies which have constructed fifty miles or more of railroad from the operation of said articles and of article 4114 of the Revised Statutes for two years.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any railroad company incorporated under title 84 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas since the first day of January, 1881, which may have constructed at any [time] before January first, 1889, any part of the railroad which it was incorporated to construct, as to such railroad so constructed it is hereby relieved from the operation of article 605 and 4278 of the Revised Statutes, and the subsequent amendments thereof, and as to such road is hereby constituted a corporation from the date of its articles of incorporation, with all the rights, powers, duties and liabilities prescribed by said title and other laws of the State, to the same extent as though said articles 605 and 4278 had never been contained therein, and all of the acts done, rights acquired and liabilities incurred, which but for said articles would have been valid, are hereby re-organized, ratified and confirmed. Provided, that this act shall not be so construed as to revive any claim of such company on subscriptions to its stock which may have been lost by failure to comply with the provisions of said articles.

Sec. 2. That the time in which any railroad or branch railroad is required to be constructed by article 4278 and the subsequent amendments thereof, or by 4114 of the Revised Statutes of Texas, is hereby extended for a period of two years from the time this act shall take effect and the corporate existence and powers or any part thereof of any railway company which may have been lost by failure to comply with said articles or either of them or the amendments thereto is hereby revived, restored and re-established, but after the expiration of said period and not before shall be subject to the operation and effect of said articles. Provided, this section shall only apply to railway companies which have constructed and operated fifty miles or more of railroad. Provided, nothing herein shall revive any claim against the State for land or revive any claim for any other privilege than that of constructing and operating its road.

Sec. 3. The fact that there are existing railway corporations which have lost the right of extending their railroad or branches, and that it is to the interest of the State that they should have the right to extend, and the near approach of the end of the session creates an imperative public emergency that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the eleventh day of April, A. RAILROADS—SEPARATE COACHES REQUIRED.

Sec. 1. Amends section 6, act of March, 1891.

(6.) Instances wherein this act does not apply.

CHAP. 103.—[S. B. No. 365.] An Act to amend section 6 of an act entitled "An act to require railroad companies in this State to provide separate coaches for white and negro passengers, and to prohibit passengers from riding in coaches other than those set apart for their race, and to confer certain powers upon conductors, and to provide penalties for the violation of this act, passed by the Twenty-second Legislature, and approved March, 1891.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 6 of the above entitled act be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 6. The provisions of this act shall not be so construed as to prohibit nurses from traveling in the same coach with their employers, or employees upon the train in the discharge of their duties, nor shall it be construed to apply to such freight trains as carry passengers in cabooses, neither shall it apply to street and suburban railway cars; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent railroad companies in this State from hauling sleeping cars or chair cars attached to their trains to be used exclusively by either white or negro passengers, separately but not jointly.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is so suspended and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the eleventh day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

5. Right to construct docks, wharves, etc.; tolls, control subject to railroad commission; railroad between mainland and deep water harbor, rights and control of; exercise of rights under this act deemed contract with State; forfeiture.
6. Exercise of rights herein granted shall not hinder completion of railroad on Harbor Island.
7. Release required to be filed by the corporation.
8. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 104.—[S. B. No. 346.] An Act to encourage the construction and maintenance of deep water harbors, navigable channels, docks and wharves on the gulf coast within the State of Texas, and to define the rights and duties, and fix the liabilities of the corporations that may acquire land or privileges under this act.

Whereas, Deep water harbors, navigable channels, docks and wharves on the gulf coast of Texas are of great importance to the development and prosperity to the State of Texas and the entire northwest; now, therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any corporation organized under the laws of Texas, which is now authorized or which may hereafter be authorized by an act of Congress of the United States to construct, own, operate or maintain with private capital, a deep water harbor, navigable channel, docks or wharves on the gulf coast of Texas, shall be permitted to purchase from the State of Texas at two dollars per acre so much of any public lands, islands, shores or shallow bays belonging to the State of Texas that may be situated within one-half mile from any point or points on the construction works of any jetties or any such deep water channel leading into the main harbor from the open sea; provided, that in no case shall such strip or body of land be more than one-half mile in width, and such person, company or corporation may also purchase from the State at the same price per acre any lands, shores, islands or shallow bays within one-fourth mile of each side of every navigable channel, that such company or corporation may construct through or across such shallow bays in the prosecution of such work.

Sec. 2. Any such company or corporation owning in whole or in part any lands fronting or abutting upon any shallow bays in which any such work is being constructed, may purchase at the same price per acre any lands, shores or shallow bays adjoining and lying in front of such lands; provided, that such purchase shall not extend into such bay so as to include land covered with water having an average depth of more than three and one-half feet at mean low tide. That the purchasers under the provisions of this section shall not extend a greater distance along the front of the survey on the shore than three miles nor a greater distance into the bay than one-half mile; provided, that the islands known as Tolly island and Lydia Ann islands, situated in Aransas Bay, shall not be subject to purchase under the provisions of this act; provided, that one-half of the proceeds of the sale of the lands as provided for in this act shall belong to the permanent free school fund of this State.

Sec. 3. All applications of a purchaser to buy under the provisions of this act shall be made in writing to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, accompanied by one-fifth of the purchase money, and also by a copy of the act of Congress authorizing the construction of such deep water harbor, navigable channel, docks or wharves, and a complete plat or map showing the location and design of such improvements, and said plat or map shall also show the public lands, shores, islands and shallow bays applied for, and the depths of such shallow bays in feet, determined by actual survey or as shown by the United States coast survey map.

Sec. 4. Upon the payment of one-fifth of the purchase money as hereinbefore provided, the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall issue a receipt therefor, and attach thereto a copy of the application and plat filed by said purchaser, which said receipt shall be sufficient authority to the proper county surveyor to survey the lands, shores, islands or shallow bays sold; provided, that the remainder of the purchase money may be paid at any time within five years after date of first payment, and deferred payments shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum payable annually. If any individual, association of individuals, company or corporation purchasing any land, island or shallow water bays, under this act shall fail to secure twenty feet of water over the bar between the Gulf of Mexico and the main harbor within five years from the date of such purchase and maintain said twenty feet of water continuously for two years, then all such rights shall revert to the State. If the purchaser of any island, shallow water bay, land or either under this act, shall fail to pay the annual interest upon any part of the purchase money when such interest shall become due, or if such purchaser shall fail to pay the principal when the same shall become due, then all rights acquired under such purchases shall be forfeited with all payments made thereon, without any judicial ascertainment of such forfeiture, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall indorse upon the contract of purchase, that the same is forfeited, whereby all rights so acquired shall be forfeited and revert to the State. If any such corporation shall fail to conform to the act of Congress in prosecuting such work or if such corporation shall fail to secure twenty feet of water at low tide upon the bars and other obstructions between the main harbor and the Gulf of Mexico within five years after the date at which this act shall take effect, if such corporation now exist, or within five years of the date of the filing of the charter of any such company hereafter to be formed, then all islands, lands, shallow bays and other rights acquired under this act shall be forfeited and shall revert to and vest in the State of Texas.

Sec. 5. Any corporation organized under the laws of this State which has such authority as mentioned in the first section of this act conferred upon it by act of the Congress of the United States, may construct, own and maintain, upon the gulf coast of Texas, in connection with its deep water harbor and navigable channels, docks and wharves and navigable channels for the accommodation of commerce, and such corporation may charge, demand and receive reasonable and just tolls, and charge for the use of such docks and wharves; but all navigable channels so constructed shall forever remain open and free to all vessels without fee or charge; the tolls and charges for the use of said docks and wharves shall be equal, just and uniform to all vessels, persons and corporations without discrimination as to amount charged or delay in handling the same, and all such tolls and charges shall be under the control of the Legislature of the State of Texas; and until otherwise directed by the Legislature shall be subject to control and regulation by the Railroad Commission under the rules prescribed for the regulation of railroads so far as applicable. Any railroad or other means of transportation which may be constructed between the mainland and any deep water harbor or channel shall be a public highway, and all rates and charges for the transportation of freights and passengers thereon shall be subject to the control and regulation of the Railroad Commission as a railroad: such railroad or other means of transportation shall receive from each and every ship, boat and vessel or from the wharf on which the same is discharged, all freights and passengers and transport and deliver them to the consignee or any connecting line of railroad without discrimination as to charges or delay in transportation and delivery, and shall in like manner receive from every person and from every connecting line of railroad all freight and passengers and transport and deliver the same to each and every ship, boat, vessel, person or corporation for delivery to such ship, boat or vessel on like equal and just terms without discrimination as to charges and delay in transportation or delivery thereof. Nothing herein shall be construed to affect any rights acquired before the passage of this act. The acceptance of this act or the exercise of any rights or privileges granted in this act by said corporation or any person or corporation holding under the same, shall be deemed and held to be a contract with the State; that any wilful violation of the provisions of this act, or the doing of any act herein prohibited, shall work a forfeiture of all rights acquired under this act so far as then held or claimed by the person or corporation guilty of such violation.

Sec. 6. The privileges and rights granted in this act shall never be exercised so as to in any way hinder or interfere with the completion of any railroad heretofore chartered to be built to and upon Harbor Island, in and upon the location designated in such charter; nor with any such railroads acquiring and controlling all necessary depot grounds, wharf grounds and deep water fronts that it may or could have acquired legally, had not this act been enacted.

Sec. 7. Before any rights can vest in any corporation by virtue of any purchase of public lands, islands, shores or shallow bays, the said corporation shall file with the Secretary of State a release to the State of Texas of all claim or right to have its tolls or charges imposed for any use to be made of such property or structures thereon regulated by any act of Congress now existing or hereafter to be passed.

Sec. 8. And whereas, deep water improvements are of vital importance to the country, and whereas, the present Legislature will not likely remain long in session, now, therefore, an imperative public necessity and an emergency exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the rule is suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 21 yeas and 4 nays; and passed the House by a vote of 61 yeas and 20 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the eleventh day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

RAILROADS—BRANCH LINES OF.

Sec. 1. Amends article 4113, R. S.

Article 4113. Company may locate, construct, etc., branch lines; certain articles of incorporation validated.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 105.—[H. B. No. 482.] An Act to amend article 4113 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, and to validate all charter amendments in accordance with the article as amended.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 4113 of the Revised Statutes of Texas shall hereafter read as follows:

Article 4113. Any railroad company may by its original articles of incorporation or by amendment to its charter project and provide for the locating, constructing, owning and operating of branch lines from any points on its main line or from any points on its branch lines (constructed or projected) to any other points, making an angle of at least 25 degrees in the general course from the main line (if the branch commence from the same), or from the branch line, if it commence at a point on the same; provided, that the same may commence at the terminus of a branch line and continue in its general course, and may by amendment to its charter provide for the continuation in its general course of the main line; that any and all amendments of charters, acts or articles of incorporation approved by the Attorney General of the State or his lawful representative, by which any branch railroad or railroads has or have been constructed in accordance with the provisions of this article as herein provided, are authorized, validated, sanctioned and confirmed to the same extent as though this article had always read as it does as now amended.

Sec. 2. The fact that there is now no clear and adequate provision for the construction of branch lines of railroads and the near approach of the end of the session creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the same is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith. Secretary of State.]

COUNTY FINANCES.

- Sec. 1. Amends section 1, chapter 79, of Twenty-first Legislature, approved April 4, 1889.
 Commissioners court authorized to compromise indebtedness created prior to January 1, 1891; may issue bonds.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 106.—[S. B. No. 336.] An Act to amend section 1 of chapter 79 of an act passed at the regular session of the 21st Legislature, approved April 4, 1889, entitled an act to authorize counties to fund their indebtedness and to provide means to pay the same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 1 of chapter 79, of an act passed at the regular session of the 21st Legislature, approved April 4, 1889, entitled "an act to authorize counties to fund their indebtedness and to provide means to pay the same," be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

That the county Commissioners court of any county in this State is hereby authorized and empowered to compromise, compound, refund, settle with and to fund any existing indebtedness lawfully made and undertaken by such county by authority of law created prior to January 1st, 1891, and for this purpose the said Commissioners courts are hereby authorized and empowered to issue bonds in denomination of not less than five hundred dollars with interest coupons payable annually, said bonds to become due and payable in twenty years from the date of their issuance; provided that said bonds may be paid off at any time after two years from the date of their issuance if the Commissioners court should so elect, and provided further that such bonds shall not be sold for less than their face or par value, said bonds to bear interest not exceeding six per cent per annum. And the said Commissioners court are further authorized and empowered to levy a tax upon all real and personal property situated in the county, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the hundred dollars on the assessed value of such property in any one year to pay the annual interest, and not less than two per cent annually of the principal of said bonds, besides the expense of assessing and collecting the same, and no bonds shall be issued under this act until a levy as herein provided shall have been made, and when such levy shall have been so made, the same shall continue in force until the whole amount of the principal and interest shall have been fully paid. Provided that nothing herein shall be construed to authorize any county to levy any tax in excess of that authorized by the constitution and laws now in force; provided further, that it shall not authorize the taking up of bonds heretofore issued and issuing new bonds in lieu thereof unless such new bonds shall bear a less rate of interest than the bonds so taken up.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of this session creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists, requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read three several days be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 24 yeas and no nays; and passed the House—vote not given.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

TAXATION—CITIES AND TOWNS.

Sec. 1. Amends article 522, chapter 11, title 17, R. S.

Article 522. May levy annual occupation, poll and ad valorem taxes; rate of.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 107.—[S. B. No. 320.] An Act to amend article 522, chapter 11, title 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 522, chapter 11, title 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, shall be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 522. The board of aldermen shall have power to levy and collect an occupation tax of not more than one half the amount levied by the State; also to levy taxes on persons and property, real and personal, within the corporation, subject to taxation by the laws of the State; but the tax on persons and property shall not in any one year exceed the rate of one-fourth of one per cent on the one hundred dollars valuation.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 21 yeas and no nays; and passed the house—vote not given.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. CITIES AND TOWNS—RIGHT OF EMINENT DOMAIN.

Sec. 1. Amends section 1, act of April 8, 1889.

(1.) Proceedings to condemn private property for public use.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 108.—[S. B. No. 311.] An act to amend section 1 of an act approved April 8th, 1889 to amend an act to regulate the condemnation of property in cities and towns for the purpose of opening, widening or changing public streets, avenues or alleys or or water mains or sewers, approved March 28th 1883, so as to regulate condemnation of property for erection thereon of hospitals and pest houses.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 1 of the above entitled act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 1. That whenever the city council of any incorporated city or town shall deem it necessary to take any private property in order to open, change or widen any public street, avenue or alley or for the construction of water mains or supply reservoirs or stand pipes for water works or sewers or for the purpose of establishing thereon one or more hospitals or pest houses within or without the limits of such city or town, such property may be taken for such purposes by making just compensation to the owner thereof. If the amount of such compensation can not be agreed upon it shall be the duty of such city council to cause to be stated in writing the real estate or property sought to be taken, the name of the owner thereof and his residence if known, and file such statement with the County Judge of the county in which said property is situated. Any company or corporation chartered under the laws of this State for the purpose of constructing water works or furnishing water supply for any town or city shall have the same right to condemn property necessary for the construction of supply reservoirs or stand pipes for waterworks, when deemed necessary to preserve the public health that is given towns and cities under this act.

Sec. 2. The fact that there is no law regulating the condemnation of property for the purpose of erecting thereon hospitals or pest houses, and the near approach of the close of the session creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring all bills to be read on three several days and that this act take effect and be in force and take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 24 yeas and no nays; and passed the House—vote not given.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. ARANSAS COUNTY—BOUNDARIES OF.

Preamble.

Sec.

Sec.

Defines county boundary lines.

1. Repeals act of March 17, 1887, and amends article 711, Revised Statutes.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 109.—[H. B. No. 43.] An act to repeal an act entitled, "An act to amend article 711 of the Revised Civil Statutes defining the boundary of Aransas county," approved March 17, 1887, and to re-enact the former boundary of said county.

Whereas, the twentieth Legislature of this State, by an act approved March 17, 1887, so amended article 711 of the Revised Civil Statutes defining the boundary of Aransas county as to detach from San Patricio county and annex to Aransas county, more than eighty square miles of territory, without the proposition for such change having been first submitted to a vote of the people of both counties as prescribed by the constitution of this State; and.

Whereas, the detaching of said territory from the county of San Patricio, in further violation of the constitution of this State, reduces the area of said county of San Patricio far below the minimum area of seven hundred square miles; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the act entitled, "an act to amend article 711 of the Revised Civil Statutes, defining the boundary of Aransas county," approved March 17, 1887, be and the same is hereby repealed, and that article 711 of the Revised Civil Statutes be so amended as to read as follows:

Beginning at the boundary of the State, on the Gulf of Mexico, opposite the center of the channel of Aransas Pass, between the islands of Saint Joseph and Mustang; thence with the line between the counties of San Patricio and Refugio to the center of Aransas river; thence down the center of said stream to Capano bay; thence with the channel of said bay parallel with the shore to the east end of the same, at the mouth of Capano creek; thence up said creek to the mouth of Alamito creek; thence in a direct line to the southeast corner of J. C. Salberg's survey on Esperitu Santo bay; thence in a direct line to Cedar Bayou; thence through said bayou to the boundary of the State on the Gulf of Mexico; thence with said boundary of the State to the place of beginning; the same as it was prior to the passage of said act of March 17, 1887.

Sec. 2. The fact that there is a conflict of jurisdiction between said counties of Aransas and San Patricio, within the territory detached from the county of San Patricio and attached to the county of Aransas by said act of March 17, 1887, and that both of said counties are now seeking to enforce the collection of taxes in said territory, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 71 ayes and 6 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 27 yeas and 1 nay.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

SUNDAY LAW.

Sec. 1. Amends article 186a, Penal Code, approved April 2, 1887; exemptions.

CHAP. 110.—[H. B. No. 214.] An Act to amend article 186a of an act to amend article 183 of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, and to amend an act entitled an act to amend article 186 of the Penal Code, approved April 10, A. D. 1883, chapter 2, title 7, and to amend said chapter and title by adding thereto article 186a, providing additional exemptions from the operation of the Sunday Law, approved April 2, 1887, so as to leave off the exemption of "barber shops."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 186a of the Penal Code of Texas, approved April 2nd, 1887, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 186a. The preceding article shall not apply to markets or dealers in provisions as to sales of provisions made by them before 9 o'clock a. m., nor to the sale of burial or shrouding material, newspapers, ice, ice cream, milk, nor to the sending of telegraph or telephone messages at any hour of the day, nor to keepers of drug stores, hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, livery stables, bath houses, or ice dealers, nor to telegraph or telephone offices.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. R. Curl, Chief Clerk and Acting Secretary of State.]

|--|---|

CHAP. 111.—[H. B. No. 638.] An Act to create a more efficient road system in the county of Lavaca and to provide for the appointment of road overseers therein and to define the powers and jurisdiction of the commissioners court of said county with regard thereto.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioners court of Lavaca county may appoint a convenient number of road overseers in said county who shall hold their offices for two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified.

Sec. 2. The road overseers so appointed shall perform all of the duties required of overseers under the general laws of this State and such other duties as may be required of them by the Commissioners court of said county and shall receive such compensation as the Commissioners court may prescribe not to exceed one dollar and fifty cents per day for the time actually engaged.

Sec. 3. Each overseer shall, within twenty days after his appointment, take the oath prescribed in the constitution, and enter into bond payable to the County Judge in such sum as may be fixed by the Commissioners court, to be approved by the County Judge, conditioned that he will faithfully discharge all of the duties incumbent upon him as such road overseer and pay out and account for all the money that may come into his hands according to law and the requirements of the commissioners court, which bond shall not be void on the first recovery, but may be sued on from time to time until the full amount is exhausted.

Sec. 4. The Commissioners court may for good cause remove any overseer and in case of vacancy from any cause may fill the same by appointment.

Sec. 5. Each road overseer shall take charge of all tools, implements and teams placed under his control by the Commissioners court and execute his receipt therefor which shall be filed with the County Clerk, and he shall be responsible for all such tools, teams, implements and machinery and the proper expenditures and paying out of all money belonging to the road fund that may come into his hands, and shall be liable for the loss, injury or destruction of any such tools, teams, implements, or machinery, if the result of his negligence, or for the wrongful or improper expenditure of such money, and upon the expiration of his term of office, or in case of his resignation or removal he shall deliver all such money and property to his successor or such other person as the commissioners court may direct.

Sec. 6. The Commissioners court shall require all county convicts not otherwise employed to labor upon the public roads under such regulations as may be most expedient. Each county convict worked on the roads in satisfaction of any fine and cost, shall receive a credit thereon of fifty cents for each day he may labor, and the county shall pay to the officers one-half of any cost that may have been adjudged against such convict coming to such officers. The Commissioners court may grant a reasonable commutation of time for faithful services and good behavior.

Sec. 7. The overseers may contract with any person subject to road duty for the use of teams, and permit such person to discharge his road duty by the use of such double team; he shall never allow more than $2.00 per day for any team, nor more than $3.00 for any hand and double team.

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of each road overseer to see that all of the roads and bridges in his road precinct are kept in good repair and see that every person subject to road duty in his road precinct performs the work for which he is liable under the law. He shall act as supervisor of the roads in his road precinct and perform all the duties as supervisor that now devolves upon the commissioner; and the county commissioners of said county are relieved from the performance of the duties prescribed by article 4390a, Revised Civil Statutes.

Sec. 9. Each road overseer shall make a report under oath to the Commissioners court every six months showing an itemized statement of all money belonging to the road fund he has received, from whom received, and what disposition he has made of the same, the condition of all roads and bridges in his road precinct and such other matters as the court may require information upon and shall make such other reports at such times as such court may require.

Sec. 10. Any road overseer who shall wilfully fail or refuse to comply with any provisions of this act or order of the Commissioners court or to perform any duty required of him by law shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof punished by fine of not less than ten nor more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 11. This act shall be cumulative of all general laws on the subject of roads and bridges not in conflict herewith, and where not otherwise provided herein, such general laws shall apply, but in case of conflict with general laws the provisions of this act shall govern.

Sec. 12. The fact that there is now no sufficient road law in Lavaca county and that the roads therein are in bad condition, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and said rule is suspended, and it is so enacted.

1. Certified copy of articles of incorporation to be filed with Commissioner of Insurance, etc.
2. Copy of by-laws and names and residences of directors and statement of assets and liabilities and amount of capital stock, to be filed.
3. Capital stock required.
4. Amount of deposit of money or securities with state treasurer required; proof of value of real estate.
5. Deposit, or real estate, subject to judgments against the corporation; not permitted to withdraw deposit or sell the real estate pending suit, or while any judgment is unsatisfied.
6. Service of process, on whom made.

Sec.

7. Commissioner of Insurance, etc., shall issue certificate to corporation to transact business.
8. Who are agents under this act.
9. Penalty for acting as agent before certificate is issued to the corporation.
10. Penalty against corporation for acting without certificate of authority.
11. Statement required when corporation refuses to further guarantee fidelity of any person; penalty.
12. If corporation fails to comply with section 11, certificate to be revoked.
13. Corporations created for purposes mentioned in section 1, declared charged with a public use.
14. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 112.—[S. B. No. 276.] An Act to regulate corporations engaged in the business of guaranteeing, or acting as security for the fidelity of persons in public and private offices, employments or positions, and the agents of such corporations, and prescribing penalties for failure to comply with the provisions thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter any corporation, organized or created under the laws of this State, or of any other State or Territory, or of any municipality of such State or Territory, or of any foreign government, sovereignty or municipality, for the purpose of issuing surety, guaranty or indemnity bonds, guaranteeing the fidelity of persons in private offices, employments, or positions of trusts and contracts, or for acting as security on any such bonds, shall file with the Commissioner of insurance, statistics, history and agriculture a certified copy of its articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted that such corporation shall file with the certified copy of articles of incorporation and amendments thereto, a copy of its by laws, together with the names and places of residence of its officers and directors and a statement of its assets and liabilities, showing its net capital stock and of what it consists, certified to by the president or secretary thereof.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted that no such corporation shall transact any business in this State unless it is possessed of at least one hundred thousand dollars actual capital stock; and if the capital stock of such corporation consists, either in whole or in part, of bonds, mortgages, securities or other property than money, the Commissioner of insurance, statistics, history and agriculture, shall require satisfactory evidence that the market value thereof is at least one hundred thousand dollars.

Sec. 4. Be it further enacted that such corporation shall, before the certificate of authority, hereafter provided for, is issued, deposit with the treasurer of his State, money or bonds or other securities, to be approved by the Commissioner of insurance, statistics, history and agriculture to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars, or shall produce satisfactory proof that such corporation owns real estate in this State the value of which shall not be less than twenty five thousand dollars.

Sec. 5. Be it further enacted that the deposit or real estate required by the preceding section shall be held liable to pay any judgments that may be rendered against such corporation; and may be so decreed by the court rendering judgment against it. Nor shall such company be permitted to withdraw its deposit from the State treasury or to sell its real estate while any suit is pending or any judgment against it in this State remains unsatisfied.

Sec. 6. Be it further enacted, that such corporation shall file with the certified copy of its articles of incorporation a power of attorney, under its corporate seal, authorizing the Commissioner of insurance, statistics, history and agriculture, or some designated agent, to accept service of any civil process for and on behalf of such corporation, and consenting that the service of any civil process upon the Commissioner of insurance, statistics, history and agriculture, or designated agent, as the case may be, in any suit or proceeding in which the corporation is a party, shall be taken and held to be valid. Said power of attorney shall be embodied in a resolution duly adopted by such corporation, and shall be signed by the president, manager or secretary thereof officially. If any agent other than the Commissioner of insurance, statistics, history and agriculture be designated by said power of attorney, he shall be a citizen of this State, and his full name and place of residence shall be stated in the power of attorney.

Sec. 7. Be it further enacted than when any such corporation has complied with the provisions of this act, the Commissioner of insurance, statistics, history and agriculture shall issue his certificate of authority authorizing said corporation to transact business in this State.

Sec. 8. Be it further enacted, that any person who solicits business for or on behalf of such corporation or makes or transmits for any person other than himself any application for guaranty or security, or who advertises or otherwise gives notice that he will receive or transmit the same, or who shall receive or deliver a contract of guaranty or security, or who shall examine or investigate the character of any applicant for guaranty or security than himself, or who shall refer any applicant for guaranty or security to such corporation, whether any of said act shall be done at the instance and request or by the employment of such corporation, or other corporation or person, or any person who shall issue indemnifying bonds of contracts, whose solvency and compliance with his said bonds or obligations is guaranteed, directly or indirectly, by any corporation, shall be held to be the agents of the corporation so far as relates to all the liabilities and penalties prescribed by this act.

Sec. 9. Be it further enacted, that any person who shall perform any of the acts or things mentioned in the preceding section for any such corporation, without such corporation having first complied with the provisions of this act, and having received the certificate of authority from the Commissioner of insurance, statistics, history and agriculture as provided in section 7 of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction for the first offense shall be fined in any sum not less than five hundred dollars, and not more than one thousand dollars and imprisoned in the county jail for the period of three months, and for each subsequent offense such person shall be fined in any sum not less than one thousand dollars and not more than two thousand dollars, and confined in the county jail for a period of six months.

Sec. 10. Be it further enacted, that any person, association of persons or corporation, who shall accept any corporation created for the purposes, or either of them, mentioned in section 1 of this act, without such corporation having previously complied with the provisions and requirements of this act, and having received from the Commissioner of insurance, statistics, history and agriculture, the certificate of authority provided for in section 7 of this act, shall forfeit as a penalty the sum of five hundred dollars, to be recovered by suit in the name of the State in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 11. Be it further enacted, that when any such corporation shall cancel a bond of guaranty or indemnity, or shall notify the employer of the person whose fidelity is guaranteed, that said corporation will no longer guarantee or be security for the fidelity of said person, or when said corporation has once guaranteed the fidelity of any person, or acted as security therefor, and on application refuses to do so again, it shall furnish to such person a full statement in writing of the facts on which the action of the corporation is based, and if such action be based in whole or in part on information, all such information, together with the name or names of the informants, with their place of residence, and any such corporation failing or refusing to furnish such written statement within thirty days after a request therefor, shall be liable to the person injured in the sum of five hundred dollars, in addition to all other damages caused thereby, which may be sued for and recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 12. Be it further enacted, that if any such corporation shall fail or refuse to comply with the provisions of section 11 of this act, the Commissioner [of] insurance, statistics and agriculture shall revoke the certificate of authority issued to said corporation.

Sec. 13. Be it further enacted, that corporations created for the purposes mentioned in section 1 of this act are hereby declared to be charged with a public use.

Sec. 14. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature and the unjust discrimination now existing against employees of railroad companies, bonded by foreign companies, engaged in business in this State, creates an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the same is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—SEVENTEENTH AND FORTY-EIGHTH.

Sec.

1. Amends sections 1 and 2, act of February 6, 1891.

(1.) Boundaries of seventeenth district; terms of court.

Sec.

(2.) Boundaries of forty-eighth district; terms of court.

3. [2] Emergency clause.

CHAP. 113.—[S. B. No. 390.] An act to amend sections 1 and 2 of an act entitled an act to amend section 1 of an act entitled "an act to amend an act to amend an act entitled "an act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election, to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November 1884;" approved April 9, 1883; approved March 24, 1885; to create the forty third judicial district of the State of Texas, fix the time for holding court therein and to provide for the appointment of a district judge for said district, approved March 30, 1887; to create the forty eighth judicial district of the State of Texas, fix the times for holding court therein, and to fix the times for holding court in the seventeenth judicial district of the State of Texas, and to provide for the appointment of a district judge of the said forty eighth judicial district approved February 6, 1891.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 1 and 2 of the above recited act, approved Feby. 6, 1891, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 1. All that part of Tarrant county lying south and west of the following line, viz: Beginning at the center of Trinity river, at the point where said river leaves Tarrant county on its east boundary and enters Dallas county on its west boundary; thence in a westerly direction with the middle line of said river to the point where said river is crossed by the eastern boundary of the M. A. Jackson survey, the same being the western boundary of the James Sanderson survey; thence south with the east line of said Jackson and west line of said Sanderson surveys to the center of the track of the Texas and Pacific Railway; thence westward with the center of said railway track to the point where it intersects the center of Main street, in the City of Fort Worth; thence northerly with the center of main street to the center of the court house; thence north 30 degrees west to the intersection of the north boundary line of the A. Gouhenant survey; thence west with the north line of said Gouhenant survey to its northwest corner; thence south to the center of Trinity river; thence westward with the center of said river to Silver creek; thence westward with the center of Silver creek to the west boundary of Tarrant county, shall constitute the seventeenth Judicial District, and the district court shall be begun and held therein as follows: On the second Mondays in January, April and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Section 2. All that part of said Tarrant county lying north and east of the line as defined in the foregoing section of this act shall constitute the forty eighth judicial district, and the district court shall be begun and held therein as follows: On the second Mondays in February, May and October, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 3. The fact that there is but a short time until adjournment sine die of this Legislature renders it impossible that this bill may be read on three several days as required by the constitution, therefore an emergency exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days and it is so suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

LANDS—SALE AND LEASE OF SCHOOL AND OTHER PUBLIC LANDS.

Sec.

1. Amends sections 11, 14 and 15, act of April 1, 1889.
- (11.) Penalties for failure to pay interest when due.
- (14.) Lands to be leased by Commissioner of the General Land Office; terms.

Sec.

- (15.) Applications for lease, terms, etc.; leased land subject to sale, when; penalty for violating restrictions on grazing.
2. Emergency clause.

Chap. 114.—[S. H. B. No. 481.] An act to amend sections 11, 14 and 15 of an act to amend sections 5, 8, 11, 13, 14, 15, and 22, chapter 99, of an act entitled, "an act to provide for the sale of all lands heretofore or hereafter surveyed and set apart for the benefit of the public free schools, the University, and the several asylums, and the lease of such lands and of the public lands of the State, and to prevent the free use, occupancy, unlawful enclosure or unlawful appropriation of such lands, and to prescribe and provide adequate penalties therefor," approved April 1, 1887, approved April 8, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act to amend sections 5, 8, 11, 13, 14, 15 and 22, chapter 99, of an act to provide for the sale of all lands heretofore or hereafter surveyed and set apart for the benefit of the public free schools, the University and the several asylum lands and the lease of such lands and of the public lands of the State and to prevent the free use and occupancy, unlawful enclosure, or unlawful appropriation of such lands and to prescribe and provide adequate penalties therefor, approved April 1, 1887, approved April 8, 1889, be it so amended as to hereafter read as follows, to-wit:

Section 11. If upon the first day of November of any year the interest due on any obligation remains unpaid, the purchaser shall have until the first day of April following in which to pay said interest, and for said default said purchaser shall pay twenty per cent. penalty on said interest then past due; and if said purchaser shall fail to pay said past due interest and penalty on or before said first day of April the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall endorse on such obligation, "Land forfeited," and shall cause an entry to that effect to be made on the account kept with the purchaser, and thereupon said land shall be forfeited to the State without the necessity of re-entry or judicial ascertainment, and shall revert to the particular fund to which it originally belonged and be resold under the provisions of this act or any future law; provided, if any purchaser shall die, his heirs or legal representatives shall have one year in which to make payment after the first day of November next after such death; and if any purchaser shall fail to reside upon and improve in good faith the land purchased by him, he shall forfeit said land and payment thereon made to the State, in the same manner as for non-payment of interest, and such land shall again be for sale as if no such sale or forfeiture had occurred; or if he shall fail to make the proof of occupancy within the time and in the manner prescribed by the regulations of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, as provided for in section 9 of this act, he shall in like manner forfeit the land and all payments thereon to the State; provided further, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to inhibit the State from instituting such legal proceedings as may be necessary to enforce such forfeiture, or to protect any other right to such land, which suits may be instituted by the Attorney General under the direction of the Governor, in the proper court of the county in which the land lies; provided, this section shall be printed on the back of the receipt.

Section 14. The public lands and all lands belonging to the public free schools, asylums or university fund shall be leased by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, under the provisions of this act. All of such lands lying west of the Pecos river, and all of such lands lying south of the Texas and Pacific Railroad, except the counties of Concho, McCulloch, Coke, Sterling, Glasscock, Midland, Ector, Tom Green, Howard and Martin, and all university lands shall be leased for a period of not longer than ten years, and all other such lands lying north of the Colorado river, and north of the Texas and Pacific, and the counties hereinbefore excepted from the ten-year lease, shall be leased for a period not longer than five years, and the lessee shall pay an annual rental of four cents per acre for all lands leased; provided, that the university lands may be leased at three cents per acre per annum, which rental shall be paid each year in advance, the first payment to be made at the time the lease is executed, and if at the termination of any lease any of such lands are not in demand for actual settlement they may be again leased for another five years, and the lessees thereof, whose term of lease has expired, shall have the refusal of such land as he has been leasing on the terms and at the price that may be fixed therefor by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and all leases shall be executed under the hand and seal of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and shall be delivered to the lessee or his duly authorized agent, and such leases shall not take effect until the first payment of annual rent is paid and the lease duly filed for record in the county where the land lies, or to which it may be attached for judicial purposes, and it shall not be necessary for the Commissioner to acknowledge such lease before the same is placed on record.

Section 15. Any person desiring to lease any portion of public lands belonging to any of the funds mentioned in this act, the sale and lease of which is not provided for by any other law, shall make application in writing to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, specifying and describing the particular lands he desires to lease; thereupon, the Commissioner, if satisfied the lands are not in demand for purposes of actual settlement and that such lands can be leased without detriment to the public interest, shall notify the applicant in writing that his proposition to lease is accepted, and thereupon he shall execute and deliver to the lessee in the name of the State a lease of said land for such terms as may be agreed upon, not longer than the period of time fixed by this act, according to its location, and deliver the same to such lessee when satisfied that the lessee has paid to the Treasurer of the State the rental for one year in advance; no lands which are now, or which may hereafter be classified as grazing lands within the territory where ten years lease is authorized, as set forth in the preceding section of this act, shall be subject to sale during the term of the lease contract thereof, and the possession of the lessee shall not be disturbed during the term of his lease. All lands the lease of which is fixed by this act at not exceeding five years, shall be leased subject to sale; provided, that if any lessee has actually settled upon any section of land included in his lease, and erected thereon his residence and substantial improvements, for permanent settlement such section shall not be sold, nor shall such settler be disturbed during the term of his lease, and all leases of agricultural lands embraced in the territory where a lease not exceeding ten years is provided for in this act, shall be subject to sale to actual settlers, except when settlement and improvements are made as hereinbefore provided for in this section, by the lessee. In all cases when an actual settler may desire to settle on any grazing land, which may have been leased under a five year contract of lease, such actual settler shall first erect thereon substantial improvements of the value of not less than one hundred dollars, within four months after making his application to purchase. Satisfactory proof of which shall be made under such regulations as the Commissioner of the General Land Office may require; thereupon the land shall be awarded to him. In such case the lessee shall have a pro rata credit on his next years rental of any other lands which may be included in his lease contract, or the money for the unexpired year of the lease of such purchased portion of his leased lands refunded to him by the Treasurer of the State, as he may elect. No purchaser or other person than the lessee shall be permitted to turn loose within such leasehold more than one head of horses or mules or cattle, for any ten acres of land purchased, owned or controlled by him and unenclosed; or in lieu thereof, four head of sheep or goats to every ten acres so purchased, owned or controlled, and unenclosed. Each violation of this provision of this act, which restricts the number of stock that may be turned loose on lands leased from the State, shall be an offense, and the owner on conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one dollar for each head of stock he may so turn loose and each thirty days violation of the provisions of this section shall constitute a separate offense. None of the requirements for improvements to be made by an applicant to purchase shall be required of any person who shall desire to buy and settle upon any agricultural lands under lease made under the provisions of this act. In all cases where any lessee shall forfeit his contract of lease by failure to pay annually in advance the money due on his lease, whether such lease was heretofore, or may hereafter be made, and whether for a ten or five year lease, the lands embraced in any such contract shall thereafter be leased subject to sale as hereinbefore provided for.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session making it impossible for this bill to be read on three several days, a public emergency exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, said rule is therefore suspended.

Approved April 28, 1891.

LANDS—PATENTS FOR.

- Sec. 1. Patents to issue when fee has been deposited and not withdrawn.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 115.—[H. B. No. 538.] An act to provide for the issuance and delivery of patents to land when the legal fee has been once deposited, though lost by defalcation.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby authorized and required to issue and deliver all patents now or hereafter to be ready for issuance and delivery, to the person entitled to receive the same when it appears from the books of said office that the legal fee for said patent has been at any time heretofore deposited in said office, and not withdrawn.

Sec. 2. The fact that there are now many patents in the General Land Office ready for delivery, which cannot under existing law, be delivered without requiring double fee from the citizens, creates an emergency and a public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 75 yeas and 6 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 27 yeas and no nays.]

CHAP. 116.—[H. B. No. 106.] An act to provide for the issuance of certificates to teachers in the public schools of Texas, and prescribing their duties as such.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That three white teachers, holding first grade certificates, to be appointed by the county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent (provided in the absence of teachers holding first-grade certificates he may appoint any other competent persons), shall constitute the county board of examiners, and shall receive from each applicant examined for a certificate the sum of three dollars, which shall be deposited with the county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent when the application for examination is issued, and the county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent shall keep a record of all certificates issued by himself, and all other certificates and diplomas rendered legal by this act, held by teachers who are teaching in his county, giving the name, age, sex, color, nativity of the person and the date, grade and length of time of each certificate. No certificate shall be issued until there has been an examination as provided for in this act, and the questions and answers deposited with the county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent, and at least two members of the board must have been present during said examination.

Sec. 2. (a.) Any one desiring to teach a public school shall present a certificate from three good citizens known to the county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent that the applicant is of a good moral character and exemplary habits. The county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent shall thereupon unless satisfied that some good cause exists for refusing the certificate hereinafter mentioned, recommend him to the board of examiners for examination, which said board of examiners shall be convened by the county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent on the first Thursday and Friday following the first Monday in January, April, July and October of each year, for the purpose of examining applicants to teach. The board of examiners shall use questions prescribed by the state superintendent of public instruction; provided, that from any unavoidable cause the board of examiners cannot hold their meeting on the days prescribed in this section, the said board shall meet as soon as possible thereafter on the call of the chairman.

Sec. 3. (b.) Applicants for third grade certificates shall be examined in spelling, reading, writing, elementary arithmetic, English grammar and geography.

(c.) Applicants for second grade certificates shall be examined in the branches prescribed for the third grade and also in composition, history of the United States, history of Texas, practical arithmetic and school management and methods of teaching.

(d.) Applicants for first grade certificates shall be examined in the branches prescribed for second and third grades, and also in the elementary branches of algebra, geometry, natural philosophy, physiology, physical geography and civil government.

(e.) Such examinations shall be conducted in the English language and in writing, and no applicant shall receive a certificate unless the board of examiners be satisfied that he is competent to teach the branches prescribed for the grade of certificate applied for in the English language.

(f.) The board of examiners shall examine each applicant as to his competency to teach the branches named in the preceding clauses in the English language, and shall make a report under oath to the county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent, which report shall state who of the board were present at such examination, that the applicant was examined on all the branches of study embraced in the grade of certificate recommended, and that such applicant is competent to teach and qualified to teach all such branches, and the county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent shall, if such report be favorable, issue a certificate of competency to the applicant according to the grade recommended by the board of examiners, authorizing his employment by the trustees of any school district in the county in which the same is issued. Provided, no teacher shall receive a certificate of any grade unless he makes a grade of at least fifty per cent in every branch, and an average grade of at least seventy per cent in all branches in which he is examined.

(g.) A third grade certificate shall be valid for a period of one year only from date thereof. A second grade certificate shall be valid for one year only unless the applicant shall make a grade of at least sixty per cent. in every branch upon which he is examined and a general average of at least eighty per cent. in all branches upon which he is examined when said certificate shall be valid for a period of two years from date thereof. A first grade certificate shall be valid for one year only unless the applicant shall make a grade of at least sixty per cent. in all branches upon which he is examined and an average grade of at least eighty per cent. in all branches upon which he is examined, in which case it shall be valid for a period of two years. If he shall make a grade of at least seventy per cent. in every branch upon which he is examined, and an average of not less than ninety per cent. in all branches upon which he is examined, and then said certificate shall be valid for three years from date thereof; provided that no certificate of any grade shall ever be renewed.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of all teachers in the public schools of this state to attend the summer normal and county institutes as far as possible.

Sec. 5. Teachers may receive salaries not exceeding the following sums: Teachers with first grade certificate, seventy-five dollars per month; teachers with second grade certificates, fifty dollars per month; teachers with third grade certificates, thirty dollars per month; provided that this restriction shall not apply to the salaries of teachers in districts that levy a local tax for the school purposes. Teachers shall admit all children over and under the scholastic age into the public schools upon such terms as may be agreed to by teachers and trustees; provided, that in admitting pupils over and under the scholastic age, the school shall not be over-crowded to the neglect and injury to pupils within the scholastic age.

Sec. 6. Teachers shall keep daily registers in which the names, ages and studies of the pupils and their daily attendance shall be recorded, and such other matters as may be prescribed by the state superintendent. Said registers shall be open to the inspection of all parents, school officers and other persons who may be interested, to examine the same.

(b.) All teachers shall make monthly reports on such subjects as may be designated by the state superintendent or county superintendent, to be approved by a majority of the trustees of the district, and shall file the same with the county superintendent when they present their vouchers for their month's salaries.

(c.) They shall make such reports at the end of the school term as may be prescribed by the state superintendent, and until such term reports are made the trustees shall not approve vouchers for last month's salaries, and until they are returned to and approved by county superintendents, county superintendents shall not approve their vouchers for last month's salaries, nor shall county treasurers pay the same. All monthly and term reports shall be made under oath, and county superintendents are hereby empowered to administer oaths for such purposes, without compensation.

Sec. 7. Teachers holding a diploma from a Texas State Normal School or from the Peabody Normal School of Nashville Tenn., may teach in the public schools of this State during good behavior, and such diplomas shall rank as first grade certificates, and such teachers shall not be subject to examination by any board of examiners. A teacher holding a first or second grade certificate from a Texas State Normal School may teach in the public schools in this State for three years after issuance, or during good behavior, and shall not be subject to examination by any board of examiners. A teacher holding a certificate from a summer normal school of Texas may teach anywhere in the State for two years or during good behavior, and shall not be subject to examination by any board of examiners. The state superintendent shall prescribe rules for granting certificates by summer normals.

Sec. 8. Any teacher who may have had two years experience in teaching, and who shall pass satisfactorily an examination prescribed by the state superintendent, and shall make a grade of not less than sixty per cent in any one branch, and an average grade of not less than seventy per cent, shall be entitled to a state certificate, good throughout the State of Texas for a period of three years from date of issuance. If he shall make an average grade of not less than seventy per cent., and not less than seventy per cent. in any one branch, he shall receive a certificate which shall be good throughout the state for a period of five years from date of issuance. If he shall make an average of not less than ninety per cent. and not less than seventy per cent. in any one branch he shall receive a state certificate good throughout Texas for a period of ten years or during good behavior. And during the time in which the certificate provided for in this act is specified as valid the teacher holding the same shall not be subject to examination by any board of examiners. The state superintendent shall prepare a uniform set of questions for these examinations. He shall prescribe the time, place and manner of holding these examinations. The answers to all questions shall be forwarded to the department of education at Austin and shall be examined and graded by a state board of examiners, consisting of not less than five competent teachers, appointed by the state superintendent. Any person desiring to enter this examination shall present to the district board of examiners a certificate evidencing that he is of good moral character, and said certificate shall accompany his examination papers. Three persons in each senatorial district shall be appointed by the state superintendent, who shall constitute the district board of examiners and shall hold annual examination in that district. They shall certify that all the rules and regulations and directions of the state superintendent have been fully and faithfully complied with; they shall transmit all papers to the state superintendent on close of examination.

(b.) Before entering the examination each teacher shall pay to the district board examiners the sum of three dollars, two dollars of which shall be retained by the district board, in payment of their services, and one dollar shall be forwarded to the state superintendent at Austin, to be used in paying the state board of examiners for their services; provided, that this fee shall in all cases be paid in advance, and shall in no case be refunded. These certificates shall rank as first grade certificates.

(c.) All examinations shall be conducted in the English language in writing and written with ink, and shall be held in the following branches: Reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, algebra, plane and solid geometry, plane trigonometry, grammar, rhetoric, English literature and composition, United States, Texas and general history, geography, including map drawing, physical geography, physiology, natural philosophy, chemistry, civil government, school management and methods of teaching, and elementary psychology.

Sec. 9. A city or town with a scholastic population of not less than six hundred which has assumed exclusive control of its schools, and which levies a local tax for educational purposes, and which has employed a superintendent of city schools, may have a city board of examiners. Said board of examiners shall in all such cases consist of the superintendent of the city schools, together with two other persons who shall be appointed by him, and who shall be teachers holding first grade certificates, and the superintendent shall not be subject to examination. This city board of examiners are hereby authorized to issue certificates valid only in the city in which they are issued, and such certificates shall be valid for a period of not more than three years from date thereof, and all certificates heretofore issued by board of city examiners are hereby validated; provided that a city or town which is authorized by the provisions of this act to have a city board of examiners may, at the discretion of the superintendent of the city schools, employ a teacher of some special branch not included in the requirements for a state certificate without requiring an examination or teachers certificate.

(b.) Any teacher desiring to teach in any city, town or district in this state shall, before contracting with any board of trustees or with any city school board, exhibit a teacher's certificate valid in the city, town or school district. And any county or city superintendent or board of trustees who shall approve any teacher's contract or voucher until the person has presented a valid certificate, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $100; and any teacher who shall teach in any public school in this state without having a valid certificate shall not receive from the free school fund any compensation for such services.

Sec. 10. A county certificate shall be valid only in the county in which it is issued. A city certificate shall be valid only in the city in which it is issued. A summer normal certificate, a state certificate, a certificate from a Texas state normal school, a diploma from a Texas state normal school or the Peabody Normal at Nashville, Tennessee, shall be valid anywhere in Texas. Certificates shall be valid for the time they are issued, unless cancelled by the authority issuing the same for good cause shown. Any teacher who may hold a diploma conferring on him the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or any higher academic degree from any college or university of the first-class, and who shall have taught for a period of not less than five years in Texas, may upon the payment of a fee of five dollars, which shall be placed to the credit of the state available school fund, receive from the state superintendent of public instruction a certificate of the first grade which shall be valid anywhere in this state during good behavior.

Sec. 11. All laws and parts of laws conflicting with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 12. The near approach of the end of the session and the great number of bills before the Legislature, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 28, 1891.

TAXATION—STATE AD VALOREM TAX.

- Sec. 1. Ad valorem tax of sixteen and two-thirds cents for 1891, and fifteen cents annually thereafter on one hundred dollars value.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 117.—[S. H. B. No. 256.] An act to provide for the levy and collection of an annual ad valorem State tax for general revenue purposes of fifteen cents on the hundred dollars.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: There shall be levied and collected for the year 1891, an ad valorem tax of sixteen and two thirds cents, and annually thereafter an ad valorem tax of fifteen cents on the hundred dollars of the cash value thereof estimated in lawful currency of the United States on all real property situated and on all property owned in the State on the first day of January in each and every year, and on all property sent out of the State prior to the first day of January for the purpose of evading the payment of taxes thereon, and afterwards returned to the State, except so much thereof as may be exempted by the constitution and laws of the State or United States, which cash value shall be estimated in the manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency exists, wherefore, the constitutional rule requiring all bills to be read on three several days should be suspended, and that this bill be put on its third reading and final passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 118.—[H. B. No. 623.] An act to regulate the establishment of quarantines in the State of Texas, and in the counties, cities and towns thereof, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Governor is empowered to issue his proclamation declaring quarantine on the coast or elsewhere within this State, whenever in his judgment quarantine may become necessary, and such quarantine may continue for any length of time as in the judgment of the Governor, the safety and security of the people may require.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the Governor of the State of Texas, and he is hereby authorized and empowered to select and appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, from the most skillful physicians of the State of Texas, one physician who shall be known as health officer of the State, and shall from previous and active practice be familiar with yellow fever and pledged to the importance of both quarantine and sanitation.

Sec. 3. Such health officer shall, during the time he is actively engaged in public duty, receive for his services ten dollars per day and all necessary traveling expenses, a bill of which must be made out in detail, then approved by the Governor, on which approved account the Comptroller shall issue his warrant on the Treasurer for the amount of such approved account.

Sec. 4. Whenever the Governor has reason to believe that the State of Texas is threatened at any point or place on the coast, border or elsewhere within the State with the introduction or dissemination of yellow fever, contagion or any other infectious and contagious disease that can and should, in the opinion of the State health officer, be guarded against by State quarantine, he shall, by proclamation, immediately declare said quarantine against any and all such places and direct the State health officer to promptly establish and enforce the restrictions and conditions imposed and indicated by said quarantine proclamation, and when from any cause the Governor cannot act, and the exigencies of the threatened danger require immediate action, the State health officer is empowered to declare quarantine as prescribed in this article and maintain the same until the Governor shall officially take such action as he may see proper.

Sec. 5. The laws in regard to State quarantine shall remain and be in full force and operation on the coast or elsewhere in the State as the Governor or health officer may direct and be enforced as heretofore with such additional changes as the provisions of this act prescribe and with such additional changes in station and general management as the Governor may think proper.

Sec. 6. The law in regard to local quarantine by the inhabitants of any point or points on the coast or elsewhere in the State shall remain in full force when in conformity with this act; provided, that in all differences and disputes between any such points, contiguous or remote within this State, such differences and disputes shall be immediately by the local health authorities, if any, and if none, by the inhabitants themselves, reported and submitted to the Governor, and on the receipt of such report he shall forthwith order the State health officer to such points with instructions to investigate the same and report the exact condition of things, and upon investigation of such report shall issue his proclamation declaring the determination of the issue and by said proclamation the aforesaid differences shall be governed and determined.

Sec. 7. Said health officer shall give a bond with two good and sufficient sureties in the sum of ten thousand dollars, made payable to the Governor, to be approved by him and conditioned for the honest and impartial performance of his duties and such health officer shall hold his position for the term of two years, subject however, to removal at any time by the Governor whenever, in his judgment, the public good demands such removal.

Sec. 8. Whenever quarantine is declared by the Governor or by any county or corporate authorities in the State, it shall be the duty of such authorities to establish a quarantine station or stations where any person may be detained for such length of time as, in the discretion of the quarantine officers, the public safety may demand; provided, that all county and municipal quarantine shall be subordinate, subject to and regulated by such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Governor or State health officer.

Sec. 9. It shall be the duty of the State health officer to furnish persons detained by him, with necessary shelter and subsistence (not including crews of vessels, except such as are removed by the quarantine officers from infected vessels) and to provide all other things essential for the protection and comfort of those held in quarantine, and all such expenses, authorized by the State health officer and approved by the Governor, shall be paid by the State.

Sec. 10. All the cost and expenses of enforcing and maintaining the general quarantine or such as are ordered by the Governor or State health officer shall be paid out of the fund appropriated for quarantine purposes. All quarantine officers appointed by the Governor shall be selected and commissioned by the Governor of the State and shall be paid by the State, and all health authorities of the State or of any county or city thereof shall obey the rules and regulations prescribed by the Governor or State health officer. The regular officer in charge of regular established quarantine stations on the coast shall be allowed ten dollars per day while on duty; temporary officers, or those commissioned by the Governor to guard against threatened epidemics or those temporarily assigned to duty by the health officer of the State, under the provisions of section 4 of this act, shall be allowed and paid not more than five dollars per day and such other pay for extra expenses actually incurred as may be deemed just by the Governor and State health officer. All quarantine officers, whether of towns, cities, counties or State shall be authorized to administer oaths to any person or persons suspected of violating any quarantine regulations; and any person or persons swearing falsely shall be punished according to the provisions of the penal code.

Sec. 11. Whenever, on the coast of Texas or elsewhere in this State, the authorities of any county, town or city, fail, refuse or neglect to establish quarantine as provided in the preceding article, then and in that event the Governor shall have the power, and it shall be his duty to appoint a health officer and to prescribe such regulations for the government of the same as he may deem necessary.

Sec. 12. Any vessel arriving at any of the quarantine stations of this State, designated by the proper authorities, from any infected port or district without a clean bill of health from the proper officers from said port or district, shall be taken possession of by the health officer or other quarantine authority at the station at which said vessel arrives, and be held by the same until all fines that may have been assessed against the master of said vessel for a violation of the quarantine laws, rules and regulations, shall have been paid, or until said vessel shall have been replevied in accordance with law.

Sec. 13. The payment of the fine which may be assessed against the master of such vessel shall not operate as a release or discharge of the vessel from quarantine, but the same rules shall apply as in case of other vessels placed in quarantine.

Sec. 14. It shall be the duty of every County Judge within the State of Texas, after each general election of State and county officers, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to select from the physicians of the respective counties, one of high character and recognized ability, who shall be known as "County physician." It shall be the duty of said county physician to establish, maintain and enforce local quarantine for his county whenever declared by proclamation of Commissioners court; to furnish supplies, select medical assistants, guards and perform all other duties coincident to a reasonable, economic and consistent quarantine. The salary of county physicians must be agreed to and be paid by their respective counties, but the county physician shall receive no salary except when quarantine has been established and he is actually engaged in such service. County physicians shall in all quarantines establish rules in harmony and accord with the rules prescribed by the State health officer; shall respect and obey instructions from said officer and make written reports to him of their official acts, whenever required to do so, giving cause and history of epidemic, number of deaths and recoveries, and all other facts of statistic or scientific value.

Sec. 15. Whenever the commissioners court of any county has reason to believe that they are threatened at any point or place within or without the county limits with the introduction or dissemination of a dangerous, contagious or infectious disease that can and shall be guarded against by quarantine, direct their county physician to declare and maintain said quarantine against any and all such dangerous diseases; to establish, maintain and supply stations or camps for those held in quarantine; to provide hospitals, tents or pest houses for those sick of contagious and infectious disease; to furnish provisions, medicine and all other things absolutely essential for the comfort of the well and the convalescence of the sick. The county physician shall keep an itemized account of all lawful expenses incurred by local quarantine, and his county shall assume and pay them as other claims against the county are paid. Chartered cities and towns are embraced within the purview of this article, and the mere fact of incorporation does not exclude them from the protection against epidemic diseases given by the Commissioners court to other parts of their respective counties. The medical officers of chartered cities and towns can perform the duties granted or commanded in their several charters but must, (if the county physician is not, as is frequently the case, the city physician, also,) be amenable and obedient to rules prescribed by the State health officer. This article, however, must not be construed as prohibiting any incorporated town or city from declaring, maintaining and paying for a local quarantine.

Sec. 16. The quarantine or health officer at Galveston, Texas shall give bond, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, payable to the Governor, in the sum of $10,000 conditioned for the care and preservation of any steam vessel or vessels belonging to the State at his station and for the faithful performance of his duty.

Sec. 17. It is hereby made the duty of the Governor and State health officer upon completion of the disinfecting warehouse at Galveston or any port on the coast of Texas, to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the disinfection of all vessels and their cargoes and passengers arriving at said port from any infected port or district. The object of such rules and regulations being to provide safety for the public health of the State without unnecessary restrictions upon commerce and travel.

Sec. 18. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, and all penal statutes heretofore enacted to punish violators of quarantine laws and rules shall remain in full force.

Sec. 19. There being no law upon the subject of quarantine adequate to the protection of public health, and the near approach of the season of the year when quarantine will have to be declared, a public necessity and an emergency exists, requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same—vote not given; and passed the Senate—vote not given.]

Department of State.

I, Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State of the State of Texas, certify that the foregoing laws and resolutions, passed at the regular session of the Twenty-second Legislature, have been carefully examined and compared with the original enrolled bills now on file in this department, and are true copies of said originals.

I further certify that the Twenty-second Legislature convened in the city of Austin, January 13, A. D. 1891, and adjourned April 13, A. D. 1891.

In testimony whereof I have subscribed my name, and have hereto
[Seal.] affixed the seal of the State of Texas, in the city of Austin, May 30, A. D. 1891.

GEO. W. SMITH,
Secretary of State.

RESOLUTIONS.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

[H. J. R. No. 23.] Joint Resolution creating an auditing board to pass on certain claims against the State and to authorize the Governor to direct payment thereof.

Whereas, many claims exist against the State, now unpaid, which accrued during the past administration, for services under the quarantine laws of the State, which claims the Governor declines to order paid, because he is not familiar with the facts and circumstances under which they were created; and,

Whereas, on account of the time which will be required in the investigation and auditing of said claims, the joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives heretofore appointed to audit said claims, find it practically impossible to perform such service in connection with their regular duties and complete the same during the present session of the Legislature.

Section 1. Therefore, be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the State Health Officer, the Comptroller of Public Accounts and the Attorney General be and they are hereby constituted an auditing board, and they are hereby empowered and directed to inquire into all such claims as may be presented against the state for services rendered under the quarantine laws, under the prior administration, and to approve all such as may be justly payable by the State; and further, that upon the approval of any such claim by the board hereby constituted, the Governor be and he is hereby authorized to direct payment thereof out of the deficiency appropriation.

Sec. 2. The large number of the claims provided for in the foregoing section which have not been paid and which should be audited and paid without delay, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and an emergency exists that the resolution shall take effect and be in force and be in effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing Joint Resolution originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 74 yeas and 3 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 24 yeas and no nays.]

Approved March 30, 1891.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

[S. J. R. No. 12.] Joint Resolution confirming the location of the boundary line established by the United States Commissioner between No Man's Land and Texas, and Texas and New Mexico, under an act of Congress of June 5, 1858.

Section 1. Whereas an act of Congress approved June 5, 1858, provided for Commissioners to locate and mark the boundary lines between the territories of the United States and the State of Texas; and

Whereas in accordance with said act, a survey was made of the boundary line between the Public Strip—otherwise known as No Man's Land—and between Texas and New Mexico by John H. Clark, U. S. Commissioner appointed under said act, A. D. 1858; And

Whereas, it appears from the report of the said Commissioner to the General Land Office at Washington, that said surveying was carefully done, consuming over two years on the ground in making the same; and

Whereas, said boundary line so located has been acquiesced in by the State of Texas and the United States Government by surveying up to it and selling the lands so surveyed, or parts of it; and

Whereas, until recently no part of said boundary lines have ever been officially agreed upon or accepted by the General government or the State of Texas, as contemplated by the act of Congress, authorizing the survey; and Whereas, on the 4th day of March A. D. 1891, the Congress of the United States confirmed the boundary lines as surveyed by said Commissioner, John H. Clark, between No Man's Land and Texas, and between Texas and New Mexico established under the act of Congress of June 5, 1858;

Therefore, be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Texas: That the boundary line between the Public Land Strip—otherwise known as No Man's Land—and Texas, and between Texas and New Mexico, established by John H. Clark, Commissioner under the act of the United States Congress, approved June 5, 1858, be and the same is hereby accepted, ratified and confirmed on the part of the State of Texas, as the true boundary line between said Public Land Strip and Texas, and between Texas and New Mexico.

Sec. 2. And, whereas, the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature renders it unlikely that this resolution can be passed in the regular way, and the fact that there is much uncertainty as to the location of said boundary line, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity which requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and the same is so suspended, and this resolution take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing joint resolution originated in the Senate and passed the same—vote not given; and passed the House by a vote of 71 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing joint resolution was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the twenty-fifth day of March, 1891, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

JOINT RESOLUTION.

[S. J. R. No. 19.] Joint Resolution amending Section 4, Article 6, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section four of article six of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 4. In all elections by the people the vote shall be by ballot, and the Legislature shall provide for the numbering of tickets and make such other regulations as may be necessary to detect and punish fraud and preserve the purity of the ballot box; and the Legislature may provide by law for the registration of all voters in all cities containing a population of ten thousand and inhabitants or more.

Sec. 2. That the Governor of this State shall issue his proclamation ordering an election to be held on the second Tuesday in August, A. D. 1891, on this amendment, in accordance with article 17, section 1, of the Constitution; and those voting for the adoption of this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "For the amendment to section four, article six, of the Constitution, relating to voting;" and those voting against the adoption of said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "Against the amendment to section four, article six, of the Constitution, relating to voting."

Approved April 15, 1891.

JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 19.

To amend section 5, article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas; That section 5, article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

The principal of all bonds and other funds and the principal arising from the sale of the lands hereinbefore set apart to said school fund shall be the permanent school fund, and all the interest derivable therefrom and the taxes herein authorized and levied shall be the available school fund, to which the Legislature may add not exceeding one per cent annually of the total value of the permanent school fund; such value to be ascertained by the Board of Education until otherwise provided by law; and the available school fund shall be applied annually to the support of the public free schools. And no law shall ever be enacted appropriating any part of the permanent or available school fund to any other purpose whatever; nor shall the same or any part thereof ever be appropriated to or used for the support of any sectarian school; and the available school fund herein provided shall be distributed to the several counties according to their scholastic population and applied in such manner as may be provided by law.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors for members of the Legislature of the State of Texas, on the second Tuesday in August, 1891, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "For the amendment to section 5, article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Texas;" and all the voters opposed to said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "Against the amendment to section 5, article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Texas."

Approved April 28, 1891.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

[H. J. R. No. 1.]—Joint Resolution to amend Section 11, Article 16, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 11, article 16, of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 11. All contracts for a greater rate of interest than ten per centum per annum shall be deemed usurious, and the first Legislature after this amendment is adopted shall provide appropriate pains and penalties to prevent the same; but when no rate of interest is agreed upon, the rate shall not exceed six per centum per annum.

Sec. 2. The Governor of this State shall issue his proclamation ordering an election on the second Tuesday in August, 1891, at which election the foregoing amendment shall be submitted for adoption by the qualified electors of the State.

Sec. 3. Those voting for the adoption of Section 1 [11] shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "For the amendment to section 11, article 16, of the State Constitution, to reduce rate of interest;" and those voting against said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots "Against the amendment to section 11, article 16, of the State Constitution, to reduce rate of interest."

Approved April 1, 1891.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

[H. J. R. No. 12.] Joint Resolution to amend Section 20, Article 16, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 20, article 16, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so that it shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 20. The Legislature shall at its first session enact a law whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct, town, city (or such subdivision of a county as may be designated by the commissioners court of said county), may by a majority vote determine from time to time whether the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be prohibited within the prescribed limits.

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State on the second Tuesday in August, A. D. 1891. Those favoring its adoption shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "For local control;" those opposed to its adoption shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "Against local control."

[Note.—The foregoing Joint Resolution was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the twenty-first day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the House in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

JOINT RESOLUTION.

[Senate J. R. No. 16.] Joint Resolution to amend Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 11, 12, 16, 25, and 28, Article 5, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 11, 12, 16, 25, and 28 of article 5, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 5.—Judicial Department.

Section 1. The judicial power of this State shall be vested in one Supreme Court, in Courts of Civil Appeals, in a Court of Criminal Appeals, in District Courts, in County Courts, in Commissioners Courts, in Courts of Justices of the Peace, and in such other courts as may be provided by law. The Criminal District Court of Galveston and Harris Counties shall continue with the district jurisdiction, and organization now existing by law until otherwise provided by law. The Legislature may establish such other courts as it may deem necessary, and prescribe the jurisdiction and organization thereof, and may conform the jurisdiction of the district and other inferior courts thereto.

Section 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of a chief justice and two associate justices, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of two judges shall be necessary to the decision of a case. No person shall be eligible to the office of chief justice or associate justice of the Supreme Court unless he be, at the time of his election, a citizen of the United States and of this State, and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years, and shall have been a practicing lawyer or a judge of a court or such lawyer and judge together at least seven years. Said chief justice and associate justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election, shall hold their offices six years, or until their successors are elected and qualified, and shall each receive an annual salary of four thousand dollars until otherwise provided by law. In case of a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for State officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the State. The judges of the Supreme Court who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their term of office under the present Constitution and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Section 3. The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only except as herein specified, which shall be coextensive with the limits of the State. Its appellate jurisdiction shall extend to questions of law arising in cases of which the Courts of Civil Appeals have appellate jurisdiction, under such restrictions and regulations as the Legislature may prescribe. Until otherwise provided by law the appellate jurisdiction of the Supreme Court shall extend to questions of law arising in the cases in the Courts of Civil Appeals in which the judges of any Court of Civil Appeals may disagree, or where the several Courts of Civil Appeals may hold differently on the same question of law, or where a statute of the State is held void. The Supreme Court and the justices thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus as may be prescribed by law, and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law the said courts and the justices thereof may issue the writs of mandamus, procedendo, certiorari and such other writs as may be necessary to enforce its jurisdiction. The Legislature may confer original jurisdiction on the Supreme Court to issue writs of quo warranto and mandamus in such cases as may be specified, except as against the Governor of the State. The Supreme Court shall also have power, upon affidavit or otherwise as by the court may be determined, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction. The Supreme Court shall sit for the transaction of business from the first Monday in October of each year until the last Saturday of June in the next year, inclusive, at the capital of the State. The Supreme Court shall appoint a clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he may hold his office for four years, and shall be subject to removal by said court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said court, who shall receive such compensation as the Legislature may provide.

Section 4. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall consist of three judges, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of two judges shall be necessary to a decision of said court; said judges shall have the same qualifications and receive the same salaries as the judges of the Supreme Court. They shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election, and shall hold their offices for a term of six years. In case of a vacancy in the office of a judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals the Governor shall fill such vacancy by appointment for the unexpired term. The judges of the Court of Appeals who may be in office at the time when this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their term of office under the present Constitution and laws as judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Section 5. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction coextensive with the limits of the State in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The Court of Criminal Appeals and the judges thereof shall have the power to issue the writ of habeas corpus, and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law issue such writs as may be necessary to enforce its own jurisdiction. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall sit for the transaction of business from the first Monday in October to the last Saturday of June in each year, at the State Capital and two other places (or the capital city) if the Legislature shall hereafter so provide. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall appoint a clerk for each place at which it may sit, and each clerk shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and who shall hold his office for four years unless sooner removed by the court for good cause, entered of record on the minutes of said court.

Section 6. The Legislature shall, as soon as practicable after the adoption of this amendment, divide the State into not less than two nor more than three supreme judicial districts, and thereafter into such additional districts as the increase of population and business may require, and shall establish a Court of Civil Appeals in each of said districts, which shall consist of a chief justice and two associate justices, who shall have the qualifications as herein prescribed for justices of the Supreme Court. Said Court of Civil Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction coextensive with the limits of their respective districts, which shall extend to all civil cases of which the District Courts or County Courts have original or appellate jurisdiction, under such restrictions and regulations as may be prescribed by law: Provided, That the decision of said courts shall be conclusive on all questions of fact brought before them on appeal or error. Each of said Courts of Civil Appeals shall hold its sessions at a place in its district to be designated by the Legislature, and at such time as may be prescribed by law. Said justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of their respective districts, at a general election, for a term of six years, and shall receive for their services the sum of three thousand five hundred dollars per annum until otherwise provided by law. Said courts shall have such other jurisdiction, original and appellate, as may be prescribed by law. Each Court of Civil Appeals shall appoint a clerk in the same manner as the clerk of the Supreme Court, which clerk shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by law. Until the organization of the Courts of Civil Appeals and Criminal Appeals, as herein provided for, the jurisdiction, power, and organization and location of the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeals, and the Commission of Appeals shall continue as they were before the adoption of this amendment. All civil cases which may be pending in the Court of Appeals shall, as soon as practicable after the organization of the Courts of Civil Appeals, be certified to and the records thereof transmitted to the proper Courts of Civil Appeals, to be decided by said courts. At the first session of the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, and such of the Courts of Civil Appeals which may be hereafter created under this article after the first election of the judges of such courts under this amendment, the terms of office of the judges of each court shall be divided into three classes, and the justices thereof shall draw for the different classes. Those who shall draw class No. 1 shall hold their offices two years, those drawing class No. 2 shall hold their offices for four years, and those who may draw class No. 3 shall hold their offices for six years from the date of their election and until their successors are elected and qualified; and thereafter each of the said judges shall hold his office for six years, as provided in this Constitution.

Section 7. The State shall be divided into as many judicial districts as may now or hereafter be provided by law, which may be increased or diminished by law. For each district there shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof, at a general election, a judge, who shall be a citizen of the United States and of this State, who shall have been a practicing lawyer of this State or a judge of a court in this State for four years next preceding his election, who shall have resided in the district in which he was elected for two years next preceding his election, who shall reside in his district during his term of office, who shall hold his office for the period of four years, and shall receive for his services an annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars, until otherwise changed by law. He shall hold the regular terms of his court at the county seat of each county in his district at least twice in each year in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall have power by general or special laws to authorize the holding of special terms of the court, or the holding of more than two terms in any county for the dispatch of business. The Legislature shall also provide for the holding of district court when the judge thereof is absent, or is from any cause disabled or disqualified from presiding. The district judges who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment.

Section 8. The District Court shall have original jurisdiction in all criminal cases of the grade of felony; in all suits in behalf of the State to recover penalties, forfeitures, and escheats; of all cases of divorce; of all misdemeanors involving official misconduct; of all suits to recover damages for slander or defamation of character; of all suits for trial of title to land and for the enforcement of liens thereon; of all suits for the trial of the right of property levied upon by virtue of any writ of execution, sequestration, or attachment when the property levied on shall be equal to or exceed in value five hundred dollars; of all suits, complaints, or pleas whatever, without regard to any distinction between law and equity, when the matter in controversy shall be valued at or amount to five hundred dollars exclusive of interest; of contested elections; and said court and the judges thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, and certiorari, and all writs necessary to enforce their jurisdiction. The District Court shall have appellate jurisdiction and general control in probate matters over the County Court established in each county, for appointing guardians, granting letters testamentary and of administration, probating wills, for settling the accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians, and for the transaction of all business appertaining to estates; and original jurisdiction and general control over the executors, administrators, guardians, and minors, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The District Court shall have appellate jurisdiction and general supervisory control over the County Commissioners Court, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; and shall have general original jurisdiction over all causes of action whatever for which a remedy or jurisdiction is not provided by law or this Constitution, and such other jurisdiction, original and appellate, as may be provided by law.

Section 11. No judge shall sit in any case wherein he may be interested, or when either of the parties may be connected with him either by affinity or consanguinity within such a degree as may be prescribed by law, or when he shall have been counsel in the case. When the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Court of Civil Appeals or any member of either, shall be thus disqualified to hear and determine any case or cases in said court, the same shall be certified to the Governor of the State, who shall immediately commission the requisite number of persons learned in the law for the trial and determination of such cause or causes. When a judge of the district court is disqualified by any of the causes above stated, the parties may by consent appoint a proper person to try said case; or, upon their failing to do so, a competent person may be appointed to try the same in the county where it is pending, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. And the district judges may exchange districts or hold court for each other when they may deem it expedient, and shall do so when required by law. This disqualification of judges of inferior tribunals shall be remedied and vacancies in their offices filled as may be prescribed by law.

Section 12. All judges of courts of this State by virtue of their office, [shall] be conservators of the peace throughout the State. The style of all writs and process shall be "The State of Texas." All prosecutions shall be carried on in the name and by authority of the State of Texas, and shall conclude "Against the peace and dignity of the State."

Section 16. The County Court shall have original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors of which exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to the Justice's Court as the same is now or may hereafter be prescribed by law, and when the fine to be imposed shall exceed $200; and they shall have exclusive jurisdiction in all civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value $200 and not exceed $500, exclusive of interest; and concurrent jurisdiction with the District Court when the matter in controversy shall exceed $500 and not exceed $1000, exclusive of interest, but shall not have jurisdiction of suits for the recovery of land. They shall have appellate jurisdiction in cases civil and criminal of which Justice's Courts have original jurisdiction, but of such civil cases only when the judgment of the court appealed from shall exceed $20, exclusive of cost, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. In all appeals from Justice's Court there shall be a trial de novo in the County Court, and appeals may be prosecuted from the final judgment rendered in such cases by the County Court, as well as all cases civil and criminal of which the County Court has exclusive or concurrent or original jurisdiction of civil appeals, in civil cases to the Court of Civil Appeals, and in such criminal cases to the Court of Criminal Appeals, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The County Court shall have the general jurisdiction of a Probate Court; they shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards; grant letters testamentary and of administration; settle accounts of executors; transact all business appertaining to deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution of estates of deceased persons; and to apprentice minors as provided by law; and the County Court or judge thereof shall have power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus and all writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said court, and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the County Court or any other court or tribunal inferior to said court. The County Court shall not have criminal jurisdiction in any county where there is a Criminal District Court, unless expressly conferred by law; and in such counties appeals from Justice's Courts and other inferior courts and tribunals in criminal cases shall be to the Criminal District Court, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and in all such cases an appeal shall lie from such District Court to the Court of Criminal Appeals. When the judge of the County Court is disqualified in any case pending in the County Court the parties interested may by consent appoint a proper person to try said case, or upon their failing to do so, a competent person may be appointed to try the same in the county where it is pending, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

Section 25. The Supreme Court shall have power to make and establish rules of procedure, not inconsistent with the laws of the State, for the government of said court and the other courts of this State, to expedite the dispatch of business therein.

Section 28. Vacancies in the office of judges of the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Court of Civil Appeals and District Courts, shall be filled by the Governor until the next succeeding general election, and vacancies in the office of county judge and justices of the peace shall be filled by the Commissioners Court until the next general election for such offices.

Section 29. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the second Tuesday in August, A. D. 1891, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "For the amendment to article

5 of the Constitution, relating to the judiciary," and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "Against the amendment to article 5 of the Constitution, relating to the judiciary."

Section 30. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Approved April 28, 1891.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring.

Section 1. That the Governor be and he is hereby requested to communicate with the superintendent of the United States census for the year 1890, and secure at the earliest moment the statistics of the population of Texas by counties, for the use of this Legislature.

Approved February 11, 1891.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Concurrent Resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee to investigate the case of Jay Gould versus the International and Great Northern Railroad Company, in the District Court of Smith county, and all the proceedings had and done in said cause, and in other causes in that and other courts of the State, affecting said railroad company and its receivers.

Whereas, Grave charges have been made in the public prints and by current reports which tend to bring in disrepute the courts of this State, touching the pending receivership of the International and Great Northern Railroad Company in the district court of Smith county, and it is due to the officers of said court and to the good name of the State that said reports and charges should be investigated, and, if false, exposed, therefore,

Section 1. Be it resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring): That a joint committee of the two houses to investigate said matters be appointed by the respective presiding officers, to consist of two senators and three representatives, whose duty it shall be to proceed immediately to investigate all matters connected with the receivership of the International and Great Northern Railroad Company, in the district court of Smith county, the origin of such receivership, the cause or causes of its duration, the operations and expenditures by the receivers, and all other suits, matters and things connected therewith or incidental thereto. Said committee may sit during the sessions of the Legislature or in vacation, and is hereby empowered to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths, and to hold their sessions at any convenient point in the State. All parties interested shall have the right to appear before the committee in person or by attorney, and shall have the right to have witnesses summoned and examined, and the investigation shall be with open doors. Upon the conclusion of their investigation, the joint committee hereby created shall report the result thereof, together with such conclusions of facts, and recommendations as to necessary legislation they may deem advisable, to their respective houses. If the Legislature be not in session, when such investigation is concluded, the committee is directed to file said report in the office of the Secretary of State as a public record in said office, on or before the first day of August, 1891, and the same shall be printed and laid before the next session of the Legislature by the Governor. Each member of the committee shall receive for his services five dollars per day for the time he is engaged in the investigation, and railroad fare paid in going to and returning from the point at which the investigation is held, and the stenographer employed by the committee shall receive for his services not exceeding ten dollars per day for the time he is engaged in such service; all claims to be approved by the Governor, and warrants drawn by the Comptroller as in other cases.

Sec. 2. Said committee shall take down all testimony heard by them, in writing, and for this purpose they may employ some competent stenographer, and said testimony as well as all documentary evidence, shall be filed as a part of the report the committee, and be printed for the use of the members of the Legislature.

Sec. 3. This resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage by the two houses.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas, by concurrent resolution of the Legislature of the State of Kansas of February 11, 1891, an invitation has been extended to the West and Southwestern States and Territories, to participate by means of selected representatives in a commercial congress of the aforesaid States and Territories, to convene at Kansas City on the 15th day of April, 1891, for the purpose of discussing commercial and economic questions, involving the welfare of the West and Southwest; and,

Whereas, The community of interest existing between the several States and Territories of said sections, renders it highly important that such congress should be held, and that Texas should be represented therein; therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate of the State of Texas, the House of Representatives concurring: That on behalf of the State of Texas, we accept such invitation, and heartily endorse the objects of such convention.

Be it further resolved, That in accordance with the terms of the concurrent resolution of the Legislature of the State of Kansas, a delegation of eleven, to consist of the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House, and four senators to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and five Representatives by the Speaker of the House, to represent the State of Texas in said Congress, together with five other delegates to be appointed by the Governor.

Be it resolved further: That the Governor is hereby authorized and requested to select and commission five additional delegates. The actual and necessary expenses of the committee herein provided for, shall be paid out of the contingent fund of the twenty-second Legislature.

Approved April 14, 1891.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Concurrent Resolution to make more effective a concurrent resolution passed at the present session of the Legislature appointing a committee to investigate the case of Jay Gould versus the International and Great Northern Railway Company in the District Court of Smith County and all proceedings had and done in said cause and other causes in that and other courts of the State affecting said Railroad Company and its receivers; to authorize said investigating committee to appoint a sergeant at arms, prescribe his duties and provide for his compensation, to provide for the compensation of witnesses summoned by said committee and testifying before it, and to provide for the payment of other expenses incurred in said investigation.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring) that the joint committee appointed to investigate the case of Jay Gould versus the International and Great Northern Railway Company as provided in concurrent resolution passed at a former day of this session, be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to appoint a sergeant-at-arms whose duty it shall be to attend the meetings of said committee, to execute and return all process directed to him in summoning witnesses and bringing them before the committee, and to do and perform all such other duties as may be required of him by the committee. Said Sergeant-at-Arms shall receive as compensation for his services, the sum of five dollars per day during the time he may be so employed and shall further receive the amount of railroad fare necessarily expended while traveling in the execution of any process directed to him by the committee. The claim of said sergeant-at-arms for services, after the same shall have been approved as correct by the chairman of said committee, shall be approved and paid as provided for in section 1 of the original concurrent resolution heretofore passed.

Sec. 2. All witnesses who may be summoned by the committee, and who shall appear before it and testify, shall receive as compensation the sum of two dollars per day for the time they may be present before said committee and shall receive the actual railroad fare necessary in going to and returning from the point at which said investigation is held. The claim or claims of witnesses under this section, after the same shall have been approved as correct by the chairman of said investigation committee, shall be paid in manner and form as provided for in section 1 of the original concurrent resolution heretofore passed.

Sec. 3. Should it become necessary in the progress of the investigation [investigation] provided for, that the committee should go to any other point or points in the state, other than the point at which said investigation is held, then the said committee shall be allowed their actual necessary expenses for such service, in addition to the compensation already provided for in original concurrent resolution, to be paid in the same manner as provided for in original concurrent resolution.

Sec. 4. This resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage by both houses.

OF

THE STATE OF TEXAS

PASSED AT THE

REGULAR SESSION OF THE TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE

CONVENED

AT THE CITY OF AUSTIN

JANUARY 13, 1891, AND ADJOURNED APRIL 13, 1891.

AUSTIN
1891

SPECIAL LAWS OF TEXAS.

TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE, 1891.

DALLAS—AMENDMENT TO CHARTER OF.

Sec.

1. Amends sections 10, 21, 28, 94, 120, 140, 158 and 161 of said charter.
- (10) Election of mayor pro tem and president of council; their term of office and duties.
- (21) Compensation of officers, when to be fixed.
- (28) Office of city judge created; qualification of city judge; term of office.
- (94) Control and regulation of steam engines.

Sec.

- (120) Power of council to make public improvements; issuance of bonds.
- (140) Assessment of property; board of appeals; term of office; duties.
- (158) Taking of private property for public use; procedure.
- (161) Management of city public schools; qualifications, election and powers of directors; vacancy, how filled.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 1.—[H. B. No. 339.] An Act to amend sections 10, 21, 28, 94, 120, 140, 158 and 161, of an act entitled "An act to incorporate the City of Dallas, and to grant it a new charter," approved March 13, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That sections 10, 21, 28, 94, 120, 140, 158 and 161 of an act entitled "An act to incorporate the City of Dallas and to grant it a new charter," approved March 13, 1889, be and the same are hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 10. At the first regular meeting in May every year, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the city council shall elect by ballot from the members of the council a mayor pro tem and a president of the council, who shall hold their offices for one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The mayor pro tem, shall in absence of the mayor or in case of his inability or refusal to act, perform his duties and receive such compensation as the council may prescribe. The president of the council shall preside over all meetings of the council.

Section 21. The compensation of all officers shall be such as may be fixed by the city council. Such compensation shall be fixed not less than sixty days before each annual election, and the pay of no city officer shall be increased or diminished during his term of office and no city officer shall receive any extra pay during his term of office.

Section 28. In lieu of the office of recorder of the city of Dallas, there is hereby created the office of city judge. Said city judge shall be a resident of said city and a qualified voter therein. He shall be a person learned in the law, and a licensed attorney at law, and shall have practiced in the courts of this state at least two years. He shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city and shall hold his office for two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall preside over and hold said court and discharge all the duties thereof. This section shall in no way interfere with or change the term of office of the present city judge.

Section 94. To control and regulate the location and use of steam engines in the city and prescribe the qualifications of persons operating and running same, and to adopt such rules and regulations in relation thereto as may seem best for the public safety and comfort.

Section 120. The council shall have power to appropriate so much of the general revenue of the city for the purpose of retiring and discharging the accrued indebtedness of the city, and for the purpose of improving the streets, constructing sewers, erecting and maintaining public buildings of every kind, water works, etc., as the council may from time to time deem expedient, and in furtherance of any and all these objects, the city shall have the right and power to borrow money upon the credit of the city and to issue coupon bonds of the city therefor, in such sum or sums as may be deemed expedient, to bear interest not to exceed 6 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at such place or places as may be designated by the city ordinance, provided that the aggregate amount of said bonds shall at no time exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars.

Section 140. Whenever the assessor and party rendering can not agree as to the value of property, it shall be left to a board of appeals to decide the value, and such decision shall be final; said board to be composed of three disinterested freeholders elected by the council in January, or as vacancies occur, who shall hold their offices for one year, unless sooner removed by the council. A majority of the members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; said board shall meet to hear appeals from parties aggrieved, and to regulate and supervise the assessment rolls on the first Monday in April of every year, and shall hold their sessions until all appeals have been heard and determined, and until said assessment rolls shall have been so regulated and supervised. The assessor shall give at least five days notice of such meeting by newspaper publication. The board shall have general supervision over the assessment rolls of the city, and shall have the right to diminish or increase the valuation of any property so as to correspond with the valuation of other similar property, and shall order any error in assessment or any inequitable assessment to be changed and corrected. The members of the board shall be sworn by the Mayor or any officer qualified to administer oaths, to discharge their duties faithfully and impartially. They shall receive for their service such compensation as the city council may direct. Any one aggrieved by error of assessment may complain to the board in writing. No increase in valuation of property shall be made without notifying the owners thereof, by newspaper publication, or in such manner as the city council may provide.

Section 158. The city council shall have the power to appropriate private property for public purposes. Whenever the city council of said city shall deem it necessary to take any private property in order to open, extend, change or widen any public street, avenue or alley, or for the construction of water mains or sewers, either within or without the city limits, such property may be taken for such purposes by making just compensation to the owner thereof; if the amount of such compensation shall not be agreed upon, it shall be the duty of the city council to cause to be stated in writing the real estate or property sought to be taken, the name of the owner thereof and his residence if known, and the purpose for which such property is sought to be taken, and file such statement with the County Judge of Dallas county. Upon the filing of such statement it shall be the duty of such judge in term time or vacation, to appoint three disinterested freeholders and qualified voters of the city of Dallas, as special commissioners to assess the damages to accrue to the owner by reason of such condemnation. The commissioners so appointed shall in their proceedings be governed and controlled by the state laws in force in reference to the condemnation of the right of way for railroad companies, and the assessment of damages therefor; the city of Dallas occupying the position of the railroad company. And all laws in reference to the application for the condemnation for right of way of railroad companies, including the measure of damages, the right of appeal and the like, shall apply to an application by the city of Dallas under this charter for condemnation of property for the aforesaid purposes. The City of Dallas to occupy the position of the railroad company. In estimating the damages to such property the jury shall not only estimate the value of the land so taken, but they shall also estimate the damage done the remainder of any land so taken by reason of changing the shape of the same.

Section 161. That the city public schools shall be under the management and control of a board of school directors composed of one member from each ward, who shall be elected at the general elections of the city, and shall hold their offices for the term of two years and serve without compensation; provided, that this section shall in no way interfere with the term of office of any of the present members of said board, except the members from such wards as may be changed or established prior to the next general election, and provided, that the members of said board who shall be elected from such ward as may be changed or established prior to said election, shall, in such manner as said board may determine, as soon after said election as practicable, divide themselves into two classes, one of which said classes shall serve for one and the other for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified; said board shall be subject to the ordinances of the city, and shall have such power and perform such duties as the city council may from time to time by ordinance prescribe.

Any vacancy on said board shall be filled in conformity with the ordinance regulating special elections.

Sec. 2. Whereas, as the city of Dallas has no charter by which she can condemn property for the opening or widening of streets. Therefore, an imperative public necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule, which requires bills to be read on three several days in each house, and the same is hereby suspended and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it [is] so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by two-thirds vote—ayes 84, nays 0; and passed the Senate by two-thirds vote—ayes 22, nays 0.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 25th day of February, A. D. 1891, and was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

HEIRS OF L. H. DAVIS—ACT FOR RELIEF OF.

- Sec. 1. Sale to P. E. Holmes is validated.
2. Patent ordered to issue when balance due is paid.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 2.—[H. B. No. 490.] An act to validate the sale of section 82, Block H, located for the common school fund by virtue of certificate No. 1-41, issued to the Waco and North Western Railroad Company, situated in Hardeman County, made by the State Land Board to P. E. Holmes upon his application for the purchase thereof, filed the 28th day of May 1885, under the act of April 12th, 1883, providing for the sale and lease of the common school, university and asylum lands, &c. and to authorize and require the Commissioner of the General Land Office to issue patent therefor in favor of the heirs of L. H. Davis, deceased, whenever they shall pay to the State the amount of money due the common school fund for said section of land according to the terms of said sale.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sale of section 82, Block H, of land located for the common school fund by virtue of certificate 1-41 issued to the Waco and Northwestern Railroad Company, situated in Hardeman County, made by the State Land Board to P. E. Holmes, upon his application for the purchase thereof, filed on the 28th day of May, 1885, under the act of April 12th, 1883, providing for the sale and lease of lands belonging to the common school, university and asylum funds be and the same is hereby validated.

Sec. 2. Whereas the said P. E. Holmes, after completing his purchase of said land by paying the amount of money therefor, as required by law, sold and conveyed the same to L. H. Davis, who together with his administrators have paid all interest due on said purchase, and all taxes assessed against said land, and whereas, said L. H. Davis died on the 10th day of February 1888, and his widow and children are residing on said land, therefore be it further enacted that the Commissioner of the General Land Office be and he is hereby authorized and required to issue patent for said land, whenever the balance due on said land according to the terms of said sales shall be paid by said heirs.

Sec. 3. Whereas, there is now pending in the District Court of Hardeman County a suit to forfeit the sale hereinafter validated, which suit is liable to be called for trial before the adjournment of the present session of the Legislature; therefore there exists an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring all bills to be read on three several days to be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 75 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 26 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 6th day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

M. B. IRWIN—ACT FOR RELIEF OF.

- Sec. 1. Annual pension of $150, from January 1, 1891.
 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 3.—[S. B. No. 172.] An Act to provide an annual pension of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars for M. B. Irwin, a surviving soldier of the Texas Revolution.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That there shall hereafter be paid to M. B. Irwin a surviving soldier of the Texas Revolution the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars per annum during his natural life, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to take effect from the first day of January 1891.

Sec. 2. That on account of the dependent condition of the beneficiary herein, his aged and infirm condition, there exists an emergency and public necessity, that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by yeas 24, nays none; and passed the House by yeas 76, nays 1.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the ninth day of March, A. D. 1891, and was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

 SAN ELIZARIO—DEEDS OF VALIDATED.

Preamble.
 Sec.

1. Deeds to lands patented to inhabitants of San Elizario declared valid.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause; does not validate claim of any person as against the University or State of Texas.

CHAP. 4.—[H. B. No. 416.] An act to validate deeds made by the town of San Elizario while acting under the general incorporation laws.

Whereas, the State of Texas granted by patent to inhabitants of the town of San Elizario in El Paso County, a body of land, and the inhabitants of said town, for many years, ignored the special charter and organized in pursuance of the general incorporation laws, a municipal corporation, and subdivided the lands aforesaid into small parcels, and the corporation conveyed the same by deed, and said lands are now, in good faith held and owned by hundreds of persons most of whom have cultivated or improved the same; now therefore:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all deeds to any part of the lands patented to inhabitants of the town of San Elizario, executed under authority of said town while acting under the general incorporation laws of the State, are hereby declared valid to all intents and purposes as if the same had been executed under and in conformity with the special charter of said town.

Sec. 2. The cloud cast upon the title of the lands named in preamble and first section of this act, the necessity for speedy relief and the crowded condition of business before the Legislature, create an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days and such rule is hereby suspended, and the clouds cast upon titles, the retarding of development and utilization of the lands create an emergency that this act take effect from its passage, and it is so enacted. Provided that nothing in this act shall be construed as in any way acknowledging, acquiring or validating the claims of any person as against the claim of the University of Texas, or the claim of the State of Texas to any portion of the land covered or claimed to be covered by the San Elizario grant; provided further that no suit now pending or hereafter brought by or in behalf of the University of Texas shall be affected by anything in this act contained.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 76 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 25 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the seventeenth day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

SOCORRO—DEEDS OF VALIDATED.

Preamble.

Sec.

1. Deeds to lands patented to inhabitants of Socorro declared valid.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause; does not validate claim of any person as against the University or State of Texas.

CHAP. 5.—[H. B. No. 417.] An act to validate deeds made by the Town of Socorro while acting under the general incorporation laws.

Whereas, the State of Texas granted by patent to inhabitants of the town of Socorro in El Paso county a body of land and the inhabitants of said town for many years ignored the special charter and organized in pursuance of the general incorporation laws a municipal corporation and subdivided the lands aforesaid into small parcels, and the corporation conveyed the same by deed, and said lands are now in good faith held and owned by hundreds of persons, most of whom have cultivated or improved the same; now, therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all deeds to any part of the lands patented to inhabitants of the town of Socorro, executed under authority of said town while acting under the general incorporation laws of the State are hereby declared valid to all intents and purposes, as if the same had been executed under and in conformity with the special charter of said town.

Sec. 2. The cloud cast upon the title of the lands named in preamble and first section of this act; the necessity for speedy relief, and the crowded condition of business before the Legislature create an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and such rule is hereby suspended, and the clouds cast upon titles, the retarding of development and utilization of the lands create an emergency that this act take effect from its passage, and it is so enacted. Provided that nothing in this act shall be construed as in anyway acknowledging, acquiring or validating the claims of any person as against the University of Texas, or the claims of the State of Texas, to any portion of the land covered or claimed to be covered by the Socorro grant. Provided further, that no suit now pending or hereafter brought by or in behalf of the University of Texas shall be affected by anything in this act contained.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 73 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 25 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the seventeenth day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the House in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

P. H. BELL—ACT FOR RELIEF OF.

Preamble.

Sec. 1. Annual pension of $150, from January 1, 1891, and certificate for 1280 acres of land.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 6.—[S. S. B. No. 164.] An act for the relief of Governor P. H. Bell, a veteran of the Texas Revolution.

Whereas, Governor P. H. Bell, now residing at Littleton, North Carolina, gave many years of his eventful life to the service of the Republic and State of Texas, and whereas, in his old age he is now in necessitous and indigent circumstances, and whereas, being a non-resident of the State, he was not a beneficiary under the veteran pension law of 1885 nor under the pension law of 1890 now in force, and whereas, also because of his non-residence in the State he did not obtain a veteran donation land certificate under the act of 1881; now therefore, in recognition of the services rendered and to the end that his declining years may be free from want:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That to Governor P. H. Bell there shall be granted an annual pension of one hundred and fifty dollars, payable quarterly and to take effect from the first day of January 1891, and to be paid under the laws now in force governing the payment of veteran pensions. And to Governor P. H. Bell there is hereby granted a certificate for 1280 acres of land which may be located upon any of the heretofore reserved public lands, now reserved for the payment of the public debt.

Sec. 2. Whereas Governor P. H. Bell is old and infirm, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity demands the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the rule is suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 27 yeas and no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 47 yeas and 25 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the seventeenth day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

CASTROVILLE—AMENDMENT TO CHARTER OF.

Sec. 1. Amends section 2, act of January 16, 1850.

(2) Defines boundary lines.

3. [2] Emergency clause.

CHAP. 7.—[H. B. No. 546.] An act to amend section 2 of an act to incorporate the town of Castroville, approved January 16th, 1850.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 2 of an act to incorporate the town of Castroville, approved January 16th, 1850, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 2. That the bounds and limits of said town, and within which the said corporation shall exercise lawful jurisdiction shall be as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the northeast corner of survey No. 178, on the west bank of the Medina river; thence west with the north line of said survey one and one half miles ($1\frac{1}{2}$) to a point on said line for the northwest corner; thence in a southerly direction in a straight line to a point on the south line of survey No. 179 for its southwest corner, one and one half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) miles from the southeast corner of said survey on the west bank of the Medina river; thence with the south line of said survey No. 179 one and one half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) miles to the southeast corner of said survey on west bank of said river; thence up said river as it meanders to the place of beginning.

Sec. 3. The great importance of this act to the people of Castroville, and the near approach of the close of this session creates an emergency, and a public necessity exists requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 74 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 23 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the twenty-third day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That sections 6, 7, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 34, 35, 36, 37, 47, 53, 56, 57, 58, 64, 76, 78, 82 and 82a, 85, 86, 87, 88, 95, 102, 109, 115, 143 and 159 of said charter shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 6. Officers—how chosen. The Mayor, Aldermen and all of the officers mentioned in the last preceding section, except the City Judge and City Engineer, shall be elected by the qualified voters of said city as hereinafter provided, and shall hold their respective offices for two years and until the election and qualification of their successors.

Section 7. The city council shall at their first regular meeting in April after the annual election in the year 1891 and every two years thereafter, elect a City Judge and City Engineer who shall hold their office for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified; should said city council fail to elect said City Judge and City Engineer at their first regular meeting in April then they shall do so at their next regular meeting.

Section 26. City Court—Jurisdiction of. The judicial power of the city of Fort Worth shall be and the same is hereby vested in a Court to be known as the Fort Worth City Court, to be presided over by a judge to be known as city judge, which court is hereby created and established with a criminal jurisdiction as follows: First, to try and punish all misdemeanors over which the recorder's court of Fort Worth now has jurisdiction. Second, to try, determine and punish all misdemeanors arising under the provisions of this charter, to have concurrent jurisdiction with the State courts over all misdemeanors against the laws of the State, committed within the City limits, except theft, swindling, aggravated assault, aggravated assault and battery, keepers or exhibitors of such games as are prohibited by law, and matters involving official misconduct; and to have exclusive jurisdiction over, and violation of the Sunday laws between the hours of 12 o'clock Saturday night and 9 o'clock Sunday morning and between the hours of 4 o'clock p. m. Sunday and 12 o'clock Sunday night.

Section 27. Said Court shall always be deemed open for trial of said causes, and proceedings before said court shall be commenced by filing a written complaint, specifying the charge made against the accused, with reasonable certainty, which complaint shall be sworn to, and shall not be quashed for any formal defects if it substantially sets forth the nature of the violation alleged. Said court shall have no civil jurisdiction, except the forfeiture and collection of bonds in said city court.

Section 28. All process of said court shall run in the name and by the authority of the City of Fort Worth and shall conclude against the peace and dignity of the city, and shall be served and executed in the same manner as like process issued from a state court unless herein otherwise provided. The practice and procedure of state court so far as applicable and practicable, shall govern in said city court, unless otherwise provided herein, or by ordinance of the city council. The style of process shall be, "The City of Fort Worth."

Section 29. Powers of City Judge. The city judge shall have full power and authority to enforce all process of said city court. He shall have full power to issue subpoenas for witnesses and to compel their attendance by process of attachment. He may punish all contempts of his court by fine and imprisonment or either. He may issue subpoenas, writs of capias, warrants of arrest, search warrants, execution and all other process known to the law, which state courts in such case may issue. He may require of any person arrested, a bond for his or her good behavior, and to keep the peace or for his or her appearance before said court, with two good and sufficient sureties, which bond, as well as all other bonds taken in any proceedings in said court, shall be payable to the City of Fort Worth. He shall have full power to administer official oaths and affirmations and give certificates therefor. The city council may determine what costs if any shall be charged for proceedings in and for all process issued by said court. The city judge shall perform all the duties herein required, and such other duties as may be prescribed by ordinance, not inconsistent with the constitution of this State. All fines and costs imposed by said court shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city. The city council may if they deem it necessary, provide said court with a clerk and seal. In cases of temporary failure to act for any cause, on the part of the City Judge, the Mayor is hereby authorized to appoint some person qualified, who shall discharge the duties of said office and receive the pro rata compensation due therefor. The provisions herein referring to said city judge shall not be construed to interfere with the term of the present City Recorder until the time for which he was elected has expired.

Section 30. City Judge's salary. The city judge shall receive a salary of eighteen hundred dollars per year for his first term of office under this act, and thereafter shall receive a salary not exceeding eighteen hundred dollars per year, to be fixed by the city council as hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments.

Section 31. No appeal shall lie from this court unless the fine imposed is twenty dollars or more, and then only to the Court of Appeals. Said appeals shall be governed by the rules of practice and procedure for appeals from the county court to said Court of Appeals so far as the same may be practicable.

Section 34. Powers and duties of Treasurer, etc. The Treasurer of said city shall receive and securely keep all moneys belonging to the city and make all payments for the same upon the order of the Mayor attested by the Secretary, under the seal of the city; Provided, that no order shall be paid unless it shall show on its face that the city council has directed its issuance and for what purpose. He shall render a full and correct statement of his receipts and payments to the council at their first regular meeting in every quarter, and whenever, at all other times, he is required by them to do so. At the end of ever[y] half year, he shall cause to be published at the expense of the city, a report showing the amount of receipts and expenditures for six months next preceding and the general condition of the treasury, and he shall do and perform such other acts and duties as the city council may require, and for his services, he shall receive such salary as the council shall fix as hereinafter provided, not to exceed two thousand dollars per annum, payable monthly. He shall execute a bond, payable to the city in such amount and in such form as may be required by the council and with sufficient security, to be approved by the council, and conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties in accordance with the charter and ordinance of the city. He shall also execute another bond, payable to the city in such amount and in such form as may be required by the council, and conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties by reason of all school funds of any source coming into his hands.

Section 35. Powers and Duties of Assessor and Collector, etc. The Assessor and Collector shall make up the assessment of all property taxed by the city and make duplicate rolls thereof, and on completion of the rolls he shall deliver one of them to the City Secretary. He shall collect all taxes due the city, and in the event of non-payment of any taxes he shall proceed to sell property to raise the amount of taxes so due, and shall, in the performance of his duties, observe the provisions of this act and the ordinance of the city relating thereto. He shall give bond payable to said city in such amount and in such form as the council may require with good and sufficient sureties conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties in accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city, the same to be approved by the council. The council may require of him a new bond whenever they deem the existing bond, for any reason, insufficient, and whenever such bond shall be required he shall perform no official act until the same is given and approved. He shall, at the expiration of every week, pay to the treasurer all money collected by him by virtue of his office, and he shall at the first meeting in every month report to the council the money so collected and paid. He shall perform such other duties and in such manner and according to such rules and regulations as the council may prescribe. He is authorized to require the owners of property subject to taxation to render a correct statement thereof under oath to be administered by him or one of his deputies. He is empowered to appoint one or more deputies, subject to confirmation by the city council, whose salaries shall be paid by the city. He shall receive a salary of not more than two thousand dollars per annum to be fixed by the council as hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments.

Section 36. Powers and duties of City Engineer. The City Engineer shall possess such powers and perform such duties as the city council may prescribe, and he shall receive a salary of not more than two thousand dollars per annum, to be fixed by the council as hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments. He shall execute a bond payable to the city in such amount as the council may prescribe, with sufficient security to be approved by the council and conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties in accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city.

Section 37. Powers and Duties of City Attorney. The City Attorney shall represent the city of Fort Worth in all cases now pending or hereafter to be brought in any court in favor of or against said city. He shall attend all meetings of the city council, and give his advice and counsel when called upon to do so. He shall aid when requested in drawing and digesting all ordinances, resolutions, regulations, charters and amended charters, and he shall render such other professional services as the council may require. He shall have the power to administer oaths in any manner pertaining to the duties of his office. He may appoint a deputy, subject to confirmation by the council, to be paid by the city, to represent him in the city court. He shall receive a salary of not more than twenty-five hundred dollars per annum to be fixed by the council as hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments. The council may, when it deems it necessary, employ counsel to assist the City Attorney in any matter or suit affecting the city and pay him such compensation as may be agreed upon. The City Attorney shall give such bond as the city council may require.

Section 47. Control of streets and alleys, etc. To have the exclusive control and power over streets, alleys, public grounds and highways within the city, and to summarily abate and remove encroachments or obstructions thereof; to open, vacate, alter, widen, extend, establish, regulate, grade, clean or otherwise improve such streets, alleys, highways and public grounds; to put drains or sewers therein and to prevent the encumbering thereof in any manner and to protect same from any encroachment or injury, and to regulate and alter the grade of premises, and to require the filling up and raising of same; and said city council shall also have power to alter or vacate the alley in any block of ground within the city upon the written application of the owner of the block, or if there be more than one owner of such block, then upon the written application of all the owners thereof uniting in such application, and such alley so vacated shall thereupon revert to and become the property of the owner of the block of which it was a part, or if more than one, then the owners of the adjoining lots therein, each extending to the center of the alley so vacated.

Section 57. May prevent the sale of liquors in certain places. The city council shall have the power to regulate and prevent the sale, bartering or giving away of any intoxicating liquors in any house or place where any theatrical or dramatic representations are given; regulate and prevent the same from being brought in or to such places under any pretext whatever. All rooms or buildings or apartments of any kind inside the rooms where such representations are given, or being a part of it, or joining or connected therewith by any door or doors, dumb waiter or opening of any kind, shall be held to be within the places inhibited by this section.

Section 58. May regulate Butchers, etc. To license, tax and make such rules and regulations in relation to butchers as they may deem necessary and proper.

Section 64. May punish vagrants, etc. To restrain and punish vagrants, mendicants, street beggars and prostitutes.

Section 76. May compel convicts to labor on the streets, etc. To compel and force all offenders against any ordinance of the city, found guilty by the city judge and sentenced to fine, who shall fail or refuse to pay such fine and all costs and penalties, to labor on the streets or alleys of the city or any public work, under such rules and regulations as may be by ordinance established.

Section 78. May prevent and punish the keeping of disorderly houses. To prevent and punish the keeping of houses where indecent, lewd and immodest theatrical representations are given, houses of prostitution within the city, and to adopt summary measures for the removal or suppression of all such establishments.

Section 82. May regulate wires, poles, etc. The city council shall [have] the power to cause telegraph, telephone and electric light and electric power companies to change the location of their poles, and also to cause all erected poles not in use to be taken down and removed. If such companies shall fail to do such things after being notified, the city may have the same done at the expense of such companies.

Section 82a. The city council of the City of Fort Worth shall have the power, authority and control to regulate the location of freight and passenger depots in the City of Fort Worth, and shall have power, authority and control to cause the construction and repairs of approaches to the depots, and also have power and authority to cause the placing of signal and watchmen at railroad crossings within the corporate limits of the City of Fort Worth, and to regulate the speed of trains within said city.

Section 85. Power to pass, etc., ordinances, etc., and other powers. The city council shall have power to pass, publish, amend or repeal all ordinances, rules, and police regulations not contrary to the constitution of this State, for the good government, peace and order of the city and the trade and commerce thereof that may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the powers vested by this charter, in the corporation, the city government or any department or office thereof; to enforce the observance of all such rules, ordinances and police regulations, and to punish violations thereof by fines, penalties and costs; but no fine or penalty shall exceed five hundred dollars; and for any fine, penalty and costs imposed by the city judge in the trial of any cause or complaint before him, execution may issue to collect such fine, penalty and costs, to be levied and executed in the same manner that executions are from the district or county court. The same shall be issued by the city judge to the marshal, who, in levying on the property and selling, shall have like power and authority as the sheriff in executions issued from the district or county court, and the laws of the State, so far as applicable, shall apply to and be in full force and effect as to the executions issued from the city court; and any person upon whom any fine or penalty is imposed may be committed until the payment of the same with costs, and in default thereof may be imprisoned in the city prison or work-house or house of correction or may be required to work on the streets or other public work of the city for such time and in such manner as may be provided by ordinance or by law.

Section 86. Power to provide for trials fees, etc. The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for the payment by all persons convicted of violations of ordinances before the city judge of a trial fee not exceeding ten dollars in addition to or exclusive of the costs above allowed, to be fixed by the council in proceedings before the city judge, the same to be paid into the city treasury for the use and benefit of the city.

Section 87. Power over the finances of the city. To appropriate so much of the revenue of the city emanating from whatever source, for the purpose of retiring and discharging the accrued indebtedness of the city, and for the purpose of improving the public markets and streets, erecting and conducting the city hospitals, city hall, school houses, waterworks, sewers and other public improvements, as they may from time to time deem expedient; and in furtherance of these purposes, they shall have the power to borrow money upon the credit of the city and issue coupon bonds of the city therefor in such sum or sums as they may deem expedient, to bear interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at such place as may be fixed by ordinance; provided, that the aggregate amount of bonds issued by the city council shall at no time exceed six per cent of the value of the property within said city subject to ad valorem tax; provided further, that in determining whether at any time the amounts of bonds issued by the city is in excess of said limit of six per cent of the value of the property within said city subject to ad valorem tax the debt created by the assumption heretofore by said city of the payment of bonds issued by the Fort Worth Water Works Company and the bonds provided for in section 87a of this charter, and the negotiable promissory notes provided for in section 87b of this charter, shall not be considered or construed to be any part of the bonded indebtedness of said city; but said city shall have the right to issue bonds up to said limit of six per cent, regardless of said waterworks debt and waterworks bonds and said negotiable promissory notes.

Section 88. City bonds shall specify what, etc. All bonds shall specify for what purpose they were issued and shall not be invalid if sold for less than their par value, and when any bonds are issued by the city, a fund shall be provided to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to redeem the bonds, which fund shall not be diverted, nor drawn upon for any other purpose, and the City Treasurer shall honor no drafts on said fund except to pay interest upon or redeem said bonds, for which it was provided. The city council shall have power to invest the sinking fund in United States bonds, Texas county bonds or bonds of the City of Fort Worth.

Section 95. Occupation taxes and licenses. The city council shall have the right to assess and collect occupation taxes, commonly known as licenses, upon all trades, professions, callings, occupations or other business carried on in said city on which a license or occupation tax is levied by the State and for the same period during which such State tax is levied; provided that the license tax so levied and collected shall not exceed one-half of the license tax levied by the State for the same trades, professions, occupations or other business unless the city council is specially authorized to tax or license such trades, professions, callings, occupations or other business by this charter; and provided further, that no person engaged in mechanical or agricultural pursuits shall ever be required by the city to pay an occupation tax. The license tax shall be collected by the Assessor and Collector, and shall be paid to that officer by each and every person chargeable therewith before engaging upon any trade, profession, calling, occupation or business; and the city council shall provide suitable penalties for violations or evasions of this section; provided, that the city may collect such tax by suit in any court having jurisdiction of the amount. Any person pursuing more than one trade, profession, occupation, calling or business shall pay a license on each, and no license shall extend to more than one establishment or include more than one trade, profession, occupation, calling or business.

Section 102. Laws to govern assessments and collections. The general laws of the State of Texas in force at the time relating to the assessments and collections of cities and town taxes, as provided by chapter 5 and 6, title 17, Revised Statutes of Texas, shall govern in assessment and collection of city taxes of said city so far as applicable, except where otherwise herein prescribed. Provided, that said city shall have the power at any time by ordinance to prescribe full rules and regulations on the subject.

Section 109. Term of Office of Trustee. A school trustee shall serve without compensation and shall hold office for the term of three years and until his successor is elected and qualified, and an appointment to fill a vacancy shall be for the unexpired term only. The terms of two of the trustees appointed hereunder shall expire on the first day of May, 1891, after their appointment, and two on the first day of May of each succeeding year.

Section 115. May regulate and control the erection, etc., of wooden buildings. The city council, for the purposes of guarding against the calamities of fire, may prohibit the erection, building, placing, moving or repairing of wooden buildings within such limits within said city as they may designate and prescribe, and may, within such limits, prohibit the moving or putting up of wooden buildings from without said limits, and may also prohibit the removal of any wooden building from one place to another within said limits, and may direct, require and prescribe that all buildings within the limits so designated and prescribed as aforesaid shall be made or constructed of fire proof materials, and to prohibit the rebuilding or repairing of wooden buildings within the fire limits when the same shall have been damaged by fire, wind, water, long usage or any manner whatsoever to the extent of fifty per cent of the value thereof, and may prescribe the manner of ascertaining such damages; may declare all dilapidated buildings to be nuisances and direct the same to be repaired, removed or abated in such manner as they shall prescribe and direct; to declare all wooden buildings in the fire limits which they deem dangerous to contiguous buildings or in causing or promoting fire to be a nuisance and require and cause the same to be removed in such manner as they shall prescribe.

Section 143. Proceedings when Peace Bond is forfeited. Whenever any person has been required by the city judge to give a peace bond, or bond for good behavior, or any similar bond under this act, and has complied with such requirements and has violated the conditions of said bond, and the fact is made to appear to the city judge, after due notice to the accused and opportunity to be heard, the offender shall be fined not exceeding the sum of two hundred dollars, and the city may sue in any court having jurisdiction, for the recovery of the penalty of said bond. Affidavits must be made charging a violation of the conditions of the bond before the city judge shall proceed to investigate the matter.

Sec. 2. That the charter of the City of Fort Worth be and the same is hereby amended by adding thereto sections 28a, 30a, 34a, 53a, 79a, 87a, 87b, 87c, 159a, 159b and 159c.

Section 28a. City Judge. In lieu of the present office of Recorder of the City of Fort Worth, there is hereby created the office of City Judge, which shall be filled by some suitable person to be elected by the city council, as hereinbefore provided. Such officer, when elected shall be known as City Judge, and shall preside over and hold said court, and discharge all the duties thereof. He shall hold his office for the term of two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall be resident of said city, and a qualified voter therein. He shall be a person learned in the law.

Section 30a. All jurors in said city court shall be residents of said city, and otherwise possessed of the same qualifications as jurors in the state courts. They shall be summoned and selected in such manner as the city council may provide by ordinance.

Section 53a. Taxes on Hackmen, etc. To license, tax and regulate hackmen, draymen, omnibus drivers, baggage wagon drivers, and drivers of vehicles of every kind, and all others pursuing like occupations with or without vehicles, and prescribe their compensation, and make it a misdemeanor for any person to attempt to defraud them of any legal charge for services rendered; and to regulate stands for vehicles, and regulate, license and restrain runners for railroads, vehicles of any kind, hotels, public houses of any kind, or other business of any kind.

Section 53b. Sprinkling Streets. The city council shall have power to provide for sprinkling any and all streets of the city and the further power to assess a special tax on the property fronting on said streets to cover the entire expense of such sprinkling; provided, that no such tax shall be assessed unless by a two-thirds vote of the entire city council; provided, further, that the assessment and collection of such special tax shall be regulated as far as practicable by the rules in relation to street improvements as provided elsewhere in this charter.

Section 79a. May require owners of private premises to remove weeds, etc., To require the owner of any private premises in said city to cut and remove all weeds from such premises.

Section 87a. Water Works Bonds. The city council shall have the power to issue bonds to be known as the Fort Worth Water Works bonds, to the extent of one million dollars, including the bonds heretofore issued by the Fort Worth Water Works Company, the payment of which has heretofore been assumed by the city, and the one hundred thousand dollars of bonds heretofore issued by the city for water works purposes, and to provide for the payment of the interest and sinking funds of the bonds to be hereafter issued under the provisions of this section, by pledging the credit of the city, and the income and property of the water works plant and the electric light plant now owned by the city; provided, that the bonds mentioned in this section shall not be construed or considered in determining whether at any time the amount of bonds issued by the city is in excess of the limit of six per cent of the value of the property within the city subject to ad valorem tax, as provided by section 87 of this charter. Any moneys realized from the sale of bonds under this section shall be appropriated and used only for the improvement and extension of the water works plant and electric light plant owned by the city, and the retirement or taking up of any of the water works bonds mentioned in this section.

Section 87b. May issue negotiable paper. The city may by a vote of not less than two-thirds of all aldermen elected, authorize the issuance of the city's negotiable promissory notes for any of the purposes named in the first clause of this section, where the same may be needed for current expenses in any sum or sums the council may direct, to be signed by the mayor and city secretary and attested by the city seal, bearing interest at any rate not to exceed eight per cent per annum, payable at any time not exceeding five years from and after their date; but the amount of such notes so issued and outstanding shall not at any time exceed the amount of one hundred thousand dollars.

Section 87c. The city council shall have the power at any time to issue bonds for the purpose of paying off and retiring outstanding bonds against the city, and such bonds issued for this purpose shall not be construed or considered in determining whether at any time the amount of bonds issued by the city is in excess of the limit of six per cent of the value of the property within the city subject to ad valorem tax, as provided by section 87 of this charter. Such bonds shall state upon their face the purpose for which they are issued, and the moneys realized from their sale shall be used only for the purpose of paying off and retiring other bonds of the city.

Section 159c. The property, real and personal, belonging to the city, shall not be liable to be sold or appropriated under any writ of execution or cost bill, nor shall the funds belonging to said city in the hands of any person be liable to garnishment on account of any debt it may owe, or funds it may have on hand due any person, nor shall the city or any of its officers or agents be required to answer to any writ of garnishment or any account whatsoever.

Sec. 3. That all laws in conflict with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. Whereas, it is of great importance that the city of Fort Worth shall have the power to secure better government of said city, an emergency exists requiring the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this bill be placed upon its third reading and final passage, therefore, an emergency and a great public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 71 yeas and 2 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 21 yeas and no nays.]

CHAP. 9.—[S. B. No. 371.] An Act to create a more efficient road system for the county of Collin, in the State of Texas, and making county commissioners ex-officio road commissioners and prescribing their duties as such, and providing for their compensation as Road Commissioners, and defining the powers and duties of the Commissioners Court of said county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That each member of the commissioners court of Collin county shall be ex-officio road commissioner of their respective districts and under the direction of the commissioners court, shall have charge of all the teams, tools and machinery belonging to the county, and placed in their hands by said courts; and it shall be their duty, under such rules and regulations as the commissioners court may prescribe, to superintend the laying out of new roads, the making or changing of roads, and the building of bridges. Each of said Commissioners shall, before entering upon the duties of their office, execute a bond of one thousand dollars with two or more good and sufficient sureties, payable to the county judge of said county for the use and benefit of the road and bridge fund, conditioned that they will perform all the duties required of them by law or by the commissioners court, and that they will account for all money or property belonging to the county that may come into their possession.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of said county shall have full power and authority, and it shall be their duty to adopt such system for working, laying out, draining and repairing the public roads in said county as they may deem best, and from time to time said court may change its plans or system of working. Said commissioners court shall have power to purchase such teams, tools and machinery as may be necessary for the working of its roads. Said court shall have power to construct, grade, gravel, or otherwise improve any road or bridge by contract; in such case, said court or the County Judge may advertise in such manner as said court may determine for bids to do such work, and the contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall enter into bond payable to the County Judge of said county, for the use of the road and bridge fund, with good and sufficient sureties to be approved by said court, and in such sum as said court may determine, for the faithful compliance with the terms of said contract; but said court shall have the right to reject any and all bids. At the time of making any such contract, the court shall direct the county Treasurer to pass the amount to a particular fund for that purpose, and the Treasurer shall keep a separate account of such fund and the same shall not be used for any other purpose, and can only be paid out on the order of said court, and the said court shall have authority to employ any hands or teams to work on the roads under such regulations and for such price as they may deem best.

Sec. 3. The commissioners court of said county shall require all county convicts not otherwise employed to labor upon the public roads under such regulations as it may prescribe, and each convict so worked shall receive a credit of fifty cents on his fine first, and then on the cost, for each day he may labor. The commissioners court may at a regular term allow to the officers and witnesses such amount of their cost for the arrest and conviction of said convicts as it may deem best; provided that it shall not allow to any officer an amount greater than the following: County Judge, $3.00; County Attorney, $5.00, including commissions; County Clerks and Justices of the Peace, $1.70; Sheriffs or Constables, $2.00; which amount shall be paid to the officers out of the road and bridge fund, on the warrant of the County Judge, when said fine and costs shall have been worked out as provided in this section; provided, that this shall not be so construed as to relieve any convict from the payment of all cost for which he would be liable under the general laws of this State. The commissioners court may grant a reasonable commutation of time for which a convict is committed as a reward for faithful services and good behavior. Provided, that such commutation shall in no case exceed one-tenth of the whole time. The commissioners court may provide the necessary houses, prisons, clothing, bedding, food, medicine, medical attention and guards for the safe and humane keeping of the convicts.

Sec. 4. Each county commissioner shall have control of all road overseers in his district and shall deliver to each of them all teams, tools and machinery necessary in working the roads in the district of said overseer, so far as he has been supplied therewith by the commissioners court, taking the receipt of said road overseer therefor, specifying each item and giving its value, which receipt shall be a full answer of the liability of the Commissioner and shall fix the liability of the overseer; and any commissioner or overseer who shall have been entrusted with any teams, tools or machinery, belonging to said county, shall be liable for any damages that may occur to the same while in his possession. It shall be the duty of the road overseer when he has finished the work on his road to return to said Commissioner all teams, tools and machinery received from him and to take up the receipt given therefor.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the county Commissioner when acting as road Commissioner to inform himself of the condition of the public roads in his district, and shall determine what character of work shall be done upon said roads, and shall direct the manner of grading, draining or otherwise improving the same, which directions shall be observed and obeyed by all road overseers of his district.

Sec. 6. The commissioner may require each road overseer in his district to call out the hands in such numbers as may be sufficient to perform the work, but no road hand shall be required to work exceeding five days in any one year, unless the term of service as prescribed by the general laws shall be extended beyond that time, and provided that all the road hands in a particular district shall, as far as practicable, be worked a uniform time. Each road overseer shall have full control of all road hands within his road district, and he shall see that each hand, when called out, shall perform a good day's work, and if any hand when so called out shall fail or refuse to perform a good days work or to work in the manner the overseer may direct, he shall be liable to the same penalty as if he had failed to appear in obedience to the summons. The commissioners court may allow to any overseer who shall be engaged in the discharge of the duties of his office for more than five days during any one year, a compensation not to exceed one dollar and one-half per day for the time so served.

Sec. 7. Any citizen of Collin county liable for road duty who shall on or before the first day of January of any year pay to the county treasurer the sum of $3.00 shall be exempt from road duty for such year, beginning on the first day of January. The treasurer shall receive and receipt for all money so paid him and place the same to the credit of the road and bridge fund, and he shall keep a separate account for each road district, of all money so received by him, and the same shall be expended in the district from which it was received. The treasurer shall, on the third day of January, or as soon thereafter as practicable, furnish to each county commissioner, a list of all persons in their respective districts that have paid said sum as provided in this section.

Sec. 8. Whenever it shall be necessary to occupy any lands for the purpose of opening, widening, straightening or draining any road or part thereof, if the owner of such land and the county commissioners court can not agree upon the damage to be paid, the county may proceed to condemn the same in the same manner that a railroad company can condemn land for right of way and the same proceedings may be had and the same rights shall exist to each party as would exist if the proceedings were by a railroad company, except that the county shall in no case be required to give bond.

Sec. 9. Each county commissioner when acting as road commissioner and performing the duties imposed upon him by law or by the commissioners court shall be entitled to two dollars per day for the services actually performed; provided that he shall not receive more than forty-five dollars ($45.00) per quarter when the road and bridge tax has not been levied as provided by law under the amendment of 1889, as adopted in 1890 to the Constitution of the State of Texas. And when said tax shall have been levied, he may receive an amount not to exceed ninety ($90.00) dollars per quarter, which amount shall be paid out of the road and bridge fund when the account shall have been approved by the commissioners court, and the court shall not approve said accounts unless the commissioner presenting it shall first sign an oath that the account is just, due and unpaid, and specifying the number of days work actually performed by him, and that it was necessary to be done, and no commissioner shall be entitled to pay as road commissioner while he is performing the duties of county commissioner.

Sec. 10. This act shall be taken notice of by all courts in the same manner as the general law of the State, and it shall be construed to be cumulative of all general laws of the State on the subject of roads and bridges where not in conflict therewith, but in case of a conflict this act shall control as to the said county of Collin.

Sec. 11. The fact that there is now no sufficient road law in force in this State creates an emergency and imperative public necessity, that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 4, 1891.

CHAP. 10.—[H. B. No. 526.] An Act to be entitled an act to create a more efficient road system for the counties of Grayson, Dallas, Galveston, Brown, Comanche, Mills, Fannin, Travis, Hunt, Hill, Kaufman and Fayette in the State of Texas, authorizing the employment of a road commissioner, defining his duties, prescribing penalties for his failure to perform his duties, and further defining the powers and duties of the Commissioners courts of the said counties under this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioners courts of Grayson, Dallas, Galveston, Brown, Comanche, Mills, Fannin, Travis, Hunt, Hill, Kaufman and Fayette counties, if they deem it advisable so to do, may each employ one road commissioner for the county, who shall be a resident citizen of said county, and shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by said commissioners court, not to exceed one hundred dollars per month, to be paid out of the road and bridge fund of said county. Said road commissioner shall be subject to removal at any time by the said commissioners court. He shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, enter into a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, in the sum of $2000, payable to the County Judge of the county and his successor in office, conditioned that such road commissioner will faithfully discharge the duties of his employment as such commissioner, which bond shall be approved by the County Judge and acknowledged by the said Commissioner and the sureties as required for the acknowledgment of deeds, and recorded as required for the bonds of county officers.

Sec. 2. Subject to the orders and control of the Commissioners court, the road Commissioner shall have charge and control of all such teams, wagons, tools and machinery as the Commissioners court shall place in his custody for use on the public roads of said county and shall execute and deliver to the County Clerk of said county his receipt therefor, specifying each item and its value, which shall be filed by the Clerk of the county court in his office, and a certified copy thereof shall be admissible as evidence in any suit against said Commissioner and his sureties or either of them, on his bond for the said property or the value thereof, the same as the original would be. Said road Commissioner and his sureties shall be responsible on his bond for all such property thus turned over to him until he shall account therefor.

Sec. 3. The road Commissioner shall have control of all road overseers in the county, and shall deliver to each all teams, tools, wagons and machinery necessary in working the roads in the district of such overseers, so far as he has been supplied therewith by the commissioners court, taking the receipt of said road overseer therefor, specifying each item and giving its value, which receipt shall be a full answer to the liability of the road commissioner for all such teams, wagons, tools and machinery. It shall be the duty of the road overseer, when he has finished the work on his road, to return to said road Commissioner all teams, wagons, tools and machinery received from him and to take up the receipt given for the same.

Sec. 4. Each road Commissioner and overseer shall, as to all teams, wagons, tools and machinery delivered to him by the Commissioners court or the road commissioner, be deemed and held to be the bailee of the county, and shall be responsible to the county for the value thereof until accounted for by him. It shall be sufficient to exempt the road Commissioner or any road overseer from liability for any property received by him as herein provided to show that he has delivered the same to any person authorized by law or by the orders of the Commissioners court of the county to receive the same, or that the same has died, been lost or destroyed without negligence or fault on his part.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the road Commissioner of the county so far as practicable and as soon as possible, to inform himself of the condition of the public roads of his county, and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Commissioners court of said county, said road Commissioner shall determine what character of work shall be done upon the different roads of his county, and when and wherever needed, he shall establish the grade of such roads and direct the manner of draining the same, which directions shall be obeyed and observed by all road overseers unless changed by order of the Commissioners court.

Sec. 6. The road Commissioner may require each road overseer to call out the hands under his direction in such numbers as may be sufficient to use the teams, wagons, tools and machinery allotted to such road district and at such times as may be necessary, but no road hand shall be required to serve in any one year exceeding five days, unless the term of service as prescribed by the general law shall be extended beyond that term. Each road overseer shall have control of all hands within his road district and subject to road duty, and shall see that each such road hand shall perform his duty in working said roads, and that each hand when called out shall perform a fair day's work, and if any hand so called out shall refuse to work in a proper manner, or to do his part of any service assigned to him, such road overseer shall treat him as if he had failed to appear in obedience to the summons, and such hand shall be liable to the same penalties as if he had failed to appear in obedience to the summons. The Commissioners court may allow to any road overseer who shall be engaged in the discharge of the duties of his office for more than five days during any one year, a compensation not to exceed $1.50 per day for the time so served over and above five days, and in addition thereto said court may enter an order exempting such road overseer from road duty in said county for the next succeeding year, if his service in the opinion of the court has been of a kind to merit such exemption.

Sec. 7. The Commissioners court of said county shall have full power and authority to adopt such system for working, laying out and repairing the public roads in said county as to said court may seem best, and from time to time said court may change its plans or system of work in such manner as it may deem advisable. The said Commissioners court shall have the power to purchase such teams, wagons, tools and machinery as may be necessary for the working of its public roads and also all material that may be needed therefor, all of which shall be paid for out of the road and bridge fund of said county. The Commissioners court of the county may, in its discretion, work the county convicts of said county upon the public roads, but it shall not pay any costs that may be adjudged against said convicts. As a reward for faithful services and good behavior while engaged at any work upon the public roads, the said Commissioners court shall have the authority to grant a reasonable commutation of time for which any convict would be compelled to work in order to pay his fine and costs, and such court shall make proper rules and regulations to govern and control in the granting of such commutation. The said Commissioners court shall have authority to employ such labor as may be necessary to work the public roads of the county, to be paid for out of the road and bridge fund; such labor shall be under the control of the road Commissioner, if one shall be employed, or under such other person or persons as said court may direct and employ for that purpose.

Sec. 8. Every owner of a farm or other lands upon which a hedge of any description grows on or near the line of a public road shall be required to keep the same trimmed so that the height of the same shall not exceed five feet above the level of the ground, and any such owner who shall fail or neglect to so trim such hedge shall be notified in writing by the road overseer of that district to trim such hedge as herein required, and in case such owner shall, after receiving such notice, fail or refuse to so trim said hedge within a reasonable time, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not to exceed $20 per week from and after the time that he received such notice, such fine to be paid into the county treasury and to be placed to the credit of the road and bridge fund of said county. If any owner of any farm shall fail or refuse after being notified as herein required to trim his hedge as required by this act, then the road overseer shall cause the same to be trimmed in accordance with the provisions of this act, to be paid for out of the road and bridge fund of the county.

Sec. 9. The Commissioners court of said county may make contracts for all supplies and materials to be used in feeding the hands and teams employed on the public roads and in the work of the same, and may make rules and regulations by which the same and all contracts shall be paid by the county, and all persons employed by said court shall be governed by such rules and regulations. The said court, may from time to time, make all necessary rules and regulations for the government of the road Commissioner and all persons employed by said county on the public roads, which rules and regulations shall be entered upon the minutes of the court and a certified copy delivered to each person to be governed thereby. Said court may require of the road Commissioner to make reports at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed by the said court, and any road Commissioner refusing to make such reports shall be removed and shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not to exceed $100.00.

Sec. 10. Whenever it shall be necessary to occupy any lands, for the purpose of opening, widening, straightening or draining any road, or any part thereof, if the owner of such land and the county can not agree upon the damages to be paid, the county may proceed to condemn the same in the same manner that a railroad company can condemn lands for right of way, and the same proceedings shall be had and the same rights shall exist as to each party as would exist if the proceedings were by a railroad company, except that the county shall not be required in any case to give bond.

Sec. 11. This act shall be taken notice of by all courts in the same manner as a general law of the state, and it shall be construed to be cumulative of all general laws of the state on the subject of roads and bridges where not in conflict therewith; but in case of such conflict this act shall control as to the said counties of Grayson, Dallas, Galveston, Brown, Comanche, Mills, Fannin, Travis, Hunt, Hill, Kaufman and Fayette. The term "roads," includes the roadbed, ditches and drains, the bridges and culverts, and every part of such road. The term "work and working," as used herein, shall include the opening and laying out of new roads, widening roads, constructing and building, repairing and draining of such roads and everything that may be done in and about the maintenance of such road.

Sec. 12. The Commissioners court of each of the counties named in this act shall have the right to exercise all the authority and powers herein given, and neither of said counties shall be compelled to employ a road Commissioner, unless the Commissioners court of such county shall deem it advisable so to do; provided, that the Commissioners court of either of the aforesaid counties shall appoint a road Commissioner as herein provided for, then the county Commissioners of the county, making said appointment shall not be required to perform the duties required of them by article 4390a, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State.

Sec. 13. The fact that public travel is greatly impeded by reason of the bad condition of the roads in said counties, and that the Commissioners courts thereof have not the power to enforce the needful system of road work and supervision herein provided for creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 11.—[H. B. No. 565.] An act repealing an act entitled "An act to incorporate the town of San Eleceario in El Paso county," passed by the twelfth Legislature, approved April the 5th, 1871.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act entitled "An act to incorporate the town of San Eleceario in El Paso county, passed by the twelfth Legislature, approved 5th day of April, 1871, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. Whereas, many provisions in said act incorporating said town are unjust and oppressive to persons living and owning property within the corporate limits of said town, as prescribed by said act, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 12.—[S. S. B. No. 288.] An act to amend an act entitled "An act to incorporate the city of Waco and to define its boundaries and powers," approved February 19, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 15 of the above recited act be and the same is hereby amended so that the same shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 15. (1.) The mayor of the city shall be the chief executive officer of said corporation and shall be vigilant and active at all times in causing the laws and ordinances of the government of said city to be duly executed and put in force.

(2.) He shall inspect the conduct of all subordinate officers in the government thereof and as far as it may be in his power shall cause all negligence, carelessness and positive violation of duty to be prosecuted and punished.

(3.) He shall have power whenever in his judgment the good of the city may require it to summons meetings of the city council, and he shall from time to time, communicate to that body all such information, and recommend all such measures as may tend to the improvement of the finances, the police, health, security, cleanliness, comfort, ornament and good government of said city.

(4.) The mayor shall also be the chief judicial magistrate of the city.

(5.) Whenever the mayor may deem it necessary in order to enforce the laws of the city, or to avert danger, or to protect life or property, in case of riot or any out break or calamity or public disturbance, or when he has reason to fear any serious violation of law or order, or any outbreak or any other danger to said city or to the inhabitants thereof, he shall summon into service as a special police force all or as many of the citizens as in his judgment and discretion may be necessary and proper; and such summons as may be by proclamation or orders addressed to the citizens generally, or those of any ward of the city or subdivision thereof; or such summons may be by personal notification; such special police force while in service, shall be subject to the orders of the mayor, shall perform such duties as he may require, and shall have the same power while on duty as the regular police force of said city; and any person so summoned and failing to obey, or appearing and failing to perform any duty that may be required under this act or any ordinance of said city in conformity thereto, shall be fined in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

(6.) The mayor shall have like power with the justice of the peace to administer oaths of office.

(7.) He shall have authority in case of riot or any unlawful assemblage, to order and enforce the closing of any theatre, ballroom, grog shop, tippling shop, barroom or other place of resort, or public room, or building, and may order the arrest of any person violating in his presence any of the penal laws of the State, or any ordinance of the city; and he shall perform such other duties and possess and exercise such other power and authority as may be prescribed and conferred by the city council.

(8.) All ordinances and resolutions adopted by the council, shall before they take effect be placed in the office of the city secretary, and if the mayor approve thereof, he shall sign the same, and such as he shall not sign he shall return to the city council with his objection thereto. Upon the return of any ordinance or resolution of the mayor, the vote by which the same was passed shall be reconsidered, and if after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the whole number of aldermen agree to pass the same and enter their vote on the journal of their proceedings it shall be an ordinance of said city, and if the mayor shall neglect to approve, or object to any such proceedings for a longer period than three days after the same shall be placed in the city secretary's office as aforesaid, the same shall go into effect.

(9.) The mayor may require of any person arrested under the provisions of this act, a bond for his good behavior, and to keep the peace, with two good and sufficient sureties, which bond shall be payable to the City of Waco.

(10.) He shall have full power and authority to issue subpoenas for witnesses and to compel their attendance by process of attachment.

(11.) He may punish all contempts by fine and imprisonment, or either, may issue subpoenas, attachments, writs of capias, warrants of arrest, search warrants, executions and all other process known to the law which a justice of the peace of this State may lawfully issue, and all of said writs and process shall be issued, served and executed under the same form and in the same manner as like processes would be when issued by a justice of the peace unless herein otherwise provided.

(12.) He shall also have full power and authority to administer official oaths and all oaths or affirmations in trial before him.

(13.) The city council of said city shall allow the mayor or judge for his services, such salary as they deem necessary, and the mayor shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by any ordinance of said corporation that may properly and lawfully be required of said official as the judge of said court, and are not inconsistent with the laws and constitution of this State. Provided, that all moneys collected from fines of whatsoever character, imposed by him, shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city.

(14.) The city council shall have the power by ordinance to create the office of Recorder, whenever said ordinance is passed by a majority of the aldermen elected, and upon the passage of said ordinance said council shall elect a Recorder, who shall be clothed with all the judicial authority and perform all the judicial duties that are prescribed by this act, and conferred upon the Mayor as Judge of the police court created by this act, and said recorder shall receive such fees and compensation as the council shall fix by ordinance; said recorder shall hold his office until the next annual election, at which election a recorder shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city, and shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is elected and qualified. Provided, that the city council may at any time they see fit repeal said ordinance creating said office of recorder, in which event the duties of said office with its powers and compensations shall devolve upon the mayor as herein provided.

(15.) The judicial powers of the city of Waco shall be and the same is hereby vested in a court to be known as the police court of the city of Waco, to be presided over by the mayor, or by any other officer authorized by ordinance, which court shall be deemed always open for the trial of causes, and is hereby created and established with a criminal jurisdiction only as follows:

1st. To try, hear, determine and punish all misdemeanors which may be committed in the limits of the city of Waco, except as hereinafter provided.

2nd. To try, hear, determine and punish all offenses arising under the provisions of this charter.

3rd. To have concurrent jurisdiction with the justice and county courts over all misdemeanors arising under the criminal laws of the State, within the city limits, in which the punishment is by fine only, or by fine or imprisonment, or by both; except theft, swindling, embezzlement, and those involving official misconduct; and the mayor or judge of said court shall in addition also be ex-officio Justice of the peace and possess and execute in the city, in criminal cases, all the powers and duties of a Justice of the peace. Said court may grant new trials on motion in writing showing sufficient cause, and duly sworn to; and all trials, prosecutions and proceedings had in said court under this act shall be governed by the laws and rules regulating trials, prosecutions and proceedings in Justice court in force at the time; and shall be a bar to prosecutions for the the same offense in other courts. The city council may determine what costs if any, shall be charged for proceedings in and for all processes issued by said court. In no cause shall the city of Waco pay, or be responsible for any costs in prosecutions in the police court. The style of all writs issued out of the police court of the City of Waco, shall be in the name of the City of Waco. All jurors in said court shall be residents of said city and otherwise possess the same qualifications as jurors in State courts and they shall be summoned in the same manner as provided for in justice courts. Appeals shall be from this court to the county court, when the trial shall be de novo, and said appeals shall be governed by the rules of practice and procedure, for appeals from justices courts to the county courts, so far as the same may be practicable.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted that the following additional section be and the same is hereby added to said act, and shall hereafter constitute a part of the same.

Section 21. A. In addition to the powers granted to the said city of Waco, in the preceding section, said city shall have power to devote so much of the revenue of the city arising from taxation, loans, or any other source as may in the judgment of the city council be necessary for the erection of public school buildings and hospitals, the purchase and improvement of public works, the construction and repair of storm water sewers and sanitary sewers and the erection and maintenance of waterworks, gas works and electric plants; and for the accomplishment of these purposes and the other purposes specified in section 21 of said act, the city of Waco may borrow money upon the credit of the city; and may issue bonds therefor, registered or coupon in such sums and for such amounts as may be found necessary or expedient; said bonds to bear interest at a rate not exceeding eight per cent per annum, but the aggregate amount of bonds issued by the city and outstanding and unpaid, shall never exceed eight per cent of the taxable values as shown by the assessment rolls.

B. Construction of Sidewalks. Whenever the city council shall by ordinance require and direct the laying and construction of sidewalks on any streets or portion of a street within the city, the city secretary shall notify the owners of the property fronting on such street or portion of such street, in writing and under the seal of the city, of the passage of such ordinance and reciting the material prescribed for use in the construction of such sidewalk, together with the dimensions as prescribed by ordinance; all property owners upon receiving such notice shall comply therewith within not less than sixty days from the receipt of notice; failing in which the mayor shall advertise for bids for the construction of such sidewalks, and shall cause the work to be let out to the lowest and best bidder, who upon the award of the contract, shall construct such sidewalk under the direction of the city engineer. Upon completion of the work, the contractor shall make out and deliver to the mayor an itemized account of the cost of the work including cost of materials, and a description of the lot or lots abutting such sidewalk, with the names of the owner of such lot or lots, which when receipted and certified to by the mayor under the seal of the city as the original account of said contractor, which had been paid by the city, may be filed and recorded with such certificate in the office of the county clerk of McLennan county, in the books of registry kept for land mortgages, and after such record, the amount so paid any contractor, by the city, shall constitute a lien upon the property fronting on the sidewalk so constructed; and in addition thereto a personal claim against the owner or owners, which lien may be foreclosed and enforced and such claim sued upon and collected in any court of competent jurisdiction, together with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum from the date of record. And this provision as to fixing lien for sidewalk improvements shall apply to sidewalks already built or improved as well as to those hereafter built or improved. The remedies herein provided for fixing liens shall not be deemed exclusive but held cumulative of existing remedies.

C. Raising Grades. Similar proceedings may be had by the city to require and enforce the filling up and raising of premises to prescribed grades within the city, and in case the owner of any premises fails or refuses to obey the directions of any ordinance requiring his premises to be raised, the city may cause such work to be done by a contractor, as in the case of sidewalks and may establish and foreclose its lien for the cost of such work, and enforce its claim therefor personally, against the owner of such premises, in the same manner as is herein prescribed for the enforcement of the construction of sidewalks.

D. Grading and Paving Streets. Upon the completion of the work of grading, paving, repairing or otherwise improving any particular street or portion of a street, alley or avenue, under any ordinance of the city and the acceptance of such work by the city, it shall be the duty of the city council by ordinance to assess against each lot or parcel of land fronting on the street, alley or avenue, or portion thereof and against the owners of such lots, their proper share of the expenses of such improvements, and such assessments shall constitute a legal claim and demand against the owner or owners of such lots, a copy of such ordinance duly certified to, as correct, by the city secretary under the seal of the city, may be filed for record in the office of the county clerk of McLennan county accompanied with a description of the lots upon such street or avenue or part thereof, and the amount assessed against each lot or parcel so improved which description may be inserted in the body of the ordinance with like effect as if attached; and such ordinance shall be recorded in the registry book of mortgages of lands and after such record, the particular sums therein assessed against each lot or parcel of land, shall constitute a lien upon such lots or parcel, which lien may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction. And this provision as to fixing liens for street improvements shall apply to streets already paved and improved as well as to those hereafter paved or improved; but as to the former shall be cumulative of existing remedies. But no assessment for a street paving or improvement shall ever exceed fifteen per cent of assessed value of abutting lots or parcels of land, nor shall any person be compelled to pay more than his proportionate part of the street that may be in front of his property. Provided, that all railway companies and street railway companies shall be liable for any grading, paving or other improvements hereafter made upon any portion of streets or intersections of streets used or occupied by them, and the cost of such improvements shall operate as a lien upon the property of said companies until paid to the city. Which lien may be fixed in the same manner as is hereinbefore provided for fixing liens as against individuals.

Sec. 3. It being important that the additional powers herein granted to the City of Waco should take effect immediately in order that no delay may occur in the public works already in progress in said city, it is declared that an emergency exists necessitating the suspension of the constitutional rule as to the time laws should take effect, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read in each house on three several days be and the same is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 22 yeas and no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 74 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the twenty-fifth day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

CHAP. 13.—[S. B. No. 359.] An act to incorporate the City of Denison, in Grayson county Texas, and to fix the boundaries thereof, and to provide for its gov-ernment, and the management of its affairs.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all the inhabitants residing within the present limits of the City of Denison in Grayson County, Texas, shall be and are hereby constituted a body corporate and politic by the name and style of "The City of Denison," and by that name they and their successors shall be known in law, and shall have perpetual succession, sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, defend and be defended in all courts and in all actions or proceedings whatsoever. May contract and be contracted with, may purchase or otherwise acquire, receive and hold property, both real and personal, within said city for city purposes, and may sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the same for the benefit of the city. May purchase, receive and hold property, real and personal, within or beyond the limits of the city, to be used for the burial of the dead, for the maintenance of water works to supply the city with water, for the establishment of a hospital for the reception of persons afflicted with contagious or other diseases, or for the erection of a poor house, work house, house of correction, or for any other purpose which may promote the general good of the city, and may erect buildings or other improvements for the purpose aforesaid, and may sell, lease or otherwise dispose of such property for the benefit of such city, and may have a common seal and change the same at pleasure.

Sec. 2. That the bounds and limits of said corporation, "The City of Denison," and shall be its present limits and boundaries. Any territory adjoining the present or future boundaries of said city may from time to time, in any size or shape desired, be admitted and become a part thereof on application made or written consent given to the city council by the owner or owners of the land, or, as the case may be, by a majority of the legal voters resident on the land sought to be added. In all such cases the territory so added shall be described by metes and bounds in an ordinance accepting, assenting and adding the same to the municipal corporation, and thereafter the inhabitants of such added territory shall in all respects be on an equal footing with the inhabitants of the original municipal territory.

Sec. 3. That the corporate powers and duties of said city shall, except as herein otherwise directed, be vested in and exercised by a Mayor and board of two aldermen from each ward, who shall be elected and hold their offices as herein provided, and who shall compose the city council of said city.

Sec. 4. The present city council or any subsequently elected council may divide the city into a convenient number of wards, not exceeding six, and define and establish the boundaries thereof, and may change the same from time to time as may be deemed expedient, having regard to the number of inhabitants, so that each ward may approximately contain as nearly as practicable an equal number of qualified electors for city election, and until such division is made by the city council, the city shall remain as now divided, into four wards, and the present mayor of said city and the aldermen of the respective wards heretofore chosen and now in office shall continue to hold their offices until their successors are elected and qualified.

Sec. 5. All qualified electors of this State who shall have resided six months immediately preceding the election within the limits of said city shall have a right to vote for mayor and all other elective officers of said city, but in all elections to determine the expenditure of money or assumption of debt, or levy of special taxes, only those shall be qualified to vote who pay taxes on property in said city, their qualification to be ascertained by an inspection of the assessment rolls of the city.

Sec. 6. The legislative power of the City of Denton shall be vested in the city council, consisting of a mayor and two aldermen from each ward, all of whom shall be elected by the people biennially, as hereinafter provided. Said officers shall perform such duties as are herein required of them, and as may be prescribed by ordinance. The mayor shall receive an annual salary of not more than eighteen hundred dollars, and he shall not receive any fees or commissions. The aldermen shall receive such compensation as the city council may provide by ordinance, not to exceed twenty-five dollars per month and no compensation for any other service whatever shall be allowed.

Sec. 7. No person shall be eligible to the office of mayor or alderman unless, in addition to other qualifications required by law, he be, at the date of his election, a qualified voter of the city of Denton, and shall have resided therein for at least one year preceding his election and shall have paid a city tax, and shall not be in arrears in the payment of any tax or any liability due the city.

Sec. 8. The general elections in said city shall be held on the first Tuesday in April in each year. There shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city on the first Tuesday in April, 1891, and every two years thereafter, a City Judge, a City Treasurer, a City Assessor and Collector, a Chief of Police, and one alderman from each ward of said city, and on the first Tuesday in April, 1892, and every two years thereafter a Mayor and one alderman from each ward of said city who shall hold their offices for two years and until their successors are elected and qualified. Provided, that the present aldermen of the city shall remain in office until the expiration of the respective terms for which they were elected, and in case of a redivision of the city into wards by the city council at any time before any general election, the aldermen whose terms of office have not yet expired shall continue in office during the respective terms for which they were elected as aldermen for the respective wards, created by such redivision, of which they may be residents, and whenever, by reason of such redivision of the city into wards, there shall be, at the time of any general election a ward in which there shall reside no alderman whose term of office has not expired, there shall be chosen at said election two aldermen for said ward, of whom the one receiving the highest number of votes shall hold his office for the term of two years and until his successor is elected and qualified; and the one receiving the next highest number of votes shall hold his office for the term of one year and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Sec. 9. Aldermen from wards must be residents of said ward and voted for only by voters of their wards.

Sec. 10. Said elections shall be held at such places as the city council may direct, and at least thirty days notice thereof shall be given by publication in one or more newspapers of said city.

Sec. 11. Said elections shall be ordered by the mayor or city council. For the purposes of holding such elections, and others ordered, the mayor or city council shall appoint annually in each ward, some suitable person who shall be presiding officer at all elections in his ward.

Sec. 12. The presiding officer in each ward shall select two judges and two clerks, who, with the presiding officer, shall be managers of the election. The presiding officers and judges must be qualified voters in the city. The city council shall provide for their compensation and shall define and regulate their duties and powers. The mayor, whenever an election is ordered, shall give the required notice, and issue to the presiding officer a writ of election and every published notice of election shall state the officer or officers to be elected, the place where the election shall be held, and the name of the presiding officer thereat. In case the presiding officer so appointed is unable, fails, refuses, or neglects to act, or the mayor or city council have failed to appoint, or in case no appointed presiding officer appears to open the polls, the attending qualified voters may appoint such officer, who shall perform the same duties and have the same powers as the first appointee; but in such cases the managers, in their returns or otherwise, shall certify that the presiding officer failed to attend or neglected to act, and that the person acting as such was duly chosen by the electors present.

Sec. 13. The manner of conducting and voting at elections under this act and contesting same, keeping of the poll lists, canvassing the votes and certifying the returns, shall be such as the city council may provide by ordinance, and in case no such provisions are made by the council, then the State election law for cities and towns, so far as applicable, shall govern unless herein otherwise provided.

Sec. 14. The managers of elections shall be sworn to well and truly conduct the elections without partiality or prejudice, and agreeably to law, according to the best of their skill and ability, which oath shall be administered to the judges and clerks by the presiding officer. The presiding officer shall be sworn to discharge the duties of the presiding officer of elections to the best of his skill and ability, which oath shall be administered by the mayor, city secretary, or any justice of the peace.

Sec. 15. Whenever it happens in such elections that there is a tie between two or more candidates for the same office, the mayor or city council shall declare such election void as between such candidates, and order a new election for such office giving at least ten days notice thereof.

Sec. 16. All vacancies in elective offices shall be filled by special elections when an unexpired term of six months or more remained when the office became vacant; but in such cases it shall not be necessary to give more than ten days notice. Special elections shall be conducted as are regular elections. Vacancies in offices filled by appointment by the city council and in elective offices when the unexpired term is less than six months shall be filled by appointment by the city council.

Sec. 17. Every person elected or appointed to any office in the City of Denison, shall, before he enters upon his duties, take the official oath prescribed by the State constitution.

Sec. 18. The other officers of said city shall be a Treasurer, and Assessor and Collector, a City Secretary, a City Judge, a City Attorney, a Chief of Police, a City Engineer, a Street Commissioner, and such other officers and agents as the city council may direct. All the officers above named, except the City Secretary, City Attorney, City Engineer and Street Commissioner, shall be elected by the qualified voters of said city as the present terms of such officers expire, and every two years thereafter as provided in section 8. This section shall not be construed to interfere with the terms of any person now occupying any of said offices. Said officers elected by the qualified voters shall hold their offices for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. They shall give such bond as the city council may require, and perform such duties as are herein provided or may be prescribed by the city council. The city engineer, street commissioner, and such other officers and agents as the city council may create shall be elected by the city council on the second Monday in May of each year and shall hold their offices for the term of one year, but they shall be removable from office by the city council at pleasure at any regular meeting, and the city council shall have power at any regular meeting to fill vacancies in such offices by election.

Sec. 19. The compensation of all officers shall be such as may be fixed by the city council and when so fixed shall not be increased during their term of office.

Sec. 20. The term "officer," as used in this charter shall apply only to those officers who are elected by the people or the council for a fixed and definite period, and the same does not include policemen and other agents or employees of said city.

Sec. 21. Any officer moving out of the city limits or the ward from which he may have been elected alderman, or ceasing to possess any of the qualifications required of him shall thereby vacate his office and the same shall be filled by special election or appointment, as the case may be.

Sec. 22. The mayor shall be elected and hold his office as herein provided. He shall be the chief executive officer of the city. He shall have power to appoint special policemen for any special occasion, and call out the militia and military in the city for the suppression of riot or public disturbance. He shall be active in enforcing the laws and ordinances of said city. He shall from time to time give the council information about the condition of affairs, and recommend for consideration such measures as he deems best for the city. He shall have, by the advice and consent of the council, power to appoint experts to examine the affairs of any department of the city when he thinks it is necessary. In all cases of examination of charges against any officer or employee of the city, election contests, etc., he shall have power to administer oaths, subpoena and compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers. He shall sign all obligations and contracts of the city. He shall have the power to veto any resolution, by-law, motion, order or ordinance passed by the city council, by filing his written objections thereto within three days after the passage thereof, Sundays and days of passage to be excluded. At the next regular meeting or as soon thereafter as practicable the council shall consider such objections and unless the council pass the measure over his veto by a two-thirds vote of the aldermen present, taken by yeas and nays, said measure shall be of no effect. The mayor shall have power to require any officer of the city to exhibit his books and papers, and a refusal of any officer when so required shall be deemed a forfeiture and abandonment of said office. The mayor shall have and exercise such other powers as may be conferred by the general law of the State upon mayors of cities incorporated under such general laws and not herein prohibited, and also exercise such other powers and perform such other duties as may be conferred and required by the city council, not inconsistent with this charter.

Sec. 23. The judicial power of the city of Denison shall be and the same is hereby vested in a court, to be known as the Denison City Court, to be presided over by a judge to be known as the City Judge, which court is hereby created and established with a criminal jurisdiction as follows: First, to try, hear, determine and punish all offenses against the ordinances of the city of Denison of which the Mayor's court of said city now has jurisdiction. Second, to try, hear, determine and punish all misdemeanors arising under the ordinances of said city authorized by any of the provisions of this charter. Third, to have concurrent jurisdiction with the justices courts over all misdemeanors against the laws of the State of Texas, of which the justices courts of the State have or may have jurisdiction, committed within the limits of the city of Denison. All prosecutions shall be conducted in the name of the City of Denison, and it shall not be necessary in order to the exercise of the jurisdiction over misdemeanors against the laws of the State above mentioned for the city council to re-enact by ordinance any State law, creating, defining and publishing such offenses.

Sec. 24. Said city court shall be deemed always open for the trial of said causes, and proceedings before said court shall be commenced by filing a written complaint, specifying the charges made against the accused with reasonable certainty, which complaint shall be sworn to, and shall not be quashed for any formal defects, if it substantially sets forth the nature of the violation alleged. Said court shall have no civil jurisdiction.

Sec. 25. All process of such court shall run in the name of the City of Denison, and shall be served and executed in the same manner as like process issuing from a State court unless herein otherwise provided. The practice and procedure of the State courts, so far as applicable and practicable, shall govern in said city court, unless otherwise provided herein or by ordinance of the city council.

Sec. 26. In lieu of the office of Recorder of the City of Denison, there is hereby created the office of City Judge, which shall be filled by some suitable person to be elected by the people at the regular annual election in April, 1891. Such officer when elected shall be known as the City Judge, and shall preside over and hold said court and discharge all the duties thereof. He shall hold his office for the term of two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall be a resident of said city and a qualified voter therein. He shall be a person learned in the law.

Sec. 27. He shall have full power and authority to enforce all powers of said city court. He shall have full power to issue subpoenas for witnesses and to compel their attendance by process of attachment. He may punish all contempt of his court by fine and imprisonment or either. He may issue subpoenas, writs of capias, warrants of arrest, search warrants, executions, and all process known to law which State courts in such cases may issue. He may require of any person arrested a bond for his or her good behavior, and to keep the peace, or for his or her appearance before said court, with two good and sufficient sureties, which bonds as well as all other bonds taken in any proceedings in said court shall be payable to the City of Denison, and said city court shall have the power to enforce the forfeiture of the same in the same manner as State courts. He shall have full power to administer official oaths and affirmations and give certificates therefor. The city council may determine what costs, if any, shall be charged for proceedings in and for all process issued by said court, and shall allow the Judge thereof for his services such compensation as they may deem just. He shall perform all the duties as herein required, and such other duties as may be prescribed by ordinance not inconsistent with the constitution of the State. All fines imposed by said court shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city. In cases of temporary failure to act for any cause on the part of the City Judge, the Mayor is hereby authorized to appoint some person qualified, who shall discharge the duties of said office and receive the pro rata compensation due therefor. Until the election of such city judge the provisions herein referring to said city judge shall not be construed to interfere with the jurisdiction of the present mayor's court of the City of Denison, which shall continue to exercise such powers and jurisdiction as are now conferred upon it until such time as the city judge herein provided for has been elected and qualified.

Sec. 28. All jurors in said court shall be residents of said city and otherwise possess the same qualifications as jurors in State courts. They shall be summoned and selected in such manner as the city council may provide by ordinance.

Sec. 29. Appeals from said city court shall be to the county court of Grayson county. Said appeals shall be governed by the same rules of practice and procedure that govern appeals from justice courts so far as applicable.

Sec. 30. There shall be a police department, composed of a chief of police who shall be elected as heretofore provided, and such policemen as may be employed on the force, and a police board, composed of the mayor and any two aldermen selected for that purpose. The mayor shall be chairman of said board. Said board shall make such rules and regulations for the government of said department as to them may seem best.

Sec. 31. The chief of police shall be the police officer of the city under the mayor. He may, with the consent of the city council appoint a deputy. He shall attend all meetings of the city council and the city court and promptly and faithfully execute all writs and process issued from said court. He shall have like power with the Sheriff of the county to execute search warrants and other writs. He shall be active in quelling riots, disorders, disturbances of the peace and violations of law of every kind within the city limits, and shall take into custody all persons thus offending, and may take good and sufficient bail for the appearance before the city court of any person charged with any offense against the ordinances or laws of the city. It shall be his duty to arrest, with or without warrant, all violators of said ordinances or laws and all who obstruct or interfere with him in the discharge of his duties. In the prevention and suppression of crime and arrest of offenders, he shall have the same power of a sheriff of a county under the laws of the State. He shall perform such other duties and possess such other powers as the council may by resolution or ordinance require or confer.

Sec. 32. It shall be the duty of the City Secretary to attend every meeting of the city council, and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book to be provided for that purpose, and to engross and enroll all laws, resolutions and ordinances of the city council; to keep the corporate seal; to take charge of, to preserve and to keep in order all books, records, papers, documents and files of said council; to countersign all commissions issued to the city officers and licenses issued by the mayor, and to keep a record or register thereof, and to make out all notices required under any regulation or ordinance of the city. He shall draw all warrants on the treasurer, and countersign the same, and keep an accurate account thereof in a book provided for that purpose. He shall be the general accountant of the corporation and shall keep in books the regular accounts of the receipts and disbursements of the city, and separately, under proper heads, each cause of receipt and disbursement; and also account with each person, including officers who have money transactions with the city, crediting amounts allowed by proper authority and specifying the particular transaction to which such entries will apply. He shall also keep a register of bonds and bills issued by the city, and all evidence of debt due and payable to it, noting the particulars thereof, and all facts connected therewith, as they occur. He shall carefully keep all contracts made by the city council, and he shall do and perform such other duties as may be required of him by law, ordinance, resolution or order of the city council. He shall receive for his services an annual salary payable at stated periods, and such additional fees as may be allowed by the city council. He shall also be the secretary of the board of school trustees.

Sec. 33. The city attorney shall attend to all cases in any court in the State, wherein the city may be a party in interest, unless the council otherwise provides. He shall draw all ordinances and inspect and pass upon all papers and documents involving any interests of the city. He shall be the legal adviser of the mayor, the city council, or any committee thereof and all city officers upon legal questions touching their duties. He shall receive such compensation and fees as the council may allow, give such bond and perform such other duties as the council may prescribe. The city council shall have power, when in their judgment it becomes necessary, to employ counsel to assist the city attorney in protecting the interests of the city.

Sec. 34. The city engineer shall inspect and pass upon the construction of all 'public works ordered by the city, and shall make out plans and specifications and estimates therefor. He shall do the surveying and engineering ordered by the city; he shall preserve all plans, maps, notes, surveys, books, papers and documents and other things pertaining to his office made by him or in his charge, and deliver the same to his successor in office. He shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as may be required of him by the council, by resolution, ordinance or otherwise. The city engineer shall receive such compensation as the city council may prescribe and give such bond as may be required by the city council.

Sec. 35. The assessor and collector shall make up the assessment of all property taxed by the city, and make duplicate rolls thereof, and on completion of the rolls shall deliver one of them to the city secretary. He shall collect all taxes due the city, and in event of nonpayment of any taxes, shall proceed to sell property to raise the amount of taxes so due; and shall in the performance of his duties observe the provisions of this act and the ordinances of the city relating thereto. He shall give bond in such amount and in such form as the city council may prescribe, with good and sufficient sureties, and the city council may require a new bond whenever in their opinion the existing bond is insufficient; and whenever such bond is required he shall perform no official act until said bond shall be given and approved. He shall, at the expiration of every week, pay to the treasurer all money by him collected and shall report to the council at the first meeting in every month, all money so collected and paid, and he shall perform all such other duties, and in such manner and according to such rules and regulations as the city council may prescribe. The assessor and collector is authorized to require the owners of all property subject to taxation to render a correct account of the same under oath, to be administered by him. The assessor and collector shall receive such fees and compensation for his services as may be allowed by the ordinances of the city. He may by consent of the city council and subject to their approval, appoint at his charge one or more deputies who may, in his name, perform all such duties and exercise all such powers in regard to assessment for taxation, as are conferred on the assessor and collector, and who shall take such oath as may be prescribed by the city council and for whose acts as such deputy the assessor and collector and his bondsmen shall be responsible.

Sec. 36. The city treasurer shall give such bond as the city council may require, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. He shall receive and securely keep all monies, belonging to the city, and make all payments for the same upon the order of the Mayor attested by the secretary under seal of the corporation; provided, that no order shall be paid unless it shows upon its face that the city council has ordered its issuance, and for what purpose. He shall render a full and correct statement of his receipts and payments, to the city council at their first regular meeting in every month, and at such other times as the council may require. He shall perform such other acts and duties as the council may require, and receive such compensation as the council may prescribe. He shall also be treasurer of the board of school trustees.

Sec. 37. The city council shall have power from time to time to require other duties of all city officers.

Sec. 38. The city council shall be composed of the mayor and aldermen provided for in this charter. The mayor shall be president of the council, and in case of a tie on any question he shall give the casting vote, but in elections he shall vote as other members of the council. At the first meeting of each new council, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the council shall elect one of the aldermen president, or mayor pro tem, who shall hold his office for one year. In case of failure, inability or refusal of the mayor to act, the president pro tem shall perform the duties of the mayor, In the absence of the mayor and the president pro tem any one of the aldermen present may be appointed to preside.

Sec. 39. A majority of the aldermen shall constitute a quorum for business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and may compel the attendance of absent members. At meetings for the imposition of taxes two-thirds of the board shall be required. Regular meetings of the council shall be at such times as the council may fix by resolution or otherwise, but the mayor on his own motion or at the request of three or more aldermen may call special meetings by written notice thereof served upon each member or left at his usual place of abode or usual place of business. Such notices shall state the object or purpose for which such meeting is called.

Sec. 40. The city council shall adopt such rules and regulations for its government and order of business as its members may deem best. It shall be the judge of the qualifications and elections of its members, including the mayor. It shall also be the judge of the election and qualifications of all city officers. It may punish members or other persons during its sittings for disorderly conduct, by fine. It may with an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the whole number of aldermen elected and qualified, the yeas and nays being called for and recorded, remove any officer of the city for any conduct or offense which, in the opinion of the council expressed by the two-thirds votes aforesaid, shall render him unfit to hold his office; but no officer shall be removed until he shall have had the opportunity of being heard himself, or by counsel or by both.

Sec. 41. The meetings of the council shall be public except when, by a majority vote of the members present, it may be deemed expedient to deliberate with closed doors upon any special question.

Sec. 42. A record of the council proceedings shall be kept by the city secretary and each vote taken by yeas and nays shall be entered therein, and no action of the council shall have any force unless a majority of the members shall have voted in favor of it.

Sec. 43. The city council shall have the management and control of the finances and all property, real, personal or mixed belonging to the city. Sec. 106. To regulate the speed of engines and locomotives within the city.

Sec. 107. To direct and control the laying and construction of railroad tracks, turnouts and switches, and to require that they be constructed and layed so as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of the street, and to require that they be kept in repair. To regulate the use of locomotive engines; to direct and control the location of cable and other street railroad tracks, and to require railway companies of all kinds to construct, at their own expense, such bridges, turnouts, culverts, crossings and other things as the city council may deem necessary. To regulate the speed of all railroad trains within the city limits and their stops at street crossings, and require said companies to keep the streets through which they run in repair, and to levy special taxes or assessments upon them for street improvement, the same as against property owners, and may compel any and all railroad companies to furnish and keep a sufficient number of watchmen at all principal street crossings in the city limits.

Sec. 108. To prevent and regulate the running of horse railway cars, or cars propelled by dummy engines or other power, the laying down tracks for same, the transportation of passengers thereon, the form of the rail to be used and everything else concerning street railways, and to levy special taxes or assessments against such roads for street improvement the same as against property owners.

Sec. 109. The city council shall have the sole authority to grant, upon such terms as [to] it may seem fit, the right to any person, corporation or company to make and construct street railways or other railroads in any street or highway in said city, receive compensation therefor and to regulate and control the use thereof.

Sec. 110. No railroad company, street, steam or other kind, no telephone, telegraph, electric light company or other kind, no person or corporation shall ever occupy or use the streets or highways of the City of Denison without first obtaining consent of the city council.

Sec. 111. The city council shall have power to levy and collect the ordinary municipal taxes upon the roadbed, rights, franchises and all the property of street railroads of every kind, whether their motive power be steam, horse, mule, electricity, or otherwise. Also to require them to pay their pro rata share of improving the space between the rails of and so much outside of same as the council may require [of] such road, on any street improved or occupied by them including street intersections; and shall have power to levy and collect special assessments against such roads and their owners for such purpose, and such assessment shall be a lien on such roads and all their rights and franchises, and shall be collected as from other property owners on the street so improved.

Sec. 112. The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for funding the whole or any part of the existing debt of the city, or any future debt, by cancelling the evidence thereof, and issuing to the holders or creditors, notes or bonds with or without coupons, bearing interest not to exceed six per cent per annum. Provided, that temporary loans may bear interest at any rate not exceeding ten per cent.

Sec. 113. The council shall have power to appropriate so much of the general revenue of the city for the purpose of retiring and discharging the accrued indebtedness of the city, and for the purpose of improving the streets, constructing sewers, erecting and maintaining public school buildings of every kind, water works, and purchasing building sites and locations therefor, and for all other public improvements authorized to be made by this charter, as the city council may from time to time deem expedient, and in furtherance of any and all of these objects, the city shall have the right and power to borrow money upon the credit of the city, and issue coupon bonds of the city therefor, in such sums or sum as may be deemed expedient, to bear interest not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at such place as may be designated by the ordinance; provided that the aggregate amount of bonds issued for the above named purposes shall never reach an amount exceeding six per cent of the assessed valuation of the real estate in said city.

Sec. 114. All bonds shall specify for what purpose they are issued, and shall not be invalid if sold for less than their par value, and when any bonds are issued by the city, a fund shall be provided to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to redeem said bonds, which fund shall not be diverted or drawn upon for any other purpose except to pay the interest upon or redeem the bonds for which it was provided.

Sec. 115. Said bonds shall be signed by the mayor, countersigned by the city secretary and shall be payable at such places and such times as may be fixed by ordinance of the city council, within not less than ten nor more than fifty years, and shall be registered by the city secretary when sold and delivered.

Sec. 116. It shall be the duty of the mayor when such bonds are issued to forward the same to the Comptroller of the State, whose duty it shall be to register them in a book kept for that purpose, and endorse upon each bond registered his certificate of registration, and at the mayor's request to certify to the amount of bonds so registered in his office up to date.

Sec. 117. It shall be the duty of the mayor at the time of forwarding such bonds for registration to furnish the Comptroller with a statement of all taxable property, real and personal, in the city; also with a statement of the amount of tax levied for the payment of interest and to create a sinking fund. It is hereby made the duty of the Comptroller to see that a tax is levied and collected by the city sufficient to pay the interest semi-annually on all bonds issued, and create a sinking fund sufficient to pay said bonds at maturity, and see that sinking fund is annually invested in bonds of the United States, or of the State of Texas, or of the City of Denison or applied to the redemption of the bonds for which it is set aside.

Sec. 118. The city council shall have the power, and it is hereby authorized to annually levy and collect a tax not to exceed one and one-half per centum on the assessed value of all real and personal property in said city not exempt from taxation by the constitution and laws of the State, out of which taxes so levied the city council may set apart annually not exceeding one half of one per centum on the assessed value of all property subject to taxation in said city, for the support and maintenance of public free schools and for the purchase of ground upon which to erect school buildings, and repairs and furnishing of such buildings for said free schools. And said council may levy and collect an additional tax not to exceed one per centum on the assessed value of all property in said city subject to taxation for any purpose, the accomplishment of which is authorized by this act, which tax last named shall not be levied except upon a vote of two-thirds of the tax paying voters of said city at an election ordered and held for that purpose, which order shall state the amount of taxes to be levied and the purpose for which the same is to be used.

Sec. 119. The city council shall have power to levy and annually collect taxes known as licenses or occupation taxes upon professions, callings and other business carried on, and upon carriages, hacks, coaches, buggies, drays, carts, wagons, and all other vehicles used in the city for public use. That each and every person or firm engaged in the following professions callings and business among others shall be liable to pay such tax, but this enumeration shall not be considered to deprive the city council of the right and power to levy and collect other licenses or occupation taxes from other persons under the general authority herein granted. Every person or firm engaged in selling goods, wares and merchandise, liquors in quantities less than a quart, or in keeping any grogshop, tippling house, barroom, drinking saloon, or any place where spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, wine or beer are sold in quantities less than a quart; every person or firm keeping a billiard table, ball alley, nine or ten pin alley, or any similar game, or keeping a tavern, hotel or boarding house, restaurant, lunch stand or place of any kind where refreshments are sold; every person or firm keeping a livery stable, sale stable, feed stable or wagon yard; every person or firm selling goods, wares or merchandise at public auction, or pursuing the occupation of real estate agent, merchandise or cotton broker, commission merchant or broker of any kind, or hawker or peddler of any goods whatever; ever person or firm keeping a storage or warehouse, or intelligence office, or brewery or beer shop, distillery or fruit stand or engaged in compressing cotton; every insurance agent, every insurance company shall pay said tax, and every agent representing any such company who shall fail to pay said tax shall be subject to fine; every telegraph, telephone, electric light, gas or other company; every person or company keeping a lumber, wood or coal yard, or any place for the sale of such articles or building material of any kind, and all other persons, corporations or firms engaged in any profession, occupation, calling or business whatsoever, the taxing of which is not prohibited by the constitution of the State; any person or firm pursuing occupation, business, avocation or calling subject to license tax, shall pay on each, and no license tax shall extend to more than one establishment or include more than one avocation, occupation, business or calling.

Sec. 120. To authorize the the proper officer of this city to grant and issue license, and to direct the manner of issuing and registering the same, and fixing the fees and charges thereof. No license shall issue for a longer period than one year and shall not be assignable, except by permission of the city assessor and collector who shall keep a correct record of all transfers of license of any kind.

Sec. 121. No property of any kind, church, school, public or otherwise in the City of Denison shall be exempt from any of the special taxes and assessments authorized by this charter for local improvement.

Sec. 122. The fiscal year of the City of Denison shall begin and end at twelve o'clock, noon, on the thirty-first day of March in each year. The council, at the first regular meeting in June of each year, or as soon thereafter as practicable shall examine the assessment rolls, and levy the annual tax for such year, but special taxes allowed by this charter may be levied, assessed, and collected at such time as the council in each case may provide.

Sec. 123. All persons or corporations owning or holding personal property or real estate in the City of Denison, on the first day of January of each year shall be liable for all municipal taxes levied thereon for the fiscal year the next following April.

Sec. 124. The personal property of all persons owing any taxes to the city of Denison, is hereby made liable for all of said taxes, whether the same be due upon personal or real property or both.

Sec. 125. The city council shall have full power to provide by ordinance for the prompt collection of taxes, assessed, levied and imposed under this charter, and are hereby authorized and to that end may and shall have full power and authority to sell or cause to be sold, all kinds of property, real and personal, and may and shall make all such rules and regulations, and ordain and pass all ordinances deemed necessary to the levying, laying, imposing, assessing and collecting of any taxes provided for in this charter.

Sec. 126. The city council shall have power to assess the property and shares of corporations, companies, banks and such other institutions as the same are now or may be assessed by the State law in such cases made and provided, and shall have full power to enforce the collection of such taxes in such manner as by said council may be deemed necessary.

Sec. 127. The city council shall have power by ordinance to regulate the manner and the mode of making out tax lists, inventories and appraisements of property therein, and to prescribe the oath that shall be administered to each person on rendition of his property, and prescribe how, when and where property shall be rendered, and prescribe the number and form of assessment rolls and fix the duties and define the powers of city assessor and collector and adopt such measures as the council may deem advisable to secure the assessment of all property within the city limits, and collect the tax thereon.

Sec. 128. Every person, partnership, corporation and company owning or controlling property within the limits of the city on or before the first day of June, after published notice, shall render to the city assessor and collector a full and complete inventory of taxable property possessed or controlled by him, her or them, within said limits on the first day of January last, verified as required by ordinance.

Sec. 129. The city assessor and collector shall at least ten days before the first day of January of each year, give public notice by advertisement in some newspaper published in the city that all persons owning or controlling as agent or otherwise, any personal property or real estate subject to municipal taxation, are required to render the same on or before the first day of June of each year.

Sec. 130. If the assessor and collector shall discover any real or personal property which was subject to taxation for any previous year, and which from any cause has escaped taxation for that year, he shall assess the same in a supplement to his next assessment roll at the same rate under which such property should have been assessed for such year, stating the year, and the taxes thereon shall be collected in the same manner as other assessments.

Sec. 131. The assessor and collector shall assess all property which for any cause has not been rendered, placing such valuation thereon as he may deem just. If the owners of such property are unknown, such assessment shall be in the name of unknown.

Sec. 132. When the assessor and collector and the party rendering property for taxation can not agree as to the value of property, the assessor and collector shall make a proper notice of such fact, and it shall be left to a board of appeals to decide its value, and such decision shall be final except as herein otherwise provided in this section. Said board to be composed of three disinterested freeholders in the city, to be appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the city council in January or as soon thereafter as practicable, and any vacancy occurring in said board shall be filled by appointment in like manner. The members of said board shall hold their office for one year, unless sooner removed for cause by the mayor and city council. A majority of the members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Said board shall meet to hear the appeals from all persons aggrieved or who could not agree with the assessor and collector, on the first Monday in June, and shall hold sessions until all appeals have been heard. The assessor and collector shall give at least five days notice of such meeting by newspaper publication. The board shall have the right to diminish or increase the valuation of any property so as to make the same correspond with the valuation of other similar property, and shall order any error in assessment to be changed and corrected. The board shall be sworn to discharge their duties faithfully and impartially. They shall receive for their services such compensation as the city council may allow, not to exceed five dollars per day. The assessor and collector shall attend all meetings of the said board. No increase of valuation in property shall be made without notifying the owners thereof in such manner as the council may direct. Whenever any person is aggrieved or dissatisfied with the decision of the board in placing the valuation upon his or her property, such one may appeal to the city council in writing within one month from the final adjournment of said board, and not afterwards, and the city council shall then hear such appeal and the action of the city council thereon shall be final.

Sec. 133. A lien is hereby created on all property, personal and real, in favor of the city of Denison, for all taxes, ad valorem, occupation or otherwise. Said lien shall exist from January in each year until the taxes are paid. Said lien shall be prior to all other claims, and no gift, sale, assignment or transfer of any kind, or judicial writ of any kind can ever defeat such lien, but the city assessor and collector can pursue such property, and wherever found seize and sell enough thereof to satisfy such taxes.

Sec. 134. If any one against whom a personal tax is assessed, and which is due and unpaid, whether the same be delinquent or not, shall have removed out of the city, or shall be about to remove out of the city, or shall have removed or shall be about to remove his personal property out of the city, it shall be the duty of the assessor and collector to proceed at once and collect such taxes by seizure and sale of any personal property of such person to be found in the City of Denison or anywhere in the State of Texas.

Sec. 135. All taxes shall be payable at the city assessor and collector's office, and the city council shall have full power to sell or cause to be sold all personal or real property for taxes due, and shall make all rules and regulations necessary for such purpose.

Sec. 136. No demand for taxes shall be necessary, but it is hereby made the duty of every person or corporation subject to taxation to attend at the office of the assessor and collector some time between the second Monday in June and December thirty-first in each year and pay his or her taxes. If anyone fails to pay them before the thirty-first day of December the same shall be delinquent.

Sec. 137. The assessor and collector shall, by virtue of his tax rolls, have power and authority to seize and levy upon personal property and real estate and sell the same to satisfy delinquent taxes. When he seizes personal property for such purposes, he shall keep the same at the expense of the owner until the sale is made, and shall give notice of the time and place of sale of same by posting a written notice at the city hall door at least ten days before day of sale. He shall sell the same to the highest bidder for cash, for all taxes, costs and expenses in caring for said property and shall make an entry in the book of sales of the amount realized.

Sec. 138. Before sales of real estate are made, notice of the time and place of sale, together with as near as may be, a description of the property, shall be given by posting notice at the city hall in the city of Denison, also by publication in some newspaper of the city for at least three weeks, which shall contain a statement of the amount due on each particular piece of ground.

Sec. 139. And finally the city council shall have full power to do or cause to be done everything whatsoever necessary to enforce a prompt assessment and collection of all taxes and assessments provided for in this charter, and to make all regulations necessary for the sale of property for said taxes and assessments.

Sec. 140. The assessor and collector shall, when any real estate has been sold for taxes, make and execute a deed to the purchaser for the property sold, which deed shall be prima facie evidence of the following facts: First, that the lot or lots conveyed was or were subject to taxation and assessment at the time of such sale, and was taxed and assessed according to law. Second, that the taxes were not paid at any time before sale, and a lien therefor existed. And such deed shall be exclusive [conclusive] evidence of the following facts: First, that the real estate therein conveyed was advertised according to law, and second that the property was sold for taxes as stated in the deed.

Sec. 141. The sale of personal property for delinquent taxes shall convey with it an absolute title, and the owner shall have no right to redeem the same.

Sec. 142. The city shall have the right to become the purchaser of property at the tax sales, and the mayor shall attend such sales for such purpose.

Sec. 143. Whenever any real property is bid off to the city, or to any individual for delinquent taxes, the owner or attorney or his agent may redeem the same at any time within two years from date of sale in the same manner as required by law for the redemption of property sold for state and county taxes.

Sec. 144. The provisions herein for collecting taxes shall not be construed to prevent the city from filing a suit in any court of competent jurisdiction for the collection of any taxes due on real estate as well as personal property and for the enforcement of levies for such taxes.

Sec. 145. The city council shall have power by ordinance to provide for and cause a general sewer system to be constructed, maintained and regulated in such manner and out of such material as the council may prescribe. Public sewers shall be established as the council may direct, and there may be extension of branches of sewers already constructed, or entirely new throughout as may be deemed expedient. The city council may, if necessary, levy a tax on all taxable property in the entire city to pay for the construction and repairs of such public sewers, which shall be called a "special sewer tax," and used solely for that purpose. No public sewer shall be run diagonally through private property without consent of the owner, when it is practicable, without injury to said sewer to construct it parallel with one of the exterior lines of such property. No public sewer shall be constructed through private property without consent of the owner, when it is practical to construct it along or through a street or public highway. District sewers may be established within the limits of districts defined by ordinance, and shall connect with other sewers or drains in such manner as the city council may prescribe. And the city council shall have power in the event that any owner of property within the sewer districts that are now established or that may be hereafter established by the city council, shall fail and refuse to make such sewer connection after having been duly notified to make such connection, then the city council may have such connection made and charge the expense of the same against the property, and the same shall become a tax and lien against the same and be collected in the same manner as are other special taxes and liens provided for in this charter, and all such persons who shall fail and refuse to make such connections may also be arrested and fined for each day such owner shall refuse and neglect to make such connections. The city council may compel all owners of property to make proper connections with such sewers and regulate and enforce by ordinance, the connection of all privies, sinks, etc., with public or district sewers. The city council shall also have power to provide by ordinance a general system of drainage or storm water sewers in such parts of the city as they may deem necessary, and regulate and enforce all rules and ordinances concerning the same. The city council shall have power to regulate and enforce all rules and ordinances in the plumbing of all dwelling houses and other buildings of whatsoever kind, within the limits of the city, and may require a bond from all plumbers or contractors carrying on any plumbing business, conditioned as the council may determine, and may prohibit any one from doing any plumbing work whatsoever until a license is obtained by such person from the proper officer of the city in such manner as the city council may provide. All plumbing shall be made subject to the inspection and approval of the proper officer of the city for that purpose. All connections with any main line of sewer or any lateral line thereof shall be done at the expense of the owner of the property in or from which such connections are made.

Sec. 146. That whenever the city council shall deem it necessary to take any private property in order to open, change or widen any public street, avenue or alley, or for the construction of water mains, or supply reservoirs, or stand-pipes for water works, or sewers within or without the limits of said city, such property may be taken for such purpose by making just compensation to the owner thereof. If the amount of such compensation cannot be agreed upon, it shall be the duty of such city council to cause to be stated in writing the real estate or property sought to be taken, the name or the owner thereof, and his residence, if known, and file such statement with the county judge of the county in which said property is located. Any company or corporation chartered under the laws of this state for the purpose of constructing waterworks or furnishing water supply for said city, shall have the same right to condemn property necessary for the construction of supply reservoirs or standpipes for waterworks that is given said city under this act. Upon the filing of such statement it shall be the duty of said judge in term time or vacation to appoint three disinterested freeholders and qualified voters of the county as special commissioners to assess the damage to accrue to the owner by reason of such condemnation. The commissioners so appointed shall in their proceedings be governed and controlled by the law in force in reference to the condemnation of the right of way for railroad companies, and the assessment of damages therefor; the city, company or corporation occupying the position of the railroad company. And all laws in reference to applications for the condemnation for right of way of railroad companies, including the measure of damages, the right of appeal and the like, shall apply to an application by said city, company or corporation, under this act for the condemnation of property for the purpose of opening, changing or widening streets, avenues or alleys, or for the construction of water mains, sewers, supply reservoirs or standpipes, the city, company or corporation to occupy the position of the railroad company.

Sec. 147. The city council shall have power to require the filling up, draining and regulating of any lot or lots, grounds or yards, or other places in the city which shall be unwholesome, or have stagnant water or filth of any kind therein, or from any other cause, be in such condition as liable to produce disease; also to cause all premises to be inspected and cleansed; also to require the making, filling up, altering and repairing all sinks and privies, and direct the mode and material for constructing them in future. And said council shall have full power by ordinance to provide punishment for all persons failing or refusing to do any of such things, or permitting the premises occupied by them to be in a filthy or unhealthy state. In cases of filling up or draining any ground, if the owner thereof cannot be found, or for any cause fails or refuses to do said filling or draining, the city may have it done and tax the expense thereof up against the ground as a special tax and lien thereon, and collect the same as provided for the collection of any other special taxes or assessments in this act.

Sec. 148. That the city council shall have full power and authority to pass all ordinances and adopt all resolutions, rules and police regulations that may be necessary and proper to carry into effect and fully enforce all powers vested by this act, and in addition the city council shall have also power upon all questions not provided for in this act, to pass all ordinances and adopt all resolutions, rules and police regulations, not contrary to the constitution of the State of Texas, that may be necessary for the trade, commerce, health, order and good government of said city, and to enforce all such ordinances, rules and regulations, and punish their violations by fines and imprisonment, both or either, or by work on the streets or other public works, as may be required by the judgment of the court, and for any fine imposed by the city court, execution may issue to collect such fine and cost in the same manner as from state courts. They shall be issued to the chief of police, who in levying on property and levying the same, shall have full power as the sheriff in executions from state courts in like cases.

Sec. 149. The city of Denison is hereby constituted a separate and independent school district and shall receive from the state such prorata of the available school fund as its scholastic population may entitle it to. The city public schools shall be under the management and control of a board of school trustees composed of one member from each ward who shall be elected by the legally qualified voters at the annual general elections as vacancies therefor occur, and shall hold their office for the term of two years; provided that at the election to be held on the first Tuesday in April, 1891, the trustees elected from the second, fourth and other even numbered wards shall hold their offices for one year. They shall serve without compensation. Their duty shall be to look after the interests of the public schools of the city; and to enact suitable regulations for their government; to elect and employ a superintendent, teachers, and janitors; to keep school buildings and grounds in repairs and keep property insured, purchase all supplies, make or have made all repairs, fences and walks. They shall elect a president of the board from among their number and have power to regulate their own meetings and proceedings. They shall audit all bills and accounts and approve the same. The city council shall provide means to pay for all repairs, supplies and furniture, necessary for said schools, and for keeping school houses and grounds in repair. The city council may annually make an appropriation sufficient to supplement the state fund so as to run the schools at least nine months in each year. In case the said city shall have decided, under the laws providing therefor, that a special tax shall be levied for the support of public free schools, the city council shall annually assess and levy such tax, or so much thereof as in the judgment of the trustees may be required to run the schools, not exceeding one-half of one per cent. by ordinance duly passed and approved in the same manner as is required in the assessment of taxes for general purposes in said city. The city treasurer shall be treasurer of the board of school trustees, and shall execute such bond as such treasurer as may be required by law, and such additional bond as the city council may by ordinance require. The city secretary shall be secretary of the board of school trustees. All bills or accounts approved by said board of trustees shall be paid by the treasurer on warrants issued by the city secretary and approved by the mayor. The city council may by ordinance provide for having the scholastic census taken annually in such manner as they may direct. All funds received from the state by the city as its pro rata of the available school fund and all funds appropriated by the city council out of its general revenue for the support and maintenance of schools, or raised by taxation for that purpose, or derived from any source of revenue set apart for the support and maintenance of schools, and all funds arising from any gift, devise or bequest made to the city for the support and maintenance of public schools, shall be under the control of the board of trustees. The city shall have power to receive, take and hold any property, real or personal, which has been or may be conveyed by gift, devise or bequest for the benefit of public education therein, and to lease or invest the same so as to derive a revenue therefrom, and the control, management, leasing and investment of such property and of all funds arising therefrom, shall be vested in the board of school trustees. The duty of providing school buildings and furniture and grounds for the erection of same shall be performed by the city council, and all funds appropriated or raised by taxation or otherwise therefor shall be under their control. Said school trustees shall be freeholders and qualified electors in the wards from which they are elected.

Sec. 150. All city offices shall be kept at such places and be open such hours as may be prescribed by ordinance.

Sec. 151. All bonds, contracts or other instruments requiring the assent of the city, shall be signed by the mayor or acting mayor, and all legal process against the city shall be served upon the mayor or acting mayor.

Sec. 152. In addition to other modes of collection anywhere in this act provided, all tax due the city, whether general or special, assessments for improvements or otherwise, may be collected by an action of debt and lien on real estate foreclosed in any court having jurisdiction. The assessment roll of such taxes shall be taken as prima facie evidence of the statements made therein, and the city shall have equal right to become the purchaser at all sales of property for taxes due it under judgment or otherwise. It shall be the duty of the mayor to attend such sales to make such purchase if it be necessary.

Sec. 153. No action against the city shall be sustained in any case in which it might be liable for damages from injuries caused from streets, highways, ways, crossings, culverts, bridges, sidewalks, sewers, awnings or other things being out of repair from negligence of said city, unless the same shall have remained so for ten days after special notice in writing has been given to the mayor or city engineer.

Sec. 154. Before the city of Denison shall be liable for damages of any kind, the person injured, or some one in his behalf, shall give the mayor or city council notice in writing of such injury within thirty days after the same has been received, stating in such notice when, where and how the injury occurred, and the extent thereof, and the residence of the person so injured.

Sec. 155. It shall not be necessary in any action, suit or proceeding in which the city of Denison is a party, for any bond, undertaking or security to be executed in behalf of said city, but all such actions, suits, appeals or proceedings shall be conducted in the same manner as if such bond, undertaking or security had been given, and said city shall be just as liable as if they had been duly given and executed.

Sec. 156. Whenever, in the opinion of the city council any building, fence, shed, awning or structure of any kind, or part thereof is liable to fall down or endanger persons or property, the council may order the owner or the agent of the same, or occupant of the premises, to take down and remove the same within such time as they may direct, and may punish by fine or imprisonment, or either, all persons failing to do so. Said council shall have the additional power to remove the same at the expense of the city on account of the owner of the property and assess the expenses thereof, including condemnation proceedings, as a special tax against the land, and the same may be collected as other special taxes provided for in this charter: or by suit in any competent court of jurisdiction.

Sec. 157. In all judicial proceedings it shall be sufficient to plead any ordinance by caption or by the number of sections thereof wanted and the caption, and it shall not be necessary to plead the entire ordinance or section. All printed ordinances or codes of ordinances, published by authority of the council, shall be admitted in evidence, and shall have the same force and effect as would the original ordinances. The city courts and all courts exercising appellate jurisdiction over its judgments shall take judicial notice of all valid ordinances of the City of Denison.

Sec. 158. The city council shall have full power and authority to grade, fill, raise, repair, macadamize, remacadamize, pave, repave, or otherwise improve any avenue, street or alley or any portion thereof in the city, to such extent, and out of such material, and under such regulations as said council may provide, whenever a majority of the aldermen present vote in favor of such improvement. All grading of streets and sidewalks shall be at the cost of the city. All repairing of streets shall be at the cost of the city unless herein otherwise provided. The word "repairing," as here used, shall apply only to small or ordinary defects in streets that have been put to grade, and paved or macadamized. All other improvements, such as macadamizing, paving or repaving, shall be done in the following manner: The property owners on each side of the street so improved shall pay two-thirds of the cost, and the city shall pay the remaining one-third, the same to be recovered pro rata according to the number of front or abutting feet respectively owned by them on such street; provided, that when any person, corporation or company owns or operates any street railroad or railroad of any kind on such street, avenue or alley, such person, corporation or company shall pay for paving or otherwise improving that part of the street between the rails of such road, and a space one foot in width on each side of said rails. The city shall pay for all street intersections so improved, except that portion occupied or used by said railroads, which must be paid as above provided by the owners or operators thereof. Property owners shall pay the entire cost of all curbing. The pro rata share of the cost of such improvements due from property owners and said railroads as above provided, together with the expense of collecting the same, shall be a special tax and lien against the lot or lots or blocks fronting or abutting upon the street improved, and against the road bed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights and franchises of such street or other railroads that may be operated thereon. The city council shall, by resolution, duly passed, designate the street or streets, avenues or alleys, or portions thereof, to be improved, the nature of the improvements to be made and material to be used. Whenever the council shall so determine upon such improvement they shall advertise for bids, giving the plans, specifications and the extent of the improvement. The work shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder in the discretion of the council, and with such bonds as the council may require. Said council shall levy a special tax on the property fronting or abutting on the streets so improved for the pro rata amounts due from property owners, and when street or other railroads are operated on said street, the council shall levy a special tax upon the road bed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights and franchises of such road for the pro rata share due from them for improving the space between the rails and the distance of one foot outside of said rails of such roads. Said tax shall be levied after said contract is let; shall become due and delinquent as the ordinance levying the same may specify; shall be a lien from the time of the levy and shall be used for the payment of said improvement. If said taxes be not paid as provided for by ordinance, their collection shall be enforced as the collection of other taxes by advertisement, sale of the property rights and franchises levied upon; provided, no sale shall be made by virtue of any special lien herein created, until the end of six months after such work is completed. At such sales, the collector shall execute to the purchaser a deed similar to the one executed when property is sold for ad valorem taxes. Nothing in this section shall be construed so as to prohibit the owner or owners in front of whose property such street improvement shall have been ordered, from doing such work, and thus avoid such special assessment against his or her property; provided, however, such owner or owners will obligate themselves to make and complete such street improvement within the time and in accordance with the plans and specifications made by order of the city council.

Sec. 159. In all cases of special assessment for local improvements of any kind, against any property, persons or corporations whatsoever, and said assessments have failed to be valid, in whole or in part, because for want of form, insufficiency or non-compliance with the charter provision governing such assessment, the city council shall be and are hereby authorized to re-assess said special taxes or assessments and to enforce their collection in accordance with the charter provisions existing at the time the re-assessment is made.

Sec. 160. The city council shall fix and determine the nature and extent of sidewalk improvements and decide as to the kind of material to be used. The cost of constructing all sidewalks, including curbing and the keeping the same in repairs together with the cost of collection, (but not including the grading) shall be defrayed entirely by the property owners of the lots or blocks fronting on the sidewalks to be constructed, according to the number of feet frontage owned by each. Whenever the council, by resolution or otherwise orders the construction of any sidewalk and notice thereof has been served on the property owner, if in the city, or if out of the city, upon his agent, it shall be the duty of such property owner, or his agent, to at once construct such sidewalk as ordered by the council and under the supervision of the city engineer. If such property owner or his agent shall fail to construct such sidewalk within the time required by the council, then the city may have it constructed and the expense of the same, together with the cost of collection, shall be a charge against the owner and a special tax and lien upon the property until paid, and its collection may be enforced by sale of the property in the same manner as provided for the collection of the special tax and lien for street improvements in this act; or the same may be collected by a suit against the property owner and the lien upon the property foreclosed in any court having jurisdiction; provided, no action shall be had to enforce such special tax and lien until after the expiration of six months from the time such tax was levied. In addition hereto the city council shall have power by ordinance to punish persons who fail or refuse to build or repair sidewalks after having been duly notified.

Sec. 161. All writs, subpoenas or other process, issuing out of the city court shall run in the name of the City of Denison and may be executed and served by the chief of police or his deputies or policemen anywhere within Grayson county.

Sec. 162. All property, real and personal, belonging to the City of Denison, is hereby vested in the corporation created by this act, and the officers of said corporation now in office shall continue the same, as officers of the corporation hereby created, until superceded in conformity to the provisions hereof, but shall be governed by this act from and after it takes effect.

Sec. 163. This act shall not invalidate any legal action heretofore done by the city council of the City of Denison, or any of its officers, or impair any liabilities which may have been created by said corporation prior to the passage of this act, but such liability shall be and remain valid as against the corporation hereby created.

Sec. 164. That this act shall be deemed a public act and judicial notice shall be taken thereof in all courts and places, without the same having been read in evidence.

Sec. 165. The city council shall have the power to prevent the working of state convicts within the corporate limits of the city.

Sec. 166. In all cases whereby any of the provisions of this act, or by ordinances in pursuance thereof a person is required to obtain a license for any calling, occupation, business or avocation, and has, on complaint before the city court, been adjudged guilty of violating any rule, regulation or ordinance of the city in relation thereto, said court, in addition to the punishment to be imposed therefor, may suspend or revoke the license so granted.

Sec. 167. The city council shall have power to cause the ordinances of the city to be printed in code form and have the same rearranged and digested as often as to the council may deem [seem] advisable.

Sec. 168. The city council shall have power to cause telegraph, telephone and electric light companies to change the location of their poles; also to cause all erected poles not in use to be taken down and removed. If such companies shall fail to do such things after being notified, the city can have same done at the expense of such companies.

Sec. 169. The style of all ordinances shall be: "Be it Ordained by the City Council of the City of Denison;" but the same may be omitted from ordinances published in book or pamphlet form.

Sec. 170. All ordinances of a penal nature shall be published at least ten days in some newspaper in the City of Denison.

Sec. 171. All ordinances shall take effect from their passage, unless otherwise therein expressed.

Sec. 172. All ordinances of the city, when printed and published by authority of the city council, shall be admitted and received in evidence in all courts and places without any further proof whatever, and all ordinances thus printed in book or pamphlet form shall be presumed to have been printed by authority of the council and shall be prima facie evidence of that fact. Certified copies of ordinances shall also be received in evidence.

Sec. 173. All ordinances, resolutions, rules and regulations now in force in the City of Denison, and not in conflict herewith shall be and remain in force under this act, throughout the limits provided in Sec. 2 of this act, until altered, amended or repealed by the city council after this act takes effect.

Sec. 174. That every ordinance passed by the city council shall be enrolled by the secretary within the next succeeding five days, Sundays excepted, or as soon thereafter as practicable. It shall then be carefully compared with the original bill and all amendments, if any, by at least one member of the committee that may be charged with that duty by the city council. If errors exist they shall be corrected. If no errors exist or if found, then after their correction, the member making the comparison shall endorse on the margin the words: "Correctly enrolled." and give the date thereon and subscribe his name thereto. Whereupon the same shall be delivered immediately to the mayor for his consideration.

If the mayor approve the same it shall become a law. If he fail to approve or object to same within ten days, exclusive of the day of presentation and Sunday, should that intervene, the same shall become a law without his signature. But if in said time he shall veto the same, he shall present his written objection to the council by filing the same with the city secretary, and unless the council pass the ordinance over the mayor's veto by the majority hereinbefore provided, the same shall not become a law.

Sec. 175. The city council shall have the right to remit in whole or in part any fine or penalty belonging to the city, which may be imposed under any ordinance or resolution passed in pursuance of this act by a two-thirds vote of all the council present.

Sec. 176. No lien can ever exist against the public school buildings, public halls or public works of the city of Denison. All sub-contractors, material men, mechanics and laborers upon any of the public works of the city of Denison are hereby required to notify the city of all claims they may have on account of such work against said city, and when such notice has been given, the city shall retain an amount from any funds due the contractor sufficient to satisfy all such claims; provided, that such notice may be given at any time after such indebtedness becomes due, and before final settlement; and provided further, that no contractor or sub-contractor shall issue any time checks on any public works of said city.

Sec. 177. All works of improvement and public works of said city the cost of which shall exceed five hundred dollars, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, in the discretion of the city council, under such regulations as the council may prescribe.

Sec. 178. The council shall require good and sufficient bonds of all contractors, with at least two good and sufficient sureties who shall be residents of the State of Texas. No non-resident of the State shall ever be received as surety on any bond payable to the city of Denison, except such guaranty companies as may be satisfactory to the city council. When bondsmen are not residents of Grayson county, such proof of their solvency may be required as the council may deem necessary.

Sec. 179. All appropriations made or set apart for the payment of any interest or sinking fund or both, shall under no circumstances, ever be diverted to any other purpose.

Sec. 180. All questions arising in administering said city government, and not provided for in this act, shall be governed by the state law in such cases made and provided.

Sec. 181. That all property, actions, rights of action, claims and demands of every nature and kind whatever heretofore and now vested in said city of Denison, shall vest in and remain and inure to the said corporation created by this act.

Sec. 182. Whereas the municipal election of the city of Denison will be held early in the month of April next, and whereas it is desirable that said election be held under this charter, therefore an emergency and imperative public necessity exists, requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days to be suspended and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate and passed the same by a vote of 22 yeas and no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 71 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the governor of Texas for his approval on the 25th day of March, A. D. 1891, and was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

CHAP. 14.—[H. B. No. 598.] An act to amend the charter of the city of Galveston, by amending sections 3, 5, 14, 17, 20, 23, 28, 29, 41, 70, 78, 79, 95, 127, 128, 155, 156 and 159 [157] thereof, and by adding thereto sections 6a, 18a, 39a, 72a, 73b, 78a, 95a, 100a, 128a, 130b, 132c, 164a, 174 and 175.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That sections 3, 14, 17, 20, 23, 28, 29, 41, 70, 78, 79, 95, 127, 128, 155, 156 and 157 of the charter of the city of Galveston be and the same are hereby amended, so that they shall hereafter read as follows, to-wit:

Section 3. The municipal government of said city shall consist of a city council, composed of a mayor, four aldermen at large and one alderman from each ward. A majority of the aldermen elected shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except at a call meeting or meetings for the imposition of taxes, when three-fourths of the aldermen elected shall be required unless herein otherwise specified. The officers of the corporation shall be a recorder, a treasurer, an assessor, a collector, a clerk, a chief of police, deputy chief of police, an engineer, (who shall also be superintendent of streets), an attorney, an auditor, a health physician, a harbor master, a city sexton and such other officers and agents as the council may direct; all of whom, except the clerk, chief of police and recorder, shall be nominated by the mayor on the second Monday after each biennial election, or as soon thereafter as possible, and each of whom shall be confirmed by a majority of the city council. The clerk, chief of police, and recorder shall be appointed by the mayor on the day above mentioned without requiring the confirmation of the city council. In the event that any nominee of the mayor is not confirmed by the city council, the mayor shall at an adjourned meeting nominate some other person for the office not filled at the regular day, and continue to make a nomination or renomination until some person shall be confirmed by the city council. No person shall be nominated the third time for the same office except by consent of the city council, and the city council can only adjourn from day to day until all the city officers shall have been nominated and confirmed. Should the mayor fail or refuse to make the nomination or nominations or after having named four persons for any office, all of whom have been rejected by the city council, then in such event the city council shall have the right to elect by a vote of nine some person to the office yet unfilled. All said officers so nominated by the mayor and confirmed by the city council, or elected by the city council, and the city clerk, chief of police and recorder, appointed by the mayor, shall hold their offices until the second Monday after the next biennial election and until the appointment and qualification of their successors, unless removed by the mayor or by the city council under authority vested in it by this charter. The duties of the harbor master shall be such as have been or may be prescribed by the city council, and he shall receive for his services such compensation as the city council may determine, not to exceed fifteen hundred dollars per annum, and shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of five thousand dollars. The duties of the city sexton shall be such as the city council may prescribe. He shall receive for his services such compensation as the city council may determine not exceeding one thousand dollars per annum, and shall give bond in the sum of two thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties.

Section 5. At the biennial election provided for in this charter there shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city at large, voting by ballot, a mayor and four aldermen, no two of whom shall reside in the same ward, and who shall hold their office two years from the date of said election and until their successors shall be elected and qualified. And at the same time there shall be elected one alderman from each ward of the city by the qualified voters of such ward, who shall hold his office for two years from the date of said election, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified. Provided, no one shall vote for the election of alderman at any such election unless he shall have been a resident of such ward thirty days next preceding such election. Provided further that the person so elected shall be and remain a resident of the ward which he is elected to represent, and if he shall remove from the ward during the term of his office the same shall be declared vacated. The persons receiving the highest number of votes in the whole city for mayor and aldermen at large shall be declared elected; and the person receiving the highest number of votes cast for alderman in their respective wards, shall be declared elected. In case the person elected mayor shall refuse to accept the office, the city council, mayor, or acting mayor, shall order another election; and in case of a vacancy in the office of mayor, by death, resignation, removal or otherwise, it shall be filled for the remainder of the term by a new election, to be ordered by the city council, or acting mayor. And in case of vacancy in the office of alderman, by refusal to accept or qualify, or by death, resignation, removal or otherwise, the city council, mayor, or acting mayor, shall order a new election to fill the residue of the unexpired term; and all special elections shall be conducted in the same manner as is herein provided for the biennial election; provided, that in special elections, five days notice thereof shall be sufficient.

Section 14. The mayor shall preside over the meetings of the city council, but shall have no vote unless there is a tie, in which case he shall give the casting vote. He shall have like power with a justice of the peace to administer oaths of office and also all oaths and affirmations, and to give certificates thereof. He shall be compensated for his services by a salary of three thousand dollars per annum, payable at stated periods, and shall receive such fees as may be allowed by law, which fees shall be paid into the city treasury. He shall, by and with the consent of the board of aldermen, have power to remove any officer holding office under the appointment of the mayor, and shall, by and with the consent of the board of aldermen, fill by appointment any vacancy occasioned by such removal. He shall have authority, in case of a riot, or any unlawful assembly, or with a view to preserve peace and good order in said city, to order and enforce the closing of any theatre, ballroom, grog shop, tipping house, barroom, or other place of resort, or public room or building, and may order the arrest of any person violating in his presence the laws of the state or any ordinance of the city; and he shall perform such other duties and possess and exercise such other power and authority as may be prescribed and conferred by the city council.

Section 17. The recorder of said city shall be the chief judicial magistrate thereof and as such shall hold a court within said city, by the name of the "Recorder's Court of the City of Galveston," which said court shall have jurisdiction and cognizance of all misdemeanors, breaches of the peace, infractions of the ordinances, and all other causes arising under the laws of said city, and shall be deemed always open for the trial of such cases. The said court shall have full power, authority and jurisdiction in all cases arising under the ordinances of said corporation, and over any breaches and violations thereof, and of any and all persons thus offending, and to try and determine all suits and actions and complaints charging a violation of any ordinance of said city; and may grant new trials on motion, in writing, showing sufficient cause and duly sworn to. The recorder may require of any person arrested under the provisions of this act, a bond for his or her good behavior, and to keep the peace, with two good and sufficient sureties; which bond shall be payable to the city of Galveston. He shall have full power and authority to issue subpoenas for witnesses, and to compel their attendance by process of attachment. He may punish all contempts by fine and imprisonment, or either; may issue subpoenas, writs of capias, warrants of arrest, search warrants, executions, and all other process known to the law which a justice of the peace of this state may lawfully issue; and all of said writs and process shall be issued, served and executed under the same form and in the same manner as the like process would be when issued by a justice of the peace, unless herein otherwise provided. He shall have full power and authority to administer official oaths, and all other oaths or affirmations, and give certificates thereof. The recorder shall be ex-officio justice of the peace, and he shall possess and execute, in criminal cases, all the powers and duties of such officer, and shall have the same authority and like powers with justices of the peace in the prevention and suppression of crime; provided that in no case shall he entertain jurisdiction in civil cases. The city council may determine what costs shall be charged in proceedings in and for all process issued in said court, and shall allow the judge thereof, for his services, a salary, payable at stated periods, eighteen hundred dollars per annum; and the recorder shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by any ordinance of said corporation, that may properly and lawfully be required of said officer, as the judge of said court, and are not inconsistent with the laws and constitution of this state; provided, that all moneys collected from fines, of whatever character, imposed by the recorder, shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city. The proceedings before said court shall be commenced by filing a complaint, specifying the charges made against the accused with reasonable certainty, which complaint shall be sworn to and shall not be quashed for any formal defects, if it substantially sets forth the nature of the alleged violation. All process of said court shall be run in the name of the city of Galveston. The city council may, if they deem it necessary, provide said court with one or more clerks and a seal; and such clerk or clerks, when appointed and qualified under any ordinance in that behalf, shall have full power and authority, the same as the recorder to administer all oaths and affirmations, and to give certificates thereof, and may issue subpoenas, writs of capias, executions, warrants of arrest and search warrants. Such clerk shall have the custody of all books and papers belonging to said court, and shall make out all process and writs, enter upon a docket all complaints before said court, and the recorder's judgment and sentence therein; and he shall receive for his services such salary as the city council may determine, not to exceed twelve hundred dollars per annum.

Section 20. It shall be the duty of the city clerk to attend every meeting of the city council and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book to be provided for that purpose; to engross and enroll all laws, resolutions and ordinances of the city council; to keep the corporate seal; to take charge of, preserve and keep in order all books, records, papers, documents and files of said council; to countersign all commissions issued to the city officers, and licenses issued by the mayor, and keep a record or register thereof; and to make out all notices required under the regulations or ordinances of the city. He shall draw all warrants on the treasurer, to be signed by the mayor and by the auditor, and countersign the same, and shall keep an accurate account thereof in a book to be provided for the purpose. He shall have power and authority to administer all oaths and affirmations. He shall also keep a register of all bonds and bills issued by the city, and all evidence of debts due and payable to it, noting the particulars thereof, and of all facts connected therewith as they occur. He shall carefully keep all contracts made by the city; and he shall do and perform all such other duties as may be required of him by any law, ordinance, resolution or order of the city council. He shall receive for his services a salary of eighteen hundred dollars per annum; and for the faithful discharge of his duties he shall give bond, with good security, to the city, for such sum as may be required by the city council, not less than two thousand dollars.

Section 23. It shall be the duty of the auditor to examine in detail all bills, accounts and claims against the city, and if found correct sign his name in approval, but if found incorrect, he shall return them to the appropriate committee or the city council with his objections thereto. He shall be the general accountant of the corporation, and shall keep in books regular accounts of the real, personal and mixed property of the city, of all receipts and disbursements of the city, and separately under proper heads, each cause of receipt and disbursement; and also accounts with each person, including officers, who have money transactions with the city, crediting amounts allowed by proper authority and specifying the particular transaction to which such entries apply. It shall also be his duty to examine the books of all officers of the city, and if they be found incorrect to make a report of the same to the city council. It shall also be his duty to examine all warrants and countersign the same when an appropriation has been duly made to pay the same, by the city council, and he shall render such other services from time to time as the city council may direct. He shall receive for his services such compensation as the city council may determine, not to exceed eighteen hundred dollars per annum, and shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of ten thousand dollars.

Section 28. The city council shall not borrow for general or special purposes more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) in any one year; provided, that this restriction shall not be construed as a limitation upon the power of the council to create and maintain an indebtedness on the part of said city for all purposes, general and special, as may be authorized by other provisions in this charter.

Section 29. The city council shall have power to appropriate money to provide for the payment of debts and expenses of the city. In the month of February of each year it shall make a careful estimate of all probable revenues of the city for the ensuing year, and shall provide for the disbursement and expenditure of the same, and shall at the same time fix the salaries of all officers appointed or elected under this charter, except those whose compensation is fixed therein as follows:

First. It shall set apart and appropriate to the payment of interest upon outstanding bonds such amounts as shall have been prescribed by ordinance for that purpose; and shall also set apart and appropriate to the creation and maintenance of sinking funds, for the redemption of said bonds, such amounts as shall have been prescribed by ordinances for that purpose, which said sinking funds shall be invested in bonds of said city, in bonds of the State of Texas, or in bonds of the United States, as said council may from time to time determine.

Secondly. It shall reserve a fund of twenty-five thousand dollars to be used only in cases of extraordinary emergencies, which could not have been foreseen before their occurrence, but in no event to be used for the ordinary expenses of the city. And whenever there shall remain unexpended any portion of such reserve fund, the same shall constitute a part of such reserve fund for the next ensuing year.

Thirdly. It shall apportion the remainder of the estimated revenue to the several departments of the city government for its general expenses. Any member of the city council who shall knowingly vote for, or in any manner aid or promote the passage or adoption of any ordinance, resolution or other act of the city council increasing the appropriations for the expenses of the city beyond the estimate aforesaid, unless the actual revenue shall have exceeded such estimate, and in such event beyond such actual revenues, shall thereby vacate his office, and shall be deemed guilty of malfeasance in office, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished in the manner and to the extent provided in section thirty-one of this act.

Section 41. The city council shall have power to prevent the encumbering of the streets, alleys, sidewalks and public grounds with carriages, wagons, carts, hacks, buggies, or any vehicle whatever, or with bones, lumber, timber, firewood, posts, awnings, signs or any other substance or material whatever, or in any other manner whatever; to compel all persons to keep all weeds, filth and every kind of rubbish from the sidewalks, streets and gutters in front of the premises occupied by them; to require and compel the owners of property to fill up, grade, shell and otherwise improve the sidewalks in front of and adjoining their property; to regulate and inspect the construction and erection of all buildings, and to cause unsafe and dangerous or dilapidated buildings to be made safe or be removed, and to prohibit the use of certain materials deemed unsafe; and to regulate and locate the erection of all poles in said city, and to cause the same at any time to be changed or removed, whether telegraph, telephone, electric light, railway or otherwise.

Section 70. To prevent all trespassers, breaches of the peace and good order, assaults, assaults and batteries, fighting, quarrelling, using abusive and insulting language, misdemeanors and disorderly conduct, and to punish all persons thus offending.

Section 78. The city council shall have power to pass, publish, amend, or repeal all ordinances, rules and police regulations not contrary to the constitution of this state, for the good government, peace and order of the city and the trade and commerce thereof that may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the powers vested by this act in the corporation, the city government, or any department or officer thereof; to enforce the observance of all such rules, ordinances and police regulations and to punish violations thereof by fines, penalties and imprisonment in the prison, workhouse or house of correction, or both, in the discretion of the court before which conviction may be had; but no fine or penalty shall exceed two hundred dollars, nor the imprisonment more than three months, for any offense, unless a larger fine and longer period of imprisonment is herein allowed; and for any fine, penalty and costs imposed by the recorder in the trial of any cause or complaint before him, execution may issue to collect such fines and costs, to be levied and executed in the same manner that executions are from the courts of criminal jurisdiction. The same shall be issued by the recorder or the clerk of the recorder's court, if there be such clerk, and under the seal of the court, if it have a seal, to the chief of police, who in levying on property and selling, shall have like power and authority as the sheriff of the county in executions issued from the district court; and the laws of the state, so far as applicable, shall apply to and be in full force and effect, as to the executions issued from the recorder's court, and the chief of police in executing the same. Any person upon whom any fine or penalty is imposed may be committed until the payment of the same with costs, and in default thereof may be imprisoned in the city prison, or the work house or house of correction or may be required to work on the streets or other public work of the city for such time and in such manner as may be provided by ordinance; provided such imprisonment shall not exceed three months unless a longer period is herein allowed.

Section 79. The city council shall have power within the city, by ordinance, to annually levy and collect for general purposes, and exclusive of the tax provided by general law for public school purposes, taxes not exceeding one and eight-tenths per cent on the assessed value of all real estate and personal property in the city not exempt from taxation by the constitution of the state.

Section 95. The collector of taxes immediately upon the delivery to him of the assessment rolls for any year, shall proceed to collect the taxes therein mentioned, and for that purpose shall give notice by publication for thirty days in the official journal of the city, to all persons owing taxes, that the taxes for that year are due, and to call immediately at his office and pay the same: which notice, when so published shall be sufficient notice to each and every tax payer who may owe taxes to the city that his taxes are due, and also a sufficient demand upon him for their payment; provided, however, that such publication shall in no manner delay or suspend the action of the collector of taxes in collecting the taxes so assessed, and the interest thereon. The provisions of this section shall apply with like force to all special taxes and assessments for local improvements.

Section 127. The city council shall have full power and authority to raise, fill, grade, repair, pave, repave or otherwise improve any avenue, street, alley or sidewalk, or any portion thereof, in the corporate limits of said city to such extent and out of such material and under such regulations as said council may provide, whenever two-thirds of the aldermen elected vote in favor of such improvement; but no wood shall be used for paving unless the same shall be first thoroughly creosoted; provided that, except as hereinafter provided, the owners of the property fronting or abutting on such avenue or street as is so improved, shall pay two-thirds, and the city one-third of the cost thereof; provided also, that the owners of property abutting on any alley or sidewalk so improved shall pay the entire cost of such improvement; provided also, that when any person, corporation or company owns or operates any street railway or railway of any kind on such avenue or street, such person, corporation or company shall pay one-third of the cost of filling, raising, paving, repairing, or otherwise improving that part of the said avenue or street so improved, and the owners of fronting or abutting property the other two-thirds, and the said city shall be relieved of its pro rata so paid by the owners or operators of such roads; and provided also, that the city shall pay for all street intersections from lot to lot across the streets, either way, so improved, except when occupied or used by said railways, in which event one-third of the cost thereof must be paid, as above provided, by the owners or operators of said railways. Property owners shall pay the entire cost of all curbing. The costs of such improvement due from property owners and from the owners or operators of railways as above provided, together with the expense of collecting the same shall be a special tax and lien against the lot or lots or blocks fronting or abutting upon the thoroughfares or ways improved, and against the road bed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights and franchises of such street or other railways that may be operated or located thereon; and they shall be due and collected by the city whenever and as soon as such improvements are completed and accepted by the city council. All repairing of avenues, streets and alleys, shall be at the expense or cost of the city, but the word repairing as here used shall apply only to small or ordinary defects in avenues, streets or alleys that have been put to grade and paved or otherwise improved.

Section 128. That the city council, before beginning any such improvements, shall, for the purpose of acquiring the most reliable information practicable of the probable cost thereof, cause an estimate to be made of said probable cost, by the city engineer or by some other officer of the city, or by a committee of aldermen; and such officer or committee shall also report a full list of all fronting or abutting lots, with number and size of same, and number of block in which situated, and the name of the owners thereof; and such other information as may be required by the city council; and if it be a street or avenue, the improvement whereof is contemplated, and any person, corporation or company owns or operates a street railway, or railway of any kind thereon, such officer or committee shall also report in said list the name of such person, corporation or company; and if there be any lot or fractional lot, the owner whereof is not known, the same shall be entered in said list as unknown; and said officer or committee shall enter in said list, opposite each lot or fractional lot lying and being on each side of the street, avenue or alley, the improvement whereof is contemplated, or if the improvement of a sidewalk is contemplated, then opposite each fronting or abutting lot or fractional lot, such portion or so much of the estimated cost or expense of such work or improvement on said avenue, street, alley or sidewalk as the owner of said lot or fractional lot is required, under the provisions of section 127 of this charter, to pay; and shall also enter into said list, opposite the name of the person, corporation or company owning or operating such railway or railways such portion of the cost or expense of such work [as] is under section 127 chargeable to said owner or operator. Upon consideration of said report of said officer or committee the council shall determine whether or not the said work or improvements shall be made, and shall proceed accordingly. When said work or improvement is ordered by the council and shall have been completed the council shall cause an accurate report of the cost thereof to be made by said officer or committee. As part of said report, said officer or committee shall present a list of the lots or fractional lots lying and being on each side of the street, avenue or alley so improved, or in case of a sidewalk, then of the lots or fractional lots fronting or abutting thereon, and upon such list of lots or fractional lots shall be entered opposite each lot or fractional lot, such portion or so much of the actual cost and expenses of such work or improvement on said avenue, street, alley or sidewalk abutting, fronting, adjoining or opposite such lot or fractional lot as the owner thereof is required, under the provisions of section 127 of this charter, to pay; and opposite the name of the person, corporation or company owning or operating the railway on the avenue or street, or portion thereof, so improved, the cost and expense chargeable to said person, corporation or company under the provisions of section 127 of this charter; and upon the acceptance and approval of said report and list by the city council, said amounts shall be imposed, levied and assessed by the said council on or against said lots or fractional lots and on or against the road bed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights and franchises of said railways respectively, and shall be collected by the collector, and shall be a lien upon the property until paid.

Section 155. Whenever any person shall be removed from any office, or the term for which he was elected or appointed has expired, or he has resigned or ceased to act in such official capacity, such person shall deliver over to his successor all books, papers and effects in any way appertaining to his office. Every person violating this provision shall be deemed guilty of an offense, and shall, on conviction thereof before the recorder, be fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars.

Section 156. The city council shall have power to remove any officer for incompetency, corruption, malconduct, malfeasance or nonfeasance in office, after due notice and an opportunity to be heard in his defense, under the same rules herein provided for the trial and removal of the mayor or any alderman; provided, however, that by the word "officer," as used in this section is meant only those officers who are especially enumerated in section 3 of this charter.

Section 157. The members of the city council and all officers of the corporation, including members of the police force, shall be exempt from jury service during their terms of office. Each alderman shall be fined seven dollars for any meeting which he fails to attend unless on account of his own sickness or is excused by the council, or is absent with leave previously granted; and any member of the city council remaining absent from three regular meetings consecutively, without first having obtained leave of absence at a regular meeting, unless such absence is occasioned by his own sickness, shall be deemed to have vacated his office, and the mayor shall cause the vacancy to be filled in accordance with the charter.

Sec. 2. That the charter of the City of Galveston be amended by adding thereto sections 6a, 18a, 39a, 73b, 78a, 95a, 100a, 128a, 130b, 132c, 164a, 169a, 174 and 175, and as follows, to-wit:

Section 6a. The city council shall have power to determine that elections held by virtue of this charter may be under and in accordance with the system of voting known as the Australian Ballot System and may provide rules and regulations therefor.

Section 18a. The deputy chief of police, in the absence of the chief of police, shall conduct the duties of his office with full powers, and the deputy chief of police shall, at all times be subject to the direction and orders of the chief of police, and shall perform all other such duties as may be prescribed by ordinance. And the salary for his services to be prescribed by the city council, not to exceed fifteen hundred dollars per annum.

Section 39a. The hospital in said city known as the John Sealy Hospital shall, so long as the same is under lease from the state to the city, be under the exclusive control of a board of managers to be known as the "John Sealy Hospital Board," and to consist of five members to be chosen or appointed, as hereinafter provided, every two years within thirty days after the installation of each new board of the city council. Two of the members of the said hospital board shall be selected from the city council of said city, one of which two shall be chairman of the city council's committee on hospital and health, and the other the chairman of the committee on "finance and revenues," two to be named or selected by the board of regents of the University of the State; and the fifth member to be named or selected by these four; provided, however, that all members of said John Sealy Hospital board shall be resident citizens and tax payers of the city of Galveston; and provided further, that in case a majority of the said four cannot agree upon the fifth member, then such fifth member shall be named or designated by the mayor of said city. The said John Sealy Hospital board shall have the exclusive right to appoint the house surgeon, steward, matron, nurses and such other subordinate officers and employees of said hospital as may be required for properly carrying on or conducting the same; to designate the duties of such subordinate officers and employees; to determine their salaries and compensation, and to change the same; and to suspend or discharge them; provided always, that the said hospital board shall, in no event exceed in any one year in their expenditures the annual allowance set apart by the city council for defraying the expenses thereof; and the said council, as long as said hospital is under lease from the state to the said city, or is in any way responsible for such expenses, shall have the exclusive right to determine and regulate the amount to be expended in carrying on or conducting the said hospital. The said John Sealy hospital board shall have the exclusive right to prescribe rules and regulations for the management and conduct of the said hospital, and shall have the exclusive management and control of its internal government. The board of health of the City of Galveston, acting through the health physician of said city, shall have the sole and exclusive right and authority whilst the city is such lessee, to determine and designate what person or persons may be admitted as charity patients into said hospital. Patients who pay for hospital services rendered them may, however, be received into said hospital under rules and regulations to be prescribed by said hospital board; provided always, that applications for admittance into said hospital for treatment as charity patients, with written permits to that effect, signed by the health physician of the City of Galveston, shall have precedence over all others applying for admittance therein. The financial affairs of said hospital, so long as the City of Galveston is such lessee, shall be under the exclusive control of the city council of said city, and the said hospital board shall furnish to the said council at its regular meeting in February of each year during said lease, an itemized statement or estimate of the various officers and their assistants, and the nurses and other employes, and their salaries and wages, and the nature and amount of all other expenses, necessary to the proper management and maintenance of said hospital for the twelve months next thereafter ensuing, which statement or estimate shall be subject to revision, alteration, modification and reduction by the said city council; and no expense or liability not provided for in said estimate or statement as finally approved and adopted by said council shall be incurred by the said hospital board, or any subordinate in the management of said hospital, unless the approval of the city council in that the regard shall have first been obtained. All moneys or revenues arising from hospital service in said institution during such lease, shall as collected be paid into the city treasury as a part of the revenues of said city. The said hospital board shall keep and preserve or cause to be kept and preserved, in well bound books, accurate minutes of its meetings and proceedings; also in like manner, a roster of all visiting physicians and surgeons, and of all officers, employes and internes of said hospital, and in what capacity serving, with dates of entering service and of discharge therefrom, length of time employed, and salaries and wages allowed; and also a hospital register, showing name, age, sex, nationality, and residence of each and every person admitted as a patient, disease at the date of admittance or supervening while in hospital, dates of admittance and dates of discharge or death of all patients admitted in said hospital for treatment, the authority for the admittance of each patient, and the rate charged each and every pay patient. And the house surgeon or other officer in charge of said hospital shall keep, or cause to be kept, in well bound books correct and accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements for account of said hospital, and shall render, under oath, to the city council of said city, through the said hospital board, monthly reports or statements showing, for the month then ending, all receipts and disbursements, with proper vouchers, also the number and names of all patients received, the respective dates of admittance and whether charity patients or pay patients; the number and the name of all patients that have been discharged or that have died during the month; the disposition made of the bodies of all patients who have died during the month; and the names of all officers and employes, in what capacity serving, and at what salary or wages, respectively. The medical staff of the John Sealy hospital shall be constituted of the house surgeon, to be selected as above provided, and during said lease, compensated by the city; of the visiting physicians and surgeons, to be designated by the board of regents of the University of the State of Texas, from the faculty of the medical department thereof, but who are to receive no compensation from the city for their services; and of two or more students from the medical branch of said University, to serve as internes and to be selected by the said board of regents; the number and duties of the internes to be determined by said hospital board, and said internes to receive for their services, only their board and lodging in said hospital. The officers in charge of said hospital shall, at all times, admit for the purposes of inspection, the mayor or any member of the board of health of said city charged with the duty of visiting or inspecting said hospital; and in like manner the regents of the said University or their authorized agents. All the members of said hospital board, as also the house surgeon shall, before entering upon their respective duties, take the oath of office prescribed by the charter for the officials of the city of Galveston.

Section 72a. The city council shall have power to require all property owners whose property may be located upon or near any street or alley along which may extend any sewer or system of sewerage that the city may construct, to connect with such sewer or system of sewerage all water closets, sinks, and drains located upon their respective properties or premises, so that their contents may be made to empty into such sewer or system of sewerage.

Section 73b. The city council shall have power to require, on due notice, all railway companies owning tracks within the city limits which may have been or may hereafter be abandoned by them, by nonuser, to remove such tracks, and to restore, at their own expense, the street or way upon which such abandoned track is located, to proper grade. No railway track shall ever be laid nor any railway of any kind whatever ever allowed to be operated on the Strand, or Avenue B, and on Tremont or 23rd street; and no more than two railway tracks shall ever be placed on Broadway. No street railway company operating a street railway in this city shall charge, or receive from any passenger more than five cents for one continuous carriage in the same direction; but where tickets or other evidences of the right to ride on any such street railway are issued, the same shall be sold at the rate of not less than six tickets for twenty-five cents. The city council shall have the power at any time to change the location or remove the railway track or tracks on any street or avenue from one portion of the street to another, and to enforce such change of location in mode to be prescribed by ordinance.

Section 78a. The city council shall have full power and authority to establish and maintain a city police or police department, composed of the chief of police, who shall be appointed as heretofore provided, the clerks of the recorder's court, two or more sergeants and such number of patrolmen or policemen as the city council may from time to time direct; to prescribe the duties of policemen; and to make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws of the state, for the government of the police department, as to the said council may seem meet and proper. At the first regular meeting of the new board of aldermen after each biennial election, or as soon thereafter as may be, the mayor shall select and name, from amongst the members thereof, at least two aldermen who, together with himself shall constitute a commission to be known and designated as "police commission," of which commission the mayor shall be chairman, and which is hereby invested with exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine any and all charges against any member of the police department, except the chief of police, for incompetency or inefficiency, for corruption, malfeasance or nonfeasance in office, for violation of any of the rules or regulations prescribed for the government of the department, or for any other conduct unbecoming a member of the police force. Policemen shall be appointed for two years, subject to suspension or removal for cause, after a hearing, by the commission, which is hereby invested with exclusive jurisdiction in the premises; provided however, that the chief of police shall have the power temporarily to suspend any subordinate officer or any other member of the police force, for reasons satisfactory to said chief of police, and to appoint some person to discharge the duties of such suspended officer or member, until the grounds of such suspension can be inquired into by the police commission; and it shall be the duty of the chief of police, in all such cases, to file with said commission, within five days after such suspension, his reasons therefor, and to notify the accused thereof. Every policeman shall be required to take the oath prescribed by the constitution of the state, and to give bond, with sureties, to be approved by the mayor, in the sum of five hundred dollars, payable to the city of Galveston, and conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. All lawful rules and regulations prescribed by the city council for the government of the police department shall be obeyed by the police force and its officers on pain of dismissal, or such lighter punishment, either by suspension, reduction or forfeiture of pay or otherwise, as the commission may adjudge; provided, however, that all charges or complaints against the chief of police shall be heard and determined by the city council as provided in section 150, 151, 152 and 153 of this charter for the trial of the mayor or any alderman. The commission shall have power to administer oaths, to summon and compel the attendance of witnesses before them, and to examine such witnesses upon any matter where it may be necessary to the discharge of their duties; and they shall report to the city council at its first regular meeting in each month, the expenses incurred by their department, and the suspensions and removals therein during the preceding month. The clerk of the recorder's court shall discharge the duties of secretary of the police commission.

Section 95a. All taxes, general and special, including taxes for public schools, and assessments for local improvements, shall bear interest from the respective dates at which they may, by ordinance, be made payable, at the rate of eight per cent per annum.

Section 100a. In addition to other modes of collection in this charter provided, all taxes due the city, whether general or special, assessments for nuisances, improvements of streets, alleys or sidewalks or otherwise, may be collected by suit, and liens on real estate foreclosed in any court having jurisdiction; the assessment rolls of all taxes shall be taken as prima facie evidence of the statements made therein, and the city shall have equal right to become the purchaser at all sales of property under judgment or otherwise, for taxes due it.

Section 128a. The city council shall have power to fix or establish the grade on all streets and alleys, including sidewalks within the city limits; provided however, that on Broadway or Avenue J, the grade shall not be less than eight feet $\frac{1}{2}$ exclusive of paving above mean low tide; and provided further, that where the ground on said avenue is higher than eight feet $\frac{1}{2}$, then such natural grade shall be observed and retained.

Section 130b. No property of any kind, church, school, public or otherwise, in the City of Galveston, shall be exempt from any of the special taxes and assessments authorized by this charter for local improvements.

Section 132c. The city shall have power to issue bonds to the amount of one million, two hundred and forty thousand dollars, of the denomination of one hundred dollars, or any multiple thereof, payable forty years after date of their issue, and bearing interest payable semi-annually at a rate not exceeding five per cent per annum: said bonds to be sold for cash, at not less than par, and the proceeds thereof to be used and expended as follows:

Two hundred thousand dollars shall be used in defraying the city's portion of the cost of filling, grading and paving its streets, as elsewhere provided for in this charter; provided, that not more than one hundred thousand dollars shall be expended on such work by the city in any one year from this fund, or from the proceeds of the issue of bonds authorized by this section.

Forty thousand dollars shall be used and expended for filling streets and such property as the city may own, and which the city council may designate to be filled or raised; the expenditures out of this fund, not to exceed in any one year twenty thousand dollars.

Fifty thousand dollars shall be employed and expended in the erection of public school houses in said city, under the direction and upon the requisition of its board of school trustees; provided however, that the interest and the sinking fund necessary to meet the fifty thousand dollars of the bonds so appropriated shall be annually reserved out of the taxes levied and collected for school purposes until the sinking fund thus reserved shall be sufficient to pay the principal and interest of said bonds.

Fifty thousand dollars shall be and constitute a special fund to be used and expended by the city council in abating nuisances on private property, and for filling, grading and paving, or otherwise improving alleys and sidewalks in said city, in all cases where the parties chargeable with the abatement of such nuisances or with such filling, grading and paving, or other improvement shall fail or refuse to abate the one or perform the other; and any expenditures from this fund shall be a lien and recoverable by assessment on the property in respect of and concerning which they shall be made, and when so recovered, they shall be and remain a portion of such special fund.

Nine hundred thousand dollars shall be employed and expended by the city council for and in the procurement of an adequate supply of fresh water for said city, and in and for the erection of an efficient system of sewerage and drainage, including crematories for garbage, if found desirable, and for the city's share of the cost of filling, grading and paving its streets, under the following provisions: The city council shall on or before January 1st, 1892, apportion said nine hundred thousand dollars as follows: First, so much of said sum as to said council may appear necessary, shall be set aside for the procurement of said water supply, to be owned by the city or furnished under contracts that may be entered into by the city with responsible parties. Secondly, so much of the remainder of said sum, if any, as to the council may appear necessary, shall be set aside for sewerage and drainage purposes, aforesaid; and, Thirdly, the residue, if any, after a water supply and system of sewerage and drainage shall have been provided for as above contemplated, shall be set aside to defray the city's share of the cost of filling, grading and paving its streets, when the special fund of two hundred thousand dollars aforesaid shall have been expended. A fund shall be provided to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to redeem said bonds, which fund shall not be diverted or drawn upon for any other purpose, and the city treasurer shall honor no drafts on said fund, except to pay the interest upon or to redeem the bonds for which it was provided. Said bonds shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the city clerk, and shall be payable at such places as may be fixed by ordinance of the city council. It shall be the duty of the mayor, when such bonds are issued, to forward the same to the comptroller of state, whose duty it shall be to register them in a book kept for the purpose and to endorse on each bond registered, his certificate of registration. The indebtedness provided for in this section shall not be limited or governed by the provisions or limitations contained in sections 28, 132, 132a or 132b, of this charter.

Section 164a. The said city shall not be liable in damages at the suit of any person for injuries either to person or property arising from the unsafe condition or want of repair of any alley, street, way, bridge, crossing or sidewalk.

Section 174. There shall be and is hereby created in and for the city a board, called the commissioners of public works, to consist of five members, one of whom shall be the city engineer, and four, each of whom shall be a freeholder and qualified voter in the City of Galveston, and not less than thirty years of age, to be appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the city council, as soon as practicable after the passage of this act, and biennially thereafter on the first Monday in July after the election for mayor and aldermen. Two of the appointed commissioners shall be appointed to serve for the term of two years and two for the term of four years, but after the expiration of the first term of two years the other appointment shall be for the term of four years, in order that biennially two commissioners may be appointed; and they shall hold their office until their successors are duly elected and qualified. Said commissioners, except the city engineer, who is provided for in the regular salary list of city officers, shall be entitled to receive such salary as the city council may determine, not to exceed three hundred dollars each per annum payable quarterly. The mayor, with the approval of the city council, shall have the power to remove any commissioner for cause, and to fill any vacancy occurring in said office, either from death, resignation, removal from office, removal from the city, or other cause. The mayor shall issue commissions to the persons appointed as commissioners, designating the term for which they are severally appointed. Said commissioners shall take the oath of office required of other officers of said city and give bond for the faithful performance of their duties, payable to the City of Galveston, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be approved by the committee on finance and revenue of the city council: provided, that the city engineer shall not be held to give other than the bond of ten thousand dollars required from him as city engineer. Upon the appointment and qualification of said commissioners, they shall organize by the election of a president from their own number. The city clerk shall be the secretary for said board and shall keep a record of its proceedings, and a majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. No commissioner shall absent himself from any meeting except for good cause, and an excuse for non-attendance shall be entered in the minute book of said board of commissioners, and if at any time more than two commissioners be absent from the city, the mayor, if he believe it to be necessary, shall have the authority, with the consent of the city council, temporarily to appoint a new member on said board until the return of one of the absent commissioners, who must qualify, however, in the same manner as the regularly elected commissioners. The board of commissioners of public works shall have charge of the execution of all public works of a permanent character, such as filling, grading, paving, repairing or otherwise improving any street, alley, avenue or sidewalk; the abating of any nuisance; the providing for establishing or building of sewers or a system of sewerage; the erection of public buildings and garbage crematories; the laying out, improving and beautifying of esplanades, squares and public grounds, and all other improvements and works of a public and permanent nature, except such as are required or authorized to be done through the commissioners of water works, and the school trustees, and said board shall have charge of all such work as shall be more clearly defined by the ordinances of the city council. The city council shall, however, before any such public work is undertaken by the commissioners, designate the same, and the extent thereof by a proper resolution, and for a better understanding of the work to be undertaken, shall require of said board of commissioners an approximate estimate thereof. After the city council has duly adopted by resolution, what work or improvement shall be undertaken, and has stipulated its extent, it shall be the duty of the commissioners to advertise for the work according to plans and specifications, to be made and adopted by them, and shall let the work by contract, except where the city council may, upon recommendation from said board, authorize the work to be done by days work; and all contracts shall be subject to approval by the city council, and shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the city clerk, before the same shall take effect; any contract made under this act shall be paid for by the city with the proceeds of the five per cent forty-year bonds issued for the particular purpose, and by funds set apart for that purpose by the city council in its annual budget; provided, that in all contracts for public works or improvements, of whatever kind, in which the city is interested, labor in and about the construction of such work, contracts or improvements shall be rated and paid for at not less than two dollars per day of nine hours each. The board shall keep a record of their proceedings in a well bound book kept for that purpose, and they shall report monthly, to the city council, the progress of all works under their charge, and make recommendations as to what further work should or could be undertaken, its nature and extent, and shall approve all claims for work or works under their charge, entitled to payment, which said claims shall be duly audited and approved by the finance committee before payment. No member of the board of commissioners of public works shall have any other employment or office under the city government while he is a member of said board, unless herein otherwise provided; and no member of said board shall be directly or indirectly interested in any work, business or contract, the expense, price or consideration of which is paid from the city treasury, or by an assessment levied by an ordinance or resolution of the city council, nor be the surety of any having a contract, work or business with said city, for the performance of which security may be required. Any member of said board violating the provisions hereof shall forfeit his position on said board, and shall thereafter be ineligible to any office in or under the city government. The said commissioners shall be deemed and taken as officers of the city and liable to the provisions of article 250 of the Penal Code.

Section 175. The city council shall have power to provide for taking the enumeration of the inhabitants of the city, in the year 1891, and every five years thereafter.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the session, and the fact that it is desirable that this act go into effect as soon as possible, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this act take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 73 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 26 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the governor of Texas for his approval on the thirty-first day of March, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

CHAP. 16.—[S. B. No. 339.] An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act amendatory of and supplemental to an act entitled an act to consolidate in one act and amend the several acts incorporating the City of Houston, in Harris county," approved January 23rd, 1874, and all acts amendatory thereof, and to validate the same and acts thereunder.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all acts of the legislature purporting or intended to be amendatory of an act entitled "an act to consolidate in one act and amend the several acts incorporating the City of Houston in Harris county," approved January 23, 1874, including an act entitled, "an act to amend sections 7, 14, 15, 23 and 33 of the charter of the City of Houston," approved March 15, 1889, be and the same are hereby declared to be legal and valid, and all the inhabitants of the City of Houston shall be a body corporate, to be known hereafter by the name of "The City of Houston," and by that name they shall hereafter be known in law, and shall be capable of suing and being sued and defending in all courts in all matters whatsoever; and may have a common seal, and may alter and change the same at pleasure; may own, hold and convey any estate, real or personal, for the use of said corporation for any purpose whatsoever, both within the limits of said city, and without the limits of the same in Harris county, Texas; and section one of said original act, approved January 23, 1874, is hereby repealed, and the following sections of said original act last mentioned, with the subsequent amendments thereof, shall be and the same are hereby amended so as to read hereafter as follows:

Section 14. That there shall be elected by the qualified voters of said city, a city attorney, treasurer, city marshal, assessor and collector of taxes, a market master, a city recorder, a street commissioner, and health officer, city scavenger and city engineer, who shall hold their respective offices for two years, and until their successors are qualified, unless sooner removed by the city council; provided, that the present officers of said city shall hold their offices until the next election of city officers as prescribed by the ordinances now in force. The assessor and collector may appoint one or more deputies for whose conduct he shall be responsible; and such deputy or deputies shall have power to perform any act which may be performed by the assessor and collector in person. The mayor shall appoint a secretary and a superintendent of schools, whose appointment shall be confirmed by the city council, who shall hold their respective offices for two years, and until their successors are qualified, and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the city council.

That Section 15 shall read as follows:

Section 15. That the recorder of said city shall exercise such jurisdiction as may be prescribed by the city council, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the State, and such as may be conferred by general laws on mayors and recorders, but when any person has been tried before a justice of the peace for any offense committed in said city against a general law, such person shall not be tried again for the same offense before said recorder. The rule of procedure in courts of justices of the peace in criminal matters shall govern the recorder's court in all matters of practice, and appeals may be taken from his decision in like manner. In the absence of the recorder or in case of his inability to hold his court, the mayor of said city may hold the same, and the acts and judgments of such mayor shall have the same force and effect as those of the recorder. The recorder shall have the same power to administer oaths, punish for contempt of his court, to summon witnesses and compel their attendance by process, to summon jurors and compel their attendance, as justices of the peace have. Such recorder's court shall be open daily, and the accused shall have a speedy public trial. The salary, if any, and fees of such recorder shall be determined by the city council; and such recorder shall, from time to time as required, report to the council, and do and perform such duties properly appertaining to the office, as may be prescribed by the city council; provided, that all process beyond the city limits shall be directed to and executed by the sheriff or some constable of the county.

That Section 16 shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 16. The city secretary shall attend the city council at its meetings, and shall have the custody of all laws and ordinances of the city and of its valuable papers, records and archives, and also of the common seal of the corporation, and shall affix the same to the obligations of the city by order of the city council. He shall keep a regular and correct journal of the proceedings of the council in well bound record books, and shall perform such other duties as the city council may prescribe or direct.

The city treasurer shall have the custody of all monies and shall receive all monies and revenues coming into the city treasury, and pay the same out by order of the council. He shall keep the monies and funds of the city on deposit in some bank in the city of Houston and he shall keep the accounts of the city in well bound books, and the books and records of his office shall be open to the inspection of any citizen at any reasonable and proper time. He shall prepare and publish, in one or more newspapers printed in the city of Houston, an accurate and detailed statement and accounts of the receipts and disbursements of the revenues of the city, the outstanding obligations and liabilities of the city and the condition of the city treasury, which statement shall be prepared and made up to the first Monday of December of each year, and published on or before the fifteenth day of December; and it shall be the duty of the city council to require this statement to be made and published, and should the said statement not be made in the manner and at the time provided, the treasurer shall be liable to a fine of one thousand dollars to be recovered in the district court of Harris county, at the suit of the city attorney for and in behalf of the city of Houston, and the securities of the city treasurer on his official bond shall be liable for the amount of such fine.

The city attorney shall attend to all civil suits to which the city is a party, unless the council otherwise provide, and shall represent the city in person, or by deputy, in the recorder's court when necessary when requested so to do, shall draw all ordinances, and inspect and pass upon all documents involving the interests of the city, when requested so to do by the mayor or city council, and shall be the legal adviser of all the officers of the city upon legal questions touching their official duties, and he shall perform such other duties as the council may prescribe.

That section 23a shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23a. The city council shall fix and determine the nature and extent of all sidewalks, curbing, street, drainage and sewerage improvements and decide as to the kind of material to be used. The cost of constructing or repairing, as the case may be, of all sidewalks, foot ways and curbing, and the cost of grading, shelling, paving, repairing, or otherwise improving any avenue, street, alley, or other highway or any portion thereof within the limits of the city, and the cost of all drains and sewers laid and constructed within the city, together with the cost of collecting thereof shall, whenever by a vote of two-thirds of the aldermen elected, such improvements shall be declared necessary for the public interest, be defrayed in case of curbing, sidewalk and street improvement, by the owner or owners of the lot or lots, block or blocks, tracts of land when not laid out into lots and blocks, abutting or [on] such street or portion of street improved, according to the cost of work in front of the particular lot or block or tract of land, but the cost against the several lots in any block may be reached according to foot frontage by estimate based on the entire cost of work in front of such block, from center to center of cross streets, and where the cross streets lead into the improved street at irregular distances, such apportionment by estimate may be between the lines of projections run into the center of such cross streets, and in such case the intersection to be paid for by the city, shall extend only to the center of the improved street, and in case of sewerage or drainage improvements, shall be defrayed by the owner or owners of such lot or lots, block or blocks or tracts of land when not laid out into lots or blocks, according to the proportionate benefits of the lots, blocks or tracts of land within the sewerage or drainage district hereinafter provided for, taking into consideration the area and locality of the property affected, and the costs of all such improvements shall be a tax and charge against the person or persons owning such lots, blocks or tracts of land at the time such tax or any portion thereof shall become due as to such lots, blocks and tracts of land and a lien and incumbrance upon the land itself, and said tax against the property owner may be collected and the lien upon the property foreclosed in any court having jurisdiction. The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for the laying-out of drainage and sewerage districts within said city and to provide for the cost of constructing main and lateral drains, sewers or conduits in such districts by assessment against the owner or owners of the lots, blocks or tracts of land when not laid out in lots and blocks, in such sewerage or drainage district according to the proportional benefit respectively to such lots, blocks or tracts of land, in view of area and locality, and main sewers and drains may be constructed, and the cost of the same assessed against the land within such district, as aforesaid in contemplation of additional lateral or cross sewers, or drains being constructed within such district at some future time. The cost of constructing curb walls and gutters and sidewalks on the corner of any block shall be assessed against the owner or owners of the corner lot or tract of land abutting thereon. Provided nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the city council from constructing sewers and drains or making street improvements in whole or in part at the expense of the city, should it be deemed advisable so to do. The city council shall, by resolution duly passed, designate the streets or portion of streets on which curbing, sidewalk, or street improvements shall be made or constructed, and the district within which sewerage or drainage improvements shall be constructed, and the general nature of the improvements to be made, and the principal ingredient of the material to be used; provided however, that provision may be made in such resolution for receiving bids on more than one kind of material, or of different modes of construction. Said resolution may be amended or changed by a two-thirds vote of the city council, at any time previous to the publication of the advertisement for bids, and it shall be proper to embody in the same, language to the effect that the improvements contemplated will be made only on those portions of the street or streets referred to where good and sufficient improvements of like character do not exist, and in such event the mayor as the work progresses shall determine where such existing improvements, if any, are in fact good and sufficient within the meaning and intent of the resolution, and he shall direct the contractor accordingly, and any property owner shall have the privilege of putting down his own sidewalks and curbing in front of any lot owned by him, provided the same are completed or in course of construction, prior to the leaving of material near the same for that purpose by the contractor employed by the city, and if in course of construction, are completed in a manner satisfactory to the mayor, at such time to be determined by the mayor, as will not interfere with the work being otherwise done by the contractor. When sewerage or drainage improvements are contemplated, said resolution shall refer to the district within which property will be assessed for the payment of the same. The cost of paving any street intersection under the provisions of this act, shall be borne by the city, and the city council is hereby authorized to levy an annual ad valorem tax, not exceeding one-fourth of one per cent per annum, for the purpose of paying for the paving of intersections, and provisions shall at the time be made by the city to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon, and create a sinking fund of at least two per cent. The city shall have the same time in which to pay for such work as individuals have under the provisions of this act, and street intersections as here used, shall be deemed to mean all that portion of the street improved within an extension of the curb lines of the intersecting streets. Any railroad or street railway company shall be liable for the cost of grading, paving or otherwise improving the portion of the street or intersection used or occupied by such railway company, and such costs shall be a lien upon the property and franchises of the company. The portion of a street occupied by any railroad or street railway company shall be deemed to mean all that portion of the same between the rails of all tracks laid and extending six inches beyond the outer edge of the rails of such road, and including the space between the double tracks and between the main track, side tracks or turnouts. Any railroad or street railway company, or other person having an easement in any land not in, but abutting on the street, shall be liable for street curbing, sidewalk, drainage or sewerage improvements in the same manner as though it or he were the owner of such land, and a lien shall exist on such land, inclusive of such easement right, to secure the cost of such improvement. Should any railroad or street railway company propose to lay a track on any street or portion of a street which shall have been improved under the provisions of section 23 et seq., of this act, it shall become liable according to the portion of the street occupied by such company, as defined above, for such portion of the cost of improvement as the city council may direct, not in excess of what would have been its proportion of the original cost of the improvements had its track been on the ground when the improvement was made; and such amounts when collected shall be credited on the assessments made against abutting property and the city council may by ordinance provide for the form and manner of collecting and disbursing the same. Before any railroad or street railway company shall be permitted to occupy such improved street or portion of street, it shall file with the city secretary in writing, prepared by the city attorney, an acceptance of the terms on which its occupancy of the same shall be permitted.

That section 23b shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23b. After the passage of a resolution of the character next hereinbefore referred to, it shall be the duty of the city secretary to have said resolution or so much of the substance of the same advertised for not less than four days in some daily newspaper published in the city of Houston, as will inform any person owning property liable to be affected by said resolution of the fact that the making of improvements is contemplated by the city council, which if carried out will subject his property to a special tax assessment for the payment of the same, and no further action in regard to the proposed improvements referred to in such publication shall be taken until the lapse of ten days from the first publication thereof; provided, however, that failure to advertise the same for more than one day, or any mistake or omission in the wording of said advertisement shall in no way vitiate or affect the validity of special assessments levied under the same. After the passage of such resolutions, specifications for the improvements referred to in the same shall be prepared by the city engineer, from time to time as the work progresses, which specifications, when prepared and adopted by the city council, shall be open for public inspection in the office of the city secretary, or that of the city engineer, and it shall be proper to provide in said specifications for such reasonable alterations in the grade, plan, form or dimensions of the work or additions to the same, as may become apparent or found to be necessary or expedient by the city engineer, or the board of public works, as the work referred to in the same progresses; provided, however, that it shall be the duty of said board of public works to examine said specifications, and a majority of the members thereof shall endorse their report in reference to the same thereon, or affix it thereto before the same are approved by the city council; provided further, however, that said city council shall nevertheless have the right, after such report shall have been made by the board of public works, to amend or change said specifications without further reference to said board. After said specifications shall have been finally approved by the city council, bids for the construction of said improvements shall be solicited by public advertisement duly made, which advertisement shall refer to said specifications, and the work provided for in the same shall be let to the lowest bidder, to be judged of by the city council. Said advertisements shall be published in the city inviting bids thereon, and the same shall state the time when such proposals will be opened, and shall show the manner in which the work is to be paid for. All proposals shall be addressed to the city secretary, and shall be opened in the presence of the city council at a regular meeting. Bond to be fixed in amount by the city council, and approved by the mayor shall be required of all contractors.

That section 23c shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23c. After a bid for the construction of sidewalk, curbing, street, drainage or sewerage improvements shall have been accepted by the council, and a contract for the construction of the same entered into from time to time, as rapidly as practicable, there shall be prepared by the city engineer a roll, or rolls, showing the number of lots, blocks or tracts of land when not divided into lots and blocks, fronting on the street, alley, avenue or highway to be improved, or in case of sewerage or drainage or other improvements within the district provided for, the name or names of the owner or owners of such lot or part of lot, block or tract of land if known to the city engineer, and if unknown to him it shall be so stated, the number of feet frontage of such lot, part of lot, block or tract of land fronting on the portion of the street improved, in the case of sidewalk, curbing or street improvements, and the proportional cost to such lot, part of lot, block or tract of land, in view of area and locality, in the case of sewerage or drainage improvements and the total cost as ascertained and calculated by the city engineer of such improvements necessary to be borne by each, and to be paid by each owner of such property described in such roll. After said city engineer shall have prepared a roll as provided for, covering any portion of the work embraced in the contract, he shall endorse thereon a certificate, in substance as follows: "I certify that the above and foregoing roll of ownership and estimate sheet is correct and that I have honestly and faithfully prepared the same;" and he shall sign his name to such certificate. It shall then be the duty of the board of public works to examine such roll of ownership and the majority of the members of said board shall endorse thereon, or attach thereto, such report in reference to the same as they may deem proper. It shall also be the duty of the city attorney to examine said roll, nor shall the same be submitted to the city council for approval until he shall have certified that such roll of ownership is in due form as required by the city charter. After the publication of said resolution hereinbefore referred to it shall be the duty of all persons owning land liable to assessment for the cost of improvements referred to in such resolution, to file in the office of the city engineer, previous to the completion of said roll of ownership, a correct description of all such land owned by them, and any one failing so to do shall not be permitted, after the final approval of said roll of ownership, to resist the payment of the full sum therein assessed against him, or against property owned by him, on account of any mistake or omission in said roll pertaining to the description of the land so owned by him, or to the name or names appearing in said roll as the owners of the same. It shall, however, be the duty of the city engineer to exercise reasonable diligence in ascertaining the name of the owner of the respective tracts of land referred to in such roll of ownership, and in describing such tracts of land correctly, and for this purpose it shall be sufficient for him to adopt the description and designation of ownership appearing in the latest assessment rolls of the City of Houston, prepared for purposes of general taxation, completed at the time of the preparation of such rolls of ownership. The said roll, when approved by the city council shall be prima facie evidence, that all prerequisites required by law pertaining to the levying of said assessment have been complied with, and in case of suit by said city to enforce said assessments, all the provisions of this act relating to misnomer, misdescription and to suits against unknown owners in case of certificates, shall apply in favor of said city.

That section 23d shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23d. After a roll of ownership shall have been prepared, as above provided for, the same shall be placed in the office of the city secretary for public inspection, and it shall thereupon be the duty of the city secretary to cause to be published, for not less than four days in some daily newspaper published in the City of Houston, a notice, in form substantially as follows:

"Persons owning property on (here insert the name of the street or streets, or description of portions of the same referred to in said roll, or a description of the territory or district to which such roll relates), are hereby notified that the roll of ownership showing the amount of the special assessment tax levied against the owners of property above referred to, to cover the cost of improvement made in accordance with the resolution of the city council relating to the same, adopted (here insert the date of the resolution) has been placed in the office of the city secretary for inspection, in order that all persons interested therein, or to be affected thereby, may have an opportunity of calling the attention of the city council to any errors or mistakes connected with such assessments levied against property owned by them as shown on said roll;" and said roll shall in no event be adopted or approved by the city council until after the lapse of ten days after the first publication of said notice. And on the filing of said roll in the office of the city secretary for public inspection as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the city secretary to mail a copy of said notice to the postoffice address, so far as known to him, of all persons whose names appear on said roll. And where the postoffice address of any person named in said roll is unknown to said city secretary, he shall address a letter, containing said notice, to Houston, Texas; provided, however, that failure on the part of said city secretary to comply with the provisions above stated, in respect to mailing said notice to any person named in said rolls, shall in no wise impair or affect the validity of said roll, or the validity of the assessment provided for by the same; the publication of said resolution or substance of the same, as hereinbefore provided for, and the publication of said notice, shall be notice to all persons owning property against which special tax assessment for sidewalk, street, drainage or sewerage improvements, or for any other purpose, may be made, of the pendency of the proceedings had and to be had, and acts taken and to be taken in reference to the same; and such person shall be permitted, at any time after the date of the first of such publication, and previous to the final approval of said rolls by the city council, by petition to the city council filed with the city secretary, to object to any such acts and proceedings, and to show wherein they have been or may be wronged or injured thereby, and to ask for a revision or correction of the same; and they shall be permitted, and it shall be their duty before the final approval of such roll, to appear in person, or by agent or attorney before said city council, and not thereafter, at any time, before any other tribunal, fraud and collusion, which was then unknown and could not by reasonable diligence have been ascertained, excepted, and apply for redress for such wrong or injury, and for the correction of such errors as they may point out and establish to the satisfaction of said council; nor shall any such roll be finally approved by the city council after the filing of such petition by any person so affected or liable to be affected by said proceedings, until such petition shall have been heard and acted upon by the city council, although it shall not be necessary to incorporate in the minutes of said city council its action thereon, and it shall be the duty of any person who may deem himself injured by the action or non-action of the city council in reference to the matters contained in such petition, within five days after the approval of such roll of ownership, to apply to the proper court for an injunction, based on the facts alleged in such petition, restraining further action on the part of the city officials, or any of them, in reference to the matters complained of in such petition, and to the extent of the petitioner's interest in the same, and neglect or failure so to do shall forever estop such petitioner, and all parties claiming under him from denying the correctness of said roll, or the regularity of all proceedings previously had in reference thereto or the validity of the special tax therein assessed against the land owned by him; and at all times and in all proceedings in any court in which the validity of any special tax assessment that may have been laid under the charter of the city of Houston or amendments thereto, as shown by any roll of ownership, purporting to have been prepared by the city engineer in accordance with the provisions thereof, may be called in question; a recovery shall nevertheless be had in such suit for such sum as ought to have been assessed against the tract of land involved, according to the mode of apportionment, provided in the law of said city applicable to such improvement, and if for any reason, in law or fact, such recovery cannot be had, then a recovery shall be allowed, quantum valebat, not exceeding the contract price for the improvement in front of the lot or lots, block or blocks, or tracts of land involved, according to the front foot rule or standard; and if for any reason, in law or fact, recovery can not be had in either of the above modes, then recovery shall be allowed not exceeding the contract price, to the extent and according to the standard of benefits from the improvements in question to the lot or lots, block or blocks, or tracts of land involved, and such recovery in whichever mode allowed, shall be a lien on such lot or lots, block or blocks, or tract of land for such amount as shall be established, together with eight per cent thereon from the date of the acceptance of said work by the city, and such lien shall be established and foreclosed accordingly. In case of curbing, sidewalk and street improvements, whether the recovery is had on the original assessment or otherwise, the lien shall extend in depth as to tracts of land not laid out into lots and blocks to the usual depth of lots in said city, namely one hundred feet.

That section 23e shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23e. The sum assessed against each separate tract of land whether embracing one or more lots or not, as described in said roll of ownership next above referred to shall, unless otherwise provided in the resolution under which it is prepared, be divided by the city secretary into annual installments of as nearly equal amounts as may be deemed by him most practicable and convenient; provided, however, that the sum assessed against each separate tract of land shall be divided by him into as many annual installments as possible, not exceeding ten in number, and not less than ten dollars each. The first of said installments shall become due five days after said roll of ownership shall have been approved by the city council, and each of the remaining installments shall become due annually on the same day of the month in each year thereafter until all are due. On each of the respective days last referred to the entire interest on the whole amount of principal then unpaid shall also become due. The entire amount assessed against each separate tract of land shall bear interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum until maturity, and each installment shall bear interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum after maturity of the same. Failure to pay any installment of principal and interest when due, within sixty days of the time when suit shall have been entered on the same, shall, at the option of the party entitled to collect such indebtedness, cause all subsequent installments of principal and interest to mature and become due, and shall authorize the foreclosure of the lien for all installments of principal and interest unpaid. It shall be the duty of the city secretary, on the filing of said roll of ownership, and after the lapse of five days after its final approval by the city council, to divide the sums assessed against each separate tract of land described in said roll into installments as above provided for, and he shall add to each installment the amount of interest annually to become due on the entire amount of the principal unpaid at the maturity of such installment, which sum shall be the amount of the principal and interest due for each year respectively, on such tract of land, and he shall preserve in his office a list or roll, showing the result of such calculation as an adjunct to said roll of ownership. The person or persons owning the property subject to such assessment shall have the right, at any time, to pay off the entire assessment against such property, whether due or not, and such payment may be made to the city assessor and collector, who shall make entry on such roll or list to that effect, and give his receipt therefor, under the seal of said city, which shall be evidence of such payment in all courts; and interest shall be computed only to the date of such payment, and abate for all unexpired time. Upon such payment being made, the city assessor and collector shall notify the holders of the certificate or certificates, by mail, of such payment, if known, where certificates have been issued. The money so paid shall be turned over to the city treasurer, and shall be deposited by him, in a separate account, to the credit of the improvement on account of which paid, and where certificates are outstanding for such payment, the holder thereof shall present the same to the city assessor and collector, who shall endorse thereon, under seal of the city the amount to which the same is entitled, as per the payment made to him, which certificate, so endorsed, shall be returned to the holder, and upon its presentation to the treasurer he shall pay the same as per such endorsement. The payment to the city assessor and collector by such owner or owners, shall operate a full discharge of the property affected and the holder of certificates shall look to the fund so paid as a substitute for the liability of such property, to which fund the lien of the certificate shall attach. Payments of certificates may be made by the owner to the holder of the certificates, in which case, on the presentation of the receipted certificate, the city assessor and collector shall enter payment on said roll as usual and sign same.

That section 23f shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23f. Improvement certificates may be issued on said roll next above referred to as follows: For the total sum of money assessed against each separate tract of land whether or not embracing one or more lots, as aforesaid, an improvement certificate may be issued; such certificate shall show the number and series of the same; the sum for which it is drawn, which sum shall be the amount named in said roll assessed against the property described in said certificate; the number of lot or lots, block or description of the property, upon which said sum of money is a lien; the name of the person, if any, mentioned in said roll as being the owner of the same, and that such sum of money is a tax against the owner of and lien upon the property therein described; the date of its issuance, which date shall be the day on which the first installment becomes due; the date of the resolution authorizing the construction of the improvements, and that it is issued by virtue of section 23a et seq., of the charter of the City of Houston. Such certificate shall be issued in series, and numbered, and each shall show that the amount therein named is payable in annual installments, the date when the first installment becomes due, and that one of each of the remaining installments becomes due on the same day of each year thereafter until all are due: that the entire amount of principal at any time unpaid bears interest from date of certificates, at the rate of eight per cent per annum until maturity; and that each installment of principal will bear interest at the rate of ten per cent after the maturity of the same, and that failure to pay any installment of principal and interest when due, within sixty days after suit shall have been instituted on the same, together with the costs of such suit, shall at the option of the legal holder of such certificates, cause all subsequent installments of principal and interest to mature and become due, and shall authorize the foreclosure of the lien for all installments of principal and interest unpaid. There may be attached to said certificates as many coupons as there are installments of principal and interest provided for in the same, each of which coupons shall show the date of such certificate, and its number and series, the day when such coupon is due, the amount of the principal and interest represented by the same, and the same when delivered to the contractor or person authorized by him, or otherwise authorized to receive the same, shall be assignable by endorsement and delivery in the same manner as negotiable instruments. Should the owner of any tract of land described in such certificate fail to pay the amount shown by said certificate to be due thereon for the special tax therein provided for, when such certificate becomes due or when any installment provided for in the same becomes due, the owner of such certificate may institute suit for the enforcement of the tax and the foreclosure of the lien therein provided for, in any court having jurisdiction. And where the owners of [or] any of them are unknown, whether so stated in the certificate or not, the holder of the certificate may bring his action against them, describing them as unknown owners of the tract of land involved, designating it; and if the plaintiff, his agent or attorney shall at the time of commencing the suit, or at any time during its progress, make oath that the owners of such tract of land or some part of it, are unknown to him, and that he has named in his petition all who are known to him, the clerk shall issue a citation for such unknown owners, addressed to the sheriff or any constable of the county in which the suit is pending, which citation shall be published once in each week, for four successive weeks previous to the return day thereof; shall contain a brief statement of the cause of action, and have the requisites prescribed by article 1443 of the Revised Statutes of Texas; and such citation shall be served by publication and returned in like manner and with like effect, as in ordinary cases of citation by publication, under the provisions of the general law relating thereto.

That section 23g shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23g. At any time after the passage of one or more resolutions relating to street, sidewalk, sewerage, or drainage improvements of the character referred to in section 23a of this act, and before the advertisement for bids in reference thereto, shall be made, it shall be proper for the city council, at any regular meeting thereof, and by a two-thirds vote of all the aldermen elected to pass an ordinance providing for the issuance of street improvement bonds. Said ordinance shall refer to and identify said resolution or resolutions by caption and date of passage, and shall name the estimated cost of the improvements therein provided for, as determined by the city engineer, and shall authorize the mayor to have prepared and engraved, improvement bonds of the City of Houston in denominations of $1000 each or in any less sum in the discretion of the city council as may be determined on, amounting in the aggregate to the highest estimate of the city engineer. Said bonds shall run for ten years, but shall be subject to call and retirement, by the city by serial number at any time before maturity. Said bonds shall bear interest not exceeding six per cent per annum and funds for the payment of the same shall be wholly raised by special tax assessments levied on the property affected by said resolution or resolutions as provided for in section 23a et seq., of the charter of said city relative to street curbing, sewerage and drainage improvements, nor shall any general ad valorem tax ever be levied by said city for the payment of the same, and it shall be so stated on the face of said bonds unless the issuance of said bonds and levy of such ad valorem tax be authorized by the vote of the tax payers of said city in accordance with the provisions of section 41 of the charter of said city. When such bonds are issued and sold for cash, bids for the construction of the work embraced in said resolution or resolutions shall be solicited for payment to be made for the work in cash. Said bonds herein provided for shall in no event be sold for less than par, and not more than $150,000 of said bonds shall be issued in any current year. The proceeds of the sale of said bonds shall be deposited as sold in a bank selected by the city council as a depository, and all funds placed in said depository shall be subject to the draft of the city treasurer only when countersigned by the mayor, and a majority of the members of the finance committee. When such improvement bonds are issued and sold, it shall not be necessary to issue improvement certificates, as hereinbefore provided for, but said special tax assessment may be collected directly from the rolls of ownership as the same become due, by the city assessor and collector, and it shall be lawful for suits to be brought in the name of the city to enforce the collection of the same; provided, however, that in the event of such bonds being issued, said assessments shall not bear an increased rate of interest after maturity; and provided further, that under no circumstances whatsoever, shall it be lawful for said city assessor and collector, or said city council, to make any deduction of principal or remission of interest in favor of any person whomsoever. As the sums mentioned in said rolls, with interest thereon, as hereinbefore provided, are collected, the same shall be deposited in said depository, nor shall the proceeds of such special assessments be available for any other purpose whatsoever, than the payment of said bonds and interest thereon until the full liquidation of the same. It shall be competent for said city council, in its discretion, to provide by ordinance for the collection of said special assessments, by advertisement, and sales made directly by the city assessor and collector, from said rolls of ownership, in the same manner, as far as practicable, as in the case of general taxes levied by said city, and in such event all the provisions of said city charter, relative to the collection of taxes and proceedings had in reference to tax sales under the same, shall be applicable.

That section 23h shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23h. There shall be appointed by the mayor and confirmed by a majority of the votes of the city council, three citizens of Houston, who shall constitute a board of public works. They shall hold office for two years and until their successors are appointed, and shall act gratuitously. They shall be allowed the sum of five hundred dollars annually, or such portion of the same as they may require to cover expenses, if any, which they may incur in performing the duties of their office. It shall be their duty to prepare and recommend to the city council, comprehensive plans for sidewalks, street, sewerage and drainage improvements, including the material to be used, and all other matters pertaining to the construction of such improvements. All matters involving an outlay of as much as five hundred dollars, pertaining to any improvement of the character hereinbefore mentioned, shall be first referred to them, and an interval of not less than ten days after such reference is formally made by the city council, shall be allowed them in which to report upon the same to the said council, and it shall be their duty to examine, pass upon, and report to the council, all plans and specifications relating to said improvements, before the same are finally approved by the city council. They shall also pass upon all bids received on matters relating to said improvements and recommend such action in reference to the same to the city council, as they may deem expedient. They shall also examine and pass upon all public works constructed for the city, where the contract exceeds five hundred dollars, and such work shall not be accepted by the city until their report in reference to the same shall have been laid before the city council, or until after the expiration of ten days from the time when the matter shall have been referred to them.

That section 23i shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23i. The city council shall have authority, by resolution duly passed, to order the filling up of holes and depressions in which water has become or may be liable to become stagnant on private property, or the construction of ditches and culverts for the drainage of the same; also to order the cutting of weeds and high grass on private property, and in that portion of streets and highways between the lot lines and the lines of the curb walls; and also generally to order the doing of any work of a sanitary character on any tract of land within the corporate limits of said city; also to order the construction and repairing of sidewalks and curbwalls; and it may be provided in the resolution directing and ordering the work of the character enumerated above, to be done, that the same shall be completed within a certain time to be named therein. On the passage of any resolution of the character above provided for in this section, the same shall be published for not less than four days in some daily newspaper published in the City of Houston; and it shall thereupon be the duty of the owner or owners of the lot or tract of land on which work of the character mentioned in such resolution is ordered to be done, or the owner or owners of the lot or tract of land when not divided into lots, abutting upon the street at the place where the repairing or construction of sidewalks or curbwalls is ordered, to comply with the directions and orders contained in such resolution, and perform or cause to be performed on such premises or adjacent to the same, the work therein directed to be done, within the period prescribed in said resolution to the satisfaction of the city engineer, or such other officials as may be provided for by the ordinances of said city, in accordance with such instructions, as may on application be given by such official, when all needful instructions shall not be contained in the resolution itself. And should any said property owner fail or neglect to comply with the requirements of such resolutions before the lapse of the period therein prescribed, within thirty days after his or her attention shall have been called to said resolution, by any officer of the city, by mail or otherwise, or within thirty days after the lapse of said period to be prescribed in the said resolution, and after the publication of the same when such owner or his residence is unknown to the mayor, then the mayor may order the work to be done by some official of the city, who shall keep a correct account of the cost of the same and the cost and expense of doing such work, when done by the city, together with ten per cent in addition thereto as a penalty, shall be a tax and charge against the person or persons owning the lot or tract of land on which such work may be done, or abutting upon the street or highway at the place where such work is done, and a lien and encumbrance upon the land itself, and such tax and charge against said property owner shall be due on completion of the work and shall be collected promptly by the city assessor and collector, and if not paid within thirty days thereafter, after becoming due, the same may be collected with ten per cent in addition thereto as attorneys fees, and eight per cent interest per annum and the lien foreclosed in any court having jurisdiction. An itemized bill or statement of the cost of the work when done by the city under the provisions of this section, after being duly sworn to by the officer under whose direction the work has been done, and after being approved by the mayor, shall be prima facie evidence in any court, of the performance of the work stated in such bill, at the cost therein stated, and compliance with all the provisions of this act, and that the amount stated is a just charge and tax against the property owner therein named, and a lien upon the property, described, as shown therein, subject to such correction as to such court shall seem meet and proper.

That section 23j shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23j. The city council is hereby authorized and empowered to take and condemn land and real estate within the corporate limits of said city to the public use for streets, alleys and highways, and for extending, straightening and widening the same; and for public wharves and landing places for steamers or other crafts; for public schools and for public squares, parks and pleasure grounds. For the condemnation of any land or real estate, the following proceedings shall be had: The city council shall pass a resolution describing by metes and bounds the land to be condemned, stating for what public purpose it is intended to be used, and thereupon the provisions contained in articles 4183 to 4205a, inclusive, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, A. D. 1879, relating to the condemnation of lands by railway companies, shall regulate and control the proceedings had and taken by said city for condemnation purposes so far as applicable.

Section 23k. That said city council are hereby authorized and it is hereby declared to be their duty in all cases where special tax assessments for public improvements or improvement certificates issued in payment for the same, which may be declared void by any court of last resort, by reason of the want of power or authority to make or issue the same, or by reason of non compliance with any of the provisions of the charter of said city existing at the time, whether of a jurisdictional character or otherwise, at any time thereafter, to reassess and relevy the amount of such assessment or taxes so declared void, and to collect and authorize the collection of the same in the same manner as though such assessment or certificate had been originally valid: The reassessment or relevy of any general tax or special assessment may be made directly by the city council, or in such mode as to them may seem meet and proper, nor shall any person whomsoever be heard to complain of the manner and form of such reassessment or of the result thereof unless he can show substantial injury to himself therefrom occurring, and in such event only to the extent of the injury or loss shown, and the provisions of this section and of the next preceding section of this act from section 23a to section 23j inclusive shall be liberally construed in favor of said city, or in favor of the contractor doing the work, or person holding under him, to the end that in all cases the payment of both general taxes and special tax assessment may be rigidly and impartially enforced; provided, that this act shall not vaudate any certificate heretofore issued, nor shall such certificate be reissued, nor shall any roll of ownership ever be approved for improvements made prior to this act, except contracts now pending.

That section 23l shall be inserted and read as follows:

Section 23l. If the purchaser at any tax sale or at any sale under proceedings had to foreclose a tax lien on property sold in the City of Houston for non payment for general taxes, or special tax assessments by said city, shall fail to acquire a valid title to the property so purchased by him, by reason of any irregularity or defect, in the assessment or levy, or for any other reason whatsoever whether of a jurisdictional character or otherwise, such purchaser shall nevertheless have a lien on the property so purchased for the taxes which would have been due on the same, had all proceedings in reference thereto been legal and regular, together with all costs connected therewith; also for all taxes both general and special, by him subsequently paid on said property, with interest on all of such sums, at the rate of eight per cent per annum and he shall be entitled to judgment for such amounts and for the enforcement of the lien against the owner of said property in the same action wherein the invalidity of said tax sale, or the sale under foreclosure of the tax lien, is declared void, together with his costs incurred in such action.

That section 23m shall be inserted and read as follows:

Section 23m. The city shall have power to enforce the observance of ordinances adopted by the city council either by imposition of penalties, to be collected by civil proceedings, in suits brought by the city or by fine and imprisonment, as may be deemed most expedient; provided, however, that no penalty, imposed for the violation of any ordinance, shall exceed the sum of one hundred dollars, and there shall be only one recovery had for all acts committed previous to the institution of a suit for the recovery of such penalties; and any person or corporation violating an ordinance of the City of Houston, to enforce the observance of which a penalty may have been imposed in lieu of a fine, shall be liable to the city in a civil suit brought for the amount of such penalty in either of the Justice courts of Precinct No. 1 in Harris county, Texas. The city council shall have power and authority to secure the safety and convenience of passing in the streets, sidewalks and other places in the city; to fix the squaring, and to prevent encroachments and obstructions on the streets, sidewalks, squares, ways, levees and public roads and places; to fix the place for anchoring of water craft on Buffalo Bayou; to establish an active system of inspection over the conduct of persons and premises; to prevent cattle, horses, swine, goats, geese and animals from running at large in the streets or within such prescribed limits as may be established by the city council; to establish and maintain a city police, prescribe the duties of policemen, and regulate their conduct; to provide for lighting the streets by gas, electricity or other means, and for this purpose may establish gas works or electric works, for the manufacture of gas or electricity for the use of the city and inhabitants thereof at cost price; to determine in what part of the city slaughter houses, bone boilers, soap makers or other establishments of any business which is or may be injurious to the value of adjacent property, or unwholesome or disagreeable to the occupants of adjacent property, shall not be allowed to be carried on or to be erected and to regulate the same, and provide for the removal of such establishments; to determine in what part of the city wooden buildings shall not be erected; within the limits prescribed no person shall be permitted to erect such buildings; to prevent gunpowder or other explosive material, kerosene oil or other inflammable oils, being stored within the city limits, in such quantity as to endanger the safety of adjacent property; to provide means for the protection against and extinguishment of conflagrations and for the regulation, maintenance and support of a fire department; to permit or forbid theatres, balls or other public amusements, and to suppress the same whenever the preservation of order, tranquility or public safety may require; to close dram shops, drinking saloons and other places where intoxicating liquors are sold and variety theatres whenever necessary or expedient; to define what shall be a nuisance in said city and to abate them by summary proceedings; to prohibit the burial of the dead within city limits and to regulate such burial when allowed; to prohibit and punish keepers and inmates of bawdy houses and variety shows and to segregate and regulate the same and determine such inmates and keepers to be vagrants and prescribe the punishment of such persons; to provide a workhouse for vagrants and disorderly persons, who are unable to pay fines and to make regulations concerning the same; to regulate weights and measures, fix standards of weight and measure and to fix penalties for not using the same; to provide and keep a city prison; to make all needful and proper regulations concerning bakers, butchers, keepers of taverns, grog shops and other public houses; draymen, horse drivers, water carriers, omnibus drivers, hack drivers and drivers of baggage wagons and especially to preserve order and prevent noise and confusion in and about the several depots on the arrival and departure of railway trains; to prevent extortion by carriers of passengers or baggage, hacks, dray and all public conveyances by establishing maximum rates of charges; to suppress gambling houses, and to punish keepers of gambling houses and all persons who play at cards or games of any kind and to punish persons who sell lottery tickets, or who advertise lottery drawings or schemes and the result of the drawing of lotteries; to direct and control the laying and construction of railroad tracks, turnouts and switches, and that they be required to be constructed and laid out so as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of the streets; to require railway companies to keep the streets through which they run in repair, and to light the same whenever deemed necessary; to construct and keep in repair bridges and crossings at the intersection of streets and avenues, and over all ditches, sewers and culverts on the line of the railways; to regulate the speed of engines and locomotives within the city; and generally, to make and establish all rules, regulations, by-laws and ordinances which may contribute to and promote the better administration of the officers of the said city, as well as for the maintenance of the peace, tranquility and safety of said city, and for the protection of the persons and property of its inhabitants. The city council shall also have authority to pass ordinances authorizing the destroying of clothing, bedding, furniture and buildings infested with the germs of any contagious or infectious disease when in the opinion of the city health officer the public health requires the destruction of the same, and may also in the same manner authorize the destruction or removal of buildings or other objects after the same shall have been declared a nuisance by the city council; provided the city shall pay the value of such property to the owners thereof before destroying the same.

That section 23n shall be inserted and read as follows:

Section 23n. No person shall erect any building or fence in the city without first obtaining a permit from the mayor and having the lines of his property established by the city engineer; provided that fences may be constructed on interior lines without such permit, and the lines of property not subdivided into lots or blocks may be established and fences built thereon without such permit; but all permits for building houses or fences shall be issued by the mayor and city engineer free of charges. The city council may provide, own and maintain waterworks for the use of the city and inhabitants.

That section 23o be inserted and read as follows,;

Section 23o. It shall be the duty of the mayor, at the last meeting of the city council held in December of each and every year to present to the city council a message containing a statement of the financial condition of the city, including an itemized estimate of the cost of maintaining the various departments of the city government, for such ensuing year, and the sums of money which, in his opinion should be appropriated for the maintenance of such respective department, together with his recommendation in regard to such appropriations, and in regard to the per centage of taxation, and amount of occupation tax necessary to be levied for such ensuing year. It shall be the duty of the city council at its first meeting in January of each and every year to appropriate such sums of money, respectively for each of the various departments of the city government as said council shall deem necessary for the proper maintenance of the same during the current year. Such current year shall be deemed to begin on the first day of January previous to such meeting, and to end on the thirty-first day of December next thereafter. Said council at said meeting shall accordingly appropriate a certain sum of money for the use of each of the following departments of said city government, to-wit: Public school department, police department, fire department, street department, bridge department, public health department, salaries of officials not included in appropriations for the foregoing departments, public lights, waterworks and such other departments as it may be deemed proper to mention, together with an appropriation for the sum deemed necessary to cover all miscellaneous expenses not mentioned under the head of any special department; and it shall be the duty of the city secretary to keep a separate account with each of such departments, and he shall be prepared at every regular meeting of the city council, to give information as to the amount expended, and the balance remaining to the credit of any department, and no draft shall be drawn upon, or paid by the city treasurer, unless the same shows on its face to which of said departments the sum of money named in the same should be charged.

Sec. 2. That all laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed. And there being no adequate law now in force to enable the city of Houston to improve its streets creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and also that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 21 yeas and no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 74 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the first day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. CHAP. 17.—[H. B. No. 500.] An act to amend an act entitled "an act to grant a new charter to the City of El Paso," approved March 2nd, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the following sections of the act of the Legislature entitled an act to grant a new charter to the city of El Paso, approved March 2nd, 1889, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 7. The qualified electors of said city shall elect the following named officers thereof: The mayor, two aldermen from each ward, a recorder, a treasurer, a city assessor and collector, and a city engineer, each of whom shall hold his office for two years and until the election and qualification of his successor. That on the second Tuesday in April of each and every year ending in an even number there shall be elected one alderman from each ward, a recorder, a treasurer, a city assessor and collector, and a city engineer, and that on the second Tuesday in April in each and every year ending in an odd number, the qualified electors of said city shall elect the following named officers: the mayor and one alderman from each ward, each of whom shall hold his office for two years and until the election and qualification of his successor.

Section 9. The city council shall by ordinance prescribe the mode and manner of proclaiming, holding and conducting elections, but should the city council from any cause fail to do so then said election shall be called by the proclamation of the mayor thirty days prior thereto, and the said election shall be holden, conducted and returns made as prescribed by the State law.

Section 13. On the third Tuesday of April, A. D. 1893, and on the third Tuesday in April in each and every year thereafter ending in an odd number, the city council shall elect, by ballot, the following named officers, who shall hold their offices for two years and until the election and qualification of their successors; A city clerk, a city attorney and such other officers and agents, other than policemen, as the corporate necessities may require; provided, that when the population of the city shall reach twenty-five thousand, the office of assessor and collector of taxes may be divided, and there shall be elected an assessor of taxes and a collector of taxes, whose duties, powers and compensation, respectively, shall be fixed by the city council, as provided in this act. Every person elected to office by the city council, or appointed by the mayor shall, within twenty days thereafter, qualify and enter upon the discharge of his duties, and in default thereof, the city council, shall declare the office vacant and proceed to fill the same by a new election. And there shall be a chief of police appointed by the mayor, by and with the consent of the board of aldermen, whose term of office shall expire with that of the mayor appointing him. The mayor shall also by and with the consent of the board of aldermen, appoint all police officers.

Section 15. When a vacancy shall occur in any office the city council shall have power to fill the same by appointment, and the person so appointed shall hold his office until the next ensuing municipal election, if said office be an elective office, but if said office be one within the appointive power of the city council, then the person so appointed, shall hold his office for the unexpired term; provided, that whenever a vacancy shall occur by resignation, or otherwise, in the municipal offices of the city, so that such vacancies can not be filled under the charter of the city, or under the laws of the State in force at the time of such vacancy or vacancies, then in that event, it shall be the duty of any judge of a court of record of El Paso county, upon the petition of not less than fifty of the principal taxpayers, citizens of the city, at once to order an election to fill such vacancy, giving notice of not less than ten days in the usual manner provided for such elections. During the temporary absence or disability of any officer, the city council shall elect some suitable person to discharge the duties of the absent or disabled officer until his return or the removal of his disabilities.

Section 25. It shall be the duty of the city clerk to attend every meeting of the council and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof, in a book to be provided for that purpose, and to engross and enroll all laws, resolutions and ordinances of the city council, to keep the corporate seal; to take charge of and preserve and keep in order all the books, papers, records, documents, and files of said council; to countersign all commissions issued to the city officers and licenses issued by the mayor and to keep a record or register thereof, and to make out all notices required under any regulation or ordinance of the city. He shall draw all warrants on the treasurer and countersign the same and keep an accurate account thereof in a book provided for that purpose. He shall be the general accountant of the city, and shall keep in books regular accounts of the receipts and disbursements for the city, and separately under proper heads each cause of receipts and disbursements, and also accounts with each person, including officers, who have money transactions with the city, crediting amounts allowed by proper authority and specifying the particular transaction to which such entries apply. He shall also keep a register of bonds and bills issued by the city, and all evidences of debt due and payable to it, noting the particulars thereof, and all facts connected therewith as they occur. He shall carefully keep all contracts made by the city council, and he shall do and perform all such other duties as may be required of him by law, ordinance, resolution or order of the city council. He shall receive for his services an annual salary, payable at stated periods, to be fixed by the city council. The said clerk shall be authorized to administer oaths, and shall be entitled, in addition to his salary, to charge a fee of twenty-five cents for each oath administered to persons other than the officers and agents of said city.

Section 62. To prevent the encumbering of the streets, alleys, sidewalks and public grounds with carriages, wagons, carts, hacks, buggies or vehicles of whatsoever kind, boxes, lumber, timber, firewood, posts, awnings, signs, or any other substance or material whatsoever, or in any other manner whatsoever to compel all persons to keep all weeds, filth and any kind [of] rubbish from the sidewalks, streets, alleys, gutters in front or on the side, or in the rear of the premises owned or occupied by them; to require and compel the owners of property to fill up, gravel, level and otherwise improve the sidewalks and alleys in front and in the rear, or adjoining their property; and to inspect the construction of buildings, to cause unsafe buildings to be made safe or to be removed, and to prohibit the use of material deemed unsafe.

Sec. 2. This act shall be deemed a public act, and the courts shall take judicial notice hereof at all times and places.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the session, and the fact that it is desirable that this act go into effect as soon as possible, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 78 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 21 yeas and 1 nay.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the first day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

BOWERS AND PINEY CREEK RAILWAY COMPANY—CHARTER RESCINDED.

- Sec. 1. Revokes and annuls charter of said company.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 18.—[H. B. No. 333.] An act to rescind and annul the charter and dissolve the corporation known as the Bowers and Piney Creek Railway Company, and to exempt said company from all further duties and obligations thereunder.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the corporation heretofore known as the Bowers and Piney Creek Railway Company, which was duly organized under the laws of the State of Texas, and whose charter was approved and filed in the office of the Secretary of State of said State on the 28th day of March, A. D. 1889, and whose principal office is at Bowers, in Polk county in said State, be and the same is hereby dissolved, and upon the passage of this act, shall become and be defunct and cease to have or exercise any of the rights, privileges or franchises in said charter granted; and that said charter is hereby revoked and annulled, and from and after the time when this act shall take effect, said company is discharged and shall be exempt from all duties and obligations thereunder; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to exempt said company from any liability heretofore incurred by it, under said charter, or that may be so incurred prior to the time when this act shall take effect.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session, and the great number of bills requiring the consideration of both houses of the Legislature, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the first day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. CHAP. 19.—[H. B. No. 456.] An act to authorize the Galveston and Western Railway Company to acquire the property and franchises of the Galveston Air Line Railway Company; to own wharves and elevators, and to consolidate with other railway companies in this State.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Galveston and Western Railway Company, a corporation created under and by the laws of this State, shall, whenever authorized so to do, by a vote of the owners of three-fourths of its stock, have the right and be empowered to acquire, hold, own, occupy, use and enjoy all the rights, privileges, franchises, and property of the Galveston Air Line Railway Company, with the further right to buy, construct, own, use and enjoy such wharves, elevators and warehouses in the city of Galveston, as are necessary to carry on the business of said railway as consolidated; and to own and use such real estate as may be necessary therefor.

Sec. 2. That said Galveston and Western Railway Company shall also have the right to consolidate its stock, property and franchises with those of any other railroad company or railroad companies chartered under or by the laws of this State; provided, such railroad company or railroad companies do not own or control a parallel or competing line.

Sec. 3. That said railway company and all railroads with which it may be consolidated shall be subject to all laws of this State, now in force and hereafter to be enacted, and all wharves and elevators erected, owned or operated thereby shall be subject to the control of and regulation of its fees and charges by the railroad commission of Texas, under the rules that may be prescribed by said commission, and by the laws of Texas now existing or hereafter enacted by the Legislature.

Sec. 4. The fact that the accumulation of business and the near approach to the end of the session, and the further fact that private bills can only be considered under the rules of the house one day in each week, renders it doubtful if this bill can be reached on the calendar and read on three several days, which creates an emergency that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the first day of April, A. J. A. BELVIN—ACT FOR RELIEF OF.

Preamble.

- Sec. 1. Treasurer to credit note of J. A. Belvin.
 2. Patent to issue upon payment of note.
 3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 20.—[H. B. No. 584.] An act for the relief of J. A. Belvin.

Whereas, on the fourth day of March, 1881, J. A. Belvin filed and settled on the N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 44, cert. $\frac{1}{7}$ H. & T. B. Ry Co. situated in Brown county, Texas, which was sold by the State to him for \$160.00, and in compliance with law, he made the first payment of \$16.00 to the county surveyor who was to have forwarded the same to the General Land Office with the application.

And whereas through the negligence of the county surveyor, said file and application was never perfected on account of a mistake in the field notes, and the same was never entered in the Land Office.

And whereas, in 1882, the new county surveyor of said county refused to correct the field notes so made by the first surveyor, but caused and required a new file to be made on the land by the said J. A. Belvin who had gone on the land and in good faith, made valuable and permanent improvements thereon.

And whereas by the refusal of the new county surveyor to correct the field notes within the time required by law, and by requiring the said J.

A. Belvin to refile on said land, he was, by the law of 1881, required to pay to the State the value of his improvements, to wit: $103.00, which amount is included in his note to the State for the balance of the purchase money; that said note is dated March 6th, 1882, therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the State Treasurer shall and is hereby authorized to credit the note of the said J. A. Belvin of date March 6th, 1882, executed in payment of said N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 44 cert. $\frac{1}{4}$ H. T. & B. Ry Co. situated in Brown county, Texas, with the value of the improvements so made by him and included in said note, to wit: the sum of \$103.00 together with all interest accrued on said amount from the date of said note; and when said credit is made, the Treasurer shall mark said note satisfied, upon the payment by him of the balance of principal and interest due thereon.

Sec. 2. Upon the payment of said note as provided in section one of this act, the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall and he is hereby authorized to issue patent to the said J. A. Belvin for the land described in section one of this act, upon the payment of the patent fee.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be, and the same is hereby suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 84 yeas and no nays; and passed the Senate—vote not given.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the first day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

ANDREA CASTANON DE VILLANUEVA, KNOWN AS MADAM CANDELARIA—ACT FOR RELIEF OF.

Preamble.

- Sec. 1. Pension of $150 per year.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 21.—[H. B. No. 404.] An act for the relief of Andrea Castanon de Villanueva, otherwise known as Madame Candelaria.

Whereas, the State under its pension law recognizes and rewards the services of the men who aided the cause of Texas in its struggle for independence, and makes no provision for the reward of females who may have rendered good and efficient service to the cause; and, whereas Mrs. Andrea Castanon de Villanueva, alias "Madam Candelaria," did render efficient service to said cause as nurse to the sick during the siege of the Alamo, in the year 1836, and did contribute to the support, security and comfort of many Americans, during said struggle, and is now old, in indigent circumstances, and unable to provide for herself; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the name of Andrea Castanon de Villanueva be placed on the pension roll of this State in recognition of and as a reward for the service rendered by her as nurse to the sick during the siege of the Alamo, at the rate of one hundred and fifty dollars per year.

Sec. 2. The fact that the beneficiary under this act is 107 years of age, feeble and in absolute want without any means of subsistence, and is likely to die in a very short while without having been required for her generous and meritorious services to the American troops in their efforts to achieve Texas independence, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 72 yeas and 5 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 21 yeas and 9 nays.]

Approved April 13, 1891.

CHAP. 22.—[H. B. No. 636.] An act to incorporate the City of Austin, to grant it a new charter, and to extend its boundaries.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the inhabitants of the City of Austin, in Travis county and State of Texas, residing within the territory herein described, shall continue to be and are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate by the name and style of the City of Austin, and by that name shall have perpetual succession, and shall have all the rights, property, real, personal and mixed, immunities, powers, privileges, and franchises now possessed or enjoyed by said city or herein granted and be subject to all its preest liabilities, and may have a common seal, and alter the same at pleasure; and may sue or be sued, plead or be impleaded, in all courts of law and equity; may contract and be contracted with; may take, hold and convey, lease or acquire or dispose of any property whatever for corporation purposes within the city limits.

Sec. 2. That the boundaries of the city shall be as follows: Beginning on the bank of the Colorado river at the southwest corner of outlet No. 64, in division O, thence northerly in a straight line to the northwest corner of outlet No. 16, in division C, being the northeast corner of the Wells tract of land, northeast of the old Fair Grounds tract, thence northwesterly with the northeast line of said Wells tract and the State Lunatic Asylum grounds and the north boundary line of outlet 83, in division D, to the northwest corner of outlet 83, division D, thence southwesterly in a straight line to within ten varas of the Colorado river's ordinary water level (after completion of the dam now being constructed) due west of Cypress Springs, as said level has been determined by a line surveyed and marked under direction of the city authorities; thence up the east bank of the Colorado river within ten varas of said line so surveyed twenty-one miles by following the river; thence across said river at right angles a distance of ten varas from said water level line surveyed and marked on the west side of said river; thence down the Colorado river within ten varas of said surveyed line to a point 1440 varas above the upstream face of the said proposed dam now being constructed; thence north 75 degrees west 1152 varas; thence due south 1555 varas; thence north 87 degrees and 30 minutes east 556 varas more or less to the Colorado river one hundred yards below the lower part of the site of said dam; thence down the west bank of the Colorado river with its meanders to the mouth of Barton's creek; thence up Barton's creek on the west side thereof to a point due west of where the west line of the Isaac Decker league prolonged in its course northerly would intersect Barton's creek; thence easterly across Barton's creek to the western boundary line of said Decker league; thence southwesterly with the western boundary line of said Decker league, to the southwest corner of lot number thirty-four, in Bradley's subdivision of the Goodrich estate on said Decker league, being also the northwest corner of the D. P. Kinney tract on said Decker league; thence to the southwest corner of the H. J. Doughty tract on said Isaac Decker league; thence easterly in a straight line to the northeast corner of Mrs. E. V. Blum's 213 acre tract, being the southeast corner of the subdivision known as Southside; thence in a northerly direction with the east boundary line of said subdivision and the east boundary line of the Jno. D. McCall and D. C. Stone tracts to the centre of the channel of the Colorado river; thence down said river in a straight line to the place of beginning.

Sec. 3. That the city of Austin shall be divided into not exceeding eleven wards. The boundaries of the wards shall be fixed by the city council as soon as this act takes effect, and may be changed from time to time as the city council may see proper, having regard to the number of male inhabitants, so that each shall contain as nearly as may be, the same number; provided, that after the first general election under this act, no change in wards or boundaries thereof shall be made within six months next preceding a general election to be held in said city.

Organization and Procedure of the City Council.

Sec. 4. That the city council shall consist of a mayor and a board of aldermen who shall hold their office for two years from their installment, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Sec. 5. That the board of aldermen shall consist of two members from each ward, who shall be residents thereof, to be chosen by the qualified voters of their respective wards.

Sec. 6. That there shall be an election held on the first Monday in December of each year to fill all vacancies occurring or to occur in the city council from the expiration of terms of office.

Sec. 7. That no person shall be a member of the city council unless he be a citizen of the State of Texas, and shall have resided within the city limits for six months next preceding his election, and shall have been a bona fide resident of the ward from which he is elected for at least thirty days preceding his election.

Sec. 8. That if any alderman shall, after his election, remove from the ward from which he is chosen, his office shall thereupon become vacant.

Sec. 9. That the city council shall be the judge of the election and qualification of its members and shall determine contested elections of all city officers made elective under this act, in such manner as may be provided by ordinance; provided, that no alderman nor the mayor shall be allowed to qualify or re-qualify, if he succeeds himself in office until at a session of the city council, to be held on or after the Saturday next succeeding the election, which shall in all cases occur on Monday, unless his opponent in the election or all opponents, if more than one, shall sooner file a statement with the city clerk that he or they will not contest the election of his or their opponents, naming him. If prior to the time for installing such newly elected mayor or aldermen, a contest of his election is filed in writing with the city clerk, stating the grounds for the contest, he shall not be installed until such contest is determined, nor shall the council elect the other city officers until such contests are determined; provided, that all contested elections shall be decided within fifteen days from the date of the election.

Sec. 10. That the majority of the city council shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a small number may adjourn from day to day and may compel the attendance of absent members by arrest or in such manner and under such further penalties as they may prescribe.

Sec. 11. That the city council may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for a wilful violation of its rules or other disorderly behavior, and with the consent of two-thirds of the members elected, expel an alderman, but not a second time for the same offense.

Sec. 12. That the city council shall keep a journal of its proceedings and, whenever practicable, publish the same, or a synopsis thereof, in some newspaper published in the city; and the yeas and nays of the members on any question shall, at the desire of any alderman present be entered on the journal.

Sec. 13. That upon the passage of all ordinances appropriating money, imposing taxes, increasing, lessening or abolishing licenses, and of ordinances for borrowing money, the yeas and nays shall be entered in the journal, but no ordinance for borrowing money shall pass, except by a vote of two-thirds of the whole council.

Sec. 14. That all ordinances and resolutions of a general character shall be read in the council on three separate days, unless two-thirds of the council elected shall dispense therewith.

Sec. 15. That a majority of the members of the whole council shall be necessary to pass an ordinance for any purpose appropriating the sum of five hundred dollars or upwards, or for passing an ordinance in anywise diminishing or increasing the city revenues.

Sec. 16. That aldermen shall receive as their compensation the sum of five dollars for attending each regular meeting of the city council; provided, the sum shall not exceed the sum of ten dollars per month, but no alderman nor the mayor shall, during the term for which he is elected, hold or be eligible to any other office under the city, nor shall any other alderman during his term of office, be interested directly or indirectly in any contract or agreement for work to be done or material furnished, or services to be performed, for which the city is to pay a consideration, or in the purchase or sale of any property by the city for any purpose whatever, and for the violation of any part of section sixteen the penalty shall be expulsion from office on an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the whole board of aldermen.

Sec. 17. That all vacancies that shall occur on the board of aldermen, except by expiration of terms of office, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided for by ordinance. Each alderman shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take the oath prescribed by the constitution of the State of Texas, and that he will faithfully discharge the duties of his office.

Sec. 18. That at the first meeting of the city council after each general election, and after contest of election of aldermen, if any there be, are disposed of, the council shall elect one of their members president of the board of alderman, who shall hold his office for one year from the date of his election and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Sec. 19. That the president of the board of aldermen, in case of the absence of the mayor from a session of the council, [shall] act as presiding officer of the council.

Sec. 20. That in case of the death, resignation or inability to act, or absence of the mayor from the city, the president of the council shall perform all the duties of mayor.

Sec. 21. That in the absence of the mayor and of the president of the council, any alderman may be elected by the members present to preside, who shall exercise all the rights of the president of the council in such cases.

Sec. 22. That the president of the board of aldermen shall vote only as an alderman.

Sec. 23. That there shall be stated sessions of the city council at least once in each month and such special meetings as the mayor or any five members of the council may deem necessary.

Sec. 24. That calls for special meeting shall state the nature of the business to be transacted at the meeting, and shall be read to each alderman to be found in the city or if an alderman is out of the city a copy thereof left at the place of business of such alderman as may not be seen in person by the policeman of the City of Austin serving the notice, who shall report in writing to the council, at the hour set for the meeting, whom he has served and how he has served such notices and the reason for not serving each alderman in person. If it shall appear that two-thirds of the aldermen have been served personally the council may proceed to transact the business mentioned in the call, as if all the aldermen had been personally notified of the meeting. The said notice and return of the officer shall be recorded in the minutes of the meeting of the council, and shall be evidence of the nature of the call and the service of the notice thereof.

Sec. 25. That all ordinances and resolutions of a general character adopted by the city council and all acts of the council authorizing or making any contract, grants or concessions, whether such act be had or passed in response to petition or proposition or in any manner whatsoever, and irrespective of the form of such act, shall be subject to the veto of the mayor.

Sec. 26. That the mayor may veto any one or more of the items in an appropriation ordinance, and approve the remainder.

Sec. 27. That all ordinances, resolutions and acts of the council together with such papers as may pertain thereto, shall be placed in the office of the city clerk, and if the mayor approve thereof he shall endorse the same "approved," and sign his name to such endorsement, and thereupon such ordinances, resolutions and acts shall go into effect.

Sec. 28. That if the mayor shall fail to approve any such ordinance, resolution or act for a longer period than ten days after it shall be placed in the clerk's office, it shall go into effect unless he shall have within the said period signified his disapproval thereof, or of items of an appropriation ordinance, by written objections there filed with the city clerk for the consideration of the city council.

Sec. 29. That the vote by which any ordinance, resolution or act so disapproved by the mayor was passed, shall be reconsidered by the city council either at the next regular meeting thereof held after such disapproval is filed in the clerk's office, or at any special meeting called earlier for that purpose, and if after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the aldermen elected agree to pass such ordinance, resolution or act or items of an appropriation ordinance, it shall be in force, but not otherwise.

Sec. 30. That the style of the ordinances of the city shall be: "Be it ordained by the city council of the City of Austin."

Sec. 31. That every ordinance imposing a penalty, fine, imprisonment or forfeiture for violation of its provisions shall, after the passage thereof be published in every issue of a daily paper published in said city for ten days and shall not take effect until such publication has been completed. The city clerk shall note on such ordinances as are required to be published, the fact that the same have been published as required by the charter, and the date of such publication, which shall be prima facie evidence of such publication; provided, that the provision of this section shall not apply to such revision and codification of the ordinances of the city as the council may from time to time adopt.

Sec. 32. All other ordinances and resolutions shall take effect on being approved by the mayor or on the termination of the time allowed for vetoing ordinances without being vetoed unless another time for taking effect be fixed by the ordinance or resolution.

Sec. 33. That in case of a tie vote by the council the mayor shall have the casting vote.

General Powers of the City Council.

Sec. 34. That the city council shall have the care, management and control of the city and its property and finances, except as may be herein otherwise specially provided for; and shall have the power to enact and ordain any and all ordinances not repugnant to the constitution and laws of the State, and such ordinances to alter, modify or repeal.

Taxation.

Sec. 35. That the city council share [shall] have power within the city by ordinance, to levy and collect annual taxes not exceeding for any and all purposes including the taxes levied for the support of the public schools, two and one-half per cent of the property values of said city, as follows:

1. An annual tax, not exceeding one per centum upon all property within the limits of the city, made taxable by law for State and county purposes, the money raised by said taxes to be used for the current expenses and for the general improvement of the city or its property. 2. To raise such further amount as may be necessary to pay interest and two per cent sinking fund annually on all valid bonded debt of the city. 3. To raise money on the credit of the city for a special and definite purpose, by issuing bonds of the city or otherwise; provided, the bonded debt of the city shall only be increased by a special act of the Legislature, or by consent of two-thirds of the qualified voters in said city who pay taxes on property, real or personal, in said city. All persons owning property, real or personal, subject to taxation in said city on the first day of January next preceeding any election that may be held to obtain such consent shall be deemed to be persons who pay taxes on property in said city. Such election shall be ordered by the city council and notice thereof shall be given for at least thirty days by the mayor in such manner as shall be prescribed by the city council; provided, that whatever power the city council may have possessed or acquired under the charter in force in said city prior to the passage of this act through any election held under said charter to increase the indebtedness of said city is hereby continued and perpetuated in said council, and may be exercised under this act with the same effect that such power might have been exercised under said charter if this act had not been passed, and to no further extent, and with no further force or effect under this act than might have been done without the passage of this act; provided further, that lands within the limits of the city which have not been laid off into blocks and lots shall not be assessed or taxed otherwise than by the acre, and shall continue to be so assessed and taxed until laid off into lots and blocks by the owners thereof respectively, and the owners of such lands in laying off the same into lots and blocks shall so arrange the streets that they shall correspond as near as practicable with previously established streets of the city.

Sec. 36. That all such bonds shall specify for what purpose they were issued. Provision shall be made to pay the interest, and not less than two per cent annually of the principal, to redeem or pay the bonds.

Sec. 37. That neither the money for which such bonds may be sold, nor the money raised to pay the interest and sinking fund thereof, shall be used to divert to any other purposes, and the city treasurer shall not honor any draft drawn on said interest and sinking fund except to pay the interest on said bonds or to redeem the same, except as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 38. That said sinking fund shall be invested whenever as much as one thousand dollars shall be accumulated, in interest bearing bonds of the United States or of the State of Texas or of the city of Austin.

Sec. 39. That the city council may and shall have full power to provide by ordinance for the prompt collection of all taxes levied, assessed, and due or becoming due to said city, and to that end may and shall enact all ordinances deemed necessary to the levying, imposing, assessing and collecting any of said taxes, and to regulate the mode and manner of making out tax lists and inventories and the appraisal of property thereon, and to prescribe the oath that shall be administered to each person on such rendition of property, and to prescribe when and how property shall be rendered and the taxes paid; and to fix the duties and define the powers of the assessor and collector of taxes.

Sec. 40. That all taxes due by property owners as appears upon the rolls of said city and upon rolls prepared and completed up to the first day of July, 1891, and not barred by the statutes of limitations, may be collected by suit from delinquents and foreclosure of the lien securing the same, in any court having jurisdiction; but no suit shall be brought for taxes assessed after the first day of July, 1891, except after the time set for sales of taxes as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 41. That the city council shall have full power and authority to provide by ordinance for the appointment of a board of equalization, and to regulate their duties, and to provide for notices to be given to taxpayers to appear before such board; and all the determinations of such board shall be final, unless an appeal is taken therefrom to the county court of Travis county, which may be done by any person, or the agent or attorney of any person, aggrieved at the action of the board, by giving notice in writing to said board of such appeal and the grounds thereof within five days after such board shall have concluded its labors and returned the tax lists to the office of the assessor and collector of taxes, and by giving a bond payable to the city, to be approved by the city assessor and collector, for the sum of fifty dollars, conditioned that said appellant will pay all the costs of such appeal if the action of the board of appraisers should be sustained by the county court, or if the valuation of the property of such appellant shall be raised above the amount at which it was assessed by said board of appraisers. A copy of such bond and such notice of appeal, and a description, made by the assessor and collector, of the property of the appellant involved therein shall be filed in said county court, and said case shall be docketed on the civil docket of said court in the name of appellant as plaintiff against the board of appraisers of the City of Austin, and all such appeals shall be prosecuted to the first term of the county court after the notice of appeal is given, and shall have precedence for trial of all civil cases in said court, and the decision of said county court in such matters shall be final. The lists of property and the values thereof as settled by the board of appraisers, or a copy thereof, or so much thereof as may be pertinent to the question at issue, may be produced in court to be used in such trials.

Sec. 42. That the city council shall have full power and authority to provide for seizure by the assessor and collector, and sale by him of any personal property for taxes due on personal property without the necessity of any writ, and such tax rolls shall be sufficient warrant for such seizure and sale by the assessor and collector of taxes; and to provide by ordinance, that any firm, corporation or person owning or controlling property in said city subject to a tax, and failing or refusing to render a list, inventory or appraisement thereof, verified by affidavit, shall be liable to a fine upon complaint to the recorder, in such sum as such ordinance may provide, not exceeding two hundred dollars.

Sec. 43. That the city council shall have full power and authority to pass all ordinances necessary to regulate advertisements and sales by the assessor and collector of property upon which taxes may be unpaid, and to provide for the perpetuation of all proceedings with reference to such advertisements and sales and for execution of title to purchasers of property at tax sales, and to pass all ordinances necessary to enforce the collection of taxes; provided, that such ordinances shall allow any person whose real property has been sold for taxes at least two years from the date of the collector's deed to redeem the same by paying double the amount paid for the same; provided, that the city shall not bid in any real property sold for taxes; provided further, that any such proceeding so perpetuated shall be received in evidence in any court when the title so conferred by the collector shall be called in question.

Sec. 44. That at any time after the day set for tax sales the city may institute suit for the amount of such taxes due on such property as may not have been sold, and may foreclose the lien existing for such taxes, and penalties that exist in favor of the city, at the date of such sale, and the decree ordering such sale shall be so framed as to permit the redemption of said land as provided by the constitution of this State in Article 8, Sec. 13.

Sec. 45. That all property, real, personal or mixed, and all moneys and credits within the city, subject to taxation by the laws of this State, shall be subject to taxation by said city against the person who owned the same on the first day of January of each year for which a tax is levied.

Sec. 46. That the city council shall have power to levy and collect an annual occupation tax on all occupations, callings and professions taxed by the State from time to time to the amount of one-half of the occupation tax levied by the State and shall have power to provide adequate means and penalties for enforcing collection of same.

Sec. 47. That the city council shall have the power to provide by ordinance for the assessing and levying of the taxes aforesaid, and to determine when taxes shall be paid.

Sec. 48. That no money shall be paid by the city upon any account whatever, to any person or corporation, who is in arrears to the city for taxes due.

Sec. 49. That all assessments made upon landed property shall be a special lien thereon; and all property both real and personal, belonging to any delinquent taxpayer, shall be liable to seizure and sale for the payment of the taxes due by such delinquent on said property and such property may be sold for the payment of the taxes due by such delinquent on the same, and no attempt to collect such taxes shall in any way waive or invalidate such lien.

Streets and Sewers.

Sec. 50. That the city council shall have the exclusive control and regulation of all streets, alleys, sidewalks and highways within the corporate limits of the city and shall have power: 1, to abate and remove encroachments thereon in summary manner; 2, to put drains and sewers therein, and, when necessary, to appropriate private property for that purpose, to be condemned according to the laws relating to condemnation of property by railroad corporations, the city occupying the place of the railroad corporations in such cases; 3, to permit and regulate the laying of gas and water mains therein, and the erection of telegraph and telephone and electric light poles therein; 4, to regulate, establish and change the grade of all sidewalks, streets and alleys, and to require and compel the cutting down or filling up and raising of such streets, sidewalks and alleys; 5, to construct, regulate, and keep in repair all culverts, sewers and crossings, and to control and regulate the use of the same; 6, to construct, regulate and keep in repair all necessary sidewalks and footways and streets; 7, to grade, cut down and fill up the same; 8, to regulate the use of the same, and abate and remove encroachments and obstructions thereon and to compel the removal of same; provided, that whenever the city council has once established a grade for any street, sidewalk, alley or park, and any owner of property abutting thereon has improved such property to conform to such grade, then the council shall not have authority to change such grade, except by consent of a majority of the owners by feet frontage of the property in front of which it is proposed to change such established grade.

Sec. 51. That the city council shall fix and determine the nature and extent of all sidewalks, streets, drainage and sewerage improvements and decide as to the kind of material to be used.

Sec. 52. That there may be appointed by the city council five citizens of Austin who shall constitute a board of street and sewer commissioners. They shall hold office until the next general election, and shall act gratuitously. The board shall be allowed, however, the sum of five hundred dollars annually, or such portion of the same as they may require to cover expenses, if any, which they may incur in performing the duties of their office.

Sec. 53. That it shall be their duty to prepare and recommend to the city council comprehensive plans for sidewalks, streets, sewers and drainage improvements, including the material to be used, and all other matters pertaining to the construction of the improvements.

Sec. 54. That all matters involving an outlay of as much as five hundred dollars pertaining to any improvement of the character above mentioned shall first be referred to them, and an interval of not less than ten days after such reference is formally made by the city council shall be allowed them in which to report upon the same to the said council; and it shall be their duty to examine, pass upon and report to the city council all plans and specifications relating to such improvements, before the same are finally approved by the city council.

Sec. 55. That they shall also pass upon all bids received on matters relating to said improvements, and recommend such action in reference to the same to the city council as they may deem expedient. They shall also examine and pass upon all street work for the city where the contract exceeds five hundred dollars; and such work shall not be accepted by the city council, until their report upon the same has been made to the city council, or until after the expiration of fifteen days from the time when the matter shall have been referred to them.

Miscellaneous Powers of the City Council.

Sec. 56. That the city council shall elect, on the nomination of the mayor or any alderman, all officers of the city, except the mayor, aldermen and board of school trustees. The election of said officers of the city, to be elected by the council shall be at the first regular meeting or at any called meeting for that purpose after the general election of the mayor, or at any time thereafter; provided no election of officers by the council shall occur until after the time for filing contests for elections of aldermen, as provided for in this act, shall have expired, or until contests have been waived, as provided for in this act, and not until after the termination of any contest of election of aldermen.

Sec. 57. That the city council shall have power by ordinance:

1. To make regulations to prevent the introduction or spreading of any contagious disease within the city; to make quarantine ordinances for that purpose, and to enforce them within the city and within ten miles thereof, and to enforce vaccination, and to establish hospitals and make regulations for the government thereof within and without the city limits, and to make and enforce all other necessary regulations to secure the general health of its inhabitants.

2. To establish or erect, or cause to be established or erected, markets and market houses; to designate, regulate and control market places and privileges, and to inspect within or beyond the city limits, and determine the mode of inspecting cattle, meats, birds, fowls, fish, vegetables, fruit, milk, and to seize and destroy any decayed or unwholesome fruit or vegetables, any impure or unhealthy or unwholesome meats, birds, fowls or fish, and to regulate, license, control or prevent the sale or keeping for sale on public streets, squares and alleys of any article of food or drink or any goods, wares or merchandise of any kind whatever.

3. To define what shall be a nuisance in the city and to punish the authors thereof by penalties, fines and imprisonment.

4. To do all acts and make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the promotion of health or the suppression of disease.

5. To co-operate with the commissioners court of Travis county in making such improvements connected with the city and county as may be deemed by the city council and commissioners court necessary to improve the public health and to promote efficient sanitary regulations; and by mutual agreement they may provide for the construction of such improvements, and the payment therefor.

6. To regulate the burial of the dead and to prohibit public funerals in case of death from any contagious or infectious disease; to purchase, establish and regulate one or more cemeteries within or without the city limits; to regulate the registration of marriages, births and deaths; to direct the returning and keeping of bills of mortality, and to impose penalties on physicians, ministers, sextons and others, for any default in the premises.

7. To provide for the erection of all needful buildings for the use of the city within its limits and to determine when it is necessary to acquire property, or the use thereof, by the power of eminent domain for all purposes for which the city may lawfully exercise such power.

8. To license and regulate auctioneers, grocers, merchants, retailers, hotels and boarding houses, and bakeries; and to license and regulate or suppress ordinaries, hawkers, peddlers, brokers, pawnbrokers and money changers.

9. To license and regulate hacks, carriages, omnibuses, wagons, carts and drays, and fix the rate to be charged for carriage of persons and for wagonnage, cartage and drayage of property.

10. To license and regulate theatrical and other exhibitions, shows and amusements.

11. To license and regulate billiard tables, restaurants, drinking houses or saloons, and all places or establishments where intoxicating or fermented liquors are sold, and to regulate their location and to restrain and suppress street beggars, disorderly houses, lotteries and all fraudulent devices and practices.

12. To suppress gaming and gambling of all kinds and descriptions and to prevent the same.

13. To prohibit bawdy houses, houses of prostitution and assignation houses and to punish prostitutes and keepers of houses of prostitution within the city.

14. To provide for the prevention and extinguishment of fires, and to organize and establish fire companies; also, to regulate, restrain and prohibit the erection and repair and maintenance of wooden buildings in any part of the city, and to declare all wooden buildings which they may deem dangerous on account of fire, nuisances, and require the same to be removed in such manner as the council may direct.

15. To regulate and prevent the carrying on of manufactories dangerous in causing or producing fires; to appoint fire wardens and property guards, with power to remove and keep away from the vicinity of any fire any suspicious persons lurking near the same, and to compel any person or persons present to aid in extinguishing the fire, or in the preservation of property exposed to the same, and to prevent goods from being purloined thereat; and with such other powers and duties as may be prescribed by ordinance.

16. To compel the owners of houses and other buildings to have scuttles upon the roof of any such buildings or houses, and stairs and ladders leading to the same.

17. To create a board of fire commissioners.

18. To regulate and describe the manner of building partition and parapet walls and of partition fences.

19. To establish standard weights and measures, and to regulate the weights and measures to be used in the city in all cases not otherwise provided for by law.

20. To provide for the inspection of lumber, the measurement thereof and other building materials.

21. To provide for the inspection and weight of hay, the measure of charcoal and other fuel to be used in the city.

22. To regulate and prescribe the duties and powers and compensation of all officers and employes of the city in accordance with the limitations of this charter and to require bonds from them.

23. To create such offices and employ such agents as they may deem necessary for the good government and interest of the city, and to change or prescribe additional duties of all such officers and agents; provided, that the compensation of officers and employes shall not be increased nor diminished during their term of office.

24. To provide for the taking of an enumeration of the inhabitants of the city.

25. To provide for the removal from office of any person holding an office created by this act or by ordinance, not otherwise provided for.

26. To fix the compensation and regulate the fees of all jurors and witnesses; to impose fines, forfeitures and penalties for the breach of any ordinance, and to provide for the recovery and appropriating of such finer and forfeitures, and the enforcement of such penalties; provided, that no penalty shall exceed a fine of two hundred dollars and imprisonment not exceeding fifteen days for any one offense.

27. To erect a workhouse and prisons and a house of correction, and to provide for the regulation and government thereof.

28. To regulate and license all ferries and toll-bridges within the limits of the city, except that portion of the Colorado river above the point where the northern boundary corporate line of the city calling to run westwardly, would intersect the Colorado river, if prolonged westwardly, nor shall any ordinance be enforced prohibiting hunting or fishing on said portion of the river.

28. [29.] To prevent and restrain any riot, disturbance or disorderly assembly in any street, house or place in the city.

30. To use, regulate, improve, grade and control all grounds owned by the city within its limits.

31. To regulate the size, number and manner of construction of doors and stairways of theatres, tenement houses, audience rooms, public halls, and all buildings used for the gathering of large numbers of people, whether now built or hereafter to be built, so that they may be convenient, safe and speedy exits in case of fire.

32. To require the construction of suitable fire escapes on or in hotels, lodging houses, factories and other buildings, whether now or hereafter to be built.

33. To authorize one or more officers, agents or employes of the city to enter into and upon all buildings and premises for the purpose of examining and discovering whether or not the same are dangerous on account of fire, or in an unclean state, and cause the defect to be remedied and filth and trash to be removed; and generally the council shall have the power to establish such regulations for the prevention and extinguishment of fires as it may deem expedient.

34. To prevent, prohibit, and suppress horse racing, immoderate riding or driving in the streets; to prohibit and punish abuse of and cruelty to animals of every kind; to compel persons to fasten their horses or animals attached to vehicles or otherwise, while standing or remaining in the streets or other public places.

35. To prohibit the rolling of hoops, flying of kites, firing of firecrackers or fireworks of any kind, or any other amusement having a tendency to annoy persons passing in the streets or on the sidewalks; to restrain and prohibit the ringing of bells, the blowing of horns, whistles or bugles, the crying of goods, and all other noises, practices and performances tending to collect persons on the streets or sidewalks by auctioneers and others for the purpose of business or otherwise.

36. To prevent all boxing matches, sparring exhibitions, cock fighting and dog fighting, and punish all persons making such exhibitions.

37. To regulate and prevent drumming on the streets or sidewalks, railroad platforms or other public places.

38. To require the owners of private drains, sinks and privies, to fill up, clean, drain, relay, alter, repair, fix and improve the same as they may be ordered by resolution or ordinance so as to prevent the same being or becoming nuisances, and to impose penalties on persons not doing the same; and if there be no person in this city upon whom such order can be served, the city can have the work done, and the cost of the same shall be a lien on the property, taxed up against and collected in such manner as the city council may direct.

39. To build, own and operate street railroads within or beyond the city limits.

40. To preserve order and prevent noise and confusion in and about the several depots on the arrival and departure of trains, and to make and regulate stands for vehicles at said depots or other public places.

41. To prohibit and regulate the driving of cattle or other animals through the streets of the city.

42. To inspect the construction of all buildings in said city and to compel the connection of all buildings with sewers when such buildings are in a sewerage district where sewers are in operation.

43. To regulate and locate the erection of all poles in the city, and cause the same to be changed, whether telegraph, telephone, electric light or otherwise.

44. To regulate the speed of locomotives, engines and other cars and vehicles in the city.

45. To direct and control the laying of railroad tracks, turnouts and switches, and require that they be constructed and laid so as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of the streets, and to require that they be kept in repair.

46. To erect, construct, build and operate a water and electric light system to supply the city and its inhabitants with water and electric light by constructing and maintaining a reservoir of water in and about the channel of the Colorado river, within and without the city limits, by erecting a dam across the same where such dam is now being constructed, to serve as a reservoir and to furnish power to operate an electric light system, and to build such other reservoir as may be necessary at such an elevated point within or without the limits of the city as may be necessary to supply the higher portions of the city with water. That for the purpose of constructing such water and light system the city shall have power to take, hold and acquire such property within or without the limits of the city as may be necessary for the city to obtain in order to build such system or any part thereof but no property shall be taken, overflowed with water or otherwise damaged, by the city within or without the limits for such purpose without the consent of the owner thereof, except by due process of law, and upon making adequate compensation for property so taken, damaged or overflowed. When the owner of property which will be overflowed or damaged by the construction of such system of water and light works, or which it may be necessary for the city to acquire, can not agree with the city as to the amount to be paid for injury to property or for overflowing the same, or the price which the city should pay to acquire such property, the city may condemn such property as it may be necessary for it to acquire for such purposes and have the damages assessed which the city should pay for injury to property to be overflowed by water or otherwise injured in the manner that railroad corporations are now or may from time to time be authorized to condemn property, and may in like manner have the damages to be paid for property injured or overflowed assessed and established the city occupying the place of the railroad corporation in such proceedings.

47. To regulate the use of locomotive engines; and to direct and control the location of cables and all other railroad tracks, and all steam railroad tracks, and to require railroad companies of all kinds to construct, at their own expense, such bridges, turnouts, culverts and crossings, as the city council may deem necessary.

48. To regulate the speed of all railroad trains in the city limits, and their stops at the street crossings, and require said companies to keep the streets through which they run in repair.

49. To regulate the running of horse railroad cars, or cars propelled by dummy engines or other power, and laying down tracks for the same, the transportation of passengers thereon, the form of rails to be used.

50. To establish and regulate public pounds, and to regulate and prohibit the running at large of horses, mules, sheep, swine, goats, geese, dogs, and other animals; and to authorize the distraining, impounding and sale of the same for the costs of the proceedings and the penalty incurred, and to order their destruction when they can not be sold, and to impose penalties on the owners or harborers thereof for violation of any ordinance.

51. To provide for the holding of election by the people, and to regulate the manner of holding the same; and every male inhabitant of the city qualified to vote for State and county officers in Travis county, who shall have resided six months in the limits of the city, shall be qualified to vote for city officers under this act.

City Officers—The Mayor.

Sec. 58. That there shall be a mayor of said city [who] shall be elected by the voters of the city on the first Monday in December, 1891, and on the first Monday in December every two years thereafter, and who shall hold his office for the term of two years from the time of his election and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified. The mayor shall be the chief executive officer of the city. The mayor shall receive no salary or fees except the sum of six hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly, which shall be allowed him for the reimbursement of the expenses incident to or growing out of his position.

Sec. 59. That no person shall be mayor who at the time of his election is not possessed of the qualifications required for an alderman, or who holds any lucrative office under the authority of the United States or any state; he shall before entering upon the duties of his office take the oath prescribed by the constitution of the State, and to faithfully and impartially perform his duties.

Sec. 60. That when two or more persons shall have an equal number of votes for the office of mayor, a new election shall be ordered, except when the election is contested, and whenever an election for mayor is contested, the city council shall determine the same.

Sec. 61. That whenever any vacancy shall happen in the office of mayor within three months of the time for holding a general election in the office of mayor, it shall be filled by election by the city council of some person not a member of the council, in which case such mayor shall hold office for the unexpired term of office only; vacancies in the office of mayor occurring more than three months before a general election shall be filled by a special election by the qualified voters of the city.

Sec. 62. That the mayor or any other officer of the city may be removed from office for any malfeasance in office by a majority of two-thirds of the full board of aldermen, after trial and conviction. The council shall be the judge of what shall constitute malfeasance in office.

Sec. 63. That the mayor shall sign the commissions and appointments of all persons elected by the city council.

Sec. 64. That the mayor shall cause all subordinate officers to be dealt with promptly for any neglect or violation of duty, and he may suspend, and by and with the consent of two-thirds of the whole board of aldermen, remove from office any person holding office made elective by the city council by this act, or hereafter created by ordinance. He shall have power, when he deems it necessary, to require any officer of the city to exhibit his accounts or other papers; it shall be his duty to make report to the council, in writing, regarding any error or deficiency he may discover in said accounts and papers.

Sec. 65. That the mayor shall preside at all the meetings of the city council, except as herein otherwise provided, and shall have a casting vote when the council is equally divided and not otherwise.

Sec. 66. That the mayor shall from time to time communicate to the city council information and recommend such measures as in his opinion may tend to the improvement of the finances, health, security, ornament and general prosperity of the city.

Sec. 67. That the mayor shall take care that the laws of the State and the ordinances of the city are duly enforced, respected and observed within the city, and he is hereby authorized to call on every male inhabitant of the city over eighteen years of age and under the age of fifty years, to aid in enforcing the laws and ordinances of the city, and any person who shall not obey such call shall forfeit to the city a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars.

Sec. 68. That the mayor, by and with the consent of the council, shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, and to grant reprieves and pardons for all offenses arising under the ordinances of the city.

Sec. 69. That the mayor shall have power to solemnize marriages and to administer oaths of office.

Sec. 70. That in case of the temporary absence or illness of the recorder, or in case of vacancy in the office of recorder, the mayor shall be ex-officio recorder, to try all cases of violation of the city ordinances, and it shall be his duty to do so, unless such vacancy, temporary or otherwise, shall have been filled as provided in this act.

Other Officers.

Sec. 71. That there shall be a city marshal, a city clerk, a city attorney, a city assessor and collector, a city physician, a treasurer, a recorder, a city engineer, a superintendent of streets, and such other officers, agents and employes of the city as may be now or hereafter provided for by the city council by ordinance. The terms of the officers mentioned in this act shall be for two years from the first Monday in December of the year of their election. They shall be elected by the city council, as soon as may be after the first Monday in December, every two years. They shall hold their offices until their respective successors are elected and qualified.

City Marshal.

Sec. 72. That the marshal of the city shall be ex-officio chief of police, and he shall either in person or by deputy attend upon the recorder's court while in session, and upon meetings of the city council, and shall promptly and faithfully execute all writs and process issued to him. He shall have like power with the sheriff of the county to execute the writ of search warrant. He shall be active in quieting riots, disorders, and disturbances of the peace within the limits of the city, and shall take into custody all persons so offending against the peace of the city, and shall have authority to take suitable and sufficient bail for the appearance before the recorder's court of any person charged with an offense against ordinances or laws of the city. It shall be his duty to arrest without warrant all violators of the public peace, and all who obstruct or interfere with him in the execution of the duties of his office, or who shall be guilty of any disorderly conduct or disturbance whatever in his presence, or upon complaint of any citizen. To prevent a breach of the peace or preserve quiet and good order, he shall have authority to close any theatre, bar-room, drink-house or any other place or building of public resort, and in the prosecution and suppression of crime and arrest of offenders he shall have, possess and exercise like power, authority and jurisdiction as the sheriff of the county under the laws of the State. He shall receive a salary of fifteen hundred dollars per annum, payable in monthly installments. He shall give a bond payable to the said city, with good security, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties in accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city, and in such amount as the city council may require, said bond to be approved by the city council. He shall perform such other duties and possess such other powers, rights and authority as the council may by ordinance require and confer.

City Clerk.

Sec. 73. That it shall be the duty of the city clerk to attend all meetings of the city council and to keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book to be provided for that purpose, to preserve and keep in order all books, papers, documents, records and files of said council, to countersign all commissions and licenses issued by the mayor, and to keep a record of them, and to draw all warrants on the treasurer, and countersign the same, and to keep accurate accounts thereof in a book provided for that purpose.

Sec. 74. That he shall have the custody of all ordinances of said city, and of all seals of the corporation, and shall only affix the same to the obligations of the city by order of the proper authorities of the city.

Sec. 75. That the city clerk shall perform such other and further duties as may be required of him by the council, by resolutions, ordinances or otherwise, and give such bond as the city council may prescribe.

Sec. 76. That he shall receive an annual salary of fifteen hundred dollars, payable monthly.

City Attorney.

Sec. 77. That the city attorney shall be a regular licensed lawyer who shall have received his license to practice law in this State more than five years before his election. He shall attend to all cases in any court in this State wherein the city may be a party in interest, unless the council otherwise provides. He shall draw all ordinances when requested to do so by the mayor or any alderman and inspect and advise upon all papers and documents involving any interest of the city. He shall be the legal adviser of the mayor, the city council, or any committee or board of the city, and of all city officers and authorities upon all legal questions touching their official duties.

Sec. 78. That the city attorney shall receive an annual salary of fifteen hundred dollars, payable monthly, and shall receive such fees as the council may allow, and shall perform such duties as the council may direct. He may employ an assistant at a salary of not exceeding five hundred dollars per annum to represent him in the recorder's court and elsewhere.

The City Engineer.

Sec. 79. That the city engineer shall inspect and pass upon the construction of all the public works ordered by the city council, and make out plans, specifications, and estimates therefor; he shall do the surveying and engineering ordered by the city council; he shall preserve all plans, maps, notes, surveys, books, papers and documents and other things pertaining to his office, made by him or in his charge, and deliver the same to his successor in office.

Sec. 80. That the city engineer shall have such power, and perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the council by resolutions, ordinances or otherwise.

Sec. 81. That he shall receive as compensation the sum of twelve hundred dollars per annum payable monthly, and is prohibited from receiving a fee from any private person for giving the grade and lines of streets, alleys, sidewalks, and locations and grades and sewers.

City Assessor and Collector.

Sec. 82. That the city assessor and collector shall assess and collect the city taxes and occupation license, and shall pay the same over to the city treasurer promptly as collected, taking duplicate receipts therefor, one of which he shall retain and the other he shall return to the council. He shall, monthly or oftener if required, make a detailed report to the city council of all collections made by him.

Sec. 83. That he shall be vigilant and see that no business is carried on without the license or occupation tax due therefor shall have been first paid. He shall be responsible for all acts of his deputies; he shall be vigilant in collecting all delinquent taxes, and enforce their collection as herein provided, and as may be provided by ordinance. He shall give bond in such amounts and in such form as the council may prescribe with good and sufficient securities.

Sec. 84. That the council may require a new bond, if in their opinion the existing bond is insufficient, and whenever such bond is required, he shall perform no official act until such bond shall have been approved.

Sec. 85. That he shall receive as compensation the sum of eighteen hundred dollars a year, payable monthly, exclusive of the salaries of assistants and deputies.

Sec. 86. That he shall have all the powers and perform all the duties herein provided, and such others as the council may confer and prescribe.

Treasurer.

Sec. 87. That the city treasurer shall give such bond or bonds as may be required, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. He shall receive and keep all money belonging to the city, and make all payments of the same upon warrants of the mayor, attested by the city clerk.

Sec. 88. That he shall render a full and correct statement of his receipts and payments to the city council at their first regular meeting in every month, and at such other times as the council may require. He shall perform such other acts and duties as the council may require, and receive an annual salary of six hundred dollars, payable monthly.

The Recorder.

Sec. 89. That the recorder shall be the chief judicial magistrate of the city, and as such shall hold a court within said city by the name of Recorder's Court of the City of Austin, which said court shall have jurisdiction and cognizance of all misdemeanors, breaches of the peace, infractions of the ordinances, and all other charges arising under the ordinances of the city, subject however, to an appeal to the county court in the same manner as appeals are taken and granted from justice's courts to the county court under the general laws of the State.

Sec. 90. That the recorder may require of any person arrested under this act, or the ordinances of the city, a bond to keep the peace, with two good and sufficient securities, which bond shall be payable to the city of Austin. He shall have full power and authority to issue subpoenas for witnesses and compel their attendance by process of attachment. He may issue warrants of arrest, search warrants, executions and any other process known to law that justices of the peace of this State may lawfully issue, and he may punish all contempt by fines and imprisonment or both.

Sec. 91. That he shall have full power power to administer official oaths and all other oaths or affirmations and give certificates thereof. The recorder shall be ex-officio justice of the peace, and shall possess and exercise within the city limits in criminal cases in all the powers and duties of such offices, but in no case shall he entertain jurisdiction in civil suits.

Sec. 92. That the recorder shall be conservator of the peace, and his court shall be open every day except Sunday and legal holidays, to hear and determine any and all cases cognizable before him, and shall have power to bring parties before him forthwith for trial. Parties arraigned for violation of city ordinances, demanding a trial by jury, shall deposit with the court the sum of three dollars security for the payment of the cost of such jury, unless they shall make oath that they are unable to pay or secure the same; any person convicted of an offense under the provisions of this act or the ordinances of the city shall be punished as may be prescribed by ordinance, not to exceed the punishment which the Legislature may lawfully authorize a recorder of a city to impose.

Sec. 93. That the recorder shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by any ordinance of the city, and shall receive a salary of not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars.

Sec. 94. That the recorder shall be a licensed lawyer, and competent to discharge the duties required of him by the charter and the ordinances of the city.

Sec. 95. That the fines imposed in the recorder's court for violation of the city ordinances shall not be less than five dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars for each and every offense, and no cost shall be taxed against any person convicted therein.

Street Superintendent.

Sec. 96. That there shall be a superintendent of streets elected by the council at the time other city officers are elected. He shall hold his office for the term of two years and until his successor has been elected and qualified; provided, that the present street commissioner shall be superintendent of streets until the next general election.

Sec. 97. That he shall receive a salary of not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly.

Sec. 98. That the superintendent in the absence of direction from the board of street commissioners, or from the council or city engineer, shall, with the advice of the mayor have general supervision of all work on the streets and bridges of the city within such limit of expense as the council may prescribe.

Sec. 99. That he shall perform such other duties as the city council may from time to time prescribe.

General Provisions.

Sec. 100. That the city council shall have power, subject to the restriction herein contained, to make all ordinances which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into effect the powers specified herein; provided, that the council shall have no power to prohibit the owners of property abutting on the Colorado river from fishing in the river and resorting thereto for water, and having access thereto for themselves and stock.

Sec. 101. That all ordinances of the City of Austin and rules and regulations of the city council and other departments of the city, which shall be in force when this act takes effect, and which are not in conflict with the same, shall remain in full force and effect, until amended, altered or repealed by the city council.

Sec. 102. That all members of the council and other officers of the city, shall continue in office until the expiration of the time for which they were elected, respectively, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Sec. 103. That the fiscal year of the city shall be from and including the first Tuesday in December in each year to and including the first Monday in December of the next succeeding year; and all receipts of money during such fiscal year shall be regarded as funds belonging to such year whether collected from the taxes or other dues of a previous year or not, and all taxes and other dues remaining due and uncollected at the expiration of one fiscal year, shall be regarded as resources of the next succeeding fiscal year.

Sec. 104. That the receipts of money during any fiscal year, other than from special funds provided to pay interest and sinking funds on bonds of the city, shall be applied to the payment of expenses and indebtedness incurred during such fiscal year; and no debt other than such as may be authorized by a vote of taxpayers, as is provided for in this act, shall be incurred, to be paid after the end of the fiscal year in which it may be incurred.

Sec. 105. That no contract shall be made involving the payment of money by the city after the termination of the fiscal year in which it is made, except for constructing public works or other improvements, which in the judgment of the council, cannot be practically completed before the end of the fiscal year; but no contract made for such public works or improvements shall in any event involve the payment of a greater sum, after the close of a fiscal year in which such contract is made, than may be paid out of the fund belonging to such fiscal year, and in all such cases an appropriation shall be made out of the funds of the pending fiscal year for the payment of the amount the city will become liable for if such contract is performed; such appropriation shall be made at the time such contract shall be executed, or the contract shall not be valid; provided, that this section shall not apply to the expenditure of any special fund raised by the issuance of bonds for special purposes.

Sec. 106. That in order to make these restrictions effective, the council shall, within two months after the beginning of each fiscal year, and after the salaries of officers and regular employes shall have been fixed for the year, cause to be made, an[d] shall adopt, an estimate of the probable income from all sources which will be collected for the general fund during the fiscal year, and of the expenditures to pay salaries and wages of officers and regular employes, and of the amount required to meet the other ordinary expenses of the city government, not including work on streets and bridges or other public improvements; said estimates shall be spread upon the minutes of the council when adopted, any [and] may be amended when the city council may deem them incorrect.

Sec. 107. That after the adoption of said estimates, it shall be unlawful for the city council to so appropriate sums out of the general funds as to reduce the general fund below an amount, which, if said estimate be taken as correct, will pay the said estimated expenses of the city government for the pending fiscal year.

Sec. 108. That after two months from the beginning of any fiscal year no appropriation shall be made for any purpose other than to pay the regular salaries of officers and employes and expenses of the hospital, without such estimate of the council being in force, as provided for in this act.

Sec. 109. That the city clerk shall keep posted, in a conspicuous place in the council room, a copy of the estimates provided for in the preceding sections, and shall note in connection therewith the aggregate of each appropriation ordinance affecting the general fund, passed by the council, after the same takes effect.

Sec. 110. That unexpended balances of appropriations remaining after the purposes for which they were made have been accomplished or abandoned, shall be reported to the city clerk by the committee or officers of the city having the subject in charge, and when so reported said unexpended balance of appropriations shall be noted in connection with said estimates so posted in the council room.

Sec. 111. That no money shall be paid out of the city treasury except by a warrant, signed by the mayor and attested by the city clerk.

Sec. 112. That the city council shall cause to be published, within a month after the end of each fiscal year, a full, complete and detailed statement of all moneys received and expended, classifying each receipt and expenditure under its proper head.

Sec. 113. That the inhabitants of the City of Austin are hereby exempted from working on public roads beyond the limits of the city.

Sec. 114. That this act is declared a public act and may be read in evidence in all courts of law and equity in this State without proof.

Sec. 115. That the ordinances, resolutions and by-laws of the city council may be proved prima facie by a book of printed ordinances of the city appearing to be printed by the authority of the city or by copies of ordinances certified by the city clerk to be true copies of such ordinances, or the record thereof.

Sec. 116. That the City of Austin may institute and prosecute suits without giving security for costs, and may appeal from judgments without giving super-sedeas or cost bonds.

Sec. 117. That this act shall not be construed to affect in any manner the general laws governing the levying of taxes for public schools in cities, or to affect the action taken or status required by the City of Austin thereunder, or the title to school property, the control of school funds and money, or the election of the board of school trustees as now established, or to affect the continuation in office of the present school trustees of the City of Austin; and the election of the board of school trustees shall be as heretofore in said city, and their powers and duties shall remain as under the existing laws.

Sec. 118. Nothing herein contained shall ever be construed to in any manner suspend, modify or abridge any penal laws of this State, but the penal laws of this State shall ever be in full force and effect, and in no manner repealed or suspended by any provision of this act, but the council may enact any ordinance not in conflict with the penal laws of this State.

Sec. 119. That the additional territory added to the City of Austin and not heretofore embraced within the corporate limits of Austin shall not be charged with or liable for any debts of the City of Austin incurred prior to the first day of May, A. D. 1890.

Sec. 120. That the jurisdiction and powers conferred on the City of Austin by this act shall supersede the authority of each and all other municipal corporations heretofore exercising any authority over any part of the territory included within the boundaries of the City of Austin as prescribed by this act.

Sec. 121. That the fact that Austin without this act has not sufficient power of eminent domain to enable her to progress with her important water and light system now in progress of construction, without the speedy grant of which power she is in danger of suffering great loss from delay, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days and requiring that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 78 yeas and 1 nay; and passed the Senate by a vote of 24 yeas and no nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 3d day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objection thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

MISSOURI, KANSAS AND TEXAS RAILWAY COMPANY.

Preamble.

1. Said company authorized to sell its railway properties, etc., to some railway corporation or company, etc.
2. Sales to the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company approved.
3. Sale herein authorized to be subject to liens, etc., contracted by the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company.

Sec.

4. Purchasers of said lines may form a corporation.
5. List of roads authorized to be sold.
6. The lines of railway when sold may be operated by the new company.
7. Courts shall take judicial notice of this act.
8. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 23.—[S. B. No. 295.] An act to authorize the sale and conveyance of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company's lines of railroad and properties within this State and certain lines of railroad heretofore operated by or as the property of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, or as a part of the system of roads within the State known as the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway and to provide for and authorize the sale, transfer and conveyance of said lines of railroad to, and the purchase and operation thereof by a single corporation, company or association of persons to be incorporated under the laws of this State, and to settle and dispose of certain pending suits, brought by the State of Texas against said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, wherein the powers, privileges and franchises granted it within the State are sought to be forfeited.

Whereas, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Kansas was, by an act of the Legislature of the State of Texas, entitled "An act in relation to the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, late Union Pacific Railway Company, Southern branch," passed August 2nd, 1870, granted certain rights, powers, privileges and franchises within this State; and,

Whereas, said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, in pursuance of said act, and of the rights, powers, privileges and franchises claimed thereunder, has in its own corporate name constructed several lines of railway within this State, and by its managers, owners and stockholders has also aided, promoted, constructed or caused to be constructed other lines of railroad within this State, in the names of corporations created and formed under the laws thereof, in or to which lines it has acquired rights and interests and which have been heretofore held and operated by, or as the property of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company or as a part of the system of roads within the State known as the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway; and

Whereas, there are pending suits against said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, brought by and in the name of the State of Texas, to forfeit the corporate rights, powers, privileges, and franchises, granted by the act of the Legislature thereof, passed August 2nd, 1870, as aforesaid, because of the exercise of rights, powers and privileges alleged not to have been given or conferred by said act; and,

Whereas, the said lines of railway herein mentioned or referred to, and which are hereinafter more particularly described are not parallel or competing lines, but were constructed by and in the common interest of the owners, managers and stockholders of said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway, and have been operated therewith as one system, and it is not the policy of the State by its suits aforesaid to jeopardize the rights of property therein, or to work injustice to the owners thereof, but it is desirable that all of said railway property herein mentioned and referred to, be owned, held and operated by a domestic corporation formed and organized under and subject to the laws of this State, and that said suits be settled or disposed of in the public interest and with due regard to all and singular the rights and interests therein involved, and inasmuch as there is no law under which the objects and purposes of this act may be accomplished, and no general law can be made applicable in the premises; therefore,

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company be, and it is hereby authorized and empowered to transfer, sell and convey, all and singular, the railway property, tracks, sidetracks, depots, rights of way and all properties and property rights within this State, acquired, controlled or held by it, or in its name, by purchase, construction or otherwise; and which sale and conveyance to be made under the power herein given, shall be to some railway corporation, company or association of persons, to be incorporated under the laws of this State for the purpose of acquiring, owning, maintaining and operating the railways so purchased as one property.

Sec. 2. The sales to and purchase by said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company of the several lines of railway within this State, from the railway companies hereinafter mentioned, and which lines have been heretofore operated by or as the property of the said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, or as a part of the system of railroads within the State known as the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway, are hereby authorized, approved, ratified and confirmed, and the consent of the State is hereby given thereto; provided, however, that the confirmation and validation of such sales shall not be operative unless within twelve months after legal authority is given for the sale to and purchase by a domestic corporation as contemplated by this act, the said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company shall sell, transfer and convey all and singular the lines of railway constructed by it within this State, as well as those acquired or held by it, or in its name by purchase or otherwise, to some railway corporation, company or association of persons to be incorporated under the general laws of this State, and which shall be subject thereto, as other railway corporations organized under the laws thereof.

Sec. 3. The sale herein authorized to be made, shall be subject to all just and legal incumbrances, suits or actions for damages or rights of way, liens, judgments and debts given, contracted or incurred by said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company and other companies herein mentioned, upon or against said properties or any part thereof, as well as to the payment and discharge of all and singular the legal obligations and liabilities of every sort whatsoever against said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, and properties herein mentioned, and for all debts, judgments, suits, and all claims for damages against the receivers of said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company to the same extent that said property would be liable therefor if the property remained in the possession and control of said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, and the purchasing company or corporation shall take the same, charged therewith, and subject to the payment thereof and the assumption by such purchasing company or corporation of such incumbrances, debts and liabilities may enter into and constitute a part of the consideration for such sale and conveyance thereto, but the property of the new company in Texas, shall not, as between the vendor company and the new corporation, be liable for more than its proportional part of such debts and the incumbrances ascertained upon a basis of mileage in this State as compared with the mileage of the whole system, and the capital stock of such new corporation, when formed, may be issued for such property as additional consideration therefor, and on such terms as may be agreed upon, for the stock of the several herein named corporations, organized under the laws of this State, whose stocks shall be thereupon cancelled and extinguished, and the stock of the purchasing corporation issued in conformity with the constitution and general laws of this State and with the provisions of this act, may be held by the trustee or trustees of the mortgage bondholders, their successors or assigns in trust for the holders of the stocks and bonds of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company and their assigns, as and with the powers conferred by the laws of this State on an individual stockholder; provided, that the stock authorized to be issued above shall not exceed ten thousand ($10,000) dollars on each mile of completed railway acquired under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 4. The purchaser of said lines of railway and their associates shall be entitled to form a corporation under the general laws of this State for the purpose of acquiring, owning, maintaining and operating the same, or any railway corporation that may be formed under the general laws of this State and in accordance therewith for the purpose of acquiring, owning, maintaining and operating said lines of road to be sold under the power herein given, shall have the right to acquire, own, maintain and operate said railway property in accordance with and as required by the laws of this State; and when, in either case, a charter or articles of incorporation have been filed for the purpose of acquiring, owning, maintaining and operating the lines of railway herein named, such new corporation shall have all the powers and privileges conferred upon railway companies chartered or formed under the general laws of this State, including the power to construct and extend, as is or may be provided in the general laws thereof.

Sec. 5. The lines of railway herein authorized to be sold and purchased by such new corporation to be formed under the laws of this State, are substantially as follows, towit:

1st. A line from Red River to the city of Denison in Grayson county and thence through the counties of Grayson, Cooke, Montague and Clay to the city of Henrietta.

2nd. A line from the city of Denison through the counties of Grayson, Fannin, Hunt, Rains and Wood, to the city of Mineola.

3rd. A line from the city of Denison to the city of Sherman in Grayson county.

4th. A line from the city of Greenville in Hunt county through the counties of Hunt, Collin, Rockwall and Dallas to the city of Dallas in Dallas county.

5th. A line from the city of Dallas to the city of Denton in Denton county.

6th. A line from the city of Dallas, through the counties of Dallas, Ellis and Hill, to the city of Hillsboro in Hill county.

7th. A line from the city of Fort Worth in Tarrant county, through the counties of Tarrant, Johnson, Hill, McLennan, Falls, Bell and Williamson, to Taylor with a branch from Echo, a point on the main line, to Belton in Bell county.

8th. A line from Taylor, through the counties of Williamson, Travis, Bastrop, Fayette and Colorado, to Boggy Tank in Colorado county, and a line from San Marcos, in Hays county, through the counties of Hays and Caldwell, to Lockhart, in Caldwell county, together with the secured rights of way and partially constructed lines of road between Lockhart and Smithville in Bastrop county, and between Boggy Tank and the town of Sealy in Austin county.

9th. A line from Trinity, in Trinity county, through the counties of Trinity, Polk and Tyler, to Colmesneil in Tyler county.

10. The interest of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company in the lines between Whitesboro in Grayson county and Fort Worth, Tarrant county, now being operated jointly with the Texas and Pacific Railway Company. And the following are the names of the companies herein referred to, other than the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, towit: 1st, The Denison and Pacific Railway; 2nd, The Denison and Southeastern Railway Company, or the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Extension Railway Company; 3rd, The Sherman, Denison and Dallas Railway Company; 4th, The Dallas and Greenville Railway Company; 5th, The Dallas and Wichita Railway Company; 6th, The Dallas and Waco Railway Company; 7th, The Taylor, Bastrop and Houston Railway Company; 8th, The Trinity and Sabine Railway Company; and 9th, The Gainesville, Henrietta and Western Railway Company; and said companies or any of them are hereby authorized and empowered to join in or separately execute any instrument of conveyance that may be deemed necessary to confirm and release to said purchasing company, corporation or association of persons the railways and property to be purchased aforesaid or any part thereof, and upon compliance with this act, all causes of forfeiture heretofore incurred by said companies in this act named or any of them are, on the part of the State, hereby waived. But nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to authorize the sale of other lines of road, or by other companies, than those herein mentioned.

Sec. 6. When said lines of railway and all and singular the properties of or pertaining thereto shall have been duly sold and conveyed as herein provided, the purchasing company or corporation shall take possession of said railways and properties so acquired by it, and may thereafter own, maintain and operate the same as one property in the name of such new corporation, and in accordance with the constitution and general laws of this State, and the suits aforesaid by the State of Texas shall be thereupon dismissed and the conveyance by said Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company as provided herein to such corporation, company or association of persons to be incorporated under the general laws of this State shall be deemed its acceptance contractually of the provisions of this act; provided, that at or before said suits are dismissed, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company or the purchasers therefrom as herein provided shall pay all costs incurred in said suits instituted by the State, and shall refund to the State any cost that may have been expended by the State in the prosecution of said suits, up to and including the date of said sale and payment of the cost by said company or purchaser.

Sec. 7. All courts within this State shall take judicial notice of this act and of the sales and transfers herein provided for to the same extent as if it were a general law.

Sec. 8. The fact that important litigation to which the State is a party is proposed by this act to be fairly settled and disposed of, and that the public interest requires a just and reasonable settlement thereof as herein provided for at the earliest possible date, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency, which justifies a suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read in each house on three several days and such rule is therefore so suspended and that this act take effect and go into force from and after its passage and it is therefore so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 27 yeas and no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 74 yeas and 1 nay.]

Approved April 16, 1891.

CHAP. 24.—[H. B. 640.] An act to amend an act incorporating the City of San Antonio, approved August 13, 1870, and all acts amendatory thereof, and to validate certain acts thereunder.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That sections 5, 24, 29, 37, 43, 45, 48, 55, 98, 102, 119, 127, 133, 201, 203, 227, 249 and 251, of the charter of the City of San Antonio, approved August 13, 1870, and all acts amendatory thereof, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 5. That on the second Monday in February, beginning with the year 1893, a mayor, recorder, collector, treasurer, city attorney, auditor, assessor, and one alderman from each ward in the city, and four aldermen from the city at large, shall be voted for, and the returns of such election shall be made as hereinafter provided.

Section 24. At the first regular meeting of the city council after the promulgation of the result of the election for mayor and other officers, the city council, upon nominations therefor, made by the mayor, shall proceed to elect a city clerk, one physician, one street commissioner, one or more market masters, one or more water commissioners, one city engineer, city marshal, and clerk of recorder's court, and one or more assistant marshals, and such police and other officers as they may deem necessary for the proper administration of the city government and for the interest of the city. They may provide by ordinance for the suspension or removal, by two-thirds vote of the entire council, of all officers elected by the people or appointed by the council, for malfeasance, misfeasance or nonfeasance in office, and shall fill all vacancies as they may occur; provided, such vacancies occur not less than nine months before the expiration of the term of office of the parties vacating.

Sec. 29. That all elections in the city shall be held in accordance with the State law governing elections, and returns shall be made to the mayor in the same manner that returns are made under the State law. The qualifications of voters shall be as prescribed in article 6 of the constitution of the State; provided, that at all elections wherein property taxpayers only are allowed to vote, those only who are actual taxpayers, and whose names appear on the last assessment roll of the city shall be deemed property taxpayers; provided further, that if the name of any person offering to vote, he being otherwise qualified, does not appear on said tax roll, but produces his property tax receipt for the preceding year, he shall be entitled to vote, but the word "sworn" shall be written on the back of his ballot and opposite his name on the poll lists.

Section 37. In case of vacancy in any office filled by an election by the people, such vacancy shall be filled by a majority vote of the city council; provided, such vacancy occurs within nine months of an election therefor, otherwise the mayor shall order an election to fill such vacancy; provided further, that the successor of a ward alderman shall in every case be a resident of the same ward as his predecessor.

Section 43. To borrow money on the credit of the city, and issue bonds therefor, to an amount not to exceed fifty thousand dollars for street improvements, and ten thousand dollars for sidewalk purposes may be borrowed for and during five years from the passage of this act and not thereafter. To make a loan exceeding the aforesaid sum, the question must be submitted to the property taxpayers, voters of the city, and if sustained by a majority of the votes polled, such loan shall be lawful. All bonds shall specify for what purpose they are issued, and shall not be sold for less than their par value; provided, that no debt shall be contracted for the payment whereof such bonds are issued, except the sidewalk bonds, until such bonds shall have been disposed of and the proceeds thereof paid into the city treasury, and when any bonds are issued by the city a fund shall be provided to pay the interests and two per cent (2 per cent) per annum on the principal as a sinking fund to redeem the bonds, which fund shall not be diverted or drawn for any other purpose, and the city treasurer shall honor no draft drawn on said fund except to pay the interest or to redeem the bonds for which it was provided, and for the payment of such loan to levy a special tax over and above the general tax allowed by this act; provided, the rate of tax shall not exceed one half of one per cent (1 per cent) and the rate of interest paid shall not exceed six per cent (6 per cent); provided also, no loan shall be made for any other purpose or purposes than those connected with the corporation of said city, and no loan shall be made to aid any private enterprise, railroad or undertaking not under the management and control of the city council. The sinking fund for the redemption of any loan or debt, to be invested as fast as the same accumulates in the United States interest bearing bonds, bonds of the State of Texas, or in city bonds, and such bonds, and the interest of such bonds to be reinvested and to be sold when necessary to pay debts or loans. The amounts expended by the city out of sidewalk funds for the construction of sidewalks for individuals shall, as fast as the same is repaid by such individuals to the city, be used for street improvements.

Section 45. To appropriate and provide for the payment of the debts and expenses of the city, and to issue refunding bonds for the purpose of redeeming bonds bearing a higher rate of interest or paying matured bonds; provided, that the bonded debt of the city shall not be increased nor other evidence of debt be issued, exceeding the amount provided in section 43 hereof, in any one fiscal year, unless authorized by a vote of the property taxpayers as hereinbefore provided. The fiscal year shall commence on the first day of June, and terminate on the last day of May following; provided further, that the bonded debt of the city shall never exceed eight per cent of the total assessed value of the property in the city, according to the last assessment roll.

Section 48. To make regulations to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases into the city; to make quarantine laws for that purpose, and to enforce the same within five (5) miles of the city, and to make all ordinances and regulations to prevent the spread of any contagious diseases within the city limits; to establish hospitals and pest houses.

Section 55. To regulate and prescribe the duties and powers and compensation of all officers, agents and employes of the city, except the compensation of the mayor, city marshal, collector, assessor, treasurer, city attorney, engineer and recorder, and to require bonds; to create any office, or employ any agent they may deem necessary for the good government and interest of the city, and to change or prescribe additional duties of all such officers and agents; provided, that the compensation of all officers shall not be increased or diminished during their term of office, and that all salaries fixed thereby shall take effect from and after the time when this amendment takes effect.

Section 98. To prevent and punish the keeping of houses of prostitution within the city, or within such limits therein as may be defined by ordinance, and to adopt summary measures for the removal or suppression, or license, taxation, regulation and inspection of all such establishments.

Section 102. To inspect all buildings and establishments for educational or asylum purposes; to see that the inmates thereof are properly treated and to require all institutions of whatever nature used as asylums, colleges or boarding schools, to make a report of the number of inmates and sanitary condition of the same every month, and to enforce the vaccination of all inmates thereof.

Section 119. The mayor shall have power to solemnize marriages.

Section 127. The treasurer of said city shall give bond in favor of the City of San Antonio in such amount as may be required by the city council and with sufficient sureties, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. He shall receive and securely keep all monies belonging to the city, and make all payments for the same upon the order of the mayor, attested by the clerk. He shall keep regular and correct accounts of all the real, personal and mixed property, and shall render a full and correct quarterly statement of his receipts and payments to the city council, and whensoever at other times he may be required by them, and shall do and perform such other acts and duties as the city council may require.

Section 133. The duties of the engineer shall be fixed by the city council, as well as the amount of bond he shall give for the faithful performance of his duties.

Section 201. In the widening or straightening of any street, avenue, alley, plaza, square, park or other highway, the city council shall determine, by ordinance, the manner and extent of such widening or straightening. Upon the filing of such ordinance and the plan of the proposed widening with the county clerk, it shall be the duty of the county judge to appoint three disinterested freeholders of the city as commissioners, who, after being sworn to act with fidelity and impartiality, shall carefully estimate the value of the property necessary to be taken for such widening or straightening, making a separate estimate in the case of each owner. It shall be thereafter the duty of the commissioners to estimate the benefits accruing to any property on the street or in the vicinity that they may consider benefitted by such improvements, filing with their report a list of the owners of such property and the amount of the supposed benefit stated separately in each case. On the filing of such report with the city clerk the city council shall, at their first meeting, or as soon as practicable thereafter, give five days public notice through the official journal, at which time said report will be acted upon (which shall not be less than ten days after the expiration of said notice), and all parties feeling aggrieved by the action of said commissioners may be heard by the council on appeal. The action of the city council shall be limited to the increase of the value of the award for property taken, or decrease of the assessment for supposed benefit to the property by the improvement contemplated. The city council, by tendering to the owner of the land taken the amount of the award, may at once enter upon and appropriate said land for the purposes of opening, widening, or altering said street, alley, etc. The benefits reported, and as may be devised by the city council, shall be assessed as a special tax against the property reported as benefitted, and shall be payable at such time as the council may direct; and said tax shall be a lien upon the property until the payment thereof; and the city collector shall proceed to collect the said tax in the same manner as other taxes are collected; provided, that if deemed necessary, the city council may proceed by suit in any court of competent jurisdiction as an additional remedy for the collection of any and all taxes of every nature assessed or levied by the city.

Section 203. Whenever the city council shall deem it necessary to take private property for the use of the city, for streets, avenues, alleys, plazas, squares, parks, hospitals, pest houses, school houses or any other public buildings or uses, such property may be taken for such purpose by making just compensation to the owner thereof. If the amount of such compensation cannot be agreed upon, it shall be duty of the city council to cause to be stated in writing the particular property required, the name of the owner and his residence, if known, and file the same with the city clerk. Thereafter the city clerk shall notify the owner or agent, if known, of the filing of such statement. The damage to accrue to the owner, by reason of such condemnation, shall be assessed by three disinterested freeholders of the city, one to be selected by the owner of the property, one to be selected by the mayor, the third to be selected by the two thus appointed, who, after being sworn to perform the duties of their appointment with fidelity and impartiality, shall assess the damages to accrue by reason of such condemnation. In the event the owner of the property shall fail to appoint the commissioner hereinbefore provided for, within ten days from the service of the notice of the city clerk, the mayor shall appoint such commissioner. In the event that the two commissioners cannot agree upon the selection of the third, then the county judge, on application, shall appoint the said commissioner. The city council shall provide, by ordinance, for the service of the notice herein provided for, and shall also provide the method of assessing the damage to accrue to the owner of the property.

Section 227. The mayor shall cause a quarterly exhibit of the financial affairs of the city to be published in the official journal. The mayor shall also, within thirty days after the close of every fiscal year, cause to be published in pamphlet form, for general distribution, an exhibit of the financial condition of the city for such fiscal year, which exhibit shall specify the number and date of each warrant drawn, the amount thereof, the name of the person to whom the same was issued, and for what purpose or account the same was drawn. Every taxpaying citizen shall, during office hours, have the right to examine any and all books, vouchers, records and papers belonging to the city and in the custody of its officers, and shall have the right to take copies: and it shall be the duty of the proper custodian of a paper or record appertaining to the city or its business to produce and exhibit any such paper or record demanded to be inspected by any such citizen.

Section 249. The officers of the city of San Antonio herein named shall receive from the city the following compensation and no more:

First. The mayor shall receive the sum of $3600 per annum.

Second. The city auditor shall receive $1800 per annum.

Third. The recorder shall receive the sum of $1200 per annum.

Fourth. The city marshal [shall] receive the sum of $2000 per annum.

Fifth. The city attorney shall receive the sum of $2000 per annum.

Sixth. The collector shall receive the sum of $2700 per annum, and shall pay his own clerks or assistants.

Seventh. The assessor shall receive the sum of $2000 per annum.

Eighth. The treasurer shall receive the sum of $1200 per annum.

Ninth. The engineer shall receive the sum of $2000 per annum.

Section 251. The salaries of the officers named in the preceding section shall be payable monthly out of the city treasury, at the end of each month, on warrants drawn by the mayor and attested by the clerk in accordance with said section from and after the passage of this act.

Sec. 2. The fact that it is important to the interest of the general public of said city that the changes of the charter of said city made by this act go into effect immediately creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity, which requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same by a vote of 81 yeas and 1 nay; and passed the Senate by a vote of 26 yeas and 2 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 11th day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

ROADS—LAVACA COUNTY.

Sec.

1. Appointment of road overseers; term of office.
2. Duty of road overseers; compensation.
3. Oath and bond of overseer.
4. Commissioners court may remove overseer and fill vacancy.
5. Overseer responsible for tools, teams, etc., received; shall deliver money and property to his successor.

Sec.

6. Convict labor; credits on fine and costs; commutation.
7. Overseer may contract for use of teams; wages allowed for teams.
8. Other duties of overseer.
9. Report of overseer.
10. Penalty for failure to comply with this act.
11. This act cumulative of general laws.
12. Emergency clause.

CHAP 125.—[H. B. No. 638.] An act to create a more efficient road system in the county of Lavaca and to provide for the appointment of road overseers therein and to define the powers and jurisdiction of the commissioners court of said county with regard thereto.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioners court of Lavaca county may appoint a convenient number of road overseers in said county who shall hold their offices for two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified.

Sec. 2. The road overseers so appointed shall perform all the duties required of overseers under the general laws of this State and such other duties as may be required of them by the Commissioners court of said county and shall receive such compensation as the Commissioners court may prescribe not to exceed one dollar and fifty cents per day for the time actually engaged.

Sec. 3. Each overseer shall, within twenty days after his appointment, take the oath prescribed in the constitution, and enter into bond payable to the County Judge in such sum as may be fixed by the Commissioners court, to be approved by the County Judge, conditioned that he will faithfully discharge all of the duties incumbent upon him as such road overseer and pay out and account for all the money that may come into his hands according to law and the requirements of the commissioners court, which bond shall not be void on the first recovery, but may be sued on from time to time until the full amount is exhausted.

Sec. 4. The Commissioners court may for good cause remove any overseer and in case of vacancy from any cause may fill the same by appointment.

Sec. 5. Each road overseer shall take charge of all tools, implements and teams placed under his control by the Commissioners court, and execute his receipt therefor, which shall be filed with the County Clerk, and he shall be responsible for all such tools, teams, implements and machinery and the proper expenditures and paying out of all money belonging to the road fund that may come into his hands, and shall be liable for the loss, injury or destruction of any such tools, teams, implements, or machinery, if the result of his negligence, or for the wrongful or improper expenditure of such money, and upon the expiration of his term of office, or in case of his resignation or removal he shall deliver all such money and property to his successor or such other person as the commissioners court may direct.

Sec. 6. The Commissioners court shall require all county convicts not otherwise employed to labor upon the public roads under such regulations as may be most expedient. Each county convict worked on the roads in satisfaction of any fine and cost, shall receive a credit thereon of fifty cents for each day he may labor, and the county shall pay to the officers one-half of any cost that may have been adjudged against such convict coming to such officers. The Commissioners court may grant a reasonable commutation of time for faithful services and good behavior.

Sec. 7. The overseers may contract with any person subject to road duty for the use of teams, and permit such person to discharge his road duty by the use of such double team; he shall never allow more than $2.00 per day for any team, nor more than $3.00 for any hand and double team.

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of each road overseer to see that all of the roads and bridges in his road precinct are kept in good repair and see that every person subject to road duty in his road precinct performs the work for which he is liable under the law. He shall act as supervisor of the roads in his road precinct and perform all the duties as supervisor that now devolves upon the commissioner; and the county commissioners of said county are relieved from the performance of the duties prescribed by article 4390a, Revised Civil Statutes.

Sec. 9. Each road overseer shall make a report under oath to the Commissioners court every six months showing an itemized statement of all money belonging to the road fund he has received, from whom received, and what disposition he has made of the same, the condition of all roads and bridges in his road precinct and such other matters as the court may require information upon and shall make such other reports at such times as such court may require.

Sec. 10. Any road overseer who shall wilfully fail or refuse to comply with any provisions of this act or order of the Commissioners court or to perform any duty required of him by law shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof punished by fine of not less than ten nor more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 11. This act shall be cumulative of all general laws on the subject of roads and bridges not in conflict herewith, and where not otherwise provided herein, such general laws shall apply, but in case of conflict with general laws the provisions of the act shall govern.

Section 12. The fact that there is now no sufficient road law in Lavaca county, and that the roads therein are in bad condition, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended; and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and said rule is suspended, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House and passed the same—vote not given; and passed the Senate—vote not given.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1891, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the Legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
Department of State.

I, Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State of the State of Texas, certify that the foregoing special laws, passed at the regular session of the Twenty-second Legislature, have been carefully examined and compared with the original enrolled bills now on file in this department, and are true copies of said originals.

I further certify that the Twenty-second Legislature convened in the city of Austin, January 13, A. D. 1891, and adjourned April 13, A. D. 1891.

[Seal.] In testimony whereof I have subscribed my name, and have hereto affixed the seal of the State of Texas, in the city of Austin, September 5, A. D. 1891.

GEO. W. SMITH,
Secretary of State.

GENERAL LAWS
OF
THE STATE OF TEXAS

PASSED AT THE
FIRST CALLED SESSION OF THE TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE

CONVENED
AT THE CITY OF AUSTIN

MARCH 14, 1892, AND ADJOURNED APRIL 12, 1892.

1892

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

Executive Office,
Austin, Texas, February 18, 1892. }

To Whom These Presents May Concern:

Whereas, The constitution requires the state to be reapportioned for certain purposes every ten years, and the time having about expired since the last apportionment, it is now necessary to perform that duty in obedience to organic law, that the people may have their full and just representation in the next congress and state legislature; and

Whereas, By vote of the qualified electors on the second Tuesday in August, A. D. 1891, five several amendments to the state constitution were adopted, and should be put in force at the earliest opportunity consistent with public interests; and

Whereas, The live stock industries of Texas are being seriously injured by restrictive laws passed by congress affecting transportation and sale of cattle under quarantine regulations, which can only be corrected by legislative action by the state; and

Whereas, The extravagant issuance of railway and municipal bonds, without valuable, just or proper consideration, but for speculative, fictitious purposes, threaten calamity to public prosperity, depreciate honest securities, cast opprobrium on the state's reputation abroad, and should be checked by just, restrictive laws.

For these and other good and sufficient reasons hereinafter named an extraordinary occasion has arisen, requiring the legislature to be convened.

Now, therefore, I, James S. Hogg, Governor of the State of Texas, do, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the constitution of said state, hereby call a special session of the Twenty-second Legislature, to be convened in the city of Austin, commencing at twelve o'clock, noon, on Monday, the fourteenth day of March, A. D. 1892, for the following purposes:

1. To reapportion the state into congressional, senatorial, judicial and representative districts, and to provide for election of officers therein.

2. To pass all laws necessary to put in force and give effect to each and all of the five amendments of the present state constitution, adopted by the people at an election duly held therefor on the second Tuesday of August, A. D. 1891, to-wit: Amendment to section four of article six; amendment to section five of article seven; amendment to section eleven of article sixteen; amendment to section twenty of article sixteen, and amendments to sections one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, eleven, twelve, sixteen, twenty-five and twenty-eight of article five, of the said constitution.

3. To provide for the protection of the public and investors against the fraudulent and fictitious issuance and circulation of railway bonds and stock and county and municipal scrip and bonds; to restrict and regulate the issuance of bonds and stocks by such corporations; and to give full effect to the constitution on that subject.

4. To adopt such laws as may be necessary to protect live stock within the state from contagious and infectious diseases, and from the rigor of Federal quarantine regulations with reference thereto.

5. To re-enact or amend and strengthen chapter 117, General Laws 1889, defining, punishing and prohibiting trusts and conspiracies against trade.

6. To accept by resolution, and authorize the governor to receive from the Federal government the return of and to appropriately disburse all money due the citizens or inhabitants of this state, collected as 'taxes' from them under the act of congress approved August the fifth, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, and amendatory acts thereto.

7. To so change the laws that quarterly examinations of teachers shall not conflict with the time of holding their summer normal schools.

8. To receive and act on the report of the committee appointed to investigate the case of Jay Gould vs. The I. & G. N. R. R., under a concurrent resolution passed at the general session of the Twenty-second Legislature.

9. To provide more secure liens for artisans, mechanics, material men, contractors, builders and laborers and their assigns for material and money furnished and services performed in building and construction.

10. To so amend article 2899, Revised Statutes, and amendments thereto, that receivers of railways and other corporations may be held liable for damages when the death of or injury to persons is caused by the negligence or carelessness of themselves or their servants in executing their trusts.

11. To amend, modify, change or re-enact chapter 95, General Laws, passed by the Twenty-second Legislature, providing for uniformity of public school text books.

12. To correct, modify, change, re-enact, repeal or amend chapter 62, General Laws, passed by the Twenty-second Legislature, limiting and regulating the right of aliens to own real estate in Texas.

13. To define perpetuities, and to restrict, regulate or prohibit corporations owning land in this state, on prescribed conditions.

14. To make appropriation out of the general revenue to pay off public debt bonds issued in 1871 and to become due in March and April.

15. To elect a United States senator.

16. To consider and act on such other subjects of public importance as the executive may, from time to time during the session, submit by message or otherwise.

[Seal.]

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto signed my name and caused to be impressed hereon the seal of the state, at Austin this 18th day of February, A. D. 1892.

[Signed]

J. S. Hogg,
Governor of Texas.

By the Governor:

Secretary of State.

GENERAL LAWS OF TEXAS.

FIRST CALLED SESSION

TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE, 1892.

APPROPRIATION FOR MILEAGE AND PER DIEM OF MEMBERS, OFFICERS AND EMPLOYES.

- | | |
|---|---|
| Sec. | Sec. |
| 1. Forty thousand dollars appropriated for mileage and per diem pay of members, officers and employes of Called Session of Twenty-second Legislature. | 2. How claims are audited. |
| | 3. Appropriates balance remaining of former appropriations. |
| | 4. Emergency clause. |

CHAP. 1.—[H. B. No. 8.] An act making an appropriation for mileage and per diem pay of members, and per diem pay of officers and employes of the First Called Session of the Twenty-second Legislature of Texas, convened March 14, 1892, by proclamation of the governor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of forty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury of this state not otherwise appropriated, for the payment of mileage and per diem pay of the members and the payment of the per diem pay of the officers and employes of the First Called Session of the Twenty-second Legislature of Texas, convened March 14, 1892, by proclamation of the governor.

Sec. 2. That the certificate of the secretary of the senate, approved by the president thereof, or the certificate of the chief clerk of the house, approved by the speaker thereof, shall be sufficient evidence to the comptroller upon which he shall audit the claims and issue his warrants upon the treasurer for the respective amounts.

Sec. 3. That the balance of the moneys remaining in the treasury heretofore appropriated for the per diem pay and mileage of the members and the per diem pay of the officers and employes of any preceding session of the legislature of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby re-appropriated for the purposes specified in this act.

Sec. 4. The public importance of the objects herein contemplated creates an imperative public necessity and emergency fully authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a two-thirds vote—ayes 89, noes 3; and passed the senate by a two-thirds vote—ayes 26, noes 0.]

Approved March 18, 1892.

APPROPRIATION FOR CONTINGENT EXPENSES.

- Sec. 1. Ten thousand dollars appropriated for contingent expenses of Called Session of Twenty-second Legislature; auditing of claims.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 2.—[H. B. No. 24.] An act making an appropriation to defray the contingent expenses of the First Called Session of the Twenty-second Legislature convened March 14, 1892, by proclamation of the governor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the contingent expenses of the First Called Session of the Twenty-second Legislature convened March 14th, 1892, by proclamation of the governor, and that the approval by the chairman of the committee on contingent expenses of either house, countersigned by the president of the senate or speaker of the house of representatives, as the case may be, shall be sufficient authority to authorize the comptroller to issue his warrant on the state treasurer for the payment of any account so drawn against said fund.

Sec. 2. That the public importance of the objects herein contemplated creates an imperative public necessity and emergency fully authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by two-thirds vote—yeas 91, nays 0; and passed the senate by two-thirds vote—yeas 25, nays 0.]

Approved March 24, 1892.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—TWENTY-FIRST.

Sec.

1. Counties composing twenty-first district; terms of court.

2. Return of process.

Sec.

3. Repealing clause.

4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 3.—[S. B. No. 27.] An act to organize and establish the twenty-first judicial district, to fix the times of holding courts therein, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the counties of Washington, Burleson, Lee and Bastrop shall constitute the twenty-first judicial district, and the district courts therein shall be held as follows: In the county of Washington on the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session six weeks; in the county of Lee on the seventh Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks; in the county of Burleson on the tenth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session five weeks; in the county of Bastrop on the fifteenth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session six weeks.

Sec. 2. All writs and process, civil and criminal, heretofore issued or which may be issued and made returnable to the terms of said district courts as said terms are now fixed by law at the time this act takes effect, shall be and are hereby made returnable to the next ensuing terms of said courts as they are prescribed in this act; and all writs and process issued by or from said courts after the adjournment of the term last held under the law as it exists at the time of the passage of this act shall be made returnable to the terms as prescribed in this act, and all such writs and process hereinbefore mentioned are hereby legalized and validated to all intents and purposes.

Sec. 3. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. The near approach of the end of the session creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of, ayes 24, noes 0; and passed the house March 31, 1892; vote not given.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the governor of Texas for his approval on the first day of April, A. D. 1892, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

PUBLIC EDUCATION—TEACHERS' CERTIFICATES.

Sec. 1. Amends section 2(a), chapter 116, acts of 1891.

2(a). Examinations, when made.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 4.—[H. B. No. 16.] An act to amend section 2 (a) of chapter 116, acts of the Twenty-second Legislature entitled "An act to provide for the issuance of certificates to teachers in the public schools of Texas and prescribing their duties as such," approved April 28, 1891.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 2(a), chapter 116, acts of the Twenty-second Legislature, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 2(a). Any one desiring to teach a public free school shall, if required by the county superintendent or ex-officio county superintendent, present a certificate from three good citizens known to the county superintendent or ex-officio county superintendent, that the applicant is of good moral character and exemplary habits. The county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent shall thereupon, unless some good cause exists for refusing the certificate hereinafter mentioned, recommend any applicant to the board of examiners for examination in this state. And the examination of white and colored teachers shall be held separately under such rules as the board of examiners may prescribe, which said board of examiners shall be convened by the county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent on the third Friday and Saturday of August, September, November, February, April and June of each year, for the purpose of examining applicants to teach in the public free schools of the state. The board of examiners shall use questions prescribed by the state superintendent of public instruction; provided, that [if] from any unavoidable cause the board of examiners can not hold their meetings on the days herein prescribed, the said board shall meet as soon as practicable thereafter, on the call of the county superintendent or ex-officio superintendent, and in addition to the times above specified the board of examiners may be convened on the call of the superintendent or ex-officio superintendent at any time such superintendent shall deem necessary.

Sec. 2. As summer normal schools will be begun before ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature, and as it is important that examinations shall be held at a time convenient for the commencement of summer schools, therefore an emergency and imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is [so] enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a two-thirds vote—ayes 81, noes 10; and passed the senate by a two-thirds vote—ayes 26, noes 2.]

Approved April 4, 1892.

STATE BONDED DEBT.

- Sec. 1. Two hundred and forty-eight thousand seven hundred dollars appropriated to pay bonds due in March and April, 1892.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 5.—[S. B. No. 9.] An act making an appropriation to pay the bonded debt of the State of Texas now held by individuals and falling due March 1st and April 1st, 1892.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of $248,700.00 be and the same is hereby appropriated out of the general revenue to pay state bonds now held by individuals and falling due March 1st and April 1st, 1892.

Sec. 2. Whereas, certain of these bonds are now due, a public necessity exists which demands that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of ayes 26, noes 0; and passed the house by a vote of ayes 85, noes 1.]

Approved April 11, 1892.

CHAP. 6.—[H. B. No. 21.] An act to amend title 54, articles 2976, 2977, 2978, 2979, and 2980, of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, regulating the rate of interest, and defining usury, and to add thereto article 2981a: to regulate the rates of interest and prevent usury, and to repeal "An act to be entitled an act to define and punish usury" passed at the regular session of the Twenty-second Legislature, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That articles 2976, 2977, 2978, 2979, and 2980, title 54, of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, be and they are hereby so amended, and article 2981(a) so added thereto, that the same shall hereafter read as follows:

Article 2976. On all written contracts ascertaining the sum payable, when no specified rate of interest is agreed upon by the parties to the contract, interest shall be allowed at the rate of six per cent per annum from and after the time when the sum is due and payable.

Article 2977. On all open accounts, when no specified rate of interest is agreed upon by the parties, interest shall be allowed at the rate of six per cent per annum from the first day of January, after the same are made.

Article 2978. The parties to any written contract may agree to and stipulate for any rate of interest not exceeding ten per cent per annum on the amount of the contract.

Article 2979. All written contracts whatsoever, which may in any way, directly or indirectly, violate the preceding article by stipulating for a greater rate of interest than 10 per cent per annum, shall be void and of no effect for the amount or value of the interest only; but the principal sum of money or value of the contract may be received and recovered.

Article 2980. All judgments of the several courts of this state shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from and after the date of the judgment, except where the contract upon which the judgment is founded bears a specified interest greater than six per cent per annum and not exceeding ten per cent per annum, in which case the judgment shall bear the same rate of interest specified in such contract and after the date of such judgment.

Article 2981a. If usurious interest, as defined by the preceding articles, shall hereafter be received or collected, the person or persons paying the same, or their legal representatives, may by action of debt, instituted in any court of this state having jurisdiction thereof, within two years after such payment, recover from the person, firms or corporation receiving the same, double the amount of the interest so received or collected.

Sec. 2. "An act to be entitled an act to define and punish usury," passed at the regular session of the Twenty-second Legislature, and all other laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The fact that the laws of Texas regulating the rate of interest and defining usury are in great confusion and daily liable to work hardships on the people, and the necessity of putting into immediate effect the provisions of the recent amendment to the constitution, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the rules requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and said rule is so suspended and it [is] so suspended [enacted].

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a two-thirds vote—ayes 85, noes 6; and passed the senate April 9, 1892—vote not given.]

Approved April 11, 1892.

INJURIES RESULTING IN DEATH—ACTIONS FOR.

Sec. 1. Amends article 2899 R. S. as amended by act of March 25, 1887.

Article 2899. When damages for injuries resulting in death may be recovered.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 7.—[H. B. No. 20.] An act to amend article 2899 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas as amended by an act entitled "An act to amend article 2899 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas in relation to the recovery of damages for injuries resulting in death." passed by the Twentieth Legislature and approved March 25, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 2899 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 2899. An action for actual damages on account of injuries causing the death of any person may be brought in the following cases:

1. When the death of any person is caused by the negligence or carelessness of the proprietor, owner, charterer, hirer of any railroad, steamboat, stage coach, or other vehicle for the conveyance of goods or passengers, or by the unfitness, negligence or carelessness of their servants or agents; when the death of any person is caused by the negligence or carelessness of the receiver or receivers or other person or persons in charge or control of any railroad, their servants or agents, and the liability of receivers shall extend to cases in which the death may be caused by reason of the bad or unsafe condition of the railroad or machinery or other reason or cause by which an action may be brought for damages on account of injuries, the same as if said railroad were being operated by the railroad company.

2. When the death of any person is caused by the wrongful act, negligence, unskilfulness or default of another.

Sec. 2. The fact there is no law in force authorizing suits for damages for injuries resulting in death received on railroads in the hands of receivers, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity which requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended and this act shall take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing bill originated in the house and passed the same by a two-thirds vote—ayes 93, noes 2; and passed the senate by a two thirds vote—ayes 23, noes 1.]

Approved April 11, 1892.

ALIENS.

Sec.

1. No alien to own lands except as herein provided.
2. Does not apply to present owners nor bona fide inhabitants; alienation; naturalized citizens may hold real estate.
3. Aliens may enforce liens on land.

Sec.

4. Non-resident aliens may hold land for ten years; minors, etc.
5. Conveyances to evade the law are void.
6. Escheat proceedings.
7. Judicial sales; proceeds.
8. Repealing clause.
9. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 8.—[S. H. B. Nos. 22, 23 and 31.] An act to limit and regulate the ownership by aliens of real estate in the State of Texas, and to provide for the escheat of lands held contrary to law, and to repeal all laws in conflict with this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That no alien or person who is not a citizen of the United States shall acquire title to or own any land in the State of Texas except as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. This act shall not apply to land now owned in this state by aliens so long as it is held by the present owners, nor to any alien who is or shall become a bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas; and any alien who is or shall become a bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, shall have the right to acquire and hold lands in this state upon the same terms as citizens of the State of Texas, during the continuance of the bona fide residence of such alien in this state; provided, that if any such resident alien shall cease to be a bona fide inhabitant of this state, then such alien shall have ten years from the time he ceases to be such bona fide inhabitant, in which to alienate such lands. This act shall not be construed to prevent any persons not citizens of the United States from acquiring or holding lots or parcels of lands in any incorporated or platted city, town or village in this state; provided further, that any alien who shall become an actual resident of this state, and shall, in conformity with the naturalization laws of the United States, have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, shall have the right to acquire and hold real estate in this state in the same manner as if he was a citizen of the United States.

Sec. 3. This act shall not prevent aliens from acquiring lands, or any interest therein, in the ordinary course of justice in the collection of debts; nor from acquiring liens upon real estate, or any interest therein, nor from lending money and securing the same upon real estate, or any interest therein; nor from enforcing any such lien, nor from acquiring and holding title to such real estate, or any interest therein, upon which a lien may have heretofore or may hereafter be fixed, or upon which a loan of money may have been heretofore or hereafter may be made and secured.

Sec. 4. All non-resident aliens who may hereafter acquire real estate in Texas by devise, descent or by purchase, under the provisions of this act may hold the same for ten years; provided, that any such non-resident alien, if a minor, may hold such real estate for ten years from the time of reaching his or her majority, or if of unsound mind, for ten years after the appointment of a legal guardian.

Sec. 5. Any alien who shall hereafter hold lands in Texas in contravention of the provisions of this act may, nevertheless, convey the fee simple title thereof at any time before the institution of escheat proceedings as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that if any such conveyance shall be made by such alien, either to an alien or to a citizen of the United States, in trust and for the purpose and with the intention of evading the provisions of this act, such conveyance shall be null and void, and any such lands so conveyed shall be forfeited and escheat to the state absolutely.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of the attorney general, or the district or county attorney, when he shall be informed or have reason to believe that lands in this state are being held contrary to the provisions of this act, to institute suit, in behalf of the State of Texas, in the district court of the county where such lands are situated, praying for the escheat of the same, on behalf of the state, as in cases of estates of persons dying without devise thereof and having no heirs; provided, before any such suit is instituted, the attorney general, district or county attorney as the case may be, shall give ninety days notice by registered letter of his intention to sue, directed to the owner of said land or the person who last rendered same for taxes, or his agents, and to all other persons having an interest in such lands, of which the plaintiff has actual or constructive notice.

Sec. 7. If it shall be determined upon the trial of any such escheat proceedings that lands are held contrary to the provisions of this act, the court trying said cause shall render judgment condemning such lands and shall order the same to be sold as under execution; and the proceeds of such sale, after deducting cost of such suit, shall be paid to the clerk of such court so rendering judgment, and said fund shall remain in the hands of such clerk for one year from the date of such payment, subject to the order of the alien owner of such lands, or his heirs or legal representatives; and if not claimed within the period of one year, such clerk shall pay the same into the treasury of the state for the benefit of the available school fund of the State of Texas; provided, that when any moneys shall have been paid to the treasurer as hereinbefore provided, an alien, his heirs or assigns, may recover the same from the state in the same manner provided in articles 2155, 2156, 2157, 2158, 2159 and 2163 of chapter 27, title 37, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, relating to the recovery of funds of estates of decedents by the heirs and etc, where the same has been paid into the treasury by the administrator or executor; provided that the defendant at any time before final judgment may suggest that he has now conformed with the law, which being admitted or proved, said suit shall be dismissed on payment of costs and a reasonable attorney fee to be fixed by the court.

Sec. 8. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. The short time of the remainder of the session of the legislature, and the large amount of business pending before the legislature, creates an imperative public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule which requires bills to be read on three several days be and the same is hereby suspended.

and comptroller; unsold public lands not included in estimates.

4. Annual cash reserve for transfer to available fund.

5. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 9.—[H. B. No. 14.] An act carrying into effect constitutional amendment to article 7, section 5, transferring annually one per cent of the permanent to the available school fund.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That one per cent of the full value of what is known, held and controlled by the State of Texas, as the permanent school fund, shall be transferred annually hereafter to the credit of the available school fund of the state, as belonging to it, and a part of the same, and which henceforward shall constitute a part of the state's available school fund and to be used and applied for the support, maintenance and benefit of the public free schools of the state, as now or hereafter may be provided by law.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted: It shall be the duty of the comptroller and the state treasurer to notify the state board of education of the amount to the credit of the permanent school fund on the first to the fifteenth day of July of each and every year. The said statement shall show the amount invested, in bonds, the amount of outstanding land notes, and the amount of cash on hand to the credit of the permanent school fund. Upon the receipt of this information the state board of education shall estimate one per cent of the said permanent school fund and shall issue directions to the said comptroller and state treasurer to transfer the one per cent of the permanent fund thus found to the credit of the available school fund.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted: That it shall be the duty of the state comptroller and state treasurer, upon the receipt and delivery to them, by said board of education, of the showing and statement aforesaid, as set forth in section 2 of this act, to transfer and place to the credit of the available school fund of the state the amount found and ascertained by said board of education, as aforesaid, and accruing from the one per cent of the value of the permanent school fund, and transferred to the available school fund under section 1st of this act. Provided that no part or the value thereof, of the unsold public land belonging to said fund shall be included or considered by the comptroller and state treasurer in ascertaining the amount to be transferred from the permanent to the available free school fund.

Sec. 4. Be it further enacted: That it shall be the duty of the state board of education and comptroller, in the management and investment of the permanent school fund, to provide, reserve and set apart in cash, annually, an amount sufficient of same to meet the one per cent annual transfer to the available fund.

Sec. 5. The fact that the session is short, which renders it improbable that this bill can be considered in three several days, and that it is desirable and proper that this bill should go into effect at once, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule, requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

GUARDIAN AND WARD—SALES.

Sec.

1. Adds articles 2589a and 2589b to Revised Statutes, and amends articles 2578 and 2581.

Article 2578. Sales may be wholly or partly for cash, and public or private.

Article 2581. Terms of sale when made partly on credit; notes, etc.

Sec.

Article 2589a. Real estate may be mortgaged, when.

Article 2589b. Renewal of evidences of debt, when allowed.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 10.—[S. B. No. 23.] An act to amend articles 2578 and 2581 of chapter ten (10) of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, and to add thereto article 2589a, providing for a hypothecation of lands belonging to an estate in the hands of a guardian, and article 2589b, providing for the novation of existing indebtedness of estates in guardianship.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That articles 2589a and 2589b be added to chapter ten (10) of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, and that articles 2578 and 2581 of said chapter 10 be amended so as to read as hereinafter set forth:

Article 2578. A sale of real estate may be ordered by the court for cash, or for part cash and part credit, or wholly on credit, and if wholly on credit then for no longer period than twelve months, at public auction or at private sale as it may appear to the court to be most to the advantage of the estate.

Article 2581. The terms of sale of real estate when made partly on credit shall be that the cash payment be not less than one-fifth of the purchase price, and that the purchaser give his note or notes for the deferred payments maturing in equal annual amounts, the last note to mature not later than five years from date of deed, said notes to bear interest from date at a rate of interest of not less than six (6) per centum payable annually, and in default of the payment of principal or interest or any part thereof when due shall mature the whole debt; all notes for deferred payments to be secured by vendor's lien, retained in deed and notes upon the property sold, except where improved property or timbered lands are sold, in which exceptions the cash payment shall not be less than one-third of the appraised value of the property so sold. If a sale be made wholly for credit the purchaser's note must be secured by vendor's lien upon the property sold, and he shall also be required to furnish good personal security in addition to said lien, and the rate of interest shall not be lower than is provided in case of sales for part credit, and in every case the deferred payments shall be made payable in the county where the guardianship is pending.

Article 2589a. Should an estate in the hands of a guardian be involved in debt, and upon proper showing made to the court it shall appear that the guardian can pay off and discharge existing debts to the advantage of the estate by the hypothecation or mortgage of real estate at a lower rate of interest, or upon more advantageous terms than the old indebtedness, the court may, in its discretion, by order made for that purpose, allow the guardian to pay off and discharge existing debts by the execution of a good and sufficient mortgage or deed of trust upon real estate to secure the person furnishing the money with which to discharge said indebtedness. Acts of guardians under this article to be reported to the court and approved as in case of sales. Nor shall any guardian renew any indebtedness or evidence thereof except by order of the court made upon application and notice as in case of sales of land.

Article 2589b. Should a guardian not have sufficient funds in hand belonging to the estate of his ward to pay and discharge any existing debt, he may renew the evidence of the same in like manner as his ward could were he able to act, and such act of the guardian shall have the same force and effect with reference to such novated paper as if done by the ward. Provided, no such order shall be made if any creditor of said ward interpose any objection to the same before said order is granted. Provided, that no such guardian shall renew the evidences of any debt against the estate of his ward which shall become barred by the statutes of limitations, nor shall such guardian renew the evidences of any debt that may have been made or contracted by his ward during his minority or other disabilities.

Sec. 2. The fact that the law upon the subject of guardian and ward is in a most unsatisfactory condition, and that the enactment of a law providing for the amendments herein set out is of great importance, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

LIVE STOCK—PROTECTION OF.

Sec.

1. County judge on affidavit made, to order examination of animals; oath of inspectors.
2. Reports to county judge; duty of inspectors.
3. Condemned animals to be killed.

Sec.

4. Payment for animals killed; sheriff's fees.
5. Penalty for riding or driving infected animal on public highway.
6. This act is cumulative.
7. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 11.—[H. B. No. 27.] An act to prevent the spread of glanders and farcy among horses and other live stock in this state, and to provide a penalty for driving, riding or leading any animal infected with such diseases along or across any public highway in this state knowing them to be so infected, or permit such to run at large.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That if at any time it shall come to the knowledge of any county judge of any county in this state, by affidavit of any credible citizen of his county, stating that affiant has reason to believe and does believe that glanders or farcy exists among any horses, mules, jacks or jennets in said county, naming owner or owners of such animal or animals so infected, if known, if unknown so stating, it shall be the duty of such county judge, upon the filing of said affidavit, to immediately appoint three disinterested and intelligent citizens of said county, whose duty it shall be to carefully and minutely examine said animal or animals so reported to be diseased with glanders or farcy; said three citizens before entering upon the duties required of them by this act, shall take an oath before some officer legally qualified to administer oaths, that they will discharge their duties as prescribed by this act in a fair and impartial manner.

Sec. 2. If, after carefully and minutely examining the animal or animals so reported to be affected with glanders or farcy, said three citizens shall be of the opinion that the animal or animals so examined by them are diseased with glanders or farcy, they shall condemn the same and it shall be their duty to appraise such animal or animals at their just and full value at the time of such examination and condemnation, and shall forthwith report their action in writing to the county judge, giving in said report the number of animals condemned, if any, the owner or owners of same if known, and if unknown so stating it, with the appraised value of same. But if the said citizens have any reasonable doubt as to the diseased animals being affected with glanders or farcy, before condemning as above provided for, they shall require the owner or owners to have said diseased animals separated from contact with all other animals subject to contagion, for a reasonable time, and when they are fully satisfied that the disease is glanders or farcy, then they shall proceed to condemn and destroy said animals as provided for in this section.

Sec. 3. The county judge, upon the receipt of the report named in section 2 of this act, shall issue his order to the sheriff or any constable of his county commanding him to seize said diseased animal or animals and take same to some secluded place and kill them and bury or burn the carcass.

Sec. 4. After the said diseased animal or animals are killed, as provided in section 3 of this act, it shall be the duty of the county clerk, upon the written order of the county judge, to issue a warrant or warrants of the county, payable out of the general revenue, in favor of the owner or owners of said animal or animals so killed, for the amount of the value, as diseased, if the animal has any value, as appraised by said citizens who examined and condemned same. The sheriff or constable killing, burning or burying said animal or animals shall be paid by the county such sum as the commissioners' court thereof may determine their services worth.

Sec. 5. Any person who may drive, lead or ride any animal infected with said diseases of glanders or farcy, knowing them to be so infected, on, along or across any public highway in this state, or allow any such animal so diseased (knowing them to be so diseased and owning such animal) to run at large on the open range of any county in this state, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 6. This act does not repeal any law now in force for the prevention of glanders or farcy, but is cumulative thereto.

Sec. 7. Whereas, there is now no existing law to protect the live stock of this state from the spread of the diseases of glanders and farcy, an imperative public necessity and emergency exists, requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and it is hereby suspended.

LIENS—MECHANICS, ETC.

- Sec. 1. Repeals section 17, act of April 5, 1889.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 12.—[H. B. No. 47.] An act to repeal section seventeen of an act entitled "An act to provide for the speedy and efficient enforcement of the liens of mechanics, contractors, sub-contractors, builders, laborers, and material men, and to repeal all existing laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act," approved April 5, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section seventeen of the above entitled act, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The shortness of the present session of this legislature, the vast amount of business now pending before the legislature, and the crowded condition of the calender of same, creates and there exists an imperative public necessity requiring that the rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be and the same is hereby suspended, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 13.—[H. B. No. 10.] An act to provide for the registration of all votes in all cities containing a population of ten thousand inhabitants or more, and to protect the purity of the ballot in said cities, and to provide penalties for the violation of the same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That in all cities in this state having a population of ten thousand inhabitants or more, to be determined by the last United States decennial census, or by a census provided for by the commissioners court of the county where said election is to be held, there shall, upon the petition of five hundred citizens of such city, be, prior to each general election, either state, county or municipal, had a registration of all voters in said city in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. Each qualified elector of such city, under the constitution and laws of this state, shall be entitled to register; but no elector of such city who fails to register under the provisions of this act shall vote at any state, county, or city election for which registration is had under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 3. Each person offering to register under the provisions of this act shall give to the registrar hereinafter provided for, under oath if demanded, the following information, to-wit: His name, the street and number of his place of residence, the number of the ward in which he resides, and such other information touching his qualification as a voter in the city as may be necessary to establish his right to registration. Should the place of his residence not be numbered, then he shall give such description of his place of residence as will enable the same to be correctly located.

Sec. 4. There shall be appointed by the commissioners' court of each county in which there is located a city having a population of ten thousand inhabitants or more, one registrar of all the voters of each such city in said county, who shall be a qualified elector of the city, and shall hold his office for two years, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the registrar provided for in the preceding section, to register all the qualified electors of such city as is hereinafter provided, and to do and perform all other duties required of him by the provisions of this act.

Sec. 6. Said registrar shall when appointed, and before entering upon his duties as such, take and subscribe before some officer authorized by law to administer oaths, the oath of office prescribed by the state constitution for all state and county officers; which said oath of office shall be filed with the county clerk of the county in which such registrar is appointed. Upon the filing of said oath of office with the county clerk as herein provided, the county clerk shall issue to said registrar a certificate of his appointment and qualification, which said certificate shall be sufficient authority for the said registrar to do and perform all the official duties herein prescribed and required.

Sec. 7. Said registrar shall have authority to appoint and employ as many deputies, or assistants, who shall be qualified electors of said city, as may be necessary to the prompt and efficient discharge of his official duties; provided, there shall be appointed one deputy from each political party, if demanded by the chairman of the county executive committee of the party in said county two days prior to the opening of the registration books as in [is] hereinafter provided.

Sec. 8. Said registrar shall open the books of his office for the registration of all the voters in the city, on the first Tuesday of the month preceding and prior to the month in which the election is held for which registration is required under the provisions of this act; and said registrar shall keep the same open for the registration of voters for twenty consecutive days, Sunday excluded, from 8 a. m. till 8 p. m. of each day and no longer.

Sec. 9. Said registrar shall keep his office during the registration of the voters, in some convenient room or place; notice of the time and place of each registration of voters shall be given in some daily newspaper published in said city, for at least five consecutive days prior to the day of beginning such registration and during the time of such registration. But should there be no daily newspaper published in the said city, then notice may be given by printed hand bills, posted throughout the city for five consecutive days prior to the beginning of the registration and during the time of such registration. The publication of which notice shall be paid for in all state and county elections by the commissioners' court of the county, out of the general revenue fund of said county; and for all city elections, by the city council, out of the general revenue funds of the city.

Sec. 10. The registrar shall receive as compensation in full, for all services herein required, eight cents for each certificate of registration issued, to be paid in all state and county elections by the commissioners' court of the county out of the general revenue funds of the county; and in all city elections, by the city council of the city, out of the general revenue funds of the city. Upon the completion and delivery of the work as hereinafter provided, to the county clerk in all state and county elections, and to the city secretary in all city elections, the commissioners' court, or the city council, as the case may be, shall cause to be issued to the registrar a warrant on the treasurer for the full amount due on said work as herein provided, which shall be full compensation for all services performed.

Sec. 11. The commissioners' court shall furnish and supply the registrar with all necessary books, stationery and blank certificates of registration, and an office in which to perform all the necessary work of registration during the time he is necessarily engaged in the registration of voters as herein provided; but in all city elections the city council shall furnish and supply them.

Sec. 12. The registrar's books shall contain a list of all registered voters of the city, with the number of the certificate issued written opposite the name of the holder of the certificate, and the number of the ward in which the voter resides, and shall also indicate the color, or nationality of the holder of the certificate, or such other information as will enable the judges of election to determine the identity of the holder of the certificate, and shall also show the street and number of the residence of the voter, or such other information as will enable his place of residence to be correctly located.

Sec. 13. The registrar shall make a list of all the registered voters of his city for the use of the managers of the election of each ward in the city, which list shall be a true copy of his books as is required and provided for in section 12 of this act, which said lists shall be made out and filed with the county clerk, or city secretary as the case may be, at least five days prior to the day of election, which said lists shall then be furnished the presiding officer of the election of each ward in the city, as other election papers are furnished such presiding officers of election.

Sec. 14. Any person who shall illegally register as a qualified voter of any city under the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by confinement in the penitentiary for not less than one year, nor for more than two years.

Sec. 15. The registrar herein provided for is hereby authorized and empowered to administer all necessary oaths to applicants for registration, and also to all witnesses touching the qualifications of applicants for registration, and any person who shall swear falsely about his own qualifications as a voter of the city, or any person who shall, as a witness for the applicant for registration, swear falsely about the qualifications of such applicant, shall be deemed guilty of false swearing, and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished as is provided by law for the punishment of false swearing in other cases.

Sec. 16. Should the registrar have doubts, or not be satisfied as to the qualifications of the applicant for registration, he may, in addition to the oath of the applicant for registration, demand proof of the right of such applicant to register, before he shall issue to such applicant a certificate of registration; which proof shall consist of the sworn testimony of two well known citizens of the city, if demanded. Which oath or oaths shall be sworn and subscribed to by the applicant and by each of his witnesses separately, and the said oaths shall be filed and kept as a part of the records of the registrar's office.

Sec. 17. Each person who shall register under the provisions of this act shall receive a registration certificate, which shall be numbered to correspond with the number of registered certificates issued, and which shall in addition to the name of the holder, be dated and signed by the registrar, which certificate shall be preserved and presented to the judges of the election, and should the person presenting such certificate not correspond with the description of the person to whom issued, as appears on the registrar's books, then he shall not vote until he shall have satisfied the judges of the election of his right to vote.

Sec. 18. Each certificate of registration when presented and voted, shall have stamped or written thereon, by one of the judges of election, the word "Voted." No certificate shall be voted unless it corresponds with the name and number on the list of registered voters herein provided for, and the holder shall correspond with the other information contained on the list of registered voters furnished the managers of the election as herein provided, or that the judges of the election are satisfied that the holder of the certificate is the person to whom it was issued; and when voted, one of the judges of the election shall write or stamp opposite the name of the holder, the word "Voted" on the list. And when a certificate has been voted it shall be considered as exhausted, and shall be placed by one of the judges of the election in a closed box, and when the election is closed said box and contents shall be sealed up and deposited with the county clerk or city secretary, as the case may be, after having been labeled "Registered Certificates," and said box and contents shall be preserved by the said clerk or city secretary as is provided by law for the preservation of the ballots of the election.

Sec. 19. The list of registered voters shall at the close of the election be placed by the managers of the election in the envelope covering the returns to be delivered to the county clerk or city secretary as is provided by law, and shall be preserved by such officer in the same manner as is provided for the preservation of election returns thus made.

Sec. 20. Any person offering to vote in a city at any election for which registration has been had of all the voters of such city, shall not vote unless he presents a certificate of registration, as herein provided, or in case he has lost or mislaid his certificate, he shall so state, and if his name shall appear on the registered list, and he is known to the judges to be the person whose name thus appears on the registered list, or can furnish satisfactory evidence that he is the person whose name appears on the said list, then he shall be entitled to vote, provided the certificate has not been previously voted, in which case he shall not vote; and, provided further, that when any person does vote without presenting his certificate of registration as herein provided, then one of the judges or managers of the election shall stamp or write opposite his name on the registration list, the words "Voted. Certificate lost."

Sec. 21. Every male person who shall have become of the age of twenty-one (21) years by the day of election, and shall be otherwise a qualified elector, or shall have become a qualified voter of the city by the day of the election for which the registration is made, and is a bona fide citizen of the city in which he offers to register, shall be entitled to register as a qualified voter of the city, provided he shall establish the same as is herein provided.

Sec. 22. Any registrar who shall knowingly issue a registration certificate to any person not legally entitled to register under the provisions of this act, or who shall knowingly issue, or cause to be issued, a certificate of registration to any imaginary or fictitious person, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by confinement in the penitentiary for not less than one year, nor more than two years, for each and every such registration certificate so issued.

Sec. 23. The following safeguards and regulations shall be observed to secure the voter from interference while casting his ballot at said elections, to-wit: The polling places in the several precinct[s] in the city shall be provided with a guard rail, so constructed and placed that only such persons as are inside said rail can approach within six feet of the ballot boxes or compartments or booths at which electors are to prepare their ballots for voting. The arrangements shall be such that neither the ballot boxes or the voting booths or the electors while preparing their ballots shall be hidden from view of those just outside of the said guard rail or from the judges; and yet the same shall be far enough removed and so arranged that the elector may conveniently prepare his ballot for voting with secrecy. There shall be provided in each polling place not less than one such compartment or booth for every fifty electors to vote at such polling place; and every polling place shall have at least three of such compartments or booths which shall be made with three sides closed and the front side open and in size 32 inches wide, 32 inches deep, and 6 feet 4 inches high, containing a shelf, and shall be arranged with hinges to fold up when not in use, convenient for storage. The county judge, county clerk, and sheriff of each county shall constitute a board, a majority of whom may act, to provide the voting booths or compartments and guard rails required by this act. When said appliances have been provided, said board shall file with the county commissioners court a written report of their action, giving a detailed statement of the expenses incurred in providing said booths and guard rails, and it shall be the duty of said court to certify to the comptroller of public accounts the amounts due and to whom due and the number of booths and feet of guard rails provided. Upon receipt of said certificate the comptroller shall issue his warrant upon the state treasurer in favor of the parties to whom said account is due for one-half of said amount and the same shall be paid out of the state treasurer [treasury] and the residue thereof shall be paid by the respective counties. During the election and counting of ballots, no person other than the judges and clerks of elections, and the electors, admitted as herein provided for the purpose of providing their ballots and voting, shall be admitted or permitted to be within said rail.

Sec. 24. All ballots used by the voters at said elections shall be furnished by the officers conducting said election upon which shall be printed the names of all candidates for state, county, precinct, or city officers [offices] upon one ticket and arranged according to the respective parties to which the candidates may belong, and whenever a voter has been furnished with a ballot by any officer conducting the election the presiding officer shall stamp with a rubber stamp provided for this purpose the words "Official ballot" and no ballot cast without said words stamped upon it by the said presiding officer shall be counted at said election.

Sec. 25. All ballots used at any election shall be upon substantially the same character of paper which shall be white and any candidate shall have the right to have ballots printed such as are named in the preceding section which he must furnish to the presiding officer at least one day before the day of the holding of the election.

Sec. 26. Not more than one person shall at one time be permitted to occupy any one compartment or place provided for electors to prepare their ballots, except when an elector is unable to prepare his ballot he may [be] accompanied by the two judges to assist him, and no person shall remain in or occupy any such compartment longer than may be necessary to prepare his ballot.

Sec. 27. Any elector who declares to the presiding officer that he cannot read or write or that by blindness or other physical disability he is unable to prepare his ballot, shall upon request receive the assistance of two of the judges in the preparation thereof.

Sec. 28. Any officer upon whom a duty is imposed by this act, who shall disclose to any person the name of any candidate for whom any elector has voted or gives any information by which it can be ascertained for whom any elector has voted, or any judge or clerk of election or other officer about the polls who shall do any electioneering on election day, or any person who shall do any electioneering on election day within any polling place or within thirty feet of any polling place, or any person who shall remove any ballot from any polling place, or any person who shall knowingly apply or receive any ballot in any polling place other than that in which he is entitled to vote, or any person who shall show his ballot after it is marked to any person in such a way as to reveal the contents thereof, or the name of the candidate or candidates for whom he marked his ballot, or any person who shall, contrary to this act, examine his ballot or solicit the voter to show the same, or person other than an officer of election who shall deliver any ballot to an elector, or any elector who shall deliver a ballot to the presiding officer to be voted, except the one he received from the election officer, or any elector or any one who shall, contrary to the provisions of this act, place any mark upon or do anything to his ballot by which it may afterward be identified as the one voted by any particular individual, upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not less than fifty dollars and not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than three months nor more than one year or both, in the discretion of the court.

Sec. 29. Any judge or clerk of election who shall wilfully disregard any of the provisions of this act, or who shall negligently fail to enforce any of the provisions of this act or who shall, in counting the ballots or making the returns thereof, wilfully disregard any of the directions or requirements of this act, or any person who shall wilfully alter or destroy any ballot cast at an election or any of the returns of an election regulated by this act, or who shall introduce among the genuine ballots a fraudulent ballot, or any person who shall falsely write the initials of the presiding officer or any writing upon the ballot purporting to be written by the clerk or presiding officer, or any person who shall steal any of the ballots or returns, or wilfully or fraudulently hinder or delay the delivery of any election returns to the county clerk, or wilfully break open any of such sealed returns of any election regulated by this act, upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one year nor more than three years, or by fine of not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than two thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 30. Cities containing a population of ten thousand inhabitants or more may through their city councils adopt such methods not inconsistent with this act to protect the purity of the ballot in elections held at their municipal elections.

Sec. 31. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed, in so far as they conflict with the provisions of this act.

Sec. 32. The importance of preserving the purity of the ballot box, and limited time allotted this session of the legislature for the consideration of the business before it, creates an imperative public necessity which justifies the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires bills to be read on three several days in each house, and said rule is so suspended.

CHAP. 14.—[J. C. S. for S. B. No. 33 and H. B. No. 12.] An act to amend articles numbers 1002, 1005, 1011, 1012, 1014, 1017, 1019, 1023, 1024, 1025, 1033, 1039, 1043, 1044, 1049, 1050, 1056, 1057, 1058, 1060, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, and to add articles 1011a, 1011b, 1011c, 1011d, 1011e, and to repeal articles numbers 1006, 1007, 1008, 1009, 1034, 1035, 1036, 1037, 1038, 1045, 1046, 1048, of the same title of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, and to provide for the transfer of cases pending in the supreme court to the court of civil appeals.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That articles, numbers 1002, 1005, 1011, 1012, 1014, 1017, 1019, 1023, 1024, 1025, 1033, 1039, 1043, 1044, 1049, 1050, 1056, 1057, 1058, 1060, title 39, of the Revised Statutes of Texas be and the same are hereby so amended as to read as follows:

Article 1002. That the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court shall be elected by the qualified voters of the state at a general election. The judges of said court now in office shall hold their office until the expiration of the term for which they were elected, and until their successors are elected and qualified. As soon as practicable after the election of the successors to the present incumbents, the newly elected judges shall cast lots for the term of office. That one who shall draw number one shall hold his office for two years; the one drawing number two shall hold his office for four years, and the one drawing number three shall hold his office for six years; each to hold his office until his successor is elected and qualified; and each justice of the supreme court elected thereafter shall hold his office for six years and until his successor is elected and qualified, and shall each receive an annual salary of four thousand dollars.

Article 1005. The supreme court shall hold one term each year at the city of Austin, commencing on the first Monday in October of each year and may continue until the last Saturday in the next June.

Article 1011. That the supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the state, which shall extend to questions of law arising in all civil cases of which the courts of civil appeals have appellate but not final jurisdiction.

Article 1011a. All causes shall be carried up to the supreme court by writs of error issuing from the supreme court to the courts of civil appeals upon final judgment and not on judgments reversing and remanding causes except in the following cases, to-wit:

(1) Where the state is a party or where the railroad commissioners are parties.

(2) Cases which involve the construction and application of the constitution of the United States or of the State of Texas or of an act of congress.

(3) Cases which involve the validity of a statute of the state.

(4) Cases involving the title to a state office.

(5) Cases in which a civil court of appeals overrules its own decisions or the decision of another court of civil appeals or of the supreme court.

(6) Cases in which the judges of any court of civil appeals may disagree.

(7) Cases in which any two of the courts of civil appeals may hold differently on the same question of law.

(8) When the judgment of the court of civil appeals reversing a judgment practically settles the case, and this fact is shown in the petition for writ of error.

Article 1011b. Any party desiring to sue out a writ of error before the supreme court, shall present his petition to said court stating the names and residences of the parties adversely interested, with a brief statement of the nature of his case and the ground upon which the writ of error is prayed, and it must appear that the errors complained of arose upon questions of law, the determination of which were necessary to the decision of the cause in the court of civil appeals, and that said questions was [were] properly presented to said court, and it must further appear that the supreme court would have jurisdiction thereof; and the petition shall contain such other requisites as may be prescribed by the supreme court. The petition must be accompanied with a certified copy of the conclusions of law and fact filed in the cause by the court of civil appeals, with the opinion thereof, together with a certified copy of the judgment in the trial court and of the bond given in the lower court, if any, and if plaintiff in error has given no bond, then the supreme court in granting the writ shall specify what bond shall be given, and the plaintiff in error shall file said bond in the trial court to be approved by the clerk of said court, and a certified copy thereof shall be at once transmitted to the supreme court, and upon the filing of said certified copy, the clerk of the supreme court shall issue citation in error as may be prescribed by the rules of the supreme court.

Article 1011c. If it shall appear to the supreme court from an inspection of the petition and record that there is error in said judgment of the court of civil appeals, it shall grant a writ of error returnable in thirty days, in such manner as may be prescribed by said court.

Article 1011d. The supreme court shall from time to time make and promulgate suitable forms, rules and regulations for carrying into effect the foregoing articles relating to the jurisdiction and practice of the supreme court.

Article 1011e. The supreme court shall have the power, upon affidavit or otherwise, as the court may determine, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction.

Article 1012. The supreme court, or any justice thereof, shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus as may be prescribed by law; and the said court, or the justices thereof, may issue writs of mandamus, procedendo, certiorari and all writs necessary to enforce the jurisdiction of said court; and in term time or vacation may issue writs of quo warranto or mandamus against any district judge or officer of the state government, except the governor of the state.

Article 1014. The supreme court shall have power to make, establish and enforce all necessary rules of practice and procedure, not inconsistent with the laws of this state, for the government of said court and all other courts of the state, so as to expedite the dispatch of business in said courts.

Article 1017. There shall be appointed for the supreme court one clerk who shall reside at the place of holding court, which appointment shall be made by the court or the judges thereof and shall be entered of record in the proceedings of the court; and each person so appointed shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the oath prescribed by the constitution, before some officer authorized to administer oaths generally, and shall enter into a bond with two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the court or judges thereof, payable to the governor and his successors in office, in the penalty of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, and that he correctly records the judgments, decrees, decisions and orders of the said court, and deliver over to his successor in office all records, minutes, books and papers and whatever belongs to his said office of clerk, which bond and oath shall, without delay, be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and shall not be void on first recovery, but may be put in suit and prosecuted by any party injured until the amount thereof be recovered.

Article 1019. The clerk of the supreme court shall hold his office for the term of four years from his appointment, but may be removed therefrom for neglect of duty or misconduct of office, by the supreme court, on motion, of which the clerk against whom complaint is made shall have ten days previous notice, specifying the particular charges of negligence or misconduct in office preferred; and in every such case, the court shall determine the law and the facts; and whenever the necessity occurs, the supreme court may appoint a clerk pro tempore. The clerk of the supreme court shall receive as compensation for his services, a salary of twenty-five hundred dollars per annum, and he shall collect and pay into the treasury of the state all fees and costs to be collected by him over and above the salaries allowed him and his deputies, under such further rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by the comptroller, not in conflict with this act: such rules and regulations to be subject to the approval of the judges of the supreme court, to be entered of record in the minutes of said court. The supreme court shall also appoint a stenographer for said court at an annual salary of fifteen hundred dollars.

Article 1023. The clerk of the supreme court may appoint not more than two deputies at any time, whenever authorized to do so by a majority of the judges of the supreme court, which authority shall appear of record in the minutes of said court. Said deputies may discharge all the duties required by law of said clerk, and said deputies shall be required to give bond in the same manner and amount as the clerk of said court and to be approved by the judges of said court. Said deputies shall receive as compensation for their services such sum as shall be unanimously agreed on by the judges of the supreme court, this action to appear of record in the minutes of the court, not to exceed fifteen hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the fees collected by the clerk of said court; and the judges of the supreme court may dispense with the services of any or all of such deputies, or for any length of time whatever, as in their discretion they may deem to be to the public interest.

Article 1024. The clerk of the supreme court shall be librarian in charge of the library of said court.

Article 1025. It shall be the duty of such librarian to take charge of and keep together and in good order, and make catalogues of the books of said libraries, which shall be open to the public use under such rules as may be prescribed by the court for the safe keeping thereof; provided, the books shall not be removed from the library room except by the judges of the court and by members of the legislature during the session of the legislature, upon their receipt for the same to the clerk.

Article 1033. In all cases of writs of error or certificates of error to the supreme court, the trial shall be only upon the question of law upon which the writ of error was allowed, or which was certified to the supreme court from a court of civil appeals; but the supreme court may require at any time the original transcript to be sent up.

Article 1039. When any cause or suit may be taken to the supreme court by writ of error, the briefs and arguments filed in the court of civil appeals shall be submitted to the supreme court, and in addition thereto, the attorney for either party may file additional briefs, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the supreme court. In cases appealed to the supreme court before the organization of the court of civil appeals, parties thereto shall not be required to file briefs in the supreme court, and shall have the time provided in the act of civil appeals for filing their briefs in the civil court of appeals after the cases have been transferred from the supreme court to the court of civil appeals.

Article 1043. There shall be no reversal or dismissal for want of form; provided, that the requirements of the law and the rules of the court be sufficiently complied with in presenting the case to enable the court to determine the same upon its merits. In each case the supreme court shall affirm the judgment, reverse and render the judgment which the court of civil appeals ought to have rendered, or reverse the judgment and remand the case to the lower court, if it shall appear that the justice of the case demands another trial.

Article 1044. If any party to the record, in any cause now pending in or hereafter taken to the supreme court or court of appeals, by appeal or writ of error, shall have died heretofore, or shall hereafter die, after the appeal bond has been filed and approved, or after the writ of error has been served, and before such cause has been decided by the supreme court or court of civil appeals, such cause shall not abate by such death, but the court shall proceed to adjudicate such cause and render judgment therein as if all the parties thereto were living, and such judgment shall have the same force and effect as if rendered in the lifetime of all the parties thereto.

Article 1049. Whenever the supreme court on the trial of a cause brought from any court of civil appeals, shall affirm the judgment or decree of such court, or when said court shall proceed to render such judgment or decree as should have been rendered by the court of civil appeals, and such judgment shall be for the same or a greater amount, or of the same nature as rendered in the court below, said court shall render judgment against plaintiff in error and his sureties on his bond, a copy of which shall always accompany the transcript of the record.

Article 1050. The judgment of said court shall be final at the expiration of fifteen days from the rendition thereof, when no motion for rehearing has been filed; and upon the rendition of final judgment, the clerk of the supreme court, upon payment of costs, shall issue the mandate in the case. If for any cause the said court should set aside its judgment after the mandate has been issued, the clerk of the supreme court shall at once notify the party to whom the mandate was delivered, and the clerk of the court to which it was directed, to return it at once. All mandates from the said court shall issue to the court in which the original judgment was entered.

Article 1056. All writs and process issuing from the supreme court shall bear the test of the chief justice or presiding judge of said court, and be under the seal of said court and signed by the clerk thereof, and may be directed to the sheriff or any constable of any county in the state, and shall be by such officer executed according to the demand thereof, and returned to the court from which they emanated; and whenever such writs or process shall not be executed, the clerk of the said court is hereby authorized and required to issue another like process or writ upon the application of the party suing out the former writ or process to the same or any other county.

Article 1057. Upon the rendition by the supreme court of any such judgment or decree as is contemplated by article 1049, it shall not be necessary for the lower court from which the cause was removed to make any further order or decree therein, but the clerk of said lower court, on the receipt of the mandate of the supreme court or court of civil appeals, shall proceed to issue execution thereon as in other cases.

Article 1058. The clerk of the supreme court shall not deliver the mandate of the court until all costs of that court and of the court of civil appeals have been paid. If the costs have not been paid at the end of fifteen days from the date of judgment or from the overruling of a motion for rehearing, the said clerk may issue an execution for the costs of the supreme court and the court of civil appeals, specifying the amount of each, and attaching to said execution a correct list of all costs accruing in each of said courts. Said execution shall be directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county from which the cause was removed, or to any county in which the person or persons, liable under such execution, or either of them, may have property. It shall be the duty of every sheriff or constable receiving such execution to execute and return the same under the same rules, regulations and liabilities as provided for executions from the district court.

Article 1060. In case any officer shall fail or refuse to make such return with the amount of such costs, if he has collected the same, within the time prescribed herein, or shall make a false or fraudulent return of any such execution, the clerk of said supreme court may issue citation returnable forthwith to such officer to appear before the said supreme court, and show cause, if any he can, why he has not collected and returned such costs and execution; and failing to show cause, said court may enter judgment against such officer and the sureties on his official bond for twice the amount of said costs, together with the cost of such proceeding. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the supreme court, when he shall receive any money due the clerk of any court of civil appeals, to pay the same over to such clerk of the court of civil appeals, and if he refuses to do so upon demand, the clerk of the said court of civil appeals may file in the supreme court a motion against the said clerk so failing, and upon ten days notice given to him the said supreme court may enter judgment against said clerk of the supreme court and the sureties on his official bond for double the amount of the costs so collected by him and due to said clerk of the court of civil appeals.

Sec. 2. The supreme court is authorized and required to appoint a reporter for its decisions, whose duties and compensation shall be the same as are now fixed by law, and he shall be subject to removal by the court for inefficiency or neglect or other good cause. The reporter shall be allowed such additional compensation for reporting the decisions of the civil courts of appeal as the supreme court shall deem just; and the court may appoint a bailiff to attend the sitting of the court who shall receive an annual salary of three hundred dollars.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, That articles numbers 1006, 1007, 1008, 1009, 1034, 1037, 1038, 1045, 1046, 1048, of title 36, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, be and the same are hereby repealed. All laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. All causes that may be pending in the supreme court of Texas, when the civil courts of appeals shall have been organized, shall be transferred by said supreme court to the court of civil appeals to which it would be returnable under the law organizing such courts, and shall be decided under the same rule as obtained when any such appeal was perfected. Said causes shall be accompanied by a certified copy of all orders made by said supreme court, together with a certified copy of all costs which have accrued therein; and when said cause has been finally disposed of by said court of civil appeals, the clerk of said court shall include said costs in the bill of costs accruing in said court of civil appeals, and shall collect the same at the same time and in the same manner as the costs which have accrued in the court of civil appeals, and when so collected he shall pay the same over to said clerk of the supreme court. That all bonds and obligations theretofore given in said cause to abide the judgment, sentence or decree of said court, or to pay the costs of said court, shall be deemed and held to apply to said civil court of appeals as if hereafter given under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 5. All records that have been finally disposed of by the supreme court, remaining at the Tyler and Galveston branches, when this act goes into effect, shall be transferred to said court at Austin; and the supreme court shall make such orders as may be necessary to carry this law into effect, and shall allow the clerk at Austin such compensation as they may deem just and reasonable for arranging and classifying said records and placing them in the transcript rooms.

Sec. 6. The fact that the present session of the legislature is limited and rapidly drawing to a close, and the importance of this bill becoming a law, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1892.

Approved April 13, 1892.

CHAP. 15.—[J. C. S. for S. B. No. 32 and H. B. No. 11.] An act to organize the courts of civil appeals, to define their jurisdiction and powers and to prescribe the mode of procedure therein.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That each of the courts of civil appeals now or hereafter organized in this state shall consist of a chief justice and two associate justices, and the concurrence of two justices shall be necessary to the decision of a case.

Sec. 2. The chief justice and associate justices of each of the courts of civil appeals shall be elected by the qualified voters of the respective districts composed of the counties returnable to the several courts at a general election. Upon their qualification, after the first election after the creation of any court of civil appeals in this state, the justices thereof shall draw lots for the terms of office, and those drawing No. 1 shall hold their offices for the term of two years; those drawing No. 2 shall hold their offices for a term of four years, and those drawing No. 3, shall hold their offices for a term of six years from the date of their election and until their successors are elected and qualified. Each of said offices shall be filled by election at the next general election at which terms as aforesaid would expire, and the person elected shall thereafter hold his office for six years and until his successor is elected and qualified, and shall receive each an annual salary of three thousand and five hundred dollars, and no more.

Sec. 3. No person shall be eligible to the office of chief justice or associate justice of the court of civil appeals unless he be at the time of his election a citizen of the United States and of this state, and a resident of the district for which he is elected, and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years, and shall have been a practicing lawyer or a judge of a court in this state, or such lawyer and judge together, at least seven years.

Sec. 4. In case of a vacancy in the office of chief justice or associate justice of any court of civil appeals, the governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for state officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the district composed of counties returnable to said court.

Sec. 5. The appellate jurisdiction of the courts of civil appeals shall extend to civil cases within the limits of their respective districts:

(1) Of which the district court has original or appellate jurisdiction.

(2) Of which the county court has original jurisdiction.

(3) Of which the county court has appellate jurisdiction when the judgment or amount in controversy shall exceed one hundred dollars exclusive of interest and costs. The judgment of the courts of civil appeals shall be conclusive in all cases upon the facts of the case and a judgment of such courts shall be conclusive on facts and law in the following cases; nor shall a writ of error be allowed thereto from the supreme court, to-wit:

(1) Any civil case appealed from a county court or from a district court when under the constitution a county court would have had original or appellate jurisdiction to try it, except in probate matters and in cases involving the revenue laws of the state or the validity of a statute.

(2) All cases of boundary.

(3) All cases of slander and divorce.

(4) All cases of contested elections of every character other than for state officers, except where the validity of a statute is attacked by the decision.

The judgments of said courts of civil appeals shall be final in all appeals from interlocutory orders appointing receivers or trustees or such other interlocutory appeals as may be allowed by law, and the judgment of said court shall be final in all other cases as to law and facts except where appellate jurisdiction is given to the supreme court and not made final in said courts of civil appeals.

Sec. 6. The said courts and the judges thereof shall have the power to issue writs of mandamus and all other writs necessary to enforce the jurisdiction of said court.

Sec. 7. The said courts shall have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, as by the courts may be thought proper, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of their jurisdiction.

Sec. 8. The said courts shall have power to punish any person for a contempt of said court, according to the principles and usages of law in like cases, not to exceed one thousand dollars fine or imprisonment not exceeding twenty days.

Sec. 9. The said courts, or any judge thereof, in vacation may issue the writ of mandamus to compel a judge of the district court to proceed to trial and judgment in a cause agreeably to the principles and usages of law, returnable on or before the first day of the next term, or during the session of the same, or before any judge of the said court, as the nature of the case may require.

Sec. 10. There shall be appointed for each of the courts of civil appeals one clerk who shall reside at the place of holding court, which appointment shall be made by the court or the judges thereof, and shall be entered of record in the proceedings of the court, and each person so appointed shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the oath prescribed by the constitution, before some officer authorized to administer oaths generally, and shall enter into a bond with two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the court or any judge thereof, payable to the governor and his successor in office, in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office and that he will correctly record the judgments, decrees, decisions and orders of said courts, and deliver over to his successor in office all records, minutes, books and papers and whatever belongs to his said office of clerk, which bond and oath shall without delay, be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and shall not be void on the first recovery but may be put in suit and prosecuted by any party injured until the amount thereof is recovered.

Sec. 11. If, in vacation, the office of clerk may become vacant, the appointment shall be made by the chief justice and the associates of said court, or by any one of said associates and chief justice; and the person so appointed shall give bond and take the oath as prescribed in the preceding section, the bond to be approved by any judge of the court, which bond and oath shall be deposited in the same manner as though the appointment had been made in term time, and may be prosecuted and put in suit in like manner; copies of said bond, certified under the hand of the secretary of state and the seal of the state, shall be received in evidence in any court in the state, in the same manner as the original would be were it presented in court; and the said appointment shall continue until regular term of the said court, and until a regular appointment shall be made.

Sec. 12. The clerk of each of said courts shall hold his office for a term of two years from his appointment, but may be removed therefrom for neglect of duty or misconduct in office, by the court of civil appeals, on motion, of which the clerk against whom complaint is made shall have ten days previous notice, specifying the particular charges of negligence or misconduct in office preferred; and in every such case the court shall determine both the law and the facts; and whenever the necessity occurs, the court may appoint a clerk pro tempore.

Sec. 13. It shall be duty of the clerk of each court of civil appeals to procure a seal for the use of the court, which shall have a star of five points, with the words "Court of Civil Appeals of the State of Texas" engraved thereon.

Sec. 14. The clerks of said court shall file and carefully preserve the transcripts of all records certified to said court, and all papers relative thereto, and shall docket all causes in the order in which they are filed.

Sec. 15. The said clerk shall faithfully record the proceedings and decisions of said court and certify their judgments to the court from which the causes were brought.

Sec. 16. The clerk of each court may appoint deputies, who, in the name of said clerk, may discharge all the duties required by law of said clerk, and said deputies may be required to give bonds with sureties to said clerk for the faithful discharge of their duties; which deputies shall be paid out of the fees collected by the clerk not to exceed twelve hundred dollars per annum to each deputy.

Sec. 17. The clerk of each of said courts shall be librarian in charge of the libraries of said court, except the library at Austin, which shall be under the control of the clerk of the supreme court.

Sec. 18. It shall be the duty of such librarian to take charge of and keep together in good order, and make catalogues of the books of said library, which shall be open to the public use under such rules as may be prescribed by the court for the safe keeping thereof; provided, the books shall not be removed from the library room, except by the judges of the court.

Sec. 19. The clerks of each of the courts of civil appeals shall, within ten days after the first days in January and July, make a report under oath to said courts, showing the amount of costs collected by him during the preceding six months and also the cases in which the same was collected, and the disposition made of such costs. Such report shall be filed and recorded in the minutes of the court.

Sec. 20. In any appeal or writ of error as provided for in this act, the appellant or plaintiff in error shall file the transcript with the clerk of the court of civil appeals within ninety days from the perfecting of the appeal or service of the writ of error; provided, that for good cause the court may permit the transcript to be thereafter filed upon such terms as it may prescribe.

Sec. 21. In case the appellant or plaintiff in error shall fail to file a transcript of the record, as directed in this act, then it shall be lawful for the appellee or defendant in error to file with the clerk of said court a certificate of the clerk of the district or county court in which any such appeal or writ of error may have been taken, attested by the seal of his court, stating the time when such appeal was perfected, or such citation was served; whereupon it shall be the duty of the court of civil appeals to affirm the judgment of the court below, unless good cause can be shown why such transcript was not filed by the appellant or plaintiff in error. If a copy of the bond accompanies such certificate of the clerk of the district or county court, the judgment shall in like manner be affirmed against the sureties on such bond.

Sec. 22. In all cases where the court of civil appeals shall have affirmed the judgment of the court below, under the provisions of the preceding section, said court may, at any time within fifteen days after such affirmance, permit the transcript to be filed by the appellant or plaintiff in error, and the case to be tried on its merits; provided, the appellant or plaintiff in error shall show to the court good cause why the transcript was not filed by him in accordance with the provisions of section 20, and shall also show to said court that he has given the appellee or defendant in error notice of his intention to apply for such permission to file said transcript; and in cases where the court shall adjourn within fifteen days after any judgment shall have been affirmed under the provisions of the next preceding section, the court may permit the appellant or plaintiff in error to file said transcript at such time as may be deemed proper, and have said cause tried on its merits; provided, said appellant or plaintiff in error shall show good cause why said transcript was not filed as herein directed, and shall show to the court that he has given the appellee or defendant in error notice of his intention to apply for permission to file said transcript.

Sec. 23. When a cause is carried to the courts of civil appeals by writ of error, it shall be docketed in the order of the date received, and the clerk shall transfer said cause to the trial docket thirty days after the same has been received and docketed; provided, that the court may upon motion of either party, of which notice shall be given to the adverse party, extend the time for placing said cause on the trial docket for good cause shown. Causes on the trial docket of said court shall be heard in the order of the date of filing, except as hereinafter provided, unless continued to some future time for good cause shown, and it shall be the duty of the clerk under the directions of the court to notify the parties or the attorneys of record, of the date when the cause is set for hearing.

Sec. 24. In all cases of appeal or writ of error to the court of civil appeals, the trial shall be on a statement of facts or agreed statement of the pleadings and proof, as agreed upon by the parties or their attorneys, or the conclusions of law and fact as the case may be, certified to by the judge of the court below; or should the parties fail to agree, then the judge of the court below shall certify the facts; or on a bill of exceptions to the opinion of the judge; or on a special verdict; or on an error in law, either assigned or apparent on the face of the record; and in the absence of all these, the case shall be dismissed with costs alone, or with costs and damages, at the discretion of the court. And the court shall admit as part of the record to be examined by them in the trial of a cause every bill of exception not signed by the judge trying the cause below, upon its appearing to the satisfaction of the court that the facts are fairly stated therein; that said bill was prepared in accordance with the law governing the preparation of such bills, and that the judge trying the cause refused to sign the same; and the truth of any such bill of exceptions shall be determined by the court on the copies of the affidavits required by law to be made in such cases, such copies to be contained in and to form a part of the record transmitted to the court of civil appeals.

Sec. 25. The appellant or plaintiff in error shall, in all cases, file with the clerk of the court below all assignments of error distinctly specifying the grounds on which he relies before he takes the transcript of the record from the clerk's office; all errors not distinctly specified are waived.

Sec. 26. When any cause or suit may be taken up from any inferior court to the court of civil appeals, whether by appeal, writ of error or otherwise, it shall be lawful for the attorney both for the plaintiff and defendant, to file in the papers of said suit or cause his written brief or argument; and the said court shall be required to notice the same as if it were the personal appearance of said attorney, and shall not dismiss any suit or cause where such brief or argument of counsel is filed with the papers, for want of other or further prosecution.

Sec. 27. No judge of the court of civil appeals shall sit in any cause wherein he may be interested in the question to be determined, or where either of the parties may be connected with him by affinity or consanguinity, within the third degree, or where he shall have been of counsel in the cause; and where the court, or any two of its members, shall be thus disqualified to hear and determine any cause or causes in said court, that fact shall be certified to the governor, who shall immediately commission the requisite number of persons, learned in the law, for the trial and determination of said cause or causes.

Sec. 28. The cases filed in the court of civil appeals shall be decided in the order in which they are filed at each term of the court, but the following cases shall have precedence of all others in the order named:

- (1) All cases in which the railway commission is a party.
- (2) Cases in which the state is a party.
- (3) Cases which shall be submitted on oral argument for all parties to the cause.
- (4) Such other cases as the court by order or rule may direct.

On the call of cases the court shall set down the causes for argument for such time as the same can be heard, and notice of which shall be given to counsel as heretofore provided, and said cause shall be determined upon argument, or as soon thereafter as practicable, or it shall be set down for further argument but may be postponed by order of the court to a later day in the term.

Sec. 29. There shall be no reversal or dismissal, on appeal or writ of error, for want of form; provided sufficient matter or substance be contained in the record to enable the court to decide the cause upon its merits; and where the court shall be of opinion that an appeal or writ of error has been taken for delay and that there was no sufficient cause for taking such appeal, then and in that case the appellant or plaintiff in error, if he be the defendant in the court below, shall pay ten per centum on the amount in dispute, as damages, together with the judgment, interest and costs of suit thereon accruing. If in any judgment rendered in the district or county court there shall be an excess of damages rendered, and before the plaintiff has entered a release of the same in such court in the manner provided by law, such judgment shall be removed to the court of civil appeals, it shall be lawful for the party in whose favor such excess of damages has been rendered to make such release in the court of civil appeals in the same manner as such release is required to be made in the district or county court; and upon such release being filed in the said court, after revising said judgment said court of civil appeals shall proceed to give such judgment as the court below ought to have given if the release had been filed therein.

Sec. 30. If any party to the record in any cause hereafter taken to the court of civil appeals, by appeal or writ of error, or transferred from the supreme court or court of appeals, shall have died heretofore, or shall hereafter die after the appeal bond has been filed and approved, or after the writ of error has been served, and before such cause has been decided, such cause shall not abate by such death, but the court shall proceed to adjudicate such cause and render judgment therein as if all parties thereto were still living, and such judgment shall have the same force and effect as if rendered in the life time of the parties thereto.

Sec. 31. After a cause is decided in the court of civil appeals, a conclusion of the facts and law of the case shall be filed in said cause within thirty days after the decision of the same; provided, it shall not be necessary to file said conclusion in causes in which no writ of error will lie to the supreme court; but where a cause is reversed, then the court shall file the reasons for reversing the same.

Sec. 32. When any one of said civil courts of appeal shall in any cause or proceeding render a decision in which any one of the judges therein sitting shall dissent as to any conclusions of law material to the decision of the case, said judge shall enter the grounds of his dissent of record, and the said court of civil appeals shall upon motion of the party to the cause, or on its own motion, certify the point or points of dissent to the supreme court.

Sec. 33. When a certificate of dissent is sent up by any court of civil appeals, it shall be the duty of the clerk to send up a certified copy of the judgment of the court below, with a certified copy of the conclusion of facts and law as found by the court, and the questions of law upon which there is a division, and the original transcript if so ordered by the supreme court; and thereupon, if the supreme court so direct, the clerk shall set down the same for argument and notify the attorneys of record.

Sec. 34. After the question is decided the supreme court shall immediately notify the court of civil appeals of their decision and the same shall be entered as the judgment of said court of civil appeals.

Sec. 35. Whenever, in any case pending before the court of civil appeals, of which said court of civil appeals has final jurisdiction, there should arise an issue of law that is novel, or presenting a question of first impression to the court, and the court of civil appeals should deem it advisable to present the issue to the supreme court for adjudication, it shall be the duty of the presiding judge of said court to certify the very question to be decided to the supreme court, and during the pendency of the decision by the supreme court the cause in which the issue is raised shall be retained for final adjudication in accordance with the decision of the supreme court upon the issue submitted.

Sec. 36. When the judgment or decree of the court below shall be reversed, the court shall proceed to render such judgment or decree as the court below should have rendered, except when it is necessary that some matter of fact be ascertained or the damage to be assessed or the matter to be decreed is uncertain, in either of which cases the cause shall be remanded for a new trial in the court below.

Sec. 37. Whenever the court of civil appeals, on the trial of cases brought from an inferior court, shall affirm the judgment or decree of such inferior court, or when said court shall proceed to render such judgment or decree as should have been rendered by the court below and such judgment shall be for the same or a greater amount or of the same nature as rendered in the court below, said court shall render judgment against the appellant or plaintiff in error, and his sureties on the appeal bond, a copy of which shall always accompany the transcript of the record; and said court of civil appeals shall in their discretion include in their said judgment or decree such damages, not exceeding ten per cent on the amount of the original judgment, as the court may deem proper; and the judgment or decree of said court rendered as contemplated in this section shall be final.

Sec. 38. If no writ of error be sued out or motion for rehearing be filed within thirty days after the conclusions or decision of the court has been entered in any court of civil appeals, the clerk of the court shall, upon application of either party and the payment of all costs, issue a mandate upon said judgment; and in any cause reversed by said court the appellant shall be entitled to an execution against the appellee for costs occasioned by such appeal, including costs for the transcript, said costs to be taxed by the clerk of the said court.

Sec. 39. When there is a defect of substance or form in any appeal or writ of error bond, on motion to dismiss the same, for such defect, the court may allow the same to be amended by filing in said court of civil appeals a new bond on such terms as the court may prescribe.

Sec. 40. A majority of the several courts of civil appeals shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The said courts may adjourn from day to day or for such time as may be deemed proper by the judges thereof; but if a sufficient number of the judges shall not be present at the first or any day of the term, any judge of the court, or the sheriff attending the same, may adjourn the court from time to time, until a quorum shall be in attendance, but the court shall not be finally adjourned for the term.

Sec. 41. Any party desiring a rehearing of any matter determined by said courts may, within fifteen days after the date of entry of the judgment or decision of the court, or the filing of the findings of fact and conclusions of law, file with the clerk of said court his motion in writing for rehearing thereof, in which motion the grounds relied upon for rehearing shall be distinctly specified and the name and residence of the counsel of the opposing party, if known, and if not known, then the name and residence of the opposing party as shown in the record; provided, that should the court adjourn within less than fifteen days after the rendition of the judgment, the motion may be made as [at] such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by rules to be made by the supreme court.

Sec. 42. Upon the filing of such motion with the clerk of said court, he shall make a certified copy thereof and transmit the same by mail to the sheriff or any constable of the county in which the attorney or opposing party, as the case may be, is alleged in said motion to reside, together with a precept commanding him to deliver the copy of the motion to the person named in such precept.

Sec. 43. Upon the receipt of such precept and copy of motion by the officer, it shall be his duty to deliver the copy of the motion to the person named in said precept, if found in his county, and to return said precept to the court from which it issued, by mail, stating thereon in what manner he executed the same, or that the party named in the precept is not to be found in his county, as the case may be.

Sec. 44. At any time after five days from the return of such precept served, it shall be lawful for said court to hear and determine such motion for rehearing, and not sooner.

Sec. 45. All writs and process issuing from the court of civil appeals shall bear the test of the chief justice or presiding judge of said court, under the seal of said court, and signed by the clerk thereof, and shall be directed to the sheriff or any constable of any county in the state, and shall be by such officer executed according to the command thereof and returned to the court from which they emanated; and whenever such writ or process shall not be executed, the clerk of said court is hereby authorized and required to issue another like process or writ upon the application of the party suing out the former writ or process to the same or any other county.

Sec. 46. Upon the rendition by the court of civil appeals of any such judgment or decree as is contemplated by section 37, it shall not be necessary for the lower court from which the cause was removed to make any further order or decree therein, but the clerk of said lower court, on receipt of the mandate of the supreme court or court of civil appeals, shall proceed to issue execution thereon as in other cases.

Sec. 47. On the rendition of any final judgment or decree by the court of civil appeals the clerk of said court shall not issue and deliver the mandate of the court, or certify the proceedings to the lower court, until all of the costs accruing in the cause in the court of civil appeals have been paid. If neither party shall pay the costs and take out the mandate within thirty days after the time when the same can be issued by law, then it shall be the duty of the clerk to issue execution for the costs accruing in his court against the party against whom such costs have been adjudged, and to send such execution by mail to the proper officer for collection, but he shall retain the mandate until the costs shall have been paid or collected.

Sec. 48. All executions for costs of the court of civil appeals, as authorized by law, shall be returned by the sheriff or constable to whom they are directed within four months from the date thereof.

Sec. 49. In case any officer shall fail or refuse to make such return with the amount of such costs, if he has collected the same, within the time prescribed herein, or shall make a false or fraudulent return of any such execution, the clerk of said court may issue citation returnable forthwith to such officer to appear before said court and show cause, if any he can, why he has not collected and returned said costs and execution; and failing to show cause, said court may enter judgment against such officer and the sureties on his official bond for twice the amount of said costs, together with the costs of such proceeding.

Sec. 50. The clerk of each of the courts of civil appeals shall be entitled to a salary of twenty-five hundred dollars per annum to be paid out of the fees collected by him, and he shall collect and pay into the treasury of the state all fees and costs collected by him over and above the salary herein allowed, under such further rules and regulations not in conflict with this act as shall be prescribed by the comptroller and to be approved by the judges of each court of civil appeals.

Sec. 51. Each court of civil appeals shall appoint one stenographer who shall discharge such duties as may be required by the court, shall be duly sworn to keep secret all matters which may come to his knowledge as said stenographer, shall receive a salary of twelve hundred dollars per annum, and shall each give bond with two or more sureties in the sum of five thousand dollars, payable to the State of Texas, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of said office.

Sec. 52. The reporter of the supreme court shall also be reporter of the court of civil appeals, and the decision [s] of said courts of civil appeals shall be published and sold by the state in the same manner as is now provided by law for the publication and sale of the supreme court reports.

Sec. 53. All notices required herein to be given by the court of civil appeals to the parties or their attorneys of record in any case, shall be served by the clerk of said court transmitting said notice to said attorneys by registered letter through the mail, properly directed. Registration receipts shall be filed and kept by the clerk with the record of the cause. And all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 54. The fact that the present session is rapidly drawing to a close and is limited by law, and the importance of this bill, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read in each house on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted; and it is further enacted that this bill take effect and be in force on and after the 1st day of September, A. D. 1892.

Approved April 13, 1892.

CHAP. 16.—[H. B. No. 62.] An act to organize the court of criminal appeals of the State of Texas, to define the jurisdiction thereof, to prescribe the procedure therein, to fix the places and times of holding the terms of said court, to repeal articles 1064, 1065, 1066, 1067, 1069, 1070, 1071, 1072, 1073, 1074, 1075, 1076, 1077, 1078, 1079, 1080, 1081, 1082, 1083, 1084, 1085, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, to repeal articles 64, 65, 66, 67, 838, 840, 841, 843, 844, 846, 852, 853, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 1040, 1050, 1051, 1052, 1087, 1088, 1089, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the court of criminal appeals shall consist of three judges, any two of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of two judges shall be necessary to a decision of said court. Said judges shall have the same qualifications and receive the same salaries as judges of the supreme court.

Sec. 2. The judges of said court shall be elected by the qualified voters of the state at a general election, and shall hold their offices for a term of six years.

Sec. 3. At the first session of said court after the first election of the judges thereof under this act, the terms of office of said judges shall be divided into three classes and the justices thereof shall draw for the different classes. The judge who shall draw class No. 1 shall hold his office two years from the date of his election and until the election and qualification of his successor; the judge drawing class No. 2 shall hold his office for four years from the date of his election and until the election and qualification of his successor, and the judge who may draw class No. 3 shall hold his office for six years from the date of his election and until the election and qualification of his successor; and thereafter each of the judges of said court shall hold his office for six years as provided in the constitution of this state.

Sec. 4. In a case of a vacancy in the office of a judge of said court, the governor shall fill the vacancy by appointment for the unexpired term. The judges of the court of appeals who may be in office at the time when this act takes effect shall continue in office as judges of the said court of criminal appeals until the expiration of their term of office.

Sec. 5. Said court shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the state in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 6. Said court and the judges thereof shall have the power to issue the writ of habeas corpus, and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, issue such writs as may be necessary to enforce its own jurisdiction.

Sec. 7. Said court shall have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction.

Sec. 8. The judges of said court shall choose a presiding judge for said court from their number at such times as they shall think proper, and all writs and process issuing from said court shall bear test in the name of said presiding judge and the seal of the court.

Sec. 9. When said court or any member thereof shall be disqualified, under the constitution and laws of this state, to hear and determine any case or cases in said court, the same shall be certified to the governor of the state, who shall immediately commission the requisite number of persons learned in the law for the trial and determination of such cause or causes.

Sec. 10. Said court shall hold its terms as follows:

A term of court shall be held in the city of Tyler, in Smith county, which shall begin on the first Monday in October in each year, and may continue until the last day of December thereafter, unless the business before it is sooner disposed of.

A term of said court shall be held in the city of Dallas, in Dallas county, which shall begin on the first Monday in January in each year, and may continue until the last day of March thereafter, unless the business before it is sooner disposed of.

A term of said court shall be held in the city of Austin, in Travis county, which shall begin on the first Monday in April in each year, and may continue until the last day of June thereafter, unless the business before it is sooner disposed of.

Sec. 11. Appeals from the several counties shall be returnable to such terms of said court as shall be determined by said court, under the rules thereof; provided, that appeals from the several counties in the supreme judicial district in which Austin is situated shall be returnable to the term of the court of criminal appeals held in said city.

Sec. 12. Said court shall appoint a clerk for each place at which it may sit, who shall hold his office for four years unless sooner removed by the court for good cause, entered of record in the minutes of said court.

Sec. 13. Said clerk shall, before entering upon the duties of their offices, take and subscribe the oath of office prescribed by the constitution, and shall give the same bond, to be approved by the court of criminal appeals, as is now or may be hereafter required by them, of clerks of the supreme court.

Sec. 14. Said clerks shall perform as clerks of the court of criminal appeals the like duties as are now or may hereafter be required by law of the clerks of the supreme court, and shall be subject to the same liabilities as are now or may hereafter be prescribed for the clerks of the supreme court.

Sec. 15. Said clerks may appoint deputies who shall perform all the duties of said clerks and who shall be responsible to said clerks for the faithful discharge of the duties of their offices.

Sec. 16. It shall be the duty of the court of criminal appeals to procure a seal for said court at each place at which it may hold its sessions, said seals to be of the same size and design, and have a star with five points with the words "Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas" engraved on each of them.

Sec. 17. Said court is hereby authorized and required to appoint a reporter of its decisions as may be required by law to be published; said reporter may be removed by the court for inefficiency or neglect of duty; said reporter shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars, payable monthly, upon the certificate of the presiding judge of said court. The volumes of the decisions of said courts shall be styled "Texas Criminal Reports," and shall be numbered in continuation of the present number of the Court of Appeals Reports. Said volume shall be printed and disposed of as is now or may hereafter be provided by law for the printing and distribution of the reports of the supreme court.

Sec. 18. As soon as the opinions are recorded, the originals, together with the records and papers in each case to be reported, shall be delivered to the reporter by the clerks of said court, who shall take the reporter's receipt for the same, but the reporter shall return to said clerks the said opinions, records, and papers when he shall have finished using them.

Sec. 19. All criminal cases pending in the court of appeals when this act takes effect, shall be transferred to the court of criminal appeals to be determined by said court as provided by law. All civil cases pending in the court of appeals when this act takes effect, shall be transferred to the court of civil appeals having jurisdiction of the same, and it shall be the duty of the clerks of the courts of criminal appeals to transmit the original papers and certified copies of orders of the court made in each of said cases, to the court of civil appeals to which the same is transferred.

Sec. 20. When the court from which an appeal has been or may hereafter be taken, has been or shall be deprived of jurisdiction over any case pending such appeal, and when such case shall have been or may hereafter be determined by the court of criminal appeals, the mandate of said court of criminal appeals shall be directed to the court to which jurisdiction has been or may hereafter be given over such case.

Sec. 21. In every state case of a less grade than felony, in which an appeal is taken to the court of criminal appeals, and the judgment of the court below is affirmed against the defendant, all fees due the clerk of said court in such case shall be adjudged against the defendant and his sureties on his recognizance, for which execution shall issue as in other cases of appeal to the court of criminal appeals. Should such case be reversed by the court of criminal appeals and a new trial be had in the court below, and the defendant convicted, then the costs aforesaid in favor of the clerk of the court of criminal appeals shall be taxed by the court below against the defendant, and a certified copy of said bill of costs by the clerk of the court of criminal appeals, filed in the court below, shall be sufficient to require said costs to be taxed and collected as other costs against the defendant in the court below.

Sec. 22. The following courts have jurisdiction in criminal actions:

1. The court of criminal appeals.
2. The district courts
3. The county courts.
4. The justices' courts and the mayors' and other courts of incorporated cities and towns.

Sec. 23. The court of criminal appeals or either of the judges thereof, shall have original jurisdiction to inquire into the cause of the detention of persons imprisoned or detained in custody, and for this purpose may issue the writ of habeas corpus, and upon the return thereof may remand such person to custody, admit to bail or discharge the person imprisoned or detained, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

Sec. 24. The court of criminal appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the state in all criminal cases of whatever grade.

Sec. 25. The preceding section shall not be so construed as to embrace cases which have been appealed from justices', mayors' or other inferior courts, to the county court, and in which the judgment rendered or fine imposed by the county court shall not exceed one hundred dollars, exclusive of cost. In such cases, the judgment of the county court shall be final.

Sec. 26. Appeals from judgments rendered by the district or county court, in criminal actions, shall be heard by the court of criminal appeals.

Sec. 27. The defendant to a criminal action need not be personally present upon the hearing of his cause in the court of criminal appeals, but he may appear in person in cases where by law he is not committed to jail upon appeal.

Sec. 28. Where the defendant appeals in any case of felony, he shall be committed to jail until the decision of the court of criminal appeals can be made and received.

Sec. 29. An appeal in a felony case may be prosecuted immediately to the term of the court of criminal appeals pending at the time the appeal is taken, or to the first term of such court after such appeal, without regard to the law governing appeals in other cases; and it shall be the duty of the clerk, upon the application of either the state or the defendant, to make out and forward without delay, to the court of criminal appeals, wherever it may be in session, or if not in session, to the clerk of said court where it will next be in session, a transcript of the case.

Sec. 30. The transcript may be filed in the court of criminal appeals, and the case tried and determined in said court, while the district court in which the conviction was had is yet in session; and upon an affirmation of the judgment of conviction by the court of criminal appeals, sentence may be pronounced by the district court, at the same term at which the conviction was had, or any term thereafter.

Sec. 31. In case the defendant, pending an appeal in a felony case, shall make his escape from custody, the jurisdiction of the court of criminal appeals shall no longer attach in the case; and upon the fact of such escape being made to appear, the court shall, on motion of the attorney general, or attorney representing the state, dismiss the appeal; but the order dismissing the appeal shall be set aside, if it shall be made to appear that the accused had voluntarily returned to the custody of the officer from whom he escaped within ten days.

Sec. 32. In appeals of cases of misdemeanor the following form of recognizance shall be considered sufficient:

State of Texas	}	No.
vs.
A. B.

This day came into open court A. B., defendant in the above entitled cause, who, together with C. D. and E. F., his sureties, acknowledge themselves severally indebted to the State of Texas in the penal sum of dollars; conditioned that the said A. B., who stands charged in this court with the offense of, and who has been convicted of said offense in this court, shall appear before this court from day to day and from term to term of the same, and not depart without leave of this court, in order to abide the judgment of the court of criminal appeals of the State of Texas in this case.

The amount of such recognizance shall be fixed by the court in which the judgment was rendered and the sufficiency of the security thereon shall be tested and the same proceedings had, in case of forfeiture as in other cases of recognizance.

Sec. 33. The court of criminal appeals shall not entertain jurisdiction of any case in which a recognizance is required by law, unless such recognizance shall comply substantially with the form presented in the preceding section.

Sec. 34. As soon as a transcript is prepared the clerk shall forward the same by mail or other safe conveyance, charges paid, to the proper clerk of the court of criminal appeals.

Sec. 35. The clerk shall immediately after the adjournment of the court at which appeals in criminal actions may have been taken, make out a certificate under his seal of office, exhibiting a list of all such causes which have been decided, and in which the defendant has appealed. This certificate shall show the style of the cause upon the docket, the offense of which the defendant stands accused, the day on which judgment was rendered, and the day on which the appeal was taken; which certified list he shall transmit, post paid, to the clerk of the court of criminal appeals at the proper place.

Sec. 36. The clerk of the court of criminal appeals shall file the certificate provided for in the preceding section, and notify the attorney general that the same has been received.

Sec. 37. When it appears by the certificate provided for in the preceding section that an appeal has been taken in any case in which the transcript has not been received by the clerk of the court criminal appeals, within the time required by law for filing transcripts in civil actions, the clerk of the court of criminal appeals shall immediately notify the clerk of the proper court by mail, that such transcript has not been received.

Sec. 38. The clerk receiving notification as provided in preceding section shall without delay prepare and forward another transcript of the case as in the first instance, and shall notify the clerk of the court of criminal appeals, by letter sent by mail, of the fact that such transcript has been forwarded, and the day on which and the manner in which the same was forwarded.

Sec. 39. The clerk of the court of criminal appeals shall receive, file and docket appeals in criminal actions under such rules as may be prescribed by the court; except in cases of felony, a transcript may be filed, and the case heard and determined at any time during the term to which the appeal is taken.

Sec. 40. The court of criminal appeals shall hear and determine appeals in criminal actions at the earliest time it may be done with due regards to the rights of parties and a proper administration of justice.

Sec. 41. The court of criminal appeals may affirm the judgment of the court below, or may reverse and remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform and correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require. In all criminal cases by it decided, the court of criminal appeals shall deliver a written opinion setting forth the reason for the decision.

Sec. 42. The court of criminal appeals may reverse the judgment in a criminal action as well upon the law as upon the facts; but when a cause is reversed for the reason that the verdict is contrary to the weight of evidence, the same shall in all cases be remanded for a new trial.

Sec. 43. As soon as the judgment of the court of criminal appeals is rendered, the clerk shall make out the proper certificate of the proceedings had and judgment rendered, and transmit the same by mail to the clerk of the proper court, or deliver the mandate to the defendant or his counsel when the decision is favorable to the defendant, if requested to do so, unless he is instructed by the court to withhold the mandate to any particular time.

Sec. 44. When the certificate of the judgment and proceedings in the court of criminal appeals shall be received by the proper clerk, he shall file the same with the original papers of the cause and note the same upon the docket of the cause [court].

Sec. 45. Where the court of criminal appeals awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood in case the new trial had been granted by the court below.

Sec. 46. Where the defendant's motion in arrest of judgment was overruled, and it is decided on appeal that the same ought to have been sustained, the cause shall stand as if the motion had been sustained, unless the court of criminal appeals in its judgment direct the cause to be dismissed and the defendant wholly discharged.

Sec. 47. Where the court of criminal appeals reverse a judgment and direct the cause to be dismissed, the defendant, if in custody, must be discharged; and the clerk of the court of criminal appeals shall transmit to the officer having custody of defendant an order to that effect; said order shall be transmitted by telegraph or mail immediately upon the dismissal of the cause.

Sec. 48. When a felony case upon appeal is reversed and remanded for a new trial, the defendant shall be released from custody upon his giving bail as in other cases when he is entitled to bail, and the clerk of the court of criminal appeals shall transmit to the officer having custody of the defendant an order to that effect.

Sec. 49. The court of criminal appeals may make rules of procedure as to the hearing of criminal actions upon appeals; but in every case at least two counsel for the defendant shall be heard if they desire it, either by brief or by oral or written argument or by both, as such counsel shall deem proper.

Sec. 50. When the defendant appeals from the judgment rendered on the hearing of an application under habeas corpus, a transcript of the proceedings in the cause shall be made out and certified to, together with all the testimony offered, and shall be sent up to the court of criminal appeals for revision. This transcript, when the proceedings take place before the court in session, shall [be] prepared and certified by the clerk thereof; but when had before a judge in vacation, the transcript may be prepared by any person under direction of the judge and certified by such judge.

Sec. 51. The defendant may not be personally present, upon the hearing of an appeal in case of habeas corpus.

Sec. 52. Cases of habeas corpus taken to the court of criminal appeals, by appeal, shall be heard at the earliest practicable time.

Sec. 53. The court of criminal appeals shall enter such judgment and make such orders as the law and the nature of the case may require, and may make such orders relative to the costs in the case as may seem right, allowing costs and fixing the amount, or allowing no costs at all.

Sec. 54. The judgment of the court of criminal appeals in appeals under habeas corpus shall be final and conclusive and no further application in the same case can be made for the writ, except in cases specially provided for by law.

Sec. 55. If an officer holding a person in custody fails to obey the mandate of the court of criminal appeals, he is guilty of an offense and punishable according to the provisions of the penal statutes of this state.

Sec. 56. If the appellant in a case of habeas corpus be detained by any person other than an officer, the sheriff shall, upon receiving the mandate of the court of criminal appeals, immediately cause the person so held to be discharged and the mandate shall be sufficient authority therefor.

Sec. 57. The judgment of the court of criminal appeals shall be certified by the clerk thereof to the officer holding the defendant in custody, or when he is held by any person other than an officer, to the sheriff of the proper county.

Sec. 58. When by the judgment of the court of criminal appeals upon cases of habeas corpus the applicant is ordered to give bail, such judgment shall be certified to the officer holding him in custody, and if such officer be the sheriff, the bail bond may be executed before him, if any other officer he shall take the person detained before some magistrate who may receive a bail bond and shall file the same in the proper court of the proper county, and such bond shall have the same force and effect as a recognizance and may be forfeited and enforced in the same manner.

Sec. 59. The attorney general shall receive from the state the following fees: 1. In each case of felony appealed to the court of criminal appeals, where the appeal is dismissed or where the judgment of the court below is affirmed, the sum of twenty dollars. 2. In the case of habeas corpus heard before the court of criminal appeals when the applicant is charged with a felony, the sum of twenty dollars.

Sec. 60. The clerk of the court of criminal appeals, in every case of felony brought before such court by appeal, shall receive from the state the sum of ten dollars.

Sec. 61. The fees allowed the attorney general and the clerk of the court of criminal appeals by the two preceding sections, shall be audited and paid out of the state treasury upon the certificate of the court of criminal appeals, or of any one of the judges thereof, that the same is correct.

Sec. 62. The district or county attorney shall be allowed the following fees: 1. For all convictions in case of felonious homicide when the defendant does not appeal or dies, or escapes after appeal and before final judgment of the court of criminal appeals, or when upon appeal the judgment is affirmed, the sum of fifty dollars. 2. For all other convictions of felony, when the defendant does not appeal or dies, or escapes after appealing and before final judgment of the court of criminal appeals, or when upon appeal the judgment is affirmed, the sum of thirty dollars. 3. For representing the state in each case of habeas corpus where the defendant is charged with a felony, the sum of twenty dollars.

Sec. 63. The attorney general shall, in every conviction of offenses against the penal laws in cases of misdemeanors, when the judgment of the court below is affirmed by the court of criminal appeals, or the appeal is dismissed by said court, receive the sum of ten dollars.

Sec. 64. The clerk of the court of criminal appeals shall in every case where the judgment is affirmed, receive the sum of ten dollars; provided, the entire sum such clerk shall receive as compensation for his services shall not exceed two thousand and five hundred dollars per annum; and any sum over and above that shall be paid by him to the treasury of the state, under such rules as may be prescribed by the comptroller to be approved by the judges of the criminal court of appeals.

Sec. 65. The fees named in the preceding sections shall be taxed against the defendant and collected as in other cases.

Sec. 66. That articles 1064, 1065, 1066, 1067, 1069, 1070, 1071, 1072, 1073, 1074, 1075, 1076, 1077, 1078, 1079, 1080, 1081, 1082, 1083, 1084, 1085, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 67. That articles 64, 65, 66, 67, 838, 840, 841, 843, 844, 845, 852, 853, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 1049, 1050, 1051, 1052, 1087, 1088, 1089, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 68. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 69. The near approach of the close of the present session, which is limited by law, and the great number of bills requiring consideration by the legislature, creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read in each house on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted, and it is further enacted that this act take effect and be in force on and after the first day of September, A. D. 1892.

CHAP. 17.—[J. C. S. for S. B. No. 32 and H. B. No. 13.] An act to amend article 1377 of title 29, chapter 18, and articles 1380, 1386, 1387, 1389, 1391, 1396, 1400, and 1404 of title 29, chapter 19, and to add after article 1407 another article to be known as article 1407a, and to add after article 1416 another article to be known as article 1416a, of said title 29, chapter 19, of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, and to repeal articles 1381, 1382 and 1383, of said Revised Statutes, and providing for the disposition of certain causes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 1377 of title 29, chapter 18, and articles 1380, 1386, 1387, 1389, 1391, 1394, 1396, 1400 and 1404 of title 29, chapter 19, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 1377. After the trial of any cause, either party may make out a written statement of the facts given in evidence on the trial, and submit the same to the opposite party, or his attorney, for inspection; if the parties or their attorneys agree upon such statement of facts, they shall sign the same, and it shall then be submitted to the judge, who shall, if he find it correct, approve and sign it, and the same shall be filed with the clerk. Where it is agreed by the parties to the suit or their attorneys of record that the evidence adduced upon the trial of the cause is sufficient to establish a fact or facts alleged by either party, the testimony of the witnesses and the deeds, wills, records or other written instruments, admitted as evidence relating thereto, shall not be stated or copied in detail into a statement of facts, but the facts thus established shall be stated as facts proved in the case; provided, an instrument such as a note or other contract, mortgage or deed of trust, that constitutes the cause of action on which the petition, or answer, or cross bill, or intervention is founded, may be copied once in the statement of facts. When there is any reasonable doubt of the sufficiency of the evidence to constitute proof of any one fact under the preceding rule, there may then be inserted such of the testimony of the witnesses and written instruments, or parts thereof, as relate to such facts.

Article 130. An appeal or writ of error may be taken to the court of civil appeals from every final judgment of the district court in civil cases and from every final judgment in the county court in civil cases of which the county court has original jurisdiction, and from every final judgment of the county court in civil cases of which the court has appellate jurisdiction, where the judgment or amount in controversy exceeds one hundred dollars, exclusive of the interest and costs, and an appeal shall lie from an interlocutory order of the district court appointing a receiver or trustee in any cause, provided said appeal be taken within twenty days from the entry of said order; an appeal under such cases shall take precedence in the appellate court, but the proceedings in other respects in the court below shall not be stayed during the pendency of the appeal unless otherwise ordered by the appellate court.

Article 1386. The term "appellate court" includes the supreme court, or court of civil appeals, having jurisdiction of a cause on appeal or writ of error. The term "court below" includes the district or county court from which such appeal or writ of error is taken.

Article 1387. An appeal may, in cases where an appeal is allowed, be taken during the term of the court at which the final judgment in the cause is rendered, by the appellant's giving notice of appeal in open court within two days after final judgment or two days after judgment overruling a motion for new trial, which shall be noted on the docket and entered of record, and by his filing with the clerk an appeal bond, where bond is required by law, or affidavit in lieu thereof, as hereinafter provided, within twenty days after the expiration of the term. If the term of the court may by law continue longer than eight weeks, the bond, or affidavit in lieu thereof, shall be filed within twenty days after notice of appeal is given, if the party taking the appeal resides in the county, and within thirty days if he resides out of the county.

Article 1389. The writ of error may, in cases where the same is allowed, be sued out at any time within twelve months after the final judgment is rendered, and not thereafter.

Article 1391. The petition shall state the names and residences of the parties adversely interested, shall describe the judgment with sufficient certainty to identify it, and shall state that he desires to remove the same to the court of civil appeals for revision and correction; where the plaintiff in error desires the issuance of a supersedeas, he shall state the facts which entitle him thereto, and pray for the issuance thereof.

Article 1394. The style of such citation shall be "The State of Texas," and it shall be dated and tested by the clerk as other writs, and the date of its issuance shall be noted thereon. It shall be directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county where the defendant is alleged to reside or be, and shall command him forthwith to summon the defendant to appear and defend such writ before the court of civil appeals within sixty days from the date of service of said citation, stating the place of holding the same, according to the provisions of the law regulating the returns of appeals and writs of error from the county in which the judgment was rendered. It shall state the date of the filing of the petition in error, the names of the parties according to such petition, and the description of the judgment as therein given. Such citation shall be made returnable within ten days from the issuance of the same if defendant resides in the county, and within twenty days if he resides out of the county.

Article 1396. The citation shall be returned as prescribed in article 1394, and where the same has not been served the return shall show the diligence used by the officer to execute the same, and a failure to execute it, and where the defendant is to be found, so far as he has been able to ascertain.

Article 1400. The appellant or plaintiff in error, as the case may be, shall execute a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk, payable to the appellee or defendant in error, in a sum at least double the probable amount of the costs of the suit of the court of civil appeals, supreme court and the court below, to be fixed by the clerk, conditioned that such appellant or plaintiff in error shall prosecute his appeal or writ of error with effect, and shall pay all the costs which have accrued in the court below and which may accrue in the court of civil appeals and the supreme court.

Article 1404. Should the appellant or plaintiff in error, as the case may be, desire to suspend the execution of the judgment, he may do so by giving, instead of the bond or affidavit in lieu thereof, mentioned in the four preceding articles, or in addition to such bond, a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk, payable to the appellee or defendant in error, in a sum at least double the amount of the judgment, interests and costs, conditioned that such appellant or plaintiff in error shall prosecute his appeal or writ of error with effect, and in case the judgment of the supreme court or the court of civil appeals shall be against him, he shall perform its judgment, sentence or decree, and pay all such damages as said court may award against him.

Article 1407a. The appellant or plaintiff in error shall in all cases file with the clerk of the court below his assignments of error, distinctly specifying the ground on which he relies, before he takes the transcript of the record from the clerk's office, and all errors not distinctly specified are waived.

Article 1416a. Not less than five days before the time of filing the transcript in the court of civil appeals, the appellant or plaintiff in error shall file with the clerk of the district court a copy of his brief, which shall be by the clerk deposited with the papers of the cause, with the date of the filing endorsed thereon, and the clerk shall forthwith give notice to the appellee or defendant in error, or his attorney of record, of the filing of such brief, and that in twenty days after such notice the appellee or defendant in error shall file a copy of his brief with the clerk of said court below, and with the clerk of the court of civil appeals four copies.

Sec. 2. That articles 1381, 1382 and 1383, of the Revised Civil Statutes be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. That all appeals and writs of error taken and perfected from any district or county court to the supreme court or court of appeals before the taking effect of this act, shall be returnable to the courts of civil appeals under the provisions of this act, and shall be decided under the same rules as if they had been so perfected after this law shall take effect.

Sec. 4. The fact that the present session is rapidly drawing to a close, and is limited by law, and the importance of this bill creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read in each house on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted, and it is further enacted that this bill take effect and be in force on and after the 1st day of September, A. D. 1892.

Sec. 8. The terms of said courts shall commence on the first Monday in October of each year, and may continue in session until the first Monday in July of each succeeding year.

Sec. 9. The near approach of the close of the called session, and the imperative command of section 6, article 5, of the constitution of the State of Texas, to this legislature, as soon as practicable after the adoption of the said section (at the recent elections held in this state), to divide the state into not less than two nor more than three supreme judicial districts and to establish a court of civil appeals in each of said districts, and the fact that the supreme court and the court of appeals are not able to dispose of the business now on their dockets, and a great public necessity exists that said courts of civil appeals should be organized and proceed to business as soon as possible, which creates a public necessity which requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days and the same is suspended and this act take effect and be in force from and after the 15th of August, 1892.

In the county of Coke on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Crockett on the eighth Mondays after the first Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Sterling on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Tom Green on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session until the business of the court is disposed of.

Sec. 3. [2]. The near approach of the close of the session, and the large amount of business undisposed of, creates an emergency and necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days to be suspended, it is so suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the governor of Texas for his approval on the eleventh day of April, A. D. 1892, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto; nor were any objections thereto filed by him in this office after adjournment of the legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. R. Curl, Chief Clerk and Acting Secretary of State.]

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—FORTY-THIRD, FORTY-SIXTH AND FORTY-SEVENTH.

Sec.

1. Counties comprising forty-sixth district; terms of court.
2. Counties comprising forty-seventh district; terms of court.
6. Emergency clause; law takes effect, when.

Sec.

3. Counties comprising forty-third district; terms of court.
4. Process, when returnable; juries.
5. Repealing clause.

CHAP. 24.—[S. B. No. 31.] An act to reorganize the forty-third, forty-sixth, and forty-seventh judicial districts, and to fix the time for holding the terms of court therein, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the forty-sixth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Wilbarger, Greer, Collingsworth, Hardeman, Childress, Hall and Foard, and the terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Wilbarger on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session eight weeks.

In the county of Greer on the eighth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Collingsworth on the eleventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Hardeman on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Childress on the sixteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Hall on the eighteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Foard on the twentieth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. That the forty-seventh judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Donley, Armstrong, Randall, Deaf Smith, Potter, Oldham, Hartley, Dallam, Sherman, Briscoe, Swisher and Castro and the unorganized counties of Moore, Parmer, Bailey and Lamb, and the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Donley on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Briscoe on the second Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Armstrong on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Potter on the sixth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Randall on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Deaf Smith on the eleventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Oldham on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Hartley on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Dallam on the sixteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Sherman on the eighteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Castro on the nineteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Swisher on the twentieth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

The unorganized county of Parmer is hereby attached to Deaf Smith county for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Bailey and Lamb are hereby attached to Castro county for judicial purposes.

Sec. 3. That the forty-third judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Jack, Parker and Wise, and the terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Jack on the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Parker on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session eight weeks.

In the county of Wise on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 4. That all process issued or served before this act goes into effect, returnable to the district courts in said judicial districts aforesaid, shall be considered returnable to said courts in accordance with the terms as prescribed by this act, and such process is hereby legalized; and all grand and petit juries drawn and selected under existing laws in any of the counties of said judicial districts, shall be considered lawfully drawn and selected for the next term of the district courts of their respective counties held after this act takes effect; and such process is hereby legalized and validated.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. Whereas, the rapid settlement of the counties mentioned in this act, and the inability of the judges under former laws to transact all of the business in the courts of the said several counties, and the organization of unorganized counties, creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house; therefore said constitutional rule is hereby suspended and so much of this act as affects the forty-sixth and forty-seventh judicial districts shall take effect from and after the first day of July, 1892.

and the remainder thereof shall take effect from and after the first day of September, 1892, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the governor of Texas for his approval on the twelfth day of April, A. D. 1892, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto; nor were there any objections thereto filed by him in this office after the adjournment of the legislature, within the time prescribed by the constitution. This act thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. R. Curl, Chief Clerk and Acting Secretary of State.]

RESOLUTIONS.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

[S. J. R. No. 1.] Authorizing the governor of Texas to collect the money due the State of Texas from the United States government by reason of the direct tax of 1861, and to provide for the disbursement thereof.

Whereas, There is a large sum of money due the State of Texas by the United States government, by reason of the act of the 51st congress, approved March 2, 1891, which said act refunds to the states the money collected under the direct tax bill of 1861; and

Whereas, by the said act of March 2, 1891, the governor of the State of Texas, to whom said money is made payable, cannot collect the same until a resolution of the Legislature authorizing him so to do, and to provide for the disbursement thereof; therefore,

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the governor of this State is hereby authorized and empowered to receive from the treasurer of the United States all moneys due the State of Texas under the act of the 51st congress, approved March 2, 1891, entitled "An act to credit and pay to the states and territories and the District of Columbia all moneys collected under the direct tax levied by the act of congress approved August 5, 1861," and receipt therefor in such manner as may be required, and place the same in the treasury of the State of Texas; and the State of Texas accepts and receives such moneys in full satisfaction of all claims against the United States on account of the levy and collection of such tax.

Sec. 2. The attorney general, treasurer and comptroller of the State of Texas shall constitute an auditing board to audit and pass upon all claims of individuals claiming any part of such moneys under such rules of procedure as such board may prescribe, and upon the allowance of any such claim the comptroller shall draw his draft upon the treasurer in payment therefor, and such board shall give such notice and hold such meetings as may be necessary to enable the people to whom such money belongs to readily obtain the same.

Sec. 3. Whereas, the present session of the legislature is limited to thirty days, and it is impossible during that time to transact the business pending before the senate; and

Whereas, The money herein sought to be refunded is lying idle in the treasury in Washington;

Therefore an emergency and public necessity exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this resolution shall take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing joint resolution originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 24 yeas and no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 84 yeas and no nays.]

Approved April 11, 1892.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

[S. C. R. No. 1.] The people of Texas having heard with profound sorrow of the death of General Walter P. Lane, which occurred at his home in Marshall, Texas, on the 19th day of January, 1892, and believing that we, as the representatives of the people, should give some expression in respect to the memory of this illustrious hero; therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate and the House of Representatives: That by the death of General Lane the state has lost a citizen whose whole life was devoted to her welfare. In war he was the incomparable soldier, and in peace the modest and dutiful citizen.

Resolved 2d: That the services he rendered Texas will be ever cherished by patriotic people, and his glorious character will always be a splendid example for the coming generations of our state.

Resolved 3d: That these resolutions be spread upon the journals of the two houses and that an engrossed copy of the same be furnished to the family of the deceased.

Approved April 4, 1892.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas, the committee appointed at the regular session of the 22d legislature to investigate the matters pertaining to the receivership of the I. & G. N. Railroad; and

Whereas, said committee at its first meeting ascertained that no sufficient appropriation was made to pay stenographers to aid said committee; and

Whereas, said committee did receive the services of competent stenographers, viz: Will P. Williams and W. J. Farwell, with the understanding that the legislature would be asked at its first session after the meeting of said committee to make an additional appropriation to pay said stenographers; and

Whereas, said stenographers have never been paid in full; therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring: That the sum of two hundred and forty dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated out of the contingent fund of this legislature, one hundred and twenty dollars to pay said Farwell, and one hundred and twenty dollars to be paid said Williams.

And be it further resolved: That the further sum of thirty-nine dollars be appropriated from said fund to reimburse sergeant-at-arms Henderson, for expenses incurred in summoning witnesses, said account not having been passed upon before the adjournment of the committee.

Approved April 11, 1892.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

Department of State.

I, George W. Smith, Secretary of State of the State of Texas, certify that the foregoing laws and resolutions, passed at the first called session of the Twenty-second Legislature, have been carefully examined and compared with the original enrolled bills now on file in this department, and are true copies of said originals.

I further certify that the first called session of the Twenty-second Legislature convened, in pursuance to the proclamation of the governor, in the city of Austin, March 14, A. D. 1892, and adjourned April 12, A. D. 1892.

In testimony whereof I have subscribed my name, and have [SEAL] hereto affixed the seal of the State of Texas, in the city of Austin, May 21, A. D. 1892.

GEO. W. SMITH,
Secretary of State.

GENERAL LAWS
OF
THE STATE OF TEXAS

PASSED AT THE
REGULAR SESSION OF THE TWENTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE

CONVENED
AT THE CITY OF AUSTIN

JANUARY 10, 1893, AND ADJOURNED MAY 9, 1893.

AUSTIN
1893

GENERAL LAWS OF TEXAS.

TWENTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE, 1893.

APPROPRIATION TO PAY MEMBERS MILEAGE AND PER DIEM, AND OFFICERS AND EMPLOYES PER DIEM.

CHAP. 1.—[S. B. No. 1.] An act appropriating one hundred and ten thousand dollars to pay members mileage and per diem, and officers and employes per diem, of the Twenty-third Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of one hundred and ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of the money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the payment of mileage and per diem pay of members and per diem pay of officers and employes of the Twenty-third Legislature.

Sec. 2. The certificate of the Secretary of the Senate, approved by the President thereof, or of the Chief Clerk of the House, approved by the Speaker thereof, shall be sufficient evidence to the Comptroller, upon which he shall audit the claims and issue his warrants upon the Treasurer for the respective amounts.

Sec. 3. And whereas, the Twenty-third Legislature is now in session, and public policy requires their payment; therefore an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Approved January 17, A. D. 1893.

APPROPRIATION TO DEFRAY CONTINGENT EXPENSES.

CHAP. 2.—[S. B. No. 2.] An act making an appropriation to defray the contingent expenses of the Twenty-third Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of forty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the contingent expenses of the Twenty-third Legislature; that (except in cases of accounts for printing done and stationery furnished) the certificate of the chairman of the committee on contingent expenses that an account has been examined and approved by said committee and countersigned by the President of the Senate or Speaker of the House, as the case may be, shall be sufficient authority to authorize and require the Comptroller of Public Accounts to draw his warrant on the State Treasurer for the payment of any claims against said fund. The accounts for printing and stationery shall take the course prescribed by the Revised Statutes.

Sec. 2. That the fact that it is important that the expenses of the Legislature be promptly paid, creates an emergency and a public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and this act take effect from its passage. It is so enacted.

Approved January 17, A. D. 1893.

APPROPRIATION TO PAY MILEAGE AND PER DIEM OF PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.

CHAP. 3.—[H. B. No. 15] An act to make an appropriation to pay the mileage and per diem of the presidential electors.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the mileage and per diem of the presidential electors; that the certificate of the secretary of the college, stating the number of days the college was in session, shall be sufficient authority to the Comptroller to draw his warrant upon the Treasurer for the amount due each elector.

Sec. 2. Whereas, the electoral college has already met, public policy demands that they should be paid, an emergency exists and necessity demands that the constitutional rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from its passage. It is so enacted.

Approved January 27, A. D. 1893.

CHANGE OF VENUE IN CIVIL CASES—AMENDING ARTICLE 1272, TITLE 29, CHAPTER 9, RELATIVE THERETO.

CHAP. 4.—[S. B. No. 9.] An act to amend article 1272, title 29, chapter 9, of Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 1272, title 29, chapter 9, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended that it will hereafter read as follows:

Article 1272. Where application for a change of venue is made in conformity to the requirements of the preceding article, the same shall be granted, unless the credibility of the persons making the application for a change of venue, or their means of knowledge, or the truth of the facts set out in the said application, are attacked by the affidavit of a credible person, and if such application is thus attacked, the issue thus formed shall be tried by the judge, and the application granted or refused, as the law and the facts shall warrant.

Sec. 2. Whereas, under the law as it now exists no inquiry can be made into the truth of the application for a change of venue in civil cases; and whercas, for the want of some provision of law whereby the trial court can make such inquiry, the venue in civil cases is being changed when the facts do not warrant the same, to the great loss and inconvenience to litigants, therefore an imperative public necessity and emergency exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved February 11, A. D. 1893.

ASYLUM SUPPLIES—AMENDING THE LAW RELATIVE TO ADVERTISING FOR BIDS.

CHAP. 5.—[S. B. No. 24.] An act to amend article 143 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, concerning advertisements for bids to furnish supplies to asylums.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 143 of chapter 3 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be and the same is hereby so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 143. Advertisements for proposals: The Comptroller shall, on the first day of August of each year, and quarterly thereafter, advertise for sealed proposals for furnishing to the Superintendents of the Lunatic, Deaf and Dumb, and Blind Asylums certain supplies as hereinafter named, for two weeks in such daily newspapers, not exceeding three in number, in Texas, as he may select for that purpose: Provided, if a daily newspaper is published at or near the town or city where either of said asylums are situated, one paper shall be selected from said town or city, provided said paper charges the same price for advertising said bids as are charged by other papers selected prior to the day of opening said bids. Such advertisements shall state the articles for which bids shall be received, and bids shall be made separately as hereinafter named.

Approved February 11, A. D. 1893.

MINORS—SUITS BY NEXT FRIEND.

CHAP. 6.—[S. B. No. 7.] An act to authorize minors to bring suits by next friend, and to provide for the disposition of the funds that may be recovered in such suits, and to define the duties of the next friend.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any minor having a sufficient cause of action, and who has no legal guardian, can bring suit in any of the courts of this State by next friend, and such next friend shall have the same rights concerning such suit and the matter therein involved as if he were guardian of such minor: Provided, he shall not be relieved from giving security for cost, or affidavit in lieu thereof, and can not collect the proceeds of any moneyed judgment he may recover, except as herein specified.

Sec. 2. Such next friend, or the attorney of record, of such minor may enter into such agreed judgment or compromise in such suit as the court may approve, and the decree entered upon such agreement or compromise, when approved by the court, shall be forever binding on said minor, and can divest title out of the min[or] or vest it in him, when the court is satisfied such decree is for the best interest of the minor, under all the circumstances; and the court may hear evidence touching upon such agreement or compromise before approving the same.

Sec. 3. Whenever in any suit pending in this State any minor recovers a personal judgment for money or other personal property in which the interest of the minor does not exceed the value of five hundred dollars, and said minor has no guardian, such next friend or any person authorized by the court to do so, by an order entered of record, may take charge of said money or property for the benefit of said minor upon giving bond in such sum as shall be ordered by the court, which shall not be less than double the value of the property, conditioned that he will pay over said money and lawful interest thereon and deliver said property and its increase to the minor when he becomes of age, or to his legally qualified guardian when demanded, and that he will pay or deliver the same to such person appointed by the court, when ordered by the court to do so, and that he will use such money or property for the benefit of the minor as ordered by the court.

Sec. 4. Such person who takes such money or property shall receive no fees or commissions for caring for or handling the same, but shall receive such compensation for caring for or handling the same as may be allowed by the court, and shall make such disposition thereof and at all times as the court may order; may be required to return such money or property into court upon the order of the court, when the court may make such further disposition of the money or property as is deemed best for the minor.

Sec. 5. Whenever any attorney or other person has any interest in such recovery or judgment the court may hear evidence as to such interest, and if deemed just shall order such claim, or such part as is deemed just, to be paid to such person who is entitled to receive the same.

Sec. 6. The fact that there is now no law upon this subject, and the great need for it, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days should be suspended, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved February 11, A. D. 1893.

LABOR DAY—LEGAL HOLIDAY.

CHAP. 7.—[S. B. No. 74.] An act to amend article 2835, title 49, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas (Statutes of 1879), relating to legal holidays, naming the first Monday in September of each year as a legal holiday to be called "Labor Day."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 2835 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas (Statutes of 1879) shall hereafter read as follows:

Article 2835. The first day of January, the twenty-second day of February, the second day of March, the twenty-first day of April, the fourth day of July, the first Monday in September, and the twenty-fifth day of December, of each year, and all days appointed by the President of the United States, or by the Governor, as days of fasting and thanksgiving, and every day on which an election is held throughout the State, are declared holidays on which all the public offices of the State may be closed, and shall be treated and considered as Sunday, or the Christian Sabbath, for all purposes regarding the presenting for payment or acceptance and of protesting for and giving notice of the dishonor of bills of exchange, bank checks, and promissory notes placed by the law upon the footing of bills of exchange.

Approved February 11, A. D. 1893.

DEPOSITIONS.

CHAP. 8.—[H. B. No. 3.] An act to amend article 2235, chapter 3, title 38, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, relating to depositions.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 2235, chapter 3, title 38, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as to read as follows:

Article 2235. When a deposition shall have been filed in the court at least one entire day before the day on which the case is called for trial, no objection to the form thereof or to the manner of taking the same shall be heard unless such objections are in writing and notice thereof is given to the opposite counsel before the trial commences; Provided, however, that such objection shall be made and determined at the first term of the court after the deposition has been filed, and not thereafter.

WEBB COUNTY—DIMINISHING JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 9.—[S. B. No. 27.] An act to diminish the jurisdiction of the county court of Webb county, and to conform the jurisdiction of the district court of Webb county to such change.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Webb county shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of a probate court; it shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards; grant letters testamentary and of administration; settle accounts of executors; transact all business appertaining to deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution of estates of deceased persons; it shall have power to apprentice minors, as provided by law, and the county court or judge thereof shall have power to issue all writs necessary to the enforcement of its jurisdiction.

Sec. 2. That the district court of Webb county shall have and exercise all the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore vested by the Constitution and laws in the county court of Webb county, including appeals from mayors' or recorders' courts and justices' courts of said county, but which is divested out of the said county court by the provisions of this act.

Sec. 3. That the clerk of the county court of Webb county, within twenty days after the passage of this act, shall make a complete transcript of all orders on the dockets of the county court of Webb county, in cases pending therein, of which the district court of said county shall have jurisdiction under the provisions of this act, and shall deliver the transcript in each case, together with the original papers therein, and a certified bill of costs, to the clerk of the district court of Webb county; and the clerk of the said district court shall enter the said cases on the appropriate dockets of said court, and the same shall remain for trial in the district court of Webb county, in order as they stood on the dockets of the county court, and as appearance cases, in said district court, and shall be tried in said court as other cases; and all process now issued and returnable to the county court of Webb county in such cases shall be returnable to the district court of Webb county.

Sec. 4. That the clerk of the county court of Webb county shall issue execution upon all judgments that may have been rendered in said court, and collect the same as now allowed by law, but all suits that may arise out of any such execution, by injunction or trial of the right of property, shall be filed in and tried by the district court of Webb county.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with any of the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. Whereas, by the operation of this act the county of Webb will make a large saving of expense, and the disposition of litigated questions and criminal prosecutions will be greatly facilitated, an emergency and an imperative public necessity exist requiring that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

INDIAN DEPREDAATION CLAIMS.

CHAP. 10.—[H. B. No. 508.] An act to amend article 1827 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, and provide for administrators of estates of deceased persons to sue for Indian depredation claims in the United States Court of Claims, under the act of Congress passed March 3, 1891.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 1827 of the Revised Statutes of this State be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1827. All applications for the grant of letters testamentary or [of] administration upon an estate must be filed within four years after the death of the testator or intestate, and if four years have elapsed between the death of such testator or intestate and the filing of such application, such application shall be refused and dismissed: Provided, that this act shall not apply to citizens of this State who have suffered losses by Indian depredations and have died since such loss, and make the application for the purpose of recovering compensation for such loss. In all such cases the proper courts of this State are authorized to grant letters of administration upon the estate of any citizen, without regard to the date of his death, when the applicant for letters alleges in his application that the testator or intestate suffered losses by Indian depredation and that letters are sought for the purpose of enabling him or her to bring suit in the United States Court of Claims to recover compensation for such loss, under the act of Congress of March 3, 1891, entitled "An act to provide for the adjudication and payment of claims arising from Indian depredations."

Sec. 2. The fact that under the act of Congress, mentioned in the preceding section, all such claims will be barred on the 4th day of March, 1894, a public necessity and emergency exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved February 27, A. D. 1893.

DIMMIT COUNTY—DIMINISHING JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 11.—[H. B. No. 5.] An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court of Dimmit county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Dimmit county shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of probate courts; shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators and guardians, transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition and distribution and settlement of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors, as provided by law, and issue writs necessary to the enforcement of said jurisdiction, to punish contempt under such provisions as are or may be provided by general law governing county courts throughout the State; but the said county court of Dimmit county shall have no other civil or criminal jurisdiction whatever.

Sec. 2. The district court of Dimmit county shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil and criminal matters and causes over which by the laws of this State the county court of said county would have jurisdiction, except as provided in section 1 of this act; and all causes other than probate matters and such as are provided by section 1 of this act be and the same are hereby transferred to the district court of Dimmit county; and all writs and process relating to any civil or criminal matters not included in the subject matter of jurisdiction prescribed in section 1 of this act issued by or out of said court of Dimmit county, be and the same are hereby made returnable to the next term of the district court of said county.

Sec. 3. The county clerk of the county of Dimmit be and he is hereby required, immediately after the passage of this act, to make a fair and complete abstract of all entries upon his civil and criminal docket heretofore made in cases pending, whereby [which by] section 2 are required to be transferred to the district court of said county, and deliver the same to the district clerk of said county, together with all the papers to such causes pertaining, and all such causes shall be immediately docketed by said district clerk; and such civil causes so transferred shall stand on the docket of said court as appearance cases for the next succeeding term, and all criminal cases shall be docketed and disposed of in the same manner as if the same had originally been triable in said district court.

Sec. 4. This act shall not be construed to in any manner affect judgments heretofore rendered by said county court of Dimmit county, pertaining to matters and causes by which [which by] section 2 of this act are transferred to the district court of said county, but the county clerk of said county shall issue all executions and orders of sale as the judgments in such causes require, and such executions and orders of sale and proceedings thereunder, shall be as valid and binding to all intents and purposes as though the change had not been made, as provided in section 2 of this act.

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach to the sitting of the next term of the said county court of Dimmit county, and the short time required to make the transfer of the cases provided herein, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be so suspended, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved February 27, A. D. 1893.

COURTS OF CIVIL APPEALS—FIXING COMPENSATION OF CLERKS.

CHAP. 12.—[S. B. No. 151.] An act to amend section 50 of an act entitled "An act to organize the courts of civil appeals, to define their jurisdiction and powers, and to prescribe the mode of procedure therein," as enacted by the first called session of the Twenty-second Legislature in 1892, and to repeal all laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 50 of an act entitled "An act to organize the courts of civil appeals, to define their jurisdiction and powers, and to prescribe the mode of procedure therein," enacted by the first called session of the Twenty-second Legislature, in 1892, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 50. The clerks of the courts of civil appeals shall receive as compensation for their services the following fees:

Entering appearance of either party in person or by attorney, to be charged but once	$0.50
Docketing each cause, to be charged but once.....	.50
Filing the record in each cause.....	.50
Entering rule or motion.....	.25
Entering the order of the court upon any rule or motion, or entering any interlocutory judgment50
Administering an oath or affirmation without a certificate.....	.15
Administering an oath or affirmation and giving certificate thereof with seal25
Entering each continuance20

Entering each final judgment or decree.....	$1.00
Each writ issued	1.00
Making out and transmitting the mandate and judgment of the court to any inferior court	1.50
Making copies of any papers or record in their offices, including certificate and seal, for each hundred words.....	.10
Recording the opinion of the judges, for each hundred words...	.15
Taxing the bill of costs in each case.....	.50

Sec. 2. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The clerks of said courts of civil appeals shall be entitled to receive the fees herein enumerated for all work done since the organization of said courts of civil appeals.

Sec. 4. Whereas, the clerks of said courts of civil appeals are receiving no compensation for their services, and there is no law in force providing fees for said clerks, an emergency and imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 2, A. D. 1893.

APPROPRIATION—COURTS OF CIVIL APPEALS—PROVIDING FOR SALARY DUE JUDGES.

CHAP. 13.—[S. B. No. 63.] An act to provide for the payment of salary due the Judges and Assistant Reporters of Courts of Civil Appeals of the State of Texas, from September 1, 1892, to March 1, 1893.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of fifteen thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and is hereby appropriated to the payment of the salaries of the judges of the Courts of Civil Appeals of the first, second, and third supreme judicial districts of the State of Texas, from the first day of September, 1892, to the first day of March, 1893; and that the Comptroller issue to each of said judges warrants upon the State Treasurer for the amounts due each respectively.

Whereas, the law providing for the organization of the several Courts of Civil Appeals went into effect September 1st, 1892, and at that time there were appointed by the Governor of the State of Texas nine judges of said courts; and

Whereas, at the last general election there were elected nine judges of said courts, and no appropriation has been made for the payment of the salaries due said judges, and they having been performing their official functions since September 1st, 1892, without any pay from the State;

For the above reasons it is important that this act become a law, and it is declared that an emergency and public necessity exist that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is declared that this act take effect from and after its passage.

Approved March 2, A. D. 1893.

RAILROADS—EXTENDING TIME FOR BEGINNING CONSTRUCTION, ETC.

CHAP. 14.—[S. B. No. 16.] An act for the relief of railroads and belt and suburban railway companies having charters granted or amended since January 1, 1887, which have failed or are about to fail to comply with article 4278, Revised Statutes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the time in which any railroad company chartered under the laws of the State of Texas since January 1, 1887, or the charter to which has been amended since that date, is required to begin the construction of its road and construct, equip, and put the same in good running order as to the part of such road as provided for in article 4278 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, and amended April 8, 1889, is and the same is extended for two years from the passage of this act; and any railway company having been chartered since January 1, 1887, or the charter to which has been amended since said date, which shall have forfeited its corporate existence, rights, and powers, or is about to do so by reason of failure to comply with said article 4278, or any part of said article, shall have restored and preserved to it its corporate existence, and it shall have and enjoy all of the corporate franchises, property, and rights and powers held or acquired by it previous to any cause of forfeiture on account of such failure as aforesaid: Provided, that no railroad company which shall be revived or the time extended by virtue of this act shall claim or exercise any right or franchise not now allowed, granted, or permitted to other railway corporations under the laws as now in force in this State, and such railroad company as may be revived or time extended by this act shall comply with the laws of this State now in force appertaining to railway corporations. And the provisions of this act shall extend to and embrace suburban and belt railroads heretofore chartered under the laws of this State.

Sec. 2. The fact that no good can result to the State from the forfeiture provided for in [the] acts of 1889, and that the public convenience will be promoted by work beginning at once on some of said railways, and that citizens in many parts of the State having invested in railway enterprises will sustain great loss unless the relief herein provided be granted, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and demanding that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 21st day of February, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the House in which it originated with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

REAL ESTATE—EXECUTION SALES—MODE AND MANNER OF ADVERTISING.

CHAP. 15.—[H. B. No. 18.] An act to amend article 2309 of the Revised Civil Statutes, and to fix the time and place of making sales of real estate under execution, order of sale, or venditioni exponas, and to prescribe the mode and manner of advertising such sales.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 2309 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas shall hereafter read as follows:

“Article 2309. The time and place of making sale of real estate under execution, order of sale, or venditioni exponas, shall be advertised by the officer by having notice thereof published in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding such sale, in some newspaper published in such county. The first of such publication shall appear not less than twenty days immediately preceding the day of sale; said notice shall contain a statement of the authority by virtue of which the sale is made, the time of levy, and the time and place of sale, and shall state the locality of the property, giving a brief description thereof, sufficient to enable it to be reasonably known and identified. The fees allowed for such publication shall be seventy-five cents per square for the first insertion and fifty cents per square for each of the two subsequent insertions, to be taxed and paid as other costs. In such publications ten lines shall constitute a square, and the body of such advertisement shall not be printed in larger type than brevier. If there be no newspaper published in the county, or none the publisher of which will publish the notice of sale for the compensation herein fixed, the officer shall post such notice in writing in three public places in the county, one of which shall be at the court house door of such county, for at least twenty days successively next before the day of sale: Provided, that if the defendant in execution so desires he may, by notifying the clerk or justice of the peace issuing such execution, have the time and place of such sale publicly advertised by the officer making the same for at least twenty days successively next before the day of sale, by posting up written or printed notices thereof at three public places in the county, one of which shall be at the court house door of the county; and the said clerk or justice of the peace when so notified shall make a note of such request upon such execution and order of sale, and if such request is not made and so noted it shall be prima facie evidence that said sale shall be advertised in such newspapers as provided in this act.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 25th day of February, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

TYLER COUNTY—RESTORING CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JURISDICTION TO COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 16.—[S. B. No., 107.] An act to restore to the county court of Tyler county civil and criminal jurisdiction.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Tyler county shall have concurrent original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors of which exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to the justice courts as the same are now and may be hereinafter prescribed by law, and exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors where the fine to be imposed shall exceed two hundred dollars, or where the punishment is by imprisonment in the county jail, either absolutely or in the alternative. And they [it] shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in all civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars and not exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, and concurrent jurisdiction with the district court when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars and not exceed one thousand dollars, exclusive of interest; but shall not have jurisdiction of suits for the recovery of land. They [it] shall have appellate jurisdiction in cases, civil and criminal, of which justices' courts have original jurisdiction, under such regulations as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by law. In all appeals from justices' courts there shall be a trial de novo in the county court, and an appeal shall lie to the courts of civil appeals, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. And the county court, or judge thereof, shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, injunction, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said courts; and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the county court, or any other court or tribunal inferior to said court.

Sec. 2. All causes now pending in the district court of Tyler county, of which the said county court has jurisdiction under the provisions of this act and all laws giving jurisdiction to the county court, shall be transferred to the county court of said county.

Sec. 3. The clerk of the district court of said Tyler county shall, thirty days from the date this act takes effect, transfer to the clerk of the county court of said county all the original papers in causes transferred under this act, together with a certified transcript of all entries made on the docket of the district court in said causes, and a certified bill of all costs accrued in such causes. And for making out such transcript of the docket the clerk of the district court shall be allowed such fees as are now allowed by law for making out transcripts in cases of appeals, such fees to be taxed as costs in such suits.

Sec. 4. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and they are hereby repealed.

Sec. 5. Whereas, a great number of cases, both civil and criminal, are now pending in the district court of said county, that it is impossible to dispose of them in said court, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity requires a suspension of the constitutional rule for bills to be read on three several days, and the said rules are hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 8, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—THIRTY-FOURTH.

CHAP. 17.—[S. B. No. 129.] An act to amend the act creating the thirty-fourth judicial district, and fixing the times for holding the terms of court therein, and all acts amendatory thereof, and to repeal all laws in conflict with this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the thirty-fourth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of El Paso, Reeves, Presidio, and Ward, and the unorganized counties of Loving and Winkler.

Sec. 2. The district court shall be begun and held in said counties as follows: In the county of Ward on the last Monday in February and August of each year, and may continue one week. In the county of Reeves on the first Monday in March and September of each year, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Presidio on the second Monday after the first Monday in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of El Paso there shall be begun and held three terms of the district court during each year, as follows: On the first Monday in January, and may continue in session until the last Monday in February. On the fourth Monday after the first Monday in March, and may continue in session until the first day of July. On the fourth Monday after the first Monday in September and may continue in session until the first Monday in January following.

Sec. 3. That all writs and processes returnable to the said courts shall be returnable to the terms of the said courts as herein fixed, and all such writs and process as have been issued, executed, and returned, shall be valid as if no change had been made in the time of holding said courts by the passage of this act.

Sec. 4. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Sec. 5. The crowded condition of the docket of the district court of El Paso county, and the fact that no time for holding district court in Ward county is fixed by law, causes an emergency to exist that this act take effect from and after its passage, and the pressing necessity for this act creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be and the same is hereby suspended.

Approved March 8, A. D. 1893.

ROADS—CALDWELL COUNTY.

CHAP. 18.—[H. B. No. 109.] An act to create a more efficient road system in the county of Caldwell, and auxiliary thereto, to provide for the appointment of road overseers; to define the powers and jurisdiction of the commissioners court with regard thereto; to utilize the labor of county convicts and defaulting poll tax payers on the public roads of said county; and to provide adequate penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioners court of Caldwell county may appoint a road overseer for each commissioner's precinct in the county, or for each justice's precinct, who shall hold their offices for two years, and until their successors are qualified.

Sec. 2. The overseer so appointed shall perform all the duties required of overseers under the general laws of this State, and such other duties as may be required of them by the commissioners court of said county, and shall receive such compensation as the commissioners court may prescribe, not to exceed two dollars per day for the time actually engaged.

Sec. 3. Each overseer shall, within twenty days after his appointment, take the constitutional oath, and enter into bond, payable to the county judge, in such sum as may be fixed by the commissioners court, to be approved by the county judge, conditioned that he will well and faithfully discharge all of the duties incumbent upon him as such overseer, that he will promptly make all reports required of him by this act, or by the commissioners court, and that he will correctly disburse and account for all funds that may come into his hands, according to law, and the orders of the commissioners court, which bond shall not be void for want of form, or void on the first recovery, but may be sued upon until fully exhausted.

Sec. 4. The commissioners court may, for good cause, to be determined by themselves, at any time remove an overseer; and, in case of vacancy from any cause, may fill the same for the unexpired term.

Sec. 5. Each overseer shall take charge of all tools, implements, teams, and supplies of any kind placed under his control by the commissioners court, and execute his receipt therefor, which shall be filed with the county clerk; and he shall be responsible for all such tools, teams, implements, and supplies, and for the proper expenditure of all public moneys coming into his hands, and shall be liable for the loss, injury, or destruction of all such tools, teams, implements, and supplies, if the result of his negligence, or for the wrongful or unauthorized expenditure of such money; and upon the expiration of his term, or in case of his resignation or removal, he shall deliver all such money and property to his successor, or to such person as the commissioners court may direct.

Sec. 5a. The overseer of each precinct shall subdivide his precinct into as many sections as may be necessary or convenient, and shall require each person subject to road duty in his precinct to work upon the roads in the particular section in which he resides, and in order to have all road work more promptly and vigorously prosecuted, the overseer may appoint suboverseers in the several sections of his precinct; but the overseer himself shall exercise at all times a supervision over the different sections and suboverseers, and shall plan and direct all work to be done, and may require the suboverseers to warn all road hands subject to duty of the time and place of working, as is required by existing laws.

Sec. 6. The commissioners court shall require all able bodied county convicts, not otherwise more profitably employed, to labor upon the public roads of the county, or upon the public streets of some city or town in the county, under such regulations as it may prescribe, and each convict so employed shall receive credit, first upon the fine and then upon the cost, of fifty cents per day for each day he may labor: Provided, that no convict shall be required to labor on Sunday, but shall, nevertheless, have the same credit as if he had labored on that day.

Sec. 7. The commissioners court may, at any regular term, allow to the officers and witnesses in a convict case, where the convict is worked upon the roads, such portion of their lawful cost as it may determine, not to exceed in any case the following county judge, $2.50; county attorney, $5.00, including commissions; county clerk and justice of the peace, $2.00; sheriff and constable, $2.50; witnesses, twenty-five per cent of their legal fees: which allowances shall be paid out of the road and bridge fund, on the warrant of the county judge, when said fine and cost shall have been worked out by the convict as provided in this act. The commissioners court may provide the necessary houses, prisons, food, clothing, bedding, medicine, medical attention, and guards necessary for the safe-keeping and humane treatment of such convicts, and may grant a reasonable commutation of time to a convict, in consideration of faithful service and good behavior, such commutation in no case to exceed one-tenth of the entire time.

Sec. 8. The overseers may contract with any person subject to road duty in their precinct for the use of wagons and teams, and permit such person to discharge his road service in the hire of such wagon and team: Provided, he shall not allow more than $2.00 per day for any wagon and team, nor more than $3.00 per day for wagon and team and driver.

Sec. 9. It shall be the duty of each overseer to see that all roads, bridges, culverts, and drains in his precinct are kept in good repair; to see that every person subject to road duty in his precinct performs the service for which he is liable under the law, or that such service is in some way excused or commuted as provided by law; to see that all mile posts and guide boards at the forks of roads are kept continuously up and in order, and when the same are removed or defaced, to immediately repair or replace them. He shall act as supervisor of roads in his precinct, and perform all the duties as supervisor heretofore devolving upon the county commissioners; and the county commissioners of said county are hereby relieved from the duties prescribed by article 4390a of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Sec. 10. Every able bodied male person between the ages of twenty-one and forty-five years, resident in the county, except such persons as are exempt from road duty under the general laws of this State, shall be liable to labor on the public roads: Provided, that any one so liable may discharge said liability:

1. By furnishing a substitute who is acceptable to the overseer.
2. By paying to the overseer the sum of one dollar for each day he may be summoned to work, or by paying four dollars at any one time, shall be discharged from all liability for the entire year, to end on December 31st of each year.
3. By producing to the overseer the certificate of a reputable practi-ing physician, certifying that the party is permanently or temporarily incapacitated for such physical labor as is necessary for road service.

4. By substituting wagons and teams suitable and satisfactory to the road overseer, as provided in section 8 of this act.

Sec. 11. Every insolvent poll tax payer, being a resident of the county, who shall be indebted to the county on any unpaid county poll tax, and from whom the said poll tax can not be otherwise collected by law, shall be permitted to discharge the amount of such unpaid county poll tax in labor upon the public roads of his precinct, at the rate of one dollar per day; and in order to enforce the provisions of this section, the collector of taxes for the county shall be required, on or before the second Monday in February of every year, to furnish to the several overseers of the county the names of all defaulting poll tax payers, together with the amount of county poll tax due and unpaid by each; for which ex officio service the collector shall be exempt from road duty. And it shall be the duty of the overseer whenever any such person shall have discharged his county poll tax as herein provided, to report the same to the tax collector, who shall credit the party on the tax roll and report the same in his regular reports to the commissioners court: Provided, that no fines or penalties shall be recovered of insolvent poll tax payers for failure to work out their poll tax under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 12. Each road overseer shall make his report, under oath, to the commissioners court every six months, giving an itemized statement of all money belonging to the road fund which he has received, from whom received, and for what, and what disposition he has made of the same; the condition of all roads, bridges, culverts, and drains; the numbers and character of all mile posts and guide boards erected, and where the same are located; and such other information as the commissioners court may require; and may accompany said report with such suggestions as may seem to him pertinent in regard to the public roads and the duties of his office.

Sec. 13. Any road overseer who shall willfully or negligently fail or refuse to comply with any provision of this act, or to perform any lawful and reasonable order of the commissioners court, or to discharge any duty imposed upon him by this act, or by any other existing law of the State, not in conflict herewith, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, in a court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, such fine, when collected, to go into the road and bridge fund.

Sec. 14. Whenever it shall be necessary to occupy any private lands for the purpose of opening, widening, straightening, or draining any public road or part thereof, if the owner of such land and the commissioners court can not agree upon the amount of damage to be paid, the county may proceed to condemn the same in the same manner that a railroad company can condemn land for right of way, and the same proceedings may be had, and the same rights shall exist to each party, as would exist if the proceedings were by a railroad company, except that the county shall in no case be required to give bond either for cost or on appeal.

Sec. 15. This act shall be cumulative of all general laws of the State on the subject of roads and bridges, and employment of county convicts, not in conflict herewith, and where not otherwise provided herein such general laws shall apply, but in case of conflict with general laws this act shall govern; and the courts of the State shall have and take judicial cognizance of this act in the same manner and to the same extent as they are required to know and notice the general laws of the State.

Sec. 16. The vast amount of important business pending, and the fact that the roads of said county are in a deplorable condition for the want of a more efficient road law, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 8, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—FORTY-NINTH.

CHAP. 19.—[S. B. No. 150.] An act to amend section 2 of an act to amend an act approved March 25, 1889, being an act to amend an act to re-enact section 28 of an act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and fix the time for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said district at the next general election, to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9, 1883; and to amend said section 28 of said act, approved February 26, 1885, and to create the forty-ninth judicial district; to provide for the appointment and election of a district judge and district attorney therein, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith, passed at the regular session of the 22d Legislature, being chapter 39 of the acts thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section two (2) of the above recited act be so amended as hereafter to read as follows: Section 2. The forty-ninth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Duval, Encinal, Webb, and Zapata, and the district courts shall be held therein as follows: In the county of Webb on the first Monday in October, and may continue in session six (6) weeks; on the first Monday in January, and may continue in session eight (8) weeks, and on the first Monday in May, and may continue in session ten (10) weeks. In the county of Duval on the fifth Monday before the first Monday in May, and may continue in session three (3) weeks; and on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in October, and may continue in session three (3) weeks. In the county of Zapata on the second Monday before the first Monday in May, and may continue in session two (2) weeks; and on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in October, and may continue in session two (2) weeks.

Sec. 2. That all process issued or served before this act goes into effect, returnable to the district court of any of the counties mentioned in this act, shall be considered as returnable to the said court at the next ensuing term to be held in said county under the provisions of this act, and such process is hereby validated; and all grand and petit juries drawn and selected under the law as it now exists shall be considered as legally drawn and selected for the terms of court as provided in this act.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. That an emergency and an imperative public necessity exist in the fact that the time for holding court in Webb county, as now prescribed, is inadequate, and more time is required in order to dispatch the business of said court, wherefore, the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days should be suspended, and this act should take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 8, A. D. 1893.

MARION COUNTY—RESTORING CIVIL JURISDICTION TO COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 20.—[H. B. No. 101.] An act to restore to and confer upon the county court of Marion county the civil jurisdiction heretofore belonging to said county under the Constitution and general statutes of the State, and to conform the jurisdiction of the district court of said county to said change.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Marion county shall hereafter have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil cases where the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars, and not exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest; and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court of said county when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars, and not exceed one thousand dollars, exclusive of interest.

Sec. 2. Said county court shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases over which justice courts have original jurisdiction, when the judgment of the court appealed from or the amount in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, exclusive of costs; and said county court shall have power to hear and determine cases brought up from the justice court by certiorari, under the provisions of the title of the Revised Civil Statutes relating thereto.

Sec. 3. The county judge of said county shall have authority, either in term time or in vacation, to grant writs of mandamus, injunction, sequestration, garnishment, attachment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the said court, and shall also have power to issue writs of habeas corpus in all cases in which the Constitution has not exclusively conferred the power on the district court or the judge thereof.

Sec. 4. Said county court shall have jurisdiction in the forfeiture and judgment on all bonds and recognizances taken in criminal cases of which criminal cases said court has jurisdiction.

Sec. 5. Said county court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors, except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and except cases in which the highest penalty of fine may be imposed under the law may not exceed two hundred dollars, and said court shall also have appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases of which justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said county have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The district court of Marion county shall no longer have jurisdiction in cases in which the county court of said county, by the provisions of this act, have exclusive original or appellate jurisdiction; and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the district court of Marion county, within thirty days from the passage of this act, to make a full and complete transcript of all orders on his docket in cases now pending before the said district court, of which cases, by the terms of this act, exclusive jurisdiction is given to the county court, and to deliver said transcript, together with the original papers and certified bill of costs, to the clerk of said county court, and said county clerk shall enter said case or cases on his docket for trial by said county court.

Sec. 7. The county court of said county shall hereafter hold its regular terms of civil or criminal business as provided in the Constitution and general laws of the State, and process heretofore issued from the district court of said county in cases to be transferred under this act to the county court, shall be returnable to the first term of the county court, and all civil cases transferred shall be entered as appearance cases upon the docket of said county court.

Sec. 8. The county court of the said county of Marion shall have, as now, the general jurisdiction of probate courts, for the probate of wills, appointment of guardians of minors, idiots, and lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, and for the issuance of letters testamentary and of administration, settlement of accounts of administrators and guardians, and the settlement and distribution of decedents' estates, and the apprenticeship of minors, and all other necessary powers conferred by law on courts of probate.

Sec. 9. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Sec. 10. The great necessity for this law creates an imperative public necessity and emergency, requiring the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and the same is therefore suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 9, A. D. 1893.

NUECES, McMULLEN AND SAN PATRICIO COUNTIES—RESTORING CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JURISDICTION TO COUNTY COURTS.

CHAP. 21—[H. B. No. 416.] An act to repeal an act entitled "An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county courts of Henderson, Parker, Uvalde, Lampasas, Blanco, Bexar, Kimble, Nueces, Gillespie, Kendall, Wheeler, Oldham, Bandera, Wharton, McMullen, Medina, Frio, Dimmit, LaSalle, Hidalgo, Starr, Zapata, Duval and Burnet counties, and to conform the jurisdiction of the district and justice courts of said counties to such change," approved February 25, 1881, as far as same relates to Nueces, McMullen, and San Patricio counties, and reinvest the county courts of Nueces, McMullen, and San Patricio counties with the jurisdiction, criminal and civil, which they had and exercised prior to the passage of said act diminishing the jurisdiction of said courts.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act entitled "An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county courts of Henderson, Parker, Uvalde, Lampasas, Blanco, Bexar, Kimble, Nueces, Gillespie, Kendall, Wheeler, Oldham, Bandera, Wharton, McMullen, Medina, Frio, Dimmit, La Salle, Hidalgo, Starr, Zapata, Duval, and Burnet counties, and to conform the jurisdiction of the district and justice courts of said counties to such change," approved

February 25, 1881, be and the same is hereby repealed as far as same relates to the counties of Nueces, McMullen, and San Patricio.

Sec. 2. Said county courts be and the same are hereby reinvested with the jurisdiction, criminal and civil, which they had and exercised prior to the passage of said act diminishing the jurisdiction of said counties.

Sec. 3. All causes now pending in the district courts of said counties of Nueces, McMullen, and San Patricio, over which the county courts of those counties would have jurisdiction under the Constitution, shall be transferred to said county courts, and all causes now pending in said district court over which said district and county courts have concurrent jurisdiction shall, upon the written motion of either party thereto, filed with the clerk of said district court, be transferred to said county courts, and all causes so transferred shall be docketed in said county courts and stand for trial as appearance causes in that court.

Sec. 4. The district clerks of said counties of Nueces, McMullen, and San Patricio be and they are hereby required, within twenty days after the passage of this act, to make a full and complete transcript of all entries made upon the dockets of said district court in all causes which will be by section 3 of this act transferred from said court, and shall deliver the same and all papers of each cause to the clerks of said county courts.

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The crowded condition of the docket of the district court of Nueces county, and the necessity of reducing the same, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity, requiring the constitutional rule for bills to be read on three several days to be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 13, A. D. 1893.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS LUNATIC ASYLUM—AUTHORIZING SALE OR LEASE OF ARTESIAN WATER.

CHAP. 22.—[H. B. No. 591.] An act authorizing the board of managers of the Southwest Texas Lunatic Asylum, San Antonio, Texas, to sell, lease, or dispose of the water flowing from the artesian wells on the grounds belonging to said asylum.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the members of the board of managers of the Southwest Texas Lunatic Asylum, situated at San Antonio, Texas, be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to sell, lease, or dispose of the water belonging to the State, and flowing from any of the artesian wells on the grounds of said asylum, for such price and upon such terms and conditions as the said board may deem to be the best interest of the State: Provided, that the term of said lease shall not exceed ten years.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session of this Legislature, and the importance of having the water now going to waste from the wells of this asylum utilized to the interest and advantage of the State creates a necessity and emergency for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 13, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—FORTY-FIRST.

CHAP. 23.—[H. B. No. 549.] An act to reorganize the forty-first judicial district, and to provide the times of holding the terms of the district courts in said district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the counties of Brewster, Buchel, Foley, Pecos, Val Verde, Kinney, Edwards, Jeff Davis, and Maverick be and the same are hereby constituted the forty-first judicial district of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. The district courts shall be held in the several counties composing the forty-first judicial district as follows: Beginning in Jeff Davis on the second Mondays before the first Mondays in March and September, and continue in session two weeks. In Brewster county the first Mondays in March and September, and continue two weeks. In Pecos county the second Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and continue one week. In Val Verde county the third Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and continue two weeks. In Kinney county the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and continue two weeks. In Edwards county the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and continue two weeks. In Maverick county the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and continue until all the business is disposed of.

Sec. 3. All writs and process returnable to the district courts as heretofore fixed in the several counties affected by this act, shall be as valid and binding as if no change had been made.

Sec. 4. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 5. Whereas, the dockets of the district courts in the several counties composing the district hereby created are now in such crowded condition as to prevent a speedy trial of the same unless this bill is enacted into a law, creates such an emergency and public necessity as requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is therefore suspended, and it is enacted that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved March 13, A. D. 1893.

HAMILTON AND WHARTON COUNTIES—RESTORING CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JURISDICTION TO COUNTY COURTS.

CHAP. 24—[H. B. No. 279.] An act to restore to and confer upon the county courts of Hamilton and Wharton counties the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore belonging to said courts under the Constitution and general statutes of the State, to conform the jurisdiction of the district courts of said counties to such change, and to repeal all laws in conflict with the provisions of this act in so far as relates to Hamilton and Wharton counties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county courts of Wharton and Hamilton counties shall hereafter have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil cases where the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars, and shall not exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, and that they shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts of said counties when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars and not exceed one thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. Said county courts shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases over which justice courts have original jurisdiction when the judgment of the court appealed from or the amount in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, and said county courts shall have power to hear and determine cases brought up from justice courts by certiorari, under the provisions of the title of the Revised Statutes relating thereto.

Sec. 3. The county judges of the said counties shall have authority, either in term time or vacation, to grant writs of mandamus, injunction, sequestration, garnishment, attachment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said courts, and shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus in all cases in which the Constitution has not exclusively conferred the power on the district courts or judges thereof.

Sec. 4. Said county courts shall have jurisdiction in the forfeiture and judgment of all bonds and recognizances taken in criminal cases of which said courts have jurisdiction.

Sec. 5. Said county courts shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors, except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and except in cases in which the highest penalty of fine that may be imposed under the law may not exceed two hundred dollars, and said courts shall also have appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases of which justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said counties have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The district courts of Wharton and Hamilton counties shall no longer have jurisdiction of cases of which the county courts of said counties, by the provisions of this act, have exclusive original or appellate jurisdiction, and it shall be the duty of the clerks of the district courts of said counties, within thirty days from the passage of this act, to make a full and complete transcript of all orders on the docket in cases now pending before said district courts, of which cases, by the terms of this act, exclusive jurisdiction is given to said county courts, and they shall deliver said transcript, together with the original papers and certified bill of costs to the clerks of said county courts, and said county clerks shall enter said case or cases on the docket for trial by said county courts.

Sec. 7. The county courts of said counties shall hereafter hold their regular terms for civil and criminal business as provided in the Constitution and general laws of the State, and process heretofore issued from the districts courts of said counties in cases to be transferred under this act to the county courts of Wharton and Hamilton counties shall be returnable to the first term, respectively, held by said county courts after this act shall go into effect, and all cases transferred shall be entered as appearance cases upon the dockets of said county courts.

Sec. 8. The county courts of Wharton and Hamilton counties shall have, as now, the general jurisdiction appertaining to probate courts, for the probate of wills, appointment of guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, and for the issuance of letters testamentary and [of] administration, settlement of accounts of administrators and guardians, and the settlement and distribution of decedents' estates, and the apprenticeship of minors, and all other necessary powers conferred by law on courts of probate.

Sec. 9. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act, in so far as relates to Wharton and Hamilton counties, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 10. Whereas, the county courts of Wharton and Hamilton counties are without the jurisdiction necessary for the just and proper administration of the laws, creates such an emergency and public necessity as requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days; said rule is therefore suspended; and it is enacted that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved March 13, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—SECOND AND NINTH.

CHAP. 25.—[H. B. No. 564.] An act to amend an act approved July 4, 1887, and the amendatory act thereto, approved March 31, 1891, and to change the times of holding the district courts in the second and ninth judicial districts of the State of Texas, and to take Angelina county from the ninth and attach same to the second judicial district, and to fix the time of holding courts in said districts, and to provide for the return of all writs and process returnable to the district courts of said counties affected by this act, that have heretofore been issued by said courts, and that may hereafter be issued before this act takes effect, and made returnable to the terms of said courts as now fixed by law, and to make the same as valid and binding as if no change had been made, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 9, acts of the regular session of the Twentieth Legislature, and an amendatory act thereto, passed at the regular session of the Twenty-second Legislature of the State of Texas, approved March 31, 1891, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 2. The second judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Angelina, Cherokee, Nacogdoches, Sabine, San Augustine, and Shelby, and the terms of the district courts shall be held therein as follows: In the county of Shelby on the first Monday in January and second Monday in July, and may continue in session five weeks. In the county of Sabine on the fifth Mondays after the first Monday in January and the second Monday in July, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of San Augustine on the seventh Mondays after the first Monday in January and the second Monday in July, and may continue in session three weeks. In the county of Nacogdoches on the tenth Mondays after the first Monday in January and the second Monday in July, and may continue in session four weeks. In the county of Angelina on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Monday in January and the second Monday in July, and may continue in session four weeks. In the county of Cherokee on the eighteenth Mondays after the first Monday in January and the second Monday in July, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 3. The ninth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Chambers, Hardin, Liberty, Polk and San Jacinto, and the district courts therein shall be held as follows: In the county of Polk on the second Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session five weeks. In the county of Liberty on the sixth Mondays after the second Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session four weeks. In the county of Chambers on the tenth Mondays after the second Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Hardin on the twelfth Mondays after the second Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session three weeks. In the county of San Jacinto on the fifteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 4. That all writs and process returnable to the district courts as heretofore fixed in the counties affected by this act, and all such writs and process that may hereafter be issued before this act shall take effect, and made returnable to the terms of said district courts as now fixed by law, shall be valid and binding as if no change had been made.

Sec. 5. Provided, that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after July 1, 1893.

Sec. 6. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 7. The near approach of the end of the present session of the Legislature and the crowded condition of the calendar creates an emergency that requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and the same is so suspended, and the great need of changing the times for holding the courts mentioned in this act creates an imperative public necessity that this bill be put upon its final passage at once, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 13, A. D. 1893.

THEFT—CATTLE, HOG, SHEEP, OR GOAT—A FELONY.

CHAP. 26.—[H. B. No. 26.] An act to amend articles 747 and 748, chapter 11, title 17, of the Penal Code.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That articles 747 and 748, title 17, chapter 11, of the Penal Code, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Art. 747. If any person shall steal any cattle or hog, he shall be punished by confinement in the State penitentiary for not less than two nor more than four years.

Art. 748. If any person shall steal any sheep or goat, he shall, if the value of the property stolen be twenty dollars or over, be punished by confinement in the State penitentiary not less than two nor more than four years. If the property be under twenty dollars in value, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, during which time the prisoner may be put to hard labor, and by fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars, or such imprisonment without fine.

Approved March 15, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—TWENTY-THIRD.

CHAP. 27.—[H. B. No. 446.] An act to amend section 23 of chapter 63 of an act passed at the regular session of the Twenty-second Legislature, approved April 13, 1891, entitled "An act to amend section 23 of an act entitled an act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and fix the times of holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election, to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884," and to change the time of holding the terms of the district court in Brazoria county, and conform the issuance, service, and return of process from said court to such change.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 23 of the above entitled act be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 23. The twenty-third judicial district of Texas shall be composed of the counties of Brazoria, Jackson, Fort Bend, Matagorda, Waller, and Wharton, and the district court shall be held therein as follows: In the county of Waller on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks. In the county of Fort Bend on the third Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session four weeks. In the county of Wharton on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks. In the county of Jackson on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Matagorda on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Brazoria there shall be held two terms of said court in each year, the first term to be held on the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue in session until the last Saturday in said month, and the second term to be held on the fifteenth Monday after the first Monday in March of each year, and may continue in session until the last Saturday in July following, and all process from said court shall be issued, served, and returned in conformity with the change herein made.

Sec. 2. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. That whereas it is probable that the present session of the Legislature of the State of Texas will continue beyond the regular term of sixty days, in which event the provisions of this act will tend to cause confusion and uncertainty as to the issuance, service, and return of process to the June term, 1893, of said court in Brazoria county; and whereas the fact that another regular session of the Legislature will not be held for two years, and the further fact that under existing law the December term of said court convenes during the Christmas holidays, thereby retarding the dispatch of business in said court, and causing great inconvenience to the citizens of said county, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 15, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—THIRTEENTH.

CHAP. 28.—[S. B. No. 103.] An act to prescribe the times for holding the terms of the district court in the thirteenth judicial district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the thirteenth judicial district of the State shall be composed of the counties of Limestone, Freestone, and Navarro, and the district courts shall be begun and held therein as follows: In the county of Limestone on the first Monday in January and on the first Monday in August, and may continue in session five weeks each term. In the county of Freestone on the fifth Monday after the first Monday in January and on the fifth Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks each term. In the county of Navarro on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in January, and may continue in session seven weeks, and on the first Monday in June, and may continue in session seven weeks, and on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session six weeks.

Sec. 2. That all process heretofore issued under the law as it now exists be and the same is hereby made returnable to the terms as fixed herein.

Sec. 3. The crowded condition of the dockets in Navarro county creates an emergency that this law should take effect and be in force on and after the first Monday in June, 1893, and it is so enacted, and the same fact creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is so suspended.

Approved March 15, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—THIRTY-EIGHTH.

CHAP. 29.—[S. H. B. No. 161.] An act to amend section 38, chapter 141, of an act passed at the regular session of the Twenty-first Legislature of the State of Texas, approved March 30, 1889, entitled "An act to amend chapter 61, an act entitled an act to amend section 38 of an act entitled an act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election, to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9, 1883, approved March 25, 1887," granting an extension of time for the holding of the district court of Comal county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 38 of chapter 141 of an act passed at the regular session of the Twenty-first Legislature of the State of Texas, approved March 30, 1889, entitled "An act to amend chapter 61, an act entitled an act to amend section 38 of an act entitled an act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9, 1883, approved March 25, 1887," be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 38. The thirty-eighth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Uvalde, Comal, Kendall, Kerr, Bandera, and Medina, and the district courts therein shall be held as follows: In the county of Bandera on the fifth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Kendall on the seventh Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Kerr on the ninth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Comal on the eleventh Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks. In the county of Medina on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session four weeks. In the county of Uvalde on the eighteenth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of: Provided, that the next regular session of the district court of Uvalde county, to be holden on the second Monday after the first Monday in March, 1893, shall be held at its regular time, but each session thereafter shall be held in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The crowded condition of the docket of the district court of Comal county, and this fact together in connection with the increasing business in the district court of said Comal county, creates an imperative public necessity which justifies the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in both houses, and the same is hereby suspended, and that this bill become a law and take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 15, A. D. 1893.

DIRECT TAX—MODE OF DISBURSEMENT.

CHAP. 30.—[S. H. B. No. 67.] An act to provide for the prompt, speedy, and economical disbursement of the direct tax refunded to the State of Texas, under the act of the Fifty-first Congress, approved March 2, 1891.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all claims against the direct tax refunded to the State of Texas in trust for those from whom the same was collected, or their legal representatives, under the act of the Fifty-first Congress, approved March 2, 1891, shall be filed under the direction of the Governor, who shall cause a claim register to be kept by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, showing the county in which and by whom the tax was paid; by whom the claim for reimbursement is made; the number of the claim and date of filing; the award of the Comptroller; the name of the payee; the number, date, and amount of the warrant. All claims now on file with the auditing board, created by the joint resolution of April 11, 1892, shall be filed as of the date of the taking effect of this act.

Sec. 2. The Comptroller of Public Accounts shall audit and pass upon the claims against the direct tax fund which may be made by those who paid the tax, or their legal representatives.

Sec. 3. The Comptroller shall allow such claims and draw his warrant in the name of the claimant, his surviving wife, or his or her legal representative, if any, on the State Treasurer in payment of same when the genuineness thereof has been established in either of the following methods: First: When satisfactory proof has been made before him that the party applying is entitled thereto; and he is hereby authorized to administer such oaths as he may require in regard to the matter. Second: He shall, as soon as practicable, furnish a list of those who paid the tax and amounts paid to the county judge of each county wherein the tax was paid, to be filed in his office for inspection by those interested. In the manner to be designated by the comptroller, the county judge shall give notice of the receipt of the list. He shall at any time hear evidence as to the right of those making claim, and if the proof be satisfactory, he shall, under the seal of the county court, deliver to the claimant a certificate stating how the claim was established. In case where neither of the above rules can be applied, the Comptroller may prescribe the rule.

Sec. 4. The county judge shall be allowed the sum of 25 cents for each certificate, to be paid by the applicant.

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. That the people may receive the moneys due them as soon as possible creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

ATTORNEY FEES—FIXING SAME IN SUITS FOR RECOVERY OF INTEREST OR TO FORFEIT SCHOOL LAND.

CHAP. 31.—[S. B. No. 130.] An act to fix the fees of district and county attorneys, and attorneys ad litem, in suits instituted by the State for the recovery of interest due the school fund, or to forfeit school land for nonpayment of purchase money, and to provide for the payment thereof.

Whereas, under the acts of 1879 and 1881, for the sale of public school lands, no provision was made for the forfeiture of said lands on account of nonpayment of interest due on the purchase money, except by suits in the State district courts; and

Whereas, a large quantity of said lands were sold under said acts, and the interest and principal of the purchase money on the purchase contracts for said lands are due and unpaid; and

Whereas, certain suits for the recovery of said money, under competent authority, have been instituted in behalf of the State, and it is necessary to institute others to recover said moneys; and

Whereas, There is now no provision of law fixing fees for attorneys who represent the State in these suits, and attorneys appointed by the court to represent the defendants:

Section 1. Therefore be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That district and county attorneys who have represented or may hereafter represent the State in suits for the recovery of interest and purchase money due the State on account of sales of school lands, made under the acts of 1879 and 1881, or for the forfeiture of said lands on account of non-payment of said interest and purchase money, shall be allowed a fee of ten dollars for each of such cases in which the State recovers judgment; said fees to be approved by the judge who tried the case or his successor in office, and certified by the clerk of the trial court, and when so approved and certified shall be paid out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated: Provided, that in cases where suits are filed by one district or county attorney and judgment obtained by his successor in office, the fee shall be equally divided between them.

Sec. 2. That a fee of five dollars for every suit heretofore or hereafter brought be allowed attorneys appointed by the court to represent the defendant in all cases where the State recovered judgment and where the costs can not be made out of the defendant; said fee to be paid by the State upon the presentation of an account allowed by the district court trying said case, stating the number and style of the suit and that the State recovered therein, that the attorney was appointed and represented the defendant therein, and that the costs can not be recovered out of said defendant.

Sec. 3. Whereas many suits for the collection of said interest due said school fund or the forfeiture of said school lands have been brought by the direction of the proper authorities, and are now pending, and there is no provision for paying the attorneys rendering services to the State in maintaining said suits; and whereas the maintenance of said suits is necessary for the assertion of the right of the State and her free school fund in valuable properties belonging thereto, it is declared that an emergency and an imperative public necessity exist for the suspension of the rule requiring that bills to be read upon three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 16, A. D. 1893.

SCHOOL LANDS—EXTENDING TIME FOR PAYMENT OF INTEREST.

CHAP. 32.—[S. B. No. 88.] An act to amend section 11 of an act approved April 28, 1891, entitled "An act to amend sections 11, 14, and 15 of an act to amend sections 5, 8, 11, 13, 14, 15, and 22, chapter 99, of an act entitled an act to provide for the sale of all lands heretofore or hereafter surveyed and set apart for the benefit of the public free schools, the university, and the several asylums, and the lease of such lands and of the public lands of the State, and to prevent the free use, occupancy, unlawful enclosure, or unlawful appropriation of such lands, and to prescribe and provide adequate penalties therefor, approved April 1, 1887, approved April 8, 1889."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act approved April 28, 1891, entitled "An act to amend sections 11, 14, and 15 of an act to amend sections 5, 8, 11, 13, 14, 15, and 22, chapter 99, of an act entitled an act to provide for the sale of all lands heretofore or hereafter surveyed and set apart for the benefit of the public free schools, the university, and the several asylums, and the lease of such lands and of the public lands of the State, and to prevent the free use, occupancy, unlawful enclosure, or unlawful appropriation of such lands, and to prescribe and provide adequate penalties therefor, approved April 1, 1887, approved April 8, 1889," be so amended as hereafter to read as follows, to-wit:

Section 11. If, upon the first day of November of any year, the interest due for the year next preceding on any obligation remains unpaid, the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall endorse on such obligation "Land forfeited," and shall cause an entry to that effect to be made on the account kept with the purchaser, and thereupon said land shall be forfeited to the State, without the necessity of re-entry or judicial ascertainment, and shall revert to the particular fund to which it originally belonged, and be resold under the provisions of this act, or any future law: Provided, if any purchaser shall die, his heirs or legal representatives shall have one year in which to make payment after the first day of November next after such death; and if any purchaser shall fail to reside upon and improve in good faith the land purchased by him, he shall forfeit said land and payment thereon made, to the State, in the same manner as for nonpayment of interest, and such land shall again be for sale, as if no such sale or forfeiture had occurred; or, if he shall fail to make the proof of occupancy within the time and in the manner prescribed by the regulations of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, as provided for in section 9 of this act, he shall in like manner forfeit the land and all payments thereon to the State: Provided further, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to inhibit the State from instituting such legal proceedings as may be necessary to enforce such forfeiture, or to protect any other right to such land; which suits may be instituted by the Attorney General under the direction of the Governor, in the proper court of the county in which the land lies: Provided, this section shall be printed on the back of the receipt.

Sec. 2. The fact that an extensive and destructive drouth prevailed throughout west and northwest Texas during the year 1892, amounting to a public calamity, and rendering it impossible for many of the purchasers of said lands to pay their annual interest for said year within the time prescribed by law, and that unless said interest is paid on or before the first of April, 1893, their lands will be forfeited, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 20, A. D. 1893.

PLEADINGS—ANSWER—WHEN FILED.

CHAP. 33.—[H. B. No. 14.] An act to amend article 1263 of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 1263 of the Revised Civil Statutes be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1263. In all cases in which the citation has been personally served at least ten days before the first day of the term to which it is returnable, exclusive of the day of service and return, the answer of the defendant shall be filed in the county and district courts on or before the second day of the return term and before the call of the appearance docket on said second day.

Sec. 2. Whereas there is now a conflict between articles 1263 and 1280, and the crowded condition of the calendar, and the large number of bills now pending, and the near approach of the [end of the] present session creates an emergency, and a public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this bill take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 20, A. D. 1893.

ANGELINA, SHELBY AND COKE COUNTIES—RESTORING CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JURISDICTION TO THE COUNTY COURTS.

CHAP. 34. —[H. B. No. 433.] An act to restore to and confer upon the county courts of Angelina, Shelby, and Coke counties the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore belonging to said courts under the Constitution and general laws of the State, and to conform the jurisdiction of the district courts of said counties to such change, and to give said county courts concurrent jurisdiction with justices of the peace and other inferior courts of said counties, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county courts of Angelina, Shelby, and Coke counties shall hereafter have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil cases wherein the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars, and not exceed five hundred dollars, and concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts of said counties when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars, and not exceed one thousand dollars, exclusive of interest, except the misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and except cases in which the highest penalty of fine that may be imposed under the law may not exceed two hundred dollars, and have original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors, except the misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with that of justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said counties, when the matter in controversy exceeds twenty dollars; and said courts shall have appellate jurisdiction in all civil and criminal cases in which justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said counties have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 2. The county courts of said counties shall have authority, either in term time or vacation, to grant writs of mandamus, injunction, sequestration, garnishment, attachment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said courts, and shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus in all cases in which the Constitution has not exclusively conferred the power on the district court or judge thereof.

Sec. 3. Said county courts shall also have power to hear and determine all motions against sheriffs and other officers of the court for failure to pay over moneys collected under the process of said courts, or other defalcation of duty in connection with such process, and shall have power to punish, by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars and by imprisonment not exceeding three days, any person guilty of contempt of said courts, and all other powers and jurisdiction conferred on county courts by the Constitution of the State.

Sec. 4. The district courts of said counties of Angelina, Shelby, and Coke shall no longer have jurisdiction of misdemeanors except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and shall no longer have jurisdiction of cases of which the county courts of said counties, by the provisions of this act, have the original or appellate jurisdiction; and it shall be the duty of the district clerks of said counties, within thirty days after this act shall take effect, to make full and complete transcripts of all orders on the civil and criminal dockets in cases then pending before the district courts of said counties, of which cases, by the provisions of this act, original and appellate jurisdiction is given to said county courts, and to deliver said transcripts, together with the original papers and a certified bill of costs in each case, to the county clerks of said counties, and said county clerks shall take charge of said transcripts and papers, file the same, and enter said cases on their respective dockets for trial by said courts.

Sec. 5. The county courts of said counties shall hereafter hold their regular terms for civil and criminal business as provided in the Constitution and general laws of the State, or at such time as the commissioners courts of said counties may authorize by a written order spread upon the minutes of said court, and all process heretofore issued from the district courts of said counties in cases transferred under this act to the county courts shall be returnable to the first term of the county court, and all civil cases transferred shall be entered as appearance cases upon the docket of said court.

Sec. 6. The county courts of said Angelina, Shelby, and Coke counties shall have, as now, the general jurisdiction of probate courts, for the probate of wills, appointment of guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, and for the issuance of letters testamentary and [of] administration, settlement of accounts of administrators and guardians, and the settlement of distribution of decedents' estates, and the apprenticeship of minors, and all other necessary powers conferred by law on courts of probate.

Sec. 7. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act, in so far as it relates to Angelina, Shelby, and Coke counties, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 8. Whereas, the county courts of Angelina, Shelby, and Coke counties are without the jurisdiction necessary for the just and proper administration of the laws, creates such an emergency and public necessity as requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 21, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—FIFTEENTH AND FORTIETH.

CHAP. 35.—[H. B. No. 265.] An act to be entitled an act to reorganize the fifteenth judicial district and the fortieth judicial district, and to amend chapter 67, section 15, of the general laws of Texas, approved April 9, 1883, redistricting the State for judicial purposes, and to amend section 2 of chapter 58 of the general laws of Texas, approved March 27, 1885, creating the fortieth judicial district, and to repeal all laws in conflict with this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the fifteenth judicial district shall be composed of the county of Grayson, and the terms of court for said district shall be held therein each year as follows: The first term shall begin on the first Monday in January of each year, and continue until the last Saturday in March. The second term shall begin on the first Monday in April, and may continue until the second Saturday in July, or until the business is disposed of. The third term shall begin on the first Monday in September, and continue until the third Saturday in December. The provisions of this act shall not apply to the term of the district court for Grayson county beginning on the second Monday of March, 1893, but thereafter the terms of the district court for said county shall conform to the provisions of this act.

Sec. 2. The fortieth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Collin, Ellis, Kaufman, and Rockwall, and the terms of the district court within and for said counties shall be held each year as follows: Beginning in Kaufman county on the first Monday in September of each year, and lasting five weeks; beginning in Collin county on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in September, and lasting six weeks; beginning in Rockwall county on the fourth Monday in November, and lasting two weeks; beginning in Ellis county on the second Monday in December, and lasting seven weeks; beginning in Kaufman county on the first Monday in February of each year, and lasting five weeks; beginning in Collin county on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in February, and lasting six weeks; beginning in Rockwall county on the first Monday in May, and lasting two weeks; beginning in Ellis county on the third Monday in May, and lasting seven weeks.

Sec. 3. All writs, process, and bonds, civil and criminal, which may be issued or executed up to the time this act takes effect, by or from the district courts of the several counties named in this act, or under the order of said courts, and made returnable to the terms of said courts as they are now fixed by law, shall be returnable to the next ensuing terms of said courts in each county as they are prescribed in this act; and all such writs, process, and bonds above mentioned are hereby legalized and validated to all intents and purposes as if the same had been returnable to the terms of said courts as the terms hereof are herein prescribed.

Sec. 4. The judges of the district courts now in office and residing within the said above named fifteenth and fortieth judicial districts, as herein defined, shall hold the several terms of the courts in the counties herein named.

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws heretofore enacted in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the end of this session of the Legislature, and the crowded condition of the docket in Grayson county district court, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and that this act go into effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 21, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—FIFTEENTH AND FORTIETH. (Amending Chap. 35 Laws 1893.)

CHAP. 36.—[H. B. No. 649.] An act to amend section 2 of "An act to be entitled an act to reorganize the fifteenth judicial district and the fortieth judicial district, and to amend chapter 67, section 15, of the general laws of Texas, approved April 9, 1883, redistricting the State for judicial purposes, and to amend section 2 of chapter 58 of the general laws of Texas, approved March 27, 1885, creating the fortieth judicial district, and to repeal all laws in conflict with this act," passed at the present session of the Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 2 of the act recited above be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 2. The fortieth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Collin, Ellis, Kaufman, and Rockwall, and the terms of the district court within and for said counties shall be held each year as follows: Beginning in Kaufman county on the first Monday in September, and lasting five weeks; beginning in Collin county on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in September, and lasting six weeks; beginning in Rockwall county on the fourth Monday in November, and lasting two weeks; beginning in Ellis county on the second Monday in December, and lasting seven weeks; beginning in Kaufman county on the first Monday in February, and lasting five weeks; beginning in Collin county on the sixth Monday after the first [Monday] in February, and lasting six weeks; beginning in Rockwall county on the first Monday in May, and lasting two weeks; beginning in Ellis county on the third Monday in May, and lasting seven weeks: Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to the term of the district court heretofore begun in Ellis county on the first Monday in March, 1893, and the first term of said court in said county under this act shall be that beginning on the second Monday in December, 1893, and the first regular term of the court held in Collin county under this act shall be begun on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in September, 1893.

Sec. 2. The fact that the operation of the act heretofore passed will probably interfere with the session of the court now in progress, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 21, A. D. 1893.

McCULLOCH COUNTY—DIMINISHING THE CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 37.—[H. B. No. 441.] An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court of McCulloch county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of McCulloch county shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of probate courts; shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians, transacting all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution, and settlement of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors, as provided by law, and issue writs necessary to the enforcement of said jurisdiction, to punish contempt under such provisions as are or may be provided by general law governing county courts throughout the State, but the said county court of McCulloch county shall have no other civil or criminal jurisdiction whatever.

Sec. 2. The district court of McCulloch county shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil and criminal matters and causes over which, by the laws of this State, the county court of said county would have jurisdiction, except as provided in section one of this act, and all causes, other than probate matters, and such as are provided by section one of this act, be and the same are hereby transferred to the district court of McCulloch county, and all writs and process relating to any civil or criminal matters not included in the subject matter of jurisdiction prescribed in section one of this act, issued by or out of said court of McCulloch county, be and the same are hereby made returnable to the next term of the district court of said county.

Sec. 3. The county clerk of the court of McCulloch county is hereby required, within thirty days after the passage of this act, to make a fair and complete transcript of all entries upon the civil and criminal docket heretofore made in cases where [which] by section two are required to be transferred to the district court of said county, and deliver the same to the district clerk of said county, together with all the papers to such causes pertaining, and all such causes shall be immediately docketed by said district clerk, and such civil causes so transferred shall stand on the docket of said court as appearance cases for the next succeeding term, and all criminal cases shall be docketed and disposed of in the same manner as if the same had originally been triable in said district court.

Sec. 4. This act shall not be construed to in any manner affect judgment heretofore rendered by said county court of McCulloch county pertaining to matters and causes by which [which by] section 2 of this act are transferred to the district court of said county, but the county clerk of said county shall issue all executions and orders of sale as the judgment in such cases require, and such executions and orders of sale and proceedings thereunder shall be as valid and binding to all intents and purposes as though the change had not been made as provided in section 2 of this act.

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature and the great need of a change in the jurisdiction of the county court of McCulloch county creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 24, A. D. 1893.

LANDS—UNRESTRICTED OWNERSHIP—PERPETUITIES.

CHAP. 38.—[S. B. No. 4.] An act to define perpetuities and prevent land monopolies, to limit and regulate the use and ownership of lands by corporations, and to provide for the alienation, forfeiture, and escheat of lands held in violation of the laws of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the unrestricted ownership of lands in this State by private corporations is a perpetuity and is hereby prohibited.

Sec. 2. That no private corporation heretofore or hereafter chartered or created whose main purpose of business is the acquisition or ownership of land by purchase, lease, or otherwise, shall hereafter be permitted to acquire any land within this State by purchase, lease, or otherwise.

Sec. 3. That all private corporations whose main purpose or business is the acquisition or ownership, by purchase, lease, or otherwise, of lands in this State, shall, within fifteen years from the time this act takes effect, make an actual bona fide sale of all lands, or interest therein acquired, before this act takes effect, and shall within said fifteen years, by proper deed, convey in good faith all their right and title to said land. And lands acquired by corporations in payment of debts due such corporation shall be sold and conveyed as herein provided within fifteen years from the date of the acquisition of such land.

Sec. 4. That all private corporations authorized by the laws of Texas, as provided in chapter 101, article 566, acts of 1891, Twenty-second Legislature, to do business in this State, whose main purpose is not the acquisition or ownership of lands, as mentioned in the preceding sections, which have heretofore or may hereafter acquire, by lease, purchase, or otherwise, more land than is necessary to enable them to carry on their business, shall, within fifteen years from the time this act takes effect, or the date said land may be hereafter acquired in good faith sell and convey in fee simple all lands so acquired, and which are not necessary for the transaction of their business. And no private corporation shall be permitted to purchase any land under the provisions of this and the preceding sections unless the lands so purchased are necessary to enable such corporation to do business in this State, or except where such land is purchased in due course of business to secure the payment of debt: Provided, that nothing in this law shall be construed to prohibit the lease, purchase, sale, or subdivision of lands within incorporated towns, cities, or villages, and the suburbs of such towns, cities, and villages, within two miles from the limits of said incorporation in any direction.

Sec. 5. All corporations holding lands contrary to the provisions of this act shall hold the same subject to the forfeiture and escheat proceedings, and it shall be the duty of the Attorney General, or other attorney appointed by the Governor for that purpose, when he is informed or has reason to believe that any corporation is holding lands in violation of this act, to institute suit in the name of the State of Texas, in the district court of Travis county, or in the district court of any county in Texas where such corporation may have an agent, or in any county where any part of the land may be situated, against such corporation, as is provided in title 36, in the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, for the escheat of estates of deceased persons dying without devise thereof and having no heirs.

Sec. 6. If it shall be determined upon the trial of said suit that lands are held contrary to this act, the court trying said cause shall enter judgment condemning such lands and ordering them to be sold as under execution. The proceeds of such sale to be applied, first, to the payment of costs of such suit, and balance to be paid into the State treasury, subject to be paid to the stockholders, or persons entitled to receive the same as owners, upon proper proof made within twelve months from date of sale, and if the legal representatives of such corporation fail to claim the balance of money realized on sale of said land, then it shall escheat absolutely to the State and be applied to the available school fund of the State of Texas. The court trying said cause shall allow the attorney representing the State a reasonable fee, to be taxed as cost in the suit, but in no case shall the State be liable for costs or fees unless it is successful in said suit.

Sec. 7. That all laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved March 24, A. D. 1893.

BUTCHERS AND SLAUGHTERERS— BONDS.

CHAP. 39.—[H. B. No. 151.] An act to amend chapter 75 of the Acts of the Twenty-first Legislature of Texas, approved April 6, 1889, entitled "An act to require butchers and slaughterers of cattle to give bond, and to prescribe penalties for the violation of the conditions of the same, and to prevent unlawful slaughtering and selling cattle," as amended by the Twenty-second Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That chapter 75 of the Acts of the Twenty-first Legislature, approved April 6, 1889, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 2. That every person, before he shall set up and carry on the trade or occupation of a butcher or slaughterer of cattle in the State of Texas, shall file a bond, to be approved by the county judge of the county in which he desires to carry on the business, in a sum not less than two hundred dollars nor more than thousand dollars, payable to the State of Texas, conditioned that he shall keep a true and faithful record, in a book kept for that purpose, of all cattle purchased or slaughtered by him, with a description of the animal, including marks, brands, age, color, weight, and from whom purchased, and the date thereof. That he will have the hide and ears of such animal inspected by the inspector, or some magistrate of the county, within twenty days after it is slaughtered, and that he will not purchase any cattle that has been slaughtered by another unless the hide and ears of such slaughtered animal accompany said animal offered for sale, and that he will not purchase any animal that has been slaughtered by another when the ear marks, or brands on the hide accompanying such animal, when offered for sale, have been changed, mutilated, or destroyed.

Sec. 3. Every person who shall carry on the business of butcher or slaughterer of animals without having filed with the clerk of the county court of the county in which he conducts such business the bond provided for in section 2 of this act, shall be fined in any sum not less than five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 4. Every person who shall carry on the business of butcher or slaughterer of animals and shall fail to keep a true and faithful record, in a book kept for the purpose, [of] all cattle purchased and slaughtered by him, together with a description of each animal, including mark, brand, age, color, weight, and from whom purchased, and the date of purchase, or shall fail to have the hide and ears of such animal or animals inspected by the inspector or some magistrate, within twenty days after such animal is slaughtered, shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 5. Any person engaged in butchering and slaughtering cattle and [who] shall purchase any cattle that have been slaughtered by another without the hide and ears of such animal accompanying the same, or shall purchase any animal that has been slaughtered by another when the ear mark or brand on the hide accompanying the same, when offered for sale, have been changed, mutilated, or destroyed, shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 6. The record provided for in section 4 of this act shall be open to inspection to all parties, and any butcher refusing to permit such inspection at any reasonable hour shall be fined in any sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

Sec. 7. In addition to the criminal prosecutions that may be brought under this act, it is the duty of the county attorney to bring a civil action against any butcher or slaughterer of animals for any violation of the terms of the bond prescribed in section 2 of this act.

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the inspector or magistrate to keep a record of the marks, brands, color, and general description of such hide, and for whom inspected, with the date of inspection, and return a copy of the same to the clerk of the county court of the county in which it was inspected within thirty days after said inspection, and said inspector or magistrate shall be entitled to receive ten cents for each hide so inspected, to be paid by the party having the hide inspected, and any inspector or magistrate failing to keep such book, or failing to make such report as above provided for, may be fined in any sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty-five dollars.

Sec. 9. Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to either of the following counties: Collin, DeWitt, Goliad, Karnes, Lamar, Bee, Victoria, Calhoun, Refugio, Bell, Coryell, Hamilton, Mills, Brown, Comanche, Lavaca, Llano, San Saba, Anderson, Concho, Runnels, Coleman, Travis, Grayson, Cooke, Montague, Colorado, Bexar, Jasper, Newton, Orange, Jefferson, Polk, San Jacinto, Tyler, Chambers, Hardin, Liberty, Harrison, Smith, Upshur, Gregg, Wood, Rains, Bowie, Cass, Morris, Titus, Lee, Bastrop, Fayette, Hill, Johnson, Ellis, McLennan, Falls, Robertson, Milam, Brazos, Galveston, Brazoria, Matagorda, San Patricio, Guadalupe, Caldwell, Hays, Blanco, Comal, Tarrant, Wise, Parker, Jack, Dallas, Nacogdoches, San Augustine, Shelby, Sabine, Panola, Rusk, Hunt, Hopkins, Delta, Franklin, Camp, Angelina, Houston, Leon, Grimes, Madison, Kaufman, Rockwall, Fannin, Red River, Van Zandt, Henderson, Cherokee, Bosque, Hood, Erath, Somervell, Collin, Denton, Trinity, Walker, Montgomery, Harris, Austin, Washington, Wharton, Fort Bend, Waller, Burleson, Limestone, Freestone, Navarro, Karnes, Mason, Medina, Kimble, Kerr, Kendall, Bandera, Sutton, Gillespie, Williamson, Lampasas, Burnet, El Paso, Presidio, Brewster, Midland, Reeves, Marion, Ward, Jeff Davis, Palo Pinto, Eastland, Jones, Shackelford, Callahan, Baylor, Knox, Haskell, Wilson, and Wilbarger.

Sec. 10. The great inconvenience caused to the public by the present law creates an emergency and great public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended; and the same is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Approved March 24, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—FORTY-SEVENTH.

CHAP. 40.—[S. B. No. 210.] An act to fix the time for holding the courts in the Forty-seventh judicial district, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the district court shall be held in the counties composing the Forty-seventh judicial district each year as follows:

In the county of Donley on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Armstrong on the third Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Briscoe on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Swisher on the sixth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Castro on the eighth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Deaf Smith on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Randall on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Oldham on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Hartley on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Dallam on the fifteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Sherman on the sixteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Moore on the seventeenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Potter on the eighteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session six weeks.

Sec. 2. That all process issued or served before this act goes into effect, returnable to the district courts in said judicial district aforesaid, shall be considered returnable to said courts in accordance with the terms as prescribed by this act, and such process is hereby legalized; and all grand and petit jurors drawn and selected under existing laws in any of the counties of said judicial district, shall be considered lawfully drawn and selected for the next term of the district court of their respective counties held after this act takes effect, and such process is hereby legalized and validated.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. The great amount of business now before the Legislature rendering it improbable that this bill can be read on three several days, and the fact that serious inconvenience will result to the people of said judicial district in the administration of justice unless this bill should pass, creates an imperative public necessity requiring the constitutional rule, which requires bills to be read on three several days to be suspended, and said rule is suspended accordingly.

Provided, that no part of the appropriation herein made for the salaries of special judges shall be applied to the payment of any such judges who, sitting as judges of the Criminal Court of Appeals, shall have held under advisement for as long a period as three months the case or cases that they were appointed to try, thereby denying persons charged with crime the constitutional right of a speedy trial, and depriving them of their liberty.

Sec. 2. The fact that there is no appropriation to pay the claims herein stated, which are registered and estimated as outstanding against the State, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity which justifies the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and this act should take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 25, A. D. 1893.

FISH AND GAME.

CHAP. 42.—[H. B. No. 105.] An act to amend an act passed by the Twenty-first Legislature, approved April 4, 1889, entitled an act to amend an act passed by the Twentieth Legislature, approved April 2, 1887, entitled "An act to amend article 430 of section 1, and to repeal section 2 of an act entitled 'an act to amend articles 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430a, and to create article 426½, and to repeal article 430, chapter 5, title 13, of the Penal Code of the Revised Statutes, for the protection of fish and game,' approved March 15, 1881."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 430 of section 1 of an act entitled "An act to amend articles 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, and 430a, and to create article 426½, and to repeal article 430 of chapter 5, title 13, of the Penal Code of the Revised Statutes, for the protection of fish and game, approved March 15, 1881," be so amended as to read as follows:

"Article 430. That the following counties are hereby exempted from the provisions of articles 426, 426½, 427, 428, and 429 of this chapter, to-wit:

"Cherokee, Shelby, Franklin, Rockwall, Hopkins, Brazos, Williamson, Coryell, Brown, Mills, Comanche, Runnels, Cooke, Wise, Madison, Clay, Jack, and the unorganized counties attached to the same for judicial purposes, Freestone, Stephens, Eastland, Palo Pinto, Polk, Throckmorton, Callahan, Taylor, Jones, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Trinity, Archer, Wichita, Wheeler, Oldham, King, Dickens, Crosby, Wilbarger, Childress, Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran, Bailey, Lamb, Lamar, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Hall, Briscoe, Swisher, Castro, Parmer, Greer, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Gray, Carson, Potter, Hutchinson, Hartley, Moore, Roberts, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Sherman, Hardeman, Dallam, Cass, San Jacinto, Camp, Dimmit, Kinney, Cameron, Jackson, Kauffman, and the unorganized county of Zavala: Provided, that the exemption from the operation of this law shall not apply to article 425; And provided, that the counties of Angelina, Walker, Trinity, Panola, Jack, and Young are hereby exempted from articles 425, 426, 426½, 427, 428, and 429 of this act: And provided, that the counties of Fannin, Delta, and Hopkins are hereby exempted from the provisions of articles 426 and 426½: And provided, that the county of Lee is exempted from the provisions of articles 426 and 429: And provided, that the counties of Bastrop, Frio, Wilson, Fort Bend, Lampasas, and Brazoria are hereby exempted from the provisions of article 429: And provided, that the counties of Gonzales and Morris are hereby exempted from the provisions of articles 426, 426½, 427, and 428: And provided, that the counties of Bowie, Nacogdoches, Hill and Rusk are hereby exempted from the provisions of articles 427, 428, and 429: Provided further, that the counties of Franklin, Palo Pinto, Panola and Williamson shall be exempted from the provisions of article 423, and the counties of Waller, Tyler, and Newton shall be exempted from the provisions of article 426: Provided further, that the county of Burnet is hereby exempted from the game and fish laws of this State: Provided, that the counties of Karnes and Atascosa shall be exempted from the provisions of articles 423, 424, 426, 426½, and 429: Provided, that the counties of Camp, Hill, and Panola shall be exempt from articles 423 and 424: Provided, that the counties of Shelby, Wise, and Montague shall be exempt from the provisions of article 424: Provided, that the county of Bell is hereby exempted from the provisions of this article.

Approved March 29, A. D. 1893.

INSPECTION OF HIDES AND ANIMALS.

CHAP. 43.—[S. B. No. 35.] An act to amend section 1a of an act approved April 15, 1891, entitled "An act to amend section 1 of an act approved March 23, 1891, entitled an act to amend chapter 25 of the acts of A. D. 1883, entitled an act to amend chapter 48 of the acts of 1887, an act to amend section 46 of an act to encourage stockraising and to protect stockraisers, approved April 22, 1879, and amended April 12, 1880, March 27, 1887, and March 29, 1886, so that the same shall hereafter read as follows:"

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 1a of the above recited act be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 1a. The following named counties are exempted from the operation of the stock inspection law, to-wit: Comanche, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Archer, Bailey, Deaf Smith, Dallam, Oldham, Hartley, Hockley, Cochran, Foard, and Wichita.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the season for selling, moving, and handling stock, and the inconvenience and unnecessary delay and expense occasioned by the operation of the stock inspection law upon the stockraisers of the counties affected by this bill creates an emergency and a public necessity exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 29, A. D. 1893.

IRRIGATION.

CHAP. 44.—[S. B. No. 248.] An act to amend section No. 5 of an act entitled "An act to encourage irrigation, and to provide for the acquisition of the rights to the use of water, and for the construction and maintenance of canals, ditches, flumes, reservoirs, and wells for irrigation, and for mining, milling, and stockraising, in the arid districts of Texas," approved March 19, 1889, so as to extend the time within which to file and have recorded the sworn statement provided for in said section No. 5 of said act, and give to such owners of such ditches, canals, flumes, reservoirs, and wells for irrigation a preference lien for the use of the water from such ditches, etc., under a lease or rental contract.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section No. 5 of the above entitled act be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 5. Every person, corporation, or association of persons which have heretofore constructed or may hereafter construct any ditch, canal, or reservoir for the purposes named in this act, and taking water from any natural stream, shall, within ninety days after this act goes into effect, or within ninety days after the commencement of such construction, file and cause to be recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county where the headgate of such ditch or canal may be situated, or to which said county may be attached for judicial purposes, in a well bound book, to be kept by said clerk for that purpose, a sworn statement in writing, showing the name of such ditch, or canal, the point at which the headgate thereof is situated, the size of the ditch, or canal, in width and depth, and the carrying capacity thereof in cubic feet for second of time, the name of said stream from which said water is taken, the time when the work was commenced, and the name of the owners or owner thereof, together with a map showing the route of said ditch, or canal.

Sec. 2. Every person, corporation, or association of persons which has heretofore constructed or which may hereafter construct any ditch, canal, or reservoir for the purpose of irrigation, and who shall lease, or rent, the water from said ditch, canal, or reservoir to any person, persons, or association of persons or corporation owning any land subject to irrigation from such ditch, canal, or reservoir, such person, corporation, or association of persons owning such ditch, canal, or reservoir shall have a preference lien upon the crop or crops raised upon the ground thus irrigated under such rental and lease contract, and the provisions of chapter No. 58, Revised Statutes, governing the enforcement and collection of rents by a landlord from his tenant shall, in so far as applicable, apply to the enforcement and collection of the lien herein created: And provided further, the contract of lease or rental of such water be required to be in writing, and properly acknowledged by both lessor and lessee, and filed in the office of the county clerk of the county wherein such water is used.

Sec. 3. Owing to the near approach of the end of the session, and the accumulation of business before the Legislature, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and the same is hereby suspended.

Approved March 29, A. D. 1893.

LOCAL OPTION.

CHAP. 45.—[S. B. No. 14.] An act to amend articles 3227, 3228, 3229, 3230, 3231, 3232, 3233, 3234, 3235, 3236, 3237, 3238, 3239, 3239a, 3239b, 3239c, title 63, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That articles 3227, 3228, 3229, 3230, 3231, 3232, 3233, 3234, 3235, 3236, 3237, 3238, 3239, 3239a, 3239b, 3239c, title 63, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 3227. The commissioners court of each county in the State, whenever they deem it expedient, may order an election, to be held by the qualified voters of said county, or of any justice's precinct, or such subdivisions of a county as may be designated by the commissioners court of said county, or any town or city therein, to determine whether or not the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be prohibited in such county, justice's precinct, or subdivision of such county, or in any town, or city: Provided, it shall be the duty of said commissioners court to order the election aforesaid whenever petitioned to do so by as many as two hundred and fifty voters in any county, or fifty voters in any justice's precinct, or subdivision of such county, as shall be designated by said court, or in any city or town, as the case may be: Provided, that if the justice's precinct, or subdivision of such county, embrace within its limits an incorporated town or city or portions thereof, then such election shall only be ordered when the petition for the same is signed by qualified voters, not less than one-tenth in number of the total vote cast for Governor at the next preceding general election in such incorporated town or city; and in case an election is asked for a subdivision of such county, the petition shall describe such subdivision by metes and bounds, and the said petition and description of said subdivision shall be recorded in full in the minutes of the commissioners court, and such description shall be embraced in the notice given for such election: Provided, no city or town shall be divided in making any such subdivision.

Article 3228. The preceding article shall not be so construed to prohibit the sale of wines for sacramental purposes, nor alcoholic stimulants as medicines in cases of actual sickness, but such stimulant shall only be sold upon the written prescription of a regular practicing physician, dated and signed by him, and certified, on his honor, that he, the physician, has personally examined the applicant, naming him, and that he finds him actually sick and in need of the stimulant prescribed as medicine: Provided, that a physician who does not follow the profession of medicine as his principal and usual calling shall not be authorized to give the prescription provided for in this article: And provided further, that no person shall be permitted to sell more than once on the same prescription, nor shall any person be permitted to sell at all on the prescription of a physician not herein authorized to give it, nor on a prescription which is not dated, signed, and certified as above required: Provided, that every person selling such stimulants upon the prescription herein provided for, shall cancel such prescription by endorsing thereon the word "cancelled," and file the same away.

Article 3229. When the commissioners court, of their own motion, or upon the petition provided for in article 3227, shall order the election as herein provided for, it shall be the duty of said court to order such election to be held at the regular voting place or places within the proposed limits, upon a day not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the date of said order, and the order thus made shall express the object of such election, and shall be held to be prima facie evidence that all the provisions necessary to give it validity, or to clothe the court with jurisdiction to make it, have been fully complied with. Provided, that if there is no regular voting place within the proposed limits of a subdivision less than a justice's or voting precinct, then the commissioners court shall designate some suitable place within said subdivision, where said election shall be held, and said place shall be named in the notices of election, and said court will appoint such officers to hold such election as are now required to hold general elections.

Article 3230. The clerk of said court shall post, or cause to be posted, at least five copies of said order at different places within the proposed limits for at least twelve days prior to the day of election, which election shall be held, and the returns thereof made, in conformity with the provisions of the general laws of the State, and by the officers of the election appointed and qualified under such laws.

Article 3231. At said election, those who favor the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors within the proposed limits shall have written or printed on their tickets the words, "For Prohibition," and those who oppose it shall have written or printed on their tickets the words, "Against Prohibition."

Article 3232. The officers holding said election shall, in all respects not herein specified, conform to the existing laws regulating elections, and after the polls are closed shall proceed to count the votes, and within ten days thereafter make due report of said election to the aforesaid court.

Article 3233. Said court shall hold a special session on the eleventh day after the holding of said election, or as soon thereafter as practicable, for the purpose of opening the polls, and counting the votes, and if a majority of the votes are for prohibition, said court shall immediately make an order declaring the result of said vote, and absolutely prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within the prescribed limits, except for the purposes and under the regulations specified in this title, until such time as the qualified voters therein may, at a legal election, held for that purpose, by a majority vote, decide otherwise; and the order thus made shall be held to be prima facie evidence that all the provisions of law have been complied with, in giving notice of and holding said election, and in counting and returning the votes and declaring the result thereof.

Article 3234. The order of court, declaring the results, prohibiting the sale of such liquors, shall be published for four successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county wherein such election has been held, which newspaper shall be selected by the county judge for that purpose. If there be no newspaper published in the county, then the county judge shall cause publication to be made by posting copies of such order at three public places within the prescribed limits for the aforesaid length of time. The fact of publication in either mode shall be entered by the county judge on the minutes of the commissioners court. An entry thus made, or a copy thereof, certified under the hand and seal of the clerk of the county court, shall be held sufficient prima facie evidence of such fact of publication.

Article 3235. If a majority voting at such election vote against prohibition, the court shall make an order declaring the result, and have the same entered of record in the office of the clerk of said court.

Article 3236. No election under the preceding articles shall be held within the same prescribed limits in less than two years after an election under this title has been held therein, but at the expiration of that time the commissioners court of each county in the State, whenever they decree it expedient, may order another election to be held by the qualified voters of said county, or of any justice's precinct, or such subdivision of a county as may be designated by the commissioners court of such county, for the same purpose: Provided, it shall be the duty of such court to order the election aforesaid, whenever petitioned to do so by as many as two hundred voters of any county, or fifty voters of any justice's precinct or subdivision of such county, as the case may be, to order an election for the same purpose, which election shall be ordered held, notice thereof given, the votes returned and counted, and the results disclosed and published, in all respects as provided by this title for a first election; and the order granting such other elections, as well as that disclosing the result, shall, if prohibition be carried, have the same force and effect and the same conclusiveness as are given to them in the case of a first election by the provisions of this title.

Article 3237. When such second election results against prohibition, the court shall enter an order setting aside the previous order enforcing prohibition, and shall officially announce and publish the same as provided where the election resulted in prohibition.

Article 3238. The failure to carry prohibition in a county shall not prevent an election for the same from being immediately thereafter held in a justice's precinct, or subdivision of such county as designated by the commissioners court, or of any town or city in such county, nor shall the failure to carry prohibition in a town or city prevent an election from being immediately thereafter held for the entire justice's precinct or county in which said town or city is situated, nor shall the holding of an election in a justice's precinct in any way prevent the holding of an election immediately thereafter for the entire county in which the justice's precinct is situated; but when prohibition has been carried at an election ordered for the entire county, no election on the question of prohibition shall be thereafter ordered in any justice's precinct, town, or city of said county, until after prohibition has been defeated at a subsequent election for the same purpose ordered, and for the entire county, in accordance with the provisions of this title, nor in any case where prohibition has carried in any justice's precinct, shall an election on the question of prohibition be ordered thereafter in any town or city of such precinct, until after prohibition has been defeated at a subsequent election ordered and held for such entire precinct.

Article 3239. When any such election has been held and has resulted in favor of prohibition, and the aforesaid court has made the order declaring the result, and the order of prohibition, and has caused the same to be published as aforesaid, any person who shall thereafter, within the prescribed bounds of prohibition, sell, exchange, or give away, with the purpose of evading the provisions of this title, any intoxicating liquors whatsoever, or in any way violate any of the provisions of this title, shall be subject to prosecution by information or indictment, and shall be punished as prescribed in the Penal Code.

Article 3239a. At any time within thirty days after the result of an election has been declared, any qualified voter of the county, justice's precinct, or subdivision of such county, or in any town or city of such county, in which such election has been held, may contest the said election in any court of competent jurisdiction in such manner as has been or may hereafter [be] prescribed, and should it appear from the evidence that the election was illegally or fraudulently conducted, or that by the action, or the want of action, on the part of the officers to whom was entrusted the control of such election, such a number of legal voters were denied the privilege of voting as, had they been allowed to vote, might have materially changed the result, or if it appears from the evidence that such irregularities existed as to render the true result of the election impossible to be arrived at, or very doubtful of ascertaining, the court shall adjudge said election to be void, and shall order the proper officer to order another election to be held, and shall cause a certified copy of such judgment and order of the court to be delivered to such officer, upon whom it devolved by law the duty of ordering such election.

Article 3239b. In all cases where any person, firm, or association of persons, pursuing the occupation of liquor dealers, under license issued in accordance with the laws of this State, has been or shall hereafter be prevented from pursuing such occupation for the full time to which he would be otherwise entitled, by reason of the adoption of local option in any county, precinct, subdivision of such county, town, or city, a proportionate amount of taxes paid by him for the unexpired time shall be refunded to him.

Article 3239c. It is hereby made the duty of the district judges to give this act in charge to the grand juries, and it is made the special duty of the county attorneys to file, or have filed, a complaint in the county court of said county against all houses and the keepers thereof, used for sale, exchange, or gift of any kind of intoxicating liquors in any county, justice's precinct, or subdivision of such county, or of any town or city in such county in this State when local option has been voted by the citizens thereof. Where any hidden devices are resorted to, to prevent or avoid detection of the keeper thereof, and upon said complaint being filed with any justice of the peace, describing the place where the device is kept, and the name of the person violating this law, if known, said justice of the peace shall issue his warrant commanding any sheriff or constable to search said place, and if the law is being violated, to arrest the person or persons so violating the law. And it shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county wherein such house or place where such device is kept for the sale or gift of intoxicating liquors, to demand admission into the same, and upon admittance being refused, the sheriff is hereby authorized and required by law to force open the same and arrest and hold for trial before the courts all such persons who shall violate the provisions of this act, and it is the duty of the county judges and justices of the peace having jurisdiction in the premises to see that this act is rigidly enforced: Provided, no arrest or search shall ever be made until the sheriff shall first procure a warrant therefor, issued by the proper authority.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—FIFTY-FOURTH.

CHAP. 46.—[S. H. B. No. 39.] An act to amend section 19 of an act entitled "An act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election, to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884," approved April 9, 1883; to create the fifty-fourth judicial district, fix the times for holding court therein, and provide for the appointment of a district judge for said district, and to repeal all laws in conflict with this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 19 of the above recited act, approved April 9, 1883, be and the same is hereby so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Sec. 19. The nineteenth judicial district shall be composed of the county of McLennan, and the district court shall be held therein as follows: On the first Mondays in January, April, July, and October in each year, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of: Provided, the October term shall not continue longer than the last Saturday before the 25th day of December.

Sec. 2. The counties of Falls and McLennan shall compose the fifty-fourth judicial district, and the district court shall be held therein as follows: In the county of Falls on the first Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session eight weeks. In the county of McLennan on the first Mondays in March, September, and November, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 3. The two district courts aforesaid in McLennan county shall have concurrent jurisdiction with each other throughout the limits of McLennan county of all matters, civil and criminal, of which jurisdiction is given to the district courts by the Constitution and laws of the State: Provided, that the judge of the nineteenth judicial district shall never empanel a grand jury in his said court, but may at any time reconvene the grand jury empaneled by the judge of the fifty-fourth judicial district when in his judgment a necessity therefor exists.

Sec. 4. Immediately after this act takes effect, the Governor shall appoint some suitable person as judge of the fifty-fourth judicial district, who shall hold said office until the next general election for State and county officers, and until the election and qualification of his successor in office.

Sec. 5. The clerk of the district court of McLennan county as heretofore constituted, and his successors in office, shall be the clerk of both of said district courts in McLennan county, and shall perform all the duties pertaining to the clerkship of both of said courts.

Sec. 6. Either of the judges of said district courts in McLennan county may, in their discretion, either in term time or vacation, transfer any cause or causes, civil or criminal, that may at any time be pending in his court, to the other district court in McLennan county, by order or orders entered upon the minutes of his court, and where such transfer or transfers are made, the clerk of said courts shall enter such cause or causes upon the docket of the court to which such transfer or transfers are made, and when so entered upon the docket the judge of said court shall try and dispose of said causes in the same manner as if such causes were originally in said court.

Sec. 7. No petit juries shall be drawn for the July term of said court of the nineteenth judicial district, unless the judge thereof shall deem the same necessary.

Sec. 8. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. The crowded condition of the dockets of the district and county courts of McLennan county, and the necessity for two district courts in said county creates an imperative public necessity and emergency that requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHILDREN—RESCUE OF FROM CUSTODY OF IMPROPER PERSONS.

CHAP. 47.—[H. B. No. 44.] An act to authorize the rescue of girls and boys under the age of twelve years from the custody of improper persons.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That upon the petition of any citizen or citizens to the county judge where he or they resided, setting forth that certain persons other than the natural guardian have in charge a girl or boy, child or children, under twelve years of age, to the injury of such child or children, the county judge so petitioned shall determine at a regular or called term the matter of such petition, and by order of court rescue such child or children from the custody of such person or persons and place them in the custody of such person so petitioning, or other suitable person, upon satisfactory proof that such change will benefit such child or children.

Sec. 2. Similar proceedings may be had by writs of habeas corpus.

Sec. 3. The fact that there is now no law for the rescue of children under twelve years of age, and instances cited show an imperative necessity for the rescue of girls held by improper persons, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, therefore said constitutional rule is hereby suspended; and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 7, A. D. 1893.

LEON COUNTY—DIMINISHING CIVIL JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 48.—[S. B. No. 270.] An act to diminish the civil jurisdiction of the county court of Leon county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Leon county shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of a probate court; shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards; grant letters testamentary and administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians, and transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement and partition and distribution and settlement of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors as provided by law, and issue writs necessary to the enforcement of said jurisdiction; to punish contempt under such provisions as are or may be provided by general law governing county courts throughout the State; but the said county court of Leon county shall have no other civil jurisdiction whatever.

Sec. 2. The district court of Leon county shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil matters and causes, over which, by the laws of this State, the county court of said county would have jurisdiction, except as provided in section one of this act; and all causes, other than probate matters and such as are provided by section one of this act, be and the same are hereby transferred to the district court of Leon county; and all writs and processes relating to any civil matters not included in the subject matters of jurisdiction prescribed in section one of this act, issued by or out of said court of Leon county, be and the same are hereby made returnable to the next terms of the district court of said county.

Sec. 3. The county clerk of Leon county be and he is hereby required, within thirty days after the passage of this act, to make a fair and complete transcript of all entries upon his civil docket, heretofore made in causes which by section two are required to be transferred to the district court of said county, and deliver the same to the district clerk of said county, together with all the papers to such cause pertaining; and all such causes shall be immediately docketed by said district clerk, and such civil causes so transferred shall stand on the docket of said court as appearance cases for the next succeeding term, and disposed of in the same manner as if the same had originally been triable in said district court.

Sec. 4. This act shall not be construed to in any manner affect judgments heretofore rendered by said county court of Leon county, pertaining to matters and causes by which section two of this act are transferred to the district court of said county, but the county clerk of said county shall issue all executions and orders of sale as the judgments in such cases require, and such executions and orders of sale and proceedings thereunder shall be as valid and binding to all intents and purposes as though the changes had not been made as by section two therein contemplated.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the sitting of the district court in Leon county, and the short time required to make the transfer of the cases provided for in this act, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency requiring the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, necessitates the suspension of that rule, therefore said rule is suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 8, A. D. 1893.

PUBLIC EDUCATION—CERTAIN COUNTIES TRANSFERRED FROM COMMUNITY TO DISTRICT SCHOOL SYSTEM.

CHAP. 49.—[H. B. No. 508.] An act to transfer Hopkins and other counties from the community school system to the district school system, and to authorize and empower said county to organize and conduct all of their public free schools under the district system as provided by the laws now in force.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the following counties are hereby transferred from the community school system to the district school system, and are hereby authorized and empowered to organize and conduct all their public free schools under the district school system, as provided by the laws now in force, to-wit: Hopkins, Milam, Upshur, and Schleicher counties.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of this session of the Legislature, and the fact that a new scholastic year is approaching, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is so suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 8, A. D. 1893.

RAILROADS—ISSUANCE OF STOCKS AND BONDS REGULATED.

CHAP. 50.—[S. H. B. No. 227.] An act to define franchises; to make public the value of railroads; to make effective section 6, article 12, of the Constitution of the State of Texas; to declare the effect of judicial and other sales of railroads; to limit the amount of stocks and bonds and other indebtedness that may be issued by railroad companies, and to regulate the manner of issuing, registering, and securing the same; to prescribe penalties for violating the provisions of this act, and to prescribe the duties of the Railroad Commission and the Attorney-General in relation thereto.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That among other things, the power and authority of issuing or executing bonds, or other evidences of debt, and all kinds of stock and shares thereof, and the execution of all liens and mortgages by railroad corporations in this State, are special privileges and franchises, the right of supervision, regulation, restriction, and control of which has always been, is now, and shall continue to be vested in the State government, to be exercised according to the provisions of this and other laws.

Sec. 2. That hereafter no bonds or other indebtedness shall be increased or issued or executed by any authority whatsoever, and secured by lien or mortgage on any railroad or part of railroad, or the franchises or property appurtenant or belonging thereto, over or above the reasonable value of said railroad property: Provided, that in case of emergency, on conclusive proof shown by the company to the Railroad Commission that public interests or the preservation of the property demand it, the said commission may permit said bonds, together with the stock in the aggregate, to be executed to an amount not more than fifty per cent over the value of said property.

Sec. 3. That it shall be the duty of the Railroad Commission to ascertain, and in writing report to the Secretary of State, the value of each railroad in this State, including all its franchises, appurtenances and property. After it shall have prepared said report of value, the commission shall give the company interested ten days notice in writing, by registered letter to the president, treasurer or receiver of said railroad, to the effect that said report is ready to be made, and that if it have any objections thereto it must file them, in writing, within forty days after said service, or the same will be so deposited with the Secretary of State as correct. Should the company or its duly authorized representative file with said commission any objections to said report of value, the commission shall duly investigate and pass on the same. On investigation, if the commission conclude that its report of value is too low or too high, then it shall make the necessary correction before filing it. Should no objections be filed within the time permitted, or being filed and on examination found without merit, the commission shall forthwith file its said report in the office of the Secretary of State, where it shall remain as a public record, as a limitation for the issuance of indebtedness under the limitations prescribed in section 2 of this act. To promote public interests and protect private rights, the commission after due notice under the rule herein prescribed, may correct its report of value of any railroad at any time it may deem proper.

Sec. 4. That every judicial or other sale of any railroad in this State hereafter made, which shall have the effect to discharge the property so sold from liability in the hands of purchasers for claims for damages, unsecured debts, or junior mortgages against such railroad company so sold out, shall have the effect to annul and cancel all claims of every stockholder therein to any share in the stock of such railroad; and it shall not be lawful for said purchasers or for any railroad company organized hereafter to operate said railroad, to issue any stock in lieu of the old stock or to allow any compensation therefor in any manner whatever, nor shall all or any part of the debt to satisfy which such sale is made be continued or held as a claim or lien on said property.

Sec. 5. The purchasers of said property who procure it clear of incumbrance, or any company organized by their consent to operate said railroad under and in pursuance of the laws of this State, may issue stock and bonds in the proportion that they may deem advisable, subject to the rules, restrictions and limitations prescribed in sections 2 and 3 and four of this act.

Sec. 6. Should any company or corporation authorized to construct, own or operate a railroad in this State desire to issue bonds or other indebtedness, to be secured by lien or other mortgage on its franchises and property, in advance of the completion of the said railroad, it shall make application to and first procure the consent of the Railroad Commission thereto. In said application it shall exhibit to the commission its contract with the construction company, if it have any; the profile of its completed road or part of road, the evidence of its right of way, depot grounds, terminal facilities; the extent and value of work done or in process of completion; the amount of property received; the amount of stock subscribed and the amount paid in; and all other necessary facts showing the value of the franchises and property proposed as security for said contemplated debts. If, on investigation, the commission is satisfied that the company is acting in good faith, and that its contract with the construction company is reasonable and fair to the public, then it shall authorize the execution of said indebtedness and lien to the extent necessary for the demands of the work, at no time to be more than fifty per cent over the value of the whole property and franchises. In executing said bonds the company shall comply with section 8 of this law, and have them registered, as required in section 9.

Sec. 7. Each railroad company now existing, or that shall hereafter be organized or that shall be reorganized under the laws of this State, or which shall increase its stock under the laws of this State, shall issue certificates to the subscribers to its said stock under the following regulations: A majority of the board of directors shall meet in person in the State of Texas, at the principal office of such company, and shall cause to be made a list of the subscribers to such stock, showing the number of shares subscribed by each, the amount of stock represented by each share and the amount actually paid, labor done or property received on each share of stock, and shall cause to be affixed to each name on said list a number, beginning with number one, or the next highest number of any certificate previously issued.

The president of the board or presiding officer of the meeting at which the issuing of such certificates of stock is authorized, shall make a certificate to said statement to the effect that the same is correct, and that the amount of money paid, labor done and property received as stated is correct, and shall sign the same in person. Such statement shall thereupon be entered at large upon the minutes, and after having the seal of the company affixed thereto, shall be attested by the secretary of the company and deposited with the Railroad Commission, and by it filed and preserved in the office. The secretary of the company shall then be authorized to make out and deliver to each stockholder in said list a certificate corresponding with said statement in number, name, number of shares, amount of stock represented by each share, and the amount of money or its equivalent paid upon each share, which certificate shall be signed by the president of the said railroad company, attested by the secretary, with the seal of said company affixed. No railroad company shall hereafter increase its stock unless all existing shares of stock shall have been paid in full, or all unpaid shares of such stock have been sold out as forfeited under the law. When the certificates to be issued are for increase of stock, the statement herein required to be made by the board of directors shall state that all existing shares of stock have been paid in full or that all shares not paid in full have been sold out or forfeited under the law. In no event shall the stock exceed the value of the railway property, and the correct aggregate amount of stock so issued by each railway company shall be certified to and registered in the office of the Secretary of State by or at the instance of the Railroad Commission.

Sec. 8. Whenever any railroad company in this State shall hereafter desire to make, issue, and sell any bonds or evidences of debt which are to become a lien on its property, it shall comply with the laws of this State regulating the same, and in addition thereto shall have said bonds prepared, signed by the president of the company, and attested by the secretary, with the seal of the company attached thereto. Each bond shall be numbered, beginning with number one, or the next highest number of any preceding bond issued by it, and continue consecutively until all are numbered. The bonds shall be dated, made payable at a time not exceeding thirty years from date, and shall bear interest not exceeding six per cent per annum. The said bonds, when thus prepared shall be presented to the Railroad Commission of this State, with a statement in writing, signed and sworn to by the president of said company, showing the amount of the stock of said company, and the amount of outstanding bonds, if any, of said company. If said bonds are such as are permitted under this law, and the Railroad Commission shall be so satisfied, it shall approve said bonds, and shall issue to the Secretary of State a direction to register said bonds, specifying the numbers, dates, and amounts thereof. And said Commission shall keep in its office a correct record of the bonds so approved by it, giving the name of the company, the numbers, dates of execution and maturity of the bonds, the amount and rate of interest of each, and the date of approval: Provided, that this provision shall not apply to receivers' certificates where the amount does not exceed $100,000 dollars.

Sec. 9. When any such bonds shall be presented to the Secretary of State with the direction aforesaid to register, he shall register said bonds by entering a description thereof in a book to be kept for that purpose, which shall show the date, number, amount, when due, the rate of interest on each bond, and also the date when the same is registered. The Secretary of State shall endorse on each bond, under the seal of his office and his official signature, together with the date thereof, as follows: "This bond is registered under the direction of the Railroad Commission of Texas." No bond or other evidence of debt hereafter issued by or under the authority of any person, firm, corporation, court, or railroad company, whereby a lien is created on its franchises or property situated in this State, shall be valid or have any force until the same has been registered as required herein.

Sec. 10. If any railroad company owning or operating a railroad in this State shall hereafter issue or consent to or cause to be issued any bonds or other evidences of debt to be or become a lien on its railroad property so owned or operated, or shall issue any stock not in accordance with the provisions of this act, such action shall work a forfeiture of the charter of said company, and it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to institute proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction to forfeit the same.

Sec. 11. Every certificate of stock in any railroad company, and every bond and other evidence of debt operating as a lien upon the property of such railroad company, which shall be made, issued or sold without a compliance with this act, shall be void.

Sec. 12. Each and every railroad director, president, secretary or other official who shall knowingly make any false statement upon which to secure the registration of any bond or other evidence of debt as aforesaid, or who shall by false statement knowingly made procure of the Railroad Commission direction to the Secretary of State to register the same, and which shall be by the Secretary of State registered, or shall with knowledge of such fraud negotiate or cause to be negotiated any such bond or other security issued in violation of this act, shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by confinement at hard labor in the State penitentiary for a term of years not less than two nor more than fifteen, and shall likewise be liable to any creditor of such company for the full amount of damages sustained by such wrongful conduct. Venue in such cases shall be in either of the district courts held in Travis county, or in the county where the principal office of the railway company whose property is sought to be so incumbered or affected is located.

Sec. 13. That nothing in this law, and no act done or performed under or in connection with it, shall be held or construed to bind or make the State of Texas liable to pay or guarantee, in any manner whatsoever, any obligation, debt, or claim executed or assumed under or by virtue of its provisions.

Sec. 14. Whereas, the Constitution declares that no corporation shall issue stock or bonds except for money paid, labor done, or property actually received, and that all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void; and,

Whereas, the laws are now inadequate to protect the public against a violation of this provision of the Constitution; and,

Whereas, securities issued in violation thereof alike defraud the taxpayers and investors, and unless immediately checked will do irreparable damage to the name of the State of Texas and her commercial interests; therefore an imperative public necessity and emergency exists and require that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this bill be placed upon its final passage without being so read, and that this act take effect and be in force from its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 8, A. D. 1893.

ROADS — CHEROKEE, HOUSTON, ANDERSON, TRINITY, FRANKLIN, DELTA, HARRISON, PANOLA, UPSHUR, SHELBY, SMITH.

CHAP. 51.—[H. B. No. 594.] An act to create a more efficient road system in the counties of Cherokee, Houston, Anderson, Trinity, Franklin, Delta, Harrison, Panola, Upshur, Shelby, and Smith; and auxiliary thereto, to provide for the appointment of road overseers; to define the powers and jurisdiction of the commissioners courts of said counties with regard thereto; to utilize the labor of defaulting poll tax payers on the public roads of said counties; and to provide adequate penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all public roads and highways that have heretofore been laid out and established, agreeably to law, in Cherokee, Houston, Anderson, Trinity, Franklin, Delta, Upshur, and Smith counties, except such as have been discontinued, are hereby declared to be public roads.

Sec. 2. The commissioners courts of Cherokee, Houston, Anderson, Trinity, Franklin, Delta, Upshur, Harrison, Panola, Shelby, and Smith counties shall have full power, and it shall be their duty, to order the laying out and opening of public roads, when necessary, and to discontinue or alter any road, whenever it shall be deemed expedient, as hereinafter prescribed.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the commissioners courts to classify all public roads in said counties into first, second, and third class roads.

Sec. 4. First class roads shall be clear of all obstructions, and not less than forty feet nor more than sixty feet wide; all stumps over six inches in diameter to be cut down to six inches of the surface, and rounded off; all stumps six inches and under to be cut smooth with the ground; and all causeways made at least sixteen feet wide.

Sec. 5. Second class roads shall be clear of all obstructions, and not less than thirty feet wide. Stumps six inches and over in diameter to be cut down to six inches of the surface, and rounded off, and all stumps less than six inches in diameter to be cut smooth with the ground; all causeways to be made sixteen feet wide.

Sec. 6. Third class roads shall be clear of all obstructions, and not less than twenty feet wide; stumps six inches and over in diameter to be cut down to six inches of the surface, and rounded off, and all stumps less than six inches in diameter to be cut smooth with the ground; all causeways to be made at least sixteen feet wide.

Sec. 7. The commissioners court shall in no instance grant an order on an application for any new road, or to discontinue an original one, unless the person making application therefor, or some one of them, shall have given at least twenty days' notice, by written advertisement, of their intended application, posted up at the court house door of the county and at two other public places in the vicinity of the route of the proposed new road, or the road proposed to be discontinued.

Sec. 8. All applications for a new road, and all applications to discontinue an existing one, shall be by petition to the commissioners court, signed by at least ten freeholders of the precinct or precincts in which said road is desired to be made or discontinued, specifying in such petition the beginning and termination of such road proposed to be opened or discontinued.

Sec. 9. All roads hereafter ordered to be made shall be laid out by a jury of freeholders of the county, to be appointed by the commissioners court. Said jury shall consist of five persons, a majority of whom may proceed to lay out and mark the road so ordered, to the greatest advantage to the public, and with as little prejudice to enclosures as may be.

Sec. 10. The jurors provided for in the preceding section shall, before proceeding to act as such, take the following oath before some officer authorized to administer oaths, to-wit: I, ———, do solemnly swear that I will lay out the road now directed to be laid out, by the order to us directed from the commissioners court, according to law, without favor or affection, malice or hatred, to the best of my skill and knowledge, so help me God.

Sec. 11. It shall be the duty of such jurors, when qualified as provided in the preceding article, to proceed to lay out and mark the road, in accordance with the order of the court and the law, and to report their proceedings in writing to the next regular term of the commissioners court.

Sec. 12. No public road shall be surveyed or laid out upon or across any farm, lot, or inclosure without first obtaining the written consent of the owner or his agent or attorney to the same, except as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 13. If such written consent shall be refused, it shall be the duty of the commissioners court to appoint five disinterested freeholders, residents of the county, as commissioners, a majority of whom may act, to view the same, assess the damages incidental to the opening of the road of the first, second, or third class, through any part of said farm, lot, or inclosure, as proposed, taking into consideration the advantages and disadvantages accruing to such owner from the opening of such road, and report their action in writing, and under oath, to the next regular term of the commissioners court.

Sec. 14. If the owner of any inclosed land, his agent or attorney, shall file in the commissioners court a written protest against opening a road, viewed and marked out through such inclosed land, it shall be the duty of the commissioners court to appoint five disinterested freeholders, residents of the county, as commissioners, a majority of whom may act, to view said road, assess the damages, and report in manner and form as provided in the preceding article.

Sec. 15. If, in the judgment of the commissioners court, from the report of the commissioners named in the two preceding sections, the road should be deemed of sufficient importance, the court may order the survey or opening of the same; but the court shall first order the payment of the damages assessed, if any, by the commissioners of view, to be made to the owner of the land, out of the county treasury, and the county treasurer shall have paid the same, or secured its payment, by a special deposit of the amount in his office, subject to the order of such owner, and shall notify such owner by mail or otherwise, of such deposit.

Sec. 16. If no objection be filed, upon the report of a jury appointed upon an application to open a new road, the court shall proceed to establish and classify such road, and order the opening out of the same, and shall appoint an overseer and apportion hands for the same, as in other cases.

Sec. 17. The commissioners court may alter or change the course of any public road, after notice, and upon application in the same manner as provided in this chapter for the discontinuance of a road, except that the application need not be signed by more than one freeholder of the precinct in which such alteration or change is proposed to be made.

Sec. 18. When juries of view are appointed, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court to make out copies of the order appointing them, in duplicate, and to deliver such copies to the sheriff of the county within ten days after such order of appointment was made, indorsing on such copies the date of such order.

Sec. 19. The sheriff receiving such copies shall serve the same upon the jurors by delivering to each of them, in person, a copy of the order of appointment provided for in the preceding article, or by leaving one of said copies at the usual place of abode of such juror. Service shall be made within twenty days after the sheriff receives said copies, and he shall make his return to the clerk on the duplicate copies, stating the date and manner of service, or, if service has not been made, stating the cause of his failure to make the same.

Sec. 20. Any juror of view, summoned as such, who shall fail or refuse to perform the service required of him by law as such juror, shall forfeit and pay for every such failure the sum of ten dollars, to be recovered by judgment, on motion of the district or county attorney, in the name of the county, in any court of competent jurisdiction of the county in which such defaulter may reside.

Sec. 21. For the further and better providing for public roads, any lines between different persons or owners of land may, upon the condition provided for in the following sections, be declared public highways, and left open and free from all obstructions for ten feet on either side of said lines; but the marked trees and other objects used to designate said lines, and the corners of surveys, shall not be removed or defaced.

Sec. 22. Whenever ten freeholders may desire the boundary lines between different persons or owners of land to be declared a public highway, in order to give them a nearer, better, or more practicable road to their church, county seat, mill, timber, or water, they may apply to the commissioners court for an order establishing such road.

Sec. 23. The application provided for in the preceding section shall be in writing, and shall be signed and sworn to by the applicants. It shall designate the lines sought to be opened, and the names and residences of the persons or owners to be affected by such proposed road, and shall state the facts which show the necessity for such road.

Sec. 24. Upon the filing of such application, the clerk shall issue a notice reciting the substance thereof, directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county, commanding him to summon the owners of the land, naming them, whose lines are proposed to be left open, to appear at the next regular term of the commissioners court and show cause why said lines should not be declared public highways.

Sec. 25. The notice provided for in the preceding section shall be served in the manner and for the length of time provided for the service of citation in civil actions in justices' courts, and shall be returned in like manner as such citations.

Sec. 26. At a regular term of the court, after due service of notice, as provided in the preceding section, the commissioners court may in its discretion, should it deem the road of sufficient public importance, issue an order declaring the lines designated in the application to be public highways, and direct that the same be opened by the owners thereof, and left open for the space of ten feet on each side of said lines.

Sec. 27. When an order as provided in the preceding section is made, the clerk shall, without delay, issue a notice reciting said order or its substance, directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county, commanding him to serve the owners of such lines named in such notice with a true copy thereof, and the officer to whom said notice is delivered shall, without delay, serve the same as therein directed, and return the same to the clerk, indorsing thereon the manner and date of such service.

Sec. 28. The commissioners court shall not be required to keep any such road as is mentioned in the last seven sections, worked by road hands, as in case of other public roads.

Sec. 29. All costs attending the proceedings provided for in relation to opening neighborhood roads shall be paid by the applicants for any such road, whether their application be granted or not, and may be collected as other costs in civil action.

Sec. 30. The commissioners court may discontinue any neighborhood road which has been established as a public highway in the same manner provided in this act for discontinuing other public roads.

Sec. 31. The owner or owners of the land whose lines have been or may be declared public highways, and also any person through whose land a third class road may run, shall have the right to erect a gate or gates across said road or roads when necessary; said gate or gates to be not less than ten feet wide.

Sec. 32. The amount of damages to be allowed to the owners of said lands for opening the lines of a neighborhood road, as provided in this act, shall be assessed as provided for in the case of first, second, and third class roads in this act. Said damages to be paid by the applicant or applicants for such road.

Sec. 33. The commissioners courts of Cherokee, Houston, Anderson, Trinity, Franklin, Delta, Upshur, and Smith counties shall lay off the counties into convenient road precincts, and shall number each precinct, and in the order establishing the same shall specify as definitely as practicable the boundaries thereof.

Sec. 34. An overseer shall be appointed by said courts for each road precinct at the time of establishing the same, and at the first regular term of the courts in each year the said courts shall appoint an overseer for each road precinct in the county, and shall at the same time designate all the hands liable to work on public roads and apportion them to the several overseers.

Sec. 35. If from any cause the said courts should fail to perform the duties required of them by the preceding section, at its first regular term in each year, it shall be competent and legal for said court to perform said duties at any subsequent term, whether the same be a regular or called term.

Sec. 36. In case of death, removal, or other inability to act of any road overseer, it shall be the duty of the county judges, immediately upon information of the fact, to appoint an overseer to fill such vacancy, who shall be notified of his appointment, as in other cases.

Sec. 37. It shall be the duty of the clerks of said courts to make out copies of all orders appointing overseers of roads, in duplicate, and deliver the same to the sheriff of the county within ten days after such order shall have been made, endorsing on such copies the date of the order of appointment.

Sec. 38. All orders appointing overseers shall embrace the designation of hands liable to work under such overseer, as far as known, and shall specify the boundaries of such overseer's road precinct as laid off by the courts.

Sec. 39. The sheriff shall, within twenty days after the reception of the copies of any order appointing an overseer, deliver to or leave at the usual place of abode of such overseer one of such copies, and shall return the duplicate of such copy to the clerk of the county court, indorsing thereon the date and manner of service, and if not served, the cause of his failure to serve the same.

Sec. 40. The term of service of a road overseer shall be from the time of the service of the order of appointment until the first regular terms of the commissioners courts in the succeeding year.

Sec. 41. No person shall be compelled to serve as an overseer who is lawfully exempt from road duty, nor shall any one be compelled to serve as overseer more than one year in every three successive years.

Sec. 42. It shall be the duty of every person appointed overseer of a road, who is lawfully exempt from duty, to notify the clerks of the county courts of his nonacceptance within ten days after his being notified of his appointment.

Sec. 43. If any person appointed overseer of a road, who is lawfully exempt from road duty, shall notify the clerks of his nonacceptance, as provided for in the preceding section, the clerk shall forthwith report the same to the county judge, who shall immediately appoint another overseer for said precinct.

Sec. 44. Should any person appointed overseer, and who is lawfully exempt from road duty, fail to notify the clerk of his nonacceptance within ten days after being notified of his appointment, it shall be considered an acceptance of the appointment, and he shall not be permitted thereafter to plead his exemption from road duty as a defense against any neglect or failure to perform any of the duties of such overseer.

Sec. 45. It shall be the duty of the clerks to insert on the copies of all orders of appointment of overseers issued by him, the duties required of overseers in regard to their nonacceptance of such appointment.

Sec. 46. The clerk of the county court shall post at the court house, on the first day of each term of the district court held in his county, a list of the names, and the road precincts, of all the overseers of roads in the county.

Sec. 47. All male persons between twenty-one and forty-five years of age shall be liable, and it is hereby made their duty, to work on, repair, and clean out the public roads, under the provisions and regulations of this act, except ministers of the gospel actually engaged in the discharge of their ministerial duties, and invalids, and members of any company of voluntary guards organized under the provisions of the title "militia," who shall be exempt.

Sec. 48. No person shall be compelled to work on a road who has not been residing in the county in which he is summoned to work for the space of fifteen days immediately preceding such summons.

Sec. 49. Any person liable to road duty, and who has been summoned to do such duty, shall have the privilege to furnish an able bodied substitute to work in his place, which substitute shall be accepted by the overseer if he be capable of performing a reasonable amount of work; otherwise he shall not be accepted.

Sec. 50. Every person liable to work on roads, by paying to his road overseer, at any time before the day appointed to work on his road, the sum of one dollar for each day that he is summoned to work, shall be exempt from working for each day paid for, and also exempt from any penalties for failure to work for the time for which he has so paid.

Sec. 51. Each person summoned to work on a road shall take with him an axe, hoe, pick, spade, or such tool as may be desired and directed by the overseer; or, if he have no such tool as he is desired and directed by the overseer to take with him, he shall take such other suitable tool as he may have.

Sec. 52. It shall be the duty of such road hand to perform his duties as such as required by law, and to do a reasonable amount of work, and in accordance with the directions of his overseer.

Sec. 53. No person shall be compelled to work on any public road or roads more than ten days in each year.

Sec. 54. Every insolvent poll tax payer, being a resident of the county, and not disqualified or excused by physical infirmity, who shall be indebted to the county on any unpaid county poll tax, and from whom the said poll tax can not be otherwise collected by law, may be permitted to discharge the amount of such unpaid county poll tax in labor upon the public roads of his precinct, at the rate of one dollar per day; and in order to enforce the provisions of this section, the collector of taxes for the county shall be required, on or before the second Monday in May of each year, to furnish to the several overseers of the counties, the names of all the defaulting poll tax payers, together with the amount of county poll tax due and unpaid by each, for which ex officio service the collector shall be exempt from road duty five days; and it shall be the duty of the overseer, whenever any such person shall have discharged his county poll tax as herein provided, to report the same in his regular reports to the commissioners courts: Provided, that no penalty shall ever be imposed upon poll tax payers for refusal or failure to work upon the public roads.

Sec. 55. This act shall be cumulative of all laws of the State on the subject of roads and bridges and employment of county convicts not in conflict herewith, and where not otherwise provided herein such general laws shall apply; but in case of conflict with general laws, this act shall govern; and the courts of the State shall have and take judicial cognizance of this act in the same manner and to the same extent as they are required to know and notice the general laws of the State.

Sec. 56. The vast amount of important business pending, and the fact that the roads of said counties are in a deplorable condition for the want of a more efficient road law, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted, and that this act take effect from and after its passage.

TAXES—LEVY OF BY COUNTIES TO PAY FOR LANDS DEEDED TO STATE FOR USE OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

CHAP. 52.—[H. B. No. 590.] An act to authorize and empower the counties in this State to levy and collect a tax to pay for any lands which have or may hereafter be deeded to the State of Texas for the use of public buildings.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioners court of any county in the State of Texas is hereby authorized and empowered to one time levy a tax not exceeding eight cents on the one hundred dollars ad valorem tax on all property subject to taxation in said county or counties, to pay for any lands deeded to the State of Texas heretofore or that may hereafter be deeded to the State of Texas for public purposes, on which to erect public buildings by the State, and to be used by the State as State institutions for the insane.

Sec. 2. That when any county commissioners court, at any regular session thereof, shall hear and determine the justness of any such claim or claims for lands heretofore or that may hereafter be deeded to the State as sites for public institutions of the State, and the amount, at a fair valuation of such lands so deeded, such county commissioners court is hereby authorized and empowered to levy a tax for such purpose, not exceeding eight cents on the one hundred dollars worth of taxable property in such county or counties, to be levied and collected as other taxes are, which, when collected, shall be paid over to the party or parties deeding the land or lands to the State, upon vouchers duly made out and audited, as other claims are.

Sec. 3. That there exist in this State certain just claims, that in justice and good faith require adjustment, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the said rule is suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage.

Approved April 19, A. D. 1893.

SUBSIDY TAXES—REPAYMENT TO COUNTIES.

CHAP. 53.—[H. B. No. 192.] An act to authorize the State Treasurer to pay to the county treasurer of any county in this State any excess of subsidy taxes paid by such county, after the subsidy bonds of such county and interest thereon has been paid, and to authorize the treasurer of such county to receive and receipt for same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whenever it shall appear to the State Treasurer that any money paid into the State Treasury by any county of this State for the liquidation of subsidy bonds issued by such county, remains to the credit of such county after all of said subsidy bonds and interest have been paid, said State Treasurer shall pay to the treasurer of such county such remaining sum, and the treasurer of such county shall receipt therefor.

Sec. 2. The county treasurer of such county shall place such sum of money to the credit of the general fund of such county.

Sec. 3. Whereas, several counties have paid off their subsidy bonds, and balances remain in the State Treasury to their credit; and whereas, such balances should be paid to them during the current year; therefore the importance of this bill creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read in each house on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted; and it is further enacted that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—FIFTIETH.

CHAP. 54.—[S. B. 211.] An Act to amend section 3 of an act to reorganize the thirty-second and thirty-ninth judicial districts, and to create the fiftieth judicial district of the State of Texas; to fix the times for holding courts herein: to provide for the appointment and election of a judge and a district attorney in the fiftieth judicial district, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith; presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 13th day of March, A. D. 1891, and not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and which thereupon became a law without his signature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 3 of an act to reorganize the thirty-second and thirty-ninth judicial districts and to create the fiftieth judicial district of the State of Texas; to fix the time for holding courts herein; to provide for the appointment and election of a judge and a district attorney in the fiftieth judicial district, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith; presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 13th day of March, A. D. 1891, and not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and which thereupon became a law without his signature, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 3. The fiftieth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Baylor, Knox, King, Dickens, Crosby, Lubbock, Hale, Floyd, Motley, and Cottle, and the unorganized counties of Cochran, Lynn, and Hockley, and the terms of the district courts shall be held therein as follows:

In the county of Cottle on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Motley on the first Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Floyd on the third Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Hale on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Lubbock on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Crosby on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Dickens on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of King on the eleventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Knox on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Baylor on the sixteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session six weeks.

That the unorganized counties of Cochran, Lynn, and Hockley are hereby attached to the county of Lubbock for judicial purposes.

Sec. 2. That all process issued or served before this act goes into effect, returnable to the district courts in said judicial district, shall be considered returnable to said courts in accordance with the terms as prescribed by this act, and all such process is hereby legalized; and all grand and petit juries drawn and selected under existing laws in any of the counties in said judicial district, shall be considered lawfully drawn and selected for the next terms of the district courts of their respective counties, held after this act takes effect, and all such process is hereby legalized and validated.

Sec. 3. The crowded condition of the calendar rendering it improbable that this bill can be read on three several days, and the fact that serious inconvenience will result to the people of said judicial district in the administration of justice unless this bill should pass, creates an imperative public necessity requiring the constitutional rule which requires bills to be read on three several days to be suspended, and said rule is suspended accordingly.

Approved April 18. A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—FIFTEENTH AND FORTIETH.

CHAP. 55.—[H. B. No. 687.] An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to reorganize the fifteenth judicial district and the fortieth judicial district, and to amend chapter 67, section 15, of the general laws of Texas, approved April 9, 1883, redistricting the State for judicial purposes, and to amend section 2 of chapter 58 of the general laws of Texas, approved March 27, 1885, creating the fortieth judicial district, and to amend section 1 of an act passed at the regular session of the Twenty-third Legislature, reorganizing the fifteenth and fortieth judicial districts, and fixing the times for holding courts therein, and to add thereto section 1a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 1 of the act recited in the caption hereof be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 1. The fifteenth judicial district of the State of Texas shall hereafter be composed of Grayson county, and the district court shall be held therein each year as follows: A term beginning on the third Monday of September of each year, and may continue in session until and including the last Saturday in December. A term beginning on the first Monday in January of each year, and may continue until and including the last Saturday in March. A term beginning on the first Monday in April of each year, and may continue until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, that section 1a be added to the above recited act, to hereafter read as follows:

Section 1a. That section 1 of the original act, to which this is an amendment, and as above amended, shall not apply to the term of the district court of Grayson county commencing on the second Monday in March, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, but that said term shall continue and be extended to and including the last Saturday in June of said last named year, and that thereafter said court shall be held as hereinbefore provided; and the judge of said court may appoint jury commissioners, and cause juries to be selected and summoned for the said month of June, under the provisions of the laws now in force and governing the same.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. The large number of cases to be disposed of on the docket of the district court of Grayson county, and the fact that under existing law the district court can not be held in said county in the month of June, creates an emergency and public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 19, A. D. 1893.

LIVE STOCK SANITARY COMMISSION.

CHAP. 56.—[S. H. B. No. 112.] An Act to provide for the protection of domestic animals, for the creation of a live stock sanitary commission, for the establishing of live stock quarantine lines, rules, and regulations; to provide penalties for violating the same, and to make an appropriation to carry out the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That there shall be appointed by the Governor, and with the consent of the Senate, a live stock sanitary commission of the State of Texas, composed of three members. Before entering upon the duties of their office said commissioners shall take and subscribe to the usual oath of office and file the same with the Secretary of State; and they shall also, before entering upon the performance of their duties, execute a bond, to be approved by the State Comptroller, in the sum of ten thousand dollars each, conditioned that they will faithfully perform the duties of their office, which said bond they shall file with the Secretary of State. The term of office of said commissioners shall be for a period of two years next from the day of their qualification, and until their successors shall have been appointed and qualified.

Sec. 2. The commissioners, whose appointment is provided for in the preceding section, shall each be practical live stock raisers in the State of Texas, and shall have been actively engaged in said business for at least five years next preceding the date of their appointment, and shall be bona fide residents of and stock raisers in the particular section of the State from which they may be appointed. One of said commissioners shall be appointed from the west, one from the south, and one from the eastern portion of said State.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the commission provided for in the first section of this act to protect the domestic animals of this State from all contagious or infectious diseases of a malignant character, whether said diseases exist in Texas or elsewhere; and for this purpose they are hereby authorized and empowered to establish, maintain, and enforce such quarantine lines and sanitary rules and regulations as they may deem necessary. It shall also be the duty of said commission to co-operate with live stock quarantine commissioners and officers of other States and Territories, and with the United States Secretary of Agriculture, in establishing such interstate quarantine lines, rules, and regulations as shall best protect the live stock industry of this State against Texas or splenic fever. It shall be the duty of said commission, upon receipt by them of reliable information of the existence among the domestic animals of the State of any malignant disease, to go at once to the place where any such disease is alleged to exist, and make a careful examination of the animals believed to be affected with any such disease, and ascertain, if possible, what, if any, disease exists among the live stock reported to be affected, and whether the same is contagious or infectious, and if said disease is found to be of a malignant, contagious or infectious character, they shall direct and enforce such quarantine lines and sanitary regulations as are necessary to prevent the spread of any such disease. And no domestic animal infected with disease, or capable of communicating the same, shall be permitted to enter or leave the district, premises, or grounds so quar-antined, except by authority of the commissioners. The said commission shall also, from time to time, give and enforce such directions and prescribe such rules and regulations as to separating, feeding, and caring for such diseased and exposed animals as they shall deem necessary to prevent the animals so affected with such disease from coming in contact with other animals not so affected. And the said commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered to enter upon any grounds or premises to carry out the provisions of this act.

Sec. 4. When the commission shall have determined the quarantine lines and other regulations necessary to prevent the spread among domestic animals of Texas of any malignant, contagious, or infectious disease found to exist among the live stock of this State, or elsewhere, and given their orders as hereinbefore provided, prescribing quarantine and other regulations, they shall notify the Governor of the State of Texas, who shall issue his proclamation, proclaiming the boundary of such quarantine around such diseased stock, and the orders, rules and regulations prescribed by the commission; and such commission shall give such notice as may to them seem best to make the quarantine established by them effective.

Sec. 5. The commission provided for in this act shall have power to purchase such supplies and material as may be necessary to carry into full effect all orders by them given, as hereinbefore provided, which said supplies and material and wages, and expenses of the veterinarian hereinafter provided for, shall be paid out of the moneys hereinafter appropriated, on the warrant of the Comptroller, issued to said commissioners, upon their filing with the Comptroller an itemized account thereof, properly verified by affidavit: Provided, that no material or supplies may be purchased by the commissioners except such as may be necessary to carry into effect the quarantine and other regulations prescribed by them. And such commissioners shall have the power to employ a competent veterinarian to assist them in the investigation of the diseases amongst the live stock of this State whenever they may deem the services of one necessary: Provided, that the compensation of such veterinarian shall not exceed the sum of ten dollars per day and actual expenses while so employed: And provided further, that the expenditures for the compensation of veterinarians shall not exceed nine hundred dollars in any one year.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of the railway corporations doing business in the State to cleanse and disinfect the cars used by them in transporting live stock in or through this State, at such times and places as the commissioners may designate, whenever, in the opinion of the commissioners, any such order may be necessary to prevent the spread of infectious or contagious disease. Any such corporations violating the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of five hundred dollars for each offense, to be recovered in a civil action, to be prosecuted under the direction of the Attorney General in the name of the State of Texas.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of any owner or person in charge of any domestic animal or animals, who discovers, suspects, or has reason to believe that any of his domestic animals, or domestic animals in his charge, are affected with any contagious or infectious disease, to immediately report such fact, belief, or suspicion to the commission and to the sheriff and county clerk of the county in which said domestic animals are found.

Sec. 8. Any person who shall knowingly bring into this State any domestic animal which is infected with any contagious or infectious disease, or any animal which has been exposed to any contagious or infectious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than five hundred nor more than five thousand dollars.

Sec. 9. Any person who owns or is in possession of live stock, which is reported to be affected with any infectious or contagious disease, who shall refuse to allow the State live stock sanitary commissioners to examine such stock, or shall hinder or obstruct the said commissioners in any examination of, or in any attempt to examine, such stock, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

Sec. 10. Any person who shall have in his possession any domestic animal affected with any contagious or infectious disease, knowing such animal to be affected, who shall permit such animal to run at large, or who shall keep such animal where other domestic animals, not affected by or previously exposed to such disease, may be exposed to its contagion or infection, or who shall ship, drive, sell, trade, or give away such diseased animal or animals which have been exposed to such infection or contagion, or who shall move or drive any domestic animal in violation of any direction, rule, regulation, or order of the live stock sanitary commission of Texas establishing and regulating live stock quarantine, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each of such exposed or diseased domestic animals which he shall permit to run at large, or sell, ship, drive, trade, or give away in violation of the provisions of this act: Provided, that any owner of domestic animal which has been affected with or exposed to any contagious or infectious disease, may dispose of the same, after having obtained from the State live stock sanitary commissioners a bill of health for such animal or animals.

Sec. 11. The commissioners appointed by the Governor, as hereinbefore provided, shall receive five dollars per day for the time by them necessarily employed in the discharge of the duties required by this act; and said commissioners, hereinbefore provided for, shall receive in addition thereto the actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred by them and paid in the discharge of the duties required of them by the provisions of this act; which said per diem and expenses shall be drawn from the treasury on the warrant of the Comptroller, to be issued to said commissioners on their filing with the Comptroller an itemized account thereof, properly verified by affidavit.

Sec. 12. The live stock sanitary commission shall have power to call upon any sheriff, deputy sheriff or constable to execute their orders, and such officers shall obey the orders of said commissioners; and the officer or officers performing these duties shall each be entitled to two dollars and fifty cents per day for himself and horse, which payment shall be made upon a sworn account, approved by said commissioners: Provided, said expenses under this section shall not exceed in any event, five hundred dollars per annum.

Sec. 13. Except as otherwise provided in this act, any person who shall violate, disregard, or evade, or attempt to violate, disregard, or evade any of the provisions of this act, or who shall violate, disregard, or evade, or attempt to violate, disregard, or evade any of the rules, regulations, orders, or directions of the live stock sanitary commission, establishing and governing quarantine, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred nor more than five thousand dollars.

Sec. 14. The sum of twenty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of the general revenue fund not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act: Provided, that the exhaustion of the appropriation herein made shall terminate the liability of the State for the two years next following, and absolve it from any future claims of any and all persons who may have claims, real or pretended, under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 15. Any quarantine line that may be fixed by the live stock sanitary commission, against Texas or splenic fever, shall be so fixed as to conform to the Federal quarantine line established, or that may be established, by the United States Department of Agriculture: Provided, however, that as to the shipment or movement of live stock within the limits of the State, such quarantine lines, and the regulations in relation thereto, shall not apply from the 1st day of November to the 15th day of May of each year: Provided, the quarantine line now recognized and established by Federal authority within the State of Texas shall not be changed prior to December 1, 1893, but said line as is now established shall remain in full force until said date.

Sec. 16. No quarantine line shall be established at any time, nor regulations made in relation thereto, unless two of the live stock sanitary commissioners agree thereto.

Sec. 17. This act does not repeal any law in force for the protection of domestic animals, but is cumulative thereto.

Sec. 18. Whereas there is now no existing live stock quarantine law in the State of Texas, and whereas the people of this State, engaged in the honorable occupation of raising live stock, are now subject to harsh and severe Federal quarantine laws and regulations, which greatly depreciate the value of live stock in this State, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity and emergency exist requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and it is hereby suspended.

CASTRO AND HARTLEY COUNTIES—DIMINISHING JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURTS.

CHAP. 57.—[S. B. No. 229.] An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county courts of Castro and Hartley counties, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county courts of Castro and Hartley counties shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of a probate court; shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians, transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the partition, settlement, and distribution of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors, as provided by law, and issue all writs necessary for the enforcement of its own jurisdiction, to punish contempt under such provisions as are or may be provided by general law, governing county courts throughout the State; but the said county courts of Castro and Hartley counties shall have no other civil or criminal jurisdiction whatever.

Sec. 2. That the district courts of Castro and Hartley counties shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil and criminal matters and causes over which, by the laws of this State, the county courts of said counties would have jurisdiction, except as provided in section one of this act; and all causes other than probate matters, and such as are provided by section one of this act, be and the same are hereby transferred to the district courts of Castro and Hartley counties; and all writs and processes relating to any civil or criminal matters not included in the subject matters of jurisdiction prescribed in section one of this act, issued by or out of said county courts of Castro and Hartley counties, be and the same are hereby made returnable to the next term of the district court of said counties after this act takes effect.

Sec. 3. That the county clerks of Castro and Hartley counties be and they are hereby required, within thirty days after this act takes effect, to make a full and complete transcript of all entries upon their civil and criminal dockets, heretofore made in causes which by section two are required to be transferred to the district court of said counties, and deliver the same to the district clerk of said counties, together with all the papers to such causes pertaining, and a certified bill of costs in each case, and all such causes shall be immediately docketed by said district clerk, and such civil causes, so transferred, shall stand on the docket of said courts as appearance cases for the next succeeding term, and all criminal cases shall be docketed and disposed of in the same manner as if the same had originally been triable in said district courts, and all process now issued and returnable to said county courts shall be returnable to said district courts.

Sec. 4. That this act shall not be construed to in any manner affect judgments heretofore rendered by said county courts of Castro and Hartley counties, pertaining to matters and causes which, by section two of this act, are transferred to the district courts of said counties; but the county clerks of said counties shall issue all executions and orders of sale as the judgments in such cases require, and such executions and orders of sale, and proceedings thereunder, shall be as valid and binding, to all intents and purposes, as though the change had not been made, as by section two therein contemplated.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature, and the press of business before it, rendering it improbable that this bill can be read on three several days, and the great saving of expense to said counties by the passage of this bill, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

SPECIAL JUDGES IN COUNTY COURTS IN CIVIL AND PROBATE CASES.

CHAP. 58.—[S. B. No. 20.] An act to amend article 1139 of title 28, chapter 1, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, and to add thereto articles 1139a, 1139b, and 1139c.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 1139 of title 28, chapter 1, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows, and to add thereto articles 1139a, 1139b, and 1139c:

Article 1139. When a judge of the county court is disqualified by any of the causes above stated, the parties may, by consent, appoint a proper person to try such case.

Article 1139a. Whenever a judge of the county court is disqualified to try a civil case pending in the county court, and the parties shall fail at the first term of the court to agree upon a special judge, it shall be the duty of the judge to certify to the Governor that he is disqualified to try such case, and the failure of the parties to agree upon a proper person to try the same, whereupon the Governor shall proceed to appoint some person, learned in the law, to try such case. But when a county judge is disqualified to act in probate matters in any cause, he shall forthwith certify his disqualification in such case to the Governor, whereupon the Governor shall appoint some person to act as special judge in said case, who shall act from term to term until such disqualification ceases to exist.

Article 1139b. Whenever any case or cases are called, or pending, in which the county judge, or the special judge chosen, as hereinbefore provided, shall be a party, or have an interest, or have been attorney, or of counsel, or otherwise disqualified from sitting in and trying the same, no transfer of or removal of shall be made necessary thereby, but the parties or their counsel shall have the right to select and agree upon an attorney of the court for the trial thereof; and if the parties or their attorneys shall fail to select or agree upon an attorney for the trial of such case at or before the time it is called for trial, or if the trial of the case is pending, and the county judge should become unable to act, or is absent, and a special judge is selected who is disqualified to proceed with the trial, and the parties fail to select or agree upon a special judge who is qualified at once, it shall be the duty of the county judge or special judge presiding to certify the fact to the Governor immediately by telegram, mail, or otherwise, whereupon the Governor shall appoint a special judge, not so disqualified to try the same. The evidence of such appointment by the Governor may be transmitted by telegram, or otherwise. The special judge, after taking the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution, shall proceed to the trial or disposition of such case immediately, if the trial is pending, otherwise when called or reached, as in other cases. That any special judge agreed upon or appointed to try causes shall receive the same pay for his services as is now provided by law for county judges.

Article 1139c. Whenever a special judge is agreed upon by the parties, or is appointed by the Governor, for the trial of any particular cause, as above provided, the clerk shall enter in the minutes of the court as a part of the proceedings in such cause a record showing:

1. That the judge of the court was disqualified to try the cause; and
2. That such special judge [naming him] was by consent agreed upon by the parties to try the cause; or
3. That the parties having failed to agree upon a proper person to try the cause and the judge of the court having certified that fact to the Governor he had appointed such special judge [naming him] to try the cause; and

4. That the oath prescribed by law has been duly administered to such special judge: Provided that all cases heretofore transferred by the county court to the district court on account of the disqualification of the county judge shall be considered lawful and the district courts to which such causes have been transferred shall retain jurisdiction thereof.

Sec. 2. The fact that there is now no provision providing for the selection of special county judges when the county judge is disqualified, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, therefore said constitutional rule is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 26, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—TWENTY-NINTH.

CHAP. 59.—[S. B. No. 274.] An act to amend an act to designate what counties shall compose the twenty-ninth judicial district of the State of Texas, and to fix the times of holding courts therein, approved March 30, 1887, at the regular session of the Twentieth Legislature, amended February 15, 1889, amended March 5, 1889, so that the same shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Twenty-ninth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Palo Pinto, Hood, Somervell, Erath, Hamilton, and Coryell, and the terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows.

In the county of Palo Pinto, on the last Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Hood, on the third Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Somervell, on the fifth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Erath, on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session five weeks.

In the county of Hamilton, on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Coryell on the third Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session four weeks.

Sec. 2. All writs, process, and bonds, civil and criminal, which may be issued or executed up to the time this act takes effect, by or from the district courts of the several counties above named, or under order of said courts, and made returnable to the terms of said courts as they are now fixed by law, shall be returnable to the next ensuing terms of said courts in each county as they are prescribed by this act; and all such writs, process, and bonds above mentioned are hereby legalized and validated, to all intents and purposes, as if the same had been returnable to the term of said courts as the terms thereof are herein prescribed.

Sec. 3. The fact that this session is near its close and the great number of bills pending before both houses, creates an emergency requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 26, A. D. 1893.

NONRESIDENTS—SUITS AGAINST.

CHAP. 60.—[S. B. No. 134.] An act to provide for determining the rights of nonresidents, persons unknown, and transient persons, to property in Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an action may be brought and prosecuted to final decree, judgment, or order, by any person claiming a right or interest in or to any property in this State, against any person or persons who are nonresidents of this State, or whose place of residence is unknown, or who are transient persons, who claim an adverse estate, or interest in, or who claim any lien or incumbrance on said property, for the purpose of determining such estate, interest, lien, or incumbrance, and granting the title to said property, or setting the lien or incumbrance thereon.

Sec. 2. Such action may be maintained by any such person whether he is in actual possession of such property or not, and service on the defendant or defendants may be made by publication of the writ of notice of the same, as is now or hereafter may be provided by law for publication of citation against nonresidents, persons unknown, or transient persons.

Sec. 3. The pleadings in such case shall set forth the title of the complainant, as well as the claim of the defendant, if known, and such proceedings shall be had in such action as may be necessary to fully settle and determine the question of right or title in and to said property between the parties to said suit, and to decree the title or right of the party entitled thereto; and the court may issue the appropriate order to carry such decree, judgment, or order, into effect.

Sec. 4. No judgment by default shall be taken in such case by reason of the failure of the defendant to answer, but the facts entitling the plaintiff to judgment shall be exhibited to the court on the trial, and a statement of the facts shall be filed as may be provided by law in suits against nonresidents of this State where no appearance has been made by them.

Sec. 5. In case said suit shall be for the extinguishment of any lien or claim for money on said property that may be held by the defendant, the amount thereof, with interest, shall be ascertained by the court, and the same shall be deposited in the registry of the court, subject to be drawn by the defendant or defendants entitled thereto; but in such case no decree shall be entered until said sum is deposited, which fact shall be noted in said decree.

Sec. 6. The judgment of the court, in the cases mentioned, shall be received in evidence, under the rules governing evidence that may be established by law, and said judgment shall be binding on the parties thereto concerning the matters determined therein.

Sec. 7. The fact that there is now no law in the State providing for obtaining jurisdiction over nonresidents of the State and unknown persons in suits to quiet title and to remove cloud from title to real estate situated in the State of Texas, and the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, and the large amount of business pending, create an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 27, A. D. 1893.

DELTA COUNTY—DIMINISHING JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 61.—[H. B. No. 635.] An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court of Delta county, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Delta county shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of a probate court, shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians, transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the partition, settlement, and distribution of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors, as provided by law, and to issue all writs necessary for the enforcement of its own jurisdiction, to punish contempt under such provisions as are or may be provided by general law governing county courts throughout the State; but the said county court of Delta county shall have no other jurisdiction, civil or criminal, whatsoever.

Sec. 2. That the district court of Delta county shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil and criminal matters and causes over which, by the laws of this State, the county courts of said county would have jurisdiction, except as provided in section 1 of this act; all causes other than probate matters, and such as are provided by section 1 of this act, be and the same are hereby transferred to the district court of Delta county, and all writs and processes relating to any civil or criminal matters not included in the subject matters of jurisdiction prescribed in section 1 of this act, issued by or out of said county court of Delta county, be and the same are hereby made returnable to the next term of the district court of said county, after this act takes effect.

Sec. 3. That the county clerk of Delta county be and he is hereby required, within thirty days after this act takes effect, to make a full and complete transcript of all entries upon his civil and criminal docket heretofore made in cases which, by section 2 of this act, are required to be transferred to the district court of said county, and deliver the same to the district clerk of said county, together with all the papers to such causes pertaining, and a certified bill of costs in each case, and all such causes shall be immediately docketed by said district clerk; and such civil causes so transferred shall stand on the docket of said court as appearance cases for the next succeeding term, and all criminal cases shall be docketed and disposed of in the same manner as if the same had been originally triable in said district court, and all process now issued and returnable to said county court shall be returnable to said district court.

Sec. 4. That this act shall not be construed to in any manner affect judgments heretofore rendered by said county court of Delta county, pertaining to matters and causes which, by section 2 of this act, are transferred to the district court of said county; but the county clerk of said county shall issue all executions and orders of sale, as the judgments in such cases require, and such executions and orders of sale, and proceedings thereunder, shall be as valid and binding, to all intents and purposes, as though the change had not been made, as by section 2 therein contemplated.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature, and the large amount of business before it, rendering it improbable that this bill can be read on three several days, and the great saving of expense to said county by the passage of this bill, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity, that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 17th day of April, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

• ROADS—GUADALUPE COUNTY.

CHAP. 62.—[H. B. No. 657.] An act to create a more efficient road system in the county of Guadalupe; and auxiliary thereto, to provide for the appointment of road overseers, to define the powers and jurisdiction of the commissioners court with regard thereto, to utilize the labor of county convicts and defaulting poll tax payers on the public roads of said county, and to provide adequate penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioners court of Guadalupe county may appoint a road overseer for each commissioner's precinct in the county, or for each justice's precinct, who shall hold their offices for two years, and until their successors are qualified.

Sec. 2. The overseers so appointed shall perform all the duties required of overseers, under the general laws of this State, and such other duties as may be required of them by the commissioners court of said county, and shall receive such compensation as the commissioners court may prescribe, not [to] exceed two dollars per day for the time actually engaged.

Sec. 3. Each overseer shall, within twenty days after his appointment, take the constitutional oath, and enter into bond payable to the county judge, in such sum as may be fixed by the commissioners court, to be approved by the county judge, conditioned that he will well and faithfully discharge all of the duties incumbent upon him as such overseer, that he will promptly make all reports required of him by this act, or by the commissioners court, and that he will correctly disburse and account for all funds that may come into his hands according to law and the orders of the commissioners court, which bond shall not be void for want of form, or void on the first recovery, but may be sued upon until fully exhausted.

Sec. 4. The commissioners court may, for good cause, to be determined by themselves, at any time remove an overseer, and in case of vacancy from any cause, may fill the same for the unexpired term.

Sec. 5. Each overseer shall take charge of all tools, implements, teams, and supplies of any kind placed under his control by the commissioners court, and execute his receipt therefor, which shall be filed with the county clerk, and he shall be responsible for all such tools, teams, implements and supplies, and for the proper expenditure of all public moneys coming into his hands, and shall be liable for the loss, injury, or destruction of all such tools, teams, implements, and supplies, if the result of his negligence, or for the wrongful or unauthorized expenditure of such money; and upon the expiration of his term, or in case of his resignation or removal, he shall deliver all such money and property to his successor, or to such person as the commissioners court may direct.

Sec. 5a. The overseer of each precinct shall subdivide his precinct into as many sections as may be necessary or convenient, and shall require each person subject to road duty in his precinct to work upon the roads in the particular section in which he resides; and in order to have all road work more promptly and vigorously prosecuted, the overseer may appoint suboverseers in the several sections of his precinct, but the overseer himself shall exercise at all times a supervision over the different sections and suboverseers, and shall plan and direct all work to be done, and may require the suboverseers to warn all road hands subject to duty of the time and place of working, as is required by existing laws.

Sec. 6. The commissioners court shall require all able-bodied county convicts, not otherwise more profitably employed, to labor upon the public roads of the county, or upon the public streets of some city or town in the county, under such regulations as may be prescribed, and each convict so employed shall receive credit, first, upon the fine, and then upon the cost, of fifty cents per day for each day he may labor: Provided, that no convict shall be required to labor on Sunday, but shall, nevertheless, have the same credit as if he had labored on that day.

Sec. 7. The commissioners court may, at any regular term, allow the officers and witnesses in a convict case, where the convict is working upon the roads, such portions of their lawful cost as it may determine, not to exceed, in any case, the following: County judges, $2.50; county attorneys, $5, including commissions; county clerks and justices of the peace, $2; sheriffs and constables, $2.50; witnesses, twenty-five per cent of their legal fees; which allowance shall be paid out of the road and bridge fund, upon the warrant of the county judge, when said fine and cost shall have been worked out by the convicts, as provided in this act. The commissioners court may provide the necessary houses, prisons, food, clothing, bedding, medicine, medical attention, and guards necessary for the safe keeping and humane treatment of such convicts, and may grant a reasonable commutation of time to a convict, in consideration of faithful service and good behavior, such commutation in no case to exceed one-tenth of the entire time.

Sec. 8. The overseers may contract with any person subject to road duty in their precinct for the use of wagons and teams, and permit such person to discharge his road service in the hire of such wagon and team: Provided, he shall not allow more than $2 per day for any wagon and team, nor more than $3 per day for wagon and team and driver.

Sec. 9. It shall be the duty of each overseer to see that all roads, bridges, culverts, and drains in his precinct are kept in good repair; to see that every person subject to road duty in his precinct performs the service for which he is liable under the law, or that such service is in some way excused or commuted, as provided by law; to see that all mile posts and guide boards at the forks of roads are kept continuously up, and in good order, and when the same are removed or defaced, to immediately repair or replace them. He shall act as supervisor of roads in his precinct, and perform all duties as supervisor heretofore devolving upon the county commissioners, and the county commissioners of said county are hereby delivered from the duties prescribed by article 4390a of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Sec. 10. Each able-bodied male person, between the ages of twenty-one and forty-five years, resident of the county, except such persons as are exempt from road duty under the general laws of the State, shall be liable to labor on the public roads: Provided, that any one so liable may discharge said liability:

1. By furnishing a substitute who is acceptable to the overseer.

2. By paying to the overseer the sum of one dollar for each day he may be summoned to work, or by paying four dollars at any one time shall be discharged from all liability for the entire year, to end on December 31 of each year.

3. By producing to the overseer the certificate of a reputable practicing physician, certifying that the party is permanently or temporarily incapacitated for such physical labor as is necessary for road service.

4. By substituting wagons and teams, suitable and satisfactory to the road overseer, as provided in section 8 of this act.

Sec. 11. Every insolvent poll taxpayer, being resident of the county, who shall be indebted to the county on any unpaid county poll tax, and from whom the said poll tax can not be otherwise collected by law, shall be permitted to discharge the amount of such unpaid county poll tax in labor upon the public roads of his precinct, at the rate of one dollar per day; and in order to enforce the provisions of this section, the collector of taxes for the county shall be required, on or before the second ——— in February of every year, to furnish to the several overseers of the county the names of all the defaulting poll taxpayers, together with the amount of county poll tax due and unpaid by each, for which ex officio services, the collector shall be exempt from road duty; and it shall be the duty of the overseer, whenever any such person shall have discharged his county poll tax, as herein provided, to report the same back to collector, who shall credit the party on the poll tax roll, and report the same in his regular report to the commissioners court: Provided, that no fine or penalties shall be recovered of insolvent poll taxpayers for failure to work out their poll tax under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 12. Each road overseer shall make his report under oath to the commissioners court, every six months, giving an itemized statement of all moneys belonging to the road fund, which he has received, from whom received, and for what, and what disposition he made of the same; the condition of all the roads, bridges, culverts, and drains; the number and character of all mile posts and guide boards erected, and where the same are located; and such other information as the commissioners court may require, and may accompany said report with such suggestions as may seem to him pertinent, in regard to the public roads and the duties of the office.

Sec. 13. Any road overseer who shall willfully or negligently fail or refuse to comply with any provision of this act, or to perform any lawful and reasonable order of the commissioners court, or to discharge any duty imposed upon him by this act, or by any other existing law of the State not in conflict herewith, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, in a court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, such fine, when collected, to go into the road and bridge fund.

Sec. 14. Whenever it shall be necessary to occupy any private lands for the purpose of opening, widening, straightening, or draining any public road, or part thereof, if the owner of such land and the commissioners court can not agree upon the amount of damages to be paid, the county may proceed to condemn the same, in the same manner that a railway company can condemn land for right of way, and the same proceedings may be had and the same rights shall exist to each party as would exist if the proceedings were by a railroad company, except that the county shall in no case be required to give bond either forcost or on appeal.

Sec. 15. This act shall be cumulative of all general laws of the State on the subject of roads and bridges and employment of county convicts not in conflict herewith, and where not otherwise provided herein, such general laws shall apply, but in case of conflict with general laws, this act shall govern, and the courts of the State shall have and take judicial cognizance of this act in the same manner and to the same extent as they are required to know and notice the general laws of the State.

Sec. 16. The vast amount of important business pending, and the fact that the roads of said county are in a deplorable condition for the want of a more efficient road law, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

SPECIAL JUDGES IN COUNTY COURTS IN CRIMINAL CASES.

CHAP. 63.—[H. B. No. 213.] An act to amend article 573, chapter 4, title 7, of the Revised Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, and to add thereto articles 573a and 573b, providing for the appointment of special judge of the county court in criminal cases where the county judge is disqualified.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 573, chapter 4, title 7, of the Revised Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows, and that articles 573a and 573b be added thereto:

Article 573. When the judge of the county court is disqualified in any criminal case pending in the county court, the parties interested may, by consent, appoint a proper person to try said case, and if the parties shall fail to agree upon a special judge to try such case, on or before the third day of the term of the court at which said case may be called for trial, the county judge shall forthwith certify the facts to the Governor, who shall appoint some practicing attorney to try such case.

Article 573a. The attorney agreed upon or appointed as provided in the preceding article shall, before he enters upon his duties as special judge, take the oath of office required by the Constitution of the State, and his selection by the parties, or appointment by the Governor, as the case may be, and the fact that the oath of office was administered to him, shall be entered upon the minutes of the court as a part of the records of the cause, and he shall have all the power and authority of the county judge that may be necessary to enable him to conduct, try, and finally dispose of said case.

Article 573b. A special judge selected or appointed in accordance with the preceding articles shall receive the same compensation as now provided by law for regular county judges in similar cases.

Sec. 2. The fact that there is now no law in force providing for the selection of special judges of the county court in cases wherein the county judge is disqualified and the parties fail to agree upon a special judge, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

BONDS—REGULATING AND RESTRICTING THEIR ISSUANCE BY COUNTIES, CITIES AND TOWNS.

CHAP. 64.—[H. B. No. 643.] An act to regulate and restrict the execution of bonds by counties, cities, and towns, to prescribe a method by which all questions of irregularity in the execution of bonds shall be determined, to prescribe a rule of evidence in relation thereto, and to define and punish offenses committed in connection with the issuance of such bonds.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter any county, city, or town, acting through its commissioners court, city council, or board of aldermen, as the case may be, in authorizing the execution of any bonds in pursuance of law, shall, at the same time, provide for the levy and collection of a tax annually of sufficient amount with which to pay the annual interest and a sinking fund with which to pay such bonded indebtedness at maturity.

Sec. 2. That hereafter no bonds executed by any county, city, or town shall bear a higher rate of interest than six per cent per annum, and shall not be sold at less than its par value and accumulated interest, exclusive of commissions.

Sec. 3. That hereafter no county, city, or town shall execute a bond to mature later than forty years from the date of its execution.

Sec. 4. That any county, city, or town, in the State of Texas, desiring to issue bonds as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, shall, before such bonds are offered for sale, forward to the Attorney General the bonds to be issued, a certified copy of the order, or ordinance, levying the tax to pay interest and provide a sinking fund, with a statement of the total bonded indebtedness of such county, city, or town, including the series of bonds proposed, and the assessed value of property for purposes of taxation, as shown by the last official assessment, of such county, city, or town, together with such other information as the Attorney General may require; whereupon it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to carefully examine the said bonds in connection with the facts and the Constitution and laws on the subject of the execution of such bonds, and if, as a result of such examination, the Attorney General shall find that such bonds were issued in conformity with the Constitution and laws, and that they are valid and binding obligations upon such county, city, or town by which they are executed, he shall so officially certify.

Sec. 5. That when said bonds have been examined by the Attorney General and his certificate attached thereto, they shall be registered by the Comptroller, in a book to be kept for that purpose, and the certificate of the Attorney General to the validity of such bonds shall be preserved of record, for use in the event of litigation.

Sec. 6. That such bonds, after receiving the certificate of the Attorney General, and having been registered in the Comptroller's office, as provided herein, shall thereafter be held, in every action, suit, or proceeding in which their validity is or may be brought into question, prima facie valid and binding obligations. And in every action brought to enforce collection of such bonds, the certificate of the Attorney General, or a duly certified copy thereof, shall be admitted and received in evidence of the validity of such bonds, together with the coupons thereto attached: Provided, the only defense which can be offered against the validity of said bonds shall be for forgery or fraud. But this section shall not be construed to give validity to any such bonds as may be issued in excess of the limit fixed by the Constitution, or contrary to its provisions, but all such bonds shall, to the extent of such excess, be held void.

Sec. 7. If any mayor, county judge, tax assessor, or any other officer or person, for the purpose of securing the certificate of the Attorney General, provided for in this act, shall knowingly make or be concerned in making or forwarding to the Attorney General, a false certificate as to the amount of the taxable value of the property in such county, city, or town, as shown by the last official assessment, or knowingly or falsely certify as to the amount of indebtedness of such county, city, or town, or the rate of tax levied to provide interest and sinking fund for such indebtedness, or other facts required by the Attorney General, he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction therefor shall be punished by confinement in the penitentiary not less than one nor more than five years.

Sec. 8. Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to the issuance of any bonds in cases where provisions for their issuance have been made, in whole or in part, before the passage of this act.

Sec. 9. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 10. Whereas the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature and the crowded condition of the calendar, and the importance of having a law regulating and restricting the issuance of bonds by counties, cities, and towns, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so ordered.

SAN PATRICIO COUNTY—RESTORING CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 65.—[H. B. No. 681.] An act to restore to and confer upon the county court of San Patricio county the civil and criminal jurisdiction formerly belonging to said county under the Constitution and general statutes of the State, and to conform the jurisdiction of the district court of said county to said change.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of San Patricio county shall hereafter have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil and criminal cases where the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court of said county where the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars and not exceed one thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. Said county court shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil and criminal cases over which justices courts have original jurisdiction, when the judgment of the court appealed from or the amount in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars; and said county court shall have power to hear and determine cases brought up from the justice court by certiorari under the provisions of the title of the Revised Civil Statutes relating thereto.

Sec. 3. The county judge of said county shall have authority, either in term time or vacation, to grant writs of mandamus, injunction, sequestration, garnishment, attachment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of the said court, and shall also have power to issue writs of habeas corpus in all cases in which the Constitution has not exclusively conferred the power on the district court or the judge thereof.

Sec. 4. Said county court shall have jurisdiction in the forfeiture and judgment on all bonds and recognizances taken in criminal cases of which criminal cases said court has jurisdiction.

Sec. 5. Said county court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors involving official misconduct and except cases in which the highest penalty or fine that may be imposed under the law may not exceed two hundred dollars; and said court shall also have appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases of which justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said county have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The district court of San Patricio county shall no longer have jurisdiction in cases in which the county court of said county by the provisions of this act, have exclusive original or appellate jurisdiction; and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the district court of San Patricio county, within thirty days from the passage of this act, to make a full and complete transcript of all orders on his docket, in cases now pending before the said district court of which cases, by the terms of this act, exclusive jurisdiction is given to the county court, and to deliver said transcript, together with the original papers and certified bill of costs, to the clerk of said county court, and said county clerk shall enter said case or cases on his docket for trial by said county court.

Sec. 7. The county court of said county shall hereafter hold its regular terms of civil or criminal business as provided in the Constitution and general laws of the State, and process heretofore issued from the district court of said county in cases to be transferred under this act to the county court shall be returnable to the first term of the county court, and all civil cases transferred shall be entered as appearance cases upon the docket of said county court.

Sec. 8. The county court of said county of San Patricio shall have, as now, the general jurisdiction of probate courts for the probate of wills, appointment of guardians of minors, idiots, and lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, and for the issuance of letters testamentary and of administration, settlement of accounts of administrators and guardians, and the settlement and distribution of decedents' estates, and the apprenticeship of minors, and all other necessary powers conferred by law on courts of probate.

Sec. 9. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, in so far as they relate to San Patricio county.

Sec. 10. The great necessity for this law creates an imperative public necessity and emergency requiring the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and the same is therefore suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved April 28. A. D. 1893.

RAILROADS—DUTIES OF AT CROSSINGS.

CHAP. 66.—[S. B. No. 146.] An act to amend chapter 10, title 84, article 4232, of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by an act approved March 21, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That chapter 10, title 84, article 4232, of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by an act approved March 21, 1883, be amended so as to read as follows:

Article 4232. A bell of at least thirty pounds weight and a steam whistle shall be placed on each locomotive engine, and the whistle shall be blown and the bell rung at the distance of at least eighty rods from the place where the railroad shall cross any public road or street, and that such bell shall be kept ringing until it shall have crossed such public road, or stopped; and each locomotive engine approaching a place where two lines of railway cross each other, shall, before reaching such railway crossing, be brought to a full stop; and any engineer having charge of such engine, and neglecting to comply with any of the provisions of this act, shall be fined in any sum not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars for such neglect, and the corporation operating such railway shall be liable for all damages which shall be sustained by any person by reason of any such neglect: Provided, however, that the full stop at such crossings may be discontinued when the railroads crossing each other shall put into full operation at such crossing an interlocking switch and signal apparatus, and shall keep a flagman in attendance at such crossings.

Approved May 1, A. D. 1893.

HUNTING AND FISHING—PROHIBITED ON ENCLOSED LANDS OF ANOTHER.

CHAP. 67.—[S. S. B. No. 66.] An act to amend sections 1 and 2 of an act entitled an act to prevent fishing and hunting on the enclosed lands of another, approved March 31, 1885.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That sections 1 and 2 of an act entitled an act to prevent fishing and hunting on the enclosed lands of another, approved March 31, 1885, be so amended as to read as follows:

Section 1. That any person who shall enter upon the enclosed lands of another, not exceeding in area two thousand acres, without the consent of the owner, proprietor, or agent in charge, and therein hunt with fire-arms or dogs, or therein catch any fish from any artificial pond, lake, or tank, shall be punished by fine not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars. No one shall be liable to the penalty herein provided, unless the owner or proprietor of such enclosure shall, at each entrance thereto, keep a board in a conspicuous place, with the word "posted" plainly marked thereon, which shall constitute posting within the meaning of this act, or shall give notice in some newspaper published in the county where such enclosure is located, and cause a copy of such paper containing such notice to be kept on file in the county clerk's office of the county where the enclosure is situated: Provided, if no newspaper is published in the county, then the notice may be published in a newspaper published nearest to such county: Provided further, that this section shall not be so construed as to prevent or restrict the right of any person to pass through such enclosure on any public or private road therein: And provided, that no prosecution shall take place or be instituted under the provisions of this act, except at the instance or upon the written request of the owner or owners of the land, or his or their agent.

Section 2. That it shall be unlawful for any professional hunter to enter upon the enclosed lands of another, without the consent of the owner, proprietor, or agent in charge, and therein hunt with firearms or dogs for, or kill any game for the purpose of sale or market, and any person so offending shall be punished by a fine not less than one hundred nor more than two hundred dollars. A professional hunter, under this section, is any person who kills any game for sale or market, or kills any game for the hide or hides thereof.

Sec. 2. The crowded condition of the calendar, and the near approach of the day of adjournment creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended.

Approved May 1, A. D. 1893.

COMMUNITY PROPERTY.

CHAP. 68.—[S. B. No. 138.] An act to amend articles 2165, 2166, 2167, and 2181, and to add articles 2181a, 2183a, and 2183b to chapter 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That articles 2165, 2166, 2167, and 2181 of chapter 28 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas shall hereafter read as follows, and that articles 2181a, 2183a, and 2183b, as hereinafter set out, shall be added to said chapter:

Article 2165. Where the husband or wife dies intestate, or becomes insane, having no child or children, and no separate property, the common property passes to the survivor, charged with the debts of the community, and no administration thereon or guardianship of the estate of the insane wife or husband shall be necessary.

Article 2166. Where the wife dies or becomes insane, leaving a surviving husband and child, or children, the husband shall have the exclusive management, control and disposition of the community property in the same manner as during her lifetime, or sanity, and it shall not be necessary that the insane wife shall join in conveyances of such property, or her privy examination and acknowledgment be taken to such conveyances, subject, however, to the provisions of this chapter.

Article 2167. The husband shall, within four years after the death of the wife, or her being declared insane, as provided by law, when there is a child, or children, file a written application in the county court of the proper county, stating:

1. The death of his wife, or that she has been declared insane by a court of competent jurisdiction, and the time and place of her death or of such declaration.

2. That she left a child or children, giving the names, sex, residence, and age of each child.

3. That there is a community estate between the deceased or insane wife and himself.

4. Such facts as show the jurisdiction of the court over the estate.

5. Asking for the appointment of appraisers, to appraise such estate.

Article 2181. The wife may retain the exclusive management, control, and disposition of the community property of herself and deceased or insane husband, in the same manner and subject to the same rights, rules, and regulations as provided in the case of the husband, and until she shall, in the event of the death of the husband, marry again.

Article 2181a. The use of the words "survivor" or "surviving" in the above and foregoing articles of this chapter, where no other designation is given, shall be held to apply as well to a sane person representing an insane person.

Article 2183a. Whenever such insane husband or wife shall have recovered sanity, then all action hereunder shall cease, and a report shall be made under oath of all transactions had and done under said proceedings, and said report shall be filed and recorded in the court where such proceedings were had, and with the other papers of the case.

Article 2183b. Persons now acting as guardians of the estate of persons of unsound mind, shall turn over the estates of their wards, where the wards shall be married persons, upon the qualification of the sane spouse, as provided in this chapter.

Approved May 1, A. D. 1893.

COURTS OF CIVIL APPEALS—REGULATING PRACTICE WHEN VERDICTS AND JUDGMENTS ARE HELD EXCESSIVE.

CHAP. 69.—[S. S. B. No. 25.] An act to regulate the practice in the Courts of Civil Appeals of the State of Texas, in relation to reversal of cases when verdicts and judgments are held excessive, and to require such court to indicate the amount of such excess, and to provide for filing remittiturs, and to define the effect thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas. That in all civil cases, now pending, or that may hereafter be appealed to any court of civil appeals of this State, and such court shall be of the opinion that the verdict and judgment of the trial court is excessive, and for that reason only said cause should be reversed, then it shall be the duty of such court of civil appeals to indicate to the party in whose favor such judgment was rendered, or his attorneys of record, the amount of the excess of such verdict and judgment, and said court shall, at the same time, indicate to such party, or his attorney, within what time he may file a remittitur of such excess, and if such remittitur shall be so filed, then the court shall reform and affirm such judgment in accordance therewith; if not filed as indicated, then to be reversed.

Sec. 2. Whenever any court of civil appeals shall indicate that a verdict is excessive, as hereinbefore provided, and no remittitur shall be filed, as herein provided, no evidence shall be allowed nor allusion made, in any subsequent trial, of the action of such court of civil appeals in reference to the amount of excess of such verdict.

Sec. 3. Whereas, there are now many cases pending in the courts of civil appeals to be affected by this act, and many will be appealed within the next few months, therefore an imperative public emergency and necessity exist that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and the same is hereby suspended, and this act take effect from and after its passage.

Approved May 1, A. D. 1893.

TAX COLLECTORS.

CHAP. 70.—[H. B. No. 405.] An act to amend articles 4742, 4743, 4743a, and 4744 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, and to repeal articles 4761, 4762, 4763, 4764, 4765, and 4766 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith, and to provide penalties for violations of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That articles 4742, 4743, 4743a, and 4744 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 4742. 1. At the end of each month the collector of taxes shall, on forms to be furnished by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, make an itemized report under oath to the Comptroller, showing each and every item of ad valorem, poll, and occupation taxes collected by him during said month, accompanied by a summarized statement showing full disposition of all State taxes collected.

2. He shall present such report, together with the tax receipt stubs, to the county clerk, who shall within two days, compare said report with said stubs, and if same agree in every particular as regards names, dates, and amounts, he (the clerk) shall certify to its correctness, for which examination and certificate he shall be paid by the commissioners court twenty-five cents for each certificate and twenty-five cents for each two hundred tax payers on said report.

3. The collector of taxes shall then immediately forward his reports so certified to the Comptroller, and shall pay over to the State Treasurer all moneys collected by him for the State during said month, excepting such amounts as he is allowed by law to pay in his county, reserving only his commissions on the total amount collected; and to enable him to do so he may, at his own risk, send the same to the State Treasurer at the least cost to the State, on which he shall be allowed credit by the Comptroller upon filing receipts showing actual amount of exchange paid: Provided, that the State Treasurer shall accept no payment other than money orders or direct cash payments, which may be made through express companies, banks, or any other source. The State Treasurer whenever he may receive a remittance from a collector of taxes shall promptly pay the money so remitted into the State Treasury, on the deposit warrant of the Comptroller, and the money when so deposited shall be a credit to the said collector of taxes.

4. The collector of taxes shall pay over to the State Treasurer all balances in his hands belonging to the State, and finally adjust and settle his account with the Comptroller on or before the first day of May of each year; and to enable him to do so, the commissioners court shall convene on or before the third Monday in April for the purpose of examining and approving his final settlement papers.

4a. The allowance of a delinquent and insolvent list to the collector, in accordance with article 4744, shall not absolve any taxpayer or property thereon from the payment of taxes, but it shall be the duty of the collector to use all necessary diligence to collect the amounts due thereon, after it is allowed by the commissioners court, and he shall issue special tax receipts therefor, to be furnished by the Comptroller, which blank receipts shall be numbered and charged to the collector, who shall account for same at his next annual settlement, in the same manner as occupation tax receipts; he shall also make itemized monthly reports of such collections, using special blanks for that purpose.

5. To enforce the prompt and speedy collection and remittance of taxes, and to provide for the proper accounting of same, the Comptroller shall prescribe and furnish the forms to be used by collectors of taxes, and the mode and manner of keeping and stating their accounts, and shall adopt such regulations as he may deem necessary in regard thereto. It shall be his imperative duty to enforce a strict observance of all the provisions of these articles.

6. Any collector of taxes failing to promptly comply with the requirements of these articles, or of article 4744, shall be fined in a sum not less than three hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and each failure to make the required monthly or annual report or remittance of the amounts shown therein to be due, shall constitute a separate offense.

7. That any collector of taxes in this State who shall issue an occupation tax receipt upon any blank paper, or blank of any kind whatever other than the blank occupation tax receipt furnished to him as required by law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and each receipt so unlawfully issued shall constitute a separate offense, and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

8. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller to notify the district attorney of the district, or the county attorney of the county in which the collector resides, and the sureties on the bond of the collector, of any such failure to comply with any of the provisions of this article.

Article 4743. 1. The collector of taxes shall at the end of each month make like reports to the commissioners court of all the collections made for the county, conforming as far as applicable and in like manner to the requirements as to the collection and report of taxes collected for the State. The county clerk shall likewise, within two days after the presentation of said report by the collector, examine said report and stubs, and certify to their correctness as regards names, dates, and amounts, for which examination and certificate he shall be paid by the collector of taxes fifty cents each month, which amount shall be allowed to the collector by the commissioners court.

2. The clerk shall file said report intended for the commissioners court, together with the tax receipts stubs, in his office for the next regular meeting of the commissioners court.

3. The collector of taxes shall immediately pay over to the county treasurer all taxes collected for the county during said month, after reserving his commissions for collecting the same, and take receipts therefor, and file with the county clerk.

4. At the next regular meeting of the commissioners court, the collector of taxes shall appear before said court and make a summarized statement, showing the disposition of all moneys, both of the State and county, collected by him during the previous three months. Said statement must show that all taxes due the State have been promptly remitted to the State treasury at the end of each month, and all taxes due the county have been paid over promptly to the county treasurer and shall file proper vouchers and receipts showing same.

5. The commissioners court shall examine such statement and vouchers, together with the itemized report and tax receipt stubs filed each month, and shall compare the same with the tax rolls and tax receipt stubs. If found correct in every particular, and if the collector of taxes has properly accounted for all taxes collected, as provided above, the commissioners court shall enter an order approving said report, and the order approving same shall be recorded in the minutes, as other proceedings of said court.

6. The collector of taxes shall finally adjust and settle his account with the commissioners court for the county taxes collected, at the same time and in the same manner as is provided in the foregoing article in his settlement with the State.

7. If any county clerk refuse to make the examinations and certificates, as required in the foregoing articles, he shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars for each failure to do so.

Article 4743a. 1. If any collector of taxes shall have failed at the end of each month, or within three days thereof, to promptly remit to the State treasurer the amount due by him to the State, or pay over to the county treasurer the amount due by him to the county, the commissioners' court, at the next regular meeting, shall ascertain the facts, and if the collector of taxes fails or refuses to pay or remit the same and file proper vouchers therefor, as provided in the foregoing article, the commissioners' court shall not approve his reports and accounts, but shall ascertain the amounts due by him, both to the State and county, and enter an order requiring him to pay the same to the proper treasurers, as is provided in article 4769a, sections 1 and 2, of the Revised Statutes, and notify such collector, as is provided for in article 4769a, section 3, under penalty for failure to do so, in section 4 of said article.

2. Whenever the collector of taxes shall fail or refuse to remit to the State Treasurer the amounts due the State, when requested, the Comptroller shall notify him under article 4769a, sections 3, 4, 5, and 7.

Article 4744. The collector of taxes shall make out on forms, to be furnished for that purpose by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, between April 1 and 15 of each year, lists of delinquent or insolvent taxpayers, the caption of which shall be the "list of delinquent or insolvent taxpayers." In this list he shall give the name of the person, firm, company, or corporation from whom the taxes are due, in separate columns, and he shall post one copy of these delinquent or insolvent lists at the court house door of the county, and one list at the court house door, or where court is usually held, in each justice precinct in his county; and the collector of taxes, upon the certificate of the commissioners court that the persons appearing on the insolvent or delinquent lists have no property out of which to make the taxes assessed against them, or that they have moved out of the county, and that no property can be found in the county belonging to such persons, out of which to make the taxes due, shall be entitled to a credit on final settlement of his accounts for the amounts due by the persons, firms, companies, or corporations certified to by the commissioners court, as above provided for.

Sec. 2. Articles 4761, 4762, 4763, 4764, 4765 and 4766 of the Revised Statutes, and all other laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The fact that the time for annual settlements of collectors is near at hand, and the law is inadequate regarding reports and remittances from collectors, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the same is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 1, A. D. 1893.

ROADS—NACOGDOCHES COUNTY.

CHAP. 71.—[H. B. No. 647.] An act to authorize the commissioners court of Nacogdoches county to lay out and condemn land for right of way, and to establish and maintain a first class road around Orton's Hill, in Nacogdoches county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioners court of Nacogdoches county shall have the power to lay out and condemn land for right of way, and establish and maintain a first class public road, leading from the corporate limits of the town of Nacogdoches, in said county, around a steep hill, known as Orton's Hill, in the direction of the town of San Augustine, in San Augustine county, and to intersect the main public road leading from said town of Nacogdoches to the town of San Augustine at a suitable point, after passing around said hill.

Sec. 2. That said commissioners court shall proceed to lay out said road, and condemn sufficient land for a right of way over same, and to establish and maintain said road in the manner prescribed under the general road law of this State.

Sec. 3. Whereas, the near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature, and the great number of bills now pending make it doubtful whether this bill will be reached, and that there is now no adequate law authorizing said court to lay out and condemn land for right of way to establish and maintain said road, therefore an imperative public necessity exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is suspended; and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 18th day of April, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

ROADS—CAMERON, HARRIS, FAYETTE, DALLAS, BRAZOS, CORYELL, BEXAR, ROCKWALL, AND ELLIS COUNTIES.

CHAP. 72.—[H. B. No. 682.] An act to authorize and create a more efficient system of public roads and bridges for Cameron, Harris, Fayette, Dallas, Brazos, Coryell, Bexar, Rockwall, and Ellis counties, for the issuance of bonds by said counties for the purpose of constructing permanent public roads, to authorize the investment of the permanent school fund of the State and of said counties in such bonds, to provide for and limit the expenditure of the moneys arising from the sale of such bonds, and to prescribe and define the powers and duties of the commissioners court in reference thereto.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county commissioners courts of Cameron, Harris, Fayette, Dallas, Rockwall, Brazos, Coryell, Bexar, and Ellis counties, State of Texas, may, as hereinafter provided, build or construct, or cause to be built or constructed, in said counties, lasting or permanent county roads and bridges of some permanent or durable material, to be selected and agreed upon by said commissioners courts, and may also construct drains or ditches to carry off the waters from such road or roads, and from lands adjacent thereto, whenever and wherever same can be done without conflicting with the rights of private property owners, and may take and condemn any land or lands necessary for the purpose of constructing roads or drains under its general powers of eminent domain.

Sec. 2. Whenever the commissioners courts of said counties shall deem it necessary or expedient to build or construct any public roads and bridges of the character herein provided for, they shall pass a resolution, which may be done at any regular or special meeting of said courts, setting forth that it is the sense of said commissioners court that public roads and bridges of a lasting or permanent nature should be constructed or built in said county, and that the county should issue its bonds to raise money for that purpose. Said resolution shall be submitted to a vote of the property owners of said counties at any regular or special election, which may be ordered by the commissioners court for that purpose; and if at such election, a majority of the votes cast shall be for said resolution, the same shall be adopted, but if a majority of votes cast at such election shall be against said resolution it shall be rejected. Such election shall be governed in all respects by the laws governing elections in this State, and the returns shall be made and canvassed in the same manner, and result declared by proclamation of the county judge, which proclamation shall be posted in at least three public places in said counties, and at the option of the commissioners court published in some newspaper in said counties.

Sec. 3. No person shall be permitted to vote at any election as provided for in section 2 of this article, unless he is a property owner and taxpayer in said counties of Harris, Fayette, Cameron, Dallas, Rockwall, Brazos, Coryell, Bexar, or Ellis, and unless he is otherwise a qualified voter of said county. Those desiring to vote for the resolution shall have written or printed on their tickets the words, "For the resolution to issue bonds to build permanent county roads and bridges," and those desiring to vote against the resolution shall have written or printed on their tickets the words, "Against the resolution to issue bonds to build permanent county roads and bridges." Such tickets shall be written or printed on plain white paper with black ink, and shall contain no distinguishing mark or device, except the words above set out, and if printed, shall be in type of uniform size and face.

Sec. 4. If, at the election herein provided for, a majority of the qualified voters at such election shall vote in favor of the resolution provided for in section 2 of the act, and after the commissioners court has canvassed the said vote and declared the result, and after the proclamation of the county judge declaring said result has been posted for at least thirty days, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners court, under the supervision and direction of the Comptroller of this State, to prepare and execute the bonds of the county for such sums as may be deemed advisable by said commissioners courts, said bonds to bear not exceeding five per cent interest, payable annually, and which shall be redeemable in not less than ten years and not more than forty years from the date thereof, the maturity to be expressed on the face of the bonds, and shall have the same registered or enrolled, as in the case of other county bonds, and the same shall not be sold or negotiated at less than their face or par value: Provided, that in no case shall said county issue bonds under this act for a greater sum or amount than a levy of fifteen cents on the hundred dollars property valuation of such county will yield sufficient revenue to pay the interest as it accrues, and will at the same time create a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal at maturity.

Sec. 5. When the bonds of the county are issued and sold under the provisions of this act, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners court of said county to levy an annual ad valorem tax on all property of the county, which tax, when collected, shall be used only for the purpose of paying the interest on the county road and bridge bonds, and create a sinking fund to pay the principal of same; and after the adoption of the resolution as herein provided for, it shall be unlawful for the county commissioners court to transfer any funds from the road and bridge fund to any other fund of said county, or to divert the funds arising from the sale of such bonds, or any funds that may be derived from the road and bridge tax of said county, to any other purpose than the construction and maintenance of county roads and bridges. Should the commissioners court of said counties divert any funds contrary to the provisions of this act, they and each member of said court so acting or voting shall be deemed guilty of malfeasance in office, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of two hundred dollars, and may be removed from office.

Sec. 6. Whenever there shall be or remain in the treasury of this State any moneys to the credit of the permanent school fund, uninvested, the State Board of Education is authorized and empowered to lend the same to said county, when it shall have complied with the foregoing provisions of this act, by purchasing at par value the permanent road and bridge bonds of said county, when satisfactory evidence is presented to said board that all the provisions of this act have been complied with. And the State Board of Education shall have the preference to purchase said permanent road and bridge bonds, when there is sufficient permanent school funds in the treasury, and they are satisfied that all requirements of law in reference to the issuing of said bonds have been complied with. Should there not be sufficient money in the treasury to the credit of the permanent school funds to purchase the whole issue of such county road and bridge bonds, then the State Board of Education may purchase said bonds to the extent of the funds on hand, or the county commissioners court may, at their option, place said issue of bonds elsewhere, as to them may seem best for the interest of the county; and in like manner, the county permanent school fund may be invested in such county bonds, and whenever said county shall have on hand permanent school funds uninvested, said county shall have the preference to invest said funds in the road and bridge bonds of said county.

Sec. 7. The moneys arising from the sale of the bonds herein provided for shall not be used for any other purpose than the construction of durable and permanent county roads and bridges, and the purchase of material therefor, and any county commissioners court, or any county commissioner, or any other person, who shall misapply or convert same or any part thereof to any other purpose than the one named, shall be deemed guilty of malfeasance in office, and on conviction shall be punished as hereinbefore provided for that offense.

Sec. 8. All roads and bridges built under the provisions of this act shall be laid out and constructed under the supervision of the county commissioners court, and a competent civil engineer, the county surveyor, or other competent person, to be employed by the county for that purpose.

Sec. 9. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 10. The great importance to the counties of Cameron, Harris, Fayette, Dallas, Rockwall, Coryell, Bexar, and Ellis of the passage of this act, and the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, and the crowded condition of the calendar, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and said rule is so suspended; and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 18th day of April, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

RAILROADS—PRESCRIBING HOW AND BY WHOM TICKETS MAY BE SOLD.

CHAP. 73.—[S. B. No. 243.] An act prescribing how and by whom tickets on railroads shall be sold, and providing for the redemption of tickets and parts of tickets unused; and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That it shall be the duty of all railroad companies doing business in this State, or the receiver of any such railroad company, through their duly authorized officers, to provide each agent who may be authorized to sell tickets or other evidences entitling the holder to travel upon any such railroad, with a certificate setting forth the authority of such agent to make such sale. Such certificate shall be duly attested by the corporate seal of such railroad company, or the signature of the receiver, if any there be, of such railroad company, or by the signature of the officer whose name is signed upon the tickets or coupons which such agent may be authorized to sell.

Sec. 2. That it shall not be lawful for any person not possessed of such authority to sell, barter, or transfer; for any consideration whatever, the whole or any part of any ticket or tickets, passes, or other evidences of the holder's right to travel on any railroad within this State.

Sec. 3. That any person or persons violating the provisions of the second section of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00); and every such sale shall constitute a separate offense: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any person holding a ticket upon which there is not a notice, plainly printed, that it is a penal offense for him or her to sell, barter, or transfer said ticket for a consideration.

Sec. 4. That it shall be the duty of every agent, who shall be authorized to sell tickets or parts of tickets, or other evidences of the holder's right to travel over any railroad within this State, upon demand, to exhibit to any person desiring to purchase a ticket, or to any officer of the law who may request it, the certificate of his authority to sell, and to keep said certificate posted in a conspicuous place in his office for the information of travelers.

Sec. 5. That it shall be the duty of all railroad companies in this State or the receiver or trustee of any such railroad company, to provide for the redemption, from the holder thereof, of the whole, or any parts or coupons, of any ticket or tickets which they or any of their duly authorized agents may have sold, if for any reason the holder has not used, and does not desire to use the same, upon the following terms: If neither the ticket nor any part thereof has been used by the holder, he shall be entitled to receive the full amount he paid therefor, and where the ticket has been used in part, the holder thereof shall be entitled to receive the remainder of the price paid for the whole ticket, after deducting therefrom the tariff rate between the points for which the portion of said ticket was actually used: Provided, such tickets or parts thereof shall be presented for redemption to the railroad company from which it has been purchased, or the receiver of such railroad company, or to any of the duly authorized ticket agents of such railroad company, or receiver thereof.

or in case of a through ticket, to any of the authorized agents of any connecting line, within a time not exceeding ten days after the right to use said ticket has expired by limitation of time as stipulated therein. Any person or persons who shall sell any unused ticket otherwise than by presentation of the same for redemption, as herein provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500): Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to any person holding a ticket upon which is not plainly printed that it is a penal offense for him or her to sell, barter, or transfer said ticket for a consideration; and any railroad company, or receiver, or trustee of such railroad company, over or on which said ticket may be used, which shall refuse or fail to redeem the whole or any part or coupon of any ticket or tickets, when presented, shall forfeit to the holder thereof a sum not less than $100, nor more than $500, recoverable in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. That it shall be the duty of the railway company to print conspicuously across the face of every ticket sold by its duly authorized agents in this State a notice to the holder thereof that it is a penal offense for him to sell, barter, or transfer said ticket for a consideration, and that this ticket or any unused part thereof is redeemable by the company or its receiver at any ticket office of the company, when presented for redemption.

Sec. 7. The near approach of the close of this session, and the fact that there is now no law prohibiting the evils sought to be prevented by this act, which exist to a great extent, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency which authorizes the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended; and this act shall take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 2, A. D. 1893.

BOARD OF PARDON ADVISORS.

CHAP. 74.—[S. B. No. 19.] An act to authorize the Governor to call to his aid two qualified voters to serve for a term not exceeding one hundred days per annum, to perform such duties as may be directed by him, consistent with the Constitution, pertaining to applications for pardon, and to be known as a board of pardon advisers, and to provide for the compensation of such persons.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Governor is hereby authorized to call to his aid, for a time not exceeding one hundred days per annum, two qualified voters of this State, who shall perform such duties as may be directed by him, consistent with the Constitution, as he may deem necessary in disposing of all applications for pardon. The said two voters shall be known as a board of pardon advisers, and shall be paid out of any money in the State treasury, not otherwise appropriated, five dollars each per day they may so serve, on voucher approved by the Governor.

Approved May 2, A. D. 1893.

BONDS—PROVIDING FOR THE RETIREMENT OF STATE BONDS PAST DUE, ETC.

CHAP. 75.—[S. S. B. No. 191.] An act to provide for the retirement of the past due bonds of the State of Texas; for the payment of interest thereon, and the issuance of other bonds at a lower rate of interest in lieu thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Governor of the State is hereby authorized to have prepared and issued as may be necessary, manuscript and lithographic bonds of the State to the total amount of four hundred and eighty-six thousand five hundred dollars, to-wit: Three hundred and thirty-four thousand five hundred dollars, due and payable forty years from date, bearing four per cent interest per annum from date, interest payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July, said bonds to be of such denomination as the Governor may direct, and redeemable at the option of the State at any time after five years from the date of their issuance; one hundred and fifty-two thousand dollars, bearing five per cent interest per annum from date, payable to the University of Texas—interest payable semi-annually, said bonds to be non-negotiable and non-transferable, and redeemable at the option of the State; all bonds issued under this act to be signed by the Governor and State Treasurer, and countersigned by the Comptroller of Public Accounts; also the title and date of the passage of this act shall be recited therein, and registered in the office of the State Treasurer.

Sec. 2. The purpose of the issuance of these bonds shall be for the retirement of the following series of past due State bonds:

1. Two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) of six per cents of the act of February 13, 1885, redeemable at the pleasure of the State, January 1, 1890.

2. Twenty-five thousand five hundred dollars ($25,500) of six per cents of the acts of May 2, 1871, due March 1, 1892.

3. Two hundred and sixty-one thousand dollars ($261,000) of seven per cents of the act of December 2, 1871, due April 1, 1892.

Sec. 3. The bonds authorized to be issued by this act shall be used in the following manner: The manuscript in lieu and in retirement of past due bonds held by special funds: Provided, should the Governor be unable to substitute said four and five per cent bonds in lieu of past due bonds held by special funds, or any part thereof, then the lithographic shall be sold by the Governor at not less than their face value, and the proceeds applied to the purchase of the past due bonds hereinbefore named.

Sec. 4. The Comptroller shall pay the accumulated interest due upon said past due bonds by issuing his warrants on the State Treasurer for all interest due up to March 1, 1893, and thereafter, until said bonds are retired.

Sec. 5. That the sum of twelve hundred dollars ($1200), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of engraving and printing the bonds provided for in this act, and the plates used in engraving and printing the said bonds shall be cancelled or destroyed under the direction of the Governor, and a certificate to that effect shall be filed in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Sec. 6. The fact that these bonds are past due, and that their retirement and the payment of the accumulated interest thereon is not provided for by law, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule be suspended requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 2, A. D. 1893.

COURTS CIVIL APPEALS—REGULATING THE CERTIFYING OF QUESTIONS AT ISSUE TO THE SUPREME COURT FOR ADJUDICATION.

CHAP. 76.—[S. S. B. No. 168.] An act to amend section 35, chapter 15, of the General Laws of Texas, of the acts of the special session, 1892, Twenty-second Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 35, chapter 15, of the General Laws of Texas, of the acts of the special session, 1892, Twenty-second Legislature, be so amended as to read as follows:

Section 35. Whenever in any case pending before the Court of Civil Appeals there should arise an issue of law which said court should deem it advisable to present to the Supreme Court for adjudication, it shall be the duty of the presiding judge of said court to certify the very question to be decided to the Supreme Court, and during the pendency of the decision by the Supreme Court the cause in which the issue is raised shall be retained for final adjudication in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court upon the issue submitted.

Sec. 2. The crowded condition of the dockets of the Courts of Civil Appeals, and the near approach of the close of the session, create a public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 2, A. D. 1893.

LANDS—MINERAL—SALE OF.

CHAP. 77.—[S. B. No. 186.] An act to amend section 10, chapter 100, of an act entitled "An act to promote the development of the mining resources of Texas," approved March 29, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 10, of chapter 100, of an act entitled "An act to promote the development of the mining resources of Texas," approved March 29, 1889, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 10. That any person shall have the right to purchase and obtain patent, by compliance with this act, on any public school, university, asylum, and public lands, containing valuable deposits of kaolin, baryta, salt, marble, fire-clay, iron ore, coal, oil, natural gas, gypsum, nitrates, mineral paints, asbestos, marls, natural cement, clay, onyx, mica, precious stones, and stone valuable for ornamental purposes, or other valuable building material, in legal subdivisions in quantity not exceeding one section: Provided, that where any such parties shall have heretofore expended, or shall hereafter expend, five thousand dollars in developing the aforesaid mineral resources of any of said lands, such parties shall have the right to buy one additional section and no more, and to include in the purchase any section, or part thereof, on which the work may have been done. The lands so purchased may be in different sections, and all embraced in one or more obligations, not to exceed the quantity stated. The purchaser shall pay not less than fifteen dollars per acre where the lands shall be situated ten miles or less of any railroad in operation, and not less than ten dollars per acre where the land is over ten miles from such railroad; one-tenth of the purchase money to be paid in cash to the State Treasurer, and the purchaser shall file the Treasurer's receipt with the Commissioner of the General Land Office, together with an obligation to pay the State of Texas the remainder in nine equal annual installments, with interest at six per cent per annum from date, subject to forfeiture as in other cases. And all said lands are reserved from sale or other disposition than under this act; and where application is made to buy any of the lands herein named, except under this act, the purchaser shall swear that there are none of the minerals named in this act on said lands, so far as he knows or has reason to believe, or does believe: Provided, further, that any party hereinbefore named who shall, prior to the passage of this act, have been the first to work on said lands for the development of said mineral resources, and who has not abandoned said work, and is qualified at passage of this act to buy, shall have a prior preference right of doing so for thirty days after this act goes into effect: Provided, further, this act shall not authorize the sale of lands containing valuable deposits of gold, silver, lead, cinnabar, copper, or other valuable metal.

Sec. 2. The fact that there is no adequate law for utilizing the lands named in this act, and the development thereof retarded, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and this act take effect from date of passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 2, A. D. 1893.

LANDS—TAX SALE OF—REDEMPTION OF.

CHAP. 78.—[S. B. No. 241.] An Act to extend the time within which lands that have been sold for taxes and bought in by the State, cities, and towns may be redeemed.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all lands which have been heretofore sold for taxes and bought in by the State or by cities and towns, and which have not been redeemed, may be redeemed by the owner thereof, or his agent or legal representative, if within twelve months from the date on which this act takes effect said owner or agent or legal representative, when he desires to redeem land from the State, shall pay to the State the original State and county taxes for which said lands were sold, and all costs, together with six per cent interest thereon and the taxes due each year since such sale, or from the day of the accrual of such subsequent taxes, as the case may be, under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by the Comptroller of the State; and when he desires to redeem lands sold to any city or town, said owner, agent, or representative shall pay to such city or town the original city or town tax for which said lands were sold, and all costs, together with six per cent interest thereon and the taxes due each year since said sale, or from the day of accrual of such taxes, as the case may be: Provided, that the proportion of the redemption money due the county shall be remitted to the treasurer of the proper county by the Comptroller.

Sec. 2. Whereas there are persons whose lands have been sold for taxes and who are anxious to redeem the same, and which creates an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires that all bills be read on three several days, said rule is therefore suspended, and an emergency exists that this act should take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 2, A. D. 1893.

LANDS—SALES BY FOREIGN EXECUTORS VALIDATED.

CHAP. 79.—[S. B. No. 231.] An act to validate sales of real estate within this State, made by foreign executors of wills probated in any of the States of the United States.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all sales of real estate within this State, which have been heretofore made by executors of wills, which, prior to such sales, had been probated according to the laws of another State, of the United States, having jurisdiction, and which wills possessed the requisites to pass title to real estate required by the statutes of this State, where such wills conferred upon the executors the power to sell the real estate so sold, independent of the probate court, and where such sales would have been valid and effectual to pass the title to such real estate had the wills been probated in this State, be and the same are hereby validated: Provided, however, that the validation of such sales shall not defeat the rights of creditors of the testators of such wills, nor affect the title of purchasers for value from the heirs or devisees of the testators of such wills, where such purchases were made prior to the enactment hereof.

Sec. 2. Whereas, there is now no law under which such sales as are herein mentioned can be validated; and whereas, there are now pending a great many bills before the Senate and House of Representatives, and the near approach of the end of the session creates an emergency and a great public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect from its passage; therefore be it enacted, that said constitutional rule be and is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 2, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—TWENTY-SIXTH.

CHAP. 80.—[H. B. No. 529.] An act to authorize and provide for holding of special terms of the district courts in the twenty-sixth judicial district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whenever, in the opinion of the judge of the twenty-sixth judicial district, there shall be a sufficient number of civil cases pending in the district court of any county in said district, in excess of what can be disposed of at the regular terms of said court, to justify the holding of a special term of said court to try pending civil cases, the judge of said district shall have power to order and hold, from time to time, special terms in said county for the trial of such pending civil cases alone. By pending civil cases is meant all civil cases the service in which was so perfected at the last regular term preceding a special term, that the same might have been lawfully tried at said regular term, as well as other civil cases brought before such special term begins, or while it may be in session, in which an agreement to try the same at such special term may be made by all the parties thereto.

Sec. 2. That, in order to call a special term of the district court in any county in said district, the judge of said district shall, either in term time or vacation, make and file with the clerk of the district court of such county, an order, to be entered in the minutes of said court, ordering a special term of said court, stating the time when the same shall commence, and during what time said term will be held, and the time during such term when the nonjury civil cases and jury civil cases will be respectively given precedence in the trial of causes at said special term.

Sec. 3. That the clerk of such court, on the receipt of such order, shall immediately enter the same at large upon the minutes of said court, and shall make and place in the hands of the sheriff of said county eight certified copies of said order as the same appears of record in the minutes of said court. Whereupon, the sheriff of said county shall give notice of such order by posting a copy of the same in six public places in said county, one of which shall be at the court house door of such county, for not less than twenty days prior to the time fixed in said order for the commencement of said special term, and shall cause one of said copies to be printed once a week for three weeks in some newspaper in said county prior to the commencement of said special term, if there be a newspaper printed in said county, as often as once a week for three weeks prior to the time fixed by said order for the commencement of said special term, and said sheriff shall endorse on the eighth copy his return, showing how he has complied with this act in giving notice of such order, and file the same with the clerk of said court by 9 o'clock a. m. on the day on which said special term is to begin, and said copy and the return thereon shall be entered at large upon the minutes of said court. The minutes of such order and the preliminary proceedings prior to the opening of such special term shall be evidence of the ordering of such special term, and of the notice given thereof.

Sec. 4. That so many of the jurors selected by the commissioners for the next regular term to be held after a special term is ordered as may be required for such special term, shall be summoned as jurors for such special term, and the clerk of the court, on receiving the order for a special term, shall open the jury list of jurors selected for such next regular term, taking them in the numerical order of the number of the weeks of the next regular term for which they were selected, until he shall have opened as many lists as there shall be weeks of the special term during which jurors will be required, as shown by the order of the judge; and the clerk and the sheriff shall further proceed to obtain the attendance of such jurors as is required by law to obtain the attendance of the jurors at regular terms after jury lists are opened. Each list shall be summoned for a different week from that for which any other list shall be summoned.

Sec. 5. During a special term, jury commissioners shall be appointed, and jurors shall be selected to take the place, in the next regular term, of such jurors selected for the next regular term as may have been required for the special term.

Sec. 6. That the fact that there is pending in the district court of Williamson county, in said district, a large number of civil cases which it has been impossible to try at the regular terms of said court, and also try the criminal cases which have been pending in said court, and for the trial of which civil cases a special term is required, and the fact that there is no adequate law authorizing calling special terms of district courts, creates an imperative public necessity which authorizes the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended; and the same facts create an emergency requiring that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 20th day of April, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—ELEVENTH—NINTH.

CHAP. 81.—[S. B. No. 157.] An act to amend section 9 and section 11 of an act entitled an act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys at the next general election, to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9, 1883, and the amendatory acts thereto, approved March 24, 1885, and March 31, 1885, and the further amendatory acts thereto, approved March 29, 1887; and also to amend an act entitled an act to prescribe the time of holding the terms of the district court in the eleventh judicial district, approved March 19, 1889, and to change the times of holding the district courts in the ninth judicial district, and to take Montgomery county from the eleventh and attach the same to the ninth judicial district, and to fix the time of holding courts in said districts and to provide for the return of all writs and process returnable to the district courts of said counties affected by this act, that have heretofore been issued by said courts, and that may hereafter be issued before this act takes effect, and made returnable to the terms of said courts as now fixed by law, and to make the same as valid and binding as if no change had been made, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section nine and section eleven of an act entitled "An act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and fix the time for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys at the next general election, to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884," approved April 9, 1883, and the amendatory acts thereto approved March 24, 1885, and March 31, 1885, and March 29, 1887, and an act entitled "An act to prescribe the time of holding the terms of the district court in the eleventh judicial district," approved March 9, 1889, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 9. The ninth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Montgomery, Liberty, Chambers, Hardin, San Jacinto, and Polk, and the district courts therein shall be held as follows:

In the county of Montgomery on the second Monday in January and July, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Liberty on the fifth Mondays after the second Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Chambers on the ninth Mondays after the second Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Hardin on the eleventh Mondays after the second Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of San Jacinto on the fourteenth Mondays after the second Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session five weeks.

In the county of Polk on the nineteenth Mondays after the second Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. That section eleven of the heretofore referred to act, entitled an act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, etc., approved April 9, 1883, and the act amendatory thereto, approved March 31, 1885, and the act entitled an act to prescribe the time of holding the terms of the district court in the eleventh judicial district, be amended as to read hereafter as follows:

Section 11. The eleventh judicial district shall be composed of the county of Harris, and the district courts shall be held therein as follows:

On the first Mondays in January, April, and October in each year, and shall continue in session eight weeks, or until the business of the court is disposed of.

Sec. 3. That all writs and process returnable to the district courts as heretofore fixed in the counties affected by this act, and all such writs and process that may hereafter be issued before this act shall take effect, and made returnable to the terms of said district courts as now fixed by law, shall be valid and binding, as if no change had been made.

Sec. 4. Provided, that this act shall not be in force and take effect until the first day of July, A. D. 1893.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, the crowded condition of the calendars, and the necessity that the several officers of the courts affected by this bill should have immediate information of the provisions of the same, creates an imperative public necessity demanding the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is so suspended; and by reason of the premises an emergency exists requiring this act to take effect from and after July 1, 1893, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 20th day of April, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

ROADS—COLLIN, GRAYSON, WILLIAMSON, LAMAR, AND BELL COUNTIES.

CHAP. 82.—[S. B. No. 351.] An act to create a more efficient road system for Collin, Grayson, Williamson, Lamar, and Bell counties, in the State of Texas, and making county commissioners of said counties ex officio road commissioners, and prescribing their duties as such, and providing for their compensation as road commissioners, and providing for the appointment of deputy road commissioners, and defining the powers and duties of the commissioners court of said counties, and to provide for the manner of training hedges along any public road, and fixing a penalty for the violation of this act, and to repeal all laws in conflict with this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That each member of the commissioners court of Collin, Grayson, Williamson, Lamar, and Bell counties shall be ex officio road commissioner of their respective districts, and under the direction of the commissioners court shall have charge of all the teams, tools, and machinery belonging to the county, and placed in their hands by said court; and it shall be their duty, under such rules and regulations as the commissioners court may prescribe, to superintend the laying out of new roads, the making or changing of roads, and the building of bridges. Each of said commissioners shall, before entering upon the duties of their office, execute a bond of one thousand dollars, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, payable to the county judge of said county for the use and benefit of the road and bridge fund, conditioned that they will perform all the duties required of them by law or by the commissioners court, and that they will account for all money or property belonging to the county that may come into their possession: Provided, that with the consent of the commissioners court any one of said commissioners shall be allowed to appoint any competent person as deputy road commissioner, who shall be required to execute the same bond that is required of commissioners in this section; and such deputy road commissioners shall be entitled to the same compensation that is allowed county commissioners for the same service: Provided, that county commissioners shall not be allowed any compensation as road commissioners when a deputy road commissioner has been appointed.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of said counties shall have full power and authority, and it shall be their duty, to adopt such system for working, laying out, draining, and repairing the public roads in said counties as they may deem best, and from time to time said court may change its plans or system of working. Said commissioners court shall have power to purchase such teams, tools, and machinery as may be necessary for the working of its roads. Said court shall have the power to construct, grade, or otherwise improve any road or bridge by contract. In such case said court, or the county judge, may advertise, in such manner as said court may determine, for bids to do such work, and the contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall enter into bond, payable to the county judge of said county, for the use of the road and bridge fund, with good, sufficient sureties, to be approved by said court, and in such sum as said court may determine, for the faithful compliance with the terms of said contract, but said court shall have the right to reject any and all bids. At the time of making any such contract the court shall direct the county treasurer to pass the amount to a particular fund for that purpose, and the treasurer shall keep a separate account of such fund, and the same shall not be used for any other purpose, and can only be paid out on the order of said court; and the said court shall have authority to employ any hands or teams to work on the roads, under such regulations and for such price as they may deem best.

Sec. 3. The commissioners court of said counties shall require all county convicts, not otherwise employed, to labor upon the public roads, under such regulations as it may prescribe, and each convict so worked shall receive a credit of fifty cents on his fine first, and then on the cost, for each day he may labor. The commissioners court may, at a regular term, allow to the officers and witnesses such amount of their cost for the arrest and conviction of said convict as it may deem best: Provided, that it shall not allow to any officer an amount greater than the following: County judge, $3.00; county attorney, $5.00, including commissions; county clerks and justices of the peace, $1.70; sheriffs or constables, $2.00; which amount shall be paid to the officers out of the road and bridge fund, on the warrant of the county judge, when said fine and costs shall have been worked out as provided in this section: Provided, that this shall not be construed as to relieve any convict from the payment of all costs for which he would be liable under the general laws of this State. The commissioners court may grant a reasonable commutation of time for which a convict is committed, as a reward for faithful services and good behavior: Provided, that such commutation shall in no case exceed one-tenth of the whole time. The commissioners court may provide the necessary houses, prisons, clothing, bedding, food, medicine, medical attention, and guards, for the safe and humane keeping of convicts.

Sec. 4. Each county commissioner shall have control of all road overseers in his district, and shall deliver to each of them all teams, tools, and machinery necessary in working the roads in the district of said overseer, so far as he has been supplied therewith by the commissioners court, taking receipt of said road overseer therefor, specifying each item and giving its value, which receipt shall be a full answer of the liability of the commissioner, and shall fix the liability of the overseer; and any commissioner or overseer who shall have been entrusted with any team, tools, or machinery belonging to said county, shall be liable for any damages that may occur to the same while in his possession. It shall be the duty of the road overseer, when he has finished work on his road, to return to said commissioner all teams, tools, and machinery received from him, and to take up the receipt given therefor.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the county commissioner, when acting as road commissioner, to inform himself of the condition of the public roads in his district, and shall determine what character of work shall be done upon said roads, and shall direct the manner of grading, draining, or otherwise improving the same, which directions shall be observed and obeyed by all road overseers of his district.

Sec. 6. The commissioners may require each road overseer in his district to call out the hands in such numbers as may be sufficient to perform the work, but no road hand shall be required to work exceeding five days in any one year, unless the term of service as prescribed by the general laws shall be extended beyond that time: And provided, that all road hands in a particular district shall, as far as practicable, be worked a uniform time. Each road overseer shall have full control of all road hands within his road district, and he shall see that each hand, when called out, shall perform a good day's work; and if any hand, when so called out, shall fail or refuse to perform a good day's work, or to work in the manner the overseer may direct, he shall be liable to the same penalty as if he had failed to appear in obedience to the summons. The commissioners court may allow to any overseer who shall be engaged in the discharge of the duties of his office for more than five days during any one year, a compensation, not to exceed one dollar and one-half per day, for the time so served.

Sec. 7. Any citizen of Collin, Grayson, Lamar, Williamson, and Bell counties, liable for road duty, who shall, on or before the first day of January of any year, pay to the county treasurer the sum of $3, shall be exempt from road duty for such year, beginning on the first day of January. The treasurer shall receive and receipt for all money so paid him, and place the same to the credit of the road and bridge fund, and he shall keep a separate account for each road district from which it is received. The treasurer shall, on the third day of January, or as soon thereafter as practicable, furnish to each county commissioner a list of all persons in their respective districts that have paid said sum as provided in this section.

Sec. 8. Whenever it shall be necessary to occupy any land for the purpose of opening, widening, straightening, or draining any road or part thereof, if the owner of such land and the county commissioners court can not agree upon the damage to be paid, the county may proceed to condemn the same in the same manner that a railroad company can condemn land for right of way, and the same proceedings may be had, and the same rights shall exist to each party as would exist if the proceedings were by a railroad company, except that the county shall in no case be required to give bond.

Sec. 9. Every owner of a farm or other lands, upon which a hedge of any description grows on or near the public road, shall be required to keep the same trimmed so that the height of the same shall not exceed eight feet above the level of the ground. Any such owner who shall fail or neglect to so trim such hedge, shall be notified in writing by the road overseer of that district to trim such hedge as herein required; and in such case [if] such owner shall, after receiving such notice, fail or refuse to so trim such hedge within a reasonable time, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not to exceed $20 per week from and after the time that he received such notice; such fine to be paid into the county treasury and to be placed to the credit of the road and bridge fund of said county. If any owner of any farm shall fail or refuse, after being notified as herein required, to trim his hedge as required by this act, then the road overseer shall cause the same to be trimmed in accordance with the provisions of this act, to be paid out of the road and bridge fund of the county.

Sec. 10. Each county commissioner, when acting as road commissioner, and performing the duties imposed upon him by law, or by the commissioners court, shall be entitled to two dollars per day for the services actually performed: Provided, that he shall not receive more than forty-five dollars ($45.00) per quarter, when the road and bridge tax has not been levied as provided by law, under the amendment of 1889, as adopted in 1890, to the Constitution of the State of Texas. And when said tax shall have been levied he may receive an amount not to exceed ninety ($90) per quarter, which amount shall be paid out of the road and bridge fund, when the account shall have been approved by the commissioners court, and the court shall not approve said account unless the commissioner presenting it shall sign an oath that the account is just, due, and unpaid, and specifying the number of days work actually performed by him, and that it was necessary to be done; and no commissioner shall be entitled to pay as road commissioner while he is performing the duties of a county commissioner.

Sec. 11. This act shall be taken notice of by all courts in the same manner as the general law of the State, and it shall be construed to be cumulative of all general laws of the State on the subject of roads and bridges when not in conflict therewith; but in a case of conflict this act shall control as to the counties of Collin, Grayson, Williamson, Lamar, and Bell; and an act passed at the regular session of the Twenty-second Legislature, approved April 4, 1891, providing a special road law for Collin County, is hereby repealed.

Sec. 12. The fact that there is now no sufficient general road law in force in this State creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 20th day of April, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. PRIVATE CORPORATIONS.

CHAP. 83.—[S. B. No. 292.] An act to amend article 566, chapter 2, title 20, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by Twenty-second Legislature, chapter 101, page 161.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 566 of chapter 2, title 20, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by the Twentieth Legislature, approved April 30, A. D. 1888, and amended by the Twenty-second Legislature, chapter 101, pages 161 and 162, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 566. The purposes for which private corporations may be formed are:

1. The support of public worship.
2. The support of any benevolent, charitable, educational, or missionary undertaking.
3. The support of any literary and scientific undertaking; the maintenance of a library, or the promotion of painting, music, and other fine arts.
4. The encouragement of agriculture and horticulture by associations for the maintenance of public fairs and exhibitions of stock and farm products.
5. The maintenance of a public or private cemetery or crematory.
6. The construction and maintenance of any species of roads, and bridges in connection therewith.
7. The construction and maintenance of a bridge, which may be used for any or all modes of travel and transportation.
8. The construction and maintenance of a telegraph and telephone line.
9. The establishment and maintenance of a ferry.
10. The establishment and maintenance of a line of stages.
11. The building and navigation of steamboats and vessels, and the carriage of persons and property thereon.
12. The supply of water to the public.
13. The manufacture and supply of gas, and the supply of light, heat, and electric motor power, or either of them, to the public by any means.
14. The transaction of any manufacturing or mining business, and the purchase and sale of such goods, wares, and merchandise used for such business.
15. The transaction of a printing or publishing business; and in connection therewith, the sale of goods, wares, and merchandise of a stationery and blank book manufacturing business.
16. The establishment and maintenance of a hotel.
17. The erection or repair of any building or improvement, and the accumulation and loaning of money for said purposes; and for the purchase, sale, and subdivision of real property in towns, cities, and villages, and their suburbs, not extending more than two miles beyond their corporate limits, and for the accumulation and loaning of money for that purpose.
18. The transportation of goods, wares, and merchandise, or of any valuable thing.
19. The promotion of immigration.
20. The construction and maintenance of sewers.
21. For the constructing, acquiring, and maintaining and operating street railways, and suburban or belt lines of railway within and near cities and towns, which may also construct, own, and operate union depots. But no street railway company shall ever be exempt from the payment of assessments that may be legally levied or charged against it for street improvement.
22. The erection and maintenance of market houses and market places.
23. The construction and maintenance of canals for the purpose of irrigation, navigation, or manufacturing.
24. The purchase and sale of goods, wares, and merchandise, and agricultural and farm products. The number of persons incorporating for such purposes shall in no instance be less than ten, nor shall any person hold or own more than $500 of such stock, and any person holding and owning more than $500 of such stock shall be liable for all debts of such corporation: Provided, that the provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to any company incorporated for the purpose of constructing, maintaining, and carrying on grain elevators.

25. For the purpose of buying and selling goods, wares, and merchandise of any description by wholesale; but the limitation upon stock and stockholders in corporations created under subdivision 24 of this article shall not apply to corporations created under this subdivision.

26. The construction of harbors and canals on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico.

27. The growing, selling, and purchasing of seeds, plants, trees, etc., for agricultural, horticultural, and ornamental purposes, and to purchase and lease all lands necessary for that purpose.

28. The construction and maintenance of mills, gins, cotton compresses, grain elevators, wharves, and public warehouses for the storage of products and commodities, and the purchase, sale, and storage of produce and commodities by grain, elevator and public warehouse companies, and the loan of money by such elevator or public warehouse companies.

29. The accumulation and loan of money.

30. The construction and maintenance of stock yards and pens.

31. The construction and maintenance of establishments for slaughtering, refrigerating, canning, curing, and packing meat, and loaning or advancing money by such establishments on any class of live stock.

32. The construction and maintenance of establishments for the preserving and canning of fruits, vegetables, and fish.

33. The establishment and maintenance of clearing houses.

34. To construct and maintain water power.

35. For the purpose of constructing railroads and bridges for railroad companies.

36. To support and maintain bicycle clubs and other innocent sports.

37. To act as trustee, or assignee or receiver, when designated by any person, corporation, or court so to do, and to do a general fiduciary and depository business. To act as surety and guarantor of the fidelity of employees. To act as executor and testamentary guardian when designated as such by decedents: Provided, that each corporation organized under this section shall publish in some newspaper of general circulation in the county where such company is organized, on the first day of February of each year, a statement of its condition on the previous 31st day of December, showing, under oath, its assets and liabilities, and that a copy of this statement be filed with the Commissioner of Insurance, Statistics, and History, and a fee of twenty-five dollars is paid to that officer for filing the same, and that an examination of its affairs be made at any time by the Commissioner of Insurance, Statistics, and History, such examination to be at the expense of the company.

38. For establishing transportation companies with power to buy, construct, lease, own, operate, maintain, and convey all kinds of steamships, vessels, and other water crafts, and may navigate the same between all ports of the globe, and upon rivers; and construct, buy, lease, own, maintain, operate, and convey warehouses, docks, and wharves; and to buy, lease, receive, own, hold, and enjoy real and personal property necessary in the transaction of its business. To receive, purchase, hold, use, and convey such rights, privileges, franchises and property, and to exercise beyond the jurisdiction of this State such powers as may be granted to or conferred upon it by any foreign government, State, or municipality; to have officers and agents and to maintain offices at all points at which the company may do business; to act as principal or agent in buying or selling merchandise in all foreign countries; to carry passengers, freight, express, and mail.

39. The establishment of land companies to buy, own, sell, and convey real estate in any State or foreign country; but such companies shall only own such real estate in this State as may be necessary for its office.

40. Any person, or association of persons, for the purpose of making, compiling, and owning an abstract of titles to lands and liens of all character on any property, or any other abstract of records of this State, or any county thereof, required by law to be recorded.

41. The improvement of rivers and other waterways in this State, and to render the same navigable for steam vessels and other water crafts, with the authority to charge and collect tolls for the navigation of such rivers and waterways.

42. The protection, preservation, and propagation of fish and game.

43. For the organization and maintenance of volunteer fire companies.

44. For the protection of women and children, and for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

45. For the erection and maintenance of sanitariums.

46. For the organization of fire, marine, life, and live stock insurance companies.

47. To construct steam and electric plows for breaking, cultivating, and draining of lands.

Sec. 2. The large number of bills now pending before the Legislature, and the advanced state of the session, and the large number of enterprises in Texas, now doing business in Texas, but desiring to incorporate under the laws of Texas, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring all bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 20th day of April, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. BONDS—COURT HOUSE—JAIL—BRIDGE.

CHAP. 84.—[H. B. No. 458.] An act to authorize the county commissioners courts of the several counties of this State to issue court house and jail and bridge bonds, or either, and to repeal all other laws authorizing the issuance of county court house and jail and county bridge bonds.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county commissioners court of any county in this State is hereby authorized and empowered to issue the bonds of said county for the following purposes:

1. For the erection of a county court house and jail, or either.
2. For purchasing or constructing bridges for public purposes, within the county or across a stream that constitutes a boundary line of the county.

Sec. 2. All bonds issued under this law shall run not exceeding forty years, and shall be redeemable at the pleasure of the county at any time after five years after the issuance of the bonds, or after any period not exceeding ten years, which may be fixed by the commissioners court.

Sec. 3. Said bonds shall draw interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable on the 10th day of April; or interest may, in the discretion of the commissioners court, be made payable semi-annually, on the 10th day of April and the 10th day of October, respectively. interest shall be evidenced by attached coupons.

Sec. 4. The issue of bonds under this act shall be based upon the taxable values of the county according to the last approved assessment, and shall be limited as follows: Court house and jail bonds shall be limited to an amount not exceeding two per cent of said taxable values; bridge bonds shall be limited to an amount not exceeding one per cent of said taxable values. In determining the amount of the bonds of the respective kinds to be issued, previous indebtedness for said several purposes shall be considered. The total indebtedness of any county shall not be increased by any issue of bonds to a sum exceeding five per cent of its said taxable values.

Sec. 5. The commissioners court shall levy annual ad valorem taxes sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and create a sinking fund for their redemption; which said taxes shall not exceed, for court house and jail bonds, one-fourth of one per cent; for bridge bonds, fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars.

Sec. 6. The bonds shall be signed by the county judge and countersigned by the county clerk and registered by the county treasurer, before delivery. The county treasurer shall keep an account of the amount of principal and interest paid on each, and no bond shall be sold at less than its par value and accrued interest, exclusive of commissions.

Sec. 7. When bonds have heretofore been legally issued for any of the purposes above named, new bonds in conformity with this law may be issued in lieu thereof.

Sec. 8. All other laws authorizing counties to issue bonds for the purpose enumerated in the caption of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. The fact that there is no law which provides definitely for what purposes counties may issue bonds, and the near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is so suspended; and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 3, A. D. 1893.

MINORS—PROTECTION OF.

CHAP. 85.—[H. B. No. 356.] An act to prevent and punish persons enticing or decoying minors away from the custody of their parents or guardians, and to give certain benevolent institutions and orphans homes the rights of guardians over minors surrendered to such institutions and homes for support and education.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person in this State who shall knowingly entice or decoy any minor in the State away from the custody of his parent or guardian, or person standing in the stead of such parent or guardian, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by fine not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred dollars. In all cases where charitable and benevolent institutions have established homes for dependent orphans of their deceased members, and the person legally entitled to the guardianship of such orphans surrenders them to such homes for support, maintenance, and education, such institutions, under their agencies, rules, and regulations, shall have and exercise over such orphans all the rights of natural guardians, as standing in the place of their parents.

Sec. 2. The fact that the general welfare of minors, in this connection, demands immediate protection, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional requiring bills to be read on three several days in both houses, be and the same is hereby suspended.

Approved May 3, A. D. 1893.

FISH—REGULATING AND RESTRICTING THE CATCHING OF FISH IN CHEROKEE, BURNET, HARDIN, LIBERTY, TYLER, HARRISON, NACOGDOCHES, TOM GREEN, BEXAR, NAVARRO, TRAVIS, AUSTIN, JEFFERSON, SAN AUGUSTINE, JASPER, NEWTON, DENTON, AND MARION COUNTIES.

CHAP. 86.—[H. B. No. 577.] An act to prevent the catching or taking of fish, except with the ordinary hook, line, and pole, or trot-line, and to prevent the use of traps, nets, seines, china berries, India berries, or other poisonous substances, or dynamite, giant powder, nitro-glycerine, or other explosive compounds, in any waters in the counties of Cherokee, Burnet, Hardin, Liberty, Tyler, Harrison, Nacogdoches, Tom Green, Bexar, Navarro, Travis, Austin, Jefferson, San Augustine, Jasper, Newton, Denton, and Marion, State of Texas, for the purpose of catching or taking of fish therefrom, and to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter no person or persons shall throw, drag, or haul any fish net, seine, or other contrivance, for the purpose of catching fish (except the ordinary hook, line, and pole, or trot-line) in any stream, lake, or pool of water within the counties of Cherokee, Burnet, Hardin, Liberty, Tyler, Harrison, Nacogdoches, Tom Green, Bexar, Navarro, Travis, Austin, Jefferson, San Augustine, Jasper, Newton, Denton, and Marion, State of Texas, above tide water, at any time in the year; and any one violating the provisions of this section, shall, upon conviction, be fined in a sum of not less twenty-five nor more than fifty dollars, with all cost.

Sec. 2. No person or persons shall be permitted to set, place, or use any fixed net, trap, or other contrivance, for catching or trapping fish in any waters in the counties of Cherokee, Burnet, Hardin, Liberty, Tyler, Harrison, Nacogdoches, Tom Green, Bexar, Navarro, Travis, Austin, Jefferson, San Augustine, Jasper, Newton, Denton, and Marion; and any one violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five nor more than seventy-five dollars, together with all cost in the case; and each day that any net, trap, or other contrivance for trapping fish, as contemplated by this section, shall remain set or placed, shall constitute a separate offense under this section: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed as to prevent or prohibit the fish commissioner of this State from taking any fish at any time for breeding and scientific purposes, and for stocking waters.

Sec. 3. Whoever shall catch or take, or attempt to catch or take, any fish in these counties by the use of line [lime], china berries, India berries, or other poisonous substances, placed in the waters of the counties of Cherokee, Burnet, Hardin, Liberty, Tyler, Harrison, Nacogdoches, Tom Green, Bexar, Navarro, Travis, Austin, Jefferson, San Augustine, Jasper, Newton, Denton, and Marion, State of Texas, or by the exploding of dynamite, giant powder, nitro-glycerine, or other compounds of an explosive nature, in the form of a cartridge or other forms, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than one hundred and fifty dollars, and all cost.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of all persons, firms or corporations, who have created or who may hereafter erect any mill dam, water weir, or other obstructions or weirs on any stream within the waters of the counties of Cherokee, Burnet, Hardin, Liberty, Tyler, Harrison, Nacogdoches, Tom Green, Bexar, Navarro, Travis, Austin, Jefferson, San Augustine, Jasper, Newton, Denton, and Marion, after the passage of this act, to construct and keep in repair fish ways or fish ladders at such mill dam, water weirs, or obstructions, so that at all seasons of the year fish may ascend above such dam, weirs, or obstructions. Any firm, corporation, or person owning such mill dam or obstruction, who shall fail or refuse to construct or keep in repair such fish ways or fish ladders, after the passage of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred nor less than fifty dollars for each and every such neglect or refusal. Any court, officer, or tribunal having jurisdiction of the offenses set forth in sections one, two, three, and four, or any district or county attorney, may subpoena persons and compel their attendance as witnesses to testify as to the violations of any of the provisions of this act; and any person so summoned and examined shall not be liable to prosecution for any of the violations of this act about which he may testify, and a conviction for said offenses may be had upon the unsupported evidence of any accomplice or participant; and all fines inflicted for the violation of sections one, two, three, and four of this act, shall go to the road and bridge fund of the counties of Cherokee, Burnet, Hardin, Liberty, Tyler, Harrison, Nacogdoches, Tom Green, Bexar, Navarro, Travis, Austin, Jefferson, San Augustine, Jasper, Newton, Denton, and Marion: Provided, however, that the provisions of this act shall not be so construed as to prevent the use of minnow seines for the catching of minnows for bait. Said minnow seines shall not be of a depth greater than three feet, nor of a greater length than fifteen feet. The provisions of this act shall not apply to any lake, pond, or pool entirely within the lands of any person, company, or association of persons, so as to prevent the owner or proprietor from taking fish therefrom in any manner except as prohibited in section 3.

Sec. 5. Whereas, the time of the year having arrived for the spawning of fish, and near approach of the end of the session, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended; and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 3, A. D. 1893.

DALLAS COUNTY COURT—JURISDICTION DEFINED.

CHAP. 87.—[H. B. No. 705.] An act to define the jurisdiction of the county court of Dallas county, and to expressly confer jurisdiction thereon in specified criminal cases.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Dallas county shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors of which exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to the justice's court, as the same is now or may hereafter be prescribed by law, and when the fine to be imposed shall exceed $200; and it shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in all civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value $200, and not exceed $500, exclusive of interest; and concurrent jurisdiction with the district court when the matter in controversy shall exceed $500 and not exceed $1000, exclusive of interest; but it shall not have jurisdiction of suits for the recovery of land. It shall have appellate jurisdiction in cases, civil and criminal, of which justices' courts have original jurisdiction, but of such civil cases only when the judgment of the court appealed from shall exceed $20, exclusive of cost, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. In all appeals from justices' courts there shall be a trial de novo in the county court, and appeals may be prosecuted from the final judgments rendered in such cases by the county court, as well as all cases, civil and criminal, of which the county court has exclusive or concurrent or original jurisdiction of civil appeals in civil cases to the Court of Civil Appeals, and in such criminal cases to the Court of Criminal Appeals, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The county court shall have the general jurisdiction of a probate court: it shall probate wills; appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards; grant letters testamentary and of administration; settle accounts of executors; transact all business appertaining to deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution of estates of deceased persons; and to apprentice minors as provided by law; and the county court, or judge thereof, shall have power to issue writs of injunction, mandamus, and all writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said court, and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the county court or any other court or tribunal inferior to said court.

Sec. 2. At the present session of the Legislature a bill has been passed, creating a criminal district court for the county of Dallas. Section 16, article 5, of the Constitution, provides that the county court shall not have criminal jurisdiction in any county where there is a criminal district court, unless expressly conferred by law. It is the desire of the Legislature that the jurisdiction of the county court of Dallas county, as it now exists, or as it existed before the passage of said law, should not be changed. By reason of the facts recited, and by reason of the circumstance that the Legislature will soon adjourn, an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act should take effect at the same time the bill heretofore referred to, creating a criminal district court for Dallas county, shall take effect; said rule is therefore suspended; and this act shall take effect at the time said law becomes operative, and it is so enacted.

CITY OF CISCO AND EASTLAND COUNTY—RELIEF FOR.

CHAP. 88.—[H. B. No. 708.] An act for the immediate relief of citizens of the city of Cisco and Eastland county, who are sufferers from a tornado on the night of April 28, 1893, and to appropriate ten thousand dollars therefor.

Section 1. Whereas, on the night of April 28, 1893, a tornado swept over portions of Eastland county, causing great destruction of life and property, especially in the city of Cisco, which was almost entirely destroyed; and

Whereas, many citizens of said city and vicinity are destitute of food and clothing and their homes destroyed, entailing great suffering, which demands immediate relief; therefore

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the immediate relief of the said citizens of Cisco and Eastland county who are sufferers from said tornado. Said money to be expended under the direction and supervision of the commissioners court of Eastland county; said money to be paid out on warrants of the Comptroller, which warrants shall be issued on certificates of the said commissioners court of Eastland county within sixty days from the passage of this act.

Sec. 2. The tornado which swept over the city of Cisco and portions of Eastland county on the night of April 28, 1893, is hereby declared to be a great public calamity; and an emergency and imperative public necessity exist, requiring that the constitutional rule which requires that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 4, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—ELEVENTH—HARRIS COUNTY.

CHAP. 89.—[H. B. No. 579.] An act to prescribe the time of holding the terms of the district court in the eleventh judicial district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county of Harris shall compose the eleventh judicial district, and the terms of the district court shall be begun and holden in said county of Harris on the first Mondays in February, April, June, October, and December of each and every year, and may continue in session until the business of the court is disposed of.

Sec. 2. That all processes and writs heretofore issued, or that may be issued up to the time this act takes effect, by or from the district court of said county, and made returnable to the terms of said court as now fixed by law, shall be returnable to the next ensuing term of said courts as prescribed by this act, and all such writs and processes are hereby legalized and validated as if the same had been made returnable to the term of said courts as fixed by this act.

Sec. 3. The crowded condition of the docket of the district court of Harris county making it impossible to transact all the business of said court as the terms are now fixed, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 4, A. D. 1893.

DALLAS CRIMINAL DISTRICT COURT.

CHAP. 90.—[S. B. No. 259.] An act to create a criminal district court for the county of Dallas, and to prescribe the jurisdiction thereof; to fix the times for holding the terms thereof; to provide for the appointment and election of the judge thereof, and to provide for the sheriff, clerk and attorney thereof; to limit and conform thereto the jurisdiction of the district courts of Dallas county; and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That there is hereby created and established at the city of Dallas a criminal district court, which shall have and exercise all the criminal jurisdiction now vested in and exercised by the district courts of Dallas county. All appeals from the judgments of said court shall be to the Court of Criminal Appeals, under the same regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law for appeals in criminal cases from district courts.

Sec. 2. From and after the time when this act shall take effect the district courts of Dallas county shall cease to have and exercise any criminal jurisdiction: Provided, however, that if there shall be any criminal case upon trial in either of the district courts of Dallas county when this act shall go into effect, such district court shall retain jurisdiction of such cases until such trial shall be concluded, and until appeal therein shall be perfected, if an appeal shall be taken therein: And provided further, that nothing in this act shall affect the jurisdiction of the district courts of Dallas county to pronounce sentence in any criminal cases heretofore tried in such courts, or which shall be on trial when this act goes into effect.

Sec. 3. The judge of said criminal district court shall be elected by the qualified voters of Dallas county for a term of four years, and shall hold his office until his successor shall have been elected and qualified. He shall possess the same qualifications as are required of a judge of the district court, and shall receive the same salary as is now or may hereafter be paid to the district judges, to be paid in like manner. He shall have and exercise all the powers and duties now or hereafter to be vested in and exercised by district judges in criminal cases. The judge of said court may exchange with any district judge, as provided by law in cases of district judges, and in case of disqualification or absence of the judge, a special judge may be selected, elected, or appointed, as provided by law in cases of district judges: Provided, that the Governor, by and with the consent of the Senate, shall appoint a judge of said court, who shall hold the office until the next general election after the passage of this act, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified.

Sec. 4. Said court shall have a seal of like design as the seal now provided by law for district courts, except that the words "Criminal District Court of Dallas County" shall be engraved around the margin thereof, which seal shall be used for all the purposes for which the seals of the district courts are required to be used; and certified copies of the orders, proceedings, judgments, and other official acts of said court, under the hand of the clerk, and attested by the seal of said court, shall be admissible in evidence in all the courts of this State in like manner as similar certified copies from courts of record are now or may hereafter be admissible.

Sec. 5. The sheriff, the county attorney, and the clerk of the district court of Dallas county, as heretofore provided for by law, shall be the sheriff, county attorney, and clerk, respectively, of said criminal district court, under the same rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by law for the government of sheriffs, county attorneys, and clerks in the district courts of the State; and said sheriff, county attorney, and clerk shall respectively receive such fees as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by law for such officers in the district courts of the State, to be paid in the same manner.

Sec. 6. Said court shall hold four terms each year for the trial of causes and the disposition of business coming before it, one term beginning the first Monday of January, one term beginning the first Monday of April, one term beginning the first Monday of July, and one term beginning the first Monday of October. A grand jury shall be empanelled in said court for each term thereof, and jury commissioners shall be appointed for drawing jurors for said court, as is now or may hereafter be required by law in district courts, and under like rules and regulations.

Sec. 7. The trials and proceedings in said court shall be conducted according to the laws governing the pleadings, practice, and proceedings in criminal cases in the district courts.

Sec. 8. Immediately upon this act taking effect, the criminal cases now pending in the district courts of Dallas county, together with all records and papers relating thereto, shall be transferred to said criminal district court, except as otherwise provided in the foregoing section 2.

Sec. 9. All process heretofore issued or served in criminal cases pending in said county of Dallas, returnable to the fourteenth judicial district court of the State of Texas, and all process in criminal cases pending in said Dallas county, heretofore issued or served, returnable to the forty-fourth judicial district court of the State of Texas, shall be considered as returnable at the time as hereinafter prescribed, and all such process is hereby legalized and validated as if the same had been made returnable to said criminal district court of Dallas county, and at the time herein prescribed. And all bail bonds and recognizances in criminal cases pending when this act shall take effect, binding any person or persons to appear at the fourteenth judicial district court, or the forty-fourth judicial district court, shall have the effect to require such person or persons to appear at the first term of the criminal district court of Dallas county to be held after the passage of this act, and there to remain from day to day, and from term to term, until finally discharged, under the same penalties as may be provided in such bail bonds or recognizances.

Sec. 10. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 11. The great accumulation of cases upon the dockets of the district courts of Dallas county being such as to require immediate relief by the creation of a criminal district court for said county, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency that requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this bill be placed upon its third reading and passage without being so read; and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is accordingly so enacted.

Approved May 4, A. D. 1893.

FELLOW SERVANTS.

CHAP. 91.—[S. B. No. 158.] An act to define who are fellow servants, and who are not fellow servants, and to prohibit contracts between employer and employes, based upon contingency of the injury or death of the employes, limiting the liability of the employer for damages.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all persons engaged in the service of any railway corporation, foreign or domestic, doing business in this State, or in the service of a receiver, manager, or of any person controlling or operating such corporation, who are entrusted by such corporation, receiver, or person in control thereof, with the authority of superintendence, control, or command of other persons in the employment of such corporation, or receiver, manager, or person in control of such corporation, or with the authority to direct any other employe in the performance of the duty of such employe, are vice principals of such corporation, receiver, manager, or person controlling the same, and are not fellow servants of such employe.

Sec. 2. That all persons who are engaged in the common service of such railway corporation, receiver, manager, or person in control thereof, and who, while so employed, are in the same grade of employment and are working together at the same time and place, and to a common purpose, neither of such persons being entrusted by such corporation, receiver, manager, or person in control thereof, with any superintendence or control over their fellow employes, or with the authority to direct any other employe in the performance of any duty of such employe, are fellow servants with each other: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to make employes of such corporation, receiver, manager, or person in control thereof, fellow servants with other employes engaged in any other department or service of such corporation, receiver, manager, or person in control thereof. Employes who do not come within the provisions of this section shall not be considered fellow servants.

Sec. 3. No contract made between the employer and employe, based upon the contingency of death or injury of the employe, limiting the liability of the employer under this act, or fixing damages to be recovered, shall be valid and binding.

Sec. 4. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, and particularly the act passed by the Twenty-second Legislature on the subject of fellow servants, being chapter 24 of the acts of the Twenty-second Legislature.

Sec. 5. The fact that there are now no adequate laws for the protection of a large portion of our citizens, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires bills to be read on three several days in each house, and the rule is hereby suspended; and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 4, A. D. 1893.

APPROPRIATION FOR PER DIEM PAY OF MEMBERS, OFFICERS, AND EMPLOYES.

CHAP. 92.—[H. B. No. 700.] An act making an appropriation for the per diem pay of members, officers, and employes of the Twenty-third Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of twenty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of the money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the payment of the per diem pay of members, officers, and employes of the Twenty-third Legislature.

Sec. 2. The certificate of the Secretary of the Senate, approved by the President thereof, or of the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, approved by the Speaker thereof, shall be sufficient evidence to the Comptroller, upon which he shall audit the claims and issue his warrants upon the Treasurer for the respective amounts.

Sec. 3. And whereas the Twenty-third Legislature is now in session, and public policy requires their payment, therefore an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Approved May 6, A. D. 1893.

APPROPRIATION TO DEFRAY CONTINGENT EXPENSES.

CHAP. 93.—[H. B. No. 701.] An act making an appropriation to defray the contingent expenses of the Twenty-third Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the contingent expenses of the Twenty-third Legislature; that, except in cases of accounts for printing done and stationery furnished, the certificate of the chairman of the committee on contingent expenses that an account has been examined and approved by said committee, and countersigned by the President of the Senate or the Speaker of the House, as the case may be, shall be sufficient authority to authorize and require the Comptroller of Public Accounts to draw his warrant on the State Treasurer for the payment of any claim against such fund. The accounts for printing and stationery shall take the course prescribed by the Revised Statutes.

Sec. 2. The fact that it is important that the contingent expenses of the Legislature be promptly paid creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from its passage. It is so enacted.

Approved May 6, A. D. 1893.

CONVICT FARMS—PURCHASE OF, AUTHORIZED.

CHAP. 94.—[S. B. No. 22.] An act to authorize the penitentiary board to purchase agricultural lands for the purpose of utilizing convict labor on State farms, and to provide funds for that purpose.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the penitentiary board be and they are hereby authorized to purchase and equip, with the consent of the Governor, agricultural lands or improved farms, to be by them selected with a view to productiveness of soil and accessibility to railroads, for the purpose of establishing thereon State farms, and employing thereon convict labor on State account.

Sec. 2. That upon making the purchases provided for in this act, the funds necessary therefor shall be loaned by the State board of education, when available, out of the permanent school fund, to the penitentiary board, on certificates of indebtedness issued by said penitentiary board officially, and countersigned by the Governor, and in a form to be prepared by the Attorney-General. Said loans shall bear interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable annually, for the available school fund, and the principal shall be payable back to the permanent school fund as follows: In twenty annual installments of $15,000 each, the first of which shall be due and payable in five years from the date of said loan, and the remaining payments annually thereafter until the last of the twenty payments has been made. The penitentiary board shall, from time to time, make suitable provision for the payment of said installments and interest, out of the revenues of the State penitentiaries and State farms. The penitentiary board shall not make purchases under the provisions of this act amounting to more than three hundred thousand dollars in the aggregate: Provided, that before any purchase shall be made or money paid under the provisions of this act, the title to such lands shall be submitted to the Attorney-General of this State, and he shall file with the State board of education his opinion in writing as to his opinion of such title; and said State board of education shall not loan any of the school fund for the purchase of such lands until the Attorney-General shall file with said board a written opinion that the party selling such lands can convey a good and perfect title to said lands: Provided further, that all lands purchased under the provisions of this act shall be regarded and held in trust for the permanent school fund of the State until the return of the loan made for their purchase.

PRIVATE CORPORATIONS—REGULATING INCREASE OF CAPITAL STOCK.

CHAP. 95.—[S. B. No. 206.] An act to amend article 576, title 20, chapter 3, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, and to validate certain increase of capital stock of private corporations heretofore issued.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 576, title 20, chapter 3, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 576. Any corporation may increase its capital stock to any amount, not exceeding at any one time double the amount of its authorized capital, by a vote of the stockholders, in conformity with the by-laws thereof, and if a majority of the stockholders shall vote for the increase of the stock, the same may be increased by the board of directors, trustees, or other business managers of such corporation, and upon such increase of stock being made, in accordance with the by-laws, the date and amount shall be certified to the Secretary of State by the directors or trustees, and from the time such certificate is filed, the increase of stock shall become a part of the capital thereof. Such certificate shall be filed and recorded in the same manner as the charter: Provided, that no stock shall be issued except for money paid, labor done, or property actually received.

Sec. 2. That in all cases where the amount of the capital stock of any corporation has heretofore been increased by more than one increase thereof to an amount in excess of double the amount of the original capital, and such increase has been made with the sanction of the Secretary of State, under his construction of the law, such increase shall be, and the same is hereby, validated and declared legal.

Sec. 3. The fact that the Secretary of State has construed the existing law in conformity with this bill, and the fact that a reasonable doubt exists as to the correctness of such construction, and the further fact that many corporations, under such ruling, have by successive increase more than doubled the amount of their original capital stock, creates an emergency, and a public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be and the same is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 26th day of April, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

NEW COUNTIES—PAYMENT OF PRO RATA INDEBTEDNESS OF PARENT COUNTY.

CHAP. 96.—[S. S. B. No. 143.] An act to provide for the payment by new counties of their proportionate share of the indebtedness of the older counties from which they were created.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any county which has heretofore been created, or may hereafter be created, by the Legislature of the State of Texas, out of any other county or counties, shall be held liable for and bound to pay its proportion of all the liabilities of the county or counties from which it was taken, existing at the date of its creation of such new county, according to the proportionate value of the property in the excised territory, and the value of the property remaining in the old county, and a suit to recover the same may be brought by the parent county either in the district court of such parent county or in the district court of the newly created county, and the court shall have power to make any order or render any judgment necessary to carry out and satisfy its decree therein: Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to any county the claims against which have already been placed before courts having jurisdiction thereof and tried or dismissed under laws that were at such time constitutional.

Sec. 2. Where any suit has been or shall be brought to enforce payment of the indebtedness created by the parent county or counties, or for the pro rata share of the excised territory, the assessment rolls of the parent county or counties for the year in which such new county was created shall be conclusive evidence of the property and value thereof remaining in the parent county and in the excised territory at the date of the creation of such new county: Provided, that when the new county was organized and made assessment rolls for the same year as that in which it was created, such rolls shall be taken as conclusive evidence of the property therein and the taxable values thereof at the date of the creation of such new county, and the assessment rolls of the parent county for the same year shall be conclusive evidence of the property and the value thereof remaining in the parent county at the date of the creation of such new county.

Sec. 3. All suits brought under this act are hereby declared to be of general public interest, and shall be given precedence upon the dockets of the courts of this State; and if the plaintiff shall recover, it shall be the duty of the commissioners court of the newly created county to levy a special tax on all property in the territory taken from the plaintiff county sufficient to pay off the judgment, and if the first levy be insufficient, to make said levy annually till said judgment is satisfied, and the judgment of the court shall order said commissioners court to make such levies.

Sec. 4. Whereas the Constitution of the State of Texas provides that when any part of a county is stricken off and attached to or created into another county, the part stricken off shall be holden for, and obliged to pay its proportion of all the liabilities, then existing, of the county from which it was taken, in such manner as may be prescribed by law; and whereas there are in this State counties which have been created out of older counties, which were in debt at the time of the creation of such new county; and whereas there exists no remedy for the enforcement of their said constitutional right; therefore there exists an imperative emergency for the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the said rule is hereby suspended, in both the Senate and House of Representatives, and this act shall become a law, and take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 26th day of April, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. Geo. W. Smith, Secretary of State.]

BRANDS, TRADE MARKS, ETC.

CHAP. 97.—[S. B. No. 238.] An act to provide for the registration of brands, trade marks, etc., of boxes, fountains, syphons, bottles, or other receptacles of carbonated goods, and providing penalties for violations of said act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all manufacturers or dealers in carbonated goods, mineral waters, soda water, wine, cider, or other beverage, or manufacturers of medicine or other compound requiring the use of kegs, casks, barrels, boxes, syphons, bottles, or any other vessels for containers, upon which the names, brands, marks, or trade marks, or other designation of ownership or proprietorship is stamped, engraved, etched, blown in, impressed, or otherwise produced upon such boxes, syphons, bottles, or any other vessels for containers, may file in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the principal place or office of business is situated, a fac simile or description of the name or names, marks or devices, so used by such manufacturer or dealer in such wares herein enumerated, and cause such description to be published in a public newspaper published in such county for three successive weeks; and the act of so filing and causing to be recorded by the county clerk, and publishing, shall operate as a trade mark, securing to the said manufacturer the full protection of the law as a trade mark, entitling the said manufacturer to the sole and exclusive use in Texas of said mark, name, or device; for which services the clerk shall be allowed the sum of one dollar, to be paid by the party having such brands, etc., recorded.

Sec. 2. It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person or persons, corporate or otherwise, other than the proprietor, or by his written consent, to fill for the purpose of traffic, or for sale, with any compound whatever, any box, syphon, bottle, or other container so marked, recorded in the office of the county clerk, and published as aforesaid, or to deface, erase, obliterate, cover up, or otherwise remove or cancel any such mark or device.

Sec. 3. To knowingly and wilfully have in possession otherwise than by contract with the proprietor of the goods herein enumerated, or with his duly accredited agents, any of the vessels herein enumerated, or to use, buy, sell, or dispose of any such vessel, with or without contents of any kind, except by authority of the proprietor, or to wantonly and wilfully break, damage, mar, injure, or destroy any such vessel, is declared hereby to be prima facie evidence of such unlawful use, and shall constitute a misdemeanor, punishable by fine upon conviction in a court of competent jurisdiction, an employe being equally liable with the principal so offending.

Sec. 4. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction before a justice of the peace shall be fined for such unlawful use of each and every box five dollars; for each and every syphon, five dollars; for each and every bottle, five dollars; and for every other receptacle, except a fountain, five dollars; and for each fountain, twenty-five dollars; the fines so designated to be the minimum in each case, the maximum not to exceed double the minimum.

Sec. 5. All moneys collected as fines or penalty, under the provisions of this act, shall be returned by the justice of the peace into the county treasury, to become a part of the public road fund.

Sec. 6. The great number of bills now on the calendar, and the near approach of the close of the session, rendering it improbable that the bills can be read on three several days, creates an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 26th day of April, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. DUVAL COUNTY—RESTORING CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JURISDICTION TO COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 99.—[S. B. No. 297.] An act to restore and confer upon the county court of Duval county the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore belonging to said court, under the Constitution and general laws of the State, and to conform the jurisdiction of the district court of said county to such change, and to repeal all laws in conflict with this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Duval county shall hereafter have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars, and shall not exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court of said county when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars and not exceed one thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. Said county court shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases over which justices' courts have original jurisdiction, when the judgment of the court appealed from or the amount in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, and said county court shall have power to hear and determine cases brought up from the justice's court by certiorari under the provisions of the title of the Revised Statutes relating thereto.

Sec. 3. The county judge in said county shall have authority, either in term time or vacation, to grant writs of mandamus, injunctions, sequestration, garnishment, attachment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said court, and shall also have power to issue writs of habeas corpus in all cases in which the Constitution has not exclusively conferred the power on the district court or judge thereof.

Sec. 4. Said county court shall have jurisdiction in the forfeiture and judgment of all bonds and recognizances taken in criminal cases of which criminal cases said court has original or appellate jurisdiction.

Sec. 5. Said county court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and except cases in which the highest penalty of fine that may be imposed under the law may not exceed two hundred dollars; and shall have original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors except those involving official misconduct, and concurrent jurisdiction with that of justices of the peace in criminal cases, and appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases of which justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said county have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The district court of said county of Duval shall no longer have jurisdiction of misdemeanors except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and shall no longer have jurisdiction of cases of which the county court of said county by the provisions of this act has original or appellate jurisdiction; and it shall be the duty of the district clerk of said county, within thirty days after this act shall take effect, to make full and complete transcripts of orders on the criminal and civil dockets then pending before the district court of said county, of which cases by the provisions of this act original and appellate jurisdiction is given to the said county court, and to deliver said transcripts, together with the original papers, and a certified bill of costs in each case, to the county clerk of said county, and said county clerk shall take charge of said transcripts and papers, file the same, and enter said cases on their respective dockets for trial by said court.

Sec. 7. The said county court shall also have the power to hear and determine all motions against sheriffs and other officers of the court for failure to pay over moneys collected under the process of said court, or other defalcations of duty in connection with such process, and shall have power to punish, by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and by imprisonment not exceeding three days, any person guilty of contempt of said court, and all other powers and jurisdiction conferred on county courts by the Constitution and general laws of this State.

Sec. 8. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. The near approach of the close of the session, and the importance of transferring without delay the jurisdiction to the county court, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the law requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—FIFTY-FIRST AND THIRTY-THIRD.

CHAP. 100.—[H. S. for H. B. No. 703.] An act to name the several counties composing the fifty-first and thirty-third judicial districts, and to fix the times for holding the district courts therein; and to attach the unorganized county of Schleicher to the county of Menard, until its organization; and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: The fifty-first judicial district of this State shall be composed of the following counties: Crockett, Sutton, Schleicher (when organized), Irion, Coke, Sterling, and Tom Green, and the terms of the district court shall be holden therein each year as follows:

In the county of Crockett on the first Mondays of September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Sutton on the third Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Schleicher, when organized, on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Irion on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Coke on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Sterling on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Tom Green on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in September and February, and may continue in session until the business of the court is disposed of.

Sec. 2. The thirty-third judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Blanco, Gillespie, Mason, Kimble, Menard, San Saba, and Llano, and the terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Blanco on the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Gillespie on the third Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Mason on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Kimble on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Menard on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of San Saba on the eleventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Llano on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 3. That the unorganized county of Schleicher shall be attached to the county of Menard for judicial and surveying purposes.

Sec. 4. The near approach of the close of the present session, and the large amount of business undisposed of, and the further fact that the unorganized county of Schleicher remains now unattached to any county for judicial and surveying purposes, creates an emergency and public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be and the same is suspended.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are repealed.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

INQUESTS.

CHAP. 101.—[H. B. No. 266.] An act to amend chapter 1, title 13, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, relating to inquests, by adding thereto articles 989a and 989b.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That chapter 1, title 13, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, relating to inquests, be amended by adding thereto articles 989a and 989b, which shall read as follows:

Article 989a. Whenever an inquest is held to ascertain the cause of a death, the justice of the peace is hereby authorized, if he deems it necessary, to call in the county physician, or if there be no county physician, or if it be impracticable to secure his services, then some regular practicing physician, to make an autopsy in order to determine whether the death was occasioned by violence; and if so, the nature and character of the violence used; and the county in which such inquest and autopsy is held shall pay to the physician making such autopsy a fee of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, the excess over ten dollars to be determined by the county commissioners court after ascertaining the amount and nature of the work performed in making such autopsy.

Article 989b. If upon such inquest it becomes necessary to determine whether the death has been produced by poison, it is hereby made the duty of the justice of the peace, upon request of the physician performing such autopsy, to call into his aid, if necessary, some medical expert or chemist qualified to make an analysis of the stomach and its contents, together with such other portions of the body as may be necessary to be analyzed and tested for the purpose of determining the presence of poison in such body; and the county commissioners court of the county shall pay to such medical expert or chemist as a reasonable fee for his services a sum of money not to exceed fifty dollars.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the end of this session of the Legislature, and the necessity of enacting some law to provide for the securing of the physician or medical expert or chemist, and the payment of same, in case of post mortem examinations, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is so suspended; and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

TAXATION—INSURANCE, TELEPHONE, SLEEPING AND DINING CAR, AND OTHER CORPORATIONS.

CHAP. 102.—[H. B. No. 295.] An act to fix the rate of taxation on insurance companies, telephone companies, sleeping and dining car companies, and other corporations; to prescribe the time and manner of collecting such taxes; to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That every life, fire, marine, accident, or other insurance company at the time of its filing its annual statement shall report to the Commissioner of Insurance the gross amount of premiums received in this State during the preceding year, and each life insurance company and life and accident insurance company shall pay an annual tax of one and one-fourth per cent on such gross premium receipts; and each fire, marine, health, live stock guarantee, or accident insurance company shall pay an annual tax of one-half of one per cent on such gross premium receipts; and the gross premium receipts are understood to be the premium receipts reported to the Commissioner of Insurance by the insurance companies on sworn statements. Upon receipt by him of statements showing the gross premium receipts by such companies, the Commissioner of Insurance shall certify to the State Treasurer the amount of taxes due by each company, which taxes shall be paid to the State Treasurer for the use of the State on or before the first day of March following, whose receipt shall be evidence of the payment of such taxes; and no insurance company shall receive a permit to do business in this State until such taxes are paid: Provided, that no occupation tax shall be levied on any insurance companies by any county, city, or town, but this act shall not be construed to prohibit the levy of State, county, and municipal taxes upon the real and personal property of such companies.

Sec. 2. There shall hereafter be collected from each telephone company an annual tax of twenty-five cents on each telephone in use by such company in this State: Provided, that no occupation tax shall be levied on any telephone company by any county, city or town, but this act shall not be construed to prohibit the levy of State, county, or municipal taxes upon the real and personal properties of such companies. Every such company shall, on or before the 15th day of January of each year, through its superintendent, or other chief officer or agent, make to the Comptroller of Public Accounts a statement on oath showing the number of telephones in use in this State by such company, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall certify to the State Treasurer the amount of taxes due by such company, which taxes shall be paid to the State Treasurer, for the use of the State, the amount of the taxes herein levied, and no telephone company shall do business in this State until said reports are filed and taxes paid. Any telephone company violating any provision of this act shall forfeit to the State, as a penalty, the sum of $200, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction on the complaint of the Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Sec. 3. That every sleeping car company, palace car company, dining car company, doing business in this State, and every company, corporation, person, or association of persons leasing or renting cars to any railway company in this State, shall, annually, between the first day of January and the first day of March, report to the Comptroller of Public Accounts, under oath of the president, treasurer, or some other officer of said corporation, as follows, viz.:

1. The total authorized capital stock.
2. The number of shares issued.
3. The number of shares authorized.
4. The par value of each share.
5. The number of miles of railroad in this State and other States over which its cars are hauled.

6. The number of miles of railroad in this State over which its cars are hauled, the total amount invested by said company in real estate, manufacturing plants, materials, and properties other than sleeping, palace, and dining cars and their equipments; and shall pay to the State Treasurer, for the use of the State, a tax of twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars of the capital stock of such company employed in this State; and in computing the amount of such capital stock so employed, the same shall be such proportion of the capital stock of such company, after deducting therefrom the amount shown to be invested in real estate, manufacturing plants, materials and properties, other than such sleeping, palace, or dining cars and their equipments or properties used in connection with the operation of such cars, as the miles over which it runs cars in this State bear to the whole number of miles in this State and other States over which such cars are run; and in the event of the neglect or refusal of the officers of any such corporation to make the report herein required, the Comptroller of Public Accounts and Attorney-General, or either of them, are hereby authorized to make a valuation of the capital stock of such company, and ascertain any other necessary facts from any information in their hands or that they may be able to obtain, and shall calculate the taxes due by such company, and certify to the State Treasurer the amount of taxes due by such company; and each and every such company failing or refusing for more than thirty days after the first day of March to make the report required herein and pay the required taxes shall forfeit to the State twenty-five dollars for each day said report and payment are delayed, which forfeiture, together with the taxes due, shall be sued for by the Attorney-General in the name of the State. For the purpose of suits provided for in this section, venue and jurisdiction are hereby expressly conferred upon the courts of Travis county, and service may be had upon any officer or agent of such company within this State, and such service shall in all respects be held legal and valid, and no occupation taxes shall be levied upon such companies by any county, city or town. Nothing in this section shall be construed to relinquish the claim of the State to taxes now due under provisions of previous acts.

Sec. 4. Whenever any person or association of persons, not being a corporation, nor having capital stock, shall in this State engage in the business mentioned in the third section of this act, then the capital and property, or the certificates, or other evidences of the rights or interests of the holders thereof, in the business, or capital and property employed therein, shall be deemed and treated as the capital stock of such person or association of persons for the purpose of taxation in like manner if such person or association of persons were a corporation; and such person or association of persons shall make to the Comptroller of Public Accounts, at the time and in the manner required in section 3 of this act, such report as the Comptroller of Public Accounts may require to carry out the provisions of this act relating to such person or association of persons; and such persons or association of persons shall be subject to all the penalties provided in section 3 of this act, for failure to make the required reports and pay the required taxes.

Sec. 5. That each and every private domestic corporation heretofore chartered or that may be hereafter chartered under the laws of this State, and each and every foreign corporation that has received or may hereafter receive a permit to do business under the laws of this State, in this State, shall pay to the Secretary of State, annually, on or before the first day of May, a franchise tax of ten dollars. Any such corporation which shall fail to pay the tax provided for in this section shall, because of such failure, forfeit their charter.

Sec. 6. The Secretary of State shall, on or before the first day of March of each year, notify all corporations subject to the tax provided in the preceding section, and in thirty days after the first day of May of each year shall publish a list of the charters forfeited for noncompliance with this act: Provided, that any corporation which shall within sixty days after such publication pay the tax and $5.00 additional thereto shall be relieved from forfeiture of its charter by reason of such failure: Provided further, that this act shall not be construed to repeal any law prescribing fees to be collected by the Secretary of State.

Sec. 7. Corporations organized for the purpose of religious worship, or for holding places of burial, not for private profit, or for school purposes, or for purely public charity, are exempted from the tax imposed by this act.

Sec. 8. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. The near approach of the end of the present session of the Legislature, and the great need of an efficient law on this subject, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and this bill be put on its third reading and final passage.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—TWENTY-SEVENTH.

CHAP. 103.—[S. B. No. 291.] An act to amend an act entitled "An act to fix the times of holding the district court in the twenty-seventh judicial district of the State of Texas," passed at the regular session of the Twenty-first Legislature, approved February 21, 1889, so as to extend and add one week to the terms of the district court of Mills county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section one of an act entitled "An act to fix the times of holding the district court in the twenty-seventh judicial district of the State of Texas," passed at the regular session of the Twenty-first Legislature, approved February 21, 1889, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 1. That the terms of the district court in the twenty-seventh judicial district of the State of Texas shall hereafter be begun and holden as follows, to-wit:

In the county of Mills, on the second Mondays in March and September of each year, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Burnet, on the first Mondays in April and October of each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Lampasas, on the first Mondays in May and November of each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Bell, on the first Mondays in July and January of each year, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

DETECTIVES—PROHIBITING EMPLOYMENT OF ARMED FORCES OF DETECTIVES, OR OTHER NONRESIDENT PERSONS.

CHAP. 104.—[S. B. No. 50.] An act to prevent the employment of any armed force of detectives, or other persons, who are not residents of this State, by any person, firm, or corporation in this State.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That no person, corporation, or firm shall be permitted to employ any armed force of detectives, or other persons not residents of this State, in the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, that any person, firm, or corporation employing such forces contrary to the provisions of this act shall be liable to pay to the State of Texas, as a penalty, not less than twenty-five nor more than one thousand dollars, to be recovered before any court of competent jurisdiction in this State: Provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to deprive any person, firm, or corporation of the right of self-defense, or in defense of the property of said person, firm, or corporation by such lawful means as may be necessary to such defense.

Sec. 3. The fact that no law now exists on the statutes of the State of Texas to prevent the employment and use of armed forces of men under the guise of detectives, whereby the lives and happiness of the people of this State may be placed in jeopardy, therefore an imperative public necessity exists requiring that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be and the same is hereby suspended.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

COUNTY FINANCES.

CHAP. 105.—[H. B. No. 237.] An act to amend article 935, title 24, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, providing for the keeping of the finance ledger, and adding thereto articles 935a, 935b, 935c, and 935d, providing that the clerks shall also make a quarterly statement of the receipts, expenditures and indebtedness of the county for each quarter, fixing the fees for the same, and providing a penalty for failing, neglecting, or refusing to perform such duties, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That title 24 and article 935 be amended, and by the addition of articles 935a, 935b, 935c, and 935d, so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 935. It is hereby made the duty of the clerk of the county court to open and keep in said book, which shall be known as a finance ledger, an account with each and every officer of the county, district, or State, who is now or may be hereafter authorized or required by law to receive or collect any money or other property for the use of or belonging to the county. The clerk shall also keep such other accounts as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this title; that all items shall be entered daily under their respective heads, and said finance ledger shall be at all times subject to the inspection of the public.

Article 935a. It shall be the duty of the said clerk to balance each account so kept, and make a tabular statement, under oath, at each regular term of the commissioners court for the three months next preceding the month when such court meets in regular session, to be presented to said court during the second day of its term, specifying therein the names of the creditors of said county, and the items of indebtedness, with their respective dates of accrual, and also the names of persons to whom moneys have been paid, with the amounts paid each; the names of persons from whom moneys have been received, with the date of receipt, and for what account received, during the quarter for which such statement is prepared; said statement shall also show the amount to the credit or debit of each fund separately.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of said clerk immediately after the first regular term of the commissioners court in each year to publish for one time in some weekly newspaper published in his county (or if there be no paper published therein, then by posting four copies of such exhibit, one in each commissioner's precinct, one of which shall be at the court house door, the other three at public places in such precincts), an exhibit showing the aggregate amount received and the aggregate amount paid out of each fund for the four preceding quarters, and the balance to the credit or debit of each fund; also the amount of indebtedness of said county, with their respective dates of accrual, and to whom and for what due; also the amount to the debit or credit of each officer or other person with whom an account is kept. The cost for publishing the same shall be paid by order of the commissioners court out of the general fund of the county.

Article 935b. The clerk shall receive annually as compensation for the labor performed in keeping the finance ledger as provided for in article 935, and making the quarterly statement as provided for in article 935a, the sum of five dollars for each one thousand dollars tax assessed as due the county, to be paid quarterly on order of the commissioners court, out of the general fund of the county: Provided, the same be not less than one hundred nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars per annum.

Article 935c. If the clerk of the county court of any county in this State shall willfully fail, neglect, or refuse to keep, or cause to be kept, the finance ledger provided for in article 935, or shall willfully fail, neglect, or refuse to make, or cause to be made, the quarterly statement as provided for in article 935a, the clerk so failing, neglecting, or refusing shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars: Provided, that such failure, neglect, or refusal for each quarter shall constitute a separate offense.

Article 935d. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this title are hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. Whereas, the finance ledger provided in this act is not kept at all in many counties of this State, and in others is not properly kept, thereby causing great loss to the many counties in this State, and the near approach of the close of this session, together with the crowded condition of the calendar, creates an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the same is hereby suspended.

GREGG COUNTY—DIMINISHING CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 106.—[H. B. No. 707.] An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court of Gregg county, Texas, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Gregg county shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of a probate court; shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards; grant letters testamentary and of administration; settle accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians; transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the partition, settlement, and distribution of estates of deceased persons; and to apprentice minors, as provided by law; and to issue all writs necessary for the enforcement of its own jurisdiction; to punish contempt under such provisions as are or may be provided by general laws governing county courts throughout the State; but the said county court of Gregg county shall have no other jurisdiction, civil or criminal, whatever.

Sec. 2. That the district court of Gregg county shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil and criminal matters and causes over which, by the laws of this State, the county court of said county would have jurisdiction, except as provided in section 1 of this act. All causes other than probate matters and such as are provided by section 1 of this act, be and the same are hereby transferred to the district court of Gregg county, and all writs and processes relating to any civil or criminal matters not included in the subject matter of jurisdiction prescribed in section 1 of this act, issued by or out of said county court of Gregg county, be and the same are hereby made returnable to the next term of the district court of said county after this act takes effect.

Sec. 3. That the county clerk of Gregg county be and he is hereby required, within thirty days after this act takes effect, to make a full and complete transcript of all entries upon his civil and criminal docket heretofore made in cases which, by section 2 of this act, are required to be transferred to the district court of said county, and deliver the same to the district clerk of said county, together with all the papers to such causes pertaining, and a certified bill of costs in each case; and all such causes shall be immediately docketed by said district clerk, and such civil causes so transferred shall stand on the docket of said court as appearance cases for the next succeeding term; and all criminal cases shall be docketed and disposed of in the same manner as if the same had been originally triable in said district court, and all processes now issued and returnable to said county court shall be returnable to said district court.

Sec. 4. That this act shall not be construed to in any manner affect judgments heretofore rendered by said county court of Gregg county pertaining to matters and causes which by section 2 of this act are transferred to the district court of said county, but the county clerk of said county shall issue all executions and orders of sale as the judgments in such causes require, and such executions and orders of sale and proceedings thereunder shall be as valid and binding to all intents and purposes as though the change had not been made as by section 2 therein contemplated.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, and the large amount of business before it, rendering it improbable that this bill can be read on three several days, and the great saving of expense to the said county of Gregg by the passage of this bill, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

INSPECTION OF HIDES AND ANIMALS.

(Amending Chapter 43, Twenty-third Legislature.)

CHAP. 107.—[H. B. No. 613.] An act to amend section 1 of an act entitled "An act to amend section 46, chapter 25, of the Act of 1885, entitled an act to amend chapter 79 of the Act of 1883, entitled an act to amend chapter 48 of the Acts of 1887, an act to amend section 46 of an act to encourage stock-raising and to protect stockraisers," approved April 22, 1879, and amended April 4, 1881, and April 12, 1880, and March 27, 1887, and March 29, 1889, and amended March 23, 1891, April 15, 1891, and March 29, 1893.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 46 of the above entitled act shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 46. The counties of Anderson, Austin, Angelina, Bell, Bowie, Brazos, Bastrop, Bosque, Burleson, Brazoria, Burnet, Caldwell, Camp, Calhoun, Cass, Chambers, Cherokee, Collin, Colorado, Cooke, Dallas, Delta, Denton, Ellis, Erath, Fannin, Franklin, Falls, Freestone, Gonzales, Eastland, Stephens, Fayette, Fort Bend, Galveston, Goliad, Grayson, Gregg, Grimes, Hardin, Harrison, Hayes, Henderson, Hill, Hood, Hunt, Hopkins, Houston, Jackson, DeWitt, Jasper, Jefferson, Johnson, Kaufman, Lamar, Lee, Leon, Lampasas, McLennan, Madison, Marion, Montgomery, Montague, Morris, Nacogdoches, Newton, Orange, Panola, Parker, Polk, Palo Pinto, Rains, Red River, Robertson, Rockwall, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shackleford, Shelby, Smith, Tarrant, Titus, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Van Zandt, Walker, Washington, Wharton, Wise, Wood, Jack, Harris, Clay, Young, Wheeler, Lavaca, Nueces, Bee, Refugio, Limestone, San Patricio, Somervell, Matagorda, Waller, Karnes, Victoria, Milam, Live Oak, Williamson, Miller, Liberty, Wichita, Wilbarger, Archer, Hardeman, Childress, Hall, Collingsworth, Donley, Gray, Armstrong, Briscoe, Floyd, Randall, Kendall, Comal, Travis, Navarro, Brown, Coryell, Hamilton, Mills, Duval, Comanche, Wilbarger, Bailey, Deaf Smith, Dallam, Oldham, Hartley, Hockley, Cochran, Foard, and Wichita, are hereby exempt from the operation of this act, and the provisions of the same shall in nowise relate or apply to the aforesaid counties: Provided, that in those counties bordering on the line of the State, except those bordering on Red River, and the Rio Grande, where there is a depot or place for the shipment of cattle, no inspector of hides and animals shall be elected, but one for each of such counties shall be appointed by the Governor, who shall hold office for two years, and until his successor shall be appointed; and said inspector so appointed to take the constitutional oath of office and give the bond now required of inspectors of hides and animals, and such inspector shall receive the same fees now allowed to inspectors of hides and animals, and perform the same duties: Provided, that such cattle shall not be subject to inspection on board of any railroad, unless the same have been placed on board of such train for the purpose of evading the provisions of this act: And provided further, that the counties of Limestone, Fayette, Lavaca, Gonzales, Colorado, Bell, Calhoun, Hays, Caldwell, Blanco, Llano, Kendall, Comal, Houston, Austin, Johnson, Hill, Ellis, Jackson, Victoria, DeWitt, Freestone, Hamilton, Williamson, Milam, Live Oak, Harris, Bosque, Erath, Hood, Somervell, Liberty, Coryell, Lampasas, Mills, Wichita, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Childress, Hall, Collingsworth, Donley, Gray, Armstrong, Briscoe, Floyd, Randall, Kendall, Fannin, Camp, Delta, Franklin, Hopkins, Hunt, and Navarro, shall be exempt from all laws regulating inspection of hides; that all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The great necessity for this law creates an imperative public necessity and emergency requiring that the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and the same is therefore suspended; and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 11, A D. 1893.

COUNTY SEATS—REGULATING LOCATION.

CHAP. 108.—[H. B. No. 276.] An act to amend title 22, chapter 5, article 697, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by the act of the Twentieth Legislature, chapter 76, page 84, section 2, approved April 10, A. D. 1879, relative to the location of county seats.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That title 22, chapter 5, article 697, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by the act of the Twentieth Legislature, chapter 76, page 84, section 2, approved April 10, A. D. 1879, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 697. When it becomes desirable to remove the county seat of any county, it shall be the duty of the county judge of said county, or in case of his failure or inability to act, then any two of the county commissioners of said county, upon the written application of not less than one hundred freeholders, who are resident citizens of said county thereof, to make an order in writing upon the minutes of said commissioners court, for the holding of an election at the various voting precincts in said county, on a day therein named, which shall not be less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the date of said order, for the purpose of submitting the question to the electors of said county: Provided, that when a county seat has been established for a longer term than ten years, it shall require two hundred freeholders to make said application: Provided further, that when a county seat has been established for a longer term than forty years, it shall require a majority of the resident freeholders of said county to make said application; said majority of freeholders to be ascertained by the county judge, or in case of his failure or inability to act, then by any two of the county commissioners of said county, from the assessment rolls thereof.

Sec. 2. The frequent occurrence of unnecessary and vexatious elections on the location of county seats in this State, causing much bitterness and discontent among the inhabitants thereof, an imperative public necessity and an emergency exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and the same is so suspended; and this act shall take effect and be in full force and effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

COURTS OF CIVIL APPEALS—FIXING COMPENSATION OF CLERKS.

(Amending Chapter 12, Twenty-third Legislature.)

CHAP. 109.—[H. B. No. 711.] An act to amend section 50 of an act entitled "An act to organize the Courts of Civil Appeals, to define their jurisdiction and powers, and to prescribe the mode of procedure therein," as passed by the Twenty-third Legislature, and approved March 2, 1893.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act entitled "An act to amend section 50 of an act entitled an act to organize the Courts of Civil Appeals, to define their jurisdiction and powers, and to prescribe the mode of procedure therein," passed by the Twenty-third Legislature of the State of Texas, and approved March 2, 1893, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 50. The clerks of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall receive as compensation for their services the following fees:

Entering appearances of either party, in person or by attorney, to be charged but once.....	$0 50
Docketing each cause, to be charged but once.....	50

Administering an oath or affirmation and giving a certificate thereof with seal.....	25
Entering each continuance.....	20
Entering each final judgment or decree.....	1 00
Each writ issued.....	1 00
Making out and transmitting the mandate and judgment of the court to any inferior court.....	1 50
Making copies of any papers or records in their offices, including certificate and seal, for each 100 words.....	10
Recording the opinions of the judges, for each 100 words.....	15
Taxing the bill of costs in each case.....	50
Filing each brief, or other paper necessary to be filed.....	10
For certificate and seal, where same is necessary.....	50
Recording sheriff's return on execution.....	50
For issuing copies of each notice ordered by court.....	50

Sec. 2. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The clerks of said Courts of Civil Appeals shall be entitled to receive the fees herein-enumerated for all the work done since the organization of said Courts of Civil Appeals.

Sec. 4. Whereas, the clerks of said Courts of Civil Appeals are receiving no compensation for their services, and there is no law in force providing fees for said clerks, an emergency and imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended; and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT—THIRTY-SECOND.

CHAP. 110.—[H. S. for S. H. B. No. 287.]—An act to reorganize the thirty-second judicial district of Texas, to fix the time for holding the courts in the several counties composing the same, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the thirty-second judicial district shall be composed of the following counties, to-wit: Nolan, Mitchell, Howard, Martin, Midland, Borden, and Ector, and the unorganized counties of Andrews, Gaines, Dawson, Terry, Yoakum, Glasscock, Crane, Upton, Garza and Lynn.

Sec. 2. That the terms of the district courts in the several counties composing the thirty-second judicial district of Texas shall commence and be holden as follows: In the county of Midland on the first Mondays in February and September in each year, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Martin on the third Mondays in February and September in each year, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Howard on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September in each year, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Borden on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September in each year, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Nolan on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September in each year, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Ector on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September in each year, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of Mitchell on the fifteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September in each year, and may continue in session until all business is disposed of. In the county of Glasscock, when organized, on the sixth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September in each year, and may continue in session one week.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. That all process issued or served before this act goes into effect, returnable to the district courts in said judicial districts aforesaid, shall be considered returnable to said courts in accordance with the terms as prescribed by this act, and such process is hereby legalized; and all grand and petit juries drawn and selected under existing laws in any county in said judicial district shall be considered lawfully drawn and selected for the next term of the district courts of their respective counties, held after this act takes effect; and such process is hereby legalized and validated.

Sec. 5. That the unorganized counties of Gaines, Terry, Yoakum, and Andrews, are hereby attached to the county of Martin for judicial purposes. That the unorganized counties of Dawson and Glasscock are hereby attached to the county of Howard for judicial purposes. That the unorganized counties of Crane and Upton are hereby attached to the county of Midland for judicial purposes. That the unorganized county of Garza is hereby attached to the county of Borden for judicial purposes.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the session creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists, wherefore the constitutional rule requiring all bills to be read on three several days should be suspended, and that this bill be put on its third reading and final passage; and it is so enacted.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

ATASCOSA COUNTY—DIMINISHING CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JURISDICTION OF COUNTY COURT.

CHAP. 111.—[H. B. No. 663.] An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court of Atascosa county, Texas, to conform the jurisdiction of the district court of said county to the provisions of this act, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Atascosa county shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of a probate court; shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians, transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the partition, settlement, and distribution of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors as provided by law, and issue all writs necessary for the enforcement of its own jurisdiction, to punish contempt under such provisions as are or may be provided by general law governing county courts throughout the State; but the said county court of Atascosa county shall have no other civil or criminal jurisdiction whatever.

Sec. 2. That the district court of Atascosa county shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil and criminal matters and causes over which, by the laws of this State, the county court of said county would have jurisdiction, except as provided in section 1 of this act; and all causes other than probate matters, and such as are provided by section 1 of this act, be and the same are hereby transferred to the district court of Atascosa county, and all writs and processes relating to any civil or criminal matters not included in the subject matter of jurisdiction prescribed in section 1 of this act, issued by or out of said county court of Atascosa county, be and the same are hereby made returnable to the next term of the district court of said county after this act takes effect.

Sec. 3. That the county clerk of Atascosa county be and is hereby required, within thirty days after this act takes effect, to make a full and complete transcript of all entries upon his civil and criminal docket heretofore made in causes which, by section 2, are required to be transferred to the district court of said county, and deliver the same to the district court of said county, together with all the papers to such causes pertaining, and a certified bill of costs in each case, and all such causes shall be immediately docketed by said district clerk; and such civil causes so transferred shall stand on the docket of said court as appearance cases for the next succeeding term; and all criminal cases shall be docketed and disposed of in the same manner as if the same had originally been triable in said district court; and all process now issued and returnable to said county court shall be returnable to said district court.

Sec. 4. That this act shall not be construed to in any manner affect judgments heretofore rendered by said county court of Atascosa county pertaining to matters and causes which by section 2 of this act are transferred to the district court of said county, but the county clerk of said county shall issue all executions and orders of sale, and proceeding thereunder shall be as valid and binding to all intents and purposes as though the change had not been made, as by section 2 therein contemplated.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature, and the press of business before it, rendering it improbable that this bill can be read on three several days, and the great saving of expense to said county by the passage of this bill, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

SPANISH LAND RECORDS—TRANSLATION OF.

CHAP. 112.—[H. B. No. 691.] An act authorizing counties to have their archives and records of instruments of writing, now in the Spanish language, relating to land, translated into the English language, and making the said recorded translations archives of the county clerks' offices.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county commissioners of any county of this State are authorized and empowered to contract with the clerk of the county courts of their respective counties to cause to be translated into the English language, by themselves or their deputies, the archives and records of their offices, or any part thereof, now in the Spanish language, in their official custody, relating to titles to land, and copy said translations in a well bound book or books: Provided, that they shall not contract to pay more than (15) fifteen cents per hundred words for both the translation and recording.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That when said archives and records, now in Spanish, are translated and recorded as hereinbefore provided, that said records in English shall have the same force and effect as if the archives and instruments were originally made and recorded in the English language, and certified copies may be used as evidence and otherwise, for like purposes and with like effect as the originals are [and] certified copies of records of the originals can now be used; and said record books hereinbefore provided for shall be and are hereby made permanent archives and records of the county clerk's office of the counties when so translated and recorded.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the end of the session creates an emergency and necessity that the rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is suspended.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

RAILROAD PROFILES—TO BE FILED WITH THE RAILROAD COMMISSION.

CHAP. 113.—[S. B. No. 166.] An act to amend article 4248, chapter 10, of the Revised Civil Statutes, so as to require the filing of the profiles of all railroads that have not heretofore been filed in the General Land Office, in accordance with said article 4248, and the profiles of all new railroads hereafter constructed, in the office of the Railroad Commission, and the transfer of all profiles heretofore filed in said office to the office of the Railroad Commission, and providing a penalty for the enforcement of the provision of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That each railroad company transacting business in this State that has not heretofore filed a profile of its road in the General Land Office, in accordance with the provision of article 4248, shall file such profile in the office of the Railroad Commission; and each railroad company that shall construct any railroad in this State hereafter shall file in the office of said Commission a profile of the road constructed. The profiles herein required to be filed in the office of the Railroad Commission, of roads already completed, shall be filed within three months after the passage of this act, unless in the judgment of the Railroad Commission the facts warrant the giving of a longer period of time, in which event said Commission shall have power to extend the time at their discretion, not to exceed twelve months after the passage of this act.

Sec. 2. The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall, upon the taking effect of this act, file in the office of the Railroad Commission the original of all profiles of railroads heretofore filed in said office under article 4248 of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Sec. 3. Any railroad company failing or refusing to comply with the provisions of this act shall forfeit to the State of Texas any sum not less than $500 nor more than $1000, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction in any county through which such railway company may pass; and each day such railroad company fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of this act shall be considered a separate offense.

Sec. 4. The fact that there is now no law requiring railroads to file profiles of roads with the Railroad Commission, and the importance of such records to said Commission in the discharge of the duties required of it, creates an emergency requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

EASTLAND COUNTY—TAXATION—RELIEF FROM.

CHAP. 114.—[H. B. No. 709.] An act to release certain inhabitants of Eastland county from the payment of State taxes for the year 1893, in consequence of great public calamity.

Whereas, on the night of the 28th day of April, 1893, a terrific storm and cyclone swept over the county of Eastland and destroyed the city of Cisco, and caused great loss of life and much damage to property, both in the city and country surrounding; and whereas, the great loss of life and destruction of property in said county have produced a great public calamity by rendering homeless many of its inhabitants; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all citizens of Eastland county who were in any way injured, either in their persons or the person of any member of their families, or in their property, by the said storm, are hereby released from all State ad valorem tax for the year 1893, and the tax collector of the said county is forbidden to collect the same.

Sec. 2. But before any person shall be entitled to the benefit of this act, he shall go before the county clerk of said county and make affidavit that he was injured by the said storm in his person or the person of some member of his family, or his property. This affidavit he shall deliver to the tax collector of the county, who shall receive the same in full of all taxes due to the State from the person making such affidavit for the year 1893. The tax collector shall forward all affidavits so received to the Comptroller of the State, with his final report, and the Comptroller shall credit the tax collector with the amount of taxes due to the State from the persons named in such affidavits.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the end of the session and the crowded condition of the calendar creates a necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

Approved May 11, A. D. 1893.

COURTS OF CIVIL APPEALS.

CHAP. 116.—[C. S. for S. S. B. Nos. 29, 36, 82, 126, 128.] An act to divide the State of Texas into five supreme judicial districts; to provide for and establish a Court of Civil Appeals in each of said districts; to prescribe the time for holding of said courts, and to repeal all laws in conflict with the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the State of Texas be and the same is hereby divided into five supreme judicial districts for the purpose of constituting and organizing Courts of Civil Appeals therein respectively.

Sec. 2. That one of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall be held in the first supreme judicial district, in the city of Galveston, in the county of Galveston.

Sec. 3. That one of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall be held in the second supreme judicial district, in the city of Fort Worth, in the county of Tarrant.

Sec. 4. That one of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall be held in the third supreme judicial district, in the city of Austin, in the county of Travis.

Sec. 5. That one of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall be held in the fourth supreme judicial district, in the city of San Antonio, in the county of Bexar.

Sec. 6. That one of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall be held in the fifth supreme judicial district, in the city of Dallas, in the county of Dallas.

Sec. 7. The following counties shall compose the first supreme judicial district: Newton, Jasper, Orange, Jefferson, Hardin, Tyler, Polk, Trinity, Houston, Madison, Walker, San Jacinto, Liberty, Chambers, Harris, Montgomery, Grimes, Washington, Waller, Fort Bend, Brazoria, Matagorda, Wharton, Colorado, Austin, Fayette, Lavaca, Jackson, Calhoun, Victoria, De Witt, Goliad, Refugio, San Patricio, Aransas, Nueces, Hidalgo, Cameron, Sabine, San Augustine, Nacogdoches, Angelina, Anderson, Freestone, Limestone, Robertson, Brazos, Leon, Burleson, Galveston, Starr, Shelby, Cherokee, Rusk, and Panola.

Sec. 8. The following counties shall compose the second supreme judicial district: Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, Childress, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, Wilbarger, Wichita, Cooke, Montague, Clay, Archer, Baylor, Knox, King, Dickens, Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran, Yoakum, Terry, Linn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Wise, Denton, Tarrant, Parker, Palo Pinto, Stephens, Shackelford, Jones, Fisher, Scurry, Borden, Dawson, Gaines, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Callahan, Bosque, Eastland, Erath, Hood, Somervell, and Comanche.

Sec. 9. The following counties shall compose the third supreme judicial district: Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Sterling, Coke, Runnels, Coleman, Brown, Mills, Hamilton, Coryell, Bell, Lampasas, San Saba, McCulloch, Concho, Tom Green, Irion, Llano, Burnet, Williamson, Milam, Lee, Bastrop, Travis, Blanco, Hays, Comal, Caldwell, McLennan and Falls.

Sec. 10. The following counties shall compose the fourth supreme judicial district: El Paso, Loving, Winkler, Reeves, Jeff Davis, Presidio, Brewster, Buehel, Pecos, Ward, Crane, Upton, Crockett, Val Verde, Schleicher, Sutton, Edwards, Kinney, Maverick, Menard, Kimble, Kerr, Bandera, Uvalde, Zavala, Dimmit, Webb, Encinal, La Salle, Frio, Medina, Duval, McMullen, Atascosa, Bexar, Kendall, Gillespie, Mason, Guadalupe, Wilson, Live Oak, Zapata, Bee, Gonzales, and Karnes.

Sec. 11. The following counties shall compose the fifth supreme judicial district: Grayson, Collin, Dallas, Rockwall, Ellis, Navarro, Kaufman, Henderson, Van Zandt, Rains, Hunt, Fannin, Lamar, Hopkins, Delta, Wood, Smith, Red River, Titus, Franklin, Camp, Upshur, Gregg, Harrison, Marion, Cass, Morris, Bowie, Johnson, and Hill.

Sec. 12. The terms of said courts shall commence on the first Monday in September of each year, and may continue in session until the first Monday in July of each succeeding year.

Sec. 13. When the number of cases on the docket of any court of Civil Appeals shall have accumulated to any extent greater than can be disposed of in a reasonable time, the Supreme Court shall, upon the application of the chief justice of the court where the accumulation exists, counsel for appellant and appellee consenting thereto, have power to order a sufficient number of such cases transferred to any one or more of the other Courts of Civil Appeals whose dockets are not so crowded.

Sec. 14. The Courts of Civil Appeals as now organized shall, upon the organization of the new courts herein provided for, transfer to each of said courts respectively all cases appealed from counties within the respective districts of said new courts, in the same manner and way in which cases were transferred to said courts from the Supreme Court under the provisions of section 4 of the act of April 13, 1892.

Sec. 15. The present judges of the Courts of Civil Appeals, as now constituted, shall continue in office in the districts in which they now preside until the expiration of their respective terms.

Sec. 16. The first term of the Court of Civil Appeals in the said fourth and fifth supreme judicial districts shall be held as soon after this act goes into effect as practicable for the said courts to organize.

Sec. 17. That immediately after this act shall take effect the Governor shall appoint suitable persons as chief justices and associate justices of the Courts of Civil Appeals in and for each of the supreme judicial districts herein created, who shall hold their respective offices until the next general election held for State and county officers, and until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Sec. 18. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and are hereby repealed.

Sec. 19. That the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, and the fact that the present Courts of Civil Appeals are unable to dispose of the cases on their dockets in a reasonable length of time, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved May 13, A. D. 1893.

ROBERTSON COUNTY—THIRD SUPREME JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

CHAP. 117.—[H. B. No. 714.] An act to take the county of Robertson out of the first supreme judicial district and place the same in the third supreme judicial district, and to include the county of Greer in the second supreme judicial district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county of Robertson be and it is hereby removed from the first supreme judicial district, and placed in the third supreme judicial district, and appeals and writs of error from the district and county courts of said county shall be returnable to and heard by the Court of Civil Appeals at Austin; and the county of Greer is hereby included in the second supreme judicial district, and appeals and writs of error from the district and county courts of said county shall be returnable to and heard by the Court of Civil Appeals at Fort Worth.

Sec. 2. The fact that the present session of the Legislature is speedily drawing to a close and that an act passed by the present session of the Legislature placed the county of Robertson in a supreme judicial district at a distance entirely too remote for the convenience of litigants, creates an emergency requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be, and the same is hereby, suspended.

Approved May 16, A. D. 1893.

SUPREME JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—TRANSFERRING VARIOUS COUNTIES.

CHAP. 118.—[S. B. No. 300.] An act to take the counties of Limestone and Freestone out of the first supreme judicial district and place them in the fifth supreme judicial district, and to take the counties of Ector, Midland and Glasscock out of the third supreme judicial district and place them in the second supreme judicial district, and to take the counties of Reeves, Loving, Winkler, Ward, Crane, and Upton out of the fourth supreme judicial district and place them in the second supreme judicial district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the counties of Limestone and Freestone be and they are hereby removed from the first supreme judicial district and placed in the fifth supreme judicial district, and appeals and writs of error from the district and county courts of said counties shall be returnable to and heard by the Court of Civil Appeals at Dallas.

Sec. 2. That the counties of Ector, Midland, and Glasscock be and they are hereby removed from the third supreme judicial district and placed in the second supreme judicial district, and appeals and writs of error from the district and county courts in said counties shall be returnable to and heard by the Court of Civil Appeals at Fort Worth.

Sec. 3. That the counties of Reeves, Loving, Winkler, Ward, Crane, and Upton be and they are hereby removed from the fourth supreme judicial district and placed in the second supreme judicial district, and appeals and writs of error from the district and county courts in said counties shall be returnable to and heard by the Court of Civil Appeals at Fort Worth.

Sec. 4. The fact that the present session of the Legislature is speedily drawing to a close, and that an act passed by the present session of this Legislature places the counties herein named in supreme judicial districts at a distance entirely too remote for the convenience of litigants, creates an emergency requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be and the same is hereby suspended.

TOWNS AND VILLAGES—VALIDATING INCORPORATION OF.

CHAP. 119.—[H. B. No. 360.] An act to amend an act of the regular session of the Twenty-second Legislature, entitled "An act to amend article 541a of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, and to validate incorporations of towns and villages for free school purposes, heretofore made under certain conditions," approved April 10, 1891.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act of the regular session of the Twenty-second Legislature, approved April 10, 1891, entitled, "An act to amend article 541a of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, and to validate incorporations of towns and villages heretofore made under certain conditions," be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 541a. Towns and villages authorized to incorporate under this chapter, or having two hundred inhabitants or over, not desiring to incorporate for municipal purposes, may incorporate for free school purposes only: Provided, that the territory incorporated shall not exceed an area of sixteen square miles; and when so desiring, an election may be held under the provisions of this title and chapter, and if, at said election, a majority of the votes cast be in favor of the corporation, it shall be the duty of the county judge to make return thereof, and cause a record of the result of such election to be made, the same as provided by articles 512 and 513 of this chapter; upon which entry being made, such town or village shall be regarded as duly incorporated for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a free school therein, and shall, upon notice to the State board of education by the board of trustees hereinafter provided for, receive such pro rata share of the available school fund as its scholastic population may entitle it to; and it is further enacted, that all towns and villages heretofore incorporated under the provisions of said article as it heretofore existed, but which incorporation is invalid by reason of having incorporated more territory than a radius of two miles from the center of said town or village, or by reason of having incorporated pastoral or agricultural lands adjacent to such town or village, are hereby declared valid, and all acts of any such incorporated town or village are to be held binding and full force and effect given thereto: Provided, that all towns and villages heretofore incorporated under and by the virtue of the provisions of this chapter, which embrace a radius of three miles from the center of such town or village, but are invalid by reason of having incorporated pastoral or agricultural lands adjacent to such town or village, are hereby declared valid, and all acts of any such incorporated town or village are to be held binding, and full force and effect given thereto: And provided further, that no such town or village shall hereafter incorporate a greater area than sixteen square miles.

Sec. 2. There being many towns and villages in this State that desire to incorporate for free school purposes, and it being important that such incorporation should be duly organized and ready for taking charge of the schools before the next scholastic year; and there being a great many towns and villages in this State that have incorporated more territory than was permitted by pre-existing laws, and which incorporations are invalid by reason of such fact, which creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, therefore said rule is hereby suspended; and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 8th day of May, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. J. R. Curl, Acting Secretary of State.]

CITIES AND TOWNS—INCORPORATION OF.

CHAP. 120.—[H. B. 318.] An act to define the territory and provide for establishing the boundaries of cities and towns in this State, and to validate the incorporation of any city or town heretofore incorporated in this State in certain cases.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That no city or town in this State shall be hereafter incorporated under the provisions of the general charter for cities and towns contained in title 17 of the Revised Civil Statutes of this State, with a superficial area of more than two square miles when such town or city has less than two thousand inhabitants, nor more than four square miles when such city or town has more than two thousand inhabitants and less than five thousand inhabitants; nor more than nine square miles when such city or town has more than five and less than ten thousand inhabitants. It shall be the duty of the mayor and board of aldermen, immediately after they qualify as such officers, to pass an ordinance, cause an actual survey of the boundaries of such town to be made, according to the boundaries designated in the petition for incorporation, and the field notes thereof recorded in the minute books of such town or city, and also in the record books of deeds in the county in which such town or city is situated.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the mayor and board of aldermen of any town or city in this State, heretofore incorporated under the above named title 17 of the Revised Civil Statutes of this State, and whose boundaries have been established so as to include more territory than is specified in section 1 of this act, to immediately cause a resurvey of the boundaries of such city or town to be made, so as not to include more territory than is provided for in section 1, such resurvey to be made and the field notes thereof to be recorded as provided in section 1 of this act.

Sec. 3. All cities and towns in this State, whose charter may be void by reason of a failure to properly define their limits, or that may have included in such limits more territory than is provided for in section 1 of this act, that shall, within ninety days from the taking effect of this act, comply with section 2 of this act, be and such charter or incorporation are hereby in all things validated, the same as if such territorial limits had at first been properly established.

Sec. 4. The fact that many towns and cities in this State have illegally included rural lands in their boundaries, which may invalidate their charters, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended; and the necessity for a law properly defining and validating the boundaries of towns and cities in this State creates an emergency that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 8th day of May, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. J. R. Curl, Acting Secretary of State.]

LIQUORS—SALE OF REGULATED—TAXATION.

CHAP. 121.—[H. B. No. 91.] An act to regulate the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters; to fix a tax upon all persons or associations of persons selling such liquors; to define the time and manner of collecting such tax; to fix penalties for the violation of this act, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter there shall be collected from every person, firm, or association of persons selling spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, within this State, an annual tax on each separate establishment as follows: For selling spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors in quantities of one gallon or less than one gallon, three hundred dollars; for selling such liquors in quantities of one gallon or more than one gallon, three hundred dollars: Provided, that in selling one gallon, the same may be made up of different liquors in unbroken packages, aggregating not less than one gallon. For selling malt liquors exclusively, fifty dollars: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to exempt druggists who sell spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, on the prescription of a physician, or otherwise, from the payment of the tax herein imposed: Provided further, that this section shall not apply to the sale by druggists of tinctures and drug compounds in the preparation of which spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors are used, and which compounds are not intoxicating beverages prepared in evasion of the provisions of this act.

Sec. 2. That the commissioners court of the several counties in this State shall have the power to levy and collect from every person or association of persons selling spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, a tax equal to one-half the State tax herein levied; and where any such sale is made in any incorporated city or town, such city or town shall have the power to levy and collect a tax upon such sale equal to that levied by the commissioners court of the county in which such city or town is situated.

Sec. 3. That every person, firm, or association of persons desiring to engage in the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, shall, before he or they commence the sale of such liquors or medicated bitters, file with the county clerk of the county in which he or they propose to sell such spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, an application for license to engage in the sale of such liquors or medicated bitters. Said application shall be made on oath, on forms to be provided by the Comptroller, and shall designate the place at which it is proposed to carry on the sale of such liquors or medicated bitters; if in a city, the street and number of the house shall be given, and the quantities in which he or they propose to sell, whether one gallon or more than one gallon, or one gallon and less than one gallon, or whether they desire to sell malt liquors exclusively; and shall also state in said application whether or not the said liquors are to be sold to be drunk on the premises; and shall pay to the collector of taxes of the county in which he or they propose to sell such spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, the entire annual tax herein levied, according to the quantities in which he or they propose to sell, and the entire annual tax upon such business, as may be levied by the commissioners court of such county, and file with the county clerk bond as required in section nine of this act. In case the selling of such liquors or medicated bitters be carried on in a city or incorporated town, he or they so selling shall, in addition to the State and county tax herein required to be paid, pay to collector of taxes in such city or town such tax as may be levied on said business by such city or town, and all taxes herein levied shall be paid in advance. All licenses issued under the provisions of this act shall be posted by the licensee in a conspicuous place in his or their place of business, and on failure to so post such license, he or they so failing shall be considered as having no license.

Sec. 4. That upon filing the sworn application as provided in section 3, and paying to the collector the annual State and county tax herein provided for, and filing such bond as is required by section 9, the county clerk of said county shall issue to said applicant a license to sell spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, at the place and in the manner and quantities set forth in the application, and no sale shall be made until such license is procured. The receipt of the tax collector shall be evidence of the payment of the tax. For issuing licenses herein provided for, county clerks shall be entitled to charge a fee of twenty-five cents for each license.

Sec. 5. That no license shall be granted for a longer or a shorter period than one year. The particular place and house in which the liquors are to be sold shall be designated in the license, and no license shall authorize any person to sell spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, at any other place or house than that designated in the license: Provided, that if any person or association of persons having a license to sell such liquors, desires to change his or their place of business, such change may be made by presenting the license to the clerk of the county and having the new place of business inserted therein, but in no case to admit of the temporary closing of one place of business to sell at another place.

Sec. 6. That any person or association of persons who shall engage in the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, without having obtained license therefor, shall be fined in any sum not less than the amount of the taxes so due and not more than double that sum, or imprisoned in the county jail from ten to ninety days, in the discretion of the jury. And any person or persons who shall sell spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, in quantities not authorized by his or their license, or who shall sell in any other place than that designated in the license, or who shall sell otherwise than authorized by the license, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum from fifty to one hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail from ten to thirty days, in the discretion of the jury: Provided, that each day any person, firm, or association of persons, in his or their employ, shall engage in the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, in violation of this act shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 7. That the payment of the United States special tax as a seller of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors shall be held to be prima facie evidence that the person or persons paying such tax are engaged in selling such liquors.

Sec. 8. That the county clerk in each and every county in this State shall, between the first and tenth day in each month, forward to the State revenue agent a sworn statement, giving the names of all persons who have filed applications for license during the preceding month, and the tax collector of each county shall keep a register in which shall be entered the names of all persons paying taxes under this act, with the date of payment, and shall, between the first and tenth day of each month, make to the State revenue agent a sworn report, giving the names of all persons who have paid a liquor tax during the preceding month, and the character of tax paid by each. The reports provided for in this section shall be made upon blank forms to be furnished by the Comptroller.

Sec. 9. That any person, firm, or association of persons desiring to engage in the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, to be drunk on the premises, shall, before engaging in such sale, be required to enter into bond in the sum of five thousand dollars: Provided, however, that any person, firm or corporation of persons dealing exclusively in malt liquors shall be required to give bond only in the sum of one thousand dollars, with at least two good, lawful, and sufficient sureties, payable to the State of Texas, to be approved by the county judge, conditioned that said person, firm or association of persons so selling spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, in any quantity, to be drunk on the premises, shall keep an open, quiet, and orderly house or place for the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication; and that such person, firm, or association of persons, or his or their agent or employe, will not sell nor permit to be sold in his or their house or place of business, nor give nor permit to be given, any spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, to any person under the age of twenty-one years, or to a student of any institution of learning, or to any habitual drunkard, or to any person after having been notified in writing, through the sheriff or other peace officer, by the wife, mother, daughter, or sister of the person, not to sell to such person; and that he or they will not permit any person under the age of twenty-one years to enter and remain in such house or place of business; and that he or they will not permit any games prohibited by the laws of this State to be played, dealt, or exhibited in or about such house or place of business; and that he or they will not rent or let any part of the house or place in which he or they have undertaken to sell spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, in any quantity, to be drunk on the premises, to any person or persons for the purpose of running or conducting any game or games prohibited by the laws of this State; and that he or they will not adulterate the liquors sold by them in any manner, by mixing with the same any drug; and that he or they will not knowingly sell or give away any impure or adulterated liquors of any kind; which said bond shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county where the business is conducted, and shall be recorded by such clerk in a book to be kept for such purpose, for which service the said clerk shall be entitled to a fee of seventy-five cents; which said bond may be sued on at the instance of any person or persons aggrieved by the violation of its provisions, and such person shall be entitled to recover the sum of five hundred dollars as liquidated damages for each infraction of the condition of such bond, and the said bond shall not be void on the first recovery, but may be sued on until the full penal sum named therein shall have been recovered. In addition to civil proceedings for individual injuries, brought on said bonds as above indicated, if any person, firm, or association of persons shall violate any of the conditions of the bond herein required, it shall be the duty of the county and district attorneys, or either of them, to institute suit thereupon in the name of the State of Texas, for the use and benefit of the county, and the amount of five hundred dollars as a penalty shall be recovered from the principals and sureties upon a breach of any of the conditions thereof; and whenever the first or subsequent bond as required is exhausted by suit at the instance of individuals, or for the use of the county, a new similar bond shall be given and approved before the dealer shall have the right to further pursue the business of a liquor seller; or, in case suit is pending on any such bond, and the county or district attorney shall make and file an affidavit with the clerk of the county court that he believes the bond of the defendant will be exhausted by said suit, the clerk shall at once notify the liquor dealer thereof, and it shall be the duty of the liquor dealer, within twenty days from the time the bond is exhausted, or, in other event, within twenty days from the time the notice is given, to give a new bond similar to the bond first given, to be approved in the same way; and until such new bond is given and approved, when it is required by this act, the liquor seller shall not have the right to further pursue the business of selling liquors; and any person, firm, or association of persons who shall sell liquors, in any quantity, to be drunk on the premises, without giving the first bond, or the new bond, as required by this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined the same amount provided for in cases where no license has been obtained. An open house, in the meaning of this act, is one in which no screen or other device is used or placed either inside or outside of such house or place of business for the purpose of or that will obstruct the view through the open door or place of entrance into any such house or place where intoxicating liquors are sold to be drunk on the premises. A quiet house or place of business, in the meaning of this act, is one in which no music, loud or boisterous talking, yelling, or indecent or vulgar language is allowed, used, or practiced, or any other noise calculated to disturb or annoy any persons residing or doing business in the vicinity of such house or place of business, or those passing along the streets or public highways. By an orderly house is meant one in which no prostitute or lewd woman or women are allowed to enter or remain: And it is further provided, that said house must not contain any vulgar or obscene pictures. Any surety on such bond may relieve himself from further liability thereon by giving the principal in said bond notice in writing that he will no longer remain as surety on said bond and by filing with the county judge an affidavit that such notice has been given, and if within five days after such notice if he fail to make a new bond, he shall cease to pursue said business until a new bond is given. And any person who shall continue to pursue said business after such affidavit is filed shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished as provided in cases where no license has been procured: Provided, that where the sale is made in good faith, with the belief that the minor was of age, and there is good ground for such belief, that shall be a valid defense to any recovery on such bond.

Sec. 10. That any tax collector, sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, or other peace officer, having knowledge of the violation of this act, shall report the same to the county attorney, who shall forthwith prosecute any person or persons violating the provisions of this act; and any tax collector whose attention has been called to an instance in which the provisions of this act appear to have been violated, shall investigate the particular case, and if it is found this act has been violated, report the fact to the county attorney or district attorney.

Sec. 11. That any officer who shall willfully refuse or neglect to perform the duties required of him by the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum from one hundred to five hundred dollars, and may be dismissed from office.

Sec. 12. That all receipts issued by tax collectors for taxes paid under this act shall be made on blanks prepared by the Comptroller, and any tax collector who shall issue a manuscript receipt for taxes herein levied, or use any form of receipt other than that furnished him by the Comptroller, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished as provided in section 11 of this act.

Sec. 13. An habitual drunkard, within the meaning of this act, is one who makes it a habit, or who habitually becomes intoxicated by the voluntary use of intoxicating liquors; and in all suits for the breach of such bond for unlawfully selling to an habitual drunkard, the question whether or not such person is an habitual drunkard shall be determined by the court or jury trying such case, as any other fact.

Sec. 13a. The provisions of this act shall not apply to wines produced from grapes grown in this State, while the same is in the hands of the producers or manufacturers thereof.

Sec. 14. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Sec. 15. The evils designed to be remedied by this act creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the act to take effect and be in force from and after its passage; and the fact that the Comptroller of Public Accounts is required to send out his blanks by the first day of May, creates an imperative public necessity that this act take effect at once, and it is therefore enacted that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the 6th day of May, A. D. 1893, but was not signed by him, nor returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature. J. R. Curl, Acting Secretary of State.]

PUBLIC FREE SCHOOLS.

CHAP. 122.—[S. H. B. Nos. 30, 115, et al.] An act to provide for a more efficient system of public free schools for the State of Texas; defining the school funds; providing for the investment of the permanent fund, and the apportionment of the available fund; defining the duties of certain State officers in reference to the public free schools; creating the offices of State and county superintendents; providing for their election and salary, and prescribing their qualifications and duties; prescribing the duties of other officers in reference to public schools and public school funds; making county judges ex officio county superintendents in all counties not having county superintendents, and providing for their compensation; providing for the election of school trustees, and prescribing their qualifications and duties; providing for the creation of school districts in all the counties of this State; providing for the levy and collection of special taxes for the further maintenance of the public free schools, and the erection of school houses; providing for boards of examiners and the issuance of teachers' certificates; providing compensation and prescribing the duties of teachers employed thereunder, and preventing the altering or changing of teachers' certificates; regulating the transfer of the school funds; fixing the scholastic age; providing for taking the scholastic census; authorizing trustees to administer oaths; and providing penalties for refusing to answer questions in regard to the age of children, and other penalties for violations of the provisions of this act; repealing all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act; and declaring an emergency.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the constitutional provisions relating to public schools are hereby appended as a part of the school laws of this State, as follows:

Article VII.

Section 1. A general diffusion of knowledge being essential to the preservation of the liberties and rights of the people, it shall be the duty of the Legislature of the State to establish and make suitable provisions for the support and maintenance of an efficient system of public free schools.

Section 2. All funds, lands, and other property heretofore set apart and appropriated for the support of the public schools, all the alternate sections of lands reserved by the State out of grants heretofore made, or that may hereafter be made, to railroads or other corporations of any nature whatsoever, one-half of the public domain of the State, and all sums of money that may come to the State from the sale of any portion of the same, shall constitute a perpetual public school fund.

Section 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State occupation taxes, and a poll tax of one dollar on every male inhabitant of this State between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of public free schools, and in addition thereto there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem State tax of such an amount, not to exceed twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, as, with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public free schools of this State for a period of not less than six months in each year; and the Legislature may also provide for the formation of school districts within all or any of the counties of this State by general or special laws, without the local notice required in other cases of special legislation, and may authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within such school district for the further maintenance of public free schools, and the erection of school buildings therein: Provided, that two-thirds of the qualified property tax paying voters of the district, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax, not to exceed in any one year twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district; but the limitation upon the amount of district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns constituting separate and independent school districts.

Section 4. The lands herein set apart to the public free school fund shall be sold under such regulations, at such times, and on such terms as may be prescribed by law, and the Legislature shall not have power to grant any relief to purchasers thereof. The Comptroller shall invest the proceeds of such sales and of those heretofore made as may be directed by the board of education, herein provided for, in the bonds of the United States, the State of Texas, of counties in said State, or in such other securities and under such restrictions as may be prescribed by law; and the State shall be responsible for all investments.

Section 5. The principal of all bonds and other funds, and the principal arising from the sale of the lands hereinbefore set apart to said school fund, shall be the permanent school fund; and all the interest derivable therefrom, and the taxes herein authorized and levied, shall be the available school fund, to which the Legislature may add not exceeding one per cent annually of the total value of the permanent school fund; such value to be ascertained by the board of education until otherwise provided by law; and the available school fund shall be applied annually to the support of the public free schools. And no law shall ever be enacted appropriating any part of the permanent or available school fund to any other purpose whatever; nor shall the same or any part thereof ever be appropriated to or used for the support of any sectarian school; and the available school fund herein provided shall be distributed to the several counties, according to their scholastic population, and applied in such manner as may be provided by law.

Section 6. All land heretofore or hereafter granted to the several counties of this State for educational purposes are of right the property of said counties respectively to which they were granted, and title thereto is vested in said counties, and no adverse possession or limitation shall ever be available against the title of any county. Each county may sell or dispose of its lands, in whole or in part, in manner to be provided by the commissioners court of the county. Actual settlers residing on said lands shall be protected in the prior right of purchasing the same, to the extent of their settlement, not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres, at the price fixed by said court, which price shall not include the value of existing improvements made thereon by such settlers. Said lands and the proceeds thereof, when sold, shall be held by said counties alone as a trust for the benefit of public schools therein, said proceeds to be invested in bonds of the United States, the State of Texas, or counties in said State, or in such other securities and under such restrictions as may be prescribed by law; and the counties shall be responsible for all investments; the interest thereon, and other revenue, except the principal, shall be the available fund.

Section 7. Separate schools shall be provided for the white and colored children, and impartial provision shall be made for both.

Section 8. The Governor, Comptroller, and Secretary of State shall constitute a board of education, who shall distribute said funds to the several counties, and perform such other duties concerning public schools as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. Hereafter when any county bonds are offered for sale as an investment for the permanent public free school fund of the State, and the same are desired for investment, the party offering and proposing to sell such bonds shall first submit them to the Attorney-General of the State, who shall carefully inspect and examine the same, in connection with the law under which they were issued, and shall diligently inquire into all the facts and circumstances, so far as may be necessary to determine the validity thereof, and upon being satisfied that such bonds were issued in conformity with law, and that they are valid and binding obligations upon the county by which they purport or appear to have been issued, he shall thereupon certify, and his certificate to that effect so procured by the party offering such bonds for sale shall be submitted to the Comptroller, or board of education, with the bonds so offered for sale; and should the same be purchased as an investment for the permanent public free school fund from the county issuing the same, or from any person authorized by said county to act for it in the negotiation or sale of such bonds, they shall thereafter be held in every action or proceeding in which their validity is or may be called in question to be valid and binding obligations of the county issuing the same, unless fraudulently issued, or issued in violation of constitutional limitation; and in every such action the certificate of the Attorney-General as aforesaid (which shall be carefully preserved by the Comptroller) shall be admitted and received as prima facie evidence of the validity of the bonds and coupons thereto, which may have been so purchased.

Sec. 3. Nothing in the preceding section shall be so construed as to relieve the Comptroller or board of education from the duty of a careful examination of the bonds offered as an investment for the permanent public free school funds of the State, an investigation of the facts tending to show the value and validity thereof, and such board of education may decline to purchase the same unless satisfied that they are a safe and proper investment for such funds; and no county bonds shall be purchased as an investment for the permanent public free school fund that do not bear interest at the rate of at least five per cent per annum, nor shall the amount paid for any such bonds exceed the par or face value thereof; and it shall be the duty of the board of education and Comptroller to decline to purchase the bonds of any county whose indebtedness, inclusive of the bonds so offered, shall exceed five per cent of the assessed value of the real estate in such county; and if default be made in the payment of interest when due upon any such bonds, the board of education may, at any time prior to the payment of such overdue interest, elect to treat the principal as also due, and the same shall thereupon, at the option of the board of education, become due and payable, and the payment of both such principal and interest shall in all cases be enforced in such manner as is or may be provided by law, and the right to enforce such collection shall never be barred by any law or limitation whatever.

Sec. 4. In all cases where the proceeds of the sale of any bonds have been received by the proper officers of the county, or by the party acting for it in negotiating the sale thereof, such county shall be thereafter estopped from denying the validity of such bonds so issued, and the same shall be held to be valid and binding obligations of the county; and in any action upon such bonds, or coupons thereto, judgment shall be rendered against the county for the amount of the bonds sued on and the interest thereon at the rate mentioned therein, deducting such amounts, if any, as have been previously paid thereon.

Sec. 5. The payment of any interest upon any bonds heretofore purchased with public school funds, or belonging thereto, shall be deemed and held a waiver of any supposed error, irregularity, or want of authority affecting or tending to affect the validity of any such bonds, and the same shall thereafter be held to be valid and binding obligations upon the county by which they appear or purport to have been issued, notwithstanding any such supposed error, irregularity, or want of authority as aforesaid.

Sec. 6. The district court of Travis county shall have jurisdiction of any suit upon bonds or obligations belonging to the permanent public school funds, or purchased therewith, concurrent with that of any other court having jurisdiction in such case.

Sec. 7. The provisions of this act shall extend to any bonds or securities other than the bonds of this State or of the United States, in which the public school funds are or may hereafter be invested, as now or hereafter authorized or prescribed by law, and also to any bonds or securities purchased with any of the permanent funds set apart for the support, maintenance, and improvement of any of the asylums or other institutions of this State.

Sec. 8. The proceeds of any leasing or renting of lands heretofore granted by the State of Texas to the several counties thereof for educational purposes shall be appropriated by the commissioners courts of said counties in the same manner as is provided by law for the appropriation of the interest on bonds purchased with the proceeds of the sale of such lands; and the proceeds arising from the sale of timber on said lands, or any part thereof, shall be invested in like manner as the Constitution and law requires of proceeds of sales of such lands; and it shall be unlawful for the commissioners court of any county to apply said proceeds, or any part thereof, to any other purpose, or to loan the same, or to invest the same, except as above required.

Sec. 9. One-fourth of all occupation taxes, and the one dollar poll tax levied and collected for the use of public free schools, exclusive of the delinquences and cost of collection; the interest arising from any bonds or funds belonging to the permanent school fund, and all the interest derivable from the proceeds of sale of land heretofore set apart for the permanent school fund, which have hitherto or may hereafter come into the State treasury; all moneys arising from the lease of school lands, and such an amount of State tax, not to exceed twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property, as may be from time to time levied by the Legislature, shall constitute the available school fund, which fund shall be apportioned annually to the several counties of this State, according to the scholastic population of each, for the support and maintenance of the public free schools.

(a) One per cent of the full value of what is known, held, and controlled by the State of Texas as the permanent school fund, shall be transferred annually hereafter to the credit of the available school fund of the State, as belonging to it and a part of the same, and which henceforward shall constitute a part of the State's available school fund, and to be used and applied for the support, maintenance and benefit of the public free schools of the State, as now or hereafter may be provided by law.

(b) It shall be the duty of the Comptroller and the State Treasurer to notify the State board of education of the amount to the credit of the permanent school fund on the first to the fifteenth day of July each and every year. The said statement shall show the amount invested in the bonds, the amount of outstanding land notes, and the amount of cash on hand to the credit of the permanent school fund. Upon the receipt of this information the State board of education shall estimate one per cent of the said permanent school fund, and shall issue directions to the said Comptroller and State Treasurer to transfer the one per cent of the permanent fund thus found to the credit of the available school fund.

(c) It shall be the duty of the State Comptroller and State Treasurer, upon the receipt and delivery to them by said board of education of the showing and statement aforesaid, to transfer and place to the credit of the available school fund of the State the amount found and ascertained by said board of education as aforesaid, and accruing from the one per cent of value of the permanent school fund, and transferred to the available school fund under section one of this act: Provided, that no part or the value thereof of the unsold public land belonging to said fund shall be included or considered by the Comptroller and State Treasurer in ascertaining the amount to be transferred from the permanent to the available free school fund.

(d) It shall be the duty of the State board of education and Comptroller, in the management and investment of the permanent school fund, to provide, reserve, and set apart in cash annually an amount sufficient of same to meet the one per cent annual transfer to the available fund.

Sec. 10. No part of the public school fund shall be appropriated to or used for the support of any sectarian school.

Sec. 11. All available public school funds of this State shall be appropriated in each county for the education alike of white and colored children, and impartial provisions shall be made for both races.

Sec. 12. All children, without regard to color, over eight years of age and under seventeen years of age, at the beginning of any scholastic year, shall be entitled to the benefit of the public school fund for that year.

Sec. 13. The scholastic year shall commence on the first day of September of each year and end on the thirty-first day of August thereafter.

Sec. 14. The children of the white and colored races shall be taught in separate schools, and in no case shall any school consisting partly of white and partly of colored children receive any aid from the public school fund.

Sec. 15. The terms "colored race" and "colored children," as used in the preceding section, and elsewhere in this act, include all persons of mixed blood descended from negro ancestry.

Sec. 16. All conveyances, devises, and bequests of property for the benefit of the public schools made by any one for any county, city, town, or district shall, when not otherwise directed by the grantor or devisor, vest said property in the county judge of the county, or the mayor of the city or town, or the trustees of the school district, or their successors in office, as the trustees for those to be benefited thereby, and the same, when not otherwise directed, be administered by said officers under such rules as may be established by the State Superintendent.

Sec. 17. All public schools in this State shall be required to have taught in them orthography, reading in English, penmanship, arithmetic, English grammar, modern geography, composition, physiology, and hygiene, including the effects of alcoholic stimulants and narcotics on the human system, and other branches as may be agreed on by the trustees or directed by the State Superintendent.

Sec. 18. County superintendents, county judges, and all school officers shall take oaths to faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of their respective offices.

Sec. 19. Public schools shall be taught for five days in each week. Schools shall be closed on all legal holidays. A school month shall consist of not less than twenty school days, exclusive of holidays, and shall be taught for not less than seven hours each day, including intermissions and recesses.

Sec. 20. There shall be elected, at each general election for State and county officers, a State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who shall hold his office for a term of two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified, and shall receive an annual salary of twenty-five hundred dollars, and may employ as many clerks as may be necessary to perform the duties of his office, the number to be determined by the State board of education: Provided, that no greater number shall be employed than the Legislature has appropriated salaries for. The superintendent shall take the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution, and shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law. Appeals shall always lie from the rulings of the State Superintendent to the State board of education.

Sec. 21. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be charged with the administration of the school law and a general superintendency of the business relating to the public schools of the State. He shall hear and determine all appeals from the rulings and decisions of subordinate school officers, and all such officers and teachers shall conform to his decisions unless they are reversed by the State board of education. He shall prescribe suitable forms for reports required of subordinate school officers and teachers, and blanks for their guidance in transacting their official business and conducting public schools, and shall from time to time prepare and transmit to them such instructions as he may deem necessary for the faithful and efficient execution of the school laws, and by whatsoever is so communicated to them shall they be bound to govern themselves in the discharge of their official duties. He shall examine and approve all accounts of whatsoever kind against the school fund that are to be paid by the State Treasurer, and upon such approval the Comptroller shall be authorized to draw his warrant.

Sec. 22. The State Superintendent shall file all reports, documents, and papers transmitted to him and the State board of education by county or city school officers, and from all other sources, pertaining to public schools, and keep a complete index of the same.

Sec. 23. The State Superintendent shall advise and counsel with the school officers of the counties, cities, towns, and school districts as to the best methods of conducting the public schools, and shall be empowered to issue instructions and regulations, binding for observance on all officers and teachers, in all cases wherein the provisions of the school law may require interpretation in order to carry out the designs expressed therein; also in cases that may arise in which the law has made no provision, and where necessity requires some rule in order that there may be no hardships to individuals, and no delays or inconvenience in the management of school affairs.

Sec. 24. He shall cause to be printed for general distribution such number of copies of the school laws as may at any time be necessary, to be determined by the State board of education.

Sec. 25. The state Superintendent shall require of county judges, county, city, and town superintendents, county and city treasurers, and treasurers of school boards, and other school officers and teachers, such school reports relating to the school fund and other school affairs as he may deem proper for collecting information and advancing the interests of the public schools, and shall furnish to county, city, and town superintendents, and other school officers and teachers, for the use of such officers and teachers, the necessary blanks and forms for making such reports and carrying out such instructions as may be required of them; and any county judge, or county, city, or town superintendent, assessor, treasurer, or teacher, who shall willfully fail to make such report within twenty days after the same shall have been required by the State Superintendent to be filed, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall on conviction be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, the same to be paid, when collected, to the available school fund.

Sec. 26. It shall be the duty of the county treasurer of each county, and the city treasurer, or treasurer of school board of each city or town having exclusive control of its schools, to report the receipts and disbursements of the school fund, State and county, to the commissioners court of his county. Said report shall be made at the first regular term of the commissioners court after the thirty-first day of August of each year, or the end of the school year, and shall consist of a complete exhibit of all moneys received and paid out by him, to whom paid, upon what voucher, and what moneys, if any, remain in his hands.

Sec. 26a. When such report shall have been examined and approved by the commissioners court, it shall be the duty of such treasurer to immediately transmit a copy of such report, including a statement of the status of the permanent county school fund, certified to by the county clerk, to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, at Austin: Provided, that city treasurers, and treasurers of city school boards having exclusive control of its schools, shall not be required to include in their reports statements of the status of the permanent county school funds.

(b) Any county or city treasurer, or treasurer of the school board of each city or town having exclusive control of its schools, failing to make and transmit said report and certified copy, or either, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

Sec. 27. The State Superintendent shall, one month before the meeting of each regular session of the Legislature, and ten days prior to any special session thereof, at which, under the Governor's proclamation convening the same, any legislation may be had respecting the public schools, make a full report to the board of education of the condition of the public schools throughout the State. Such reports shall give all the information called for by the board of education, and shall contain such other matters as the State Superintendent shall deem important.

Sec. 28. The Governor shall lay such reports before the Legislature.

Sec. 29. Two thousand copies of said report shall be printed in pamphlet form for the use of the Legislature and for distribution among the various school officers and libraries within the State, and the superintendents of public schools of other States and Territories of the United States and Canada, and the Bureau of Education at Washington City.

Sec. 30. The State Superintendent shall be allowed by the State board of education an amount necessary for the expenses for books, postage, express charges, printing, stationery, clerk and porter hire, and other necessary office expenses: Provided, that said State board shall make no allowance of funds in excess of the amounts appropriated by the Legislature for this department: And provided, that in all cases when there is a deficiency in the available school fund and warrants are issued in settlement of accounts for expenses provided for in this section, said warrants shall not be negotiable until after such accounts shall have been approved by the Legislature.

Sec. 31. The Governor, Secretary of State, and Comptroller shall constitute a State board of education, who shall hold their sessions at the seat of government. The Governor shall be ex officio president of the board, and a majority of them shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Sec. 32. The State Superintendent shall be ex officio secretary of the State board of education, and shall keep a complete record of all its proceedings, which shall be signed by the president of the board and attested by the superintendent.

Sec. 33. The State board of education shall, on or before the first day of August of each year, make an apportionment of the available school fund among the several counties of the State and to the several cities and towns constituting separate school organizations, according to the scholastic population of each, and the State Superintendent shall deliver an abstract of such apportionment to the Comptroller, and to each county superintendent or judge and president of the board of school trustees of each city or town that has control of the public schools, a statement of the amount apportioned to each county, city, or town, as the case may be; and he shall issue to the county treasurer of each county, and to the treasurer of the school fund of any city or town having control of the public schools, a certificate, with thirteen collection coupons attached, for the amount of the available school fund so apportioned to each county, city or town, which certificate shall be signed by the Governor as president of the board of education, countersigned by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and attested by the Secretary.

Sec. 34. The Comptroller shall keep a separate account of the available school fund arising from every source. He shall draw his warrant in favor of the treasurer of the school fund of each county, city, or town that has control of its public schools, in such sum as each is entitled to upon a pro rata distribution of the available school fund in the hands of the State Treasurer, upon the presentation to him of a coupon, properly filled out and receipted by said local treasurer.

(a) The Comptroller shall, at the time the certificates of apportionment are issued, advise the county treasurer of each county of the amount which the county tax collector of his county is authorized to pay on coupon No. 1 to the said county treasurer, for the available school fund for the ensuing school year.

(b) The Comptroller shall, on or before the meeting of each regular session of the Legislature, report to the Legislature an estimate of the amount of the available school fund to be received for the succeeding two years, and the several sources from which the same accrues, and which may be subject to appropriation for the establishment and support of public schools.

Sec. 35. The State Treasurer shall receive and hold as a special deposit all moneys belonging to the available school fund, and keep an account of the several sources from which they accrue. He shall open and keep an account with every county, city, or town in the State to which the board of education issues a certificate (showing them to be entitled to receive any portion of the available free school fund), wherein he shall credit each such county, city, or town with the amount apportioned to it by such certificate.

(a) On the first day of each month the State Treasurer shall set apart to each county, city, or town such a portion of the available free school fund as has come into his hands during the preceding month, as is shown by the certificates held by them to be due to each, upon a pro rata distribution thereof, and he shall notify each local treasurer of the school fund, through the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, of the amount which can be paid on the remaining coupons, until the whole amount of apportionment to each county or independent school district has been paid. Said money so set apart shall not be used by the State Treasurer for any purpose other than to pay the warrant drawn by the State Comptroller upon presentation of such coupons.

(b) Whenever the treasurer of the school fund of any such county, city, or town shall present the Comptroller's warrant to the State Treasurer for payment, he shall pay to him such an amount as has been set apart under the provisions of this act to such county, city, or town, and no more; and shall pay from time to time, when demanded, such sums of money as have been so set apart to the treasurer of the school fund of such county, city, or town, taking his receipt therefor. The State Treasurer shall also charge the various counties, cities, and towns in their respective accounts with the amount or amounts so paid, and shall also, at the time of payment, endorse upon the back of such warrant the amount paid, the date when paid, and sign the same officially. When the whole amount of such certificate therefor has been paid, it shall be by such treasurer of the school fund presenting it receipted in full and delivered to the State Comptroller.

Sec. 36. The State Treasurer shall, thirty days before each regular session of the Legislature, and ten days before any special session, at which any legislation can be had respecting the public schools, report to the Governor the condition of the permanent and available school fund, the amount of each, and the manner of its disbursement; and he shall also make any additional reports required by the board of education.

(a) The Treasurer shall not under any circumstances use any portion of the permanent or available school funds in payment of any warrant drawn against any other fund whatever.

Sec. 37. The office of county superintendent of public instruction is hereby created, and the commissioners court of any county in the State may, when in their judgment it may be advisable, provide for the election of a county superintendent of public instruction at each general election, who shall be a person of educational attainments, good moral character, and executive ability, a qualified voter of said county, and the holder of a first grade teacher's certificate, who shall hold his office for the term of two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified; and said commissioners court, when they so provide for the election of a county superintendent, shall appoint a county superintendent of public instruction, with the qualifications above provided, who shall perform the duties of such office until a county superintendent shall have been elected as hereinbefore provided, and shall have qualified.

(a) Such county superintendent of public instruction shall have, under the direction of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the immediate supervision of all matters pertaining to public education in his county. He shall confer with and counsel teachers and trustees, visit and examine schools, deliver lectures on topics calculated to excite an interest in public education. He shall organize and hold, with such assistance as may be necessary, at least three institutes of two days each during the school year: Provided, that a failure to comply with this requirement shall be sufficient cause for his removal from office. He shall have authority to hold more than three institutes during the school year, if in his opinion the educational interests of his county demand more.

(b) Such county superintendent of public instruction, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall take the oath of office prescribed by law, and shall enter into a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the county commissioners court, and to be filed with the county clerk of his county, and said bond shall be made payable to the county commissioners court and their successors in office, in trust for the available school fund of the county, and be conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. In case said bond is forfeited and collected, the sum so collected shall become a part of the available school fund of the county.

(c) He shall approve all vouchers legally drawn against the school fund of his county. He shall examine all contracts between the trustees and teachers of his county, and if in his judgment such contracts are proper, he shall approve the same: Provided, that in considering any contract between a teacher and trustees he shall be authorized to consider the amount of salary promised to the teacher. He shall discharge such other duties as may be prescribed by the State Superintendent. He shall distribute all school blanks and books to the officers and teachers of the public schools. He shall make such reports to the State Superintendent as may be required by that officer. He shall immediately after qualifying appoint a county board of examiners, consisting of three resident white teachers holding first grade certificates, who shall serve during the pleasure of the county superintendent of public instruction, subject to the provisions hereinafter made.

(d) The county superintendents of public instruction herein provided for shall receive from the available school fund of their respective counties annual salaries as follows: For each county with a scholastic population of two thousand or more, and not exceeding three thousand, he shall receive an annual salary of eight hundred dollars; for each county with a scholastic population of three thousand or more, and not exceeding four thousand, he shall receive nine hundred dollars; for each county with a scholastic population of four thousand or more, and not exceeding five thousand, he shall receive one thousand dollars; for each county with a scholastic population of five thousand or more, he shall receive twelve hundred dollars. The compensation herein provided for shall be paid quarterly by the county treasurer on the order of the commissioners court: Provided, that the salary for the quarter ending on the second Monday in November shall not be paid until the county superintendent presents a receipt from the State Superintendent of Public Instruction showing that he has made all reports required of him.

(e) In each county in this State having no school superintendent the county judge shall be ex officio county superintendent of public instruction, and shall perform all the duties required of the county superintendent in this act.

(f) The county judge shall give bond in the sum of one thousand dollars, to be approved by the county commissioners court, and filed with the county clerk, said bond to be made payable to the county commissioners court and their successors in office, and conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. He shall also take the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution.

(g) The county judge who serves as ex officio county superintendent of public instruction shall be entitled to the following compensation: For $500 or less of the school fund actually disbursed by the county treasurer annually, beginning September first, $25 shall be allowed such judge; for $500 and not exceeding $1000 so disbursed annually, $50 shall be allowed; and for each additional $1000 or fractional part thereof so disbursed annually, $10 shall be allowed to such judge; and ten per cent on the salary thus allowed shall be added for postage, stationery, and printing expenses connected with the administration of the school law. Such compensation shall be paid to the county judge by the county treasurer out of the public school fund of the county upon the approval of his voucher by the commissioners court, in the same manner and upon the same conditions as provided in this act for the payment of the salaries of county superintendents.

(h) The county superintendent, upon the receipt of the certificate issued by the board of education for the State fund belonging to his county, shall apportion the same to the several school districts (not including the independent school districts of the county), making a pro rata distribution as per the scholastic census, and shall at the same time apportion the income arising from the county school fund to all the school districts, including the independent school districts of the county, making a pro rata distribution as per scholastic census.

(i) The county commissioners court of any county in this State shall have the power and authority, when in their judgment such court may deem it advisable, to abolish the office of county superintendent of public instruction in their county by an order entered on the minutes of their court at a regular term thereof.

(j) Whenever such office is abolished the county superintendent shall serve out the term for which he was elected, and at the expiration of his term he shall turn over the books, papers, records, and other school property in his possession to the county judge, who shall thereafter perform the duties of county superintendent.

Sec. 38. The treasurers of the several counties shall be treasurers of the available public free school fund, and also of the permanent county school fund for their respective counties. The treasurers for the several counties shall be allowed for receiving and disbursing the school funds one-half of one per cent for receiving and one-half of one per cent for disbursing, said commissions to be paid out of the available school fund of the county upon an order of the commissioners court approving the account of such treasurer: Provided, no commissions shall be paid for receiving the balance transmitted to him by his predecessor, or for turning over the balance in his hands to his successor: And provided further, that he shall receive no commissions on money transferred or invested.

(a) Within twenty days after the receipt of a certificate of his election, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to execute a bond, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, payable to the county judge and his successors in office, for the faithful performance of his duties under this chapter; said bond shall be an amount equal to the probable amount of available school fund and of the permanent county fund which may come into his hands, to be estimated by the county superintendent, or county commissioners court in counties having no superintendent, and shall be made payable and conditioned as prescribed by the general law.

(b) Upon receipt of the certificate from the State board of education, duly countersigned by the Comptroller, showing the pro rata of the available school fund to which his county is entitled under the apportionment, the county treasurer shall present coupon No. 1 to the collector of taxes for his county, who shall pay to the county treasurer, on the first day of each month, all school taxes that have come into his hands during the preceding month, until the Comptroller's coupon draft on the collector is paid up.

(c) The treasurer shall endorse the amounts so paid by the collector on the proper coupon, and shall also execute and deliver to the collector duplicate receipts, countersigned by the clerk of the county court, for such payments, and when the whole amount of such coupon shall have been paid the county treasurer shall deliver the same to the collector, in whose hands it shall be a voucher for so much money paid in his settlement with the Comptroller of Public Accounts. In case the State school tax shall not suffice to pay off the apportionment to the county, the county treasurer shall, on receipt of notice from the State Superintendent of the amount which can be paid by the State Treasurer on the apportionment to his county, enter upon the proper coupon the amount so signified, and present the same for collection to the Comptroller of Public Accounts. When the entire amount of the apportionment to the county shall have been paid the county treasurer shall deliver the certificate of apportionment, receipted in full, to the State Comptroller.

(d) The county treasurer, upon receiving notice from the State Superintendent of the amount apportioned to his county, shall report the same to the county superintendent, who shall immediately apportion the same to the several districts, according to the scholastic census, and the county superintendent shall immediately notify the county treasurer of the amount apportioned to each district. It shall also be the duty of the county treasurer to keep a separate account with each district, showing the amount apportioned according to the certificate of apportionment, and the amount paid out to each school and district: Provided, in no case shall the county treasurer pay out any part of the school fund without the approval of the county superintendent.

(e) All balances of the general fund not appropriated for the current year shall be carried over by the treasurer as part of the general fund for the county for the succeeding year, and unexpended balances to the credit of any district shall be carried over for the benefit of such school district: Provided, that if any such balance shall exceed five dollars per capita, according to the last scholastic census, then such excess over five dollars per capita shall be reapportioned to the school districts of the county.

(f) All schools, both white and colored, in the same district shall be maintained the same length of time each year, as near as may be.

Sec. 39. The commissioners court of the several counties of this State shall have power to levy a special tax for the further maintenance of public free schools and the erection within each school district of school buildings therein: Provided, two-thirds of the qualified property tax paying voters of the district voting at an election to be held for the purpose, shall vote such tax, not to exceed in any year twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district.

Sec. 40. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners court of all organized counties, not already subdivided, to subdivide their respective counties into convenient school districts by the first day of September, 1893, or as soon thereafter as practicable, and counties hereafter organized shall be subdivided before the beginning of the next ensuing school year. Said courts shall designate said school districts by numbers: Provided, that when districts are once established they shall not be changed without the consent of a majority of the legal voters in all districts affected by such change. But two or more adjacent school districts may, by a majority of the qualified voters of each district, and with the approval of the county superintendent, be consolidated, and in such case the county superintendent shall designate such consolidated district by suitable number. The commissioners court of any organized county to which any unorganized county is attached for judicial purposes may, and upon the written petition of not less than ten resident citizens of such unorganized county shall, create such unorganized county into one or more school districts, and shall cause an order to that effect to be entered upon the minutes of said court.

Sec. 41. Said school districts shall be so made as to be as convenient as possible to the scholastic population, and said courts shall give the metes and bounds of each district, and shall designate the same carefully by giving the whole surveys and parts of surveys, with acreage of whole surveys and approximate acreage of parts of surveys in each district, and the county clerk shall carefully record the same; and each district shall be given a number, which number shall be painted in large letters or figures over the doors of the school houses, said signs to be provided by the district trustees of each district.

Sec. 42. All polls for school district elections shall be opened at 10 o'clock a. m., and shall not be closed before 4 o'clock p. m., and none of the officers holding such election shall be entitled to compensation therefor.

Sec. 43. Whenever twenty or more qualified property tax paying voters of any district, or a majority of the property tax paying voters in any district, wish, for the purpose of taxing themselves for the building of school houses or supplementing the State school fund apportioned to said district, shall make application to the county commissioners court, duly signed by them, said court shall enter up an order for an election to be held in said district to determine whether such tax shall be levied or not; said application shall designate the amount of tax asked to be levied, and the order of said court shall state—

(a) When said election shall be held.

(b) At what point or points the polls shall be opened.

(c) The amount of tax to be voted on: Provided, that no election shall be held to determine the levy of a tax exceeding twenty cents on the $100 valuation of property. The commissioners court shall order the sheriff to give notice of such election by posting three notices in the district for three weeks before the election, and the sheriff shall obey such order. Not more than one such election shall be held in the same scholastic year.

Sec. 44. The county commissioners court shall appoint a presiding officer for each voting place to hold said election, who shall make due return thereof as is required by law for holding a general election; and all persons who favor taxation for school purposes shall have written or printed on their tickets, "For school tax," and all persons opposed to such taxation shall have written or printed on their tickets, "Against school tax."

Sec. 45. All persons who are legal qualified voters in this State and of the county of their residence, and who are resident property tax payers in said district, as shown by the last assessment roll of the county, shall be entitled to vote in any such school district; and if at any such election two-thirds of such qualified voters voting at such election shall vote for the tax, it shall be declared by the county commissioners court to have carried in said district, and be so entered upon the records of said court to have been carried; and in all cases the returning officer shall make a full and complete return, as in other elections, to said court within five days after said election is held, and said return shall be opened and counted at the first meeting of said court and the result declared.

Sec. 46. Any one person may challenge a voter, but if the challenged party takes an oath that he is a qualified voter of the State and county, and that he is a resident property tax payer in said district, he shall be entitled to vote.

Sec. 47. At any time after the expiration of two years after any district has levied a school tax on itself, twenty property tax paying qualified voters, or a majority of such voters of the district, may have an election held, upon the proper petition to the commissioners court, to determine whether such tax shall be abrogated, increased, or diminished. Such election shall be held and conducted as elections provided for in section 44 of this act, and persons entitled to vote at such election shall possess the qualifications prescribed in section 45 of this act.

Sec. 47a. If the election be to abrogate or diminish the school tax, each voter favoring the abrogation or diminution shall have written or printed upon his ticket, "For abrogating school tax," or "For diminishing school tax to — cents," as the case may be; and each voter opposing the abrogation or diminution shall have written or printed on his ballot, "Against abrogating school tax," or "Against diminishing school tax to — cents," as the case may be, and a majority vote shall be necessary to abrogate or diminish the school tax.

Sec. 47b. If the election be to determine whether the tax shall be increased, each voter favoring the increase of the school tax shall have written or printed on his ballot, "For increase of school tax," and those opposing such increase shall have written or printed on their ballots, "Against increase of school tax;" and if two-thirds of the votes cast be in favor of increasing the tax, it shall be increased.

Sec. 48. The county commissioners court shall, at the time of levying the tax for county purposes, also levy upon each school district the amount of taxes said district has voted upon itself, and it shall be the duty of the tax assessor to assess the same as other taxes, and to make an abstract showing the amount of special tax assessed against each school district in his county, and to furnish the same to the county superintendent, on or before the first day of September of the year for which such taxes are assessed; and the taxes levied upon the real property in said district shall be a lien thereon, and the same shall be sold for unpaid taxes in the manner and at the time of sales occur for State and county taxes. A special tax voted in any district after the levy of county taxes shall be levied at any meeting of the commissioners court prior to the delivery of the assessment rolls by the assessor. The tax assessor shall assess and the tax collector shall collect said district taxes as other taxes. The tax assessor shall receive a commission of one per centum for assessing such tax, and the tax collector a commission of one per centum for collecting the same. The tax collector shall pay all such taxes to the county treasurer, and said treasurer shall credit each school district with the amount belonging to it, and pay out the same as other school moneys.

Sec. 49. Trustees of districts shall make contracts with teachers to teach the public schools of their respective districts, but the compensation to teachers under written contract with the trustees shall be approved by the county superintendent before the school is taught, stating that the teacher will teach such school for the time and money specified in the contract; and the board of trustees shall have authority, whenever the average daily attendance exceeds thirty-five pupils, to employ one competent assistant to every thirty-five pupils of such excess, and fractional part thereof exceeding fifteen pupils; and all children within the scholastic age residing in such district, though they may have settled in such a district since the scholastic census was taken, shall be entitled to receive all the benefits of the schools of such district; and in districts that levy a special school tax the trustees shall have the right to increase the salaries of teachers and the scholastic age, and may also have the schools taught longer than six months if it is deemed advisable.

Sec. 50. On the first Saturday in June after the passage of this act the qualified voters of each school district, at a school district meeting for that purpose, shall elect three trustees for said district, who shall enter upon the discharge of their duties on the first day of July next following.

They shall immediately thereafter organize by electing one of their number president and one secretary of the board of trustees. The terms of office of said trustees shall be divided into two classes, and they shall draw for the different classes; the one drawing number one shall serve for one year, and those drawing numbers two and three shall serve for two years, and until their successors shall have been elected or appointed and shall have qualified. On the first Saturday in June of each year thereafter there shall be an election in each school district for the election of a trustee or trustees, as the case may be, and the trustee or trustees so elected shall serve for two years, and until their successor or successors shall have been elected or appointed and shall have been qualified. The trustees so elected or appointed shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, qualify by taking the oath, to faithfully perform their duties, and shall immediately file said oath with the county superintendent or county judge.

Sec. 51. The commissioners court shall appoint three persons, qualified voters of the district, to hold such election, who shall make returns thereof to the county superintendent within five days after such election shall have been held; and if no election be held, or if a vacancy occur in the board of trustees by death or otherwise, the county superintendent shall at once appoint a trustee or trustees, as may be necessary, for the full or unexpired term. If, at the time and place for holding such election, any or all of the persons so appointed to hold such election are absent or refuse to act, then the electors present may select of their number person or persons to act in the place of those absent or refusing to act. No person shall be eligible to serve as a school trustee who can not read and write, and has not been a resident of the school district for six months prior to election held for trustees.

Sec. 52. The trustees for school districts provided for in the preceding sections of this act, and their successors in office, shall be a body politic and corporate in law, and shall be known by and under the title and name of district trustees of district number —, and county —, State of Texas, and as such may contract and be contracted with, sue and be sued, plead or be impleaded in any court of this State of proper jurisdiction, and may receive any gift, grant, donation, or devise made for the use of the public schools of the district. All reports and other official papers shall be headed with the number of district and name of county.

Sec. 53. Trustees in making contracts with teachers shall determine the salary to be allowed, or wages to be paid, upon the following rates of tuition: To teachers holding first class certificates, not more than two dollars and fifty cents; to those holding second class certificates, not more than two dollars; and to such as hold third class certificates, not more than one dollar and fifty cents per month per capita shall be allowed for pupils within the scholastic age; and it shall not be lawful for trustees or teachers to demand as a condition of admittance into school the payment of extra tuition of pupils of scholastic age: Provided, that in no event shall teachers holding permanent certificates receive from the public free school fund more than eighty-five dollars per month, or those holding first grade certificates receive from the public free school fund more than seventy-five dollars per month, and those holding second grade certificates more than sixty dollars per month, and those holding third grade certificates more than forty dollars per month: Provided, that this restriction shall not apply to salaries of teachers in districts which levy a local tax for school purposes.
